Quiet Halloween this year

Halloween night was not only an evening for the youngsters as the top picture indicates. This group of eager treat-seekers, under the leadership of two mothers, canvassed the area while tricksters seemed to be in less numbers this year. Little vandalism was apparent and it seemed more young people were concerned in getting treats and collecting money for UNICEF. Sedgewick's Rhonda Holt and Angel Kobsar (bottom picture) were among two of the night's revelers, but wouldn't accept candy, just money for the annual UNICEF canvas.

Chamber of Commerce re-activated in Killam

A well-attended meeting was held in Killam on October 26 to discuss the advisability of re-activating the Killam District Chamber of Commerce. Mr. William Fowler and Mr. Cliff Brager of Camrose, both active in the Chamber of Commerce movement in Alberta, and Mr. Neil Wilson of the Business Development & Tourism Department of the provincial government were present and addressed the meeting.

Following discussion, it was unanimously agreed that the Killam Chamber be re-organized. To that end, a nominating committee was elected and asked to bring in a proposed slate of officers and directors for presentation to the next meeting, which will be held in the Town Hall on Tuesday, November 7 at 8 p.m. This is an open meeting and all are invited, especially those engaged in business and farming in the district and interested in community promotion and improvement.

Legislative Report:

Premier plans tax-break platform

Premier Peter Lougheed's Conservatives are working on an agenda for the 1980s that includes tax breaks for Alberta businesses, transportation investments, housing and cutting local government debts.

Lougheed, his cabinet, MLA's, new candidates and leading Tories met privately in Edmonton recently to think about a re-election platform for 1979 and plans for a third term in office.

The three-day session was an annual policy seminar behind closed doors. But a copy of the agenda showed that the discussions ranged over 17 topics from national unity to academics' salaries.

In an interview, Lougheed was confident of support for a constitutional position stressing provincial powers and resource rights while seeking limits to federal spending and legislative authority.

But he had serious reservations over making the Alberta government an active participant in the "federalist" campaign in Quebec against the separtist Parti Quebecois' "sovereignty-association" program.

He said the government, which has already rejected economic ties to an independent Quebec, must avoid any intervention in the forthcoming referendum over separation which might hurt the federalists.

Participation by Albertans in the fight against separatism inside Quebec could prompt an automatic "adverse reaction" against intruding outsiders from English Canada, he warned.

Meanwhile, a new Alberta-first corporate tax incentive plan first proposed in 1974 but dormant since has again attained a place of honour in the Conservatives' economic thinking.

Lougheed was uncertain when a new system can be enacted. He said the promise stands, but the problem is to ensure the plan helps Albertans and does not just attract new competition into the province.

Housing supplies and costs remain a concern despite hopes for a three-year pause in major resource developments that could let builders catch up with demand, the premier reported.

He confirmed that the government is looking for an "equitable" and "credible" way to use provincial revenue surpluses to try reducing municipal debts, which are reflected in rising property taxes.

The Tories continue to be skeptical of direct government investment in oil sands plants and other industries through the multi-billion-dollar Heritage Fund.

But Lougheed indicated the party is willing to set aside distaste for government intervention in the economy when it comes to improving the national transport system: "We could go pretty far."

Plans already include Alberta investment to expand the ports of Prince Rupert and Vancouver and possible acquisition of inland grain-handling facilities.

Band underway

If a large turnout for a meeting is any indication, then there should soon be a band in the area.

An amazingly large group of young people, teenagers, young and old adults, were at the Sedgewick school on Thursday, October 26 to hear Mr. Ev. Norris as he outlined how a band could get started.

The same evening, a representative of Ward Music was on hand with a large varity of musical instruments that could be rented or purchased, thus facilitating an early start on a band. Many instruments were obtained and a practice was called for Thursday, November 2 at the Sedgewick school.

Final costs for instructions have not been determined. Grant money can be obtained to pay for instruction if more adults enrol.

In your best interest

There's a definite nip in the air these days – a sure sign that fall is underway. But that extra bite we've felt more recently serves to remind us of another Great Canadian Winter to come.

With the cold wind and lower temperatures that winter brings, so also comes increased heating needs and costs. As well, with less hours of daylight during winter months, more lighting is often needed indoors. As these needs for energy increase, so also does the cost to support them. But by re-evaluating our needs, perhaps we could all reduce the cost.

It's not a rumour we've all been told that energy is being wasted. Mostly, we hear about depleting oil and gas reserves, but concern for electrical wastage is justified also.It's a fact that in 20 years, the average kilowatt hours consumed by an average residential customer in Alberta has tripled – from 2120 in 1957 to 6160 in 1977.

And contrary to a lot of public opinion, more than 90 per cent of this electrical energy in Alberta is non-renewable. If we all don't make a serious contribution toward reducing the wastage of energy, we can look forward to receiving bills based on a higher power rate.

By conserving electrical energy, we will also defer the need to build additional generation and transmission facilities – that means a savings in dollars, too.

We keep hearing from all sides what's got to be done. Now, it's become a joint effort. The four major electric utilities in Alberta – Calgary Power, Alberta Power, Edmonton Power and The City of Calgary Electric System – have joined forced to increase your's and my awareness of the desperate need to better manage our energy requirements. We're not being asked to not use energy, just not use what we don't need – like all the lights in the house being on when the whole family is in one room watching TV.

The four utilities have also devised a little symbol to remind us when words fail. A stylized lightbulb and the words "Use Energy Wisely" will become a common sight.

Organization is often the key to eliminating a lot of problems. By organizing, or better managing our energy usage – it'll conserve itself.

Remember, you're payment for helping out will mean a smaller payment from you come bill-collecting time.

What Others Say

WHY JUDGE THE NUT?

Why is it that hunters and shooters of this country are judged differently than other groups? They are condemned and their legal and moral rights threatened because of the acts of a very few. Let one maniac wave a firearm at a public official and the cry for the removal of all firearms is deafening. Or have one vandal spray a head of livestock with a load of 8's and out come the placard-carrying dingbats to eliminate hunting.

On the other hand when a dissatisfied baseball fan beans the umpire with a beer bottle does anyone start a movement to confiscate the bottle? Or how about the football fan who storms the field in the final seconds of the game intent on combat just because their team has been unjustly penalized – do the wierdos then march on the stadium with placards proclaiming "Ban the fan?" Of course not!

But hunters and shooters are different. It is sad but true, that all groups, be they hockey buffs, football fans or deer slayers, have their less-than-desireable members. But in all recreational activities, with the exception of hunting and shooting, this minority of misfits is overlooked. They are thought of as the exception and, although frowned upon, are regarded as another unfortunate fact of life. Whereas the same small minority of mental midgets that infiltrate our sports are pointed to as being the rule – not the exception!

If for one minute you have any doubts about the validity of these statements, simply flip on the evening news and you will be told in glowing detail how a snub-nose .38 was used to threaten the life of some unsuspecting citizen. But you will never hear our colorful commentator explaining how a Smith & Wesson was used to prevent the murder of a kidnapped teenage girl! You will hear how the market hunters all but eliminated the bison – but never will you be told how the carefully managed harvest of 150 whitetail saved the lives of an entire herd.

There was a time, in the not-too-distant past, when the hunting/shooting sports were actually looked upon as honorable activities. The publicity received in those days was on the positive aspects of the sports. But over the years, and very gradually, this was changed by our opponents who very skillfully maneuvered the sport into the present position. Nevertheless, they proved that it could be done, now it is our turn.

Without a doubt, one of the best ways to begin the campaign is by writing letters to the editor of your local newspaper. But be sure to be positive, factual and forceful. Remember we are trying to sell the concepts of our sports to people who have been fed anti-propaganda for years. Can you imagine the impact if each one of the 50 million gun owners and 20 million hunters were to write one letter a month for a year? The turn-around would make your head spin.

It can be done and now is the time.

The Third Column

by Truncate

"AT THE WHIM OF THE POST OFFICE" has become a popular phrase among those who use that medium for the reception and dispatching of mail. Although said in a jocular manner for the most part, the situation has gone beyond the funny stage. The public is getting increasingly fed up with being blackmailed by an institution which is supposed to render a service to the suburbing populace. But venting spleen on one side of the system only aggravates the reality, for there is undoubtedly fault with both management and staff.

RIGHT FROM THE Post-master-General down through the entire force of bureaucratic management there exists inept handling, bungling and short-term patch work in efforts to keep a deteriorating postal system from crumbling at its very foundations. Continuing patch work can only maintain the structure for short periods of time, but eventually the whole thing will collapse, necessitating the erection of a brand new edifice. We have just about reached the point where a thorough rebuilding program of the entire postal system is a priority. That this must be done with co-operation of management and employees goes without saying. After going on for two decades of deteriorating service, the public has had it. A new deal must be in the offing, and turning the system into a Crown Corporation is just another patch job and will not solve the problem or cure the sick patient.

THE GOVERNMENT finds itself in the dual role of being the employer charged with maintaining a viable, working institution with maximum efficiency and as low overhead cost as possible, while at the same time being the government of all Canada and therefore responsible to the nation for its operation of a continuous service, for which ultimately, the citizen must bear the cost.

CUPW on the other hand is a legalized union headed up by leaders who are responsible for obtaining the best deals for its paying members as possible. As such, they must, or so they feel, periodically stir the waters to justify their well-paid positions. A smoothly operating business over a period of some years, may trigger the opinion that union leaders are an unnecessary asset and cost, and that would never do.

JUST AS THERE are incompetent heads of the postal system, there is little doubt that CUPW has in its ranks those who are lazy, incompetent and radical, who hold their positions solely through the strength of the union and concessions granted to it.

THE RECENT REPORT that among the bag of goodies CUPW was seeking in the latest bargaining, was to be paid for 40 hours a week while only working 30, or even less with other benefits added. This is nothing short of brazen audacity, yet it seems that where the government is concerned (and ultimately the nation as a whole) the sky is the limit. No private business could withstand this kind of procedure without being driven against the wall and eventual bankruptcy.

NOW THAT THE members of CUPW have been legislated back to work, the situation could worsen. An unwilling mule might as well be unhitched from the plow. So, we may well look for slow-downs, work-to-rule orders, book-offs for sickness where no sickness exists and, in fact, goof-offs and walk-outs. This has been the usual procedure with CUPW for the past two decades and we see no possibility of that attitude changing.

WHEN YOU ARE granted Rights, you guard them zealously. When you continually abuse them, they should be taken away, for there is no right without a parallel duty.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

From 1917 to 1935, the Chautauqua was a familiar sight in Western Canada as it visited towns and villages, bringing education and entertainment to the people. Its large brown tent, parades with decorated bicycles, and varied programs of lectures and music were eagerly sought by our pioneers.

The Glenbow Museum is publishing the history of the Chautauqua, but it needs old photographs to illustrate it. If any readers have old snapshots, programs or other items, we would like to borrow these to make copies. Full credit will be given to the owner and the original snapshot promptly returned.

If you can help us, please write to the Archives, Glenbow Museum, 9th Avenue and 1st Street, Calgary, T2G 0P3.

Family get-togethers accent Strome week

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Keith Honey (nee Janice Porter) of Edmonton, on the birth of a daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Peters from Victoria spent a few days with her mother, Mrs. Richmond.

Visiting with Mrs. Mabel and Barb Robson were Mr. and Mrs. B. Busse, Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Seward, and Mr. and Mrs. Gail Seward. The occasion was a family dinner for Mrs. Seward's birthday.

Mrs. Peggy Richmond accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Colvin Beairsto of Sedgewick to spend the weekend in Drayton Valley.

Mr. and Mrs. Jean Wheller of Creston, B.C. were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wheller and they all went to Halkirk for a double birthday party.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Kroetch and family of Calgary spent the weekend at the M. Hill home.

Mrs. Roxanne Gill and girls of Athabasca, Mrs. Dyann Breckeridge of Edmonton, Lois Cramton of Chauvin and fiance Larry Cantalous of Edmonton were Saturday afternoon coffee guests at the M. Hill home. Congratulations to Lois and Larry on their engagement.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken McDougall and the Hill families were among those gathered with family and friends at the Archie Robbins' home in Daysland last Sunday afternoon to bid farewell to Mr. and Mrs. George Cramton and Wayne and Ruth Prichard, who are leaving for extended holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Kurtis Hill and Kelly, Mrs. Ann Hill and Mr. and Mrs. George Cramton drove to Edmonton Monday to visit with their great, great grandfather Cramton in the hospital and to have a five generation picture taken, and also to visit Colin Cramton in the Glenrose Hospital.

Dianne and Susan Loeach visited with their Grandpa Krausert in the FBA in Killam on Sunday afternoon.

Get well wishes are extended to Mr. Bill Ziesel, who is a patient in the Killam Hospital.

Relatives helped Ernie Auburn celebrate his birthday last Sunday at a turkey dinner.

Mr. and Mrs. Clint Sprague and Janet visited relatives in Calgary over the weekend.

Michael and Charlotte Luns and Rebecca spent last weekend with Mrs. Alice Fooler.

John and Mary Kruse, Raymond and Jean Heinz and boys visited George Curtis last Sunday.

Mr. Lorne Laughlin of Vancouver, formally of the Wavy Lake and Strome district, visited with friends of Strome and Killam last week. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davison of Killam drove him around to see some old sites where he grew up and went to school and different places where he had lived.

David Allers has gone to Calgary to continue his course at SAIT.

Mrs. Elsie Carruthers of Edmonton visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ken McDougall last Friday.

Mr. Osmund Nielson and Mrs. Eve Thorburn were visitors at the Lyle Thorburn and Earl McDougall homes last weekend enroute home from visiting Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Barry of Calgary.

Mrs. Anne Heisler went with her brother to visit their sisters in Saskatchewan for a few days.

Our Mistake

Last week in the Strome news, an item should have read Rhoda and Gordie Robbins hosted the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gair of Killam and Mr. and Mrs. Alex Robbins of Strome to a cold turkey dinner after the baptism of Derek and Cory Robbins in church on Sunday. Our apologies for the omission.

BATTLE AT SEA

The wind howled, lashing out in anger
The sleet, strengthened by bolts of lightening
Beat down mercilessly
But the sea struck back
The defiant waves rose to accept the challenge
And clashed against the gales and rain
Then fell back to gather their forces
Protesting in angry peals of thunder
On and on they battled Neither side tiring, neither giving in
Then suddenly the wind and rain began to retreat
Glimpses of white clouds and blue sky could now be seen
As quickly as it had begun
The battle ended
The wind was but a breeze now
The sky clear
The waters were calm
And proud
The unconquerable sea remained the victor

COME ALIVE . . .

by Don Carson

WHAT A MAN SOWS HE WILL REAP

The kind of God a person trusts is indicated in his method of handling problems. Anxiety and worry may indicate that his God is an absentee Lord who is remote from man's personal concerns and cares. If he harbours hatred and resentment against people, can it mean that his God is revengeful? If he plays fast and loose with his moral life, does he think of his God as whimsical and nonchalant, not the righteous God in whose world men reap what they sow? Reverence for God may become the vantage point from which we look at life. All of us grow in the direction of our reverences. In this sense, an American humourist is correct when he says the way to judge a man is not to look at him in the face, but to get behind him and see what he is looking at.

The law of the harvest illustrates the everlasting fact that freedom is not the right to do what we want to do, but the power to do what we ought. Freedom operates only in a moral world. The free man is a moral man. The theory that there is nothing permanent except change; that the best man can do is to spin from within himself all the wisdom he can know, as a spider spins its web; that there is no objective truth to which life is accountable — every such theory runs counter to the law of the harvest. The power of gravity is permanent. And we are accountable to it whether we wish it to be or not. It would be strange if there was nothing comparable in the moral world.

The natural law of sowing and reaping is a discipline, a guide, and a safeguard to the man whose inner life is controlled by Christ. It is a constant reminder that Christ's control within is related to the law which is written deep in the structure of the universe. What a man does to life, life does back to him. What a man sows, he reaps; and he reaps in kind as he sows. The principle may be illustrated in the achievement of a trustworthy mind. Such a mind in later years is possible for no one unless he has paid the price in the years that have gone by. So, with the achievement of reliable character: one who sows carelessness can never reap the confidence of people. One who sows supersensitivity will not reap happiness. Each of us is born with a mass of helter-skelter qualities. Sacred? Yes. Worthwhile? Not yet. We are born with nothing more than the possibility of achieving worthiness. Soon or later men sit down to a banquet of results and consequences. Those with well-disciplined minds and dependable personalities have, through the years, nurtured life's best in the give and take of discipline and freedom.

All this adds up to life as adventure and investment -- not as a gamble. Some people try to gamble their way through. They make a gamble of their most sacred possessions. But life is an adventure and an investment. The parable of the talents sharpens the point. One man was given five talents; he brought back five more. Another was given two talents; he brought back two more. Another man was given one; he hid his in the ground. He put his talent in a safe-deposit box. But life is not a safe deposit box; it is an investment. In a safe-deposit box we get back precisely what we put in; but life increases or decreases. A man gets back more than he puts in, whether of good or evil. The highest returns belong to those who are in the race, not to the group in the grandstand or balcony; to those who invest their best, their lives, for something worth the risk, and in return get a destiny out of it. God is not mocked.

KALEIDOSCOPE

by Marilyn Matthiessen

Time to say "Bon Voyage" to Diane Bourne as she is off to enjoy the summer sunshine Down Under. I hope she has a relaxing, fun-filled time on her working holiday in New Zealand.

While Diane is away, I will be endeavouring to take over her duties. Let me introduce myself. I am Marilyn Matthiessen (nee Paulgaard), a local girl raised on a farm near Daysland. In 1976, I graduated from the University of Alberta and came to work for the Department of Agriculture. I trained as a District Home Economist in Camrose with Barbara Green.

Lately, I have been helping my husband Bob on the farm, trying to complete the harvest despite the objections of the weatherman.

This winter is shaping up to be a busy one. I will be involved with the Nutrition at School Program at Sedgewick School. Alberta Agriculture is sponsoring several courses this winter - Beginner Upholstery at Heisler, with the preliminary meeting November 24. Course dates are December 11 to 14.

We are also planning a Window Treatment Workshop in January for Forestburg. The awareness session in December 5 and the preliminary meeting, December 11.

If you have any questions or suggestions about these or any other courses, please contact me at the Sedgewick office - phone 384-3737, or the Forestburg office on Thursday mornings - phone 582-3762.

I am looking forward to working as a House Economist and meeting with old and new acquaintances.

Galahad and District News

Mr. Frank Wellwood and Mr. Henry Morrison of Sicamus, B.C. spent a few days visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blumhagen and also Ken Radomski.

Miss Shelley Blumhagen of Edmonton spent the weekend at her parents' home. Kevin Blumhagen has returned home after completing his course at NAIT.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kereluck and Karla spent the week end visiting at the Otto Blumhagen home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNabb, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on October 16. Saturday evening, October 21, their family entertained them at a Chinese food supper in Galahad. Later in the evening, family and friends gathered at Fred and Violet's trailer home in Forestburg where a very enjoyable get-together was held. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Kochansky of Evansburg and Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Olstad of Stettler were among the 30 guests. The family was happy that Violet's dad, Mr. Ferdinand Roth of the Killam Auxiliary Hospital, joined them for the at-home party.

Maggie Felzien, Anna Whitehead, Marg Jackson, Carrie Bowness and Alta Willis drove to Forestburg on Saturday evening to attend the baby shower held at Margaret Dibben's home for wee Barbara Joyce Etty. By the way, Barbie arrived on October 10, not September 10. Time flies so quickly that it's a new month before we realize it. Sorry about the mistake.

Weekend visitors at the Gene Whitehead home were Anna's brother, Arnold Matson, of Hoadley and his fiancee, Miss Marlene Eby of Prince George, B.C. Marlene is the daughter of the former Ruth Radant, who resided in the Forestburg and Galahad area in the past. We were delighted to welcome Ruth's daughter. Her presence brought back memories of our fellowship with the Radant family in the past.

Roy and Inez Farnquist of Camrose visited Galahad on Monday afternoon. They were leaving to visit Roy's sister, Lydia and husband, the Milt Marches, on Tuesday in Vancouver, B.C. Mrs. Farnquist Sr. had Mrs. Volley Innocent (nee Farnquist) of Stettler as a visitor in their absence.

Ethel Black, Margaret Dibben and Anna Whitehead were visitors at the Bethany Senior Citizens Home at Camrose on Wednesday, where they called on Mrs. Vincett, Mrs. Felzien and Mrs. Steiger. They also enjoyed the Craft Sale put on by the senior citizens of Bethany Home.

Guests at the Delores Buchholz home on Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Don Thomson and Glen of Halkirk. They were joined at supper by Herb and Doreen Buchholz.

Doug Buchholz set off last week to find winter employment. We are happy to report that Doug is now employed at the Red Cliff Glass Manufacturing Company in Red Cliff, and is staying with his uncle, John Buchholz and family in Red Cliff.

Daysland kindergarten visits

Early October provided an opportunity for the Daysland Kindergarten to walk to the Library for an enjoyable visit. Mrs. McMurchy and Mrs. Tansey, members of the Library Board, hosted the visit, showing the children the many interesting books for borrowing as well as entertaining them with a story and record.

The first out-of-town field trip for the Kindergarten took place Wednesday, October 18. The children were driven to Killam to eat their lunch with the Killam Kindergarten class and then spent the afternoon touring the Killam RCMP station. Highlights included the policemen in uniform, the jail cell, the police car and siren, and watching the technique of fingerprinting. The supervising mothers included, Mrs. H. Kofoed, Mrs. A. Mickla, Mrs. S. McDevitt, as well as Mrs. J. Rittammer, Mrs. K. Reist and Mrs. L. Tulloch. The special Education class, with teacher Miss McGirr, accompanied the Kindergarten class was sorry to have Jeff McMurchy leave the class when his family moved to Camrose. They have since welcomed Jason Badry and Justin Nachtegaele. This brings the enrolment to 20 and the students are: Jason Badry, Janice Bendeld, Lance Bohme, Stephen Dietrich, Murray Dylke, Bradly Hummel, Laith Kofoed, Amy Mickia, Shane Markovich, Jeffrey McDevitt, Justin Nachtegaele, Grant Nahajovich, Kari Robbins, Wendy Rood, Kathryn Sather, Lana Spiller, Blaine Szott, Shauna Waldorf, Grant Wolbeck, and Dale Wolokoff.

Parents are reminded of the November 7 meeting with special guest Mrs. Marilyn Mattheisson, District Home Economist from the Sedgewick office, and her topic will be Nut Snacks and Lunch Box Lunches.

He's the man from Elephant Brand

One of my most important services is soil sampling. It includes taking the samples, drying them properly, packaging and mailing them to the lab for analysis. But my service doesn't stop there! I'll help you to interpret the results and recommend the fertilizer that's right for your soil.

Take Elephant Brand 46-0-0, it's the most concentrated form of dry nitrogen available. You cover the same acreage with fewer tons. This means less handling, less labour and less wear and tear on your equipment.

So don't pay a premium for your nitrogen fertilizer. Use Elephant Brand 46-0-0 and save time, labour and money.

Galahad and District News

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Andersen of Yarcolt, Washington visited her uncle, Hugh Bownes and cousin Carrie, on Monday. They left Tuesday morning to return home. They had also visited their daughter and family in the Wetaskiwin district.

Mr. and Mrs. George McFaull and sons spent last weekend in Edmonton visiting relatives and friends.

Mrs. Charlie Matier returned Wednesday evening from a three-week holiday which she and her sisters, Eunice and Ethel, spent at White Lake, about 40 miles from Ottawa. They enjoyed visiting Niagara Falls, the Welland Canal, the scenic drive along the Ottawa River, as well as many other places of interest.

One of the highlights of their trip was a visit to the home of Mrs. Lucy Juby (nee Borque) near Renfrew. Her sister, Emma Juby, was also present.

Lucy and Emma are sisters of Mrs. Fred Warner of Forestburg and the late Emil Borque of Galahad. Lucy and Emma are well and sent greetings to relatives and friends.

Mrs. Winona Dunn and son Dallas of Moores Mills, New Brunswick arrived last Saturday evening to visit her parents, the Jim Wetmores, and other relatives and friends. Pat, Jim, Winona and wee Dallas are spending this weekend with the Gordon Schmidts in Camrose and other relatives and friends in Edmonton.

On Thursday, October 19, Eva Doan and Gene Winter were Stettler visitors. On their way home, they stopped at Halkirk to visit the Harry Stewart family.

Thursday evening visitors with Eva Doan and Muriel Wright were Mr. and Mrs. Bob McBride of Sedgewick.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Roeder returned from Everett, Washington, where they attended a 50th wedding anniversary of a cousin, Mr. and Mrs. Nobel Erickson. Mrs. Erickson is a cousin of Mrs. Roeder. They also visited other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuefler and family were in attendance at the 50th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Matt Niehaus on Saturday, October 21 at Heisler. Mr. and Mrs. Niehaus are Adeline's parents.

A number of ladies gathered at Barbara Perreault's home for a coffee party on Friday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Domonic Gamroth and Martha Badry were visitors at the home of Mrs. Tillie Badry of Heisler on Sunday, October 22 to help Johanna's mother celebrate her 88th birthday.

We were sorry to learn that Ellen Herle has been a patient in the Camrose Hospital. Hope to see you home soon, Ellen, and back at school.

Week's events in Daysland included Auxiliary Bingo

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Poirier of Chilliwack, B.C. visited with their mother, Erma McCarroll on the weekend.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Ian Dow of Sardis, B.C., a daughter on October 25. She is the third great grandchild for Erma McCarroll.

A large crowd attended the Daysland Hospital Auxiliary Bingo October 26. There were a lot of proxy cards which the Auxiliary members and a few others played. The door prize went to Mrs. Eileen Heck. The door prize went to Mrs. Eileen Heck, the blackout to Mrs. Rose Kislewich, and the bonanza blackout went to Mrs. Clara Lohner. Jerry Karpovich was the caller and members of the Lions club called back the bingos. Thank you all for your support.

Central High

Parent interviews successful

Central's Parent-Teacher Interviews on Thursday, October 26 were a great success. Teachers saw more parents than have attended in previous years. We would like to thank parents for their support and co-operation with the school and urge parents who were unable to attend on Parent-Teacher Day to contact the school and arrange for an after-school interview. Phone 384-3817 for an appointment.

The Central Rams finished their season in Vermilion on Saturday, October 28 by losing to the home team in the semi-finals. The Rams finished their regular season with two wins and five defeats. Although they were not a great success in the win-loss column, the boys and their coaches, Mr. Smith, Mr. Meier and Mr. Noseworthy, deserve a hearty congratulations for their good sportsmanship and dedication to their game.

The Girls' Volleyball team competed in an excellent tournament in Hay Lakes on Saturday, October 28. The competition was very tight with our girls losing very close games in the semi-finals. Mr. Sparrow feels that with continued good competition, the team will develop to a top-calibre competitor.

As we reach the mid-point of our semester, we also approach final examinations in Accounting 10. This three-credit course is offered for the first two-and-a-half months of the semester. Immediately following the finals, students proceed directly into Accounting 20. The final grades in Accounting 10 will be sent home with students before mid-November. If you have any questions about this course, the teachers are Mr. Offord and Mrs. Young.

The TOPS chapter of Sedgewick held its regular weekly weigh-in on October 23. Twenty members attended and registered a net loss of 10.5 pounds. Best losses were by Brigitte with four and Danny with three. There was no meeting as we hosted the "Fall Enthusiasm" night for our area #4. Club members from Hardisty, Killam, Camrose, Halkirk, Bashaw and Sedgewick attended, with 51 signing the register.

The evening began with the singing of table grace followed by a delicious "dieters" buffet supper, prepared by willing members. Peg Lyster of Camrose, our area captain, acted as MC throughout the evening. She read a very inspirational and encouraging letter from Co-ordinator Jackie Esler of Fort Saskatchewan. The program consisted of a song by our own "Teen" Tops, "I'd like to Tell the World of Tops," Bashaw club members contributed a skit on what tops is all about, our leader gave a reading, "The Me You Cannot See," our Kops ladies had a contest with prizes from Minnie, Camrose's club did an action song, "In the Mood for Food," and our Molly sang and played a medley of old favourites.

The trophy for "The Best Summer Loser" was won by a Camrose member for her loss of 30 pounds from May 1 to September 30. Our own Lillie was runner-up with a loss of 29 pounds. The trophy was donated by Tops #AR2204, Sedgewick. Eleanor and Thelma entertained and enlightened us with anecdotes from their trip to International Recognition Days in Montreal.

Many members drew for Pen-friends, and intend to keep in touch through the winter months. The Camrose group presented our club with a vase of roses as a token of thanks for our hosting of the affair. The bouquet will adorn our meeting room at future meetings.

This gathering gave us all the opportunity to meet new people we soon called friends, discuss common problems, recognize those who have succeeded, encourage those who are still trying, and identify with them all. This is what Tops is all about; friends, competition, recognition, group therapy and success.

Strange happenings reported in Lougheed

Lougheed will never become a ghost town. There is one couple living in our midst who will prevent this. They have reached a pinnacle of fishing accomplishment. With that feat, they have gone on to conquer farther fields by travelling all over Alberta. For this, they were wined and dined by the Battle River Tourist Association. Anyone knowing this fine couple will know how appreciative they are.

Not too many of our citizens would turn on the water and then sit down in the living room to read The Enterprise. With fine clean water available, the Fish and Game Association could stock the kitchen with one species of fish and the basement with another. Even the BRTA will be suitably thanked. Right in Lougheed there will be a roaring, bubbling fall of water catapulting down the basement steps.

With all her other virtues, the lady involved is humble. She said, "I was ready to wash the dishes and just thought I'd glance through the paper." How unassuming!

The last seen of the gentleman counterpart was his truck heading west on Highway 13. Perhaps he was going to get posters and tickets printed to make known Lougheed's added attraction.

Waterbed Wonderland of Camrose
Comes To You With The
'COUNTRY CARAVAN'
The Ultimate in Sleeping Comfort
Waterbeds were designed to give you even body support and a more restful night's sleep. The waterbed contours to your body with no pressure points to disturb your sleep.
Conventional Bed

The conventional mattress creates pressure on the parts of the body it touches. This cuts circulation and causes tossing and turning. Oftentimes, this is the major cause of morning backaches and stiffness.
Waterbed

The waterbed gives you uniform support to the entire body. And waterbeds are warmed to the temperature you select. Don't worry about motion. Water movement quickly subsides as you nestle into the comfort of a warm waterbed.

Killam couple celebrates 50th

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dave Anderson, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, October 22. Home for May and Dave's anniversary were Mr. and Mrs. Dea McKinnon and Allen from Red Deer, Mr. and Mrs. Haight of St. Albert, John and Isabel Anderson and Darcy, David and Linda from Red Deer, Malcolm and Kit McKinnon from Red Deer, Pat and Jim Bower of Red Deer, Mrs. Etta Schroeder of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. Bockensky, Tod and Dean from Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Taylor from Victoria, B.C., Ed McKee from Czar, Mrs. David Penman from Czar, Kay Skavasky of Czar, Mr. and Mrs. Mc-Murry and Cheryl of Edmonton and Netta, Barry and Murry Forbert from Edmonton. Many more, Dave and May.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gair hosted Mr. and Mrs. Ray Blaeser and family of Strome, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gair and family of Killam, Mr. and Mrs. Gordie Robbins and family of Strome, and Mom and Dad Gair to a barbecued chicken dinner on Sunday evening, the occasion being Dianne and Bill's birthdays. Happy birthday, kids!

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Bert Sniedmen and family of Drumheller in their loss of Mr. Bert Sniedman, who passed away in Drumheller on October 20. Funeral service was held at Drumheller on October 23. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Young, Mrs. Tom Dabbs, Mr. and Mrs. Orin Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Gene LaFantaise, and Mr. and Mrs. John Chrbet attended the funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Link had visiting with them, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pearson of Drayton Valley, and attending the first anniversary of Killam Tire & Rubber on October 27. Lucky winners of the draws were: Len Blaeser, an ornamental windmill; Bert Robson, a Lawn Spintrim; W.T. Leslie, an Astro Battery; and Doug Hagen, two Astro Whisper Grip tires.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Weivoda of Eirrigon, Oregon visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davison last week. Also visiting was Mr. Lorne Laughlin of Vancouver, B.C., who they hadn't seen for more than 50 years.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker of Edmonton, who celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Saturday, October 28. Around 30 friends and relations attended. Mrs. Evelyn Grant, Mrs. Glen Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Reg Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Erickson of Olds, Mrs. Hank Erickson were some from here who attended. Many more, Gordon and Wanda.

Get well wishes go to Mr. Ernie Stover, who has been transferred from Jasper Hospital to Edmonton University Hospital. Mr. and Mrs. Allen Fossen and Mr. and Mrs. Don Stover drove to Edmonton on the weekend, bringing Chris and Donna Stover home to stay with them until Ernie is out of hospital. We hope you're home real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Sagan of Edmonton are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Vern Kelndorfer. I hear Freddy was promptly put to work.

On the evening of October 26, five tables of senior citizens enjoyed playing Whist. High scores went to Karen Enghoj and Harry O'Brien. Low scores went to Isabel Hoyland and Maryann Richards.

The next two card parties will be on November 16 and November 30 at 8 p.m.

The next meeting of the senior citizens will be held on November 9 at 2 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan were Edmonton visitors with relations and friends on the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark and Melody were visitors to Calgary, visiting Miss Linda Clark.

Mrs. Rose Wegenast and Mrs. Beth McLaughlan spent the weekend in Banff attending a church conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family of Sherwood Park were visitors with parents, the Dick Kinzers and Bill Morgans.

Mrs. Esther Baker of Vancouver, B.C. and Mrs. Amy Tracy of Los Angeles, California are visiting with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sorenson and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Francis Petty (nee Doreen Komperdoi of Peers, Alberta, who are the proud parents of a baby girl born October 14. Her name will be Khola Ann. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. S. Komperdo, who were up to get acquainted wih the new granddaughter and help out with the other three granddaughters.

Congratulations to Mr. Norman Rancier and Miss Shireen Waite, who were married on Friday, October 27 in Sedgewick. They will make their home on the farm north of town.

Mrs. Larry Erickson and Scheryl of Milestone, Saskatchewan have been visiting parents, the Harold Kerchers of Alliance, and Vern Ericksons. Constable Larry Erickson, while on the course in Regina, had to undergo surgery. We send get well wishes to Larry and hope you're home real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Bastarash are off for a two-week holiday in Disneyland. Have fun folks.

Congratulations to Mr. John McEachnie and Miss Paula Schweitzer, who were married on Saturday, October 28. Open House and dance were very well attended with friends and relatives from near and far.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Joe Scott on the weekend were Mr. and Mrs.Telfer Scott and family of Saskatoon, Saskatchewan. Miss Val Scott of Edmonton and Mr. David Scott of Wainwright. Val is off to Hawaii this week. Have fun.

Killam Royal Purple holds October meeting

On October 16, the Killam Order of Royal Purple meeting took place with 15 members in attendance.

Paper of the New Ritual and floor work changes for 1978 and 1979 were passed to members.

Mrs. Sandra Brownley was a visitor to the meeting and the ladies welcomed her.

The entertainment committee was informed that the Bashaw Lodge would be bringing the Gavel to our November meeting.

The ladies were asked to bring one pie for the Elks Turkey Supper on October 22.

Four ladies volunteered to make cabbage salad on Friday night, October 20.

The names of ladies who were to bring squares to the Elks dance on November 4 were read.

Three ladies contributed to the birthday box. The attendance prize was won by Mrs. Anita McGowan.

The ladies enjoyed a lovely lunch and social hour.

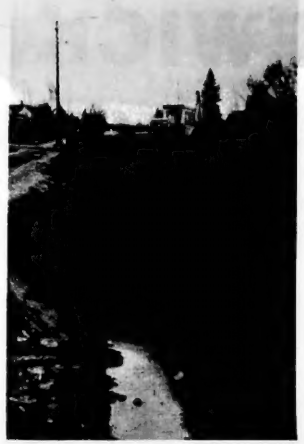
NOTICE

All Legion Members and Veterans in the Killam District are invited to attend the November 11, 1978, festivities, and the public are cordially invited to attend the Public Service. Following is the program for the day:

10:30 a.m. - Meet at Legion Hall
10:54 a.m. - Parade to Cenotaph
10:55 a.m. - Cenotaph Service
11:10 a.m. - Public Service - Knox United Church
1:00 p.m. - Banquet, Killam Legion Hall
8:30 p.m. Reception & Dance, Killam Legion Hall

The reception and dance will be open to the general public; advance tickets may be obtained from any Legion Member.



The past few weeks in Killam have meant the upgrading of the town's underground servicing as a few blocks in the town have been dug up to accomodate larger pipe.

The job also involves adding valves to the line to better service the west side of Killam where most new development is occurring.

More upgrading is planned in the central-south area of town as soon as present work is completed.

District 6 Rebekahs plan year

Rebekah District #6 held its annual meeting in the Legion Hall in Killam with District Deputy President Phyllis Lawson in the chair. Twelve ladies from Lougheed Lodge and nine from Silver Link, Killam Lodge were present. Both lodges reported a busy year and many donations had been made to both fraternal and community projects.

Entertainment included impressive drills by Lougheed and information and inspirational readings by Silver Link.

Phyllis Lawson was elected District Deputy President for another year. An enjoyable social hour was spent over lunch.

4H CLUB Activities

MERNA 4-H CLUB NEWS

Despite the fact it was a little chilly, it didn't stop 17 riders from showing up for the trail ride held on Sunday by the Merna 4-H Horse Club.

The trail ride started at the George Leslie home at about 11 o'clock. After a fun-filled, 10-mile ride, everyone ended up at Tom Leslie's where a big bonfire and wiener roast was enjoyed by all.

Our next meeting will be on November 25 at Bells Hill, where we will have a meeting and pot luck supper combined.

Killam Kindergarten

Kids learn good food habits

"Good Nutrition" was the theme of the Home Economist. Slides on nutrition were shown to catch the children's interest. They they were allowed to experiment with nutritional lunches such as celery, cheese and raisins; celery, peanut butter and raisins (called ants on the log); and bread with cheese or peanut butter and raisins, and, of course, milk.

Making pillows for their afternoon rest was an intriging project as each child was encouraged to bring an old T-shirt, stuff it with rags and then sew up the openings.

Thanks to Janet Borth and Diane Bouchard, swimming has been very worthwhile. Different mothers also attended and helped out with the lessons given. Each child participated in water play and progress was certain among the youngsters.

Highligh of the month was a visit to the Hutterite Colony. There, the children toured the bakery and dining hall where fresh buns were served. They also saw the laundry house, goose barn, cow barn, machine shes and the school classrooms.

The Hutterite children sang after the kindergarten children favoured them with songs and rhymes. Then it was back in the bus and off to the river for a picnic, where some mothers of the children helped with a lunch. Climbing Sugar-Loaf was both challenging and exciting. Autumn leaves were also picked, which later became bouquets in tinfoil-covered cans and brought to the Auxiliary Hospital. Birthday cards also have been made by the children for each elderly birthday patient.

Recently, the Dayaland Kindergarten and Special Education students visited our kindergarten. They treated all 44 children with a noon lunch and the children enjoyed playing and singing together.

Let's Talk It Over With Gordon

The other day, Dave Russell, minister of the Environment, asked me if I would sponsor a government bill through the legislature, being the Litter Amendment Act, 1978, which entails first reading where the purpose or intent of the bill is explained but is not open to debate. Later comes second reading for debate either on the merits or disadvantages of the bill, followed by third reading in Committee of the legislature in clause by clause approval or amendments, and finally, Royal Consent. Following are the remarks I made in introducing this bill for first reading.

"Mr. Speaker: I beg leave to introduce Bill 48, being the Litter Amendment Act, 1978. The amendement proposed in the Litter Amendment Act are fairly substantial. The new act clarifies what litter means and disposing of same. The act also spells out clearly the control of litter on, into, or under water or ice. Mr. Speaker: this act insists that where litter is being transported, that the litter be covered, and also who is responsible if litter is thrown out of a motor vehicle, bus or train, where it cannot be determined which of two or more occupants is the culprit. The bill also enables a municipality to collect expenses incurred for litter clean-up on privately-owned land. Mr. Speaker: under Bill 48, if a person is convicted of a litter offense, the court may order that offender to clean-up litter along a highway or another area of public land. This bill, Mr. Speaker, will impress upon that small minority of litterers in Alberta that you Stow It - Don't Throw It."

And when the bill comes up for second reading, I will be explaining why the amendments are needed. For instance, the control of litter into or under water or ice. In the past, there have been problems with seismic crews drilling shot holes across lakes and when farmers are watering cattle through the ice on a river which is the major water supply for a town or city.

This bill does not stop a farmer from watering on the ice if he gets approval from the local health officer and will clean-up animal wastes before spring break-up. In the past, the Department of the Environment has had to go out with a front-end loader on the ice and clean up the manure before it pollutes the town's only source of drinking water. Remember when the City of Camrose used to have the only pasturized drinking water in the world because Stoney Creek ran through every cow pasture in the country. I don't think there is anything wrong with insisting that litter be covered when moved. You should see the paper and junk flying around behind garbage trucks in Edmonton, or the mess on the road from Camrose to its city dump. And personally, I believe it is a heck of a good idea that a judge, in addition to a fine, may order a litterer to clean up litter along the side of a highway or on public land. When one lives alongside of a major highway as I do, and cannot, or dare not, put hay up in highway ditches because of broken glass and debris – perhaps this act will impress on us that it is better to Stow It – Don't Throw It.

Insulation pays off

Not only is energy wasted, but often not used to its fullest potential. That in itself is a waste.

With winter approaching, here's a few ideas on how to keep that precious heat in your home without the extra cost generated by pushing up the thermostat.

INSULATION - can be installed, not only in a new home, but in an existing one easily and inexpensively. The initial outlay in cost will pay for itself quickly – in five years or less – simply by reducing your heat bill.

Did you know that a thorough re-insulation of your home can cut your annual heating bill by 50 per cent. Even a less comprehensive insulation job can save 20 to 30 per cent. Here's how to tell if you need it. Remember last year? If snow melted on the roof on a dull day, more insulation is needed in the attic. If snow melted from around the sides of your house, more insulation is indicated for the basement walls. Or, during those winter months, did your home seem to have 'cold walls'. If the insulation in your home is insufficient, that chill was somewhere between eight and 15 degrees Fahrenheit colder than the same wall would with insulation. More than likely, you experienced drafts as well. The problem? Good insulation and weather protection are lacking in your home.

Assuming you've decided to re-insulate, you should know there are four basic types of home insulation from which to choose. batt and blanket, loose fill, rigid foam plastic, and foamed-in-place plastic. Checking with a knowledgeable dealer will help you determine which is best for your needs. Each has its advantages and conveniences. Be sure to ask the dealer about the resistance value of each insulation. Simply, the resistance value is a measurement of the insulation's resistance to heat transfer. The higher the resistance value, the less heat will escape through the insulation. Thickness no longer determines the best measure of insulation. If two different types of insulation, one thinner than the other, have the same resistance value, they will both do the same calibre of job.

Also, talk to your dealer about the vapour barrier of the insulation you choose. Vapour barriers are essential. Some insulation is sold with the vapour barrier attached – other types require a separate application.

Look around. Determine your needs. Next time, we'll talk about how to apply the type of insulation you've chosen.

Heisler notes fall wedding

The wedding of Louise Margaret Renney, daughter of Harvey and Nancy Renney, and Joseph Gerard Kuntz, son of Sylvester and Agnes Kuntz, took place on Saturday, September 30 at the United Church in Camrose, with Rev. Armstrong officiating.

Matron of Honour was Connie Gledhill and bridesmaids were Caroline Renney, Jean Stanners and Brenda Wilson. Groomsmen were Allan Sommer, Grant Renny, Larry Lassu and Robert Lassu.

A reception, open house and dance took place at the Heisler Elks Hall. The banquet was catered to by the Ladies of he Royal Purple.

Aaron Dwayne Lassu, three-month-old son of Dwayne and Diane Lassu of Whitecourt was baptized into the Catholic Community on Sunday, October 8 by Rev. Father Becs of St. Martin's in Heisler. Aaron's sponsors were his cousin, Allan Sommer, and his aunt, Connie Vavrek. The Rite of Baptism was followed by a dinner at Norman Lassu's, the proud grandparents, with all the families contributing to the banquet. Lorne and Jean Hamilton, the equally-proud grandparents of the baby, together with Nord and Ellen Peterson, great grandparents, and Brian attended from Daysland. Larry and Connie Vavrek and their children came from Sexsmith. David Lassu of Whitecourt was home for the occasion and Terry and Eleanor Hamilton of Camrose. Fern Sommer and Colleen Hamilton drove from Edmonton.

Larry and Robert Lassu, presently of Tofield, were able to be home for the event.

Mrs. Louise Asselstine of Edmonton attended the ceremony and accomodated the family by taking pictures to mark the occasion.

Sylvester Kuntz and Herb Badry spent a week moose hunting near Athabasca.

Rick and Terry Philips of Olds and Ted and Diane Philips, with Lloyd and Dwayne of Olds, were recent visitors at the Henry Kroetsch home.

Mrs. Clarence Reuther, brother Andy Soloway of Edmonton and her nephew Robert of Grand Centre, also her two nephews of Freemont, California, Willis and Anthony Armsdon were down for a visit. Clarence Reuther spent a week in Freemont, California visiting relatives and sightseeing.

Visitors at the Del Kroetsch home last weekend were Ricky and Nolan Hohme of Camrose, Lenore and Randy Kroetsch, with daughter Chandra of Pincher Creek, Kathy of Edmonton, also the grandmothers, Mrs. Kate Kroetsch and Mrs. Alma Poepping of Camrose. Lenore, Randy and Chandra also spent the weekend before at the Del Kroetsch home. Randy returned home while Lenore and Chandra spent a week with her folks, the Eshpeters in Strome.

Agnes and Sylvester Kuntz and Herb and Rosella Badry spent last Sunday with Joseph and Louise Kuntz in Edmonton.

Bill Poepping spent a day out of the Dayland Hospital with Irvin and Doris Poepping and family.

Mrs. Mary Jacobs, Jim and Milly Woodward and Henry and Elsie Jacobs and family, all of Edmonton, were last weekend visitors with the Leander Jacobs and Herb Badry families.

Andy and Esther Wolbeck and Ron and Shirley Heisler were Friday visitors with Maryanne and Eldon Niehaus and family in Stettler.

Francis and Rika Fankhanel were last weekend visitors with Leo and Jean Fankhanel and family near Edmonton.

The Birthday Club gathered at the Clubhouse to help Emma Reuther and Esther Wolbeck celebrate their birthdays. Cards were played in the afternoon. Hostesses were Thelma Strauss and Anita Kroetsch.

Mrs. Tilly Badry celebrated her 88th birthday on October 23. Mrs. Badry is still living on the home place with her sons, Elmer and Norman.

The third Norwegian Whist card party was held at the home of Gertie Hauck. First high went to Gertie Hauck, second high to Frances Niehaus. The fourth Norwegian Whist card party was held at the home of Agnes Kuntz. Prizes for the first high went to Frances Niehaus and second high to Helen P. Lassu.

Ed and Jean Hauck are visiting Pat and Frank Niehaus and boys in Calgary for a few days.

Al Niehaus of Chamilus, B.C. visited the Matt Niehaus family for a few days.

Annie and Frank Leslie, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Barton and Michael and Donna Niehaus of Camrose were Sunday guests at the Matt Niehaus home.

Doris and Russel Sveahun and Patty Anne of Queenstown were home over the weekend with Rita and Lawrence Sunderman and family.

Lester and Janet Kroetsch, with Tammy, Sheri and Amber Dawn, and Miss Brenda Kroetsch, all of Red Deer, and Brenda's friend Brian of Saskatoon, were home over the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kroetsch.

Marg and Ron Scherloski of Lethbridge were visitors with Ann and Cyril Kruchten over the weekend.

Donna and Allan Genest of Edmonton were visiting Margaret and Bill Sunderman. Donna is a sister to Margaret.

Visitors over the weekend at the Marvin Kuntz home were Henry and Bev van der Ham, with Curtis and Christine, Maureen and Dale Kuntz, and Murray Huseby, all of Edmonton.

Mrs. Clarence Reuther spent a few days with her daughters Vivian and Lillian and families in Fort Saskatchewan.

Marg and Eric Madsen, with their two children Rachel and Timothy of Sherwood Park, visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Congdon and family over the weekend.

Pat and Florence Bibby of New Westminster, B.C. were visitors with the Otto Wolbeck, Leo Vos and Clifford Wolbeck families. Florence is a sister to Leo and Mabel.

Mrs. Stan Badry is babysitting her two grandsons, Morris and Bradley Blatz, for a few days.

Mrs. Fred Lassu attended the funeral of her half-brother, Wendelyn Schurmann, age 62, on Friday, October 27 in Unity, Saskatchewan. Helen visited her family for the rest of the weekend, returning home on Sunday evening.

The Heisler annual Parish Sausage Supper again was a great success on Sunday, October 29 with more than 700 enjoying the supper.

Your Message Gets Across Better IN WANT ADS

Thoughts about Quebec:

Separation, French, bilingualism, Levesque, a divided Canada. These are all issues which we hear about daily and they seem to be increasing in importance. They all center around Canada's largest province, Quebec. A province I really wanted to see, and now have seen through an exchange trip.

Going to Quebec was a great experience and loads of fun. I flew in an airplance for the first time, saw old Quebec and Mount Royal, rode the subway in Montreal, and saw the Olympic Stadium. But maybe more important than these, I made new friends and saw a whole different way of life.

The most noticeable difference is the language. Here French is something you take at school and forget as soon as you write the final exam. It has no practical value. Bilingualism is something they argue about in the newspapers or on the radio. In Quebec bilingualism is something they live with. At a party someone says "I went to a movie last night," and the first question is "Was it in French or English?"

As well as speaking a different language they live, eat, and dress slightly different. They also travel differently. Things there were all so compact and close. Here if we want to go somewhere we jump in the car and drive thirty miles. There we took a bus or went on the subway and being me, of course I always had the wrong change. I stayed in the city and maybe in the country, life is more similar to here, but they farm differently, too. We drove past the farmhouses and they're all close together with the land going back behind them in long strips, not divided into square sections like here.

I found that they sometimes saw things differently from me. Many of the families there have swimming pools in their back yards and we said to them "You must be rich if you have a swimming pool in your backyard." The reply was "Oh no, having a swimming pool is nothing. If you have a horse, then you're really rich." I guess it's all in how you look at it.

But for all their differences when it came to important things they were very similar to people here. They were interested in and wanted the same things that we do. I found that the family I stayed with wasn't interested in dividing Canada and separatism didn't seem to be discussed half as much there as it is here. They were all super friendly and super nice. They showed me many places and things. They spoke English to me and said it was good when I tried to speak French, even though I said everything wrong.

My visit to Quebec and the people I met are something I'll never forget. It was a wonderful experience!

Frances Davidson

Top three winners in 4-H exchange essay contest

We are all Canadians:

I hope I will never forget the golden experience that I had the privilege of participating in this summer.

When I first heard of the idea of going to Quebec as an exchange student I wasn't sure whether I would want to go a distance that far away where the people are said to be strange and totally different. But it was not at all that way.

The people were friendly, courteous, but above all they respected me for what I was and what I stood for. They accepted me into their culture and way of life. They didn't try to change me but took me for what I was.

The people in Quebec took pride in their culture and their country. The countryside we had a chance to visit was well cared for. They were proud of Quebec just as we Albertans are proud of Alberta.

The people of Quebec are a part of Canada just as we are and without them Canadian society and culture would be wounded. They are Canadians and other than their language are just the same as you and I.

I love my country and after meeting some of the people who live in it just as I do, I'm proud to be a Canadian.

Dean Kroetsch

P.S. I would like to see more exchanges of this sort for I think it is vital for the adults of tomorrow to think of others and how they live.

The plane sped down the runway and then suddenly lifted off and upward. We were on our way home from the trip of a lifetime.

When I heard about a 4-H exchange with Quebec I jumped at the chance to join without hesitation. "Why not," I told myself. Sure, there might be the problem of communication. I couldn't speak any French and if my companion couldn't speak English, we might be in trouble. And I'd be gone during one of the busiest times of the year. But all of the problems that might arise could be overcome.

Then think of all of the assets of the exchange. We certainly would have fun, and I most definitely would make some new friends. I was sure that I would learn more from this trip than I could in two years of school, and besides, it would be a fantastic experience for all of us. The good points out-weighed the bad ones enormously.

As I expected, I did have fun, I did meet new friends, and I did learn a lot. But I gained something that I had not expected from this trip. I gained an understanding of people that are so different but yet so much like us that you cannot help but understand them. And maybe this understanding can make Canada a happy, united country.

Shower for Killam bride

On October 13, a lovely bridal shower was held in the Elk's Hall in Killam to honour Glenda Kautz, whose marriage to Mr. Hugh Leitch of Edmonton will take place November 4.

Present for the occasion was Glenda's mother, Mrs. Irene Kautz, and her grandmother, Mrs. Burroughs, both from Rocky Mountain House. A program, ably MC'd by Joy Hampshire, consisted of a contest led by Olive Grant, a piano selection from Joyce George, and a humorous reading by Elsie Grant.

Peggy Keindorfer presented Glenda with a pretty corsage and the many lovely and useful gifts. Seated at the head table with Glenda were Rhonda George, Darlene Keindorfer and Peggy Keindorfer. Glenda thanked everyone for the shower and all the nice gifts. Irene Kautz also thanked the OORP and the friends who had helped arrange the shower for Glenda.

The evening closed with a delicious lunch. We wish Glenda a very happy married life.

Province ups building fund for schools

An increase in provincial support for new school building construction was announced today by Education Minister Julian Koziak.

The new schedule, which applies to all school jurisdictions in the province, will increase funding by about five per cent in permanent construction and 10 per cent in core school portables. Rural jurisdictions more than 40 km from the cities of Edmonton, Calgary, Grande Prairie, Medicine Hat, Lethbridge or Red Deer will also receive a 36 per cent increase in distance allowances.

Distance allowances are based on the straight line distance between the construction site and the nearest city centre, Fort McMurray, for example, would receive, in addition to basic construction support, a distance allowance of $75 per square metre (approximately $7 per square foot), an increase of $20 per square metre ($2 per square foot).

The increase covers school building tenders or other schemes of construction approved by the Minister during the period July 1, 1978 to December 31, 1978. There was no increase during the first six months of 1978.

CARDS OF THANKS

Dwayne and Alice Sather would like to thank the Sedgewick Kinette Club and local businesses for welcoming them to the community. 10-1p

We would like to thank all those who helped make our 50th anniversary such a memorable occasion. To Russell Grant for his kind words, to the community for the purse of money, to the Presbyterian ladies for the lunch, to Isa and Florence for pouring tea and coffee and to Tina and Annie for the music.
May and Dave Anderson 10-1p

I would like to extend my sincere thanks to Dr. Kerins and Dr. Kumar and staff of Galahad General Hospital for their care and kindness, while a patient there.
Many thanks too for the lovely flowers, cards, visits and gifts of candy. Best Wishes.
Muriel Remick 10-1c

Killam Elks and O.O.R.P. would like to thank all those who supported their annual Turkey Supper, October 22 and hope to see you next year. 10-1c

We wish to take this opportunity to express our sincere thanks to Dr. Reist, Dr. Stanners, Dr. Cahill and staff of Daysland Hospital for the fine care I received during my stay there.
Also to all of our relatives and friends for their warm wishes, visits, cards, flowers and lovely gifts. Thank you one and all. It means so much to us.

IN MEMORIUM

McCLEMENTS — In fond loving memory of James McClemenis, my dearly beloved husband who passed away October 28, 1975.
Away in God's beautiful garden
Away from all sorrows and cares.
Always remembered and sadly missed by his loving wife Maggie. 10-1c

McCLEMENTS — In loving memory of our Dad who passed away October 28, 1975.
Often a lonely heartache
Many a silent tear
But always a beautiful memory
Of one we loved so dear.
Always remembered and sadly missed by James, Les, Reg, Olive and families. 10-1c

In loving memory of our dear son and brother, Brian Lloyd, who was suddenly taken from us on October 30, 1965.
Gone are the days we used to share
But in our hearts you are always there
Many think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
Always remembered and sadly missed by your loving Mom, Sister Marian and brother Eugene. 10-1p

People in Profile

A resident of Killam for one-and-a-half years now, Sharon Kuprowsky came to become the town's secretary-treasurer. Responsible to Town Council, Sharon approaches government and private industry on council's behalf, writes by-laws, handles customer complaints, does the bookkeeping at month-end, and even takes the minutes at every council meeting.

Her job involves a "little of everything," and now that she's completely involved in rural life, "I don't think I'd go back to the city," she says.

She did return to Edmonton for a short, three-day stint in October, however, to attend the third convention of the Alberta Status of Women Action Committee (ASWAC).

ASWAC is a women's organization concerned with professional and social equality for women, Sharon explains. The fact that it is "not radical" is why she joined it instead of an other organization, she adds. ASWAC stays away from "iffy" issues, such as abortion and capital punishment, leaving those to each individual's personal convictions.

The recent conference dealt with specific topics, including child care and emergency shelters, holding workshops on each. Sharon involved herself with rural issues, and specifically, economics in small communities. The workshop also included discussions about farm women in rural areas and single industry communities, such as Fort McMurry, where residents are largely dependent on one source of revenue.

One topic discussed during the conference which Sharon found particularly relevant in rural areas was the lack of professional occupations for women. More women are in the work force today than every before -- some out of necessity, many for personal satisfaction. But, Sharon explains, when it comes to working, women in rural areas do not have much to choose from. And the distance from larger centres is often too great for commuting.

Women in rural areas need more encouragement and confidence in their own abilities, says Sharon, to go out and get the jobs that interest them but which are not often filled by women, such as managerial positions in stores or banks.

And just because someone is concerned about equal pay, maternity leave and matrimonial property doesn't mean they're not feminine, she adds. "Unfortunately, people tend to look at the radical end of it . . . We're not trying to take women out of the home," Sharon explains. But many women would like to be involved with activities in addition to raising children. "We all need to do something for ourselves, for our own satisfaction."

Indications are, the number of women in rural areas who share these feelings is on the rise. ASWAC alone has seen an increase of almost 500 memberships from outlying districts in the last year. And, says Sharon, if any women in the Flagstaff district are among the interested, she'd like to hear their input.

Shop around for your fire safety

According to enquiries received by the Department of Consumer and Corporate Affairs, consumers are showing an increasing interest in fire-warning equipment.

This equipment is currently being sold on a door-to-door basis in Alberta. If the salesman uses any type of scare tactic -- beware, this may not be the best purchase. The best way to shop is to compare prices and quality, so don't be in a hurry. Similar devices are also sold through local retailers so have a look.

There are two types of devices suitable for home use -- smoke detectors and heat detectors. Heat detectors require heat to activate them with the obvious danger that fire could be in an advanced stage by the time the alarm sounds. Smoke detectors are activated by a smouldering type of fire or smoke. Smoke travels quickly, so such an early warning alarm could give occupants time to react.

Smoke detectors, as well as heat detectors, may be used individually (as a single station device) or as part of a system. The system could consist of a combination of devices designed to detect flame, heat or smoke.

If you intend to use a single device, it definitely should be installed outside the bedroom area of your home. Remember that the effectiveness of a device will be sharply reduced by poor location.

Also, be sure that the smoke detector you buy has a label of the Underwriters Laboratory of Canada. This signifies that the device has met the standards set down by U.L.C.

Remember, if you are thinking about fire detection equipment for your home, be sure to shop around.

Is your home secure?

If you're out looking for a new house, an old house that may need remodelling, or an apartment, remember, security should be a factor when you build, buy, or rent that house or apartment.

When planning to build, don't choose a remote location out of sight of other homes unless you are willing to live with the added risk. A house in a lonely location can provide burglars with almost unlimited opportunity if, for example, they learn that you are away on vacation or business for a long period of time.

Consider, too, that a two-storey house with the bedrooms upstairs is considerably less secure in the event of fire than a one-storey 'ranch' style. On the other hand, a low spread-out house offers the would-be intruder more avenues of access.

Be sure that adequate lighting is designed for doorways and garage entrances. In planning your landscaping, keep large evergreens and shrubs away from doors or accessible windows; use low-spreading plants in these areas and plan to keep them continually trimmed. Thorn bushes help repel burglars from first floor windows. Be sure, too, that there are adequate outside hose connections; wetting down the roof and walls can be an effective temporary action against sparks from burning woodlands, brush fires or a nearby burning structure – at least until the professional firefighters arrive.

And, in the design of your new house, pay special attention to the adequacy of the electrical wiring. Or, if you buy an older house, have a professional check the wiring; it may be a wise precaution to re-wire. Overloaded, defective, or antiquated wiring is a leading cause of fire. If the house was built in the 1960's, it might have aluminum wiring which has been shown to be less reliable than copper.

If your house will be built in a remote location, you might want to investigate the additional cost of having a buried phone line.

Three accessories that cost relatively little and are worth investing in for new, as well as existing houses, are: a smoke alarm, a good fire extinguisher, and a rope ladder for those homes where the bedrooms are upstairs.

When you buy an existing house, the first security measure is to change the lock cylinders. You have no way of knowing the entire distribution of keys made by the previous owners.

Trim trees and remove trellises strong enough to support a climber and affording access to second floor windows or roof [illegible].

If the house you buy has an existing electronic security system, have a qualified expert assess its condition and adequacy; you may want to keep the basic equipment but add newer features.

An urban 'attached' or row house typically requires heavy metal grills on first floor windows, and a secure door to the roof since access can be, and frequently is, from adjoining roofs. If the house is multi-occupancy, individual apartment doors should be metal or metal sheathed rather than wooden.

If your new home is to be an apartment, there are some additional basic rules. First, if the building has a staff, you can often find out the general security situation by talking with them before you sign a lease. In most cases, they will eagerly tell you who has been robbed, when, and how often. Be especially cautious if you discover any strong indications that burglaries are thought to be "an inside job."

If the owner or a manager or superintendent live on the premises it is a good sign. They will take a direct, personal interest in the building's level of security.

Are all strangers challenged by a doorman or a superintendent when they seek to enter the building? Small buildings without attendants and with tenants who are all employed can be particularly vulnerable during the 9-5 daytime hours.

Check the condition and quality of the front door lock. Look for other ways the building can be entered – such as from adjoining roofs. Are there places in the lobby or near the mailboxes where someone could readily hide?

Be certain there are peepholes in the front doors and an intercom system. In many communities, these are now mandated by law.

An inspection of the general level of maintenance in a building will tell you a great deal about the probably level of security. A poorly maintained building usually means poor security.

Hardisty District News

The fortunate winners of Back to School contest sponsored by Thompson's Drugs were: James Waring of Hughenden, first, and Mae Joan Fitzgerald of Hardisty, second. A desk and Webster's Encyclopedia Dictionaries were the prizes.

I had a nice drive with Freda Blackwell to see the numerous swans on the lake by Paul Drager's. They seemed so secure and were a lovely sight.

Mrs. Adelia Goldsmith enjoyed a lovely weekend with her relatives. A niece, Norma Hain of Swift Current, came along first, and later, a nephew, Delbert, and Margaret Poisom of Delia, Alberta arrived unexpectedly. Mrs. Goldsmith's nephew is manager of the Co-op store in Delia.

Your reporter and Allen Lawson had surprise company on October 23 when Mrs. Winnie McGreevy of St. Albert called to say hello.

Winnie comes down occasionally to visit her sisters Eileen Paterson and Virgie Archbold, also, brother Roland Van Deward, but there is so little time left over to visit old friends.

However, she is very interested in a Hardisty High School reunion and would like very much to see something like this get off the ground and action started. Gertie Terry is also interested in this.

Sympathy to Jack Rawcliffe and family on the passing away of his wife, Ruth Rosetta, in the University Hospital at age 59.

She leaves behind her husband Jack, five daughters, and two sons, 12 grandchildren, and her mother, Mrs. Ruth Horn of Barrhead.

So often things are left until something happens. Edmonton is now improving a bicycle trail in Capital City Recreation Park after Ricky McShane's fatal accident. More warning signs are being installed on the hill where Ricky was found unconscious.

The Wilf Buelow family spent a recent weekend at Marlene's home to help her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Matt Neihaus of Heisler, celebrate their 50th wedding anniversary.

Sympathy is extended to the Fonsums on the passing away of their dad's brother-in-law, Johnny Leigh.

Although they lived in Edmonton the past few years, they were well known in the Nilrem area, coming to Hardisty often.

A good crowd attended the UCW supper Friday night. They came early and with self-serve, serving goes much faster. It was a delicious meal, with people coming from Czar, Amisk, Irma and other points.

Lougheed and District News

Recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Liddell from Ponoka.

The lucky winner of the Good Deed Club quilt draw at the tea on Saturday, October 28 was Mrs. Jim Baker of Sedgewick. Congratulations, Mrs. Baker.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Metz and Mrs. Brita Birchill spent a week in Penticton, B.C. a couple weeks ago.

There were a lot of people back in Lougheed for Shireen Waite and Norman Rancier's wedding on Friday, October 27. Miss Grace Lowther, Mrs. Josie Therou, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott (nee Lorraine Wright), and Lloyd Wright's daughter Landa, all of Edmonton. Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Wright from Toronto, Ontario. Mrs. Eva Wright and daughter from Manitoba. Mrs. Winnie Wright and daughter Muriel and Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wright of Vancouver, B.C. Joan and James Wright of Edmonton. Also, some friends and relatives from Ponoka and Camrose. I know I have missed a lot of other names, but I know you will understand.

Congratulations to Shireen and Norman on their marriage.

Mrs. Harold Erickson is in the Killam Hospital. Wish you a speedy recovery and hope you will be home soon, Gladys.

The October winners for the Lougheed Arena Maintenace Lottery Draw were: Gerald Gruninger of Lougheed, $300, and Mr. John Leslie of Sedgewick, $200. Congratulations.

The weather is still being lovely for this time of year. So much extra work can be finished when it is nice underfoot. No snow and mud to go through.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsden of Dauphin, Manitoba have been spending a few days with their son and daughter in law, Jack and Elsie Ramsden.

Roxy Toppe and Stephen of Red Deer were in Lougheed last weekend to see their new niece and cousin, Karrie Lynn Probat.

Lougheed Rebekahs hold meet

The Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday, October 25 with 22 members and three visitors present.

Lodge opened in regular form with N.G. Sister Verona Cookson in the chair.

Visitors were welcomed.

Members reported having visited in each of the surrounding hospitals.

Plans were finalized for the tea and bake sale to be held on Saturday, November 4.

It was moved to give a donation to the Flying Tigers and to the Museum Association.

The charter was draped in memory of Sis. Daphne Kenely, Past-President of the International Association of Rebekah Assembly.

Sis. Thelma Derraugh gave a report of the District Meeting held in Killam on Tuesday, October 24. Thirteen Lougheed sisters attended. They brought the travelling gavels. The practice of passing the gavels from one lodge within the district to another was begun in 1936.

Lougheed's loss is Killam's gain. Sis. Merle Vincett is transferring to Killam. A number of sisters performed in her home and N.G. Sis. Cookson spoke of Sis. Vincett's sterling qualities.

Sis. Denham was serenaded for having passed another milestone.

Lodge closed in harmony and a tasty lunch was served, complete with a farewell cake which had been beautifully decorated by Sis. Adelaide McClements. The sisters partook of this lunch with gusto because it was agreed in the meeting to make the forthcoming lunches more simple. Time and waistlines will tell.

Sedgewick and District News Items

Mr. Jim Walsh went to Edmonton on Saturday morning and picked up Mrs. Walsh at the Royal Alexdra Hospital. They spent the weekend at the Jim Walsh Jr. home in St. Albert. On Sunday evening, Betty returned to the hospital and Jim drove home.

I hear that Mr. and Mrs. Bert Cumberland are now residing in the Apartments.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Bergum are in their new home in the Trailer Court on the northern part of town.

Do you like to sing? The Choral Group, under the direction of Kae Routledge, needs more singers. Practices are Wednesdays at 8 p.m. in the Sedgewick United Church. A Christmas cantata is being rehearsed, hopefully for a December presentation. The male sections are especially in need of more voices.

Mrs. Molly Magee attended the homecoming exercises of the graduating class of 1978 at the Canadian Lutheran Bible Institute in Camrose over the weekend. About half of her former classmates were in attendance, many of them accompanied by sponses and families. It was a very interesting and inspirational experience for all.

Mrs. Gladys Clarke attended a seminar on diet, nutrition and natural good health held in Red Deer during the weekend.

Young Devon Wayne Chave, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Chave, was baptised on Sunday. Devon was born on September 26. To mark the occasion of the christening, Devon, assisted by his parents, Dennis and Marion, welcomed a number of friends to a get-together at his home.

Witches, goblins, monsters, and other strange beings be sieged the Anglican Parish Hall on Saturday afternoon for the children's Halloween party. Judging from my own daughter's excitement, everyone must have had a great time.

Mrs. Winnifred Wright, her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Wright, and her daughter, Mrs. Muriel Messinco, have returned to their homes in Vancouver after spending a week with relatives around Sedgewick and Lougheed and attending the Waite-Rancier wedding.

Our congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rancier (nee Shireen Waite), who were married Friday evening at the Nazarene Church.

Mrs. Marilyn Tutkaluk and daughters of Climax, Saskatchewan spent several days last week visiting with Marilyn's mother, Mrs. Thelma Tanton, and the rest of the family.

A number of ladies from Killam, Sedgewick and Lougheed attended a United Church Women's convention in Banff on the weekend, and found it a worthwhile learning experience. Among those from Sedgewick attending were Mrs. Marie Booth, Miss Laverne Booth and Mrs. Ida May Black.

SEDGEWICK SKATING

The Sedgewick Figure Skating Club is pleased to have two local instructors for the 1978-79 skating season. Mrs. Janice Arntzen will be the profession al coach, assisted by Mr. Neil Haynes, an amateur coach. Mr. Haynes is also a judge.

The skating season will commence during the week of November 20. A registration meeting will be held upstairs in the Rec Centre Tuesday, November 7 at 7:30 p.m. Classes will be taught up to and including the 1st Figure as well as the National Badge Program. All skaters are welcome to join. The seasonal skating fee and the figure skating dues will be much the same as last year. Skaters must have their skating number before registering.

Sedgewick Junior High discovers musical talents

There was a large number of people here last Thursday for the band practice. I saw quite a few people discovering musical talent they never realized they had. It looks like Mr. Norris is going to have another town to instruct for this year.

The tournament on Saturday went over very well. The boys first game was lost to Killam 48-16. They won the second game against Lougheed 34-16. The third game was lost to Dayaland 33-17.

The girls had better luck. Their first game was lost to Killam 18-18. The second game against Lougheed was 28-12. The third game against Killam was won 14-8.

We had a masquerade party on Tuesday for Halloween.

Nazarene Church News

Workers of the Sunday School received a profitable message from Mel Dietrich stressing spiritual preparation rather than methods for outreach ministry.

The wedding of Shireen Waite and Norman Rancier took place Friday evening. Congratulations. May God richly bless your home.

A presentation of work of Church of Nazarene in Cape Verde Islands and Portugal was given by missionary Lydia Wilkie on Wednesday.

Word has been received that Mr. Henry Potter is seriously ill in the Calgary General Hospital. Our prayers are with you, Henry.

Substitute teachers ably took their positions this last Sunday of the month, allowing regular teachers to participate in adult classes of the Sunday School.

Tories' money-raising, appointments criticized

The Conservatives face some questions and plenty of criticism over their fund-raising methods and appointments to the boards of directors of companies in which their government invests.

A fund-raising letter circulated by the Tories shows that three of four members on the party's finance committee executive are also government appointed directors of provincially-controlled firms.

The fund-raisers include Rod McDaniel, chairman of the board of Pacific Western Airlines, PWA Vice Chairman Hoadley Mitchell, and Peter Macdonnell, a director of the Alberta Energy Company.

The Tory cabinet bought Pacific Western in mid 1974 and retains half-ownership of the energy company, which has interests ranging from oil sands development to forestry products in Alberta.

Premier Peter Lougheed said the men's involvement in party fund-raising predated their directors' appointments and he saw no conflict in their dual roles. They are not civil servants stopped from fund raising.

Lougheed said leading members of the party are in a better position than outsiders to make the government live up to its promise that the management of the corporations will be independent, and businesslike.

The premier said that directors of government-owned companies are naturally more likely than not to share the "philosophy" of the party in power that appoints them.

But Social Credit Leader Bob Clark has begun questioning the cabinet in the legislature over policies for making appointments to all Alberta companies, such as the Agricultural Development Corporation.

NDP Leader Grant Notley has called the PWA and energy company directors' participation in Conservative party fund-raising "sleazy politics" and "anti-democratic."

Notley told a news conference that the directors' dual role displays "elements of coercion that border on extortion - and that has no place in a democratic society."

He said the difference between PWA and a Crown corporation is a "fine line," and Alberta's publicly-owned companies should not be run by "political hacks" and 'Tory bagmen.'

Officially, PWA and the energy company are private businesses, whose shares are held by the government but whose management is not directed by the cabinet.

However, Transport Minister Hugh Horner has told the legislature that for purposes of corporate income taxation, PWA is a Crown corporation. The airline does not pay income taxes to Ottawa.

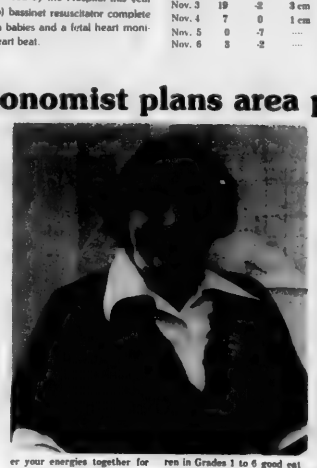
Home economist plans area programs

November 13 to 18 is Nutrition Week in Alberta, an especially busy time for people such as Marilyn Matthiessen, district home economist in the Flagstaff area.

The week, instigated by a provincial group of dieticians, signifies the first time nutrition has been spotlighted in the province. Not only are home economists involved in the public awareness program, says Marilyn, but so are community health personnel, diet technicians and nursing home staff to name a few.

The theme of the first Nutrition Week, which is hoped to become an annual event, is Lunch What 4???? Traditionally, Marilyn explained, lunch has been a forgotten meal with not very much thought going into its planning. Nutrition Week supporters are asking that for their daily noontime meal, people select one food from each of the four food groups: a milk product, meat or alternative, fruit or vegetable, and bread product.

As well, Marilyn added, emphasis is being placed on relaxing during the noontime break. "People need to slow down and enjoy the meal," she says. "It's a good time to gather your energies together for the afternoon."



The home economist's involvement in promoting good nutrition doesn't end on November 18, however. Marilyn, who is taking over for Diane Bourne for six months, will be continuing the Nutrition at School program to teach children in Grades 1 to 6 good eating, and particularly, snacking habits.

Nutrition at School will be featured in the Sedgewick School this year, while Days land and Heisler had the benefit of the three-times-a-week program last year.

"Hopefully," says Marilyn, "it'll give children some ideas on what to eat rather than chips and chocolate bars." As well as providing nutritional snacks, Marilyn and her assistant give information about each food item and the different ways of serving them.

Indications are the program has been highly successful. Originally, it wasn't planned to continue this year, "but funds were found somewhere so it could."

Nutrition at School is also a provincial program, and, Marilyn explains, each district home economist in Alberta is involved with it in at least one school in her community. This year, the Sedgewick Nutrition at School will run from November 29 to March 23.

A graduate in Home Economics from the University of Alberta, Marilyn's experience in the field includes working 1½ years in Camrose with District Home Economist Barbara Green. From there, Marilyn continued working for the Department of Agriculture, Extension Division, travelling to centres throughout central Alberta with agricultural displays made especially for rural fairs.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Curtis Johnson

We live in a time of cheap religion, easy answers, soft living, relaxed moral standards. At such a time, the call of the cross is a call to a Gethsemane experience, "not my will, but thine, be done."

Growing out of the fact of the cross, accentuating the call of the cross, comes the demand of the cross, for there are demands upon those who accept. The cross demands complete self surrender. It forces us to recognize that spiritually there is no self-made man or woman – no self-saved sinner. The cross insists that we be ready to follow God's leading in our lives. It requires that we put our lives where the words are.

Around the turn of the century, the famed Chicago pulpit orator, Frank Gunsaulis, preached a sermon on what he would do if he had a million dollars. At the conclusion, a meat-packing baron stood up, looked him in the eye and said, "I'll give the million dollars. Are you willing to give the years of your life necessary to use it?" It is to Frank Gunsaulis' everlasting credit that he did give the years of his life and used the funds for significant social and moral accomplishments. He put his life where his words were.

Probably nothing this dramatic will ever happen to us, but we should recognize that the demands of the cross are as pertinent and compelling. Let us realize also that the cross is a responsibility – but oh, what a satisfying responsibility; if we assume Paul's attitude: "God forbid that I should glory, save in the Cross of our Lord Jesus Christ, by whom the world is crucified unto me, and I unto the world." (Galatians 6:14). Yet, as Samuel Rutherford, one of the saints of the Scottish Covenant, wrote of it, "He that takes up the bitter tree and carries it quietly will find it a burden as wings are to a bird or sails are to a boat."

NAZARENE NEWS

The Potter family returned Sunday evening from visiting Henry Potter in Calgary General Hospital.

Mid-week services last week were held at the Louis Swanson home.

Mr. Abel continued Sunday evening with study of the tabernacle.

Sunday, November 12, Rev. Tom McLaughlin of Killam will be guest speaker in evening service.

Please reserve Sunday, December 17, the date set for Sunday School Cristmas Program.

Shower held for Killam girl

The United Church Hall in Killam was recently the scene of a lovely shower held in honour of Miss Paula Schweitzer, whose marriage to Mr. John McEachnie took place on October 28.

Mrs. Marian Wilson was MC for the program which consisted of piano solos by Shirley Forster and Deanna Wilson, a duet by Annie Burzloff and Tina Blumhagen on piano and accordian, contests conducted by Doris Saunders and Marian Wilson, who also read a poem entitled "Advice to Brides" and presented the gifts to Paula.

Assisting Paula in opening her gifts were Miss Barbara Makus, and her sisters, Myrna Roberts and Patsy Billard.

Paula graciously thanked the large number of ladies present for the beautiful and useful gifts, and also expressed her thanks to the UCW for sponsoring the shower. A delicious lunch was enjoyed by all. We wish Paula and John much happiness in their home in Edmonton.

News from Strome UCW

by Ev McDougall and Marge McDougall.

The Strome UCW met at the church hall with 10 members present.

The meeting was opened with a devotion, "Joy Cometh In The Morning," given by Judy Hawkins.

The minutes of the last meeting were read, followed by the treasurer's report and a report from the Flower Committee.

Various items were discussed and motions made. We decided to hold our December 6 meeting in the form of a Christmas party. Each UCW member is to invite a guest and an exchange of gifts will be made.

Following this, our nominating committee presented a slate of officers for the following year. They are: President, Lois Rawe; Vice-President, Judy Hawkins; Secretary, Carol Graham; Treasurer, Alice Pooler; Social, Mildred Gordon, Ev McDougall and Mina Curtis; Welfare, Hat Hauck; Flower, Mina Curtis; Masse Rep., Marylynn Lorenson; Board Rep., Carol Graham; and Regal Sales, Judy Hawkins.

Following this, the meeting was adjourned by Peg Wheller and a lovely lunch was served

I'm the kind of person who likes to get things done, and done right. I don't like wasting time. Or money.

I've invested a lot of money here in the West, so naturally I want the prairies to grow. My business depends on it. So does the happiness of my family. Our roots are here, and we like the way of life.

I know the Credit Union feels this way, too. It invests our money right here where we live. It helps us do the things we want to do. And it keeps on growing. I guess its size shows how successful it is. Right here on the prairies, over a million members pool their resources to make life even better.

Being a leader is a big responsibility, and the Credit Union takes that responsibility seriously. By providing full financial services for every member, no matter what their income happens to be.

At the Credit Union, we're people who work together to find a way. It's part of my life, and that's why I'm a member. You can be, too. Just open a share account at any Credit Union, and you're in. If you like getting things done, it'll really suit your lifestyle.

The Credit Union "It suits my lifestyle."

Former Hardisty woman passes

Funeral services were held for Ruth Rosetta Rawcliffe of Edmonton, formerly of Hardisty on Friday, October 27, 1978 at 2 p.m. Rev. Jackson officiated the service at Hardisty United Church. Interment was in Hardisty Cemetery.

Ruth was born in Monroe, Washington September 23, 1919. She emigrated to Canada with her parents and resided in Barrhead, where she married her loving husband Jack on October 26, 1938. They made their home there until 1951 when they moved to Hardisty. From August, 1977, until her death at the University Hospital October 23, she and her husband Jack resided in Edmonton.

She leaves to mourn, her loving husband Jack; her mother, Mrs. Louis Horn of Barrhead; two sons, Raymond of Sedgewick and Robert of Edmonton; five daughters, Clara of Edmonton, Ruth Elaine of Hardisty, Barbara Anne of Forestburg, Michele of Red Deer, and Joanne of Edmonton; 12 grandchildren; two brothers, Douglas and John; and four sisters, Viola, Ellen, Nancy and Lula, and numerous other relatives and friends. Ruth was predeceased by her son Louis in 1940 and her father Louis in 1976.

Pallbearers were Bob Goosen, Linesa (Slim) Goosen, Louis Golka, John Golka, Arne Bush and Bill Robinson. Arrangements were by Fee and Sons of Killam.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to extend our sincere appreciation and thanks to our dear relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness during our bereavement in the loss of our loving wife and mother.

Special thanks for floral tributes, memorials, cards of encouragement and sympathy, food brought to our homes, and to Rev. Jackson, the pallbearers and the Rosyth Ladies who served lunch after the service.

Our heartfelt appreciation,
Jack Rawcliffe and family

SEISMIC OPERATIONS AND YOUR RIGHTS

Gone are the days when you could negotiate and write a contract for mineral operations on the back of a cigarette pack. The development process and legal jargon of contracts and permits have become a complicated and sometimes confusing procedure. Too often farmers are left scratching their heads after they've signed a contract wondering if they got a "fair shake." Here's a few tips on contracts and permits, and how to go about making an agreement that you understand.

Basically, there are two steps to a mineral operation: exploration and development. In the exploration stage, the company is performing various operations to determine if there is a gas or oil deposit below your property. This may include various test drilling or other geophysical operations, but they must be in accordance with the Geophysical Regulations.

It also states that no geophysical operations can be made without consent of the registered owner or the person who has the right of possession. This means that your say as a landowner or occupant is final as to whether or not a seismic operation will come onto your property.

In the development stage, the company is performing drilling for the production or attempted production of petroleum and natural gas.

Under the Surface Rights Act, the mineral owner can enter upon private lands to remove the minerals. This is done after a private agreement has been reached between surface owners or occupant and the company. The lease agreement will stipulate all conditions of the contract, and after the company has presented the contract to the farmer, he has a 48-hour wait period during which time he should carefully read the contract. If the farmer and the company cannot come to a suitable agreement, the Surface Rights Board will determine a suitable compensation to the farmer and the company will proceed.

Alberta Agriculture offers several resources for farmers wanting the know-hows of surface leases, geophysical permits and counselling.

Former Daysland couple marks 50th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Ed O'Morrow of Stettler celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on October with a party in the Stettler Legion. They will be remembered as former residents of Daysland when Edd was the CPR agent here. Bob and Norman Hanrahan attended and report a very enjoyable evening.

The UCW meeting was held in the church social room on November 2 with President Margaret Schmidt opening the meeting. The devotion was read by Anna Boggs of Faith and Worship.

The roll call was answered by 13 members and one visitor and 23 visits to the sick were made. The secretary's minutes were read by Phyllis Gabruck and the treasurer's report given by Emily Hill and both approved. The correspondence was read and a motion was made to send three donations: one to St. Stephens College, one to the John Milton Society for the Blind in Canada, and one to the Manse Committee. One gift and one get well card were sent. Plans were made for the UCW church service to be held November 19 at 9:30 a.m. with the members taking part in the service.

Our next meeting, December 7, is our Christmas Party with each to invite a guest and exchange gifts around $1.50.

Report of the Conference at Banff was given by our two delegates, Ethel Graham and Margaret Schmidt, which was very interesting.

Dorothy Spiller and Kay Reist brought in a new slate of officers for the coming year and Rev. Mina Pool read them off and had them approved. The are: President, Betty Koehli; Secretary, Phyllis Gabruck; Treasurer, Emily Hill; 1st Vice-President, Margaret Schmidt; 2nd Vice-President, Dorothy Spiller; 3rd Vice-President, Betty Hill; Supply & Welfare, Norma Hanrahan; Cards, Ethel Graham; Flowers & Stamps, Laura Graham; World Outreach, Betty Hill; Christian Education, Dorothy Spiller; Manse, Kay Reist; Stewards, Norma Hanrahan; Press, Emily Hill; Nominations, Dorothy Spiller; Social Functions, Margaret Schmidt; and Program, Betty Hill.

A lovely lunch was served by hostess Dorothy McDevitt and her helper Jean Hamilton.

The Sunbeam Club met in the Dayland Hall November 1 with six tables of whist and 27 members present. The high score went to Mrs. Margaret Schmidt and low to Mrs. Edna Pryor. The next game is November 15.

Mr. and Mrs. George Cramton have left for their winter holidays in Arizona and other points.

Killam and District News

Deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Neil Kalawsky in the passing of Mrs. Kalawsky's brother in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peterson and Dennis, Mr. Walter Erickson and Mr. Andrew Sorenson attended the 25th wedding anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Hartley Sorenson of Vermilion on Saturday, October 28. Congratulations.

Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erickson are busy babysitting while the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Al Dibbons of Rimbey, are holidaying in Hawaii.

The community's congratulations go out to Constable Debbie George, who graduated as an RCMP on October 28. Attending from here were Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George, Bob and Don; Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson; Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Gordon and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Lorenson of Strome. Debbie is home for a 10-day holiday and from here will be posted at Big River, Saskatchewan. She is the first girl from Killam to go in as an RCMP. Good luck, Debbie in your new career.

Mrs. Jane Larson of Hinton is busy making the rounds, visiting daughters Hilma Sue Larson, Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Cair and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bownes and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McMahon, Mr. and Mrs. Don Villner and Lori, Mr. Jim McMahon of Edmonton spent the weekend visiting Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Romano and attending the wedding of Bernard's niece, Kathryn Prest.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Murray and family of Spruce Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Anderson of Hardisty were weekend visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Murray.

Congratulations to Mr. Hugh Leitch and Miss Glenda Kautz, who were married on Saturday, November 4. Attending the wedding from here were Mrs. Jean Bonar, Mr. and Mrs. David Kelndorfer, Mrs. Caroline Kelndorfer, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hampshire, Mrs. Joy Hampshire, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hart, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grant, Mr. Ross Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Russell Grant, Mr. and Mrs. Jens Lindseth and Mr. and Mrs. Mel McKeage of Red Deer.

A bridal shower honouring Miss Rita Muser will be held in the Catholic Church Hall on Thursday, November 16 at 8 p.m. Everyone welcome.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Don Young, who are the proud parents of a baby girl born November 1 at St. Mary's Hospital in Camrose at 5 lbs. 15 oz. Her name will be Dawn Gail. Proud grandmothers are Mrs. Rose Schulte and Mrs. Adelpha Young.

Blanche and Dave Cramton had a pot luck supper and card party Sunday evening with four tables of 500. Ladies' high score went to Honey Curtis and low went to Patty Oshak. High score for the men went to Hans Oshak and low to Herb Larson. The travelling prizes went to Vivian Larson and Harry Koosowan.

On Monday, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Prichard and Mr. and Mrs. Dave Cramton went to Edmonton to visit Grandpa Cramton and Colin Cramton, both in hospital. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. Myron Cramton.

Happy birthday to Mr. Bill Davisos, who celebrated a birthday Tuesday, November 7.

CARDS OF THANKS

We would like to thank all our friends in Alliance and district who kindly contributed to the beautiful gifts and for coming to help make our shower so enjoyable. It was all very much appreciated. Heather and Craig 11-1c

The U.C.W. of St. Paul's United Church Hardisty thank all who supported their annual Turkey Supper on October 27. 11-1p

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to sincerely thank all of the girls who attended the wine and cheese party held for me in late August. It was great to see so many of you there. I've been meaning to thank each of you individually but I can't seem to find the time.
The gold chain and pinky ring are beautiful; I wear them always. They are but one of the reminders I have of the terrific people and great times in Sedgewick.
For hosting the party and so much more, I want to extend a special thanks to Denny.
Many, many thanks to Bob and Lude, Sandy and Lonnie, Darrell, Hoggy, Ian, Brenda and Denny for your help in moving. Mac Cushman ain't got nuthin' on you!
My coffee pot is always on, and the candy store is only 2 blocks away, so be sure to stop by when you're in the city doing your Christmas shopping or whatever.
Thanks again to everyone.
Henya 11-1c

IN MEMORIUM

BLUMHAGEN — In loving memory of Lydia Blumhagen who passed away November 14, 1975.
Often the lonely hearts ache,
Many a silent tear,
But always a beautiful memory,
Of one we loved so dear.
Always remembered and sadly missed by son Otto, Madeline and family. 11-1p

TANTON - In loving memory of Laird and Lloyd.
The autumn leaves are falling now
The summer season is not long.
So quietly the warm days disappear
Soon the winter wind, will sing its song
God reminds us never to despair,
Just look at the evergreen tree,
It reminds us that some things never change,
Remain as steady as the tides at sea
Dear Laird and Lloyd we miss you so
Because your smiles we no longer see,
Yet the presence of your spirit will never change,
Remaining the same, like the evergreen tree.
Ever remembered by Thelma and Family. 11-1c

TENDERS

BAULING AND STOCKPILING GRAVEL:
The County of Flagstaff No. 29 invites tenders from truckers for the hauling of gravel during the winter months with commencement the first part of December, 1978.
The work is as follows:

Pit Location	Stockpile Location	Estimated Mileage	Estimated Number of Cubic Yards
NE 6-43-9 W4	NW 1-43-13 W4	25 miles	30,000 cu. yds.
Pt. S½ 33-46-11 W4	NE 24-46-15 W4	25 miles	30,000 cu. yds.

The gravel will be loaded by the County loader, checked by a County checker and the successful tender should have enough trucks to haul 150 - 200 cu. yds. per hour. Mileage will be determined by Constable Vanderwoude, County Constable. Quotations must be made on a per cubic yard mile basis. Proof of insurance of at least $200,000.00 Public Liability is required.
Tenders will close at 5:00 p.m., November 20, 1978. Lowest or any tender not necessarily accepted.
For further information, please contact the undersigned at 384-3537, Sedgewick, Alberta

Galahad reports busy week

The Youth Group of the Missionary Church sponsored a film, "Eighteen," on Sunday evening, October 29. There were folk from Forestburg, Morin and Alliance present. Lunch and a time of fellowship were enjoyed after the film.

Sunday School Staff meeting was held on Monday evening to plan for the Christmas Program that will be held on December 17 at 7:30 p.m.

On Wednesday evening, the cadets and their leaders had a Halloween party in the parsonage rec room.

The adults gathered for Bible study and prayer in the overflow room. The Youth Group met in the lower auditorium of the church. They joined the cadets for lunch after the meeting.

Mrs. Delores Buchholz and Lyle spent Sunday, October 29 in Calgary visiting Mr. and Mrs. Keith Buchholz in their new home, which they moved into just recently.

Doug Buchholz of Red Cliff is spending a few days at home helping get the farm work caught up before winter sets in.

Mr. and Mrs. Clements Leer of St. Walburg, Saskatchewan spent a few days visiting their daughter and family, the Glen Wisharts. We were interested to learn that St. Walburg was the home of Count Berthold Von Imhoff, a German-born Renaissance-style painter and copyist, who lived there from 1913 until his death in 1939. Many of his paintings are displayed in Imhoff Gallery at St. Walburg. Explore Canada gives a detailed account of the artist's work.

Mrs. Clara Wegenast entertained at a tea on Wednesday afternoon in honour of Mrs. Winona Dunn of Moores Mills, New Brunswick.

Phillip Perrault of Three Hills spent the weekend at Galahad.

Galahad hunters and their friends seem to encounter some different problems. On a Monday morning hunt, Pete Willis and four hunters from Calgary, Ontario and B.C. had the misfortune to drop three fine mallards on the ice, which was not thick enough to bear a man's weight. They returned after lunch with a boat and a shovel to break the ice, only to find the ducks had vanished. In the trees nearby sat three Bald Eagles, patiently waiting for another hand-out. However, it did provide the hunter from eastern Canada with his first sighting of Bald Eagles.

A sticky mess was averted somewhat when the "Egg Bandits" were relieved of their ammunition on Halloween evening.

Mr. Hugh Bownes, Carrie and Gene Whitehead were Camrose visitors Friday morning, where Mr. Bownes received medical attention.

Jack and Marion Farley of Calgary are spending the weekend in Galahad, hoping to add a few more ducks to their freezer. But snow and ice may have sent the duck population fleeing south. Never the-less, the Farleys enjoy visiting Galahad folk, and the enjoyment is mutual.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Gamroth are spending this weekend in Edmonton with relatives and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Dietz were Edmonton visitors Thursday evening where they attended a musical concert.

The W.A. of the Presbyterian Church met Thursday evening at the home of Mrs. Don McMahon. There were seven members present. We were pleased to welcome Mrs. Fred Vincett as a member. Donations will be sent to Ewert College and Armagh, a home for unwed mothers. Plans were made for the annual Fall Tea which will be held in the Church basement November 25. Mrs. McMahon led a short devotional with all joining in the Creed. After slips had been made for the Tea, the hostess served a dainty lunch.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Washburn were recent Calgary visitors to bring Mrs. Blanche Davidson home with them. Enroute home they visited Miss Wendy Washburn at Innisfail and Mr. and Mrs. Ted Washburn and Michael at Red Deer. Mrs. Davidson who had just returned from a two-week visit with relatives in Bristol, England, returned home on Friday.

Mrs. S. Holben and Mrs. W. Washburn were Edmonton visitors last Friday. They took Mrs. Davidson to Stony Plain before returning home.

Mrs. Gladys McMahon returned home Monday after a short visit with the Wally Dietz family at Vermilion.

Last weekend, our Junior Boys' Basketball Team competed in the Sedgewick Junior High School Invitational Basket Ball Tournament. They played Dayaland first, then Killam in the finals. Galahad boys were the winners of both games and brought home the trophy. Congratulations, boys on your achievement. We're proud of you.

The Galahad Lions' Masquerade Dance results are: Best-Dressed Lady, George McFaull; Best Dressed Couple, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Weeks; Best-Dressed Man, Marg Ross; Comedy Lady, Faye McDermot; Comedy Man, Joanne Jackson and Carol Hagen; Most Original Man, Grant Jackson; and Most Original Lady, Mrs. Gerry Jackson. Judges were Lois Brausen, Mr. and Mrs. Walt Roeder, and Mrs. Shirley Holben.

Sunday dinner guests at the Ralph Wegenast home were Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Jackson and Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Felzien.

Mrs. Carrie Jackson entertained members of her immediate family on Sunday evening, October 29, to a coffee party – a get together before the Percy Siemps of Fleet leave for Arizona.

Mrs. Edith Johnston accompanied her grandson, Robert Johnston, home to Alhambra on October 16. He had been visiting relatives and friends at Kitscoty and Lloydminster for a few days.

Mrs. Johnston accompanied Robert home and spent a few days with her son, Ervin Johnston and family at Alhambra.

On October 20, Mr. and Mrs. Virgil White and Mrs. Edith Johnston left for Castlegar and Trail, B.C. to visit Mrs. Johnston's sister at Trail and Edith's nephews, Lloyd Bignell at Castlegar, for a few days. On their way home, they called on Gladys Johnson at Creston, B.C. She said to tell her friends here hello for her.

We also came home by Calgary way, then on to Rocky Mountain House. Mrs. Johnston visited Ervin Johnston again and her daughter at Red Deer. Mr. and Mrs. Bevan Olstad and family, and then went onto Edmonton to visit other members of her family there for a few days. She returned home Sunday, October 29 by bus to Galahad.

THE CONSTITUTION

At the time of writing this column, the First Ministers are gathered at the National Conference Center to once again consider reconstituting the Canadian Federation. While they deliberate, I can only wish them wisdom, vision, and a dedicated desire to keep Canada united with full respect for all regions of the country.

By the time this column is printed, the First Ministers' Conference on the Constitution will be known history. I hope that the press will be able to write that it was a smashing success and that Canada and its leaders have embarked upon a new conciliatory road of co-operation.

While that is my strong wish, I have serious reservations as to the outcome of the present venture. All constitutions, whether they be for a boy's scout club, a service organization, or a nation, are all documents in which people have agreed upon how they will act toward one another. In most instances, constitutions are drawn up in an environment of harmony. The best constitutions are put forward when the participants have a sense of unified objectives and methods.

Unfortunately, at the present time, Canada is more suspect than united. The provinces, particularly in the regions, feel that the Federal government has used them as a whipping boy. The nation's more serious problems of the economy, the value of the dollar, unemployment, balance of payment, are all issues that tend to depress the atmosphere for constitutional talks.

Several points should be abundantly clear. First, Canada is not, as the Prime Minister implied, writing a constitution because we are the only industrial nation in the world without one. The fact is that we do have a constitution and one that has worked very well for more than 100 years. Some may choose to believe the British North America Act is not our constitution, but the fact of the matter is that it is the general framework under which we have been governed for more than a century. It should also be noted that the British North America Act has served us well. While there is no doubt that Canada would profit by a constitution that is more specific the fact is we have a constitution of considerable merit.

Another point that should be made clear is that there is nothing terminal about the date of July 1, 1979 that should compress the energies of the whole nation into grappling with a constitutional question within the time-frame of eight months.

It is my own view that the best constitutions should be drafted in a spirit of harmony. Such a mood existed in this nation at the time of our Centennial year in 1967. Harmony is a concept that grows out of common objectives and goals. It would be my own view that the ideal approach to this important question would be to embark upon a program of restoring confidence in our economy, the development of business incentive, the recapturing of a situation of full employment, the development of our northern resources, and then upon that basis of harmony and goodwill forge out a new constitution. Constitutions are about keeping in touch and they should be written when we are.

Home economist plans . . .

In February, 1975, she began a short period of employment with Canada Manpower and Immigration as an interviewer. But even though the job here is only temporary, she enjoys "getting back to doing what I was trained for."

A great deal of her energies while Diane is away will be directed toward community courses. Coming up in the immediate future will be Basic Upholstery, to be held in Heisler from December 11 to 14. The instructor, Michael Hughes, comes from Edmonton and, according to Marilyn, has a great deal of experience and knowledge in the field.

Courses such as these, she explained, are largely funded. Basic Upholstery, for example, will have a price tag of at least $500. With a registration fee of only $25 and a maximum class size of 12 people, much of the cost is left to be absorbed by the department.

Other courses Marilyn has planned include Window Treatment, one each in Forestburg and Sedgewick, which will be comprehensive four-day workshops in the art of making drapes. As well, she hopes to hold a sewing course in the new year.

Marilyn plans her programs from the feedback she receives from town representatives. Most home economists, she explained, keep in close touch with further education representatives in order to determine what people's interests are. As well, she added, a great deal of input is gained from working closely with groups such as the community health office.

One program coming up in early 1979 that Marilyn is greatly excited about is the Farm Home Planning Course, a home-study program beginning for the first time this year. It will be offered as a pilot project only to residents in the Red Deer Region, which includes Flagstaff. The course runs for eight consecutive weeks and offers two areas of instruction from which to choose: New Home Planning and Construction, and Remodelling Home Planning and Construction. The new home course deals with everything from site planning to financing, choosing the right style, wiring and construction. Remodelling includes what area of an existing home to add onto, what to add on, design, and much more, says Marilyn.

As well, Marilyn is planning to gear her weekly column, Kaleidoscope, around the course when it is underway, with ideas and contacts to add to the information people receive for home-study.

Although it is called a "farm home course," Marilyn explains, the information which it contains will be of use not only to farm families, it's just that the department is directed more to that population. "But basic home construction applies to everybody if they're planning to build or remodel," she says.

District Home Economists in the Red Deer Region came up with the idea since they are often asked about home design and building, and took the suggestion to the Department of Agriculture.

Marilyn is hoping to add seminars for local residents registered in the program, with qualified people coming to deal with areas which people have been most concerned with, such as wiring.

This course is one area in which Marilyn herself is greatly interested. In school, she placed much of her emphasis on home management and consumerism and hopes to be able to deal in these areas during her six-month stay as the district home economist here. She isn't sure what she'll be doing after her term is over, but she will remain in the area. She and her husband have long been residents in the Flagstaff community, and are now farming near Daysland.

Gretna Goodwill Club holds meet

The Gretna Goodwill Club met at the home of Mrs. P. O'Reilly on November 1 with seven members and three visitors in attendance.

After the usual business was attended to, there was a discussion in regards to the annual Christmas Party. It was decided we hold a social evening on December 16 at 7:30 p.m. at Bells Hill and it will be open to the surrounding community.

A Get Well card was passed around to be signed by all there to send to Chrissie A., who is in the Galahad Hospital for minor surgery. By the way, Art is also a patient in the same hospital. We expect them both home [redacted].

The next meeting is to be held at Mrs. Art Armstrong's on December 13, with Etta Huse as co-hostess. The roll call will be an exchange of Christmas gifts.

The roll call of the day was to tell of a patient in hospital or a shut-in you had visited since the last meeting. All members had done their homework well, with many visits to local hospitals and the Lodge.

The hostess prize was won by Mary Albrecht and she then conducted a number contest, which was won by Bertha Brunner and Etta Huse. All scores were really close this time.

The hostess, assisted by Helen Sutherland, served a lovely lunch, and the lucky tea cup winner was Marlene Simpson.

Next week designated for good eating habits

What is a healthy lunch? For Social Services and Community Health Minister Helen Hunley, lunch November 8 will consist of a roast beef sandwich on whole wheat bread, carrot and celery sticks, an apple and milk, courtesy of the Alberta Nutrition Week Committee.

This lunch - typical of a balanced meal - is being presented to Miss Hunley to draw attention to Nutrition Week November 13 to 18, sponsored by the Alberta Registered Dietitians' Association. Using the theme "Lunch - What 47???, Nutrition Week supporters will be telling Albertans why lunch is important, and just what does constitute a healthy lunch.

They will be emphasizing lunches which contain foods from each of the four food groups: milk and milk products, bread and cereals, meat and alternatives, fruits and vegetables. Canada's Food Guide, which outlines the four basic food groups, is available from all local health units.

In announcing her department's support of Nutrition Week, Miss Hunley pointed out that Albertans have access to information about good nutrition from a varity of sources; from community health nutritionists, community health nurses, district home economists, dietitians in hospitals and nursing homes, home economics teachers and home economics consultants.

"The objective of Nutrition Week is to promote an interest in and an awareness of the facts of good nutrition," said Miss Hunley. "It's important for us all to incorporate good nutrition principles into our daily eating habits. And, the public should know there are many professionals who can provide nutrition information."

"I commend the work done by the Alberta Registered Dietitians' Association, the nutritionists in my department, and other nutrition professionals who have planned Alberta Nutrition Week," said Miss Hunley. "Let's help support this week by maintaining healthy eating habits and a balanced diet all the time."

Lougheed News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Olsen of Camrose were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Tom Cloustoo.

Well, we are getting a little taste of winter this weekend. Not too cold as of yet. The last two or three weeks were enjoyed very much.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Vallie from New Westminster, B.C. have been visiting at the home of their old friends, the John Martins and families, this past week.

Mrs. Carlyle of Eckville and Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Shantz, also of Eckville, were visiting Mrs. Carlyle's brother, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wylie and families, a week ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Schmidt and family have moved into the George Harding house (former Pedlar home) until they build a new house. Then, Mr. and Mrs. Chuck Mareschal and boys have moved into the house the Schmidts moved out of. This moving business is no fun, is it Louise and Carol?

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Kruse from Swan Hills were visiting with Mrs. Kruse's brothers, wives and families, Tom and Ray Horricks, also Mother Horricks in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital.

The winners at the Lougheed Masquerade dance were: Most Original Lady, Jean Wallace; Most Original Man, Rod McGregor; Best Dressed Couple, Mrs. McGregor and Mrs. Horinek; Best Dressed Man, Carl Pederson; Best Dressed Lady, Jill McGregor; Novelty, Gerald Gruninger; Novelty, Bob Smith, and Best Novelty Couple, Cindy Quast and Barb Reis. Congratulations to all of you.

Mr. Abb Martin and Mr. Zane Parsons have taken off for the mountains to hunt for sheep.

Mr. and Mrs. Earle Stentson of Lacombe were visiting Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horricks last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cloustoo were home visiting his parents, the T. Cloustons recently.

Recent visitors at the George Riddocks were Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Bartley, Gary, Delores and Garth Acres of Edmonton and Percy Weyman of Calgary.

Editorially

Pause to remember. . .

What does Remembrance Day mean to you? Does it mean just another holiday from school or business? Does it mean another occasion when you hurry downtown to see a parade? When you watch the annual Remembrance Day Parade do you "remember" why you are watching it? These questions are ones that we should ask ourselves every Remembrance Day. It is a day when we remember not only the brave soldiers who gave their lives for us, but also the many who returned physically handicapped.

As you stand watching them pass by, you will see many campaign medals on their chests, each one signifying a special battle or in some cases, special decorations for valour and courage: but apart from the medals, if you look at the faces closely, you will see pride and courage shining like a light for all to see. It is for men like these and like their comrades who never returned, that we must always keep Remembrance Day.

In the poem "In Flanders Fields", which was written on December 8, 1915, by Lieutenant Colonel John McCrae, a Canadian surgeon, the poppy is the theme. If you close your eyes, you can almost see the field, with rows of crosses marking the graves, and the beautiful red poppies waving bravely in the breeze.

Let us, then, never forget the true meaning of Remembrance Day and try in our own small way to keep the peace for which these men so dearly paid.

What Others Say

ANOTHER WAY TO KEEP WARM

As winter approaches, there is a definate trend towards assuring that Canadians won't freeze this winter. . . and that they will not be overly using the precious energy supplies in so doing.

All suggestions are commendable, including that of stuffing the broken window with a suit of summer underwear to spreading thin layers of bubble gum along the window sills to keep out any draft.

We're not being cynical about this energy-saving crisis, but it brings to our attention that in this cold northern climate it is a wonder we weren't all frozen stiff a century ago, and that our remains were now being discovered in and undisturbed frozen state inside some glacier much the same as they come across the odd Mammoth in northern Siberia.

However, if you have used up all the suggestions as to how to keep warm this winter, there is one more and lasting (until spring that is) method. Simply get yourself a barrel of water and place it inside the kitchen door. Some morning when it is about forty below (we mean that old time 40) just take a few buckets from the barrel and toss the water all over the shanty. Mother nature will do the rest, and your domicile will be sheathed in air tight ice until the first robin returns next spring!

But a word of caution is necessary at this point. . .don't us any more water than is necessary, we're running short of that too! Hanna Herald

RITERS RAMBLINGS

Eleven!
Now the bells ring out,
And all the people 'round about
In silence stand,
Until the sand
Of two full minutes has run out.

Eleven!
Now the empty street
Is filled with marching feet;
As the slain
Return again,
In memories, bitter-sweet.

Eleven!
Now the heavy gun,
Is carried by that soldiers' son.
And mothers smile,
'Tho all the while
The bitter heart-break has begun.

Eleven!
Now telegrams still tell
Of dauntless sons that fought and fell;
Of blood that's shed,
Where fathers bled,
To redeem the world from Hell.

Eleven!
Now, again, the bells shall peal,
And battle-weary people kneel;
To pray for peace
That shall not cease,
But shall be lasting, sure and real.

Eleven!
Still with battle-flags unfuried,
March the enemies of the world.
Family ties are cut by walls,
Babies cry – fire falls.
From church, at church, bombs are hurled.

The Third Column

by Truncate

THERE ARE STRANGE THINGS done in the midnight sun, by the men who moil for gold; the Northern Lights have seen queer sights, but the queerest they ever did see . . ." This portion of a quote from the writing of Robert Service, which was a "takeoff" on an imaginary situation of the past century, might very well be adapted to situations in which we find ourselves presently. Of course, we must remove ourselves from the actual prospecting days in which the Cremation of Sam McGee was written and locate outselves in the late 20th Century when we are doing our best to burn or cremate ourselves, not with fanciful suppositions but by reality of the things we are doing and demanding be done. We are prospecting alright, not by molling or lolling, but by demanding and commanding that governments and institutions do things for us in ever-increasing variety. We have almost arrived at the dangerous state where we expect, nay demand that we be looked after from the cradle to the grave. Self-discipline and self-reliance are being removed from our lives and replaced with a hand-out and bail-me-out philosophy, deeming them to be the rightful inheritance for participation in a free-enterprise democratic system.

LIVING AS WE DO in a country which currently enjoys the third highest standard of living in the world, we are striving, not valiantly, to reach the top rung and become number one, but our priorities are misplaced. We deem luxuries to be necessities. A couple of illustrations:

Very recently an individual was discussing his intended vacation trip to Hawaii, and said that due to the position of the Canadian dollar the trip was going to cost him an EXTRA five hundred dollars. But he said so what; to hell with the five hundred, I'm going anyway. It is to be hoped he is not one of the many who complain bitterly about the cost of his shopping cart filled with groceries. But he probably is. Luxuries come ahead of necessities.

IN A LIGHTER VEIN we listened to a person informing us that conditions were getting bothersome, and that if they continued he would be forced to sell one of his Cadillacs; a shameful situation for anyone to find himself labouring in. Luxuries come ahead of necessities.

THERE IS LITTLE DOUBT that we are going to have to "pull in our horns" to some degree and establish a new set of priorities. If we don't, we are going to find ourselves in a situation closely resembling those of the so-called dirty thirties, where none of us want to go really. If we don't re-evaluate our thinking and decide what we can do to maintain Canada as a good place in which to live, rather than confine our thinking to what Canada is going to further do for us to make things easier with less labour and less input, then we are bound to take a step backward.

YES, THE NORTHERN LIGHTS have seen queer sights but they have never seen the things that are taking place today in our country. Men moiled for gold with toil and greed. Today we want to moil for gold and more gold with greed but not with toil. We better smart en up, and soon.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

It has recently been brought to our attention that the government had at one time considered the development of the Bow Lakes area as a provincial park. Being residents of this area, we are able to appreciate the beauty and convenience of this spot and feel that it would be both a benefit and an asset to the community.

Perhaps if enough people expressed their interest in this matter to the government, it would be looked into and further consideration could be given.

Thank you,
The Cambridge Community Association

The Spirit of Flanders

Think not of us in Flanders lying lost and dead and cold
For in truth a life for us has just begun
Carefully paint no pictures of great soldiers brave and bold
We went because we needed to protect the ones we loved
The longing spirit in me wishes deeply to believe
That the agony we bore had been worthwhile
For we really gave ourselves to help build a better world
Had only peace descended when the guns were quiet
In truth I know surely we need not have crossed the sea
To shed our life's blood on a foreign soil
It was greed for fame and power, that was but a human dream
That brought us to our last long, lonely painful hour
If one united world had held forth in right and truth
If world leaders had dug trenches, bore the fire
There never would have been the loss of man or youth
But the negotiated warless settlement desired
Celebrate again the Victory of Armistice, yet know
This same disaster can occur again
Consider daily the need of strong leaders, and the truth
That the Flanders Spirit need not haunt your loved ones,
Nor your youth.

- by I. Hunter Wegenast

Courage fights off handicaps

The following article was printed in The Penticton Herald recently, as part of that paper's Personality of the Month feature. Mr. Stewart is a former resident of the Merna and Galahad districts, who now lives in Penticton.

June 4, 1901, witnessed a violent thunder storm in the area of Waterford, Ontario. This tumultuous effort of nature also heralded the birth of Gene Stewart.

Viewing his life from birth to the present, we realize that right from the noisy fanfare, fate has pulled no punches, for Gene has taken a severe buffeting all the way. His courage and perseverance has carried him through it all to arrive in the present, battered but unbeaten.

When Gene was five, his parents moved to the Merna district of Alberta. In 1907, the first school for the area was opened and young Gene was just the right age to be one of its original students. All went well to the level of Grade 8. In that year, his parents decided to return to Ontario. As a result of this move, he missed the term examinations and lost the school year. Undaunted by setbacks, he worked on, and largely through his own effort and industry, attained matriculation.

They returned to the newly-established town of Galahad, Alberta, in 1916, and shortly after their arrival, Gene contacted polio. His arms and legs were severely affected, but, with typical western grit, he spent the following year working at ever-increasing amounts of exercise. Results were spectacular. One year after being stricken, the boy could walk again with the aid of crutches. Another year and he had progressed to the point where he could rise without help on those infrequent occasions when he fell while using the crutches.

During his period of convalescence, the young man took a correspondence course in art and cartooning. Plans at that time were aimed at commercial art; however, his eyesight began to fail, a side effect to poliomyelitis, so this idea had to be dropped.

By his 20th birthday, he was able to take part in most of the farm work. Gene remained an active partner with his two brothers on the farm until 1942. In the region of 1943, he fell and tore the ligaments in his right knee. As a result of his accident, a cane became his constant companion when walking.

In 1952, he moved to Vancouver and spent considerable time as a taxi and ambulance dispatcher. Referring to the taxi position, he chuckled:

"That was a most interesting part of my life. I've always liked people and have been willing to lend a hand to anyone needing help. During the night shift you meet all sorts of people and it wasn't long before I had an education in all aspects of humanity."

Since New Year's in 1971, Gene has been confined to a wheelchair. He lost the greater part of his eyesight at the same time. It was not until he arrived in Penticton during 1974 that a local doctor was able to fit a magnifying lense to his glasses permitting a limited degree of reading.

It was also after his arrival in Penticton that he ventured into creative writing classes which were sponsored by the Retirement and Recreation Centre. Due to his lack of sight, this piece of knowledge had to be absorbed via the tape recorder. In addition to creative writing and being ever-willing to learn a new skill, Gene has produced some excellent work in cornering.

Despite his lifelong struggle with a contrary fate and though confined to a wheelchair, he retains a keen mind and a fierce independence. The same kind of courage and true grit on which this country is based!

Lougheed ACW news

The October meeting of the Lougheed All Saints ACW was held at the home of Mrs. Rosemary Kampen, with five members, eight visitors and six children present.

The meeting opened with the Members' Prayer and followed with everyone studying from the Bible on John with the assistance of our rector, Rev. Richard Conrad. Much interest and controversy was shown and we hope to continue this study of the Bible at future meetings.

The president then welcomed visitors and Secretary-Treasurer Rosemary Kampen read the minutes of the last meeting. Old business and new were discussed.

Plans were made for the Hallowe'en Party to be held October 28 from 2 to 4 p.m. at St. John Parish Hall for all young people.

Fall tea monies were paid.

Roll call was answered with social service (cards and hospital visits) made.

Elsie Cookson won the Hostess prize. The meeting closed as we were led in prayer by our Rector.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Marie Martin on November 17.

Rosemary served a lovely lunch and much fellowship followed.

Toma to run for wheat board advisory committee

Andy Toma, a progressive Hairy Hill farmer announced that he will be running for a position on the Advisory Committee of the Canadian Wheat [illegible]

Described by his campaign managers as "A man you will hear from", Mr. Toma said in an interview that the Wheat Board should be represented by more members who are producers, directly involved in the industry of farming rather than men who represent big organizations and have a tendency to favor big business rather than the farmer who actually needs more representation.

As an independent in district 8 which covers a large part of northeast Alberta into Saskatchewan representing about 15,000 farmers, Andy will provide an honest voice for the farmers.

Noting that at the last election only 44 percent of the eligible members voted, Mr. Toma urges everyone to return their ballots so that clear cut representation can be established to influence the kind of policy that will benefit the producers most in the long run.

Ballots for the election are being sent out to the members by mail if possible or otherwise for voting to take place in November and the winners declared by the first of December.

For more information you may phone Andy Toma himself at 768-2441 Hairy Hill or Tom Hyland 247-4970, Bill Stewart 768-2323.

Hardisty resident passes at 70 years

The hall at Hughenden was filled to capacity for Johnny Leigh's funeral on October 28.

John was born in Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario on August 16, 1908.

He, with his parents, lived in the Silver Heights district where his mother kept the post office. He was well known among the cowboys, being a rider himself at one time.

Some time later, he married Marion Fossum and had three children, Billy, Gail and Gerry.

He was helping his son-in-law with bales when he quietly passed away.

The service was conducted by Rev. Jackson, who gave one of his comforting services and Mrs. Leigh's nephew, Jim Fossum of Lougheed sang, "The Lord's Prayer."

Pall bearers were Ken Scott, Bill McKay, Jim Gilbertson, Delbert Elliot, Ken Leadlay, and Harold Beeton.

Internment was in Fairfield Cemetery with Gregory's Funeral Home in attendance.

It was surely nice to see Wing and Sue Mah back in Hardisty for the Seto-Poon wedding. They are still in London-erry in Edmonton, where you can get foods from various countries. They serve Chinese food.

The guests at the Manor enjoyed a Halloween party with a witch cake, made by Dorothy Kruzer and Doreen Bell. Tricks like these are much more acceptable to all than the other kind, although we understand that very little "bad" tricking was done this year, so hooray for that.

Your reporter attended Johnny Leigh's funeral in Hughenden along with Belva Leadlay and Andy Farmanak, and then Isabel wended her way to her brother Ronnie's place where it was handy to have a cook as they were getting cattle rounded up and Ronnie's wife has to be in the Metiskow post office all day.

Of interest to residents of the Hardisty area will be the production of Music-Camera on CBC TV on Wednesday, November 22. The composer of the music on the program, as well as the photographer of the accompanying film, is Brent Straughan, eldest son of Dr. and Mrs. Gordon Straughan of Mukilteo, Washington. Mrs. Straughan was Kae Saville before her marriage and spent many years in this area. Brent has had a recording entitled "Enfilony" made of his work. This record if not already available, should be soon.

New Canada Savings Bonds

Safety, Instant cash and a good return

New Canada Savings Bonds are a safe, secure investment. They're instant cash anytime. And now they earn a higher return—9.25% every year for 7 years.

All purchasers will receive the new rate, even though the application forms and the bond certificates have the old rates printed on them. The new rate is effective from November 1 to maturity in 1985.

The Regular Interest Bond

If you want a regular annual income from your investment, you'll like the Regular Interest Bond which pays interest automatically each November 1.

If you're like many bondholders, you'll appreciate the direct deposit feature. With this convenient option, your interest is deposited directly into your chequing or savings account.

Simply ask for it when you buy your new bonds. Or, you can receive your interest by cheque through the mail.

The Compound Interest Bond

If you seek savings growth, or an investment for the future, or a retirement fund, you'll choose the Compound Interest Bond which earns interest on your interest, after the first year, at the increased rate of 9.25%.

Here's how the value of a $100 bond grows:

Nov 1	Value	Nov 1	Value
1979	$109.25	1983	$155.63
1980	$119.36	1984	$170.03
1981	$130.40	1985	$185.76
1982	$142.46

The choice is yours

You can buy the Regular Interest Bond for cash in denominations of $300, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000.

The Compound Interest Bond may be purchased for cash or on the convenient Monthly Savings Plan in denominations starting at $100.

A dual purchase limit

You may buy new Canada Savings Bonds in various amounts up to a limit of $30,000. In addition, holders of "S24" and "SR" bonds may reinvest all proceeds from their maturing bonds in the new Series

Buy yours now

Millions of Canadians will be buying Canada Savings Bonds again this year. So visit your bank, investment dealer, trust company or credit union as soon as possible and take advantage of the increased interest rate. Do it now and avoid the rush.

Cambridge Community meets

The October meeting of the Cambridge Community Association was held at the home of Vesta Cookson on the afternoon of October 31. Eight members were present, and one little one.

It was a fairly quiet month, with no correspondence and no donations. However, some of the ladies have their canvassing for the blind nearly completed, but there are still a few to be canvassed around the Lougheed area.

More of our quilt blocks were handed in; only a few are left to come in so we will soon be able to work on our quilt.

The Club was approached concerning our views and interest in the development of the Bott Lakes into a provincial park. After some discussion, we decided that a letter be sent expressing our approval of this development as we feel it would be a benefit and an asset to our community.

It was decided to send a Get Well card to Henry Potter in the Calgary Hospital, also a Thinking of You card to Arnold Marlow who has also been hospitalized.

A Regal Mystery Box will again be purchased. We have bought these the past few years and have been well pleased with the contents.

Our roll call this month was extremely interesting - a Halloween item from our Silent Sisters. The imagination of some of the ladies to make "something" out of almost nothing was fascinating. You could never imagine how a lowly apple, pumpkin or even a banana could be dressed up! It's too bad some of our members were not able to attend, so we weren't able to view them all.

Our next meeting will be our annual one, and will be held at the home of Elsie Cookson with Dorothy as co-hostess. Roll call will be the guessing of our Silent Sisters.

Dorothy was the lucky winner of the raffle. For our contest, we were to see how many words could be made from the letters "Halloween Mask." Donna came out on top of this with 65 and Rita was not too far behind. Dorothy and Elsie Cookson were low.

Dorothy adjourned our meeting. We repeated the Lord's Prayer, enjoyed lunch, then hurried home to take care of the "ghosts and goblins." Hope you all had a Happy Halloween.

On the evening of Wednesday, October 18, the Amalgamated Hobbyists of Flagstaff met in the Sedgewick United Church Hall. There were 25 present. Following a brief business meeting, Mr. R. Patterson and Mr. L. French gave talks on photography and demonstrated some cameras and fittings that are available. They also answered various questions put forth by the group. Mr. Paul Vanderwoude showed a number of slides which were much enjoyed by all. Lunch and social hour completed the evening program.

The next meeting of the Hobby Club will be on Wednesday, November 15 at 8 p.m. in the Sedgewick United Church Hall. We will have Mr. and Mrs. Cole from Brownfield showing pictures taken on a recent tour of Europe. Everyone is welcome to come and enjoy the program with us.

Goose Creek Ladies' Club plans season

On the afternoon of Wednesday, November 1, the Goose Creek Ladies' Club met at the home of Beulah Simpson in Sedgewick. There were eight members, six adults and two little visitors present.

Get well cards are to be sent to Mr. and Mrs. A. Armstrong, who are in hospital, and a birthday card to Mrs. Chinnery.

It was decided to begin the 1978-79 Whist Drive season on Friday, December 15. The roll call was answered with contributions for the Bethany Home Box.

Vera Swainson provided a contest for entertainment which was won by Molly Anderson and Beulah Simpson. The consolation prize went to Hilda Simpson and Gwen Kelly. The hostess served a lovely lunch.

Hazelwood Good Deed Club news

Our October meeting was held at the home of Olive Love with 10 members and two visitors, Mary Ferneyhough and Lana Love.

The meeting was called to order by our president, Jerry Metz, after welcoming visitors and members.

Minutes of the last meeting and also the treasurer's report were read and approved.

Correspondence was read. Donations will be sent as usual.

Jerry handed in one set of tea towels. Eight members handed in money for tickets on the quilt.

Final arrangements were made for our Bazaar and Tea.

The meeting was adjourned and a lovely lunch was enjoyed by all as well as tour of the new house.

LIGHTEN THE LOAD on Alberta's energy future.

Reduce your company's overhead now and help keep electrical costs in line tomorrow.

Energy Management matters—for you and for Alberta.

Alberta's electrical utilities have completed a computer study. It shows that a combination of load and energy management—by industry, businesses, farms and homes—can trim future power generation costs.

By controlling demand and energy use, you can reduce the additional generating facilities that will be needed. Because the cost of adding these facilities is continually escalating, this control can help keep future power cost increases to manageable levels.

Of more immediate interest to your business is that energy and load management can reduce your operating overhead. Depending on your particular needs, energy-saving goals can be achieved in numerous ways. Check the lighting levels. Reducing the levels in halls and non-work areas may seem like a small step, but one company reported a kilowatt-hour saving of 15%. Energy management is easier than you may think. Find out for yourself. Send for your Energy Management Action Kit.

NUTRITION WEEK

Today everyone is talking about nutrition and for good reason. It is closely associated with good health, how you look and feel, and how well you perform mentally and physically.

November 13 - 18 is Nutrition Week in Alberta. Now is a good time to think about what you eat and why. The theme of Nutrition Week is Lunch - What a!?!?!

Hot or cold, lunch is a welcome meal. The time between breakfast and supper is a long, long stretch. A well-chosen lunch satisfies both your appetite and your body's needs, as well, adds taste, colour and variety to your day!

A healthful lunch is built around Canada's Food Guide. Include meat and alternatives, fruits and vegetables, breads and cereals, milk and milk products for your nutritious midday meal.

Coming up is a Basic Upholstery course, to be held in the Heisler Hall. The preliminary meeting will be November 24 from 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. The workshop will be December 11 to 14 from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. The instructor is Michael Hughes.

Wheat candidates discuss issues

Canadian Wheat Board (CWB) District #10 candidates, Ken Galloway of Fort Saskatchewan and Cliff Downey of Castor, spoke at two meetings with area farmers on November 1, 1978 at New Norway in the afternoon and at Forestburg in the evening. Farmers came from quite a distance to meet their candidates and question their position in regard to grain marketing issues.

Mr. Galloway stated that the Canadian Wheat Board is a very large and very complex grain marketing agency which has served the farmers well because it has not been stagnant, but rather, has been improving steadily to meet market de-

"Transportation is a major issue," he said, "and there has to be a better way of settling labour disputes than by striking."

He said he belives that today's farmer is looking for a degree of security and the CWB must be maintained and strengthened to provide an orderly market for western Canadian grains.

Mr. Downey opened his address with data from the CWB, the World Bank, and FAO, which indicates that a twenty-which indicates that a 25 per cent to 30 per cent increase in grain production will be required to meet demand by 1985.

"We can increase production," he said, "but we must move to resolve transportation and terminal bottlenecks so that our grain will reach export position when required." We must experiment with unit trains, provide more terminal storage, do more cleaning at inland terminals, he added. The Prince Rupert terminal facilities must be enlarged no matter what the cost because the value of lost sales will be greater. We must have competition in the system so that existing grain companies will become more efficient to compete.

"More hopper cars is not the answer," Mr. Downey stated, rather, we should be working to shorten the turnaround cycle for grain cars, ask for seven-day handling at the terminals rather than five days, and look at all possible means of moving more grain. That, he said, should solve the problems of congestion in primary elevators and insufficient quotas.

When questioned on their position concerning Crow Rates, Mr. Galloway was in favour of retaining them for farmers while Mr. Downey said that farmers should not alone shoulder the burden of transportation, but that we may have to negotiate a three- or four-way split with governments, the railways and the farmers.

Two slide presentations prepared by the Canadian International Grains Institute, entitled "Co-ordinating Canada's Grain Transportation System" and "Touring the Canadian Wheat Board", were shown at the meetings.

Local NFU officers and the farmers who attended stated that the meetings had been worthwhile, but felt that more farmers should have attended.

4-H Club Activities

DAYSLAND 4-H BEEF CLUB

The Dayslend 4-H Beef Club held its re-organizational meeting October 24 in the Roman Catholic Church basement. There were 33 members present.

The election of officers took place for the ensuing year. Officers are: Club Leader, Herb Robinson; President, Murray Klutz; Vice-President, Darcy Spiller; Secretary, Barb Hardicka; Treasurer, Jennette Bedoes; Club Reporter, Jackie Waldorf.

In the discussion, we agreed the weigh-in days will be November 4 and 10 starting at 8 a.m., with the maximum weight 675 pounds. We agreed that the membership fees will be $1 per member.

Murray Klutz gave a report on the Conservation Camp he attended, and on the heifer show in Bashaw that he and Lester Robinson exhibited in.

Two delayed trophies were presented to last year winners for judging. The winners are: Clifford Brausen for Juniors and Murray Klutz for seniors.

The next 4-H meeting will be held Tuesday, November 7 at 8 p.m. in the Roman Catholic Church basement.

Exhilaration is that feeling you get just after a great idea hits you, and before you realize what's wrong with it.

Sedgewick and District News

Mr. Jim Walsh was in Edmonton on Saturday to visit his wife Betty at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, but instead of just visiting was able to bring her home. Not right home, however, as we visited with son Jim and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh and sons at St. Albert, until Sunday afternoon. So now I'm at 384-3576 ready to receive any news.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke James Jr. and family, who moved from here to Irma awhile ago, are now residing at Elnora.

Miss Pat Stuart of Edam, Saskatchewan spent a recent weekend with her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Truss.

At the Senior Citizens usual Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Legion Hut, prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Jessie Clark and Mr. Frank Mayne. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Helga Willumsen and Mr. Steve Petatage. There were seven tables of players. A brief meeting was held at which a report was given on the progress of the new building for the Senior Citizens.

At the Card Party the week before, on October 25, there were six tables of whist players. Mrs. Lillian Craig and Mr. Nels Djos won the high score prizes while Mrs. L. Coates and Mr. Obert Bakken received consolation awards.

Rev. Richard Conrad and son Bob attended the Edmonton-Saskatchewan football game last Sunday. They report it was an exciting, but chilling experience. Afterwards, they visited with Mr. and Mrs. David Schlosser and Mr. Conrad prepared his little granddaughter for Halloween by carving her jack o'lantern.

Mrs. Doreen Conrad and Miss Margaret King were recent Edmonton visitors. Mrs. Conrad remained for an impromptu family get-together.

Mr. Ted Lister visited recently with relatives and friends in Red Deer.

Mrs. Bessie Russell is a patient in hospital in Edmonton, and Mr. A.W. Russell is now home again after a hospital stay. Hope you both will soon be feeling better.

Ken and Aileen Martin spent the weekend with their granddaughter, Margaret, and her parents, and helped Donna celebrate another birthday. Before returning home to Fenbold, Mrs. Martin discovered that she was the lucky winner of Saturday's draw for a grocery hamper at the Sedgewick Co-op.

Mrs. Thelma Tanton is among those who recently feel victim to the flu.

Combined birthday celebrations were held recently for Mr. Ron Tanton and children Rhonda and Collin.

Get well wishes go to Mr. Cecil Gould and Mr. Alex Farquharson in hospital in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Monte Keith spent the weekend at Vermilion with Donna and Ken Muhlbeier.

Mrs. Robina Cox (Bobbi) of Edmonton is spending awhile at the home of Mrs. Jean Muirhead.

The Bill Webbs are now residing in Camrose and I hear that their apartment is very near some other former Sedgewick residents, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hallum.

Mrs. Lorraine Beairsto spent last week in Camrose at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Sorensen and visited with other relatives in the vicinity.

On a recent weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stoyko and son Brock of St. Albert were guests at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ferrier. Another recent visitor at the Ferrier home was Mr. Ralph Ferrier of B.C., who spent a week with them.

Mr. and Mrs. G. Hope were in the city on business last week and very kindly dropped in to see me.

Mrs. Gwyn Gibbs is home again after spending some time with son Jim and his family in Edmonton. On this past weekend, her son Dwayne and family from Youngstown were guests with her.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Platz are spending a few days in Swan Hills.

Mrs. Eleanor Tweedy was in Provost to visit her mother on a recent weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Kobsar spent a few days in Calgary last week.

Mrs. Ruby Farquharson and Mrs. Adith Gould are in Edmonton where their husbands are patients in the University Hospital. Hurry up and get better, Alec and Cecil!

A thank you to my faithful "stand in," Mrs. Donna Martin. It's good to know that Sedgewick still has it's news column when your's truly lies down on the job!

SEDGEWICK JUNIOR HIGH

The basketball games on Friday in Lougheed went quite well. The Sedgewick boys beat Lougheed 46-13. The girls lost their game to Lougheed 17-9.

The Halloween Party that was to be held last Tuesday was cancelled.

The band practise went well on Thursday, but they could use a few more people to play.

Government studies shows

The prolonged, tangled Royal American Shows case appears to be closed. But the job of making sure that it cannot happen again has barely begun; indications are the work will take years.

The affair began soon after Jim Foster was appointed attorney-general, with a mid-1975 police raid on the Florida-based carnival firm's operation at Edmonton's Klondike Days fair.

Nearly two years later, the major prosecution in the case, against former Edmonton Exhibition Association Manager Al Anderson, had still not reached trial. Meanwhile, Royal American had left the Canadian circuit.

Foster called evidence "tainted." The prosecution was abandoned and an inquiry was launched by Alberta Supreme Court Justice J.H. Laycraft into investigators' methods as well as Royal American's conduct.

No new charges have been laid following Laycraft's report. Anderson and other officials, including a few Calgary policemen, were found to have been indiscrete for accepting gifts from Royal American. But they were not accused of doing favours in return.

The findings raised four major issues: control of the police, the privacy of income tax records, politicians' secrecy and the effects on accused of delayed justice.

Communications with the RCMP command in Ottawa were found to have broken down badly during the case. Foster said the contract making the RCMP the provincial police should make its top brass accountable. He shows no sign of pursuing changes in the present agreement, which runs until March 31, 1981. Ottawa resists that, he reports.

The inquiry warned that, despite general faith in privacy, the RCMP has wide discretion in using income tax returns to investigate alleged but loosely-defined "organized crime."

Foster said only that he hoped "reasonable and sensible" leaders will read the report and act to restore confidentiality.

The inquiry's review of suspicions that the RCMP security service spied on Edmonton policemen found no evidence backing the charges. But it was limited when Ottawa refused to produce some evidence.

The Federal Court Act lets national ministers keep documents secret by declaring that exposure would hurt national security and international or federal-provincial relations.

Foster reported the Alberta Evidence Act grants the provincial cabinet the same power. He not only showed no sign of wanting to limit it. He said, "If a government wants to operate in a closed and secretive manner, it will do so notwithstanding legislation."

He said the government might have to consider letting accused claim compensation from the Crown for long delays in their cases when they are the state's fault. But that was "not a high priority" either.

Hardisty services held on Saturday

On November 11, Remembrance Day Services were held in Hardisty at the Legion Hut, commencing at 10:30 a.m. and followed by the laying of the wreaths at the Cenotaph.

Rev. R. Conrad, chaplin of the Legion Branch, conducted the service.

Comrade Prost, son Andy and a friend from the Armed Forces Base at Cold Lake acted as colour party for the Legion.

At 7 p.m., a banquet, catered to by the Order of the Royal Purple, was held in the Elks Hall, with the Legion and Auxiliary members, escorts and guests.

Comrade Lloyd Stuart, as MC, introduced the people at the head table.

Jud Williver, acting as mayor for the Town of Hardisty, spoke, stressing the importance of Remembrance Day to the younger generations.

Following this, messages were given by Legion President Comrade Jim Thomson and Auxiliary President Madame Pauline Gateley.

Madame Joyce Johnsrud was then presented with her Life Membership by her sister, Madame Dorothy Kronzer.

Madame Gateley pointed out many valued years of service Madame Johnsrud had given to the Auxiliary.

A social hour with Madame Jo McClements in charge proceeded the snack and dance.

Comrade Barney Matthews, having been released from hospital for the day, was able to attend the morning service.

Comrade Barney Matthews and wife, Madame Barbara Matthews, were greatly missed by all at the evening activities.

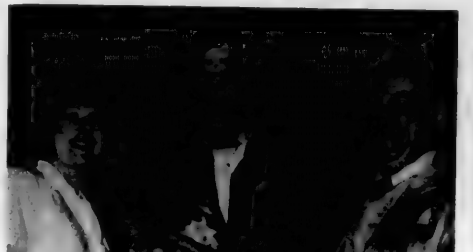
Thomson heads C of C

The annual meeting of the Hardisty Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday, November 1 at the Hardisty Parkland Manor. The nominating committee, consisting of Shari Irving, Lucy Sydor, Rose Marie Thompson and Jim Thomson, presented a slate of officers for the Chamber's approval.

Elected to office for the coming year were: President, Jim Thomson; Vice-President, Shari Irving; Secretary, Shirley Campbell; Assistant Secretary, Jean Dunn; Treasurer, Joyce Harrison. Chairpersons of committees are: Welcome and Convening, Lucy Sydor and Marion Harrison; Membership, Doug Drever and Adele Goldsmith; Publicity, Rose Marie Thompson; Beautiful Yards, Rose Marie Thompson; Business, Darcy Broughton; Hospital, Alan Thompson; Industry, Fred Mitchell; and Neighbourhood Watch, Hugh Duncan.

The Housing Committee and the Agricultural Committee are still in need of chairpersons, and the executive hopes to have these offices filled by the next meeting.



Russell Sansom of Sedgewick (centre) was the lucky recipient of a $1,000 cheque last Saturday evening. The money is from the ninth draw of the Sedgewick Legion's Bonanza Draw. Making the draw and presentation are Joan and Will West Handicapped?

Last week, a story was related to me concerning a middleaged man, a bus driver, and a teenager. It made me think of just how man can adapt to make the best of things.

The conversation centered around how the older man had disciplined his children. He did not approve of taking any action while angry, but preferred to send the child to his room while he regained his cool. Both the teenager and the bus driver expressed their approval of this type of discipline as the man rose to get off at his stop. As he headed out the door and stood on the corner, a tap of his cane told him just how many steps were needed, and what turns to make to find his way home. The man was blind.

Just how did he get on the bus without anyone realizing the fact? He had carried on a conversation about family living like most other people, the teenager pointed out, asking, what would the man had done if the child sent to his room had instead run away and hid? One question led to another and a discussion evolved about how handicapped people make out.

It was evident that additional strength, spiritual or otherwise, and a sharpening of a person's remaining senses help many, if not all, of those who are handicapped.

When you look around, there are a lot of people who have been afflicted – and it's sad.

There are the blind and the crippled, but what of the person who has overcome a mental handicap, a breakdown, or what of a reformed alcoholic, or of a person who has "done time" and gone straight. They were handicapped and had the strength to overcome. Would we? And do we extend the same consideration to all people, or just to the obvious?

If you would help a blind person cross the street, yet refuse a pregnant and unwed girl, then perhaps you're the one who's handicapped.

The trouble with people who talk too fast is they they often say something they haven't thought of yet.

People rarely succeed at anything unless they have fun doing it.

The goal of criticism is to leave the person with the feeling that he or she has been helped.

Men do not stumble over mountains, but over molehills.

What Others Say

DOES THE CHURCH BELONG IN INTERNATIONAL POLITICS?

We have recently read two articles on the apparent use of funds donated by Anglican Church followers being used to purchase guns and other weapons to aid guerrillas in South Africa. Indeed, it is quite possible - if not fact - that the money spent this way purchased guns which have been used to kill missionaries of other churches. The head of the Anglican Church of Canada, the Right Reverend Edward Scott, appeared on a television public affairs show discussing the matter and appeared not to have any remorse on the subject, declaring that his conscience would be his guide. We wonder about the consciences of the people who have donated money to the world relief, who in good faith expect that their dollars are being spent on food and other essentials. The problems of South Africa are very complex and difficult and we feel that the church could be effecting the ultimate outcome of this conflict.

Any person with religious convictions must agree that the church belongs in every facet of life. We seriously doubt though, that most parishioners would be happy knowing their money was going to admitted murders. We feel the church should stay out of conflicts of this nature and stick to looking after the survival of the people of South Africa instead of aiding in the death of a large number of innocent people. By giving aid of this nature are they not prolonging the agony and causing undue hardship on people who do not understand what is going on and are being manipulated by vested interest from all sides. Happy are those who strive for peace - they shall be called the sons of God.

THE CURRENT MOVE to require citizens to voluntarily surrender the various firearms on a restricted list is in all probability a desired and necessary move. When you consider the violence that is running rampant in society today, the fewer arms available the better. The move does not damage the honest, law-abiding citizens as those illegal firearms are considered a necessary and essential part of the equipment used in the carrying out of their nefarious deeds, and the police force will find it impossible to track them down without cooperation.

THOSE WHO POSSESS guns which come under the restrictions and which are being held as heirlooms, antiques and novelties so to speak, will find little difficulty in retaining possession once they are turned in and properly registered. So the thing to do is come forward and have these guns properly checked and registered. The whole problem is going to be that illegal guns for illegal use are going to be hidden away and only uncovered when violence is intended; and only criminals who are apprehended in criminal activities stand a chance to lose their guns. This is the unfortunate circumstances of such regulations, but we see no way to improve the situation.

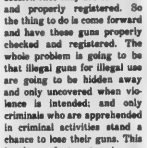
WHILE WE AGREE with the whole process, we feel there are really more urgent matters in the area of life and death. It's nice to know where the guns are and who possesses them, but after all, the death rate from guns is nothing compared with other areas of daily activity.

WE SPEAK OF COURSE of the mayhem and slaughter taking place daily on our roads and highways. The number of human lives taken on the roads and highways of North America has long since surpassed the number sacrificed in World War II. The sad part is that the greater percentage of these were needless. Yet, people are people, and subject to weaknesses of every description. The worst criminal we have today is the confident drunken driver. Combined, these are the people responsible for the death, dismemberment and disability of untold thousands, yet the slaughter continues. The situation is such today that the police force simply cannot handle it and must rely, for the most part, on periodical checkstops. In the meantime, drunken drivers inhabit the highways in increasing numbers.

WE ARE NOT LEGALLY minded and are completely ignorant of the application of many of our laws. We do not know maximum and minimum fines or jail sentences, but we do know something of the judicial application of some of our laws, and what we see happening is not very pleasing. We see law breakers given more consideration than the victims of their crimes. We see the judicial system applying the minimum rather than the maximum. We are not hitting where it hurts. We are not clearing our highways of drunken drivers by applying the law to is fullest extent, and until we do there will be continued death and destruction of property. Guns can cause death certainly, but they can't even come close to the mayhem inflicted by the use of alcohol. Drinking and driving, like bacon and turnips, are not compatible.

Do you ever get a chance to really speak out ?

You do in The Community Press "Letters to The Editor"



There was a time when you could stand up at a town meeting and give your views on community problems. Your voice could be heard and you could influence events affecting your life.

It's not as easy to be heard today. Too many meetings, too many levels of government, too many people involved for you to talk to them all at once.

But there is still one place where you can say your piece and lots of people will hear you. That place is in "Letters to The Editor". We help our readers to speak out, and we will print as many good letters as possible every week.

Please keep your letter as brief as possible. It must include your signature, address and telephone number to help verification. We reserve the right to edit letters before publication if any comments may be considered libellous. We may even shorten them if you are too long winded. We can't guarantee to print all of the letters we receive, but we'll sure try our best.

So speak up! Send your letters to:

SUCCESS ON BILL C-7

Bill C-7, an act to grant borrowing authority to the Government of Canada, hit the House of Commons and the citizens of the country like a round of mortar fire. This is the fourth time this year the government has come to parliament with a bill to request the right to borrow a further amount of money. This time, they are asking for $17 billion.

It should be noted that $17 billion is more money that this country collected in taxes from the citizens of the country throughout the last fiscal year. In other words, if taxes were to remain the same for the next fiscal year, the amount collected would only pay for the amount of this most recent borrowing.

While asking for the voluminous amount of $17 billion is disconcerting enough, the greatest signal of incompetence was yet to come. Upon questioning the government, it was learned that of the $17 billion being requested, only $7 billion was to go to pay for items that had been considered by the Parliament of Canada and listed in the Main Estimates. The other $10 billion that they were asking the Parliament of Canada to authorize was for expenditures not yet detailed and still unwritten or placed before the House or any of its committees. In fact, they were asking for a $10 billion blank cheque to do with whatever they wanted.

Ten years ago, when the present Prime Minister came into office, the amount of the total federal speading for that year was just slightly more than $10 billion. Now, after three previous borrowing sessions, the government has returned for a request to ask the people of Canada to once again endorse a borrowing of $17 billion. That in itself signals the economic dilemma in which the country has found itself. Most unfortunate is the fact that present day Canadians will not likely be called upon to pay for the huge deficit that are being accumulated. That burden, unfortunately, will fall upon our children and our grandchildren as the debt of the nation has increased some 300 per cent in the past 10 years.

In 10 years, there have been 10 Speeches from the Throne, and, in every one of those speeches, the government has underscored that the economy was the major issue. Yet, today, we find our economic situation more depressed than any of the preceeding 10 years. In short, our balance of payment is in disfavour, our national debt is extremely high, the value of our dollar has reached record lows, our interest rates are the highest in history, and our sales in manufactured products are decreasing in favour of sales of raw materials.

The increase in government speeding has risen some 230 per cent in the last decade from approximately $10.5 billion to nearly $50 billion at the present time. The cost of government is not automatically an unacceptable situation. However, one must beg for value for investment. Ten years ago, the post office deficit in Canada was $67 million; today, with a much lower level of service, the deficit is $567 million or an increase of $500 million.

The bill was so disconcerting to opposition members that a strong, vigorous and sharp attack was placed upon the government, in particular for asking for a $10 billion line of credit for which they have not indicated to parliament the nature of its use. On a motion by Her Majesty's Loyal Opposition, we were successful in splitting the bill, granting the government the right to request a vote to borrow $7 billion and asking for the other funds only after the estimates have been tabled in the House of Commons.

The federal government, like any business operation, must learn to keep in touch with financial sense.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Rev. Robert Chappell

From the Minister's Study

It's a plain and simple fact of life: If Jesus is not the center of one's life or the congregation's life, Satan is.

Jesus said, "He that is not For Me is Against me." (Matt. 12:30a) "To stand for" is to be with one in identity. In other words, I identify with Jesus Christ. I find the meaning and direction in my life totally in Jesus. Jesus is my master. He has top priority in my life. In him I see the greatness of the Lord and his love for me in and through Jesus Christ. This is true in the life and work of a congregation. The church nor I have meaning except in Jesus Christ.

"To be against" Jesus is not to be "for" Jesus. But you may say that "I believe in Jesus" but . . . and then you add all your excuses why he is not number one in your life. If such is the case in your life, then you are really against Jesus. There is no sitting on the fence with Jesus. Remember that not to decide is to decide. Not to decide for Jesus is to decide against him.

It took a long time for me to discover this reality. I had all the right arguments which were only excuses. When I heard the word of God in Revelation 3:15-16, I had to take personal stock of myself and my commitment to Jesus Christ. ". . . you are neither cold nor hot. Would that you were cold or hot! So, because you are lukewarm, and neither cold or hot, I will spew you out of my mouth (saith the Lord)." That used to be me. I was lukewarm. I did not want to "get too religious." I did not realize that in my fear of getting too much into Jesus, I was really not in him at all.

The Christian faith stands for Jesus in the centre of life and everything in life. As a Christian I must keep my eyes on Jesus. Once I take my eyes off Jesus, I am in deep trouble.

Trouble! And Satan is just waiting for you and me to take our eyes off Jesus so he can start playing his devilish tricks with us. And that spells trouble!

"Be sober! Be watchful! Your adversary the devil prowls around like a roaring lion, seeking someone to devour. Resist him firm in your faith . . ." (I Peter 5:8,9)

The Christian knows that there is a battle going on. The Christian is to put the whole armour of God on himself to fight for the Lord. The Christian is to fight the enemies of the Lord every day. Peter knew of which he was speaking. He faultered and denied his Lord.

In our personal lives and in our congregational life, we are to arm ourselves with truth, goodness, peace, faith, salvation and the word of God (Ephesians 6:10-20). Let no bitterness, resentment, hostility, opinions or division be allowed in our congregations or personal lives. Let us keep our eyes on Jesus! Let us be on guard lest the enemy try to divide us! Jesus is Lord!

Nazarene News

An interesting and exciting discussion dealing with down-to-earth temptations faced by the Christian, took place in the adult Sunday School hour.

"The Important Lamb and the Important Blood" was the sermon topic Sunday morning.

Rev. Tom McLaughlin's message "Is that all there is?" was well received by the Sunday evening congregation. Thank you to Kelly Jean McLaughlin for her part in the program.

Children of the congregation enjoyed having their own worship service in the fellowship hall under the direction of Penny Merta.

Our church participated in a special musical evening on Friday in the Wainwright Church of the Nazarene.

Tim Kerby and Pastor Abel attended the meeting at the county office concerning peacetime emergency plans for the Town of Sedgewick and heard the presentation of Mr. Stan Harbin of the Alberta Disaster Services in Camrose.

Several families were away this week, visiting loved ones who are in the hospital: George Merta, Henry Potter and Bill Freadrich.

We enjoyed hearing Verda Walline and her violin on Sunday. Keep on with those lessons Verda.

Busy week in Galahad

The Missionary Church W.M.S. met in the lower auditorium of the church with 16 members present.

A number of ladies busied themselves quilting before the devotional, which took us on a visit to Ireland.

Carrie Bownes gave a summary of their visit to the land of the Shamrock. Her display of souvenirs, songs and vivid description of places and people they had visited was enjoyed by all.

Mr. Bownes added to the resume by playing a tape recording he had made of Carrie's cousin, Mina Carson, singing "The Holy City." He then read Isaiah 11:1-6, the scripture which he read at the service in the Ballymena Church.

Ethel Black closed the devotions with a cultural and spiritual application of not only Ireland, but the wealth of resourcefulness that we Canadians have inherited from every land. She reminded us of the gift of freedom purchased for us in two world wars, and the sacrifice of so many on our behalf. She closed with a prayer of Thanksgiving and dedication.

President Ann Whitehead opened the business by asking Allene Vincett to read the minutes of the September meeting. Maggie Felzien gave the treasurer's report in the absence of Marguerite Scott.

Members answered the roll call by handing in articles for the Mervin Traub family, missionaries to Brazil who are returning to make their home in Canada. A letter was received from Bethany Homes for children, with a picture of the 28 children presently living there.

Many other items of business were discussed. A pot luck supper is planned for Saturday evening, November 18, for M.V.B.C. Collegians, who will be singing in the morning church service Sunday, November 19.

Roll call for December will be large pot holders for the James River Bible Camp. Anna Whitehead closed the meeting with prayer.

A delicious lunch was served

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Vincett of Winnipeg stopped at Camrose on their way home from Vancouver to visit Mrs. Beatrice Vincett at Bethany Home. Mr. and Mrs. Dick Black also spent Sunday, November 5 with Ethel's mother, brother and wife.

Mr. Lee Fordice, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Kent and Mrs. Ven Howard of Vermilion called at the George Vincett home on Wednesday afternoon to pick up Lee Fordice on their way to Radium. Lee and his crew have been staying at the Vincett home while they are building a house at Forestburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitehead, Verna Ward and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Willis spent Monday, November 6 in Didsbury visiting Mr. and Mrs. D.C. Eby and Ruth. The Eby's wished to send greetings to Galahad folk.

Ev and Paula Parkinson spent the weekend visiting friends in Galahad. We are sorry that we do not know Paula's married name, and also sorry to learn that her wee son was in an accident some time ago. He is now convalescing at home with his parents and brother.

Mrs. Alfred Winter and Scott Crenshaw spent most of this week at Dapp visiting Mr. and Mrs. Archie Grierson. They took in a sale at Jarvie, where their niece and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Foster, were selling their entire herd of dairy cattle and equipment.

Get well wishes go to Mary Dammans who is a patient in an Edmonton hospital for surgery.

Congratulations to George and Carol McFaull as they hold the official opening of their new business place on Saturday, November 18.

The following members of the Galahad Lions' Club attended a Lions meeting at Clive on Wednesday evening: Milt Williams, Bill Wise, Frank Herle, Louie Felzien, Arnold Gamroth and Scotty Blumhagen.

Mr. and Mrs. Walt Roeder spent a week in Hilda and Medicine Hat visiting relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Bownes are spending the weekend at Hinton with the Bob Bownes family.

The Jim Wetmores took Winona and Dallas Dunn to Nisku Saturday evening where they took the 2 a.m. flight to their home in Moore's Mills, New Brunswick. Pat, Jim and Richard spent the rest of the night with the Gordon Schmidts in Camrose.

Mr. and Mrs. John Boldt of Claresholm were recent visitors at the Alley and Jim Wetmore's. John and Ruby had been visiting their son at Barrhead and their daughters who live in Edmonton.

Petie and Pat Kuefler were business visitors to Castor. Bill Wise was a caller there also.

The Missionary Church Youth Group and some of the members of the young adult Sunday School class enjoyed an evening of fun at the Killam Agri-Plex on Friday evening. Lunch and fellowship time was at the Ken Thibault home later in the evening.

The staff and patients of Galahad General Hospital were pleased to have Sister Layola of Killam as a visitor on Wednesday afternoon.

Pete Willis spent a few days at the Ken Warriner home at Wainwright. Ken and Mary were celebrating their 29th wedding anniversary on November 10, however, Pete didn't stay for the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. David McGowan spent last weekend in Red Deer visiting their daughter Joan.

The Galahad Senior Citizens' Friendship Club held its November meeting in the Centre on Thursday evening with 13 members and one visitor present.

Vice-President Scott Crenshaw chaired the meeting in the absence of President Anne Wise, a patient in the Galahad Hospital.

The meeting was called to order by observing a minute's silence. This was followed by the Serenity Prayer.

Kay Pescod read In Flander's Fields. Scott Crenshaw read a poem written by I. Hunter Wegenast, The Spirit of Flanders.

After the reading of the October minutes and treasurer's report, Bill Wise reported that the license for the November 26 Turkey Bingo had been received, and also, the license to raffle the radio clock in December.

Scott Crenshaw donated the Paintearth and Flagstaff maps, which he purchased for the members to use in preparation for the history book which they are compiling.

The plaque has been received and placed under the painting which Bill Swaren painted for the Centre in his 80th year.

The purchase of the heavy duty vacuum cleaner was tabled until more members are present, as was the suggestion by Monte Keith that the senior citizens take over the responsibility of writing the news.

Money was voted to buy stamps to send out the history brochures. A pot luck supper is planned for the December 14 meeting at 6 p.m.

Reuben and Maggie Felzien served a delicious lunch at the close of the meeting.

Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Wideman of Kingman were visitors at the David McGowen home.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Ponto and Mr. and Mrs. Herb Buchholz spent the past two weeks in British Columbia.

Herb and Doreen visited the Van Ooyen's at Chilliwack, B.C. for a time, then joined Fred and Martha at the Ken Ponto's in Victoria. They indulged in some salmon fishing; 28 were caught and the largest was 13 lbs. Friday evening, the Buchholzes gathered at Herb and Doreen's to help Delores Buchholz celebrate her birthday. They were joined by Mr. and Mrs. Keith Buchholz of Calgary and Bob and Ruby Moro of Alliance. The menu - baked salmon and all the trimmings of course.

Dick Huber of St. Albert will be visiting the senior citizens on Monday, November 20 at 2 p.m.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

TROUBLES! TROUBLES!

When someone says I've got to write, it doesn't work I just get uptight. But then after giving it some thought will have a try - why not?

I could tell about some of the work I should do. But that wouldn't be interesting to me or to you. Maybe I should check some of the notes I have made. Oh, they wouldn't do, they're too old and staid.

I just had a call, sandwiches and coffee I must make. "Take them to the field," he said, but which one for goodness sake?

Most of the time this farming isn't too bad at all. If you can stand the rush in the spring and again in the fall. It's fine when you are young with lots of get up and go. But as you grow old er you tire and go slow.

Several weeks have gone by since I began this writing. Today I am sitting here my fingernails I'm biting. The rain started coming down it seems ages ago to me. The fields are so wet - looking like rice paddies, you'll agree.

I was complaining of too much work I had to do. Now I'll admit I'm quite a stew. If we could only combine I'd be filled with great delight. I think I'd be happy working from early morn 'til late at night.

My dad was a farmer and his name was Harvey Keits. You'd think I'd have chosen someone doing something else. I suppose when I met Bill I completely lost my head. Now with all this rotten weather he should be a doctor instead.

I wanted to get into the garden as the sun was trying to shine. I knew I must hurry as the weather might change anytime. I ran to the bedroom and grabbed a scarf for my head. By the time I returned it was pouring rain instead.

You know I actually think that writing resembles this farming. You work and work and even then sometimes end up with nothing.

Plan now and save for Christmas shopping

Is it really too early to start planning for Christmas? If you want to keep control over your pocketbook and still enjoy giving at Christmas, you'd better get going. A well thought out Christmas list will do more for your family's budget than all the bargain hunting and last-minute hustle so many of us resort to in panic.

Here's how to plan and save. Start by making a list of everyone you want to present with a gift at Christmas. Beside each name, write down a budget limit -- or the most you can afford to spend for that particular person. Of course, the amount will depend on the person's relationship to you, his age, his interests, wants and needs. But most of all, it will depend on what you can afford. Many, many people forget this golden rule.

The third step is to total your expected expenditure. Be sure to include the cost of Christmas wrap and cards. Is your total in line? Can you afford to spend this much for gifts? If so, fine -- if not, go back to square one and re-evaluate.

Now that you have your budget under secure footing, you can now decide on an appropriate gift for each person on your list -- of course, keeping within your budget.

And don't forget, many of the items on your list will be cheaper now than after November 30. Buy now and save.

Ron and Kathleen Horinek received a presentation from Mr. Bill Johnson, on behalf of the community, at a farewell held in their honor in Kinsella on Sunday, November 12. The Horineks are leaving to make a new home in New Zealand. Staff Photo

Horineks Emigrate to New Zealand

On Sunday afternoon family, friends and neighbors gathered at the Kinsella Hall to bid farewell to Ron and Kathleen Horinek and family.

The Horineks will be leaving by boat from Vancouver and travel to New Zealand where they will make their home. In New Zealand, Ron will be managing a large hog operation which is located just outside of Auckland, where he must remain for at least six months.

Ron Horinek was born in Killam, May 12, 1943. He moved to Kinsella in October, 1949 when his father Clarence bought the farm from his father, Kathleen Walton was born in Banbury, England, January 13, 1948. She lived in the village of South Newington until 1961 at which time her family moved to New Zealand.

Ron and Kathleen met in 1969 while Kathleen was visiting her uncle and aunt, Dan and Helen Taylor, but she returned to her home that summer. In April of 1972, Kathleen returned to Canada and the couple were married on July 29 of that same year. A daughter, Rochelle Kay was born July 3, 1973. Ron Kathleen and Rochelle visited the Waltons in New Zealand February of 1975. A second daughter, Melanie Dawn was born on April 3, 1977.

Master of Ceremonies for the afternoon's gathering was Nick Piwowar. Everyone enjoyed the entertainment which included two solos by Mrs. Bessie Pratt, a song be Kelly Horinek, a reading by Heather Horinek, the history of the couple's courtship as compiled by Fred and Carolyn Nerdstrom, and a song by Debbie Orascheski. Everyone joined to sing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows".

Mr. Bill Johnson followed with a presentation of two Commonwealth spoons and a purse of money from the community, while John Daugherty presented Rochelle with a gift from the Sunday School as momentos. Lunch and intending of "good wishes" brought the afternoon to a close.

Couple celebrates 50th

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Chris Enghoj, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Sunday, November 12. We wish you many more Chris and Karen.

Mr. Stan Hobbs has been transferred to the Bank of Montreal in Daysland. We welcome to town Mr. and Mrs. Larry Rodwell and family, formerly of Camrose. Larry will be the new Bank of Montreal manager.

Happy 34th anniversary to Ken and Eula Rule of Hinton. Many more, Ken and Eula.

Happy birthday to those who celebrate in November: Jessie F. Bill M. Myrt of Lougheed, Dale and Ellen U. Doug M., and Bill McMahon's baby boy, Bernard M.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Ley of Fort McMurray, and Lisa and Debbie, were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gibb and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson. It's always nice to see Bob and Jenny. By the way, we sure miss you at bowling.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurent Basterash returned home from a most enjoyable holiday in Los Angelas, San Diego, Reno, Carson City and numerous other places in the United States.

The Legion Dance on November 11 was very well attended with everyone having a most enjoyable evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Nattrass, Mr. and Mrs. Mel Fossen and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan enjoyed a weekend in Red Deer, attending a four-way birthday party at the homes of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Unger and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Unger.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Fossen and family were Mrs. Ilene Gant of Duncan, B.C. and Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Stover and family of Valmount, B.C. Nice to hear Ernie is out of hospital. Mr. Allan Fossen motored the Ernie Stover family home to Valmount, B.C.

The Killam Elks and wives attended the joint installation officers at Stroome On Tuesday, November 7. A most enjoyable evening was had by all. A most delicious supper was served and I must say, Jim Crann and Ken Pollom are certainly to be complimented on it.

Mrs. George Stewart has returned home from a trip to Toronto, accompanied by Mrs. Rodney Stewart of Calgary.

They visited Mrs. Stewart's sister, Mrs. Armstrong, and Pat's uncle, Mr. Doug Gillespis, in Union Villa Lodge, also many nieces, nephews and friends.

They travelled east as far as Belleville, visiting more nieces and nephews and friends at Harwood, Cobourg, Centleton, Roseneath, Warthworth and Port Hope, calling on Mr. and Mrs. Frank Wilson at Brighton, who sent greetings to their family and friends. The weather was beautiful, so they really enjoyed a bus tour of Niagara Falls.

Mrs. Stewart returned to Edmonton and visited George, Alice and family, Doug and Doris and family and Lloyd and Marg, who brought their mother home.

Mr. Doug Stewart is at present in the University Hospital. Get well wishes go to Doug. We hope you are home soon.

Killam senior citizens meet

Due to stormy weather, there was a small group attending the November 9 meeting held in the lounge.

After welcoming everyone, President E. George called for the minutes of the October meeting, which were adopted. Treasurer F. Lackey gave the financial report and bills for turkey and utilities were paid.

Visits to the sick and shutins were recorded. Happy birthday was sung for members having birthdays during the month.

A reminder that dancing goes on every Wednesday at 2 p.m. and more bowlers are welcome. Contact Emma George.

All card parties will be held in the afternoon at 2 p.m. for winter months. What will be on Thursday, November 16 and "300" on Thursday, November 30. Everyone is welcome.

It was reported that the Paper Van is filled and picked up and another van has arrived. The paper salvage company does not want cardboard shipments.

Annual reports and election of officers will be at the December 14 meeting at 2 p.m. Marrianne Richards and Clara Schnetzler are on the nomination committee.

It was decided to purchase ham for the Christmas Pot Luck supper, to be held December 19 at 6 p.m., after which the program committee were asked to arrange for some entertainment with music and games. No exchange of gifts is planned this year.

Christmas came early for Mrs. Liz De Abreu of Killam, who won an eight-cubic-foot freezer from Macleods. Mrs. De Abreu (left) accepts the key to the freezer from store Manager Myron Woroschuk. In addition to the freezer, Mrs. De Abreu will receive $50 worth of Pride of Canada prepared meats from Burns Foods. Burns and Macleods sponsored the contest, which saw only 10 deep freezers given away across Canada.

Unemployment Insurance is now more responsive to conditions in Alberta.

To make your Unemployment Insurance Program more responsive to the special needs of different areas of Canada, there are now 48 economic regions for UI. (Up to now, there were 16 regions.)

With this change, UI benefits will more accurately reflect your local employment conditions.

It's all part of a plan announced over a year ago.

Each of these new 48 regions will have its own unemployment rate. This will set the length of time a claimant must have worked to become eligible for Unemployment Insurance benefits. And it will govern the length of benefits as well.

There's nothing new about the system itself – it's just being measured more finely in 48 regions, rather than 16.

The length of time a claimant must work to get UI remains the same. It varies from 10 to 14 weeks, depending on the unemployment rate where the claimant lives. And regionally-based benefits have the same maximum.

The change will only affect those whose UI claims start after November 12.

This map and the information with it will show you the new economic boundaries in your area.

Clip the map and save it for reference, if you like.

Note: Further changes to the Unemployment Insurance Program have been postponed by the Government. They will come into effect only when they have been enacted by Parliament.

Nurses promote Immunization Month

Remember when you were a kid? Remember being taken down to the local health unit for a 'shot' that was supposed to be good for you but sure did hurt?

Ever think it was probably just as painful for the nurse on the other side of the needle as it was for you? Ever think those same nurses really did like kids? Well, they sure do!

At least, the three nurses at the Flagstaff branch of the East Central Alberta Health Unit do, and they're quick to point out, immunizing children is only one part of their job.

Agnes Hilker, Lillian Holmes and Joy McClements are public health nurses in the County of Flagstaff. Their offices are located downstairs in the County building in Sedgewick. Other branches of the East Central Alberta Health Unit are in Camrose, Castor, Hughenden and Stettler, the unit's head office location. The Sedgewick office has been providing the public health needs for people of the county since the early 1970's, explains Mrs. Hilker. Before that, the area covered wasn't nearly as large, and she was responsible for it herself.

Being a health nurse, says Mrs. Hilker, involves "a lot of travelling." Each of the three women are responsible for certain areas of the 10-town county. Mrs. Hilker covers Killam, Lougheed, Hardisty and shares the Sedgewick district with Miss McClements, who also covers Daysland, Strome, Alliance and the South Bend Colony. Mrs. Holmes, who works for the unit part-time, is responsible for Forestburg, Heisler and Galahad. Part of their work in these centres involves holding immunization clinics, which average 30 people a day, 20 in smaller centres.

The three nurses do have the opportunity to work together at times, usually in a school situation where a large group of children are being immunized.

In addition to the immunization program, their work includes counselling for all ages; conducting prenatal classes in conjunction with Flagstaff Further Education; working with schools in family life courses, an area in which Mrs. Hilker says she'd like to see the unit become more involved; screening children for seeing, hearing and speaking problems; and also conducting a geriatric program with visits to the elderly, mostly shut-ins, to instruct them on nutrition, exercise and medication, as well as showing films to more active senior citizens who frequent Drop-In Centres.

But a great deal of time and emphasis is spent on the unit's on-going immunization program, which is not only for babies but adults as well, Mrs. Hilker points out. Adults are often not aware they need to upgrade their "shots," too – usually once every 10 years.

Public health nursing, Mrs. Holmes explains, is mostly "prevention" -- solving problems before they become big problems, especially at a young age. And better yet, the nurses add, not letting the problems get started in the first place.

They've found themselves to be "really lucky" in the Flagstaff area, Mrs. Holmes adds, in that they have a record of seeing approximately 95 per cent of the children even before they reach school age.

"We keep track of these kids through every step of development," emphasizes Mrs. Hilker.

This month, set aside as Immunization Month in Alberta, vaccination against rubella is being stressed. Better-known as German Measles, rubella is often thought of as a childhood disease. Unfortunately, Mrs. Hilker points out, it's not, and if a woman contacts the disease during the first three months of pregnancy, the growth and development of her child can be seriously harmed. Rubella can go undetected quite easily, she adds.

In Alberta, the practise of immunizing 12-year-old girls against rubella started in 1970. But women of child-bearing age, who have no natural immunity to the disease, should be immunized as well, Mrs. Hilker points out. A quick trip to the doctor will tell if a woman is immune or not. From there, a vaccination is easy to get at the Health Unit office.

The rubella serum is "live," and supposed to be "good for life," Mrs. Hilker adds. But because it is such a new serum, "we prefer to watch it for awhile," to make sure only one is needed.

The reason for such ardent concern by health officials is to prevent a rubella outbreak, such as the one which occurred in the mid-1960s throughout North America. That epidemic caused the deaths of an estimated 30,000 unborn children and left some 20,000 others with serious mental and/or physical handicaps.

All three women in the health unit are registered nurses, but, as in any other progressive field, the education doesn't stop at school. "We always have to keep abreast of things," Mrs. Hilker says, and all three are upgrading their knowledge regularly.

Experience, though, means more in the long-run, says Mrs. Holmes, referring to Mrs. Hilker's 19 years in the health field in this area. Experience, new ideas and commonsense are essential requirements, says Mrs. Hilker, adding that the abilities of the three nurses complement each other well.

The nurses keep in regular touch with the unit's head office, as well as with the Medical Officer of Health for the area, Dr. Jeanette MacQuarrie, who some people will remember, says Mrs. Hilker, used to practise in Killam.

The health unit office has been located in the County Building since 1969. Since then, the office has expanded in space and services.

Twice a month, a dental hygienist from Camrose sets up shop in the Sedgewick office, and a speech therapist also travels from Camrose to work with children with physical or emotional speech problems. The speech therapist works mostly with pre-school children, trying to solve any problems before the children begin school.

As well, Mrs. Hilker points out, a home care program will commence in the New Year in which the Flagstaff nurses will be indirectly involved through the unit's head office.

"Health care," says Mrs. Hilker, "has improved all down the line."

Coordination in grain moving

Vancouver Grain Movement

The annual movement of seven to eight million tonnes of grain through Vancouver terminal elevators requires coordination from the farm gate to vessel loading. Producer delivery quotas and the block shipping system bring the market-required grain forward to country and terminal elevator positions. Within the port area, railway switching and sorting of grain cars, scheduling of vessel arrivals and terminal berthing are fundamental operations.

Of the five terminals located in Vancouver, the Burrard terminal, currently being rebuilt, and Saskatchewan Wheat Pool's terminal are situated on the north shore of the harbour. Only Canadian National Railway serves these facilities. The United Grain Growers, Pacific Elevators and Alberta Wheat Pool terminals are located on the south side of Burrard Inlet. Pacific Elevators and UGG have rail service provided by both CNR and CP Rail, while Alberta Pool's terminal receives its grain car unloads from CP tracks.

To streamline the movement of grain cars at Vancouver, a car pooling system for Canadian Wheat Board grains was instituted in 1971. Under this arrangement, export wheat, oats and barley cars arriving in Vancouver railway sorting yards can be distributed to any terminal, regardless of originating grain company. Board grain cars are assigned to terminals on the basis of a distribution system controlled by grain movement co-ordinators of the Canadian Transport Commission. Non-board grains, which account for 15 per cent of the port's grain movement and special board grains such as durum wheat, are consigned to specific terminals and must be sorted by the railroads. Grain companies and exporters can assign cars of non-board grains to either their own terminal or one at which they have a handling agreement. The non-board grains are stored to meet specific sales commitments for vessel loading from that facility.

The physical movement of grain cars within the Vancouver port area begins south-east of Vancouver. For CNR, cars first arrive in the Port Mann sorting yard near Surrey. It is here that cars of board grains are accumulated for either the north or south shore terminals and non-board grains are segregated. Cars headed for the north shore move across Burrard Inlet to another rail yard for distribution to the terminals. South shore cars are sorted in two yards close to the terminals. UGG and Pacific Elevators receive their CN cars directly from the railway, but Alberta Pool's CN cars must be interchanged with CP Rail for spotting at the terminal.

CP Rail grain cars are initially classified in the Port Coquitlam yard, also south-east of Vancouver, for either north or south shore facilities. For Pacific Elevators, UGG and Alberta Wheat Pool terminals grain cars move directly from Coquitlam to the respective storage tracks adjacent to the termin als. Cars consigned to north shore terminals move to the Sapperton interchange, located between Coquitlam and Port Mann, for movement by CNR. Regardless of which railway serves a terminal, all require regular train service to spot loaded cars and remove empties. Only Pacific Elevators is able to utilize its own locomotive for on-site switching of cars.

Grain vessels arriving in port normally provide 15 to 30 days notice of the vessel's readiness to load. All grain vessels must be inspected for cleanliness by the federal Department of Agriculture prior to loading. An association of terminal operators and exporters, the B.C. Shippers' Clearance Association, assigns vessels to individual terminal berths. The assignments are based on each terminal's 12-month percentage of grain receipts, plus a relationship to stocks in store and available berths.

Scheduling vessel arrivals to coincide with available terminal elevator stocks and grain car shipments would benefit from further co-ordination. This is one of the subjects currently under review by the consultants retained by the federal government to study grain transportation.

E. W. Snideman passes in Drumheller

A former resident of Killam, Elbert Walter Snideman, passed away October 20, 1978, in Drumheller.

Mr. Snideman had resided in Killam from 1958 to 1976, when he moved to Drumheller. In Killam, he was employed as manager of the Albert Liquor Store until his retirement.

Mr. Snideman was born in Eagle Hill, Alberta, in 1913. He served in World War II from 1940 to 1945 as a gunner in the Royal Canadian Anti-Tank Regiment.

He leaves to mourn: his wife, Maisie Snideman; one son, Dave, both of Drumheller; two daughters, Mrs. Wendy Madden of Leduc and Miss Cheryl Snideman of Calgary; one brother, Ward Snideman of Camrose; seven grandchildren and one great grandson.

Funeral services for the late Elbert Snideman were conducted from St. Magloires Anglican Church, Drumheller, on Monday, October 23. Interment was in the Drumheller Cemetery.

Daysland and District News Items

The last week of October was busy and exciting in the Daysland Kindergarten as preparations were made for Halloween. The children helped make special party cookies, carved their own Jack O'Lanterns, ate pumpkin bread, as well as decorated their classroom. Many mothers, as well as younger sisters and brothers, attended the Tuesday afternoon Halloween party. The children dressed in costume, toured the other grades, then returned to the classroom for lunch and fun-time.

The parents are reminded there is no Kindergarten on November 15, which is Parent-Teacher Interview Day. Each Wednesday after will be full days as the children take an in-town field trip on November 22 and then use the extra time November 29 and December 6 and 13 as additional time for Christmas preparation.

The monthly parents meeting took place November 7 in the Kindergarten room. Discussions were held regarding the next East Central, Early Childhood Workshop to be held in Provost November 9, as well as Christmas preparations.

The meeting was shortened in order to allow the guest speaker, Mrs. Marilyn Matthiessen, district home economist from Sedgewick, to present her information on nutritious snacks and lunch box lunches. The helpful ideas were appreciated and her samples were [illegible].

Mr. and Mrs. Don Wagner of St. Paul were in Daysland a few days visiting all their old friends.

Mrs. Elsie Coward of Calgary has been visiting with Dorothy McDevitt this week and she attended our Hospital Auxiliary meeting November 9.

The Daysland Young People's Group met at the Daysland Junior High School at 7 p.m. November 4. When all were there, we went to the Camrose Bowler Drome. Everybody played two games, then the whole group went to Randy Kowalachuk's place. There we had pizza and pop. In our meeting we decided that we would have a progressive supper on November 17. We had our devotions, which was about How we can make God more real to us. Then all went home. There was an attendance of 15 people. If you are 14 or older and would like to join us, feel free. It is every second Friday at the Daysland School.

The Daysland Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held November 9. President Ellen Pederson opened the meeting with all repeating the Auxiliary Prayer. There were 12 members and two visitors present.

The secretary's minutes were read by Laura Graham in Eleanor Davidson's absence. The treasurer's report was given by Emily Hill and approved. Six thank-you cards were sent. Lil Kofoed gave a report on the bingo. Lil Klutz read a letter she wrote to get other ladies' groups to help entertain patients in the hospital.

Our Christmas party is to be held in the United Church basement December 14 and each member can invite a guest and each bring an exchange gift of around $2 or more. The meeting adjourned and coffee and cake was served by the hospital.

The Daysland Agricultural Society Annual meeting will be held in the Community Centre November 23 at 8 p.m. Fair awards are to be presented and all agricultural members are urged to attend.

Daysland schools have hectic days

The executive members of the Daysland High School Students' Union for 1978-79 are: President - Brian Carlson, Vice-President - Mary Jane Hayes, Secretary - Penny Poepping, Treasurer - Tamie Heisler, Social Convenor - Dianne Loesch.

Students were kept busy during October, starting the year off with Kangaroo Court, Initiation and a dance in honour of all Grade 10s on October 6.

Volleyball games are now in full swing. Come out and cheer for our team.

School jackets and rings are being ordered for those interested students.

Again this year, we have opened a Food Canteen where nutritious foods are being sold every Tuesday and Thursday at noon. November is Wear a Moustache month. Anyone found drinking milk in the school or on the school grounds is eligible to win $250. Milk is available at the Food Canteen for 25 cents.

Plans for the yearbook are well underway. Sponsors and patrons are needed to get this project underway.

Students have decided to do something a little different this year. We are holding a Car Rally and Smorgasborg on Sunday, November 12.

We have started our Christmas funds. Candies are being sold and the Community Christmas card will start soon with proceeds to go to the Gwynne Bethany Home. Please help support this worthwhile project.

The Pre-New Year's Dance will be held on December 29. Dance to the rock and roll sounds of Midnight Riders.

As you know, the Daysland Elementary School was renovated last summer. We had to start late classes because the school wasn't ready. So for a few days, we stayed in the high school. It was not very pleasant for the Grades 1, 2 and 3 in the gym as it was quite loud. Usually it rained, so we either walked around and chatted or did other work at lunch hour.

When we got into the Elementary School, it was a pleasure to be back. The nice, baby blue colour was very pleasant. Not everything was ready though. Door knobs, mirrors and soap dispensers were missing. The playground was rearranged and there were plans for a bigger and better skating rink.

The report cards for Grades 1 to 12 were to come out on November 10. Good luck! Parent-Teacher interviews were November 15.

Our Halloween parade was just great. Everyone was in costume. We had a party and played games.

Sally-Jo Kopas and Jodi Blatz, reporters

49 MPG* NOW

THE 1979 JAG

It couldn't have happened to a nicer snowmobile. The '79 Arctic Cat Jag 2000 was crowned the 79 mileage champ in a U.S. industry-wide economy test. Not bad for a machine that was designed to be "little brother" to Arctic's hottest performer, the El Tigre. Jag's agreeable balance of speed, power, weight, handling and price look just that much more agreeable at 49 MPG. We think you'll agree. See the '79 Jag at your Arctic Cat dealer.

Daysland Junior High

Junior High activities have started again. Teams have been organized to play basketball at noon hour. There are four girls' teams and four boys' teams.

Initiation for the Grade 7s was held on October 13 with a Kangaroo Court and a dance following.

Basketball season has bounced back again. Some games have been played and a tournament was held in Sedgewick on October 28. The girls' team played two games. They won the game against Lougheed and lost the game against Forest Burg. The boys' team played three games, winning over Lougheed and Sedgewick and losing with Galahad.

Daysland has six cheerleaders this season. At the Sedgewick tournament, they were voted the cheerleaders with the best cheers.

1978 Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year

These young Albertans have been honoured as the Alberta Junior Citizens of the Year for 1978. For 17 years, the investor-owned electric utilities have been recognising young Albertans who have contributed meaningfully to their communities through acts of courage, selflessness, initiative, or responsibility.

Each year, many young people are nominated for the honour of being an Alberta Junior Citizen of the Year, and all are deserving. These award winners are the best examples of the role that youth plays in the growth and development of Alberta.

Mail deadlines announced

Christmas is fast approaching. If you are planning to mail cards and parcels overseas for the festive season, the Post Office asks that you please take note of the following rates and mailing deadlines. Or, check with your local Post Office to ensure your Christmas greetings are delivered on schedule.

First class airmail cards and letters to international destinations, excluding the United States, require 30 cents postage for up to one ounce. Christmas cards sent to the same points are only 23 cents if the envelope is unsealed, but must be identified as "Printed Papers" on the envelope. Overseas Christmas cards mailed at the surface rate of 15 cents for up to one ounce must also be endorsed "Printed Papers."

There is still time to send cards by surface to Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland. However, the mailing deadline for cards to these points is November 24.

Deadlines for mailing overseas airmail parcels to arrive in time for Christmas are also fast approaching. November 24 is the mailing deadline for Oceania, including Australia and New Zealand; Asia; Africa; Cuba; Haiti and the Netherland Antilles. For Europe, Argentina, Paraguay, Central and South America and the West Indies, the deadline is December 1. The mailing deadline for Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland is December 3.

Christmas cards and letters airmailed to Cuba, Haiti and the Netherland Antilles should be mailed before December 1. The mailing deadline of December 8 for cards and letters applies to Europe, Argentina, Paraguay, Central and South America, the West Indies, Africa, Asia and Oceania, including Australia and New Zealand. December 13 is the deadline for Great Britain, Northern Ireland and the Republic of Ireland.

Christmas cards mailed to distant points in Canada and the United States should be mailed before December 13. The deadline for in-town mailing is December 17. Parcels destined for distant locations in Canada and the United States have a mailing deadline of December 3.

All greeting cards mailed within Canada and the United States should be sealed. They may still be mailed at the 12 cent rate for up to two ounces.

IN MEMORIUM

DEWITT — In loving memory of our husband and father, Paul DeWitt who passed away November 17, 1975.
A Dear and precious one from us is gone,
His voice is dearly longed for and sadly missed
On the Wings of Death
The Soul takes flight
Into the land where there is no night.
For those such as him who believe
What the Savior said
Will rise in glory though they be dead
So death comes to us
Just to open the door
To the Kingdom of God.
and Life Everm ore.
Lovingly remembered by Mrs. Clara DeWitt and Family. 12-1p

Battle River Tourist Association

Offord and Dutton elected

The annual meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association was held at Crystal Springs Motor Inn in Camrose on Wednesday, October 18, 1978. The affair was attended by about 223 people from all corners of the tourist zone.

Dignitaries on hand to bring greetings to the association included Deputy Mayor Elmer Miller, City of Camrose; President Ralph Tate, Camrose Chamber of Commerce; Assistant Deputy Minister Don Hayes, Department of Business Development and Tourism, Government of Alberta; and President John Learmy, Travel Industry Association of Alberta.

During the business session, members received a number of reports on the activities of the association during the year. These included a president's report from Bob Ruttan of Provost, and a manager's report from Sylvia Clemens of Camrose.

The Honourable Robert Dowling, minister of Business Development and Tourism, took charge of the presentation of complete sets of medallions to families who had visited all 14 zones in the Stamp Around Alberta project. No less than 10 members of the B.R.T.A. Executive, plus six other members had qualified. A total of 55 sets of medallions were handed out by the minister.

Those locally who received medallions were Mr. and Mrs. Horricks of Lougheed, Mr. and Mrs. Len Dutton and the Palmers of Killam.

Concluding item on the agenda was the installation of officers and the announcement of executive appointments for the 1978-79 year.

Continuing to head up the organization will be Past-President Edna Palmer of Killam, President Bob Ruttan of Provost, First Vice-President Georgina Taylor of Chauvin, Second Vice-President Bob Brown of Leduc, and Manager Sylvia Clemens of Camrose. President Ruttan also announced the chairman of committees who also became members of the Executive. These are: Gertrude Thieme of Stettler, Finance; Ken Offord of Sedgewick, Projects; Len Dutton of Killam, Historical Library; Leon D'Albertanson of Wainwright, Brochure; and Bill Fowler of Camrose, Publicity and Resolutions.

Former Hardisty resident passes in Vernon, B.C.

Hamlin Percival Cooper passed away October 13, 1978 after being hospitalized since May in Vernon, B.C.

Percy was born in North Dakota in 1901 and came to the Hardisty district about 70 years ago with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jonathon Cooper, who lived on a farm southwest of Hardisty. He grew up here and worked in a garage for a few years, later going to British Columbia where he worked as a mechanic until his retirement in Penticton where he was last employed. Predecassed by his parents, his sisters, Ollie and Maggie, and his brother John, he was the last member of this pioneer family.

Your Home Has to Breathe too.

Check For Safe Venting
Proper venting in your home can save you and your family from fire and gas hazards. All gas appliances which need to be vented must be vented outside. And all fuel-burning heating appliances need venting as well as an adequate air supply for complete combustion.

Are Your Vents Working?
A safe vent is an effective vent. Make sure:
- appliance vents are securely attached and in good condition
- rust formation on vent pipes or draft hood is reported to the gas company
- the ends of vent pipes are not blocked
- moisture dripping from a vent is reported to the gas company

Is Your Chimney Safe?
Your chimney carries byproducts from burning gas in your appliances safely outdoors. Be sure:
- your chimney is checked annually
- your chimney is open and clear from debris at the bottom
- your chimney is free of frost, snow and other obstructions
- metal chimney tops are checked for corrosion, rust or deterioration
- "Bracket Chimneys" are lined and inspected regularly
- chimney openings not used to vent appliances are sealed

For more information on proper venting and other home safety measures, visit your nearest gas company office and pick up a copy of our free pamphlets "Take Time For Home Heating Safety" and "Home Safe Home."

Hardisty newcomers honored

The Hardisty Chamber of Commerce hosted its annual Welcome to Newcomers Dinner on the evening of November 8 at Seto's Dining Lounge.

Newly-elected President Jim Thomson said Grace, after which a lovely Chinese meal was enjoyed by the approximately 120 persons in attendance.

Following the meal, President Jim introduced the head table guests, consisting of the new executive and special guests Mayor Lou Golka and Constable Wally Purcell.

Mrs. Doris Yuskiw presented the awards to this past summer's winners of the Beautiful Yards contest. Receiving beautifully-framed colour photographs of their award-winning yards were Joe and Anna Saruga, Alan and Rose Marie Thompson and Jim and Mary Anne Thomson.

This presentation was followed by words of welcome to the newcomers by Jim, and each newcomer was introduced in turn. Approximately 50 newcomers and new business people had been invited as guests of the Chamber for the occasion and happily, most of them were in attendance.

Constable Purcell then gave a talk on the Neighbourhood Watch Program, which had been started in Hardisty last fall, and is hoped to come to completion soon. Constable Purcell explained the program to those new to it and demonstrated the use of the engraver and invisible markers. Hugh Duncan has been appointed chairman of this program in Hardisty, and persons not already covered by the Neighbourhood Watch are encouraged to contact Hugh so that no one will be missed.

The next item of the evening's program was a verbal tribute by Rose Marie Thompson to Herb and Jean Rombough, who recently sold their Creative Crafts and Sears Order Outlet in order to devote more time to their cattle operation. Jean graciously responded.

Mayor Lou Golka next addressed the gathering, and congratulated the Chamber on its past years' accomplishments, especially its involvement in Round-Up Days. He then went on to explain some of the items being considered in the past year. He stated that there had been 17 new home starts and five new business, resulting in $1 million in permits being issued. This is reflected in the 10 per cent growth rate experienced by the town.

Other items of interested touched on by Mayor Golka was the town's intention of withdrawing from the Battle River Planning Commission, the setting up of a committee to study annexation of lands to the town, the continuing talks regarding the proposed Pacific Petroleum Heavy Oil Upgrading Plant, and the current status, or lack thereof, of the new hospital. It was this last subject that was of the most interest to everyone as it has been a long and, at times, futile battle. Mayor Golka asked that in the light of current inactivity by government on this important matter, all persons having any interest in a new hospital for Hardisty should write directly to Premier Lougheed, expressing their concern. Hospital Board Chairman George Mathews also said a few words in the same vein and stated that something must be done and done soon.

This brought the evening's program to an end, and President Jim thanked everyone for coming, reminding all that the next regular Chamber meeting will be at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, November 22 in the Parkland Manor.

Lougheed Rebekahs meet

Sixteen members of Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met for their regular meeting on Wednesday, November 8 with Noble Grand Verona Cookson in the chair.

Members reported having visited in the Lodge and Killam Hospital.

It was moved that a sum of money be sent to support the United Nations Pilgrimage For Youth Program. Eligible students are to be urged to participate in this speaking contest.

Members were asked to check their cupboards for tea towels that may have been taken home to be washed.

Under new business, a discussion took place concerning a donation to a local hospital -- a decision to be arrived at when more members are present.

It was suggested and agreed to that members collect and promote the collection of empty cigarette packages to be turned in as tokens used in the purchase of a wheelchair.

Members were pleased with the report of a successful tea and bake sale. N.G Cookson thanked the members for their efforts.

Under Good of the Order, Sis. Carol Butcher read thought provoking words concerning human rights.

It was suggested that members gather used magazines, paperbacks, puzzles, or games suitable for patient use in the local hospitals. It was hoped that these would be brought to the November 22 meeting for sorting.

After Penny Drill Lodge closed in harmony and a delicious one-course lunch was consumed. Prior to the eating of this lunch, the committee in charge displayed unique and interesting containers of food.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

LOUGHEED 4-H BEEF

The Lougheed 4-H Beef Club held its re-organizational meeting on October 30 at the Lougheed School. During the meeting, we elected the officers: President, Howard Ness; Vice-President, Dwight Armstrong; Secretary, Shelley Ness; Treasurer, Dean Ness; Club Leader, Brian Berg.

As new business, we set the following dates: November 18, we will have our annual weigh-in at the Pool elevator from 10 a.m. to noon; on November 17, we are having our annual trophy night. It was also decided to hold our meetings on the first Monday of every month at 8 p.m.

The Lougheed 4-H Beef Club held a regular meeting November 6 with nine members present and four adults. Our leader, Brian Berg, was there to help us elect our Assistant Leader, Club Ness, and the four parents to be present at meetings are Allan Skori, Edith Cookson, Robert Rosiechuk and Andy Snethun. Trophy Night was changed to December 1 at the Arena at 6:30 p.m. due to basketball games.

Lougheed and District News

Marion and Joe Nicol of Calgary were recent visitors at Mr. and Mrs. Tom Barton's, also with Miss Flo Barton, who has been sent to Killam Hospital from Daysland.

Congratulations to these lovely couples who celebrated their wedding anniversaries last week: Mr. and Mrs. Pete Grove, Mr. and Mrs. Bill King horn and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith

Mrs. Helen White was busy the weekend before this past one. On Friday night she had Essie Drager, Margaret Denham and Molly Ferneybough for supper. Of course, Hunter was the taxi driver. Then on Saturday evening, Mrs. Annie Oliver called in to have a visit. To end the lovely weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Porter O'Reilly were there on Sunday for supper guests, and after supper, they took Helen and Hunter down to church service at Mirma. After the service they all had a lovely lunch before returning home.

Mrs. Olve Barber of Camrose and granddaughter from Calgary, and Mrs. Susie Drager, also of Camrose, called in to visit with Mrs. Essie Drager one afternoon last week. They were visiting with Olive's mother, Mrs. McClements, in the lodge and also, James McClemments.

Mrs. Ina Coughlin of Delta, Vancouver, B.C. (formerly of Lougheed) had a birthday on October 31. She is in her late 80s. Congratulations, Mrs. Coughlin. We wish you many more birthdays. Also, Mrs. Coughlin's sister, Mrs. Lila Lietch of Cornwall, Ontario, passed away last week. Just thought this would be of interest to some of the old timers. Sympathy is extended to the families.

Mr. and Mrs. Porter O'Reilly of Sedgewick, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White, and Mr. and Mrs. Harry Trice were supper guests with Mrs. Mary Albrecht and Edwin on Tuesday, November 7. The occasion was Harry and Julia returning to their winter home in B.C. soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Lester Metz motored to Alix to visit Lester's brother and his wife. Mrs. Margaret Denham went with them as far as Bashaw, where she spent the couple days visiting with Betty and Joe Tradler and family.

Seems as though our winter sports have started, and if you don't like curling there are other hobbies on the go, like knitting, crocheting, cards, scrabble and you name it. There's no need to stay home and sit in the rocking chair doing nothing. But don't get taken away with things and then not give me your news items.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Patten visited with Mike and Marilyn and children last week.

Tom Kenny and son Dick have just returned from an enjoyable trip visiting friends and family in B.C.

Many happy returns to Tom Kenny of Lougheed and Phil Beazer of Sedgewick Lodge, who celebrated birthdays on November 11.

Hardisty variety sale successful

The Variety Sale held by the Legion Auxiliary on Friday, November 3 was a real success. The tables were stacked with homemade articles, home baking and second-hand articles, while the coffee and home-made doughnuts were enjoyed by a good crowd. The executive wishes to thank all who donated articles, as well as all who attended.

Mr. and Mrs. Barney Matthews received news last weekend of the marriage of their oldest granddaughter, Patricia Anne Matthews, to Alan Morrison of Calgary.

The November meeting of the Legion Auxiliary was held at 2 p.m. on November 6 with 10 members present. A good report was given on the Variety Sale. Unsold articles have been stored for future sale. The president reported presenting school awards on October 26 to Karen Dosdall and Taryn Szoke

It was decided to have the kitchen re-arranged and the lower cupboards finished.

During lunch, Happy Birthday was sung to Mrs. Nettie Johnston and a lovely birthday cake was shared and enjoyed.

People in Profile: District welcomes physio

David and Elaine Handley, now six weeks in the area, came from northwest England to make their new home in east-central Alberta. With Dave came a skill that hasn't been in the area for close to 10 years.

Dave is a physiotherapist, working out of the Killam Hospital. His presence will mean people no longer have to travel as far as Camrose to the west and even further to the east for treatment.

Dave's skill is the result of three-and-a-half years education and work experience. In England, he operated a gymnasium for the victims of motorcycle accidents who needed physiotherapy treatment on healing limbs.

Basically, Dave explains, physiotherapy treats disabilities, injuries and disease through exercise, massage and highly-sophisticated equipment. It is "the treatment by physical means."

In addition to strengthening weak limbs after broken bones have set, physio is commonly used for strained muscles and back problems where "manipulation" is often needed to put things back in place. In the job, Dave encounters a great many sport injuries as well, he notes.

While in England, Dave mostly worked with patients on a group basis, but prefers the "one-on-one" approach he's been able to enjoy in Canada.

"You get to know your patient better, giving him the full benefit of your experience."

And although his treatment room in the hospital doesn't offer the fanciest equipment available on the market, "I have all the essentials I need," Dave says.

Being able to work with patients individually means he doesn't require a lot of equipment, Dave explains. If a man needs to exercise to strengthen his leg, for example, Dave can apply the pressure needed to make the leg work harder, rather than have the man wear a weight boot.

There is one machine that could be added to the essentials, Dave admits, an ultra sound which penetrates body tissue with sonic waves, bringing blood to the injured area with nutrients and better circulation to promote healing. Already Dave has heard that the women of a local organization have pledged to try and raise some of the money required to purchase such a machine.

There are other areas of physiotherapy which people are not always familar with, Dave points out. In addition to treatment after an injury or operation, physio is often used before a patient has surgery to teach him the exercises he'll need to practise after. Physio is used for preventative measures as well, such as in industries where a lot of lifting is required. People are taught the proper way to support a weight without injuring their back. Physiotherapy is even used to determine the right desk height for people, taking into consideration their size and posture.

But in all cases, physiotherapy involves "a lot of motivation," says Dave, giving a person incentive to do exercises which often hurt.

"You have to be cruel to be kind." And unfortunately, Dave adds, a physiotherapist is often one of the most unpopular people in the hospital.

At present, Dave has been spending most of his time with older patients in the Auxiliary Hospital, but he's confident that once doctors in the area learn physiotherapy is close at hand for their patients, they'll be sending referrals. And with winter sport activities getting underway, he could be treating a lot of pulled muscles in the near future.

Dave Handley, physiotherapist at the Killam Hospital, applies pressure to a patient's arm while she exercises to strengthen it. Dave and his wife Elaine are new to the area. Elaine is employed as secretary-treasurer of the Iron Creek Gas Co-op in Sedgewick

We were pleased to hear that the Explorers collected $45.22 for UNICEF on Halloween. Nice going, girls.

Mrs. Thelma Tanton, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Tanton and Mrs. Sheila Tanton arrived home on Tuesday after a vacation in Arizona.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Johnson of Bashaw and Miss Adele Johnson of Edmonton were guests of their parents, the Bill Johnsons, over the Remembrance holiday.

I hear that work has been started on the new house of the Manfred Jeurissen.

Mrs. Ruby Farquharson is staying with her sister, Mrs. Joyce Symington, in Edmonton while her husband Alec is a patient in the University Hospital. Travelling to Edmonton on Monday to visit her brother was Miss Carol Farquharson. Best wishes from the community, Alec. Get well soon.

Mr. and Mrs. Gregory Martin were in Edmonton on the weekend to do some Christmas shopping. Daughter Margaret stayed at the farm with her grandparents, the Don Cooksons. Then on Sunday, Mr. and Mrs. David Edey drove the Martins home and spent Sunday and Monday with them.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Danielson and daughter Cheryl, and Miss Peggy MacGregor left on November 2 for a vacation in Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hansen (nee Janet Beairsto) and family of Calgary, and Mrs. Carma Scott of Hinton were weekend guests at the H.L. Beairsto home and visited with Mrs. P. Lindbaile at Killam Hospital.

Mrs. Vivian Sparrow, Mrs. Denny Bergum and Mrs. Adith Gould were in Edmonton on Monday and visited with Mr. Cecil Gould - at the University Hospital. We were happy to hear that Cecil is coming along well.

Miss Lillian Tweedy was at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Tweedy, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Barclay and children visited in Edmonton with her mother over the weekend.

Mr. Gudmunn Eriksen is home after visiting with his daughter Carol at Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh visited at the Grant Blaeser home at Heisler on Sunday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Ron Waugh (nee Marian Simpson) on the birth of an 8 pound, 2 ounce daughter. Rhonda Lynn was born at Camrose on Thursday, November 9. Big sister Kristie is staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Simpson, for a few days.

The United Church Women held a well-attended meeting on Tuesday evening of last week. After business matters were dealt with, election of officers took place. Taking office on December 1 will be: Mrs. Harriet Wilson as president, Mrs. Betty Galletly as first vice-president, Mrs. Molly Bruce as second vice-president, Mrs. Barbara Cumberland as secretary, while Miss Vera Swainson will continue as the treasurer. Lunch and a time of fellowship followed the meeting.

Seven tables of whist players enjoyed the Senior Citizens Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Legion Hut. Mrs. Harriet Wilson and Mr. Bob Watt won prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Tena Blakeney and Mr. Jim Walsh received consolation awards. At a brief meeting, it was reported that the new Drop-In Centre is almost ready for use. The rug has been ordered and once that is laid, it is hoped that the library and Drop-In Centre will be open.

At her parent's home, the Jenveys, for the weekend were Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dixon and children of Edmonton.

Sedgewick minor hockey

The fall meeting of the Sedgewick Minor Hockey was held November 1 with 17 present. We are happy to see a few of the young hockey players taking an interest in the meetings. Keep it up.

Elected to the executive are: President, Ole Lundie; Vice-President, Eldred Tindall; Secretary-Treasurer, Jack McConnell; and Equipment Manager, Rob Shaw.

The referees' clinic is scheduled to take place December 9 and 10. If you are interested, please get your name in now.

Parents, please take note that all players are required by the AAHA to have CSA approved helmets with face masks.

We have five teams this year, four of which are without coaches or managers.

More parental support is needed to help with minor hockey. If you care, let's see you there!

Next meeting is to be held November 20 at 7:30 p.m. at the Rec Centre. If you have any inquiries, or would like to offer your help, please call Ole Lundie, 384-3773; Glen Poyser, 384-3540; Eldred Tindall, 384-2173; Rob Shaw, 384-2159; or Jack McConnel, 384-2242.

The Community Press

A Weekly Newspaper Serving the Communities of Hardisty, Lougheed, Sedgewick, Killam and Strome.

Single Copies — 25¢ Sedgewick, Alberta WEDNESDAY, NOVEMBER 22, 1978 Volume 78—No. 13

The basement of the Killam Baptist Church was full of people and activity last Saturday morning as the church's youth and ladies groups gathered to make apple pies -- more than 700 of them

For the second year now, these two groups have pooled their resources to raise funds. The pies were sold by advance order for $2 each. Not only was it a profitable way to spend the day, but from the feeling of enthusiasm in the room, it was an enjoyable way, too!

Legislative Report:

MLAs end fall sitting

MLAs went to work putting the final touches on election preparations when the fall legislature sitting ended after passing new landlord-tenant law and again expanding the Heritage Fund.

Lieutenant-Governor Ralph Steinhauer finished the house's 1978 session, the fourth since the last voting, with a jaunty wave, best wishes and assent to 86 government bills.

Steinhauer urged MLAs to rest, to meet next year with "vim, vigor and vitality." But the 18-day fall sitting might have been the last before Premier Peter Lougheed goes to the polls.

No date was set for the spring sitting. Lougheed said a vote will be called "perhaps soon," and any time after the next federal-provincial constitutional conference in Ottawa February 5 and 6.

He said an election will come earlier if Ottawa shows signs of trying to impose a new constitution unilaterally, or some other "unforeseen" event interrupts his timetable.

The Conservatives and the New Democrats are almost finished their slates of 79 candidates. The Social Credit and Liberal parties are behind, but hard at work catching up.

Meanwhile, the fall sitting passed a new Landlord-Tenant Act that extends the notice period for evictions to 90 days from 30 and puts a ceiling -- the amount of a month's rent -- on damage deposits.

But the act fell short of advance billing in the 1977 throne speech, which promised "security of tenure." Rules to make landlords explain evictions were rejected in the name of encouraging housing investment.

The next fiscal year's deposit of 30 per cent of energy revenue in the Heritage Fund was approved. The fund is forecast to reach $4.7 billion next March 31 and at least $6 billion in 1980 with the new deposit.

The new landlord-tenant legislation may be proclaimed in force next spring. Other major financial bills expanded the loan funds of the Alberta Opportunity Company and the Agriculture Development Corporation.

A bill was passed to unify the district courts with the supreme court trial division to form a new Court of Queen's Bench. The supreme court appeal division is renamed the court of appeal.

A new Collection Practices Act was passed but may be changed next spring. Provisions outlawing objectionable methods were withdrawn for a rewrite and reintroduction to avoid "over-regulation."

The house passed a long-awaited bill enabling municipalities in the Crowsnest Pass to amalgamate.

A further $229.6 million was earmarked for Heritage Fund capital projects. New ones include aid for university and college libraries, reforestation, and water management works at Lesser Slave Lake and in the Paddle River Basin.

Killam residents meet, offer names for board

A meeting of Killam residents was held Thursday, November 16 to nominate candidates for a new Killam and District Recreation Board.

Thirteen names were on the slate at the close of nominations. Friday morning, Town Council chose the nine individuals to sit on the board, and the length of each term of office.

Appointed for rural representation were: Jean Prichard, three years; Glen Freadrich, one year; Stan Chevraux, two years; and Ken Grant, two years. Urban representatives are: Brion Sorenson, three years; Craig Grant, one year; Terry Tiffen, two years; Ken Lang, three years; and Irene Fossen, one year. Council's representatives on the board does not change. They are Glen Werner for the Town of Killam and Rolf Jacobsen for the County of Flagstaff.

Four members of the new board also held positions on the previous Rec Board: Mrs. Fossen, Mr. Freadrich, Mr. Tiffen and Mr. Lang.

Remember when? When in 1925 that is, because that's when this picture was taken in a field outside Hardisty. Rumour has it that some of these local basketball players went on to become members of that famous Edmonton team, The Grads. If anyone can identify these people, or knows more about the team than we do, The Community Press would appreciate hearing from you

Not a one-day affair

For most towns in the area, Parent-Teacher Interview Days have passed. Hopefully, it was a time from which not only students will gain, but teachers and parents as well.

We all want our children to have the best in education – but we forget sometimes that by our actions, or lack of them, we parents aren't allowing that quality of learning to exist.

We joke once-in-awhile, saying our kids don't appreciate the education they're getting. But do we appreciate it? What other time of the year besides Parent-Teacher Interview Day do we demonstrate to our kids the importance we place on their education?

Giving a child a good education involves more than sending him off in the morning for someone else to run rule over. It means choosing the best school for that child – public or separate, and not only on the basis of religion.

It means meeting the teacher – every year. Don't wait until Parent-Teacher Day to be invited. And give that teacher the common courtesy of talking to him or her first if something is wrong.

Find out what your child is being taught. You may believe in getting back to basics: the three R's, but what if the curriculum doesn't?

How often do we as parents gather to discuss our children's education? Are we really guiding our children through the most important mind-building time of their lives? If we're not, you can be sure we haven't fooled the kids as much as we've fooled ourselves. Maybe their lax attitudes are a result of ours.

What Others Say

No such thing as a "Free Lunch"

Perhaps for too long now we have been living under the mistaken impression that if we don't want to work, the government will take care of us.

Undoubtedly this complacency has been brought about by a number of social assistance measures governments have implemented during the past few decades; welfare, unemployment insurance, subsidiaries, re-training and many other social benefits. The question is not to criticize the desirability of such measures, but how far can we go?

The misguided assumption that society owes us a living has brought about the comfortable belief that the government will provide us with a free lunch. We are now slowly but surely beginning to realize that if the government continues to provide us with a free lunch, it will cost us all the price of a full-course dinner in order to pay for it . . . in higher taxes, hidden subsidies, extra levies, special surcharges and corporate assessments. One way or another, you and I, the working people of Canada, are having to pay higher and higher taxes in order to support the drones in our society - not those who are unable to work, but those who find government handouts preferable to contributing to the economy.

Today, Canadian business is being forced to pay higher and higher salaries and wages and at the same time receive lower and lower productivity.

Not too many years ago, Canada was second only to the United States in output per capita. Today we have fallen behind West Germany, Japan and France - even behind Australia and Finland.

In a country that has so much in the way of natural resources and development opportunities and with such a small population with which to accomplish all the forseeable things ahead of us, we have the ability and expertise to become one of the world's fastest growing nations. But it will only happen when collectively we venture forth with a new and positive approach toward unity and freedom of opportunity.

No, Virginia, there is no such thing as a free lunch.

JASPER, Canada's Safety Bear

Don't play with a lighter that's left laying around. You may be seriously hurt and the house burnt to the ground.

The Third Column

by Truncate

WELL, WELL AND WELL! Here we go again. Round 101 of the perennial argument as to the worth of the housewife. In dollars that is. Once again a journalist, female of course, has reminded us that women are the forgotten people of society. They simply cannot get anywhere because the male chauvinist won't allow it. So another attempt is current in an effort to pull the ladder out from under these stubborn and unreasonable males and bring them down to ground level where they may be dealt with on even terms with no holds barred.

NOW A UNIVERSITY PROFESSOR has stepped onto the scene in a valiant attempt to evaluate the housewife's worth. Pulling imaginary figures out of the blue, some startling totals are arrived at. Basically, the argument is that $6,000 annually is the starting point. Like the Old Age Pension, that is the basic. From there, it is built up by adding to every service rendered so many dollars, to finally arrive at a very startling and satisfying total.

SO THE PROFESSOR, whom we suspect is either a female or a traitor to the traditional supremacy of the male factor, goes on to enumerate the various onerous tasks the housewife carries out and for which she is entitled to remuneration, based on the pay of a check-out clerk at the supermarket which is arbitrarily placed at $14,500. She cooks, she washes, polishes, dusts, cleans, etc., all without statutory holidays and for 365 days a year. So this is worth $20,000 annually. What her husband demands of her adds another $1,000. Each child (if there are any under such circumstances) is worth $2,000 each for the effort put forth to prepare him or her for the big world outside. To this add, add $1,000 for responsibility in this regard, and the sum "value" of the housewife has been set at $29,000 per annum. A tidy figure by any estimation. Bless the professor. If this is what he spends his time at, his job should be up for grabs.

HAVE YOU ANY IDEA the astronomical figure we could arrive at by multiplying the $29,000 by the number of Canadian housewives? It simply staggers the imagination, doesn't it? The question is, who would pay it? If the government, which is the obvious goat as we view things today, it would make forming of a budget very simple. Just budget for the housewife and nothing else, because there would be nothing left.

BUT WAIT A MOMENT. If the husband could be made responsible (forbid, forbid) for this huge unwarranted payment, there are many escape hatches which he can latch onto to ease the burden. For openers he could assess her, say, $1,000 for every time he had to put the soup on because she was out to a "Hen" party and the kids were starving. This could vary depending on how many "Hens" gathered how many times. Not unreasonable eh, considering this as overtime work? How about the courtesy payment every time he opened the door for her and let her go first. Say $500 a door. Say $100 per hour for every hour he stands on one leg outside the bathroom waiting for her to finish fooling around; $50 for every time he carries the groceries home, etc. etc.

THERE ARE SO MANY THINGS he could assess against her that in the end we would be right back where we are now, a break-even situation. At least, it would keep the money in circulation and that's what we need today.

WE're SORRY PROFESSOR but we just can't go along with your hair-brained idea, so just leave the marriage situation alone, eh. That institution is having enough problems as it is without you deserting your own kind and promoting marital strife. Let it be O Professor, let it be.

A man consulted a doctor. "I've been misbehaving, Doc, and my conscience is troubling me," he complained.

"And you want something that will strengthen your willpower?" asked the doctor.

"Well no," said the fellow. "I was thinking of something that would weaken my conscience."

Unifarm meet on 30th

Farmers in the County of Flagstaff are invited to attend a Unifarm forum on November 30 in the Sedgewick Anglican Church Hall to express local concerns and to learn of recent developments intended to find solutions to current farm problems.

Unifarm, Alberta's 'umbrella' farm organization, will conduct forums in most of its 67 districts during November and December. Producer input at the series of meetings will be used in guiding the organization in its efforts to find solutions to problems affecting the industry.

Mr. Charles Archibald of Rosalind, a member of the Unifarm executive, will be present for the meeting that will start at 7:30 p.m. Representatives of member commodity groups, Unifarm and Women of Unifarm regional and district officials will also attend.

Among topics expected to be discussed are transportation policy, government involvement in agriculture, Unifarm and other agricultural organizations, and family courts.

The major purpose of the forum series is to facilitate a flow of information from producers to those at the executive level who are charged with the responsibility for implementing action and policy that reflects the wishes of the farm community. Forums provide the opportunity for producers to pose questions to senior officials and to take part in a face-to-face discussion of current agricultural concerns.

Unifarm membership is not a requirement for attendance. All producers who are concerned about the future of their industry are invited to attend and take an active part in the meeting.

Get to know it. You could save a life.

Carbon monoxide strikes quickly. Because you can't see, feel or smell it. But it can kill you or members of your family. Learning about carbon monoxide poisoning is the best way of fighting it.

Know the Symptoms

If you or members of your household develop these symptoms, get into the fresh air and notify your gas company immediately. Watch for:

- a headachy feeling
- tightness across the forehead and in the temples
- loss of muscular control
- watering and smarting of the eyes
- weariness, weakness, dizziness, vomiting

Know About Prevention

Carbon monoxide gas may be formed through faulty combustion in your gas appliances. You can prevent its formation by following these steps:

- use only approved gas appliances
- have qualified experts install gas appliances
- give gas appliances an abundant air supply
- keep gas appliances in good condition
- report excessive rusting and carbon on your water heater to the gas company
- report escaping fumes to the gas company
- keep the furnace fan compartment door closed and secure at all times
- clean furnace filters before the heating season begins and then as required
- report irregular flame patterns to the gas company

For more information on carbon monoxide poisoning and other household dangers, visit your nearest gas company office and pick up a copy of our free pamphlets "Take Time For Home Heating Safety" and "Home Safe Home".

Killam offers condolensces

Sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kinzer and family. Mr. and Mrs. Big Foe and family and Mrs. Annie Kinzer and family in their loss of a brother-in-law and Annie's brother, Mr. Charley Foddenne, who passed away in Calgary. Mr. and Mrs. Big Foe, Mrs. Annie Kinzer and Mrs. Charlie Lewis attended the funeral on November 17.

Sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Eshpeter and family in their loss of Irene's brother, Mr. Buster Beanfield, of Drayton Valley.

Sympathy goes out to the Lewis family in their loss of an uncle, Mr. Charley Lewis Sr. of California, who passed away at the age of 90. Mr. Lewis homesteaded south of Killam years ago.

I see Miss Karen Simpson of Lougheed has a heavy left fingerer. She recently became engaged to Mr. Dale Kelderior. Congratulations, Dale and Karen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Cotton were visiting Mrs. Marion Peterson and family recently in Calgary.

Belated happy birthday to Mrs. Frances Kueber, who was 85 years young on October 28. The family enjoyed a birthday party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Zwack in Daysland. Many more.

Birthday greetings go to Mrs. Eva Bouchard, who was 70 years young on October 18. The family enjoyed birthday cake with Eva in the F.B.A. Many more, Eva.

Get well wishes go to Mr. Tim Blesener, who had the misfortune to take off part of a thumb at high school. We hope you are home real soon and the thumb continues to heal. Tim is in University Hospital in Edmonton.

On November 16, around 80 relatives gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kueber to help them celebrate their 25th wedding anniversary. Ernie and Doreen were presented with a set of 25th wedding anniversary glasses and a silver tray on behalf of those there. Their family presented them with a silver tray with all their children's names on it. From out-of-town were Mr. and Mrs. Ervin Bouchard and family of Wainwright and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker of Edmonton. Many more, Ernie and Doreen.

Mrs. Annie Kinzer attended the wedding of her grandson, Tim Kinzer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Kinzer of Calgary.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

KILLAM NIMBLE THIMBLE CLOTHING CLUB

During a meeting held on Monday, November 13, the new executives committee was elected. Deanna Wilson will be president for the coming year and will be assisted by Vice-President Cheryl Spaulding, Treasurer Jackie Collins, Secretary Patty Kalsvad and Press Reporter Catherine Brady.

The club was pleased to welcome its new members, Cheryl Spaulding, Susan Kelsdorfer and Janice Lang.

This year, Mrs. K. Kalsvad will be fifth-year leader and in charge of public speaking. Mrs. M. Morker will be fourth-year Mrs. P. Brady second-year leader and Mrs. D. Kelsdorfer first-year leader.

Meetings will be held on the first and third Mondays of each month at 7:30 p.m. in the Catholic Church basement.

On Wednesday, November 15, members of last year's group enjoyed an evening out at the Tasty Mill Restaurant. A good time and a good meal was had by all!

COME ALIVE . . .

by Rev. Robert Chappell

WHAT AND WHERE IS THE GOOD LIFE?

There is current in our society, a frenzied search for what is often described as the 'good life.' It is commonly believed that one can attain some degree of happiness by acquiring more leisure time, increased financial resources, and by achieving some measure of success in one's chosen vocation.

Our society has engineered many changes in order to bring the 'good life' within the range of as many people as possible. Shorter working hours, increased remuneration, better working conditions and improved benefits all are becoming more familiar to the people. Mechanical and electrical devices that have made people less dependent upon acquiring special skills have enabled them to accomplish tasks more rapidly and effectively. In a society that has made a 'god of speed,' everything is being streamlined to the persistent demands of 'time.'

Clutching in their hands credit cards of all kinds, people frantically reached out, and with this plastic money they sought to acquire larger slices of the so-called 'good life.' Almost too late did we realize that as vast as our land appeared and as enormous as our resources were, there was rapidly approaching a saturation point, and that our land was being contaminated with pollutants of all kinds. The 'good life' was indeed proving to be costly and only expensive and drastic antipollution programs could retard the alarming deterioration of our land and its resources. In the same frantic quest for the 'good life,' we greedily consumed vast amounts of energy, assuming that they were without limitations.

Perhaps the most tragic of all is the fact that the quest for the 'good life' has proven to be something of a 'mirage.' Somehow, it always eluded the human hand and always enticed people to reach out for something more; seldom did the 'good life' bring with it peace and satisfaction.

Psychiatrists are overworked and psychiatric services strained as an increasing number of people are suffering breakdowns in their mental health. The law courts are heavily burdened with the demands of justice and penal institutions are constantly seeking larger facilities. Divorce runs rampant in the land as more men and women discover a breakdown in human relationships.

Is it possible that people will yet learn that systems and programs, improved conditions and technological advances will not necessarily bring with them improved health, or happiness. I would suggest that the great need of the hour is not increased financial power or more extended vacations. The great need is for people to discover the quality of life that has been made available to them through the life and work of Jesus Christ. Systems and programs can change the exterior of our lives, but only the Lord can do anything about what is deep inside of us.

The psalmist once said: "Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me." This is a prayer that so many need to offer. They also need the assurance to know that because of Jesus Christ, no one is down too far that God cannot reach him, and no one has wandered too far away that he or she cannot come back. JESUS IS LORD.

Bridal shower for Rita Moser

Miss Rita Moser was honoured at a bridal shower held Wednesday, November 15 in St. Joseph's Church Hall in Killam. Her attendants included Miss Norma Jean Moser, Miss Rhonda Fallis and Mrs. Jack Moser.

MC Mrs. Gerald Freadrich gave a short resume of activities and personal information about the bride-to-be. Poems and readings by Mesdames Helen Nikiforuk and Jean Bergeson stressed the role of today's farm wife.

A gaily decorated toy "farm" wagon, compete with stock racks and "Peacock Farm" banners was filled with lovely gifts. Karen and Kevin Freadrich ably brought in the gift-laden wagon to the singing of "Old Man Peacock had a Farm."

Following Miss Moser's reply of thanks, delicious squares and open-face buns were served to the 60 guests in attendance. Rita's family and friends continued to visit after refreshments and to view the lovely bridal book and large selection of gifts on display.

Sharol Klebanosky, right, receives his collar of office on being installed as exalted ruler of the Killam Elks Lodge. The installation ceremony took place in Strome on Tuesday, November 7 with Mr. Lester May, District Deputy Grand Exalted Ruler doing the honours.

The joint ceremony was hosted by the Strome Lodge and a bountiful supper was provided for the visiting Elks and ladies by the hosts.

Guest speaker coming Sunday to Nazarene

Sunday, November 26 at 7 p.m., Mr. Bob Rimington of Calgary, representative of Life, Income, Gifts and Bequests of the Church of the Nazarene, will be guest speaker. Monday and Tuesday, Mr. Rimington will be available for counsel.

The County Ministerial group met Monday morning in the parsonage basement.

Sunday, December 3, the evening service will be cancelled in lieu of "Prelude to Christmas" at the Lutheran Church.

Welcome home to Gloris Leslie, a recent patient in Daysland.

Play practice for the young people was held Sunday afternoon.

From one good energy manager...

You may think of an energy manager as a power plant engineer. You're right. But energy management is important in your home too!

Why? For one thing, we have to use Alberta's non-renewable resources to generate your electricity. For another, the costs of building and operating additional facilities are escalating.

The more you do to manage energy at home, the more you can save on your electricity bill now. And the more you'll help keep future cost increases to a manageable level.

There are many ways to manage electricity yet still enjoy a good lifestyle.

Most are little ways.
- Turning off lights when not needed does save electricity.
- Generally, small appliances use less electricity than larger ones, so for small amounts of cooking, use your frypan as a "mini-oven."
- Wash only full loads in your dishwasher.
- Plan your energy day to avoid using major appliances during the 5-7 p.m. "peak load" period.

USE ENERGY WISELY
Conserve. It's worth the energy!

RITERS RAMBLINGS

by Doris A. Wagar

I REMEMBER CPL. JOHNNY

When we are young, we tend to live securely in our own beliefs, insulated from the real world around us. We hear about events and put them aside, never having been touched by the situations we cannot empathize with the players in the game of life. I grew up in a typical WASP home. I had really never had contact with the players on the other side.

Cpl. Johnny was the largest and blackest man I had ever seen. When he was admitted to the hospital ward, he was assigned to my section. I had never been around a black person before. I must admit in honesty that I found it hard to touch him or relate to him as a person. I prayed that he didn't realize how I felt. He was quiet and calm with a dignity much beyond his years. He cheerfully helped me lift the paralized patients into their wheelchairs, and gave me a hand whenever I needed it. Soon I didn't notice that he was different from the others.

A group of nurses were standing by the desk talking when he walked by. He smiled and spoke to me. Before I could answer, the charge nurse said in a voice loud enough for the whole ward to hear, "You may like him, but to me he is a dirty stinking nigger."

I was stunned and speechless. Why would anyone be so vicious to someone who had never harmed her? Especially to someone who couldn't fight back.

I turned and fled to his room. He was sitting by his bed with his head in his hands. I stood looking at him, my eyes blinded with tears, my voice muted by the lump in my throat. He reached out his big black hand and took mine and said quietly, "Never mind sister, you are okay anyway." I began to weep uncontrollably. He stood up, took me in his strong arms and held me as I cried all over the front of his army issue shirt. When I had calmed myself, he wiped the tears away with the rough hospital facecloth and said in his gentle way, "When someone hurts me and someone else cries about it, the tears wash the pain away."

During the rest of his stay in the hospital, whenever I had free hours in the daytime we would sit on the benches by the hospital and talk. Sometimes the other boys from the ward would join us. Sometimes we sat alone. We talked about many things -- from politics to our hopes for our separate futures. The boys from the ward were magnificent. The shroud of silence was complete. Whenever the head nurse came into the room, all jocularity and conversation ceased. It resumed as soon as she left. Shortly afterward she applied for and received a transfer.

When the time came for Cpl Johnny to go back to his regiment we shook hands at the door of the ward. See you again was not said or was there any exchange of addresses. When something beautiful is finished, it must finish completely. Any attempt to prolong it will only change its meaning.

I have never forgotten Cpl. Johnny, or what he taught me. The colour of your skin doesn't have to matter if you are white, but it does if you are black.

Farm Home Study Course

Are you in the process of building a new home on your farm? Have you been thinking about remodelling your present home? Are you just interested in housing and some day would like to build your dream home?

If any of these statements apply to you, you will be interested in the Farm Home Planning Course offered by Alberta Agriculture. The course is a home study program which means it operates almost like a correspondence course. It is being offered in this area from January to March. When you register, you will receive lessons through the mail containing information and activities for you to complete.

The course is designed to emphasize the importance of planning in undertaking any housing project, whether it be building a new home, remodelling an old one or decorating the inside and outside of your present home.

The Farm Home Study Course offers two alternatives for you to choose from -- a course on The New Home, or one on The Remodelled Home. Each unit consists of four lessons covering topics such as siting, planning, construction and design.

The Home Study Program will be complemented by television programs and regional seminars on planning, construction and decoration. The registration fee will be $20.

The course will provide an excellent reference for your housing needs and decisions now and in the future. Plan it -- You'll like it!!

4-H Activities

The 4-H District Council will meet on November 29 at 8 p.m. in the Flagstaff Recreation Centre in Sedgewick. At this meeting, the council will be planning the coming year's activities -- so come out and bring your ideas.

A supper meeting for the 4-H Beef Committee will be held at the Recreation Centre the same evening at 6:30 p.m., so be sure to attend and stay for the district council meeting.

A Window In Just A Hole In The Wall!

Or is it? There are many possible window treatments to choose from: window shades, shutters, valances, swags and jabots, as well as the popular pinch pleated drapes. You can learn about these and other window fashions at the Window Treatment Course being offered in Forestburg. Plan now to attend the Awareness Session, December 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the Forestburg Provincial Building. At this meeting, I will discuss the various window treatments and how to measure your window properly. The workshop will be held December 11, January 10 and 11 and January 17 and 18 from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. For further information, contact Fran Miller at 582-3874, or myself at 384-3737.

John Zimmel laid to rest

John Zimmel passed away November 15 in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital at the age of 86 years.

He was born in Bella River, Minnesota and came to Strome district in 1914, where he farmed until 1966 when he moved to Killam.

He married Mrs. Kate Byers in 1965.

He is survived by one sister, Cecilia (Mrs. John Pfeifer) of Camrose; one brother, Andrew of Carlos, Minnesota; one stepdaughter, Mrs. Hilda Byers; and four step-grandchildren of Calgary.

He was predeceased by his wife, one step-son, two sisters and two brothers.

Funeral services were held Saturday, November 18 at 11 a.m. in St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Killam with Rev. Father Perron and Rev. Father McCarthy officiating. Burial was in the Killam cemetery. Fee and Sons were in charge of all arrangements.

Pallbearers were Donald Pfeifer, Darrel Pfeifer, Jack Shailes, Norman Zimmel, Leroy Zimmel and Cyril Zimmel.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to extend our sincere thanks to the sisters and staff in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital, Dr. Meier and Dr. Amin, the staff in Flagstaff Lodge in Sedgewick and to all those who helped for the funeral services in any way.

Gaming rules changed

New regulations for gaming events have been instigated by the provincial government which will work to the advantage of small organizations holding fund-raising bingos and raffles, says Attorney-General Jim Foster.

The new policies, effective November 1, 1978, are a preventative measure against the increasing gambling activity in Alberta, according to a government statement.

For small organizations, the new regulations will mean the elimination of a fee for bingos with a prize value of $500 or less – a regulations which will affect approximately 70 per cent of small organizations applying for bingo licences.

New policies to be followed by organizers of bingos include:
- bingos must be held within the organization's own city, town or municipality;
- bingo workers must not receive compensation. The exceptions to this are callers at any event and cashiers at events where the prize value is more than $2,000;
- except for TV bingos, expenses must not be more than 10 per cent of the gross proceeds;
- the new fee structure not only eliminates the fee for bingos with a prize value of $500 or less, but increases the fee for those of more than $1,000.

The new gaming event policies also will affect the structure of raffles held in the province. The policies for raffles include:
- a new fee structure based on the value of the tickets authorized to be printed;
- a maximum ticket value of $300,000. Exhibitions may receive a licence for a greater ticket value;
- prize value must be 20 per cent or more of the total ticket value;
- no bearer tickets will be allowed;
- no compensation payable for ticket sales, except that commission may be paid to charitable or religious organizations.

New polices are stipulated for plate dinners or similar schemes, and pull tickets also.

The government has announced as well that new inspection and audit controls will ensure proceeds are used properly as well as speed up the accounting process for sponsoring organizations. The government stipulates that all proceeds must be used within the province.

The new regulations also affect educational organizations, including classrooms, school clubs and student unions; charitable organizations; service clubs and ethnic organizations; and larger organizations licenced to manage and conduct gaming events. Senior citizens are excluded.

Comprehensive details on the new policies can be obtained from Gaming Control, 20th Floor, Park Square, 10001 Bellamy Hill, Edmonton.

Galahad and District News

On Wednesday evening, November 15, the Missionary Church congregation were privileged to have Rev. Gene Ponchot, director of Overseas Missions, as a speaker.

Mr. Ponchot rturned recently from visiting mission fields in Ecuador, Haiti, The Dominican Republic, and Sierra Leone and Brazil.

His slides and explanation of mission work carried on along the Amazon River in Brazil was very interesting. The highway being built through the forest in the Amazon Basin has caused the population to increase at a rapid rate; towns and cities have sprung up where almost inpenetratable forests stood before, modern machines having made this possible.

Rev. Otto Traub of Didsbury accompanied Mr. Ponchot. He is a retired missionary, having served 31 years in Nigeria.

Lunch was served in the lower auditorium after the meeting.

Congratulations were extended to Ralph and Clara Wegenast on 36 years of married life. By the way, on November 15, 1942 a blizzard marooned the wedding party at the bride's home so the honeymoon was delayed until the roads could be opened. Did you remember that storm? Ralph and Clara do.

The family of Petie Kuefler gathered in the Lions Hall in Galahad on Sunday, November 12 to celebrate his 75th birthday. Most of the family members were present, including children, grandchildren and great grandchildren, and also, three of Petie's brothers, Barthel, Henry and Norbert.

The happy occasion started with a Pot Luck dinner at 2 p.m. and followed by a program. Carman Brown played the piano while all sang happy birthday. Poems giving his life history were composed and read by his daughter, Doreen Brown. Granddaughter Lorna Kuefler gave a reading, "Birthday Wish." Carman Brown and Marc Perreault entertained with a piano-saxaphone duet.

The family was happy that Mrs. Sadie Kuefler was able to be with her husband and family, having received a pass from the General Hospital in Galahad where she has been a patient for some time.

Mr. and Mrs. John Patton of Edmonton spent the Remembrance weekend with Doreen's mother, Mrs. Edith Johnston.

Tony, Linda and Randy Slemp of Edmonton spent the weekend in the area. They were pleased to find Opal home after spending some time in the Galahad General Hospital.

Some of Galahad's school children enjoyed a visit to the Coronation weather station on Wednesday afternoon. Transportation was provided by Mrs. Kerins, Mrs. Hagen and Shirley Holben.

Rev. Gene Ponchot visited the school Thursday morning. His slides of the Amazon River and the highway being built would be very educational.

The Galahad and District Lions Club held its annual ladies night on November 15. It was very well attended. District Governor Lion Sam Nelson and his Cabinet Secretary Lion Bob Brant are from Caroline, and they were accompanied by their wives.

We were shown a film on various car accidents. It was quite a horrow film as it showed accidents shortly after they had taken place. It certainly had a message for all who were present. The meeting closed with a few remarks from our District Governor. Our club was very pleased to have such a good turnout of ladies on their special night.

Mrs. Betty Donald and Mrs. Shirley Churia of Ponoka were overnight visitors at the Wise home. They also visited Betty's mother in the Galahad hospital.

Mrs. Doreen Borgel was a Castor visitor on Tuesday.

Mrs. Mary Dammann is back in the Galahad Hospital where she was transfered after surgery in Edmonton. She will be here for a time until her recovery is complete.

Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gamroth and Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Gamroth of Edmonton were Galahad visitors on Monday visiting their mother, Mrs. Mary Gamroth, who had the misfortune of falling down stairs on Sunday. They also visited Mrs. Martha Badry and Dominic Gamroth.

We are happy to report that Mary was able to return home from the hospital.

Mrs. Donna Pudlowski of Daysland visited Mary Gamroth on Tuesday, and other members of the family.

Galahad senior citizens are fortunate to have Rudy Reisner as a member. His generous donation of a turkey for the door prize at the forthcoming bingo was appreciated by the senior citizens.

Michael Szeto spent Friday in Edmonton on business.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Straub of Red Deer are spending a few days with Mike and Teddy Meckler.

The Wisharts have been enjoying a visit with Glen's mother, Mrs. Margaret Wishart. Glen, Sandra, Marcella and Carrie took her back to St. Walburg, Saskatchewan on Sunday.

Mrs. Harriet Lundgren (nee Howlett) of Fairview is enjoying a holiday a the Robert Bownes' home. She, Robert and Margaret visited their sister Donalda and husband at Fleet on Thursday. Friday, Harriet visited friends in Galahad, the Roy Misners, Rose Borgel, Mr. Hugh Bownes and Carrie.

People in Profile: Promoting Further Ed.

There are approximately 85 further education branches in the province. The County of Flagstaff is one unto itself. Its operation and momentum are the resulting efforts of its coordinator — Jean Johnson.

Further education in Flagstaff began in 1974. Jean herself has been involved with the program for a little more than two years. Last year, she took a six-month leave, but interest brought her back in September.

There are approximately 9,000 people in the county among its 10 towns, villages and farms. And Jean wants to come up with courses to interest as many as possible.

Ideas for further education courses come from town representatives who make up the 'Flagstaff Further Education Council. It also includes Jean, co-ordinator; Marilyn Matthiessen, district home economist and chairperson of the council; representatives from each of the preventative social serives; from the Flagstaff Board of Education; Lakeland College; district agriculturalists; district health unit; as well as, Jean stresses, "interested citizens at large."

"Everybody can come and serve on the council. We welcome their input."

The offer isn't open only to private citizens either, Jean adds. Any clubs or groups also are invited to share their ideas. In particular, Jean likes to hear from art and/or ceramic clubs, Chambers of Commerce, nursing organizations, and early childhood services.

After course ideas are suggested and then approved by the council, the government's stamp of approval must be given before a course gets underway.

Further education is under the jurisdiction of the provincial government's Department of Advanced Education and Manpower. That department, Jean explains, forms all the "rules and regulations" to which further education branches must adhere.

Each group has a hosting agency which handles the administrative grant from the government. In Flagstaff, Jean reports to the Roman Catholic Separate School Board #49 in Killam. As co-ordinator, Jean's responsibility for finances includes course fees, instructors' fees and advertising.

In the past, most courses have been largely along the lines of handicrafts: macrame, quilting and the like; but Jean would like to see other types in the near future. In fact, they're already in the planning. Coming up will be the Christopher Course in Public Speaking, an "excellent, good-time course," Jean says, which deals not only with speaking formally before a group of people, but in informal situations as well, such as gift presentations at clubs and parties. One area stressed by the course's instructors is humour, adds Jean.

Other courses planned for the New Year include a two-day one in cross country skiing; welding for on the farm; powder puff mechanics, which, as the name implies, is directed toward women; small business management; and landscaping.

Plans are also underway for a wagon wheel-making course, and Jean hopes a secretary upgrading session, to deal specifically with typing and office procedure, will be in the offing come 1979. Jean has both the community's interest for the latter course, and the instructor. All that's needed is some spare time for the instructor to be able to teach.

That's one problem, Jean says, which occurs frequently. The most difficult part of her job is not planning courses, but finding qualified people to instruct them. In the past, most instructors have been teachers or others who have fulltime jobs also. Instructing for Flagstaff Further Education means hours above their normal workload.

It's a year 'round job for Jean, who for the past month, has located her office in Central High School in Sedgewick. She hopes her presence right in the school will provide more contact with teachers for ideas and instruction. She'd also like to work more closely with the Recreation Boards in each town. Together, she says, the two groups could organize programs of greater use to people. Rec boards have the facilities and manpower, she explains, while Further Ed has the administrative advantage, including funding.

It costs Jean's office, on the average, 80 cents per person per instructional hour, she explains. In order to at least break even in most cases. Further Ed requires a minimum enrolment of eight people, 18 years and older, for a course. In fact, she adds, it's a stipulation made by the provincial government.

"We're not out to make money, but we sure can't afford to lose it."

The public speaking course is one which will be more costly for people than usual - around $45. This figure, Jean explains, is due to the fact that the course requires two instructors one night a week for 10 weeks. And, she adds, the closest qualified instruction is coming from Wainwright.

Jean gives a lot of credit to her town representatives for providing feedback from their communities as to the type of courses they'd like to see. Unfortunately, she says, those town reps receive the flack as well as the feedback.

"I wish people would come to me with their criticisms." All contacts are donating their time, she explains, and not being paid. She can't afford to lose them because of undeserved pressure being applied to them. At present, contacts in each town are: Bertha Rando, Alliance; Carol McFaul, Galahad; Fran Miller, Forestburg; Rose Weller, Heisler; Mary Carlson, Daysland; Dorothy Wieschorster, Strome; Ardis Davis, Lougheed; Liz Snoke, Hardisty; but none in Sedgewick or Killam.

Heisler notes 40th anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wolbeck helped celebrate Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Gau's 40th wedding anniversary with a family supper at the Camrose Legion on November 10. Friends and relatives joined Mr. and Mrs. Gau later for an evening of dancing and concluded with lunch at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gau of Camrose. Visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Wolbeck during the week were Mr. and Mrs. Norbert Gau, Camrose; Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gau and family of Calgary; Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gau and family, Whitehorse, Yukon; Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Gau and family, Yellowknife, NWT; Jerome and Lynn Gau, Vancouver, B.C.; and Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Gau and family of Camrose.

The Norwegian Whist Card Party was held at the home of Jeanne Kroetsch. Prizes for first high went to Irene Fankhanel and second high to Jeanne Kroetsch.

Andy and Ester Wolbeck were recent visitors with Marianne and Eldon Niehaus and family in Stettler.

Noel Smith spent a week hunting with his dad at Manning. Sharon Smith and her mother, Nora Kroetsch, enjoyed Wednesday shopping in Edmonton. Gilbert Kroetsch is a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

Herman and Roseanne Freadrich and Jade of Forestburg, Leslie and Lenore Lassu were weekend visitors with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kroetsch. Mrs. H. Kroetsch returned home with the Barnett family for a week, visiting with daughter and son in law and grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Niehaus and Irene Fankhanel spent Sunday with Laurie and Bill Matthiessen in Daysland.

Born to Noreen and George Matheson was a girl on November 14, weighing 7 lbs. 8 oz. Noreen and George are patients in her Tanya Doris. Proud grandparents are Norbert Weller and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Matheson of Medicine Hat.

Vivian Banack and family of Fort Saskatchewan spent Sunday at the Clarence Reuther home.

Judy Kruchten of Red Deer was home over the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Reinald Kruchten.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Volk and daughter Carrie and friend returned home after a wonderful two-week holiday in Hawaii.

Angela and Jerry Hihn are on a two-week holiday to Ontario also visiting relatives. The trip to Ontario was given to Angela and Jerry by their children on their 25th wedding anniversary, which they recently celebrated.

Alan and Sheila Boarer and son Timothy of Edson were last weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Brausen.

Mrs. Ann Kruchten and Mrs. Theresa Hepp are patients in the Daysland Hospital.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, MP

S.I.N.

What's in a name; or, what's in a number? Your name is your personal identity. Your number may expose your very soul to a world of curious observers.

Canada's judicial bias has always been that you are innocent until proven guilty. Likewise, ours and other democracies have always protected the citizen's private life from the public at large. Recently there has been a great deal of concern about the apparent abuse of Social Insurance Numbers (S.I.N.).

When the concept of a Social Insurance Number was introduced in the Pearson years, Canadians were given a guarantee that this number would not be exploited and would only be used for the Canada Pension, Plan, Family Allowance and welfare programs.

Unfortunately, S.I.N. has become much more than the original intent. It is now a system whereby computers can collect, hold, and release information on a citizen that has been gathered by a whole host of agencies, groups and departments. Personal and private details about Canadians can now be obtained simply by obtaining a "print-out" from a central computer. Social Insurance Numbers now gather data for income tax purposes, driver's licences, hunting licences, banking, insurance, gun control, sporting activities, and the list goes on and on.

The Canadian Amateur Hockey Association asks its pee wee players for a Social Insurance Number. In some high schools, students cannot purchase books without first receiving a S.I.N. number. The Ontario Ball-Hockey Association demands a S.I.N. and in Prince Edward Island, all newborn babies are christened by the government with a S.I.N. number.

The Soviet Union and South Africa are two prime examples of countries that require identification numbers for all its people. Unfortunately, in these countries, the government knows all about you . . . your privacy is gone.

The problem is that your S.I.N. is too easily obtained by others. Once someone has YOUR Social Insurance Number, they can find out all about you . . . and your private life. One man, Terrance Ram, obtained a number of S.I.N. numbers and collected 481 cheques worth $70,000 from Unemployment Insurance claims from 39 separate identifications.

Then there was the case of the Calgary man who had collected 109 Social Insurance Numbers and had a monthly income of $33,000 from 59 Unemployment Insurance claims.

In 1971, a federal task force on privacy and computers warned that a universal number could lead to extravagant abuse of individual rights. The government of the day is committed to ever-increasing use of S.I.N. for filing, storing information, and (oops!) releasing far more than it should.

Central computers likened to a network now invites the government into your personal privacy. Nothing is secret. Nothing is sacred.

Hitler was able to discover and annihilate six million Jews. With a Social Insurance Number and a set of computers, that number could have been tripled.

If there is need for a limited use of a Social Insurance Number, so be it. However, a universal number that would detail all information ever collected on an individual by any club, organization, business, agency, or government department is far too dangerous to be part of a democracy.

What is wrong with a humanized system for keeping in touch . . . like your name for example?

AGRICULTURE FROM MY VIEWPOINT

BY MARVIN E. MOORE, ALBERTA MINISTER OF AGRICULTURE

Recently farmers have frequently asked me where compensation for waterfowl grain damage. Unknown to most Albertans, the Waterfowl Crop Damage Compensation Program has been an ongoing bone of contention between the federal government and the government of Alberta Yet, in the last six months when many questions have been raised, little press coverage has been received. Therefore, for the benefit of farmers who have suffered waterfowl grain losses this fall and are wondering about payment levels, I'd like to review the situation.

Recognizing that grain damage was becoming an ever more expensive problem, the federal and provincial governments started a 50-50, cost-sharing program in 1972 that compensated farmers for waterfowl grain losses.

During the mid-70s damage compensation in Alberta was limited to $25 per acre. But that was not the only restriction. For instance, in 1975 total compensation paid by the federal government to farmers in Saskatchewan, Manitoba and Alberta was limited to $400,000. Alberta's share of this total was 40 per cent or about $160,000, an amount which was matched by the provincial government.

In 1976 the federal limit was raised to $500,000. Although the available money for this province was only $200,000, plus our own $200,000, that year we did receive more money since Manitoba and Saskatchewan did not require all of their shares. We matched those extra funds.

Last year waterfowl grain losses were particularly high, and both governments added money to the program to meet the more than 2,000 compensation claims requesting almost $1.2 million in aid. However, even though the total amount of money made available was increased, the compensation per acre was not. In fact, for the past three years we were unsuccessful in getting the federal government to raise per acre compensation. Then in May it was changed. That's when the federal Minister of Agriculture on his own announced that the compensation level was being raised from $25 to $50 per acre. I thought that was great — until I saw the fine print.

Although the compensation per acre was being increased, the total fund was not. Based on 1977 claims it would mean that either total money would need to be doubled or the level of compensation halved, back to the previous $25 per acre. Would we be any further ahead?

This year waterfowl damage claims (1,300 received to date) are not expected to be quite so numerous as last year, but the total will still be sizable. The result is that for this year farmers will receive more than $25 per acre, but well under the announced $50. That shouldn't be so. The reason? — there isn't enough money being made available by the federal government. There is still the $1.2 million contributed by both governments, and there may be some extra money from the portions allotted to Manitoba and Saskatchewan if it isn't used. But that still won't be enough to meet the $50 per acre announced by the federal government. The only thing we can now do is prorate the money to cover the claims we do receive by December 31 of this year.

That's the current situation. It's bad enough, but the future looks even worse. That's because the federal government has announced both the waterfowl damage compensation and prevention programs will be axed in 1979. It's a cutback worth about $2.8 million ($1.5 for compensation and $1.3 for prevention). It's not a huge sum of money, but it is important money. The prevention program on its own saves untold millions of dollars each year through funding grain-saving techniques, such as scare cannons or sacrificing small fields in high-risk areas so other fields in those areas can be spared.

Starting January 1, 1979 there will be nothing. The Alberta government is still attempting to negotiate a re-instatement of the programs. So far we haven't received a positive response. But we're going to keep on trying — trying hard, and I really hope we are successful.

I'll keep you posted.

Lougheed kindergarten has fun visiting farm

The Lougheed Kindergarten visited the Club Ness farm on November 14. The children really enjoyed all the activities and chores that go with a farm, like seeing a cow being milked, collecting eggs, feeding cats and even sitting on a horse. Susan then invited them into the house for hot chocolate and cookies and showed the children how to make butter. Later that week, each child had a turn to make butter by putting cream into jars and shaking them. Thanks to Club and Susan for a very nice time.

NOTES FROM AGRICULTURE CANADA

LAND TRANSFER PLAN TO BE PHASED OUT

The federal government's Land Transfer Plan is winding up early next year. Any Alberta farmer planning to receive assistance from the plan in selling his farm will have to act soon.

The plan provides financial assistance to operators of small, uneconomical farms who wish to retire or take another job.

With the rise in land and commodity prices in recent years, farmer participation in the plan has decreased substantially and it has been decided to phase it out over the coming winter.

The history of the program shows that participation by Alberta farmers peaked in 1973 at 938 but has declined to only 53 farmers in 1978.

In order to qualify, the farmer must meet the following requirements. He must have owned and operated a small farm since the program began in 1972. Most of his income must come from the farm and he must be able to show that he can support himself and his family as well after the sale as before.

He must sell to a Canadian citizen or a landed immigrant who will operate the property as a viable farm or part of a larger farm unit.

The maximum sale price of an Alberta farm under the plan must not exceed $40,000.

Under the terms of the grant, the small farmer may sell the land but retain the use of the house and building site provided that an agreement can be reached with the buyer. This allows an older or ailing farmer to retire but remain in the local community.

Farmers interested in the plan should contact the nearest office of the Farm Credit Corporation.

In order to take advantage of the program before it ends, all transactions must be completed and all applications with necessary supporting documents filed with a local Farm Credit Corporation advisor on or before February 28, 1979.

"Right now, my interest is economy trail sleds. Might have known that Moto-Ski Man had his own idea of a sporty lightweight."
Mike Brennan. Economy trail rider.

Get into the real thing: Make friends with your Moto-Ski Man.

"Never take Bombardier for granted. I realized that three weeks ago when I went by Darryl Johnson's place. He's the Moto-Ski Man round here. The man who showed me my first Mirage*.
I spent four hours with this new lightweight. It's gutsy, good to manoeuvre, economical. It's also loaded with big sled features. Like Torque Reaction slide suspension. A Mikuni carb. And that tight-gripping "V" shaped track.
"With Mirage, you float well, because of a clever kind of spindle that stretches those skis out to nearly 30 inches. Hills are easy. An instant Torque drive clutch is there to give you more power at lower rpm's.
"All in all, Mirage has to be the sled of the year. Another thing: it's backed by the Moto-Ski Two Season Warranty."

Lougheed W.I. meets with 11

Three visitors, Mrs. M. Denham, Mrs. G. Walline and Master Trevor Walline, were welcomed by President Mrs. J. Johnson to the November 14 meeting of the Lougheed W.I., held at the home of Mrs. H. Swainson. The reading of the minutes followed the repeating of the Creed, which opened the meeting.

Financial reports were given, which showed a healthy balance in book, cemetery and general funds. Card Convenor Miss M. Ferneyhough reported two get well cards sent, and she personally expressed grateful thanks for letters, cards and gifts received while hospitalized.

Six more Verdant Valley books have been sold recently, leaving less than 50 now on hand. A letter from the Friesen Publishing Co. had been received with regard to reprints, which could be procured at the present time at a substantial reduction. Mrs. G. Marlow offered to write for further information.

Approximately 55 families are members of the Lougheed Library, and 18 kindergarten children come for a story and books once a week. Two more small chairs have been obtained from Wetaskiwin for the library.

In a letter from Mrs. D. Courtenay, two Christmas gifts of toys or clothing from each local are requested for pre-school children in the north. It was decided to purchase these from W.I. funds.

Special items of interest of local W.I. activities are to be sent to headquarters in Edmonton, and if suitable, may be forwarded to farm papers for publishing.

A Christmas newsletter from the Provincial President Mrs. Plaizier, and one from the Provincial Convenor of U.N. Programs stressed that 1979 is designated as "The International Year of the Child," and programs geared to that theme should be considered.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Waite, through the president, had extended their thanks and appreciation to the W.I. for serving the buffet luncheon at their daughter's wedding on October 27.

Roll call showed 11 members present, but few ideas were forthcoming on "An Idea for an Outing," possibly "winter doldrums" haven't as yet superseded memories of happy summer holidays.

December 5 will be the date of the annual meeting, to be held at the home of Miss M. Ferneyhough. Mrs. M. Skoberg and Mrs. W. Routledge were named to the nominating committee to bring in a slate of officers at that time. An item for lunch and a homemade gift are to be brought to the meeting also.

Mrs. H. Swainson served a delicious dessert at the close of the meeting. Cards signed by all present were presented to Mrs. J. McClements, celebrating a wedding anniversary, and Mrs. E. Waite for her birthday.

Lougheed and District News

Mrs. Hope Stroud of Red Deer and her brother, Garth Cogswell of Connecticut, U.S.A., were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Warren Waite.

Rosetta Johnson is here from Vancouver, B.C. visiting her sister, Marie Martin and family, and also Graham Beatons.

Mr. and Mrs. Jackie Johnson, accompanied by Mrs. J. Johnson, were Edmonton visitors last Thursday.

Well, it seems like winter is here now with a little more snow and more weather.

There was a nice group of people gathered at the Lougheed Welcome Center last Friday. All enjoyed a good afternoon dancing. This is every Friday at 2 to 5 in the afternoon, so come on out and have an enjoyable afternoon. Remember this is the only way you see your neighbours, too. Hope to see a big turnout of Fridays from now on.

Mrs. Roberta Riddock has been in Edmonton visiting the relatives up there. Did you see Santa Claus, Roberta?

Mr. Jack Westra spent a few days down here last week. He lives in Edmonton now.

Mr. and Mrs. Elvin Oliver were supper guests at the Hunter White's one evening last week.

Mrs. Essie Drager had her daughter, Vivian Barker from Edson, spend a few days with her last week. Vivian reported she had a wonderful visit. She hadn't seen so many of the old friends for a long time. Her brother Robert took her for a drive to see all the changes that have taken place since Vivian left. Don't wait so long to come back again, Vivian.

The deer hunting season is open now so there are a lot of people that have moved away that are back here: Dave Boulter, Norman Sax and many others. Good luck to you all.

Yes, and don't forget the Lougheed Women's Institute Library is open on Thursday and Saturdays from 2:30 to 4:30 in the afternoon.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Martin Roggensack and Mr. and Mrs. James McClements on their wedding anniversaries this past week or two. They went up to Mr. and Mrs. Andy Knapps at Wetaskiwin, who also had an anniversary about the same time. Many more happy anniversaries to you three nice couples.

Mrs. Thea Ness and son returned after spending a couple of weeks visiting Ruby Solbrakken and family in B.C.

Ken Arnold is a guest at the Art Armstrong's this past week doing a bit of game hunting. Wendy Mathews is also staying at Grandma Armstrong's and going to school from there into Sedgewick.

Mrs. Brita Birchill spent a few days last week in Wainwright with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Andy Birchill and family.

Harry Barton of Camrose visited friends in Lougheed last week. He had also visited his sister, Miss Flo Barton, who is a patient in the Killam Hospital.

Get well wishes go to Deanna Drager in the Killam Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Knapp of Wetaskiwin visited with the James McClements and other friends in the Lougheed district for a few days. I understand Andy did a bit of hunting, too. Sure nice to see these good folks again.

Hardisty Silver Saddle honours 1978 winners

On Sunday, November 5, the Hardisty Silver Saddle 4-H Horse Club had its banquet for the year of 1978. The members of the 4-H club who received trophies were: Yearling - Lynn Alderdice, Two-year - Cindy Alderdice, Three-Year - Douglas Alderdice, Junior Mature - Paul Alderdice, Senior Mature - Debbie Pelletier, Senior Judging - David Alderdice and Debbie Pelletier, Junior Judging - Paul Alderdice, Senior Showmanship and Grooming - David Alderdice, Junior Showmanship and Grooming - Taryn Szoke, Girls' Record Book - Cindy Alderdice, Boys' Record Book - Douglas Alderdice, First Senior Public Speaking - Debbie Pelletier, Second Senior Public Speaking - Tammy Anderson, Third Senior Public Speaking - Jamie Hendricks, First Junior Public Speaking - Taryn Szoke, Second Junior Public Speaking - Jody Overman, Third Junior Public Speaking - Chris Rombough, Efficiency - Paul Alderdice and Cindy Alderdice, Hi-Point - Debbie Pelletier, Pee Wee Mare and Foal - Debbie Ridley, Pee Wee Mature - Everett Alderdice.

Participaction plaques were given to: Donnie Laws, Margaret Ward, Scott Alderdice, Jim Kells, Jackie Ridley for second mature horse, and Jason Broughton for second public speaking. A present was given to Tammy Anderson for collecting the most money in the Ride-a-Thon.

On Wednesday, November 15 at the Drop-In Centre, the club had its first meeting for the year 1978-79.

The people elected to office were: President - Taryn Szoke, Vice-President - Cindy Alderdice, Secretary - Debbie Pelletier, Treasurer - Tammy Anderson, Historian - Paul Alderdice, Club Reporter - Douglas Alderdice, Leader - Jane Crone, and Assistant Leaders - Pearl Beebe, Frank Alderdice, Ralph Manning, Faye Bronson and Harold Alderdice. The new members this year are Karen Alderdice, Teena Mitchell and John Mitchell, making a total of 19 members in the 4-H club.

It was decided that the meeting would be every first Wednesday of the month at 7:30 p.m. Membership fees are going to be $2 again this year. The members gave ideas for the agenda for this year. They decided to have a Christmas Party at the next meeting.

"Join us as a member."

We're not your average association. Our age range covers the gambit from bright young students to eloquent grandads. We have members with plenty of business expertise, and those whose main contribution is just a thoughtful concern for people.

We're a happy mixture of "young and progressive" and "wise and experienced"; and we must be doing something right because our Credit Union is one of the most dynamic financial institutions in the country today.

With all our differences, we have two important things in common; and they're major reasons for the success of our Credit Union.

First, we care about each other and know that working together gets things done. Two, we know it pays to get involved. When our Credit Union holds a meeting, we try to attend. It's our money that's being discussed, so we stand up and say what we think. Our vote in the Credit Union really counts.

If you'd like to be part of something big, join us. We're not an exclusive club where position or money are the big things. If you care about people and want to help make good things happen here where you live, get involved with the Credit Union.

Killam, Alberta

Hardisty and District News

While Mary Griebel of Castor was recuperating and waiting for her husband to be released from hospital, she called on George Hamaret at the veterans' home.

George had undergone surgery in the summer but is coming along fine. He will be 88 years old right after Christmas, so it would be nice if his old friends would remember to send a card.

The Leo Crotseus have moved to Nanton after seven years of residence in Hardisty. We wish them well in their new location.

In the meantime, Mrs. Elsie Darud of Killam has been taking Leo's place temporarily.

Well the first week of November seemed to be a sad time here as we lost two oldtimers, Jack Anderson and Mrs. Emilia Elmquist. Sympathy is extended to the relatives of both.

Then Ian Shand, formerly of Amisk but living at the manor, passed away suddenly as well.

A large number attended the yearly meeting of the Chamber of Commerce with supper at Seto's lounge.

Mrs. Winnie Goodrich was hostess to the Strong Ladies meeting on November 6. It was decided to have the annual Christmas party as usual and also try to remember some of the older folks, too.

We missed all the names of the newcomers at the Chamber of Commerce meeting except Mr. and Mrs. Dave Bitz, formerly of Lacombe and now manager of Revelstoke Lumber and happy to be in a small town again.

Mr. Bill Stuart of Wainwright passed away recently in Wainwright and, as they used to live near Hardisty and in town too, we send our sympathy to the family and also to brother George Stuart and his family.

The Perry Powells spent their weekend at Oyen with daughter Carol and family.

All the news I've got this week has saddened many of us. Buster Bennefeld of Wetaskiwin has passed away. He went to school in Hardisty so sympathy goes to his wife and family, also to his sisters and their families.

Then we hear that Percy Cooper passed away in Penticton, B.C. at the age of 77. Percy too was well known here and worked a good deal with the late Eldon Bone. Sympathy is extended to his cousin Bob Chadwick, now of Edmonton.

The St. Joseph's church in Hardisty was filled to capacity with relatives and friends who paid their last respects to Mrs. Jim Shatz on Tuesday.

She worked in the hospital for a number of years and was a good grandmother to her grandchildren, of whom she was very proud. We extend our sympathy to Jim Shatz and his family.

Bob Murray managed to get out of his house just before being overcome with smoke, and made his way to John Sherlock's just before midnight last Sunday. At present, he is in one of Allen Thompson's motel rooms.

Miss Monica Chevarrie of Durango State, Mexico is an exchange student staying at the Irving Bells and taking Grade 12 in Irma High School. Monica is a very gifted young lady and able to speak several languages. She likes Canada very much, for which we are glad.

Well, with all the months of suspense and waiting for one house mover, then finding one much closer to home, the young people from Stettler and Mr. Latterly of Forestburg, an old hand at building moving, have been able to move the Allen Nelson house to its new location, which is just across from Hazel Bitzer.

Now that the mover's work is complete, as of November 16, it will be time for the owner's work to begin. But when finished, which will take some time, the Allen Nelsons will have a beautiful old and new home.

If anyone has news for next week's paper and cares to send it in, it will be most welcome as your reporter has an appointment with a specialist regarding a cataract in Calgary on November 23.

With all this house moving, Hazel Bitzer has had a houseful and a full coffee pot to provide onlookers with a first class view and to treat them to coffee as well. Thanks a million, Hazel.

Emily Elmquist passes in Hardisty at 76 years

Emelia Elmquist passed away in the Hardisty Hospital, November 6, 1978 at the age of 76. Emelia Kristina Svensson, best known to her close friends and relatives as Emily, was born May 4, 1902 in Backåryd, Blekinge, Sweden.

She was united in marriage to Andrew Gustav Elmquist in 1923, and in the spring of 1925, they came to Alberta to make their home on a farm north of Rosyth. In 1958, they sold their business in the Rosyth General Store and spent their retirement years in their comfortable home in Hardisty.

Besides her many relatives and friends, she leaves to mourn her two daughters and their husbands, Anna and Henry Kobitzsch of Hardisty, Edith and Ken Wetzel of Red Deer; four grandchildren, one sister and three brothers. She was predeceased by her loving husband Andrew, also two sisters and one brother.

Rev. Jackson conducted the services November 10 in the United Church, Hardisty, with the United Church Women's Choir and Mrs. Bea Hahn as organist.

Pallbearers were: Arne Busk, Gillman Crone, Henry Hays, Harold Moody, Joe Saruga, and James Whitehead.

Honourary pallbearers were: Frank Benneteld, James Cavanagh, Harry Chew, Ben Fiaale, Walter Kobitzsch, and Perry Powell.

Fee and Sons of Killam were in charge of funeral arrangements. Interment was in the Hardisty Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy shown us during our recent bereavement in the loss of mother and grandmother, Emily Elmquist. Special thanks to Dr. Cahill, Dr. Amin, nurses and staff at the Hardisty General and Flagstaff Auxiliary Hospitals. Also to Rev. Jackson, choir and pallbearers, and to the U.C.W. and W. of U. for serving lunch.

Anna, Edith and families.

Happy to hear that Frina Bergseth is home after a stay in Daysland Hospital.

The Bob McBrides have had lots of company lately. Daughter Patsy of Edmonton was home for a few days recently. Last week, sons Bill and Len of Edmonton, along with their sons Stephen and Darren, spent four days at their parent's home and did some hunting. Then on Thursday, Bob's sister, Mrs. Patty Langdon with daughters Melissa and Judy, spent the day at the McBride home. The Langdons live in Oregon, U.S.A.

Rang up Ardith Gould to see how Cecil was and Cecil answered the phone. He came home on Saturday after spending a little more than seven weeks in the University Hospital in Edmonton. He tells me he's feeling pretty good and is very happy to be home.

Mr. Lawrence Schmutz and Gerry of Edmonton visited at the Dick Erickson farm home for a couple of days last week.

Mr. Ritchie Erickson spent the weekend at the home of his parents, the Dick Ericksons. Ritchie is undergoing therapy at the Rehabilitation Centre in Edmonton.

Seven tables of whist players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon Card Party held at the Legion Hut by the senior citizens. Mrs. Tena Blakeney and Mr. Steve Pottage won prizes for the highest scores while Mr. G. Eriksson and Mrs. Glendora Hope received consolation awards.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Shaw were in Edmonton on Sunday, November 12 to see their new granddaughter, born to George and Patti Shaw of Stony Plain. Susan Georgie arrived on Friday, November 10.

Mr. Cliff Pope went to Edmonton on Sunday where he will spend a couple of days for medical treatment.

Glad to see Mrs. Helen Mayne home from a two-week stay in the General Hospital in Edmonton.

Get well wishes go to Mr. Merlin McBride, who is a patient in the Edmonton General Hospital.

Mr. Werner Howeihe is a patient in the Daysland Hospital, where he underwent surgery last week. Hope you're home soon, Werner.

Mr. Brian Lee is in Edmonton for a week while attending an Agricultural Fieldman's Conference.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Andersen and Kerry are at Gibbons, where Don is employed.

A group of mothers met at the United Church Hall on Tuesday morning to discuss the possibility of establishing a Play School in Sedgewick.

The A.C.W. Tea and Bazaar held at the Anglican Hall last Saturday was quite a success. Mrs. Lorraine Beairsto won the delicious-looking fruit cake that was drawn for.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Robertson are home after spending a week in Peace River visiting their son Donald and his family.

Mrs. Margaret Kobsar and Mrs. Jean Muirhead were in Camrose on Tuesday to visit Mrs. Freda Frerichs, who is now residing there.

Mr. and Mrs. R. Tanton were Edmonton visitors on Tuesday and took along Mrs. Ruby Farquharson with them to visit her husband Alec, who is a patient in the University Hospital. Get well soon, Alec.

Mrs. Maude Sather is home from hospital in Camrose. Happy to see you well again, Maude.

Get well wishes go to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harding and Mr. Dwayne Lancaster who are all patients in the Daysland Hospital.

Hello to Mr. Fred Sparrow in the W.W. Cross Hospital in Edmonton.

Sedgewick k'garten travels

The Sedgewick Kindergarten kids have been pretty busy. First of all, they have done some travelling. A few weeks ago it was farm week for the kids so off we went to visit at the Maartz farm. Here they saw cows, ducks, chickens, and I believe they even got to ride the horse.

Halloween came next. For this, the kids were very busy making black cats and pumpkins. Party time came and all the children dressed up in their outstanding costumes, and even a mother or two joined them. The children managed to find time to make Jack O'Lanterns for their snack tables. The next day they made pumpkin muffins.

Transportation week we motored by bus again and went out to Ron Bergseth's farm. Here we saw some old tractors and a steam engine. Do you think our kindergarten is busy? Just try to keep up with them for a month. We are busy and having lots of fun, too.

Social Credit only way, proposes Robert Clark

Social Credit Leader Bob Clark maintains he can make gains at Premier Peter Lougheed's expense in the next election. But he also asks Lougheed to set aside a key plank in the Conservative re-election platform.

Clark wants Lougheed to leave disputes with Ottawa out of Alberta's election. The Socred calls Tory requests for a mandate in federal-provincial relations "the false issue of who can be the most belligerent premier."

"Let us put our house in order," Clark told his Socreds' 1978 convention in Edmonton recently. He vowed to field a full slate of 79 candidates by next February, and to win more than 15 seats in the legislature.

He was sure the Socreds have recovered from their rout by the Tories March 26, 1975, when Lougheed made federal provincial relations a major issue. The Socreds lost all but four seats and 18 per cent of the vote.

Clark pledged to offer a plat form of revenue-sharing with municipalities, aid for farmers and small business, better health care and education, and improved services for the elderly, the handicapped, women and Natives.

Aided by a committee under former Socred Premier Harry Strom, Clark is also considering "proposition 79," a plan by Calgary area candidates to promise abolition of provincial personal income taxes.

In policy papers released at the convention, the Socreds warn that the Lougheed administration is undermining Alberta traditions of "open, responsible and limited government."

They oppose cabinet control of the Heritage Fund, centralized land-use planning, provincial management of local spending and Tory "state capitalism" through investments such as Pacific Western Airlines and the Alberta Energy Company.

"Probably our greatest fear is that the present government will continue to erode the power of the legislature, and concentrate more and more power in the hands of the cabinet."

However, Clark endorsed positions which Lougheed vowed to take to the polls "soon" following the fall constitutional conference in Ottawa between the provincial premiers and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau.

Clark said, "We believe the people of Alberta -- and the people of any province -- should be assured the continued right to own and control their own natural resources."

Hardisty chamber has troubles with printing

The regular meeting of the Hardisty Chamber of Commerce was held November 22 at 7:30 p.m. in the Parkland Manor with President Jim Thomson in the chair.

The minutes were read by Secretary Shirley Campbell and the treasurer's report given by Joyce Harrison. Adella Goldsmith reported a good start on the sale of memberships. Rose Marie Thompson reported on publicity, the winding up of the Beautiful Yards Committee's work for the season, and also on the present state of affairs in the Devonian Main Street Project. Any persons willing to donate or sell trees to this project when it gets underway this spring are asked to contact Rose Marie.

Alan Thompson reported for the Hospital Committee, with no new progress being made. The chamber will draft a letter to Premier Lougheed, expressing our concern in regard to the new hospital.

The use of the Gestetner machine is to be put on a cash basis, with the persons picking up the finished work being responsible for paying the account and then being reimbursed by the club or organization they represent. It is felt this is necessary because of the amount of time and work required of the treasurer in sorting and billing for often very small amounts.

A motion was passed to write a letter to the Town Council with a copy to the Lions Club, regarding both the location and state of the children's playground.

A register is to be purchased for use at all chamber meetings so as to give the executive a record of member's attendance at meetings. The secretary was asked to write to the provincial chamber asking for suggestions and guidelines for our organization.

RCMP Bulletin

The Killam detachment of the RCMP is investigating the occurrence of an indecent act in Sedgewick Monday, November 27, shortly after 5 p.m.

According to Constable Bangle of the detachment, the RCMP is looking for a dark-haired, heavy set man who is clean shaven and wears dark-framed glasses. He is believed to drive a relatively new Datsun half-ton truck, medium blue in colour.

The RCMP asks that anyone seeing this vehicle, or who has information concerning the episode, notify the detachment at 385-3502. All calls will be kept in strictest confidence.

Providing quality health care

Three of the four hospitals in the County of Flagstaff are under the operational guidance of one man -- Wilf West. He's held the administrative position in the Daysland and Hardisty hospitals for two years now, and at Galahad since September.

Although he moved into the area in 1976, he's not new to it. He was born, raised and educated in Forestburg, leaving that centre in 1949 to find his own way in the world. Now he's back, and plans on staying.

As administrator, Mr. West is hired by the Flagstaff Hughenden District Hospital Board No. 55 which is made up of nine wards, one board member to represent each ward.

The board, Mr. West explains, determines hospital policy. "They set it and I implement it."

Mr. West's knowledge of hospital administration comes from 26 years experience in the field. He started in Dawson Creek, B.C. at a small, 47-bed hospital called St. Joseph's. When he left seven years later, St. Joseph's had grown to more than 100 beds. He remained in B.C. for a few more years, assuming administrative positions at Lillouett and Hope. He credits those early years in that province as the "formative" ones in his career. His formal

Mind our business

Editorials – that part of a newspaper set aside for opinions. Often, those opinions are critical, but hopefully, they are positive just as often. Whatever the tone, not often does a newspaper take pot shots at itself, or does it dare to pat itself on the back. Well, we're going to break that tradition and do a little of both.

Together, The Community Press and The Enterprise reach into a little more than 3,000 homes among 10 towns and villages. And our reading audience is even greater once everyone in the family has a look.

We're a little critical of ourselves because some areas haven't received as much coverage as others. And we're sorry. But it's a little difficult to cover that many towns with only six people. Besides, someone has to stay in the office to take ads and actually put the paper together! If it wasn't for the correspondents in each town, we wouldn't have as much news about local happenings as we do. We appreciate their efforts – we hope they continue. And we hope you continue to call them – but call us once in awhile, too!

There's lots of news and community events we would like to cover ourselves – and would be if we knew they were happening. But we have no way of knowing to be in your area with a camera and a piece of paper if we don't get a call. We'll mark it on our calendar, and what's more, we'll try our hardest to be there. Or if you'd rather give it a try, write-up the story yourself. It's not hard if you remember that good writing is easy reading. We won't refuse what news you send us. If it's possible send in a picture or the roll of film. Nobody likes to be in a picture, but everyone sure likes to look at one!

We're not the Edmonton Journal and we don't want to be! We're a community newspaper. We're proud of what we've done and want to keep on doing.

We just happen to believe that as the area we serve continues to grow and expand its capabilities, so must we to keep pace. But prod us once in awhile, just so we don't fall out of step.

What Others Say

Safe Driving Week

Any driver who tries to practice courteous driving habits may at times be upset, mentally, by an ignorant, discourteous driver who almost involves us in an accident.

The circumstances may vary – it could be a tailgater, a lane hopper, a speedster, someone weaving all over the road, or even someone blocking a rush hour traffic lane by parking illegally.

Every driver sees this type on the road daily, and wonders how they ever received a licence.

Such drivers have a very negative effect by often starting a chain reaction. Having been dangerously cut-off, there may sometimes be a temptation to do likewise to another vehicle. That's how drivers with poor attitudes often cause an accident without being directly involved.

The Canada Safety Council urges good drivers to remain courteous to others, notwithstanding such experiences. Passengers can help by saying something pleasant or supportive to the driver after such as incident. If alone, think of something pleasant, not of the incident just passed – but of course keep full attention on the road.

Good, courteous habits become reflected in others. So do bad ones. So don't be guilty of them! If we all take a little extra care, have a ready smile, and practice just a bit more courtesy, this can be the best place in Canada for drivers. We don't have to wait for others. We can all start together on December 1st – the beginning of Safe Driving week.

The Third Column

by Truncate

GABBLE, GABBLE, GABBLE. Here is a word that, while it has a place in the modern dictionary, is very seldom seen in print or heard in today's speaking. Yet it is a word which might well be applied to the present method of inarticulate speech delivered with such rapidity and lack of distinction of syllables as to make the utterance just about a total loss so far as being understandable.

GABBLE HAS A LOT of shirt-sleeve relatives, all of which derive from the root word Gab, and most have more common usage than the word Gabble. Take Gab for instance, which means to tend to be talkative, and may be associated with the modern term of having the gift of gab. Then there is Gabber, or one who talks idly, a talent which most of us have in extreme abundance. How about Gabbler, a noisy talker who utters inarticulate sounds, and may not necessarily be one who is too deep in his cups.

ALL THIS BRINGS US right back to the word Gabble: loud and rapid talk without meaning, or to utter inarticulate sounds with rapidity; like the gabbling fowls. The writer has tried valiantly to curb the desire to talk rapidly and has partially succeeded, but has never been able to learn not to talk at all. Because of this he has been frequently invited to "button the lip" and give someone else a chance. Not a bad idea at all.

HAVE YOU EVER received a phone call, and after you have replied with the usual "Hello," had something like this said to you: Hello! m'Sally Brow we haveaclubandwouldliketoknow ifwecouldusethehalltoholda meeting; wewouldliketohaveit onwednesdayaugust21ifpossible. After five minutes of attempted slow-downs and repeats, you finally get the message and the arrangements are completed. Gabble, Gabble, Gabble. We really do not understand this tendency to talk so rapidly, as though you only had five seconds to complete a thirty-second speech, because the last twenty-five seconds are used up in repeating to make it understandable.

NO DOUBT you have listened to journalists giving a report of some event in a foreign country, and heard him sign off by saying: This is JimTalkieforCi BiCiNewsGuyana.

THERE ARE ALSO two country cousins of Speech, indirectly connected. They are Reading and Writing. They are invaluable aids to rhetoric. It does no follow necessarily that you have to possess these talents to become a material success.

THE STORY IS TOLD of a man who applied for a position as school janitor, but when asked to fill in the application form, it was revealed that he could neither read nor write. He was sent on his way as a poor influence to have around the school. He opened a little fruit stand and managed to sell for a little more than the fruit had cost; and he did well. The fruit stand prospered and became a chain of fruit stands. Then he opened a supermarket, and a chain of supermarkets soon followed. The man became a leader in the city. He was of some importance politically, and he became known everywhere as a businessman and leader.

THEN CAME the great day. He was given a public ovation, the acclaim of the city for its local leader.

ALL OF THIS celebration he took in fine stride until he was presented with a scroll to commemorate the occasion, and he was asked to sign his name on the scroll. Then the sad revelation – he could not write. He couldn't even read the scroll.

SOMEONE DRONED: "Think what you could have been if you had just learned to read and write." "Yeah," he said, "I'd have been the janitor at the school."

P.S. It must be an awful thing for a turkey to wake up and find himself alive the day after Thanksgiving. Then he had nothing to do but worry to death until Christmas.

UNICEF

The 1978 UNICEF Executive Board allocated $207.5 million for new and on-going child assistance projects in 102 developing countries and territories. This sum is the equivalent of the amount spent by the world on armaments in approximately five hours.

Killam k'garten reviews activities

Agriculture week for the Killam Kindergarten began with a talk on safety given by Mr. Lorne Fisher. The children asked numerous questions and were given colouring books from the Department of Agriculture.

Making paper mache masks was a new experience for the children and they decorated the room for their Halloween party. Witches, bobos and cinderellas trekked to the Killam Public School and Auxiliary Hospital and then returned for a Halloween party prepared for them by their mothers.

November had the theme "Pioneer Days." Children brought antiques and utensils grandparents had used. On display were clocks, irons, scrub boards, and even antique toys. Then invitations were mailed to grandparents, where the children received a tour of the post office also. Mrs. Barty from the Auxiliary Hospital visited the kindergarten and talked about pioneer days. Then, to further their education on "Pioneer Days," a trip to Swanson's Museum was made. In his home, Mr. Swanson treated the children to cookies and hot chocolate. Numerous books on pioneers were read too, and then we began preparations for "pioneer grandparents' visit.

Cornages and gifts from popsicle sticks were made. The children churned cream and made butter at McLaughlins. Thank you to McLaughlins for inviting us in that Friday as we had no heat at Kindergarten. Thirty-one grandparents attended "Pioneer Days." A short program of songs and rhymes was given, and for lunch everyone was treated to homemade bread made by Mrs. Ellen Tiffen and Mrs. Rae Taralson, homemade butter made by the children, and homemade jam donated by various mothers. To end Pioneer Days, a visit to the Auxiliary Hospital was made, where the children asked questions about pioneer times, sang songs and listened to the Christmas Story.

December 7, the Killam Kindergarten will host a workshop. The topic will be "Improving a Child's Self Concept," and will be held in the Catholic Church basement beginning at 9:30 a.m. and going to 3 p.m. Mothers are welcome to attend.

The kindergarten Christmas party will be on December 15 at 2 p.m. and parents are cordially invited.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Rev. Robert Chappell

From the Minister's Study

A short time ago, a friend handed me a $5 bill and then laughingly said, "Now I can have a decent prayer life again!" Although speaking partly in jest, he was pointing out a truth about our relationship with God. Somehow, it is tied with our relationship with people here and now. In this situation, my friend had taken $5 for a gift for a mutual acquaintance more than two years ago, but the gift had never been sent, and the money had never been returned. A minister speaking in his church had asked if they had any unfinished business which might be interfering with their prayer life . . . things which entered in as thoughts while they tried to pray . . . distractions. Usually, these were not big things, but little unresolved issues which left a residue of hard feelings or guilt in them. My friend suddenly remembered the $5 and took steps to return it. He wants to keep the channel open for him in prayer.

Do you have anything in your life which distracts you in your relationship with God . . . resentment which makes it hard for you to praise God freely . . broken relationships which haunt you when you speak of love . . . little sins which make you feel guilty when you offer yourself to God? We are not to become self-conscious and introspective, trying in our own power to root these things out; but we are to set . . . if God, by the Holy Spirit, convicts us of anything which hinders our relationship with him or with others. We cannot always resolve our conflicts as we would like to, but we need to do all that we can to keep the channels open between us and other people.

I was in a congregation once where things were dying . . . people were leaving resentment and accusation were the norm. I asked a lady on the church board, "Don't you think we should apologize to Rev. so-and-so? Can God bless a church where there are so many hard feelings and so many broken relationships?" The lady just shrugged and said, "You don't understand the whole situation." That church is now closed. All the members left and went to other churches. Nothing was resolved. I often wondered what God might have done in that situation if the people had been open to one another for reconciliation and forgiveness. Just recently, I decided to practice what I preach . . . I wrote to someone who has been in my mind as one I had offended and one who was angry with me. The person replied, offering forgiveness and asking forgiveness for their part in the situation. What a feeling of release is given when broken relationships are beginning to be restored. God knows us so well. He knows that we cannot really love and worship him when our lives are blocked by resentments and guilt.

Jesus told his disciples in the Sermon on the Mount . . . "go and make peace with your brother, and then come back and offer your gift to God." (Matt. 5:24) Deal with those things in your life which the Holy Spirit points out to you and God will bless you in the relationship you share with him!

Merna 4-H holds supper

On November 25 at 6:30 p.m., members of the Merna 4-H Horse Club and their families gathered at the Bellshill School for a delicious pot luck supper.

After everyone had stuffed themselves, the members had a quick meeting. They discussed making hay nets and it was decided that the club buy the rope and at our next meeting, everyone would learn how to make them. The idea of making tack boxes was brought up but the discussion was carried over to the next month's meeting. Next, all the members drew names for Christmas gifts. These gifts will be exchanged at our next meeting on December 18 at the Whitbeck home.

After the meeting was adjourned, everyone enjoyed a couple films on horses, after which we were all entertained with some singing by Randy Hollar. Thanks, Randy.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

by Shirley E. Forster

SAY "THANK YOU"

"Now write that 'thank-you' note as soon as possible," Mother said after the Christmas festivities were done. "You know how hard it can be if you leave it for awhile."

"I know Mom, I know, but it's always hard because I barely know her and it seems so stupid just to list what we received for Christmas. Somehow or another it makes us look like people who are just out to get as much as we can."

"Well," she replied, "just make it a nice friendly letter, say that you were given some nice gifts and perhaps tell a bit about Christmas festivities and preparations at our house. That would interest your Aunt."

I can imagine that similar conversations take place in almost every home after Christmas, birthdays or other celebrations.

Why is it so hard to say 'Thank-You'? Why do we stall and put if off? It should be a pleasure -- contacting someone who has given us a gift in love -- expressing our thanks. A telephone call, a note or a visit could be the manner we use to pass on our thanks.

To forget the gift and the giver after the celebration is over can cause a lot of hard feelings. The giver gave out of love for the receiver but many of us have a hard time understanding the whys and wherefores of this love.

If we receive gifts and feel they are not something we want or need then I think we should re-examine our feelings. A gift - is a gift - is a gift. It needn't be something we need or want, it should make the giver and the receiver feel good and happy toward one another. Not angry and upset. I remember giving a gift to a poor aunt once and she became angry because she could not afford to return a gift. She didn't understand that a simple 'thank-you' would have been enough.

I think everyone has felt rebuffed at one time or another because someone has forgotten to say 'thank-you'. Perhaps that someone's Mom or inner-self didn't nag them into getting the smile off.

My mother lived on a tight budget for most of her life and say gifts she bought or made were items anyone could be proud of. She shopped carefully and wisely. Never picking up anything that was cheap. The gifts she gave were things that she had carefully chosen. In spite of this, she had a problem relative who never said 'thank-you'. Each year she did her best to find something nice for this particular person but each year this person forgot to say 'thank-you'. Whether or not this individual understood the quandry she left mother in, I do not know. I only know there was a deep hurt that cut deeper over the years. And, of course, there were some very personal reasons by Mother would not discontinue her gifts. It seemed to me that her giving of gifts to this family was a lost cause.

We want to give gifts. Giving is a part of life, and it can be fun. Christmas, Birthdays, Anniversaries. Graduations are all time we can celebrate with a gift. But please, please, learn to say 'thank-you' to the giver of gifts. It's as important as learning to say 'thank-you' to God for his many gifts.

Rebuilding Town of Olds

Wheat Pool pledges support

Alberta Wheat Pool President Allan Macpherson announced recently that the AWP has taken the lead in providing support for the recreation facility rebuilding program at Olds, Alberta, which suffered large damages in the October 31st fire which also destroyed a Pool elevator. A $1,000 donation is pledged to the Olds community, in which Alberta Pool has been a participating business for 50 years.

While the Alberta Wheat Pool does not normally contribute to individual community projects, preferring to use its grants and donations to benefit all Albertans, Mr. Macpherson described the Olds situation as unique and worthy of being treated as an exception. He expressed faith that the people of Olds will rebuild their facilities better than ever.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, MP

THE BUDGET

The most recent budget, the first full budget by the Honourable Jean Chretien, is obviously greeted with mixed emotions. While the budget itself reflects a reasonable degree of responsibility, one cannot help but continue to note the excessively severe problems that face our national economy.

In particular, the budget should be commended for the stimulus that provides for the encouragement of growth in the private sector. Specifically, I was pleased to learn that greater incentives have been advanced for research and development within the private sector. Likewise, I was also happy to note that mining and petroleum developments could write off a larger portion of their costs and thus encourage a higher degree of development of our resources, a fact that should lead to a more stable economy and, hopefully, a decrease in unemployment.

Similarly, the decrease in manufacturers' sales tax from 12 to nine per cent should assist Canadian manufacturers in putting their products on the domestic market.

What I found disappointing about the budget was more in what is did not say. I have consistently requested the present government to change its mind on its 1972 legislation on capital gains tax. It is my strong opinion that the capital gains tax strikes hardest at the very backbone of our society. Those who have never had a capital gains obviously would never pay it. On the other hand, the most wealthy of capital gains are seldom paid since large corporations such as General Motors and Westinghouse do not sell. They change presidents and corporate directors but the corporation continues to exist. In effect, what happens is that the broad-based middle class are called upon to pay a capital gains tax generation after generation. While the rich corporate structures are sheltered, the broad-based middle class are called upon to produce their 30 per cent pound of flesh on every sale with a capital gains.

Likewise, I was hoping that the government would have removed or decreased its percentage on building tax. That would have been an effective stimulus assisting housing construction in Canada. Housing is a very important area for development since it is the principle hope of so many young families and at the same time stimulates work in such an unusually wide range of sub-industries.

Most importantly, however, the government has failed to set out a program that would rectify the past mismanagement of our economy that has put us in a deficit position that is the worst of any industrialized nation with which we have to compete in international trade. The inflation rate is so punishing in Canada that in 1977 we had 300,000 more people under the poverty line than we did one year earlier in 1976. On a per capita basis, Canada has three times the deficit of our neighbours in the United States. The more than $50 billion in accumulative debt is of such a magnitude that by the time it is paid off with the interest included, the total debt is likely to be at the $84 billion range. That's assuming that no new debt funding is extended in the interim.

What was needed in this budget was clearly a long-range forecast and a program that would not only build up business confidence in the short-term but also establish an economic climate for Canada that would allow international investors to judge our objectives and competence at running a nation.

Keeping in touch with the short-term may be relatively easy, but putting this country back on solid economic footing will require a master plan that can be viewed with confidence for a period of not less than five years.

COUNTY OF FLAGSTAFF NO. 29

SNOWPLOWING DRIVEWAYS

The Council of the County of Flagstaff No. 29 wish to bring to your attention that is has adopted policy with respect to snowplowing requested by its residents. This policy has to conform with the Provincial Municipal Government Act which permits this work to be done by a municipality ONLY if it is an emergency and there is no privately owned equipment available. This same Act permits a Municipality to charge the cost of this work to the person requesting that the work be done.

Council would also like you to be aware that although this Policy has been adopted it can be rescinded or suspended if conditions dictate as happened in the 1973 - 74 winter season because of the excessive amount of snow which fell in that period.

The Snow Plowing Policy is as follows:

(1) Snowplowing of laneways shall only be done after school bus routes and County roads have been cleared.

(2) Snowplowing of laneways shall only be done as the time and availability of the machine permits.

(3) Charges for snowplowing laneways shall be at the rate of $12.00 per hour, with a minimum charge of $5.00 for each time a laneway is snowplowed.

(4) The County will not be responsible for any damage or loss caused while snowplowing, as requested from the resident.

(5) No laneway will be snowplowed unless this form is on file at the County office.

The following form has been prepared to protect the County from any actions, suits, etc., which may be brought against the County because of this snowplowing. Snowplowing your driveway is considered to be a service and therefore Council feels it should have the full co-operation from the residents receiving that service.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF THE COUNTY OF FLAGSTAFF NO. 29

LICENSE AND RELEASE FORM

Request by a County of Flagstaff No. 29 resident for Emergent Snowplowing pursuant to Section 188, Municipal Government Act, Chapter 246, R.S.A. 1970 and amendments thereto, and pursuant to County of Flagstaff No. 29 policy.

I, the undersigned, WHEN REQUESTED BY ME, hereby grant permission for the County of Flagstaff No. 29 to remove snow from my driveway providing me access to and from my residence during the_____winter season, and hereby agree to save harmless and indemnify the County of Flagstaff No. 29, its employees and agents, from and against all actions, suits, claims and demands arising in any manner whatsoever from the said snowplowing carried out for me by the County of Flagstaff No. 29.

Also, I hereby agree to pay upon receipt of invoice, all charges for this service.

The location of my residence is _____

DATED this_____day of_____A.D. 197_____at_____ _____, Alberta.

Witness as to signature

Applicant's signature
(Specify if owner, lessee, renter)

MUST BE RENEWED EACH WINTER SEASON

To speed up the whole procedure the above form was devised and hopefully, if your co-operation is obtained, it can be carried on in future years as well. The above is a yearly form and can be cut out of the paper, completed and forwarded to the County office.

If for some reason this form is destroyed or filled out incorrectly, you can obtain another form from the County Office or your Councillor. By completing this form and forwarding it to the County Office, the only items left for you to do is to notify your Councillor or the County Office when an emergency arises and you require the removal of snow from your driveway to your residence, and there is not privately owned equipment available at the time to remove the snow for you.

Finally please remember to pay outstanding snow removal accounts to ensure that future requests will be acted upon.

TAX PLANNING

Have you ever received an invitation or two free tickets to an event you always wanted to attend, only to find that the special day was yesterday? Then you know the feeling! It's like doing your income tax after taking a course that tells you several ways to reduce tax, only to find that the strategies had to be applied before January 1 of the new year.

Income tax cannot be avoided, but there are several things you can do to reduce tax and avoid paying more than the law requires. Over the next few weeks we will cover several things that you can do to reduce the tax bite this year.

The Figures:

In order to do some effective tax planning, you need to know if you made any money on which to be taxed. This you have to know NOW and not next April 28. This means getting your records together and determining if you have made any taxable income after basic deductions.

If you presently use a record keeping system which keeps income and expenses separate, you need only total the columns from the beginning of the year to the present time. However, if your system is the box or drawer method you may need some help. Don't despair, you don't need an accountant to sort all your receipts and bills. If you wish, use him later in preparing your tax form. You will get better value for your money using him then.

Right now, you can handle the record keeping yourself. Here's how! Get yourself a book or pad with lots of columns, pencil and eraser, calculator, a pot of coffee and your drawer with bills and receipts. Put the kids to bed early, plug in the coffee pot and put the wife to sorting bills into neat little piles. You decide on what the piles are to be called by following the headings for income and expenses as you find them in last year's income tax statement.

After a few hours of sorting and writing into the book, you are up to date. Now total the columns and you're halfway there. Then add to these totals any additional income and expense you expect to incur by the end of the year. Total again and you have an estimate of your gross income and expense for the year.

Then look at your capital cost allowance (CCA at the maximum rates per class and total). You now have enough information to determine your net farm income. You take your gross farm income, subtract gross expenses, and also subtract CCA. The resulting net farm income is what you use to do some tax planning.

Next week, we will cover the matter of livestock inventory provisions as a means of tax planning to reduce tax.

Evelyn Livingston passes

Mrs Evelyn Livingston passed away after a lengthy illness in the W.W. Cross Hospital in Edmonton October 16, 1978 at the age of 57 years.

Mrs. Livingston was born Evelyn Jane Chave on a farm near Monitor, Alberta, August 31, 1921. In the fall of 1935, she moved to a farm near Hughenden with her parents. Here she received her education.

In the early 1940s, she went out working, doing housework at various places, including working for Mr. and Mrs. F.W. Martin (Granny) of Amisk.

July 11, 1943, she was united in marriage to David Livingston. They made their home on a farm in the Battle Bend district until her passing. To this marriage, six children were born.

Evelyn was always a hard worker, busy with her family, the farm chores and grew a big garden. She was always a good neighbour, helping in the time of need. She took part in all things in the community: showers, 4-H Club, ball games, curling and discing. Evelyn will be greatly missed by her family and the community.

She was predeceased by her infant brother Thomas in 1924; her mother, Ethel Chave, in 1943; her sister, Laura, in 1956; her son, James, in 1966; and her father, William Chave, in 1977.

Leaving to cherish her memory are her loving husband Dave; three daughters, Eunice (Mrs. Denish Dorash) from Hilliard, Donna (Mrs. Nick Kozak) from Warspite, and Darlene (Mrs. Barry Sydor) from Vegreville; two sons, Daryl in the Grandview Extended Care Unit in Edmonton, and Charles, at home; six grandsons; a step-mother, Mrs. Margaret Chave, in the Good Samaritan Nursing Home at Stony Plain; one sister, Daisy Jensen of Hardisty; one brother, William Chave of Hardisty; and many nieces and nephews and friends.

Funeral service was held in the Battle Bend School October 19, 1978 with Rev. Jackson officiating. Burial was in the Battle Bend Neuchital Cemetery. Holben Funeral Home was in charge of all arrangements.

Pallbearers were: Henry Steadman, Ernest Steadman, John Steadman, William Steadman, Ross McCracken and C.W. Barnes.

Daysland Agriculture Society:
Annual meet plans funding

The Daysland Agricultural Society held the annual meeting Thursday, November 23. Tom Blake was appointed chairman.

The meeting was called to order and Secretary Lil Klutz read the minutes of the previous annual meeting. Treasurer Kay Wolbeck then read the financial report. The Recreation Board was represented by Sheila Purves, who then gave a report of the year's projects. A history book is in progress, with notes and pictures now on file. The proposed tennis court is at a standstill, but funds are reserved for this.

Half of the roof on the log hut, which the recreation board pays the upkeep on, was reshingled by an organization. It is hoped another organization using the hut would reshingle the other half. Grass seed and some trees were planted in the West Park, while the Botanical Park is hoped to be completed in 13 to 15 years. There have been more trees planted and 1,500 trees and shrubs ordered for spring planting.

The recreation board will be meeting with town council on Monday concerning the Ainsley Golf Course. They will propose a lease, hoping to ensure this as recreation area.

It is hoped to form a band or orchestra. This is beginning at the school with young people and Mrs. Taranger as teacher.

The Five-Year Master Plan Committee only has a few members. It is hoped for more. A questionnaire is being sent out to different organizations so financing and planning can continue. Without a complete five-year plan, nothing can be done.

At the discussion which followed, some feelings was expressed that too many projects are being started and not kept going. Chairman thanked Miss. Purves.

A report from the curling club was given by Werner Koehli, president of the club. He stated that the upstairs has been renovated and the addition completed. The furnace room is done, but there are a few little things remaining to be finished. The club had to have financial aid as the building had to be completed before a grant could be applied for. Therefore, money had to be borrowed and interest payments are high. At the discussion, it was felt that if a grant could be received first this would not happen. However, no further money is needed unless the ice plant should break down.

The arena report was given by Brian Spiller. The arena also required financial help because of compulsory renovations. The renovations required are in the furnace room, emergency lighting in the basement, lobby and ice surface (Exits). Also, a little water problem is in the basement so a sump pump was purchased. The arena received financial help from the Elks Club, Recreation Board and donations from the community, so the renovating is continuing. At the discussion, it was discussed that insurance does not cover vandalism so the possibility of this being covered should be looked into.

The hall board report was given by Herb Robinson. The financial part is keeping up alright. The hall is now under town responsibility. The heating system does need some repairs and some plans were made to build an addition. However, this is at a standstill. It is felt that the hall board should have representation from all organizations. At present, there are seven members on the board.

The Agricultural Society report was given by Norman Nickerson in place of Roy Carlson. He reported that the fair, rodeo and three purebred Hereford sales were a success despite the bad weather. He also reported that a grant for the curling club has been applied for.

It was felt that the rodeo would not be worthwhile this year as contractors' fees will be a lot higher. Also, $75. in each event each day must be paid out. The riders with CCA cards also get free admission, and this year, they also may bring in a friend for free admission. It was discussed whether to hold the rodeo earlier, but the arena surface would not be dry enough. The second or third week in July were new possible dates, but it was felt this was too close to the fair. It was also felt that a letter should be sent to the CCA with the reasons for discontinuing the rodeo.

The next annual meeting will be held on November 29, 1979. The membership this year is $1 per member and not per family as last year. The new executive for this year was elected: President - Norman Nickerson, one year; 1st Vice-President - Tom Blake; 2nd Vice-President - Herb Robinson; Secretary - Lil Klutz; Treasurer - Patrick Gartner; Three-year Directors - David Bromelling, Jessie Schenk, Kay Wolbeck, and Wendlyn Blatz; Two-year Directors - Lauritz Lindseth, Arnold Guhle, Eric Beddoes, and Eileen Spiller; and One-Year Directors - Leo Court, Betty Koehli, Oswald Koehli, and Fred Wiesback.

Mr. Norman Nickerson presented Mrs. Lydia Wendt with the Aggregate Trophy for the most points at the 1978 fair. Mr. Eugene Waldorf, chairman of Strome Seed Plant, presented a plaque to Wendlyn Blatz for most points in the seed section at the 1978 fair.

The next regular meeting is December 19 at 8 p.m. in the Daysland Community Hall.

Daysland Agri. Society holds talks

The Agricultural Society held the regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, November 14. The secretary read the minutes and the treasurer's report was given. A discussion was held regarding insurance on the hall, curling rink and arena. It was brought to town council's attention that an appraisal should be done on these, and that it could possibly be done on a cost sharing basis.

The Agricultural Society will soon be applying for a "C" Status Fair. The proposed by-law was tabled until the New Year begins.

A discussion was held regarding the possible change of date for future rodeos, and the cost of putting on a rodeo. Also, it was decided to donate $10 to the school yearbooks.

A motion was made and passed to pay for the auditing of the Agricultural Society's account books. And, the nominating committee for new directors this year is Arnold Guhle, Lenard Court and Tom Blake.

Daysland community welcomes new people

The community would like to welcome Norman and Ruth Nickerson as they have recently purchased and moved into the house formerly owned by Eleanor Davidson.

The Friendship meeting was held November 21 in the United Church Social Room. The devotion was given by Mrs. Maxine Fraser. It was a reading, "In The Master's Hand." The hymn sung was "God Will Take Care Of You." For roll call was answered by [illegible] present. Mrs. Swan [illegible] read the minutes and the treasurer's report, which were both approved.

Eleanor Davidson and Esther Wirth volunteered to go on the Nominating Committee. Devotion for next month is Mrs. Esther Wirth. December 19 will be our Christmas party with the exchange of gifts at $2. The meeting was adjourned.

Following the meeting, a very successful bake sale and bazaar was held. There was a lot of nice baking which sold very quickly. The bazaar items were beautiful and showed a lot of the ladies' handiwork. When the sale was finished, coffee and lunch was served and visiting was enjoyed.

Sorry to hear Fritz Schmidt has been in the hospital, but nice to see him home again.

Also sorry to hear that Nick Dolaney is a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

We have a kit of supplementary material designed to accompany the 22-part television series, "Finding My Own Way," on Channel 3 Access, which may be borrowed from our library.

A christmas bake sale will be held December 8 in the Daysland Simpson Sears store. Proceeds go toward the Sunday School at the United Church.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Anges Twitchell is a patient in the Daysland Hospital. Get well soon.

Strome couple celebrates 50

On November 16, Paul and Blanche Williams of Strome celebrated 50 years of married life by having an open house at their home in the afternoon and evening. Many relatives and friends greeted them and had lunch and a piece of anniversary cake, which was baked by Blanche herself. The cake was beautifully decorated with white and yellow roses with golden leaves, and a lovely top with bells and golden 50s. This was decorated by their daughter, Rose Marie Bos. Bouquets of flowers from family and friends decorated the room, around which were displayed the many cards and gifts from relatives and friends. Blanche looked lovely in a long chocolate-brown gown with a gold sequin collar, and Paul wore blue pants with a V-neck sweater over his shirt and a black bow tie. They graciously greeted each guest as they came in. Present were all the family, Blanche's sister, Mary Smith-Gander, her nephew and his wife, Robert and Mable Flore from Edmonton, and also Medart and Marion Flore, who came all the way from Windsor, Ontario to help them celebrate.

A special display of messages was arranged on the wall. These included greetings from Prime Minister Trudeau, Premier Lougheed, Governor General Steinhauer, The Honourable Bob Clark, Joe Clark, Gordon Stromberg, Arnold Malone and Ernest C. Manning.

Guests signed a guest book made by Rose Marie Bos, which depicted Paul and Blanche's lives from marriage through the 50 years until now. Each family and granchild contributed a special page of their own with their greetings to "Grandma and Grandpa."

The many guests who came showed the high regard which Paul and Blanche have held in the community, and it is wished for them many more years of happily married life in the future.

Willing workers fund others

The regular meeting of the Strome Willing Workers was held on November 20 with 13 members present.

The group agreed to fund the Daysland Yearbook, Brownies and Guides, Strome History Book and Strome Hockey sweaters.

The annual hay ride and caroling will begin at 1 p.m. from the Strome School on Sunday, December 17. Hot dogs and hot chocolate will be served following the caroling. Everyone, young and old, is invited, both to sing and help supervise. We're hoping to use horses and sleighs. Any offers?

The group will also enquire into the purchasing of a coffee urn and two Santa Claus outfits.

The next meeting will be held in January. Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year

WE APOLOGIZE FOR ANY INCONVENIENCE CAUSED

Your Home Has to Breathe too.

Check For Safe Venting

Proper venting in your home can save you and your family from fire and gas hazards. All gas appliances which need to be vented must be vented outside. And all fuel-burning heating appliances need venting as well as an adequate air supply for complete combustion.

Are Your Vents Working?

A safe vent is an effective vent. Make sure:
- appliance vents are securely attached and in good condition
- rust formation on vent pipes or draft hood is reported to the gas company
- the ends of vent pipes are not blocked
- moisture dripping from a vent is reported to the gas company

Is Your Chimney Safe?

Your chimney carries byproducts from burning gas in your appliances safely outdoors Be sure:
- your chimney is checked annually
- your chimney is open and clear from debris at the b
- your chimney is free of frost, snow and other obstructions
- metal chimney tops are checked for corrosion, rust or deterioration
- "Bracket Chimneys" are lined and inspected regularly
- chimney openings not used to vent appliances are sealed

For more information on proper venting and other home safety measures, visit your nearest gas company office and pick up a copy of our free pamphlets "Take Time For Home Heating Safety" and "Home Safe Home."

Daysland councillors named

At the October organization al meeting of the Daysland Town Council, new Councillors Grant Turney, Eldon Sather and Laurits Lindseth took the Oath of Office to serve on council for the remaining two years of the three-year term.

Council meeting night remains the second Tuesday of the month at 7 p.m. in the Town Office. Citizens are welcome to attend as observers, but are reminded that if they wish to speak at the meeting they must state their business to the Town Office by the Friday before the meeting in order to be included in the agenda.

Committees for year were set: Police - mayor and all councillors; Finance - mayor and all councillors; Natural Gas - Sather and Damberger; Sewer and Water - Damberger and Lindseth; Parks and Recreation - Dickau and Lindseth; Public Works - Dickau and Larson; Preventative Social Services - Lindseth and Turney; Health, Welfare, Dogs - Turney and Sather;--Garbage and Dump Grounds - Larson and Sather; Disaster Services - Turney and Larson; Planning - Larson and Turney; Fire and Ambulance - Larson and Damberger; Hall Board - Turney and Lindseth; Library Board - Lindseth and Sather; Fire Chief - Bob Hanrahan; Deputy - Ray Brown; School Board - George Cramton; and Hospital Board - Eugene Waldorf.

Halloween was quiet with no major damage. A sincere thank you was extended to those who acted as special constables that evening.

Citizens are reminded that now the snow is here to stay, it is the property owners or renters duty to keep their sidewalks clean. There are people with snow-blowers who are contracting for this work if people are unable to do it themselves.

Council also reminds everyone that garbage must be properly prepared for collection or it will not be picked up. The town has been receiving many complaints regarding garbage left in paper bags or plastic sacks which are easily torn by dogs and cats. Please provide metal containers for your garbage.

The Town has just taken delivery of the new Christmas lights for Main Street, funded jointly by the Town and the Chamber of Commerce. It is hoped to have them up soon to brighten Main Street for the Christmas season.

Deputy Mayor for the months of November and December is Councillor Damberger.

Daysland kids visit P.O.

When you're a member of the Daysland Kindergarten, you might find a letter with your name, address, and even a candy enclosed should you tour the Post Office. At least, this is what our group found when Bob Hanrahan and Art Twitchell showed the children the inside workings of the Post Office in Daysland a few days ago.

They have also been treated to a field trip which involved lunch at Blatz's Steak House and a visit with the sick in the hospital. At the hospital, the children entertained the patients with a short program then enjoyed a tour of the building. The accommodation shown by the Steak House and Hospital staff are greatly appreciated.

A special thank you goes to Kupler's Hardware for donating the blackboard easel to the kindergarten. It is an enjoyed addition to the classroom. Children are reminded that there are full kindergarten days on Wednesdays from now until Christmas.

B'ball ends

Junior High basketball has been completed in the central division. Forestburg girls finished in first place with eight points; Killam is second with four points, and Alliance last with no points.

The boys finished with Galahad in first with 12 points, Alliance second with six points, Killam third with four points, and Forestburg last with two points.

The east and west divisions will have concluded their schedules on November 24. The final playoff tournament will be held in Galahad on December 2.

Build your own manor manufactured home

Your own home, the economical, easy way

Build an attractive modern home on your own land. With the assistance provided by Manor Manufactured Homes you can be your own contractor, do much of the work yourself and save on the costs of your home. Your total Manor Home package includes:
- A home design to suit your family's requirements.
- Advice on securing building permits and financing.
- Detailed building information required to build your own home.
- Pre-cut or pre-assembled material required for the carpentering of your home.

Select your new home from an award winning design series

Choose your new home from an extensive selection of floor plans. These designs incorporate the newest ideas and features available in today's homes.

One-stop shopping

The Manor Home foundation package includes pre-cut floor joists, beams and subfloor. The framing and exterior-interior finishing package includes pre-manufactured wall panels; roof trusses and sheathing; furniture-finished kitchen cabinets with counter tops, and all windows and doors.
Virtually all the material required in the carpentering of your new home is included in the Manor Manufactured Home packages.

Two-stage delivery

Your new Manor Home can be supplied in as short a time as 30 days and will be delivered in two loads, the foundation package arrives first. The second load, the framing and exterior interior finishing package, is delivered after your foundation has been prepared. The walls need only be handled once, directly from the truck to the foundation for erection.

Use our homebuilding experience

When you buy a Manor Manufactured Home, you benefit from over 30 years of homebuilding experience and from the accuracy and efficiency inherent in computerized production. Manor Homes, designed by award-winning Canadian designers, surpass National Building Code requirements.

Galahad District News

On Monday afternoon, November 20, 21 persons met in the Senior Citizens Centre with Dick Huber of the Inter Collegiate Press to make additional plans for the history the Galahad senior citizens are planning.

Mr. Huber shared his knowledge with us and helped set up some committees to start the long process of mailing lists and history research.

Many ideas were gleaned from his talk as to what makes a readable story that will hold the interest of the readers. A factual, everyday, true-to-life account of each writer's family history. Words need not be fancy, just what families and persons of the past and present did and do to make a living. All stories will be welcomed by The Galahad Senior Citizens' Historical Society.

We feel that the fast decline in the ranks of the seniors makes this book almost a last chance to link the past with the present and get it recorded as a book.

The Missionary Church was privileged to have the "Collegians" singing group from Mountain View Bible College in Didsbury over the weekend. A pot luck supper was enjoyed by the group and some members of the congregation. Then the eight young people spent the night in various homes.

The morning service was in charge of the group. Lynn Dietz, pastoral student, brought the morning message. Lynn is the son of Rev. and Mrs. Alfred Dietz. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Archer's grandson was one of the group also.

The church was well filled for the evening service. Many from neighbouring churches gathered in fellowship to join in the congregational singing and enjoy the musical concert.

Galahad folk were pleased to have Sister Layola and Sister Elizabeth as visitors on Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Dominic Gamroth were Camrose visitors on Thursday.

Killam woman records

Gordie Rochan and Killam's Bene Wegenest stand behind Gerry Lang and Don Pfeffer Mr. Banjo and The Homesteaders Mrs. Wegenest holds the record recently released by the group. Both songs were written by her.

Mr. Banjo and the Homesteaders of east-central Alberta have just released a new 45 RPM record. The group: Gerry Lang of Coronation, banjo player and vocalist; Don Pfeffer of Stromne, bass player, vocalist and harmony singer; and Gordon Rochan of Donalda, rhythm guitar and soloist; is well-known in the area and has played in most of the major cities and towns in the province.

Additional musicians on this new release are Leander Kroetsch of Heisler, Alberta, playing both fiddle and lead guitar; and Dave Kerr from Wetaskiwin on rhythm guitar.

Side A, "If Dreams Make You Cry," and the reverse side, "Teresa on My Mind," are first musical publications of Ilene Wegenest of Killam, Alberta, lyricist and freelance writer.

PILOT PARENTS PROGRAM

What are Pilot Parents? They are an organized group of parents of mentally and physically handicapped children. The group was formed in Edmonton mainly to provide support and information to other parents, usually parents of newborn handicapped children.

If you would like to hear more about Pilot Parents and the plans to establish a program in this area; attend the Pilot Parents meeting, December 2 at 1 p.m. in the basement of the Legion Hall in Killam. There will be a registration fee of $2.

SMOKE DETECTORS

Are you planning to purchase a smoke detector? If you are, here is some information you might find helpful.

There are two basic types: photo-electric and ionization. In the ionization type, a very low level of radioactive material in the chamber of the detector permits an electric current to flow through it. When combustion particles (early stages of a fire) enter the chamber, they interfere with the flow of current and this change causes an alarm to sound.

A photo-electric detector has a special cover which doesn't allow light to enter the chamber, but smoke particles can get in. In the chamber is a light source and a special photo-sensitive cell. If the light beam is interrupted or deflected by small particles, the alarm will ring.

Remember: - smoke detectors should be cleaned every six months (gentle vacuuming and cleaning; - check their operation by exposing them to smoke periodically; - change batteries (if battery-operated) when needed; - and never paint a smoke detector.

Where you install your smoke detector is very important. They should be placed near the ceiling between the sleeping area and the rest of the house. But don't put them right outside the bathroom or in the kitchen as the steam and cooking smoke will set them off.

If cooking smoke does cause too many false alarms, place a shower cap over the alarm when frying or broiling to keep the alarm from going off. Remember to remove the shower cap after you have finished cooking.

Always consult the manufacturer's instructions for proper installation and if in doubt contact the fire department.

Smoke detectors vary in price, so shop around. You can expect to pay from $35 to $55. It's a small price to pay for saving a life!

Correction: The date of the Awareness Session for the Window Treatment printed in last week's paper was incorrect. The correct date should be December 5, and it will be held in the Forestburg Provincial Building at 7:30 p.m.

CARDS OF THANKS

I would like to thank Dr. Kerins and the nurses for their fine care and attention that I received during my stay in the Oakbed Hospital. Gail Trefz

We would like to express our thanks to everyone who helped to make our 30th wedding anniversary such a lovely and enjoyable day. Thank you also for all the cards, gifts, money, flowers and good wishes we received.
Paul and Blanche Williams

Sincere thanks to Dr. Kerins, ambulance drivers, staff of St. Joseph Hospital for quick response, efficient care in my recent accident. Thanks to my beloved husband, and children, for flowers, visits and concern, also to all my friends for their visits, cards and kindness. Mary Gamroth

The Killam Presbyterian Ladies Association would like to thank all those who helped to make our Tea a success by attending and by the generous donations of baking, bazaar items and cash. Your help was greatly appreciated.

I would like to thank everyone who supported me in my recent election as zone representative on the Alberta Cattle Commission.
Henry Hays, Hardisty

IN MEMORIUM

OBERG — In loving memory of my beloved husband, Floyd, who passed away December 3, 1977.
This month comes with deep regret
It brings back the day I cannot forget;
In my heart you will always stay,
Loved and remembered day by day;
No verse, no flowers, no tears can say
How much I miss you every day;
You left so quietly, without a goodbye,
But memories of you will never die.
Sadly missed and dearly loved by your wife, Alaire. 15-1c

FELZIEN — In loving memory of our dear father Henry Felzien who passed away December 7, 1976.
God took him home, it was His will,
But in our hearts we love him still:
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Always remembered and sadly missed by, Irvin and Charlotte.

BUTCHER - In memory of my wife, M. A. (Patsy) Butcher who passed away November 30, 1976.
We miss you no less today,
Than we have in all the yesterdays that have come and gone since you left us.
Beyond the sunset we will meet again.
Dad, family and grandchildren

Lougheed District News

Mrs. Eileen Paterson spent a few days in St. Albert visiting her sister, Mrs. Winnie McGreevy, also with Jim and Zona Walsh and family.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mrs. Minnie Jablonski who passed away in the Daysland Hospital on Monday, November 20.

Visiting at the Keith and Ardis Davis home one day last week were Ardis' mother, Mrs. MacPherson of Edmonton, and her sister, Mrs. Bonnie Harwood and baby daughter.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordie Kirkman and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Grove attended the wedding in Ponoka of Gordie's sister, Beryl Kiefer's daughter, on Saturday, November 18.

A Whist Drive party was held at the Welcome Club Thursday night. Ladies' first - Kay Cox, Sweep - Rosemary Kampen, Mystery - Essie Drager, Low - Mary Lario, Gents' First - Hunter White, Sweep - Cyril Hepworth, Mystery - Harold Probst, Low - John Black. Travelling prizes went to Diane Teers and Janet Nicholas. The next party will be on December 7 at 8 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Jeffrey of Whitecourt, and Valda and Derek were recent weekend visitors at their parents', Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst.

There has been a lot of hard work accomplished at the Lougheed Arena the last few months. The ladies have been busy sanding and painting the cupboards and I understand the men helped them, too. There were long hours of hard work being done within the whole arena. The floor covering was to be down this week. It is already for the skaters and hockey games. I was told it is all paid for as of now. Congratulations to all of you who had any part in making this arena to be used in many useful ways. I must add that the Road Runners are in the Battle River Hockey League this year.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Cookson and Mrs. Ella Clouston of the Flagstaff Lodge were afternoon guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Tom Clouston one day last week.

Joy Armstrong spent a week in Edmonton looking after her sister and children.

Mr. and Mrs. Randy Davis and Dani of Viking spent Sunday, November 19 with Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis and Darcy.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White were Sunday, November 19, guests with many other friends and relatives at the Porter O'Reilly's home in Sedgewick. The occasion was Helen O'Reilly's birthday. The party was a couple days early; some could not come on the day, so it was ahead of time. Anyway, a very lovely time was had with lots of good eats. Many more birthdays, Helen.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus and Kreshka, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst were in Camrose on Saturday to attend Doug's sister's, Valerie Niehaus', wedding.

The Gretna Goodwill Club is holding its meeting at Chrissie Armstrong's on Monday, December 11 this time. Roll call will be an exchange of Christmas gifts and plans will be finalized for the annual Christmas Party.

Don't forget, the Women's Institute meeting will be held December 5 at 2 p.m. at the home of Molly Forneybough. There will be an exchange of homemade gifts, and the lunch is that each member bring a sample of her Christmas baking.

The first whist drive of the season was held at Bellshill on Friday, November 24 with 11½ tables playing. Prize winners were: Firsts - Mrs. Duncan Cameron and David Livingston, Sweep - Mrs. Rod Gollan and Walter Chinnery, Mystery - Mrs. Mary Cameron and Wm. Lear, Travelling - Mrs. Chinnery and Lawrence Kneeland, and Consolation - Mrs. Rod MacKinnon and Russell Morris. See you all again on December 8.

Visits, donations by Lghd Rebekahs

Members of the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met for their regular meeting on Wednesday, November 22. There were 18 present. N.G. Verona Cookson was in the chair.

Visits to the lodge and to Galahad Hospital were reported.

Under correspondence, a letter was received from Sis. McNabb inviting the Lougheed Lodge to seat the officers at Assembly, to be held in March. A decision concerning this is to be reached at the next meeting.

It was moved to make a donation to the Salvation Army.

Each member is requested to bring a tea towel to the next meeting since the towels presently on hand are few in number.

Under Good of the Order, four sisters draped the charter in member of Sis Ila Koening, past president of the Rebekah Assembly.

Birthday honours were sung to Sis. G. McClements and Sis. Myrtle Roggensack.

After lodge closed, the sisters sorted magazines, books and games to be distributed to local hospitals.

Killam and District News

Congratulations to Mr. Timothy Germsheid and Miss Judy Rott, who were married on Saturday, November 25 at Leduc.

Around eight brother Elks attended a meeting with brother Elks at Rosalind. Around 25 from surrounding towns were initiated into the lodges. A very enjoyable evening was had by all attending.

Get well wishes to Mr. Ralph Swoboda, who underwent surgery in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. We hope you are home soon, Ralph.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Grant motored Mr. Sandy Grant to Edmonton hospital for tests. We hope you are home real soon, Sandy.

Mrs. Clara McGowan of Edmonton was a weekend visitor with Mr. and Mrs. Bob Peterson and Dennis.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Larson of Hinton were recent visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Gair and family and Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bownes and family.

Congratulations to Mr. Scott Peacock and Miss Rita Moser, who were married on Saturday, November 25. The open house and dance were very well attended. They will make their new home in Alliance.

We welcome to town Mrs. Adelpha Young, who has purchased the Bill Freadrich home.

We notice work really progressing on the new Allan Bonnett home, Don Stovin's and also, the new bakery.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. David Taralson, who are the proud parents of a baby boy born in Daysland Hospital and weighing 7 lbs. 3 oz. His name will be Jeffery David. Proud grandparents for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Taralson and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Edgington. Great grandmother is Mrs. Taralson of Edmonton.

Mr. Dale Taralson motored down to Santa Rose, California to visit his sister, Miss Carolyn Taralson.

If you notice the Reuben Link family walking sort of stiffly, well they spent the weekend in Banff taking their first lessons in skiing.

Mrs. Glen Grant was the lucky winner of the hamper and turkey drawn on Saturday at the Rebeka Lodge. Congratulations, Sandra.

Mr. and Mrs. Toby Schweitzer and Bill have left for a two-week holiday visiting cousins and relatives in Kansas.

My apologies to Mr. and Mrs. Jack Gair and family in not sending sympathy to your family in the loss of a brother-in-law, Mr. Charley Feddema of Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bonar and family of Calgary were weekend visitors with mother, Mrs. Jean Bonar and family.

Hat's off to the girls at Borthmart for their great co-operation with Further Education. They willingly take the registrations, as well as feedback for other courses for that area. As yet, Killam does not have a contact. Have we any volunteers?

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Schow of Morrin were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan.

Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Schaffler of Calgary were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Dick Kinzer and other friends attending the Peacock and Moser wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard McMahon spent the weekend in Edmonton with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Vilner and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Craig Lawson were weekend visitors in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family of Sherwood Park were Sunday visitors with parents, the Dick Kinzers and Bill Morgans. Congratulations to Dick and Helen, who celebrated their anniversary on Sunday, November 26 and Happy birthday to Dick.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hart spent the weekend in Edmonton visiting their family and helping mom celebrate her birthday.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Pederson of Vermilion on their new opening of a jean shop. Their grand opening was on Saturday, November 25.

THE 1979 JAG

It couldn't have happened to a nicer snowmobile. The '79 Arctic Cat Jag 2000 was crowned the '79 mileage champ in a U.S. industry-wide, independent mileage test. Not bad for a machine that was designed to be "little brother" to Arctic's hottest performer, the El Tigre. Jag's agreeable balance of speed, power, weight, handling and price look just that much more agreeable at 49 MPG. We think you'll agree. See the '79 Jag at your Arctic Cat dealer.

People in Profile: Wilf West

training also occured during that time as Mr. West began his studies for a certificate in hospital administration.

His background also includes a position with the Manitoba Health Association as administrative consultant, counselling administrators of rural hospitals in that province. He remained there for nine years before returning to his native Alberta - and his native Flagstaff.

His role in the three hospitals is, he says, one of "guiding, planning, delegating, and motivating." And in all cases, he stresses, it's working with people. In order to stay informed and in touch with every operation of each hospital, he asks that department heads prepare weekly reports. This, he explains, "gives a thumbnail sketch of each department's operation," saving a lot of paperwork so he can deal with the people. "It allows me the time to put the emphasis on the personal.

In general, the reports outline what time and material have been used during a week and what was the result. Although hospitals are not profit-making institutions, he added, you like to make sure funds are always being used to their fullest.

Another way he keeps informed with each operation, he says, is by not being at any hospital the same day every week. By staggering the days, Mr. West explained, he's able to work with all staff members instead of only those on the same shift every week. As well, he's able to experience every type of day in the hospitals' routines, the quiet and busy ones.

Mr. West works a six-day week with, hopefully he says, two days in each hospital. This always doesn't work out though as meetings and special projects demand his attention as well. The job does involve a lot of travelling, an average of 2,000 miles each month between hospitals alone. And Mr. West estimates that he adds another 1,000 miles to the odometer each month in other hospital-related travels. At present, he is president of the Eastern Regional Hospital Conference; chairman of the Flagstaff Area Management Committee for Home Care, a new area of health care for the county; and sits on its regional committee as well.

Health care in Canada, according to Mr. West, is "close to the top of the totem pole in expenses," but in quality as well. In fact, he points out, studies show that the cost of health care increases less each year as compared to other expenditures in the country.

Two of the three hospitals, Galahad and Daysland, are accredited while Hardisty is applying for its accreditation in 1979. Accreditation, Mr. West explained, is granted after the survey and evaluation of a hospital facility, the professional expertise of staff and the quality of patient care practised within a hospital, is carried out by an impartial body. The Canadian Council on Hospital Accreditation. When a hospital is accredited, it is the patient's assurance that the institution is complying with national standards of health care.

This past year, the Daysland hospital staff did themselves proud, says Mr. West, by receiving "accolades" from the accreditation surveyors for the hospital's clinical appraisals. A new area in health care, a clinical appraisal is the hospital's own audit of its level of care, ensuring it meets or betters accepted standards. It shows, added Mr. West, that the doctors "have the right attitude toward medicine."

Although he works in Daysland, Hardisty and Galahad, Mr. West lived in Sedgewick until last July. Now, he and wife Joan have settled in Daysland.

Battle Bend News Items

The first card party of the season got underway in the Battle Bend School Saturday, November 18, with 3½ tables in play. Prizes were won by: Firsts - Mrs. Helen Sutherland and Dave Livingston. Sweep - Mrs. Vera Morris and Walter Chinnery. Mystery - Mrs. Chinnery and Floyd Wadstein. Low - Mrs. Daisy Jensen and Russel Morris. and Travelling - Mrs. Florence Van Koughnett and Dave Livingston. The next card party will be December 2. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. Daisy Jensen recently returned from a lovely trip and holiday to Houston, Texas and surrounding area for a week. From there, she flew to the Barbados via Miami, and was there for a week. Then on to Toronto for a weekend, going to Niagara Falls, and then flying back to Edmonton. Mrs. Jensen travelled with her son Robert and his family. She attended the Women of Uniform convention in Calgary before returning to her home.

Mrs. Anna Morris from Smithers, Mrs. Margaret Gilpin from Manitoulin Island and Grant Edmunds from Calgary visited with Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson several days

Mrs. Grace Kells, Mrs. Virginia Johnson and Mrs. Kathy Van Dewark visited Mrs. Martha Nokleby November 1 with a birthday cake and a gift to help Martha celebrate her birthday. May you have many more happy birthdays, Martha.

Mrs. Virginia Johnson and Mrs. Daisy Jensen have been busy putting quilts together this week.

A few neighbours gathered at the home of Wm. Chave last Saturday evening to help Bill celebrate his birthday.

May you celebrate many more happy birthdays.

A farewell tea was held at the Wm. Chave home in honour of Mrs. Ruth Bryslund last Wednesday afternoon. She was presented with a clock from the community. Mrs. Bryslund will be making her home in Camrose shortly. She will be missed by her neighbours in the Battle Bend district. Wish you well in your new home, Ruth.

Hardisty Further Ed.

Approximately 90 people in the Hardisty area are enjoying Adult Education courses thanks to the efforts of Liz Szoke, volunteer contact. Liz has worked hard to set up courses during the past year and has many new ideas in mind for the folks. Get in touch with Liz and express your wishes about Further Education and how it can serve your community in the future.

Hardisty man honoured

Hardisty's Jim Clifford has been named a winner of one of the three most prestigious awards in professional rodeo, announces the Canadian Rodeo Cowboys Association (CRCA).

Jim has been honoured with the 1978 Dyson Revitt Memorial Award. One of the cornerstones of the professional judging system, he will receive a $1,000 diamond ring in recognition of his contributions to the sport of rodeo.

Other award-winners were Tom Bews of Pekisko, Alberta, who was named Cowboy of the Year, and Jack Daines of Innisfail, Alberta, who received an award from the Canadian Cutting Horse Association.

Sedgewick and District News

Mrs. Margaret Marchand (nee Heartberg) of Edmonton passed away November 1 after a lengthy illness.

Dorothy Heartberg is back home after spending some time with her family in Edmonton.

Alfred Meland of Hardisty passed away on Tuesday in the Killam Hospital after a long illness. He is survived by his wife Hazel and daughters Eleanor Storbakken, Sylvia Crone of Hardisty and Elaine DeWald, and by one son, Hugo, of Camrose.

We offer our sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. Frances Ball, who passed away in Edmonton on Tuesday, November 28.

Welcome home to Mr. and Mrs. Joe Harding from their stay in the Dayspland Hospital.

Just heard that Mr. and Mrs. Leif Osbak are now grandparents. Haven't caught up with anyone to find the particulars, so will report next week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken Martin of Penhold visited at the home of their son and his family, the Greg Martins, and also at the Jim Clarke home over the weekend.

A very pleasant get-together took place at the Killam Hospital on Thursday, November 23. Thirteen of the 16 members of the Spring Pre-natal classes conducted by Mrs. Pat MacKinnon attended, along with their husbands and wee ones. They visited, compared their babies (six boys and seven girls) and enjoyed a lunch.

Word has been received of the death in Grande Prairie on Sunday, November 26 of Mr. Garfield Mayne. He was known by many people in this area. We offer our sympathy to his wife and family and all of his relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. David Wyle, the Ross Danielson family and Miss Peggy MacGregor returned home last week from a Hawaiian holiday. While there, they met Mr. and Mrs. Bill Stark of Fort St. John, who asked them to send greetings to their relatives and friends in this area.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Terry Berg on the birth of a son, Kari Anton arrived at the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton on November 8.

Mr. and Mrs. Len Berg were in Edmonton on November 5 to see their daughter Penay receive her cap at the Royal Alexandra Hospital, where she is in training to become a nurse.

At the Wednesday afternoon card party held by the senior citizens at the Legion Hut, there were seven tables of whist players. Mrs. Ida May Black and Mr. Rod MacKinnon, who was tied with Mr. Bob Watt but won the cut, won prizes for the highest scores. Mrs. Margaret Watt and Mr. Obert Bakken were awarded consolation prizes.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Conrad have a new grandson, so granddaughter Catherine is staying with them for a few days.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Lee, with son Rob and Ryan Sabey, spent the weekend in Calgary with their son Joe.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sparrow spent the weekend in Red Deer.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simons spent a day in Rocky Mountain House last week and stayed overnight.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Reid of Edmonton visited with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Krause, over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hagen, Aaron and Angie spent the weekend in Drayton Valley with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Hagen.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Andersen were home briefly, then went to Drumheller to spend the weekend with his mother. Then they went on to Mundare, where Don is working.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Schmutz and family were in Edmonton on Saturday to help Grandma Schmutz celebrate her birthday. Don't worry Mary, we won't tell which one. Happy birthday anyway.

Welcome home on Tuesday to Mr. Werner Howeihe after spending two weeks in Dayspland Hospital.

Sedgewick Minor Hockey

The player registration fee for Sedgewick Minor Hockey players will remain the same as last year. This fee must be handed in to the coach or manager before being allowed to play hockey.

A coach and manager is still needed for the 10 and under team. If anyone is interested, in helping with this team, please contact Ole Lundie or Jack McConnell.

Open scrimmage will be allowed for one hour per week on an experimental basis. Please note that there will be no supervision and parents are responsible for letting their children participate.

Single Copies — 25c Sedgewick, Alberta WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 6, 1978 Volume 70—No. 15

Seen erecting Sedgewick's Christmas decorations this week were (left to right) Terry Robinson and Len Kwasny, both of Calgary Power, and Sedgewick Town Foreman Russell Sansome. The new lights are large Christmas trees and candles. Missing from the picture is Frank Harris also with the town, who was operating the backhoe used to erect the decorations.

Heisler Jr High wins in final basketball

The County of Flagstaff Junior High Basketball season came to a close on Saturday, December 2 with Heisler emerging as champions.

In the opening game of the final tournament, Alliance downed Galahad by a slim one point margin, 16-15, in the final minutes of the game. Aain Ramcharan led Alliance in scoring as he connected for six points. Shaun Clough and Kelly Johnstone both assisted by netting four points each. Darren Gier led Galahad in scoring with eight points.

Heisler defeated Hardisty in a very exciting game to set up an Alliance versus Heisler final.

The Alliance boys led the final game at half-time and at three quarter time, but ran into foul trouble in the fourth quarter and were unable to hold off the Heisler team. The final score ended up 31 15 in Heisler's favour. The winners were led by Donald Fankhanel, who netted 13 points, and Duane Wolbeck, who added nine more. Aain Ramcharan again led Alliance in scoring as he picked up eight points. Shaun Clough also contributed by adding six points before being fouled out early in the fourth quarter.

Basketball teams thank everyone for the fan support throughout the year.

Curling winners named

The Kinsmen Club curling bonspiel, held in Sedgewick the weekend of December 1, 2 and 3, saw a full complement of 23 rinks compete for prizes in three events.

Rinks entered for $28 each, with proceeds after the rink rental going to Cystic Fibrosis. All prizes, a total of 48, were donated by business community for the second year in a row.

Winners in the spiel were:

Central High requests scholarship fund donors

The 1979 graduates of the Central High School in Sedgewick are about to start a campaign for donations to the yearly C.H.S. Scholarship Fund.

The fund was originally begun in 1954 at the instigation of the Reverend Vernon Wishart. The object was to promote student achievement and to give recognition to outstanding achievement by a Grade 12 student who intended to go on to higher education.

Several organizations made donations in the beginning — The Boards of Trade in Killam and Sedgewick, Fairdonian Valley F.U.A., F.W.A., Home and School Association and the W.I., the Canadian Legion and the Community Association from Lougheed. Together, these groups were able to present a total of $100 to the yearly winners.

Since 1954, however, many changes have occurred. Some of the original organizations no longer exist. Others have become unable to offer their support. At the same time, the school population has changed with students now coming from five communities: Hardisty, Lougheed, Sedgewick, Killam and Alliance.

The 1979 graduates believe the C.H.S. Scholarship still provides a worthy incentive for student achievement and would like to see it expanded to involve more organizations from all five communities and to offer a larger sum as an award to the winner. With this in mind, they will soon be approaching organizations in these communities to solicit their support.

Special section for Christmas

This issue of the paper has a section announcing, in advance, Santa's annual visit to Sedgewick. In conjunction with his visit, 15 merchants are offering draws for turkeys in their stores. The draws will be made at 4:30 p.m., Saturday, December 9.

You are invited to clip the turkey forms from this paper and enter them in the various draws. Extra entries are available at participating merchants as often as purchases are made. There are many special prices in effect for December 7, 8 & 9.

Last, but not least, a free show and treats for the children will take place at 2 p.m. on Saturday, as well as the arrival of jolly St. Nicholas.

The Community Press 1977-78 reporter awards were presented at a 4-H workshop held in Galahad on Sunday, December 3. The annual awards are given to 4-H club reporters in the area covered by the Community Press and the Enterprise.

This year's top award went to Deanne Wilson of the Killam Beef Club, who was not present at the workshop. Second and third winners were Vicky Sommer of the Heisler Hemmers (left) and Karen O'Reilly (right) of the Merna Light Horse Club. Their reports of club activities were judged on content, promptness, legibility and originality.

Editorially

County Loyalty:
Putting our money where our mouth is

It may be the season to be jolly, but as most of us have found, it's also one to spend a lot of money. Christmas traditionally has been the biggest gift-giving occasion of the year, surpassing birthdays, anniversaries -- even Mother's Day!

Whether it should be or not would make for an interesting debate: something this editorial isn't going to deal with. No, our concern isn't how you spend your dollars this Christmas, but where.

We live in a county which is rich, not only in its people, but in its business community as well. What one town doesn't have, another one is sure to. So why, we ask, are a lot of us in a big hurry to fight the city crowds, noisy streets, impatient and rude drivers, inconsiderate pedestrians, and even more un-Christmas like, snobbish store clerks! That pretty Christmas carol, Silver Bells, "busy sidewalks, bustling sidewalks with that holiday crowd" just isn't found anymore. In its place is a madcap rush for survival. And in most cases, we aren't even getting a deal on the price by going to the city. If we are, it sure isn't paying for the gas to get there.

This year, why not enjoy your Christmas shopping for a change instead of hating the season before it even arrives. Why not stay in town, or travel to a nearby one in the county for your Christmas shopping. We bet you'll enjoy it more -- probably even see some friends you've not visited with for awhile. And the attitude of travelling to the city rather than support a rival town just doesn't cut it anymore.

But the best argument for this change of pace is that you'll be keeping the dollars in this community. And the logic of that speaks for itself. By patronizing your neighbour's business this Christmas (and all year for that matter), he'll probably patronize yours.

What Others Say

Canadian unity on the playing field

What draws Canadians together more than anything else?

What sends them -- young and old -- all across this country and into other countries as well, carrying the flag of Canada?

What joins them together with a common goal?

If you have not guessed it by now, it is sports.

Sporting events can do more for Canadian unity than any high-priced advertising campaign because sporting enthusiasm is often stronger than patriotism. And when the two are combined, you have a block-buster of emotion.

Remember the first Canada-Russia hockey series? During those sporting encounters -- which attracted a huge viewership -- Canadianism was at a fever pitch. Cases were reported where packed lounges and bars rumbled with the strains of O Canada several times during just one contest.

Nothing has yet equalled that first series, but just the same, match-ups between Canadian and European athletes have sent hearts thumping in Canadians for decades.

The Commonwealth Games in Edmonton last summer are another example. Pride in being Canadian is fundamental to Canadian unity.

The Grey Cup game is an annual exercise in that as well. Although barriers are drawn up between east and west, they are thrown down during the festivities in Grey Cup city, wherever it may be. East meets west in celebration and each discovers that the other is not so bad after all.

And even on the playing surface, there is always that respect for the other side - respect of an opponent worthy of being beaten.

Sports have been tackling the Canadian unity issue long before Canadians realize that such an issue existed.

A farmer's letter to Santa Claus

Author Unknown

Old Santa sat in his easy chair, reading his letters from here and there.

When all of a sudden "A Ha" said he, the Alberta Farmers have written to me.

I suppose they want a new fangled plow, or maybe some sort of special cow.

Oh well, he sighed, and shook his head, then opened the letter and slowly read:

Dear Santa:

We know we're asking for quite a lot, but there are so many things we haven't got.

So we thought we'd ask you to try and find these gifts for us that we have in mind.

A few less hoppers and a bit less rain, when harvest time rolls around again.

We're tired of hail and wind storms here, so you needn't bother with them this year.

Give us higher prices for eggs and cream, and lower prices for gasoline.

Give us plenty of markets for all our grain, and a good cattle market once again.

This is our list and at the top, what we really want is a bumper crop.

And just one more thing 'ere your patience cracks, give us the strength to master income tax.

Santa laughed and put the letter away, then stopped outside to look at the sleigh.

And right on top by the dolls, pretty charmers, he placed a box of Good Luck for Alberta Farmers!

The Third Column

by Truncate

BITS AND PIECES is what this week's column is going to be all about. Sometimes you just run out of ideas, and then, like making a stew, you throw in everything but the kitchen sink and sit back to see what comes out. A sort of potpourri.

THE PRESIDENT and his executive of the CLC not only showed courage, but also a sense of responsibility in not coming forward in full support of CUPW in the recent confrontation with the Postal Department. This is particularly true in the attempted defiance of the laws of the land. CUPW, the most militant union in the country, had gone just a bit too far in the eyes of the CLC, and backing them fully and openly would have injured the Labour Union movement nationally. The masses are becoming belligerent; they see unions as carrying their arrogance a bit far, as their demands become more and more unacceptable. They also see management as being poor operators. There has to be, and there is, a better way of handling the situations than those presently being employed. All it takes is for someone, or some group of responsible people to display the "guts" to get the job done.

THE SOCIAL CREDIT Party has just recently completed its annual convention and as usual concluded with a fresh burst of enthusiasm and optimism as to its chances in the next election. Leader Bob Clarke's job is to keep the members fired up, and in doing this has made a couple of statements which are questionable.

FIRST OF ALL, he stated that the question of Canadian Unity is a thing of the past. We think that he really doesn't believe that himself. Unity may be temporarily relegated to the back burner, but it is certain to rear its ugly head again. Rene will make sure of that.

SECONDLY, our friend Bob predicted that Social Credit would return fifteen members to the Legislature in next spring's election; not an entirely impossible event. But then he got all fired up and stated that his party could win the next election. Does he realize what that statement means. He must pick up an additional (at least) 32 seats to give him a bare majority. We just can't see that happening at this stage of the game.

THE RECENT hold-the-line Federal budget drew the usual and predicted barrage of criticism, accusations and doom and gloom predictions. All of these things are expected from opposition parties. They seem to feel that is their job, which to us is an erroneous assumption. But the thing that really stumped us was listening to at least five economists, people who are supposed to have the pulse pretty well counted. Not one of them was in agreement with any other. If people like that can't agree somewhere along the line, how can we expect the masses to contain anything but confusion?

OUT OF THE BUDGET came intended legislation to remove some of the tax shelters enjoyed by the rich. People who purchase twenty acres of rural land, call it a farm, and use it for a write-off for tax purposes. Hockey players and other sportsmen who sign a million dollar contract and then incorporate to evade taxes. Then to have Al the Eagle condemn the move and predict the end of hockey as we know it as all players move to the U.S. for protection. We feel sorry for them, but we feel a darn sight more sorry for the middle man who escapes nothing and continues to be the main source of tax revenue.

A MILLION POUNDS of turkey being kept off the market in an attempt to inflate the price of our Christmas goody. True or false? We don't know. We suppose they have the right to with-hold their product from the market place. But it's questionable procedure. We could lick them though, if we are willing to break with tradition and have weiners and sauerkraut for Christmas dinner. But will we do it. Dare we leave them sitting there with a million pounds of unused turkey? We don't have to eat turkey. It's only a tradition you know. By golly, let's try it. Wouldn't those people have a hell of a time consuming a million pounds of unwilling turkey meat?

Letters to the Editor

Dear parents of Hardisty:

What are your children doing this evening? Do you know or care what they are doing or where they are?

Are they out "stoning out" your neighbours' windows, or draining you neighbour's car of gas, or enjoying other acts of vandalism?

It would appear that the younger generation is not being taught to have morals or respect for other people's property.

So, come on parents -- let's get with it and see if we can't make our town a better place in which to live.

Maybe, just maybe, a 9 o'clock curfew could solve some of the problems.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Thomas McLaughlin
United Church of Canada

It is my privilege this month to share "Good News" with you via this column. I imagine that most of you are busy preparing for the celebration of the birth of Christ. I would like to share with you some thoughts for Advent.

Years ago, an enterprising copy writer was working hard on an Ivory soap advertising campaign. Here was his description of the virtues of his product: "The alkaline elements and vegetable fats in this product are blended in such a way as to secure the highest quality of saponification alone with a specific gravity that keeps it on top of the water, relieving the bather of the trouble and annoyance of fishing around for it in the bottom during his ablutions."

Well! It did not take long for the advertising manager to cross out all of that involved prose and to substitue two words: "It floats." How simple, how complete, how accurate.

The Christmas event, the coming of God to earth as a little Child Jesus, was simple – and yet how wonderfully profound. The gospel can be expressed in just two words: "Jesus Saves." In fact, the angel announcing the name "Jesus" said that he would be so named "because he shall save his people from their sins."

Simple, yet how profound and how amazing. God, the creator, in all his glory, came down to earth in the person of a little child. The eternal God descended in loving concern from the white, shining glories of heaven to the primitive manger.

So, as you begin preparations for Christmas, my hope and prayer is that the center of your celebrations focuses on the Christ child and what he means to each and every one of us.

UCW elects officers

At a recent annual meeting of the Killam UCW the following officers were elected: President - F. Schweitzer, 1st Vice-President - D. Forster, 2nd Vice-President - M. Wilson, Treasurer - L. Forster, Secretary - D. Saunders, Card Convenor - D. Martin, Catering - M. Dutton and S. Forster. F. Schweitzer was elected as UCW representative to the Official Board.

The December meeting will take the form of a pot luck dinner on December 8.

The worship service was opened by Mrs. F. Lackey with the singing of What a Friend We Have in Jesus. She read us the story by Jules Leger of Memories of My Father. His father had taught by example that learning, hard work and having consideration for others were desireable in life.

The roll call was answered by 15 members with a stamped Christmas card.

A shipment of good used clothing was packed and sent to the Bissell Center.

Rose Wegerzast reported that the Banff Conference was so good she wished more people could go to it.

Those who had gone to the presbyterial spoke of how interesting it had been. More people should be encouraged to take part in these meetings.

Nazarene news

"Prelude to Christmas" was enjoyed by many of the congregation Sunday evening.

The Nazarene Sunday School program will be held December 17 at 7 p.m. December 21, there will be a special service featuring the Abels' daughter Lois, and son-in-law, Rev. Bill Roland of Minneapolis. Plan to join us for these evenings of fellowship.

Tuesday, December 12 will be Caravan Awards Night, to which all parents and friends are invited.

Get well wishes go to Irene Felzien. Hope you are soon feeling better.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

THE DEVALUED DOLLAR

With the Canadian dollar hovering at around 85 cents in U.S. currency, the government is embarked upon a massive campaign to convince Canadians that the devalued dollar is good medicine.

The central claim is that with a devalued dollar, Canada will export more goods and attract more tourists. The facts are that, yes indeed, our Canadian exports are up. Unfortunately, so are our imports and the net result is that Canada continues to operate in an unfavourable balance of payment situation.

Likewise, statistics recently gathered indicated that just as many Canadians are travelling out of Canada this year with the devalued dollar as they were in previous years. However, fewer Americans have visited Canada during the past 12 months than in the previous year.

The devalued dollar, however, very definitely affects many Canadians adversely. As an example, most farm equipment is manufactured in the United States. A recent statistical study on agricultural equipment costs in the Province of Alberta versus the United States indicates the high price that farmers are paying for a devalued dollar. A hypothetical 100-horse power tractor cost Canadians $19,648 in June of 1976 and by June of 1978, the price had increased to $27,092 or an increase of 37.9 per cent. It is interesting to note that the tractor increased 30.5 per cent more than its counterpart in the United States. Another example illustrates that a medium capacity combine increased $9,000 from June of 1976 to June of 1978 and a heavy duty cultivator increased 34 per cent in that same year in Canada and at a rate of 13.1 per cent faster than the United States. The statistical chart illustrates that a pull-type baler increased 28.2 per cent in one year and 12.9 per cent faster than the same baler in the United States.

What I find interesting about the present situation is that the Government of Canada is trying hard to convince all Canadians that an 85 cent dollar is just exactly what we need. However, the following quotations will give you an example of what the Liberals thought some years ago when the then Prime Minister, John Diefenbaker, pegged the Canadian dollar at 92½ cents.

"When a government loses control of the exchange rate, when it is forced to abandon its policies and to devalue the currency, the country is in serious peril."
- Mitchell Sharp

"This government boasts about devaluation . . . They are boasting about weakness. Today we are struggling with a major financial crisis."
- Mitchell Sharp

"A confession of the complete failure of the present government's economic policies."
- Lester Pearson

"A move of desperation . . . Canada was faced with a financial crisis."
- Walter Gordon

"Too great a burden for the common man to bear."
- Paul Martin

Obviously, for the government, keeping in touch has different languages for different times.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

by Ruth Freadrich

GREAT BEGINNINGS

Have you ever wakened with the feeling all is well with the world and that absolutely nothing could ruin things? I have. It lasted about two minutes.

Considering I am not a member of the "Early Risers Club," I mentally patted myself on the back for actually waking before the alarm rang. Maybe it was that horn tooting outside that had helped. But wait – who would be tooting a horn way out here? "It must be the bus," I thought as I rolled over and stretched. The school bus! Oh my heavens! I leaped out of bed and flew to the door, but looking down at my faded old nightie (my favourite) and feeling my frizzy hair, (I'm not a member of the "Good Looking Risers Club" either), I realized rushing out like this would only serve the hasten the buses' departure. With a sigh of resignation, I went to get the kids up.

Now, the only thing that makes this job half bearable is that one child takes after his father and the other after his mother. One can be awake and ready to go after the first shout the other takes so much persuasion he makes the idea of pulling hens' teeth, as they say, seem like a cinch. In order to leave personalities out of this, we won't discuss further who takes after whom. What matters is that the task of rousing the troops is accomplished and the action moves to the kitchen.

There are two things about the next fifteen minutes that truly amaze me. First, how fast we can move when we have to, and second, what a heck of a mess we can make in such a short time! I mean, nobody deserves to knock a full box of Rice Krispies on the floor as they reach for a cloth to wipe up the spilled milk. Do they? Especially on the same day as they find the peanut butter jar empty when that is the only kind of sandwiches their kids will take for lunch.

Glancing at the clock, I knew the crisis of the peanut butter and the cleaning up would have to wait. Pulling my jeans on over my nightie and grabbing a sweater, I rushed the kids out to the car.

The trip to town was surprisingly uneventful, but after dropping my offspring at school, I decided to save myself a trip later and pick up my groceries right away. I realized then I was still wearing my slippers, but I figured no one would notice and if they did, so big deal. I wasn't the first person it had happened to. So, buttoning my sweater to cover my nightie, I dashed into the store.

As I was leaving the store, feeling quite smug that my feet had gone unnoticed, I caught a glimpse of my reflection in the window. Oh no, it couldn't be! Oh yes, it could! I was thoroughly embarrassed to see about six inches of faded pink nylon drooping out from under the back of my sweater. Could this have been the cause of the somewhat peculiar look I had gotten from the box-boy? Somehow, I didn't doubt it. Trying to act nonchalant, I slunk to the car and beat a hasty retreat.

Once back in my slightly dishevelled home, I flopped into a chair and shook my head unbelievingly. I had only been up for two hours and yet I had the feeling it was time to call it a day. Just then the alarm clock began its belated call. Casually, as if it catch it off guard, I strolled into the bedroom. Grabbing the little troublemaker, I smacked it right on the button and stuffed it in a drawer. "Oh, that felt good," I thought as I snuggled under the covers. I just knew things would be better when I woke later. Much later.

COUNTY OF FLAGSTAFF NO. 29

SNOWPLOWING DRIVEWAYS

The Council of the County of Flagstaff No. 29 wish to bring to your attention that is has adopted policy with respect to snowplowing requested by its residents. This policy has to conform with the Provincial Municipal Government Act which permits this work to be done by a municipality ONLY if it is an emergency and there is no privately owned equipment available. This same Act permits a Municipality to charge the cost of this work to the person requesting that the work be done.

Council would also like you to be aware that although this Policy has been adopted it can be rescinded or suspended if conditions dictate as happened in the 1973 - 74 winter season because of the excessive amount of snow which fell in that period.

The Snow Plowing Policy is as follows:

(1) Snowplowing of laneways shall only be done after school bus routes and County roads have been cleared.
(2) Snowplowing of laneways shall only be done as the time and availability of the machine permits.
(3) Charges for snowplowing laneways shall be at the rate of $12.00 per hour, with a minimum charge of $5.00 for each time a laneway is snowplowed.
(4) The County will not be responsible for any damage or loss caused while snowplowing, as requested from the resident.
(5) No laneway will be snowplowed unless this form is on file at the County office.

The following form has been prepared to protect the County from any actions, suits, etc., which may be brought against the County because of this snowplowing. Snowplowing your driveway is considered to be a service and therefore Council feels it should have the full co-operation from the residents receiving that service.

NOTICE TO RESIDENTS OF THE COUNTY OF FLAGSTAFF NO. 29

LICENSE AND RELEASE FORM

Request by a County of Flagstaff No. 29 resident for Emergent Snowplowing pursuant to Section 188, Municipal Government Act, Chapter 246, R.S.A. 1970 and amendments thereto, and pursuant to County of Flagstaff No. 29 policy.

I, the undersigned, WHEN REQUESTED BY ME, hereby grant permission for the County of Flagstaff No. 29 to remove snow from my driveway providing me access to and from my residence during the_____winter season, and hereby agree to save harmless and indemnify the County of Flagstaff No. 29, its employees and agents, from and against all actions, suits, claims and demands arising in any manner whatsoever from the said snowplowing carried out for me by the County of Flagstaff No. 29.

Also, I hereby agree to pay upon receipt of invoice, all charges for this service.

The location of my residence is _____ DATED this_____day of_____A.D. 197_____at_____ _____, Alberta.

Witness as to signature

Applicant's signature
(Specify if owner, lessee, renter)

MUST BE RENEWED EACH WINTER SEASON

To speed up the whole procedure the above form was devised and hopefully, if your co-operation is obtained, it can be carried on in future years as well. The above is a yearly form and can be cut out of the paper, completed and forwarded to the County office.

If for some reason this form is destroyed or filled out incorrectly, you can obtain another form from the County Office or your Councillor. By completing this form and forwarding it to the County Office, the only items left for you to do is to notify your Councillor or the County Office when an emergency arises and you require the removal of snow from your driveway to your residence, and there is not privately owned equipment available at the time to remove the snow for you.

Finally please remember to pay outstanding snow removal accounts to ensure that future requests will be acted upon.

Anniversary celebrated in Lougheed

Mr. and Mrs. A. Peters celebrated their 25th anniversary on November 25. Present were all of Mr. Peter's brothers and wives, coming from Winnipeg, Calgary, Pincher Creek and Lougheed. Mrs. Peter's brother and his wife from Calgary were also present, along with friends and relatives from Sedgewick, Lougheed, Killam, Luseland, Saskatchewan, Edmonton and Wetaskiwin. Mrs. Peter's father was unable to attend due to illness. Their original bridesmaid and bestman, Martha Pope and Ed Peters, were able to be present.

Evening visitors a week ago last Saturday night at the home of Molly Fersoyhough were Mrs. Dorothy Heartberg and Mrs. Lillie Danielson of Sedgewick.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Brian Tweedy on the passing of Debbie's mother, Mrs. Frances Ball, last week.

Congratulations to Mr. Hunter White, who celebrated a birthday on November 26. I guess you were so busy watching the Grey Cup and forgot how old you were. Anyway, many more birthdays and keep fit going to the dances the next few years and you will see your 100th birthday.

Mrs. Gladys Erickson came home from the Killam Hospital last Friday. Wishing you better health, Gladys.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Johnson and family of Edmonton were visiting Mrs. Johnson's sister, Carol and Chuck Mareschal and boys, the weekend of the Grey Cup.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Clouston of Provost and Mrs. Ella Clouston of the Sedgewick Lodge were weekend visitors with the T. Cloustons.

It seems as though December is a busy month with so many interesting things to go to. In Sedgewick on December 20 at 8 p.m. in the Bethania Lutheran Church, there will be a Cantata called "Night of Miracles". So folks, if you can, just take the evening away from home and go to this.

Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Skoberg have just returned from an enjoyable trip down through the U.S.A.

Margaret Denham spent a few days in Galahad visiting with the Blumhagens. When the weather is nice overhead, everyone gets the fever to go.

The Hazelwood Good Deed Club held its Christmas supper, program and exchange of gifts last Friday. Santa Claus did a very good job of seeing that every boy and girl, and also ladies, had a gift. Each member could ask a friend and the family. A lovely supper and program was enjoyed by all. Many, many thanks to you lovely ladies for everything.

Guy and Ruth Fournier (nee Jablonski) have returned to Ottawa, Ontario after being here awhile with Ruth's mother and to settle the business after her passing away in November.

Mr. and Mrs. Rick Irwin at the Lougheed Hotel had a staff party on Grey Cup Day November 26. There were the staff and also quite a number of friends from Lougheed, Pine Point and Olds. It was enjoyed by all. Many thanks to Rick and Lee.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Birchill of Wainwright were over to visit Mrs. Brita Birchill and to take in the Good Deed supper last Friday night.

Get to know it. You could save a life.

Carbon monoxide strikes quickly. Because you can't see, feel or smell it. But it can kill you or members of your family. Learning about carbon monoxide poisoning is the best way of fighting it.

Know the Symptoms

If you or members of your household develop these symptoms, get into the fresh air and notify your gas company immediately. Watch for:
- a headachy feeling
- tightness across the forehead and in the temples
- loss of muscular control
- watering and smarting of the eyes
- weariness, weakness, dizziness, vomiting

Know About Prevention

Carbon monoxide gas may be formed through faulty combustion in your gas appliances. You can prevent its formation by following these steps:
- use only approved gas appliances
- have qualified experts install gas appliances
- give gas appliances an abundant air supply
- keep gas appliances in good condition
- report excessive rusting and carbon on your water heater to the gas company
- report escaping fumes to the gas company
- keep the furnace fan compartment door closed and secure at all times
- clean furnace filters before the heating season begins and then as required
- report irregular flame patterns to the gas company

For more information on carbon monoxide poisoning and other household dangers, visit your nearest gas company office and pick up a copy of our free pamphlets "Take Time For Home Heating Safety" and "Home Safe Home".

Agriculture Canada:

New crop fund aids prairies

Agriculture Canada's New Crop Development Fund is assisting a number of projects to improve agricultural production in the Prairie provinces.

Several projects are of special interest to Alberta farmers.

The fund will contribute $613,000 to a project to develop improved varieties of rapeseed.

The project, involving scientists from both the provincial and federal departments of agriculture, will concentrate on reducing the fiber content of rapeseed meal and improving the fatty acid composition of the oil.

The results of the project should help to increase the demand for Alberta-grown rapeseed.

The Palliser Wheat Growers' Association will receive about $30,000 from the fund to conduct a study on the effect of fertiliser on yield and protein content of selected wheats grown on the prairies.

The study results, to be available in January, 1979, should show the effect that different levels of fertilization have in the major soil zones of the prairies.

The Rapeseed Association of Canada will receive New Crop Fund support for sunflower production research and field trials.

The project will investigate sunflower production possibilities in areas where sunflowers have not previously been grown.

In northern Alberta, the fund will spend $55,000 on a five-year project on the feasibility of growing Saskatoon berries as a commercial crop in the Peace River region.

Saskatoon berry farming could provide an alternate cash crop in the region.

The New Crop Development Fund, with an annual budget of $1 million, was established to help bridge the gap between basic agricultural research and its practical application on Canadian farms.

Strome records week of births and visiting

Congratulations are extended to David and Charlotte Curtis on the birth of another daughter, Allison Kathryn, on November 27, weighing 8 lbs.

Mrs. Janet McCulloch and baby daughter and nephew Darcy Carignan motored from Winfield last Thursday and spent the weekend with her mother, Alice Pooler.

Ken and Iona McDougall took Earl and Marge McDougall to Breton last Friday to visit Beryl Stevens, and continued on to Drayton Valley for the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Slavik took his mother, Mrs. Esther Slavik, from Fort St. John to visit her daughter and new grandchild at Brooks last Monday.

Coffee guests with Allan and Ruth Auburn last Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. O. Broemeling of Edmonton.

Sheilah Pottle spent last weekend with Bonnie Hauck in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Smith-Gander of Edmonton visited his mother last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Willie Knorr of Provost were last Sunday morning visitors with Allan and Ruth Auburn.

Patt Fleenor has moved out of the McDougall house and has gone back to Manitoba.

Honey Curtis and Errie Auburn visited Charlie Auburn and Mrs. Dumont in Viking last Wednesday.

Pete and Mina Curtis visited Charlie Auburn at the Viking Nursing Home last week and also visited Buster and Myrna Curtis at Bruce.

The Strome firemen are having a bonspiel next weekend, and don't forget the Elks Turkey Bingo next week.

Daysland and District News

The Daysland Young People met together at Dietrich's at 6 p.m. on November 12 for a progressive supper. We had dessert and vegetables at Dietrich's, then on to Hrdlicka's, where we stopped for salad. The next stop was at Midbos, where we had a beverage. After that, we went to Newtons, where we had some delicious chicken and mashed potatoes. The last stop was at Rotts', There we had soup and played pool and shuffle board. In our meeting we decided that on December 1 we would have a skating party at Midbo's farm.

The special education class in Daysland, with teacher Miss S. McGirr as well as the students and parents, wish to thank the executive and participants of the former baton, tap and jazz group for their donation to the classroom. This money, which was left when the group broke membership several years ago, has been put to good use for puzzles, educational toys and games, as well as books for the students.

Miss Kim Meyer of Daysland was the recipient of a cheque from the Spring Lake CWL. This was in recognition of her scholastic standing in Grade 9. Kim is presently in Grade 10 in the Daysland High School, and is a daughter of Gary and Dorothy Meyer.

A number of friends and neighbours surprised the Ben Terway family with a housewarming party last Friday night, November 24. An enjoyable evening was spent playing cards and games. Orlean Mickla on behalf of the guests, presented Mr. and Mrs. Terway with a gift and wished them good luck in their new home.

The Sunbeam Club met November 29 in the Daysland Hall with 30 members present. There were seven tables of court whist played and two played scramble. The high score went to Mr. Ray Broneling with 39, and low went to Mrs. Margaret Berry with 12. A lovely lunch was served by the ladies in charge. The next meeting will be December 13 at 1:30 p.m. It will be our Christmas party and all members are welcome.

Mrs. Phyllis Thomas and Mrs. Emily Campbell are both patients in the University Hospital in Edmonton. Get well soons.

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pryor left last Sunday, November 26, to spent the winter in Las Vegas and Phoenix.

This festive scene was captured last week in Daysland after that community finished putting up new Christmas decorations. The colourful fixtures of lanterns and candles were erected from the highway down Main Street to the post office corner.

Purchase of the lights was a co-operative project this year of the Chamber of Commerce, local businesses and townspeople.

Galahad District News

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Buchholz and Linda spent last weekend at Mayerthorpe at the Randy Hagman home. While there they were in attendance at the zone rally of the Lions in that area.

Galahad was the only place represented outside their zone. Herb and Doreen were pleased to make the acquaintance of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Major. Mrs. Major was the former Ellen Foster whose parents resided in the Pleasington area. Mrs. Rose Kirschman and Mrs. Irene Baird are sisters of Ellen Major. Mr. and Mrs. Major sent greetings to all who remember them.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Felzien spent last weekend at Kingman visiting the Irvin Felziens. They also visited Mrs. Felzien Sr. at the Bethany Sr. Citizens home in Camrose.

Pete Willis spent a few days at Wainwright at the Ken Warriners. Mary's father from Saskatchewan was spending a few weeks there also.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winter, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blumhagen, Mr. and Mrs. Fred McNabb and Mrs. Ferdinand Roth were guests at the 65th wedding celebration of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bitterman at Stettler on Saturday, November 25. The actual wedding date is December 15, but owing to the date falling near Christmas, it was celebrated earlier.

One sister, Mrs. Lydia Bryant of Walla Walla, Washington, was unable to attend owing to illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Don McMahon and Mrs. Gladys McMahon spent Thursday in Camrose.

Herman Borgel of Whitelaw spent last weekend visiting his mother, Mrs. Rose Borgel, and other members of the family.

Kay Pescod and Alta Willis were guests at the Leon Thibault home of Forestburg on Sunday evening. Also there to enjoy the turkey dinner were Lindy and Irma Lunty.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Muyers of Forestburg were visitors at the Hugh Bownes home on Sunday.

The Senior Citizens Turkey Bingo was quite a success with a large number of folk present. Winners were: Sharon Kumm, Forestburg; Polly Reister, Galahad; Ellen Oberg, Forestburg; Ted Odell, Alliance; Mrs. Howard Jackson, Galahad; Alphonse Perreault, Galahad; Caroline Misner, Edmonton; Kay Rittenhouse, Alliance; Colleen White, Forestburg; Cheryl Scott, Alliance; Mrs. Roth, Forestburg; Kay Rittenhouse, Alliance; Mrs. Verna Shultz, Killam; Betty Felzien, Galahad; Merle Vincett, Killam; Ken Norman, Donalda; Garry Konaig, Galahad; John Erion, Galahad; Bev Rompler, Alliance; and Ann Clough, Alliance. Door prise went to Scott Bernard.

The ladies working on the history of this area are busy as a hive of bees digging out the addresses of former residents of a large number of school districts not covered by other history books. It's hard work but we are finding out much that we had never heard of, and the task is rewarding. May we encourage everyone to write their family story.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Bumback and Alaana of Fort McMurray spent a week at the Otto Blumhagen home.

Mrs. Aon Blumhagen and Alanna accompanied Mrs. Madeline Blumhagen and Cheryl to Camrose last Tuesday and visited Mrs. Helen Roch and also Mrs. Bryan Roche and her new infant daughter, Serene Marie.

Saturday evening, Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blumhagen were present at the Stettler Legion Hall where the family of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bitterman had a celebration for their parents on their 65th wedding anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Otto Blumhagen also took in the Strauss-Luigens wedding dance at Heisler Saturday evening. Shelley Blumhagen was an attendant at the wedding.

Charlene Blumhagen has a week off from NAIT so she was at her parent's home.

Mr. and Mrs. George Saruga of Willingdon and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kerelnik and Karla of Vegreville were visitors over the weekend at the Otto Blumhagen and Steve Saruga homes. They attended the baptism of Stacey Ann Saruga at Galahad Sunday.

ALBERTA RAPESEED COURSE

Consumer Column: Installing insulation

Insulation. You've decided you need it and you've selected the type best suited to your requirements.

Since the ceiling is a major source of heat loss, it's a good place to start there. But, when working in an attic, remember to wear soft-souled shoes and walk on ceiling joists only. Taking these precautions could save you a punctured ceiling. If you want a more stable working platform, lay boards across the joists.

Now to install.

First, find out the condition and depth of insulation already in your attic. You should have at least eight inches. If you only have about three, add five or six inches of batt or blanket insulation. Buy a type without a vapour barrier -- there should be one already on the ceiling. Be sure to cover all areas except for eave vents and other ventilators. And if you've chosen a mineral fibre-type insulation, take extra care with it as small particles can cause skin irritation. Spare yourself a lot of discomfort by wearing gloves and showering after finishing the job.

Another way of re-insulating your ceiling if there's only about three inches presently there is to use bags of loose fill. Pour it between the ceiling joists -- again, be sure not to block vents -- and smooth and settle the fill into place with a garden rake. The fill should at least cover the joists.

Walls - the second highest source of heat loss. You need an insulation factor of at least 12, about as much as can be achieved with batts or blankets and four-inch wall studs.

To insulate framed walls framed walls, push blankets into the stud spaces so they touch the sheathing or siding. Work from the top down and place staples about 12 inches apart, pulling down flanges so they fit snugly against the top and bottom plates.

If you're using friction-fit batts or blankets without an attached vapour barrier, first wedge them into place, then cover the inside face of the wall with a suitable vapour barrier such as polyethylene stapled to top and bottom plates. Unroll the sheet across the entire wall area, including window and door openings. You can cut these out later.

Be sure to fit insulation behind pipes, ducts and electrical boxes. Pack the space with loose insulation or cut a piece to the proper size and fit it into place. Stuff pieces of insulation between rough framing and door and window heads, jambs and sills. Staple vapour barrier or polyethylene to cover these small areas.

If you have non-standard-width studs or joist spaces, cut the insulation and vapour barrier an inch or so wider than the space to be filled. Staple uncut flanges as usual. Pull the vapour barrier on the cut side to the other stud, fitting the insulation behind it and staple through the vapour barrier to the stud. Unfaced blankets are cut slightly oversize and wedged into place.

If the walls you're insulating are new, put in as much insulation as the stud space will accept. For extra value, consider six-inch studs or a layer of styrofoam sheating on the outside, under the exterior surface. To complete the job, follow the same instructions above for insulating framed walls.

You could, on the other hand, choose blown-in loose-fill or foamed-in-place insulation for your walls. In either case, you'll need to hire a professional insulation contractor. Check both the product and the workmanship and get a meaningful guarantee.

Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33⅓% more tax credit.
The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33⅓% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility.
We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees.
Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape.
We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

For full details on the program, contact any Canada Employment Centre/ Canada Manpower Centre.

Cambridge Community Association raises more than $400 for blind

The Cambridge Community Association held the last meeting of the year on November 28. Despite the slippery roads, 10 members came and one little one. Also visiting us this month was Mrs. Rose Day, who we welcomed for the first time.

It was reported that the last count of monies which we collected for the Blind totalled $472 with only a few left to canvass, so I believe we can consider our drive a success.

We planned our Christmas supper this year for Thursday, December 7 at Cambridge School. This month we donated to the TB Christmas Seals.

Following the November meeting, we held our annual meeting. These are some of the highlights of our year.

In January, we donated to the Heart Fund and sent out three fruit baskets. In February, we again held our annual bingo at the Flagstaff Lodge for the senior citizens. In March, we distributed quilt blocks to each member on which we embroidered our name, birth month and flower of the month. We also donated to the Polio Fund. In April, one fruit basket was sent out and we were busy planning and serving for Charlie Lane's sale. In May, we served at Jack and Ruth Potter's wedding reception. We also donated two scholarships to the two top students in the Lougheed Junior High. June found us at the school giving it a much needed cleaning. This month, we also held a community welcome for the Jack Potters, and combined this with our annual picnic. We had a very good turnout for this, and lots of fun and good food. In July and August, no meetings were held due to the prolonged harvest. However, September found us back together for another meeting with the kits being distributed for canvassing for the Blind. In October, almost everyone turned in their completed quilt blocks. We also decided to send a letter to Mr. Tom Lysons expressing our interest in the development of the Bott Lakes as a Provincial Park. In November we donated to the TB Christmas Seals. A total of 36 cards were sent out this year and five fruit baskets. We had 14 members. No election was held this year as our officers are elected for two-year terms. We had a three-way tie for perfect attendance: Rita Storbakken, Valda Storbakken and Louise Wylie. Our first meeting of 1979 will be held at Dorothy Lane's home, with Elsie Cookson as co-hostess. It has been another very enjoyable and successful year.

Happy Riders reorganization meeting held

The reorganizational meeting of the Happy Riders was held October 16 at Sedgewick Public School with 16 members present. Our balance from the previous year was $84.

The election of this year's officers was held. The results were: President - Angela Doody, Vice-President - Patti Wallace, Secretary - Jackie Coates, Treasurer - Joanne Doody, and Reporter - Shelley Ness.

Old business talked about included our trophy, which we won at our invitational achievement day last year. Leader Rod Doody talked on our invitational achievement day and how it worked and what he wanted to see our club accomplish, such as fieldtrips, grooming, both English and Western riding, etc.

New business resulted when Angela moved we set our membership at $1. Jackie seconded it.

Meetings are to be held at Sedgewick public school every second Monday of the month at 7:30 p.m. Lunch is being served by the parents.

Angela adjourned the meeting.

Every little helps!

Conserving electricity now can make a big difference to our electrical future.

Conservation doesn't mean lowering your lifestyle. It means good energy management. Use what you need—but need what you use!

Why? For one thing, we have to use Alberta's non-renewable resources to generate your electricity. For another, the costs of building and operating additional facilities are escalating.

The more you do to manage energy at home, the more you can save on your electricity bill now. And the more you'll help keep future cost increases to a manageable level.

Our Energy Management Action Kit is full of ideas. Send for it and make the switch to energy management now.

Every little helps! Many ways to conserve electricity are little ways. You'll find just a few of them listed here.

Four ways you can help.

1. Turning off lights when not needed does save electricity.
2. Small appliances generally use less electricity than larger ones. For small amounts of cooking, use your frypan as a "mini-oven".
3. Wash only full loads in your dishwasher.
4. Plan your energy day to avoid using major appliances during the 5-7 p.m. "peak load" period.

Tourism medals presented

No less than nine members of the Battle River Tourist Association Executive, and their families, succeeded in visiting all 14 tourist zones in Alberta during the first year of the "Stamp Around Alberta" promotion.

At a recent executive meeting held in Killam, the above picture was taken of the group with their 'passports' and complete set of Alberta medallions - bronze (for six zones, silver for 10, and a gold for all 14.

The Honourable Robert Dowling, minister of Industry and Tourism, awarded the medallions at the annual meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association.

The "Stamp Around Alberta" promotion continues for two more years.

Central High girls team makes Camrose finals

Central's Girls' Basketball team competed very successfully at the Camrose Lutheran College invitational tournament. On Friday, December 1, the Lams defeated Viking by a score of 28-27. They continued play on Saturday, defeating the Kerrobert, Saskatchewan team 53-42. The final game against New Norway was lost by a score of 39-35. Theresa Mills received an all-star award trophy for her excellent play. Dayaland will visit Central on December 13 for both boys' and girls' games with game time at 6:30 p.m. Admission is $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. Our teams are very competitive so we believe you would enjoy the calibre of play and competition.

Now that road conditions are becoming treacherous, parents are urged to insist that their children not bring vehicles to school. Students who bring vehicles will not be permitted to drive them during the school day, which includes the noon hour, unless they receive prior teacher permission.

Stolen school lunches are a continuous problem. Students have been urged to label their lunch bags and to put locks on their lockers. After the New Year, the school will attempt to acquire locks that the students will be able to purchase or rent. If your son or daughter does not bring a lunch, please consider that they may be eating a lunch they have stolen from someone else's locker. Many mothers spend a great deal of time and effort preparing good lunches for their children. It is most discouraging to know that often that lunch is being eaten by someone else's child.

The second report card for the first semester will be issued on Monday, December 11. If you have any concerns about your child's progress, please contact the school at 384-3817.

The Christmas vacation period is from December 23 to January 3.

4H CLUB Activities

Heisler South Dairy Club

On November 19, the Heisler South Dairy Club held its monthly meeting. Our Christmas party was discussed. It was decided that it would be held in conjunction with our December meeting. We exchanged names and appointed an entertainment committee. Circle 3 is in charge of serving lunch. Our executive plans to attend an upcoming workshop. Following the business, the junior members gave impromptues.

IN MEMORIUM

OBERG In loving memory of my beloved husband, Floyd, who passed away December 3, 1977. This month comes with deep regret

It wrings back the day I cannot forget;
In my heart you will always stay,
Loved and remembered day by day;
No verse, no flowers, no tears can say
How much I miss you every day;
You left so quietly, without a goodbye.
But memories of you will never die.
Sadly missed and dearly loved by your wife, Alaire. 15-1c

FELZIEN In loving memory of our dear father Henry Felzien who passed away December 7, 1976.

God took him home, it was His will;
But in our hearts we love him still;
His memory is as dear today
As in the hour he passed away.
We often sit and think of him
When we are all alone,
For memory is the only friend
That grief can call its own.
Always remembered and sadly missed by, Irvin and Charlotte. 14-1c

OBERG FLOYD

"One year has come and gone,
Since the day our sorrow fell,
And we knew we'd lost someone,
More loved than words can tell.
Our thoughts are always with you

The silent tears still flow,
The pain we feel without you,
No one will ever know.
The parting was so sudden
We often wonder why.
The hardest part of all was, we never said Good bye.
If tears could build a stairway,
And memories make a lane,
We'd walk the way to Heaven,
And bring you back again.
Sweet in Heaven hear our prayer.
Watch over him with loving care.
Be a good Shepherd,
Don't leave him alone,
Love him as we did,
When he was home."
Ever loved and deeply missed,
Gerald, Sandy and Jeffrey. 15-1c

FELZIEN In loving memory of my dear husband and father Henry who passed away Dec. 7, 1976.

Often the lonely hearts ache
Many a silent tear
But always a beautiful memory
Of one we loved so dear.
Always remembered and sadly missed by Mrs. Felzien and family

TAX PLANNING - Part II

Last week, we discussed the basic starting point of tax planning – records of income and expense. We now want to look at one way to legally defer tax using a mechanism known as Livestock Inventory Provision.

Several initial points should be made:

1. Anyone using this provision must have livestock to support the claim made.
2. Persons using provisions must be reporting income on a cash basis.
3. This provision does not avoid tax – only defers it to a later date.
4. It is NOT a tax concession to the livestock producer.

Now then, How does it work?

You take inventory of your livestock, cows, feeders, hogs, hens, bees, whatever, and record the number and approximate market value of this inventory. Then you decide by looking at your net farm income how much you wish to increase your income for the year. Yes, the first year it will increase your income because you in effect sell to yourself on paper any amount of stock up to the inventory value determined.

Where then is the advantage? In the second and succeeding years. Next year, you will automatically show an expense for the same amount that you showed as income this year. You may also show another income by repeating the same procedure next year. There are three things to remember:

1. The first year the provision shows up as an income only.
2. In the second and following years that it is used, the previous year's income must be shown as an expense for current year, using the same amount as claimed the year previous.
3. Never must the amount claimed as income exceed the actual value of the inventory held.

AN EXAMPLE: Of Livestock Inventory Provision (L.I.P.) Mr. Farmer owns $30,000 of inventory livestock, which he maintains a that level. He also has $5,000 in personal exemptions. For simplicity, we will consider no other strategies.

The flexibility of this provision allows a farmer to increase income in low years and use this deduction in following high income years. The result is paying income tax at lower rates spread over several years rather than very high rates on those high income years. It also allows to take full advantage of personal exemptions and other farm losses now rather than several years later when a block average is done. Also consider the advantages of starting on the L.I.P. in the same year that you block average. You increase income – average it back four years and increase your deduction for next year when you have no block provision.

The L.I.P. isn't as complicated as it looks. If you need help, ask your accountant or give us a call. We'll try to help you understand its advantages for you.

Next week, we will look at how you may increase your non-business deductions and exemptions.

	1978	1979	1980	1981
Net Farm Income	Nil	15,000	30,000	30,000
L.I.P. Sale this year (add)	10,000	15,000	5,000	—
L.I.P. purchase for last year (subtract)	—	10,000	15,000	5,000
Personal Exemption	5,000	5,000	5,000	5,000
Taxable Income	5,000	15,000	15,000	10,000
Taxable Income without L.I.P. Usage	Nil	10,000	25,000	15,000

Give your business youth. . . .

and our youth experience.

Your company can provide our young people with the job experience they need. And the Federal Government, through its Job Experience Training program (J.E.T.), will help you provide it.

J.E.T. will pay you half the wage, up to $1.50 per hour, of new, young employees, 15 to 24 years, hired through Canada Employment Centres. You will be paid for a maximum 40-hour work week for a period of 26 weeks. This means you could collect as much as $1,560.00 per worker.

It could mean a lot to youth and a lot to you. You'll be giving someone the challenge and opportunity he or she is looking for, and it will give you the chance to assess potential permanent employees.

So visit your local Canada Employment Centre, or phone and we'll have a J.E.T. representative call on you. You'll share the experience. We'll share the cost.

Hardisty and District News Items

Brian Mazure is on his way to visit Sonya and family in Sydney, Australia for Christmas. He will be in Hawaii a few days and New Zealand and will arrive at Sonya's home not long before Christmas.

There was lovely cooking and many pretty handicraft items at the UCW bazaar Saturday.

Some from a distance were there, among whom were Bertha Chapman of Amisk, Jean Barghois of Brownfield and Helen Morrison of Airdrie. It was nice to see Mrs. Cantion and Bill Davies out, also Janice Busk from Lloydminster.

Get well wishes go to both Margaret McKinnell and Barney Matthews, who have undergone surgery in Edmonton.

Now, regarding my trip to Calgary. I have to wear my glasses for a year unless something drastic happens, I was told. So here's hoping nothing like that happens.

Had a great visit with Harry and Esther Moody, and they are keeping well. Harry has a phone right close to his recliner chair so can answer without getting up and can also "rubberneck" on his wife's phone calls. Makes him think of the old rural phone lines.

Anyway, time flew and it was not difficult to make bus connections from my sister's directions. They send greetings to all down here, too.

While in the doctor's office, I sat beside an old friend of the Hugh Duncan family. When the children were small, she would babysit the Duncan boys and when she needed help, Mary would babysit for her. I told her I lived east of Camrose and she told me that she had friends in Hardisty.

Also talked to Audrey Horn for a nice chat. She and Don had attended the Elks convention this past summer, which was held in St. John's, Newfoundland.

Dorothy and George Krosser also attended the convention, and they and Horns had supper together one night.

While Audrey and Donald weren't able to tour much, Dorothy and George were at Anne of Green Gables and Woodleigh Replicas, which your reporter enjoyed a year ago. They also saw other parts of eastern Canada as well.

Then a distant relative, whose great great grandparents were our great grandparents, picked up my sister and I for supper at his house and then we spent a very interesting time talking genealogy. I had been able to help him some but he had helped me a whole lot too, so we all learned a lot. However, coming from Ontario, I don't think he knew what a sod house was!

While in Camrose, I saw Oliver and Mary Peddicord of Hughenden. I had coffee with Mr. and Mrs. Ross Jacques, formerly of Metiskow, and then with Everett Black, who with his wife has left Hughenden for retirement in Camrose and to be closer to some of his family, too. Then Zane Parsons was in his car at the mail, so you never know who you may see.

Mrs. Reg Shirvell and Mrs. Selmer Wold and I met at a bingo in Camrose, too. That is the fun of getting out and around a bit.

Nettie Johnston celebrated her birthday on November 25 with her daughters, Doris, Beatrice, Edith and families, and son Ken and his family from Stettler.

On the Lions Grey Cup pool, Neal Nelson won a Texas Turkey and I believe the other went to Art Black. Many happy people in Calgary too, that Edmonton won.

Corporal and Mrs. Steven Stuart of Sherwood Park visited with Steven's parents, the Bud Stuarts, and Doreen introduced her latest daughter-in-law to her friends at the UCW tea.

Barbe Matthews returned from Edmonton Sunday night and Barney is improving and Margaret McKinnel is getting used to a walker.

June Bone received a family picture of her niece and family and a nice write-up about them.

Marlene Mundle (nee Beazer) went to school in Hardisty and this picture showed her daughter, Linda Deschner, Marlene Kraig, and Bill and Arlene. It goes on to say that five members of one family make up the Red Deer Rustlers most effective line off the ice.

Chris Mundle played with Red Deer Rustlers and is now with Tucson Rustlers in Arizona.

When this was sent it said, "After tonight's game, the Mundles, all five five of them, will be busy preparing for Saturday's home encounter against the Calgary Canucks." Marlene takes care of the phone calls and some sell tickets to the games and it all sounds like a very co-operative family helping their home town greatly. Congratulations, Marlene and Bill.

Dale Busk was hospitalized for a few days after having a car accident.

Coming home from Camrose on the bus last Thursday, we were held up on the road for awhile while the tow truck pulled the Coke truck back on its wheels. Now after rain on Sunday, there will be many more slippery spots. We even need our chains on our feet as the streets are icy, too.

Photo recalled

First of all, to identify the Hardisty basketball players in the 1925 picture which ran in The Community Press two weeks ago, Betty Mills wasn't sure of one but Vera Hendricks said that she had played against them and recognized them all.

Everyone is admiring the picture, which was obtained from Monte Keith's step-father, Mr. Herb Leake, who was married to the late Cecil McArthur.

Apparently, none of the girls in the picture were members of the Edmonton Grads team, but instead had competed against that famous team, almost beating them. The only girl from this area to play with The Grads, we've been told, was Mae Brown of Lougheed.

Heisler and District News

Irvin and Evelyn Kroetsch visited with Howard and Donna Kroetsch, Tany and Kristian, at High Level for four days.

The Heisler Village Office will be closed the last two weeks in December.

The Norwegian Whist card party was held Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Francis Fankhanel. Prizes for first high went to Helen P. Lassu. Second high went to Anita Kroetsch.

Sylvester Kunt attended the Alberta Hospital convention in Calgary from Tuesday until Friday.

Agnes Kuntz enjoyed Wednesday with daughter Sherri Tollefson and family at Dried Meat Lake.

Kathy Kroetsch and Suzan Weller of Edmonton were home over the weekend with their parents.

Del and Jeanne Kroetsch and Ralphand Rose Weller left Wednesday, December 6, on a four-day holiday to Las Vegas.

Brenda Fankhanel and son Michael and friend Corey of Edmonton spent Friday at the Francis Fankhanel home.

Heisler Junior Boys Basketball team won in the west division after a play-off final against Dayaland. Then they went to Galahad for the final tournament of Flagstaff County. In the first game, they defeated Hardisty 28-23, and in the second game, they defeated Alliance 31-8, with Heisler winning the Flagstaff Basketball trophy. Congratulations boys and their coach, Larry Nawrot.

Joan and Corey Kroetsch, Kenny and Glenda, with Jason and Tammy, Pat and his fiancee, and Judy with her two children, Trevor and Jodi of Coronation, were Sunday visitors with Sylvester and Agnes Kuntz. The occasion also was their great granddaughter Jodi's first birthday. Great grandparents Albert and Rose Kroetsch were in attendance also to help Jodi celebrate.

Penny and Allan Asselstine of Edmonton were home for a few days with their mother, Mrs. Louise Mercer.

Born to Barbara and Colin Krostsch on November 29, a was a girl weighing 8 lbs. 14 oz. Barb and Colin are naming her Jennifer Lynn. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Brausen of Dayaland and Mr. and Mrs. Adolph Kroetsch of Camrose.

Pat and Linda Calon had their baby girl, Robin Jeannette, baptized last weekend in the R.C. Church of St. Martin with Rev. Becs officiating. Her godparents are Mike and Debby Calon of Killam. Robin was born October 18 and weighed 9 lbs. Proud grandparents are Marie and Ernie Oestrom of Eckville and Jake and Jeannette Culman of Leduc.

Mrs. Frank Leslie and Shirley Niehaus of Camrose were visitors over the weekend. Mary and Jim Cunningham and family of Kelsey spent Sunday and Joyce and Lloyd George and daughter Rhonda of Killam were Saturday visitors at the Matt Niehaus home.

Cathy Badry of Edmonton spent three days with her folks, Mr. and Mrs. Stan Badry.

Melvin and Carol Meyer and family spent the weekend with Janet and Dennis Downes and family in Calgary.

Sedgewick and District News

Get well wishes go to Mr. Tom Sparrow, who is in the University Hospital in Edmonton where he will undergo surgery.

Mrs. Elna Murray has moved into her new residence, which was formerly occupied by the Sven Anderson family.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Simons were in Edmonton on Monday, where they visited Mr. Fred Sparrow in the W.W. Cross Hospital and Mr. Tom Sparrow in the University Hospital.

Mrs. Beth Blasser and sons of Heisler visited with her parents, the Jim Walshs, on Tuesday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Gascoyne, Mr. and Mrs. Pat Leeb and Billie Simons were Edmonton visitors on Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Riender Schuurman and two of their sons were in Calgary last week.

Mrs. Vivian Sparrow went by bus to Edmonton on Tuesday to visit husband Tom in the University Hospital.

The Senior Citizens held a Norwegian Whist card party at the Legion Hut on the evening of Friday, December 1. Mrs. Myrtle Arntzen and Mr. E. Freeman won prizes for the highest scores. Mrs. Margaret Watt and Mr. Rod MacKinnon received consolation awards. The six tables of players enjoyed a delicious lunch and a time of visiting after the games.

Maureen Lee, who is working in Ponoka, was home last Monday at the Brian Lee home.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Werner Howeihe on a trip to Edmonton on Monday.

Seven tables of whist players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon Senior Citizens Card Party at the Legion Hut. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Margaret Watt and Mr. Gudmunn Eriksson. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Myrtle Arntzen and Mr. Bob Leedholm.

Mr. Dale Martin left on Saturday to go to Ontario and spend a few months with his family.

Mr. Ritchie Erickson spent the weekend at his parental home, the Dick Ericksons. We are happy to hear that his foot is coming along nicely with the treatment he is receiving at the Rehabilitation Centre in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Dana Chappell and children of Two Hills were weekend guests at the home of his parents, the Rev. and Mrs. R. Chappell.

Mr. Charlie Lane accompanied Mr. Sherman Lane on a business trip to Edmonton on Monday.

I think everyone is busy rehearsing for Christmas concerts and baking and buying for Christmas as I had quite a job finding any news this week. Please ring me any time if you have any, 384-3576.

Two new projects launched

Eighteen people attended the November 16 meeting of the Battle River Tourist Association (BRTA) in Provost. Representatives from Wainwright, Sedgewick, Killam, Lougheed, Provost, Camrose and Wetaskiwin were welcomed by Drew McDonald, president of the Provost Chamber of Commerce, and Buck Gregory, acting mayor for the town.

Two new projects were launched at the meeting. Retail stores will have the opportunity to sell five-aides sets of scenes of the tourist zone, which are mounted in plastic sleeves. Jan Mah Studio Ltd. of Camrose has been granted the job, which will see an initial stock of 1,000 sets ordered.

The other project is designed for car, truck and recreational vehicle dealers. Intended to be given to the purchasers of vehicles, 'Travel Kits' contain a selection of maps, brochures and directories in one package. The kits are now available and are free of charge.

The BRTA has given the go-ahead for a Citizens' Band Radio Directory. Bids from seven printers were reviewed for the project with The Community Press winning the job. Tenders had come in from Wetaskiwin, Bashaw, Coronation, Provost and two Camrose firms.

President Bob Ruttan reported locating a wood carver in Sherwood Park, who, after researching the appearance of Anthony Henday, had prepared one carving. Henday was the first white man to visit Alberta, entering what is now the Battle River Tourist Zone near Chauvin in 1754. The association decided to establish a committee to draw up guidelines for an annual Anthony Henday Award, which will honour one citizen each year.

The wood carving of Henday was made available exclusively to the BRTA for about $100. Members decided to buy the item.

It was agreed the BRTA would again sponsor an essay contest for Grade 9 students in the zone. The theme of the contest again will be "Tourism Is Everybody's Business." Cash prizes and an engraved plaque will be awarded at the end of the contest.

The decision to expand the BRTA's Travel Show for 1979 was made. The association hopes to work with the Lakeland Tourist Association, and have a booth in the Calgary Boat and Trailer Show and Edmonton Boat and Trailer Show. It will also offer to assist with the operation of a Travel Alberta booth at Edmonton Klondike Days.

The BRTA was informed that the lease for the provincial office in Calgary was expiring. Voting delegates were instructed to suggest this office be relocated in Red Deer as more economical space could be obtained in a smaller centre as well as be more centrally located.

A Donalda couple, Mr. and Mrs. Don Lawson, has requested the BRTA act on their behalf in making a donation of a lamp collection to the Village of Donalda. The collection, estimated as the largest of its kind in North America, also includes an extensive collection of historical artifacts.

The next meeting of the BRTA will be in the Town of Castor on Thursday, December 14. The town is sponsoring a Chinese supper for those attending.

Santa picks toys

Christmas is a time of year for all ages, but no one greets its coming with such enthusiasm as children. When choosing toys for the little ones on your list, consider items that not only meet their creative urges, but which encourage their development as well.

Infants: Children from birth to one year begin development of their senses – sight, taste, smell, touch and sound. At first they learn to focus their eyes, so a mobile over the crib is ideal. Toys should include a variety of textures, weights, shapes, colours and sound to assist the development of the senses. Crib gyms, or busy boxes, teethers, and rattles are all excellent for this age group.

The Creeper: Senses continue to develop in the creeper stage, seven to 15 months. Also, children of this age are on the move, which means that the large muscles are developing. Toys complementing this movement such as large balls that roll slowly and can be picked up, or simple wheel toys, are good. Plush toys, rubber squeeze toys, and toys that fit into one another are good for quieter hours in the playpen.

The Toddler: Co-ordination of hands and feet begins in the toddler stage, one to two years, and muscular development continues. Pull and push toys are excellent -- especially those which produce sound. Nesting and stacking toys, soft cuddly dolls, as well as sand and water toys are your best bet at this age.

The Preschooler: Between the ages of two and four, children's play becomes much more vigorous. Toys they can ride, or toys that can be climbed on or over are of particular value at this point. Children's social environment takes great leaps forward here as well. Toys that inspire imaginative and/or group play are therefore ideal. Dolls that can be dressed up, cars or trucks that are of simple construction, hammers and nails, paints and brushes, as well as books with lots of pictures are all suited to this developing sociability and imagination.

Cancer Society elect

The third annual meeting of the Canadian Cancer Society, Flagstaff Unit 18, was held November 21, 1978 in the Anglican Church Hall in Sedgewick.

President Doreen French called the meeting to order and welcomed special guests, Alberta's "Miss Hope" Leigh Anne McKenzie, and Frank Norris of the Canadian Cancer Society.

Mrs. Helen Whitten read the Cancer Prayer. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted. Committee reports were read. Campaign Chairwoman Mrs. Rosemary Jack reported a total of $6,120.47 was collected this year, and expressed her thanks and appreciation to all the hard-working canvassers in the area. Memorial Chairwoman Mrs. Mary Cheram reported a total of $2,806 in donations this year, and thanked all her helpers in the towns in the unit. The short business meeting was adjourned and the election of officers for the coming year was held with the following results: President - Mrs. Doreen French, Vice-President - Mrs. Jeanette Harris, Secretary - Mrs. Helen Whitten, Treasurer - Mrs. Barbara Kunst, Campaign Chairwoman - Mrs. Rosemary Jack, Memorial Chairwoman - Mrs. Mary Cheram, Patient Services - Mrs. Evelyn Meer, Education Chairwoman - Mrs. Ardith Gould, and Directors - Mrs. Lillian MacPherson, Mrs. Belva Whitehead and Mrs. Gerrie Hansen.

Doreen French introduced "Miss Hope", Leigh Ann McKenzie, who gave an interesting talk on her year as Miss Hope and the Miss Hope contest. The contest is open to student nurses in Alberta who have a special interest in cancer. Miss Hope for 1979 will be chosen at the Annual Provincial Meeting in Edmonton, February 2 and 3.

Miss Hope's duties include attending Cancer Society Workshops, annual meetings of the units, riding in parades, and helping to make the public more aware of the work being done by the Canadian Cancer Society. Miss Hope carries out all these extra duties while she continues to study for her RN. It makes a very busy year for the student nurse chosen as Miss Hope.

Doreen French introduced Mr. Frank Norris, who gave a brief talk on cancer, mentioning which types of cancers were being treated most successfully. He again placed emphasis on early treatment as the best defence against cancer. Mr. Norris also gave a brief history of the Canadian Cancer Society. It was started in 1937 by Dr. McEachern with money from the King George V Silver Jubilee Fund. The first chapter was formed in Medicine Hat with Dr. McEachern serving as the first president. Mr. Norris then showed a very interesting film on the history of the Cancer Society and its work.

Band gets good start

Appearing for the first time in public, the Sedgewick Community Band was very well received by the large crowd attending the annual Carol Festival in Sedgewick. Under the direction of Mr. Norris, the band played three selections and received a good round of applause.

The audience also enjoyed numbers by the Brownies, Guides and Explorers, the Choral group, Mrs. Molly Magee, Harry Anderson, Mr. and Mrs. Rolf Jacobsen, and Frank Rott. Mrs. Rott was accompanist for the evening, and also accompanied the community singing which was led by the Kinettes.

New dealership opening soon in Daysland

A new business opens in Daysland this week as Greff Motors begins its third car dealership in Alberta.

The company, under President Lea Greff, first began in Camrose in 1974 at what was known as Tien Motors. Prior to this, Mr. Greff owned a dealership in Lacombe. He moved to this province from Saskatchewan, where he spent 15 years with Federated Co-op as a general manager.

Vice-President of the new Chrysler dealership is John Gerhart, active in Daysland's car-sales business for 37 years. Manager is Ed Hill; salesman is Marvin Hansen; mechanics are Carl Lindquist and Bob West; bookkeeper is Anna Brinker; and apprentice mechanics are Victor Lindquist and Russel Dalueg (part time).

The grand opening of Greff Motors Daysland takes place December 14, 15 and 16.

Hotel awaits grand opening

Last May, the Town of Lougheed welcomed two new residents - Rick and Lee Irwin - who were the purchasers of the Lougheed Hotel. With that purchase came ideas for expansion and renovated facilities. Now, more than six months later, the Lougheed Hotel stands with a 1,600 square foot addition to the tavern and with an interior barely resembling its previous decor.

The renovations have also meant an expansion in the hotel's bar services, with a bit more of a variety in cocktail-type drinks being offered, says Rick. But better news to patrons will probably be the new barbeque pit, replacing the older unit which hasn't been in operation since the building and renovating began.

The barbeque, where patrons can cook their own 12- or 16-ounce steak, will also feature a limited salad bar, baked potato and garlic bread.

The pit isn't the only new addition, Rick points out, a brand new pool table and shuffleboard are located in a special games' room in the tavern, and a new, up-to-date jukebox has been purchased to replace the hotel's old one.

The addition, which has doubled the size of the former tavern, also includes a dance floor and stage to accommodate entertainment groups for, what Rick says he hopes, will be every weekend - at least during winter months. The one feature of which Rick is especially proud is the four- by six-foot screen over the stage for entertainment and sport specials. The $9,000 worth of equipment projects tapes, similar to movie films. To date, Rick mostly has purchased sport tapes with plans to expand his line of entertainment, now featuring Elvis Presley.

Rick has spent most of his time during the past half-year working on the renovations himself. He and a couple friends built the actual addition and hired sub-trades for exterior finishing, roofing, plumbing, electrical, and other specialty contracting. Local firms involved in the project included: S & J Electric, Sedgewick Co-op Building Supplies, Lario Enterprises and Hardisty Express.

Inside, all new panelling, paper and decorative mirrors line the walls in addition to the three, six-and-a-half foot murals painted last Fall of local scenes. Floor coverings have been laid and ceilings re-done as well. Air conditioning was also installed throughout - something Rick adds, the previous facilities did not have.

Two new washrooms were added, making a total of four in the tavern, with facilities in the new ones to accommodate wheelchairs.

Building and renovating the hotel carried a price tag of $100,000 - a figure, Rick points out, that could have easily been higher had he and staff not done a great deal of work themselves.

Rick Irwin, owner and manager of the Lougheed Hotel looks forward to the grand opening next week of the renovated facilities

Rick's experience in the hotel/tavern business began more than five years ago in the High River Hotel, which was also the location of the first steak pit in an Alberta tavern. From there, Rick moved to work in the hotel at Olds. Now, he and wife Lee have settled in Lougheed. A nice town, says Rick, where the people are friendly.

With work almost complete at the Lougheed Hotel, Rick and his staff of seven look forward to their official opening December 21, 22 and 23. For the three-day event, Rick has planned a free smorgasbord supper for patrons, or if they prefer, a steak sandwich supper with potato and garlic bread for $2.50.

School children in all grades were brought to Sedgewick last week to enjoy Citadel on Wheels Wings, a travelling troupe of actors sponsored by the Citadel Theatre in Edmonton. This is the 11th year that the Citadel has sent a troupe throughout Alberta to entertain school children. This year's has six actors performing four shows a day. In the Beginning for kindergarten to Grade 4 Treasure Island for Grades 4 to 6 The Dream (an adaptation of Midsummer's Night Dream) for Junior High and 1837 Farmers Revolt for Grade 10 and older.

Children in younger grades are encouraged to take an active part in the production and these children did just that

Diving dollars

The Gold Medal for diving, in the competition of the Commonwealth games in Edmonton, should not have gone to a person at all. It should have gone to the Canadian dollar.

People still speak of the Almighty Dollar. But the dollar has proved that it is anything but almighty. So far, the American dollar has plunged through the so-called barrier of equivalence to 200 Japanese yen, and shows no signs of coming back up again. And the Canadian dollar has sunk even deeper – it seems determined to dive right through the bottom of the money pool.

The cause, according to economic experts, is an unfavourable balance of trade, which creates an unhealthy economy. Both the United States and Canada have been importing more than they export, spending more than they make. And as every family knows, you can't do that for long.

Japan, by contrast, exports more than it imports. That makes it healthy. Canada and the U.S. must do the same, say the experts. Their prescription ignores a simple fact – every country can't export more than it imports. For one country to have a favourable balance of trade, another must have an unfavourable balance. One country becomes healthy by making another unhealthy. And so it's said that the cure for the dollar will come as Japanese and West German exports price themselves out of the market, causing some of the same umemployment and reduced production in those countries that we are experiencing now.

The trouble can be simply defined: economics has never considered itself subject to a simple lesson taught 2,000 years ago, to love one's neighbor as oneself. In world economics, countries still attemp to profit at the expense of their neighbor – and in today's world, all countries are neighbors.

St. Paul wrote of Christians that all are members of the same body, and when one part is sick or festers, all parts are endangered. The same can be said of world economics.

Perhaps the clamor from the many underdeveloped countries for a New International Economic Order will ultimately bring about the realization that when one economy is unhealthy, all are unhealthy. And if one country wants a thriving economy, it must help all other economies too.

What Others Say

Take Off Those Blinders

"Blinders" are used on horses to make them see only the narrow path ahead but all too many Canadians today seem to be wearing them as well. One quirk of thinking, a democratic form of government brings out, is the "We pay their salaries, they should do what we want" idea.

We are privileged to elect: councellors for the county; mayor and aldermen and women for the town and city; members to be legislative assembly for the province, and members of parliament to run the country. If we doubt that this is a privilege we should give heed to those who have escaped from countries where freedom is just a word.

It is true, all but the indigent are paying the salaries of the elected members, but the fact remains that those in these positions, cannot do the bidding of everyone who voted for them, nor can they be expected to even try. They are put in office to choose the best course for the majority considering all circumstances. It is a position of responsibility.

When there is suspicion that those in office are paid off by one group or another, there is an outcry. Since we are not morally perfect, and our system of government has many flaws there is certainly opportunity for power groups to sway those in office. However, before we write or speak the "We pay them" charge, it is well to consider that a lot of others do too and what we want may not be in their best interests or those of the country (or county or city).

Perhaps our form of electioneering leads to this fallacy. Candidates for election tell the people what they want to hear – some knowing such promises are empty, and others doing so out of ignorance of the system.

But do voters really want candor and honesty? Would they elect someone who really levelled with them? Each election indicates that the voters want to be hoodwinked. It is time we shaped up and stopped believing in Santa Claus and the Tooth Fairy. There is no such thing as a free ride. We pay. And we pay whether it is to our liking or not. And this is the way it should be, and must be. By taking off our blinders, and looking at the wider view with comprehension, we might temper our demands with some common sense. We will certainly need plenty of that in the days ahead.

The Wetaskiwin Times

The Third Column

by Truncate

A FEW RANDOM impressions might be a good thing a this time. After spending a week in a city of over a half million people of diversified talents and varied ways of living and acting, you come away with a few ideas of what makes the world move. It takes all kinds of people to make a world and we've got them -- thank goodness. If they were all like you or me, what a dull place this could be.

FOR INSTANCE, try standing on a fairly busy street corner quietly observing humanity as it crawls, hustles, bustles and hurries to get done what it set out to do. If you watch closely the faces of those who scurry past, the history of man is revealed in living colours. There is the sedate and well groomed lady who looks nice and knows it; she's on display for anybody who has time to look. Adorned with furs and reeking with expensive perfume, she is proud and haughty. She is in no hurry. The maid and the nanny will keep things going at home. Her opposite goes past. You know, the kind who would sooner be called a woman than a lady. Her coat shows wear and could stand replacement, but her first concern is for her family and her laden shopping bag shows it. She scurries to the bus stop intent on being home when her children arrive from school.

ALONG COMES the executive type gentleman with his attache case and the concerns of the world on his shoulders. He knows where he's going after his three-hour lunch break; an appearance at the office in preparation for the five o'clock whistle. Quickly following comes an endless parade of all types intent on getting there first. The old man shuffling along with the aid of a cane, wondering what all the hurry is, the good old grandma tightly holding the hand of her youngest grandchild who is wide-eyed at every scene that the old lady has seen a thousand times; the derelict intent on getting to the liquor store before closing time to get the necessary nourishment to provide the energy to survive for another day; the cowboy type decked out in high heeled shoes and slanted stetson whose only concern is to get out of the jungle and back to the quiet of the homestead. The young couple, arms wrapped around each other, oblivious to the rest of humanity and acting as if the last love boat had just left port. The endless shuffle, the serious faces, the unspoken words, the unconcern, the ceaseless banging and bumping and squeezing for position, the mad dash across intersections to gain entrance to the store with the $1.69 sale where the dashing, shoving and grabbing continues unabated. So you move along to the scene. You watch the harried look on the face of the clerk. She's beat, she's frustrated and she keeps looking at her watch. When will quitting time come so she can escape from the daily round of war in peacetime. You leave the place satisfied that more is contained in life than that. At the door you glance into a corner which has been taken over by a group of young people, clutching, clucking and blocking the stairway; smoking and choking and giggling, unconcerned with what others are doing or thinking. Intent only in doing their own thing.

SO YOU SAUNTER outside and slowly make your way back to the hotel and the quiet and safety of your over-priced room. On the way you pass the same hurrying, scurrying crowds of humanity, pounding the cement to the tune of fallen arches and bruised shoulders. You meet your friends in the lobby and all decide to go up to the room for a rest before tackling the cement jungle in search of a place to eat. The elevator door opens and another mad dash ensues. But you're tired of it all and you lag behind; the elevator leaves without you. So what. There will be another one. How do people expect you to run for an elevator, smoke and breathe all at the same time? So you wait, your equanimity undisturbed. You say Hi to the man waiting with you; he asks you how you are and you reply "Wonderful." Why? Because you know that tomorrow morning you are going to head home to the peace and quiet of the countryside, where smiles are not forced and where greetings are a byword.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

During the past two years, the Main Street of Sedgewick has taken on a new look with new buildings and renovated store fronts.

This year, new decorattions and lights have further enhanced its appearance. We would like to congratulate the members of the Sedgewick Town Council on their selection of the attractive Christmas lighting for Main Street.

Providing this added feature has given rise to many favourable comments.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Thomas McLaughlin
United Church of Canada

As Christmas time draws nearer, the world blossoms with light. In stores, in houses, in city streets, in churches, and on trees large and small, the multi-coloured lights wink on as darkness descends each day. How unfortunate that often time the true symbolism of the Christmas Light is lost amid the commercialism of our age!

The true meaning of the Christmas Light is that GOD IS HERE - now, today, in the world. God's first great gift to man is indicated clearly in the first word that rang through the primeval darkness: "Let there be light." How well we know that without this gift we would die. Our well-being, our health, our sustenance; life itself depends on the daily return of this gift. But surely God meant something else when he said "Let there be light." He meant that he himself would be here. As the light of the sun means life to the physical world, so does the presence of God mean life to the soul and spirit of man.

May the Christmas Lights remind us all, in the familar words, that "as the sun rises in the east to open and enliven the day," so does God keep his promise to look after our material necessities. But we of the 20th century scarcely need to remind ourselves of this for we are overly materialistic - but we do need to remind ourselves of the second, and equally important, piece of symbolism. The presence of this light means that God himself is here - now. He is here, not only in the gift of physical light, but in and through his son Jesus Christ, our Lord and our Savior!

In the Gospel of John we have this affirmation:

"In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. He was in the beginning with God; all things were made though him, and without him was not anything made that was made. In him was life, and the life was the light of men. The light shines in the darkness, and the darkness has not overcome it."
(John 1: 1-5)

Nazarene Church

Many people, big and small, are busy completing preparations for the Christmas Program, to be held Sunday evening, December 17 at 7 p.m. Everyone is our community is most welcome to attend, including grandparents and other members of the church families. All are welcome.

This is the time to be sending season's greetings to our friends and loved ones. The church family would like to send Christmas greetings to families away from us this year, the Grant Dafoes and Mc Nairs.

Get well wishes go out to all those suffering with the mumps. We trust that too many Christmas plans will not be curtailed because of illness.

We are all looking forward to the special Christmas program that will be presented in the church by the pastor's family, Bill and Lois Rolland. Mrs. Rolland has been active in the musical program of the Church of the Nazarene School in England for several years. Her and her family are at present in the U.S. studying. You will appreciate her musical talents and not want to miss this treat to our area. Also assisting in this service will be Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gibson. The service will be Thursday, December 21 at 7:30 p.m. Everyone is welcome to attend and enjoy the refreshments and fellowship following.

Providing power to Daysland

They're Mr. Calgary Power in Daysland; 24 hours a day regardless of time or place.

But Grant Turney and Gerry Karpovich accept it. They're prepared to do business from to top of a power pole, in the farm yard or over the hood of a company truck to get the job done for their customers.

Calgary Power's Daysland district has 25 miles east of Camrose. It's a 1,000 square mile service area with 1,400 rural and residential customers. It's one of CP's few remaining two-man districts.

"Because there are just two of us, our customers have come to think of Gerry and I as Mr. Calgary Power. When something goes wrong, when they need advice or are planning some changes on the farm, they talk to you wherever they meet you," Grant explained with an easy grin.

"It's a strange way to do business but you can't always go by the book when the staff is this size and we're out in the field as much as 80 per cent of the time."

"Some customers stop us in the street, or hail us from the highway to ask what their bills are, then write a cheque right on the spot. If they don't know the amount, they just sign their name and let you fill in the rest when you go back to the office," Grant says, describing it as the old, country-way of doing business; man to man with honesty and trust.

"Our customers want the same kind of treatment from us as they get from their neighbor down the road. You'd insult them if you didn't."

Gerry Karpovich has been in the district for 18 years. His tenure has created an easy, familiar relationship with the town and rural customers that sometimes makes for awkward moments.

"Some customers expect you to remember the details of conversations you had with them six months earlier, or to remember what the problem was the last time you were out at their place.

"It can be funny at times," he says, remembering the elderly gentleman who phoned to say his power was out again and offered direction by saying, it was the same place Gerry had been to about a year ago.

"But our customers are good. They can call you out on trouble, give you a hard time over some problem and, when they've had their say, invite you in to dinner. You never work on a place at lunch without an invitation to eat. And they don't take no for an answer."

Grant moved to Daysland two years ago. He's now as nearly well known as Gerry in the district.

"There are only two ways to handle it," he says, "go out and face it, head on, or spend your time walking down alleys. Either way, they'll meet you at your house so you might as well enjoy the company on main street."

While doing business in Daysland may have its lighter moments, and offer a more casual relationship with customers than larger districts, the responsibilities of caring for the area presents problems on occasion.

"You can't plan to do specific work in advance because you're continually adding new priorities to your list of things to do," Gerry says.

"We're responsible for everything, from paperwork to public relations and whatever falls in-between. That means making decisions all day long, from moment to moment sometimes, about what's most important.

"Our customers are patient. They understand the situation and they know we're doing our best. Sometimes they're too understanding. They won't call you for three days after the power has gone out, and only then because the food in the freezer's beginning to thaw."

Grant says lightning is their biggest troublemaker. Storms can gather in moments, from any direction, to inflict their damage on the far-reaching rural lines.

"Good roads here are a blessing. You can be hopping from one end of the district to the other all night if an active storm hits. But you're never more than an hour's drive from one end of the area to the other.

"This would be an excellent district for a young guy to work in. You become familiar with every aspect of the company's operations, learn how to shoot trouble and make decisions independently, and have a lot of customer contact. You're an individual in every sense of the word in a place like Daysland. You've got to be ready to work that way, too.

"We get a lot of support from the Camrose district when trouble hits," Grant says. "When they've got their work cleaned up they check to see that we're O.K. too. It's great to work for a company with that kind of attitude. It means a lot."

Both Grant and Gerry feel the district has many advantages over larger centres. The Town of Daysland has excellent medical, high school, and recreation facilities and is close to Camrose for shopping.

"To a certain extent you have to be prepared to make your own fun. But the community hardly needs an excuse to get some kind of party or social function going. Many of the adults curl; we have three fine sheets of natural ice at the arena, and adult education always has some kind of classes going through the winter. You don't have to be bored if you're willing to get out and mingle," Gerry affirmed.

Grant says the district is a big responsibility for two men but he and Gerry have an understanding partnership that makes it possible.

Hardisty Legion Auxiliary meets

The December meeting of the Hardisty Legion Auxiliary was held on Monday afternoon, December 4, in the Hut. The opening ceremony was held, followed by regular business.

Reports were given by the sick committee, kitchen committee and the poppy committee, who reported a satisfactory return this year.

It was decided to have Mrs. Hearn make a quilt for the spring raffle.

Installation of officers is planned for the January meeting if this is convenient for the District Commander.

A number of by-laws were prepared to be added to the constitution and read to the members for consideration.

Following adjournment, election of officers was held with Mrs. Matthews in the chair. The following are officers for 1979: President - Mrs. Mary Ann Thomson, 1st. Vice-President - Mrs. Lillian Granger, 2nd. Vice-President - Mrs. Jo. McClements, Secretary - Mrs. Florence Van Koughnett, Treasurer, Mrs. Dorothy Kroezer, Executive Committee - Mrs. Joanne Mitchell, Mrs. Blanche McGhie and Mrs. Freda McGhie, Past-President - Mrs. Pauline Gately.

The meeting closed with the usual ceremony and lunch was enjoyed by all.

On Wednesday afternoon, December 6, a number of members of the Hardisty Legion Auxiliary gathered at the home of Aimee Moody to honour a very much beloved senior member of the group, Mrs. Flossie Caution joined the Auxiliary on coming to Hardisty with her husband Ted in 1948. She served a term as president and was a loyal and dedicated worker in all the projects of the group. While her health does not now allow her to take an active part, her interest still remains.

Past-President Mrs. Gately presented her with a lovely mother-of-pearl brooch bearing the Auxiliary crest as a token of appreciation.

Aimee then served a delicious lunch at which Mrs. Nettie Johnston poured the tea and coffee. Mrs. Cliff Moody was also a guest.

Letters to the Editor

In Answer to Concerned Parent re Citizens of Hardisty

Dear Sir:

We, the children of Hardisty, protest a 9 p.m. curfew. We are deeply hurt to think you feel we have no morals or respect. We could start cleaning up our town with adults like you, who won't sign his or her name to such a letter.

A curfew is for 16 years and under; a drivers license is for 16 years and over, so that lets us clear of that act of vandalism.

Also, we have Future World to hang out at if our parents can't pick us up on time, or the arena. We don't hear complaints from them, and they put up with us all the time. Many people misuse these businesses as babysitting services. It's a little cold to be playing pranks or enjoy the acts of vandalism, but if you have had acts of vandalism, your letter expresses why.

Do we all get a curfew for pranks of a few bad kids. I have signatures to prove I am not alone in feeling this way.

Concerned Future Citizens of Hardisty

To a concerned citizen in Hardisty:

Don't fret friend, we've got a great bunch of Future Citizens growing up in Hardisty. I can list several instances, like Round Up Days, when I was not feeling well. The kids got together and decorated a truck for me to put in the parade. Two weeks ago, I had the flu and was very short of temper. I returned to work to find flowers. No morals or respect you say. The children all use my phone to let their parents know where they are and to get picked up. In some cases, I have driven them home.

I have witnessed the shock and hurt feelings of the kids -- where's your respect? Should they all suffer a curfew for pranks of two or three?

You must feel proud of yourself.

Lougheed Anglican meet held

The December meeting of the All Saints Anglican Church of Lougheed met at the home of President Marie Martin with an attendance of 11 members and visitors, and three children.

The meeting opened with the members' prayer and then the devotional was read by Verona Cookson.

Secretary Treasurer Rosemary Kampen read the minutes of the last meeting and gave the treasurer's report. Business arising from the minutes was discussed.

The joint Halloweeen party, held in St. Johns' Church Hall, was a success and a Sunday School Christmas Party is planned for December 17 at 7:30 p.m.

Monies were voted for the St. Johns' Priory in Edmonton. Thank offering was to be sent into headquarters.

We all signed a shut-in, get well card to Flo Barton.

Three members gave to the birthday box.

Little Tod Rosiechuk won the hostess prize.

Our next meeting will be held at the home of Doreen Conrad on the second Friday of January and will be our annual meeting.

The meeting closed with the Lord's Prayer.

Lunch was served and an hour of fellowship followed.

Would you believe
"WINAMINWINNERS"?

Alberta Dairymen once again proved that milk is a winning drink – in more ways than one Their Summer "Winamin" Milk Moustache Contest was a big success Milk sales are up and so is Alberta's car ownership Shown with Ralph Jesperson of the ADA are the two winners of Austin Mins Judith Mulka of Edmonton and Ruth Fodor of Vulcan

ALBERTA DAIRYMEN'S ASSOCIATION

Irene Black and Janet Borth, representatives from Killam, with Bob Seim, chairman of National Small Craft Safety Advisory Committee, and Paul Lawrence, divisional chairman, at the annual Red Cross Water Safety conference held October 21 and 22 at the Granada Inn, in Red Deer. Aquatic directors and Water Safety personnel from many points in the Alberta - N.W.T. Division were in attendance at the sessions, which covered all facets of the Water Safety program. Guest speaker at the Saturday evening banquet was Dr. Al Affleck, professor of Recreation Administration, University of Alberta.

Prelude called great success

There remained "standing room only" at Bethania Church, Sunday evening, December 3, when members and friends representing seven congregations gathered to participate in one of our finest programs, The Prelude to Christmas.

This program had its beginning some 20 years ago with the Prince of Peace Lutheran Ladies of Sedgewick, and was held in the Sunday School Chapel. Participants at that time were largely from the three congregations of the Sedgewick parish.

The outreach through the years has been most gratifying, and we feel that the program belongs to "all of us" in the community as our friends from the various churches join us each year and make it a time of real fellowship and blessing. The offering, which this year amounted to $248, is sent to Bethany Children's Home at Gwynne, Alberta.

The Bethania ladies wish to thank each one for your attendance, for your generous gifts, and your kind and willing participation in what we consider a very worthy effort as well as a most satisfying fellowship.

May Christmas 1978 be a special time of blessing for you and yours, and may the New Year bring you everything that is good.

Winner of this year's seed section of the Daysland Fair was Wendy Blatz (right), and he received the Strome Seed Plant Plaque from Director Eugene Waldorf The presentation was made at the Daysland Annual Agri-Society meeting

Sorenson seeks SC nomination

Ralph Sorenson, a 51-year-old Killam district farmer, advises that he will be seeking the Social Credit nomination to be held in Camrose on January 10, 1979.

Having represented the Sedgewick-Coronation Constituency as MLA from 1971 to 1975, Ralph is concerned about what is happening in today's government and wants to help rectify the situation.

Ralph is a strong advocate of the free enterprise system and wishes to see it re-emphasized in Alberta. Due to the redistribution of electoral boundaries, Ralph now resides in the Camrose constituency. He is a long-time supporter of his political party, having served in several positions including the Party Whip within the legislature.

Married and father of four children, Ralph owns his own farm where he grows grain and raises both purebred and commercial cattle.

Hardisty District Happenings

Heard on the obituary where Mrs. Ray Skrypchayco had passed away in Edmonton. I'm sure quite a few around will remember when Ray worked in the bank here and later was transferred to Camrose, so we send him and family our deep sympathy.

The Western Express finally came to town. Congratulations to Neal Nelson on winning $100.

We wish to welcome Jim and Cindy Huddlestone to our midst. Cindy is a sister of Debbie Shopland and they are daughters of Darlene Smith (nee Bennefeld). Cindy lives in the Earl Oliver house and her husband works with Pat Van Koughnett.

There was the usual lovely display of home baking at the Benyth Women of Uniform sale, bazaar and tea. The beautifully decorated Christmas cake was won by Marie Watkins. Congratulations, Marie.

It was nice to see Stan and Jessie Mazure from Edmonton down to enjoy the tea with Grandma, Grandpa and brother Paul.

Dorothy Tennis was another visitor at the tea with her aunt Gladys Sellerness, Mrs. Crose and Mrs. Rukeneik.

A number of us have been following the Noel Gueneards case in Mill Woods section of Edmonton with a lot of interest and it was very gratifying to learn that he won his case over City Hall after all that flood damage. He can rebuild where he was now. Congratulations to the Gueneards and to all their friends as well.

The Herb Redmans have had word from one of our former bankers, Eli Stanyk. His headquarters are in Toronto and he is now Inspector International with trips all over, some places being Trinidad, London, England, Jamaica, New York, and the next trip will be to the Bahamas. It is a long step from Hardisty to a position like that.

The Drop-In Centre held its regular card party December 9 with Christmas parcels to round out the evening.

There were nine tables of trumpy whist with our Amish friends attending as usual for which we are very grateful. High gents prize went to Paul Dreger while low was Marie Watkins. High ladies was Mabel Boucher with low being Alvina Parsons.

Eddie Watkins and Charlie Thiboin played crib, while Nettie Johnston, Marguerite Thiboin and Marion Elm visited.

Vera Hendricks was Santa and didn't need a bough of mistletoe over her head for what she received from delivering some of the gifts. All in all, it was a nice evening and we hope to see that many another time.

Lately, the women have suffered from disabled hands. Marguerite Thiboin fell, breaking a bone in her wrist so is in a cast. Maryan Dreger has graduated from a well-splinted finger to a bandaid from catching her fingers in a door. We hope that this is the end of the accidents.

Allan Nelson has been under Dr. Brown, the diabetic specialist's care for awhile but is improving greatly. They were fortunate to be able to stay at Merrilville with Joanne's great uncle and aunt, and uncle kindly drove them to Edmonton every morning and came for them when lessons and tests for the day were concluded. A big applause for uncle and auntie, too.

Went in to get a bit of news about the western store between Thompson Drugs and me and found out the name is X-Port Western Wear and Saddlery. Sonny Hewtin, formerly of Cadogan, is the manager.

Welcome to Hardisty, Sonny. The Hewtins too come from a good country, not far from your reporter's childhood home.

Bill and Herb Leaks called on George and Betty Mills the other day.

Get well wishes go to Steve Mazure, who has undergone surgery on his knee in the Camsell Hospital. Steve suffered a knee injury while playing football at school and is having it repaired now.

Just to let Edgar and Violet Copeland's friends know, they are busy fixing up their house in Maidstone, Saskatchewan.

They took time off in the summer to go to a school reunion at Kindersley, where Edgar had gone to school. He saw many of his old school friends. Violet says they both keep quite well and had gone to Edmonton in August to Linda's wedding.

The Strong Ladies held their Christmas party in the Drop-In Centre on Sunday with quite a few attending and the members bringing lots of good food for supper, which was enjoyed by all.

The young children put on a skit about the night before Christmas and the girls are wishing and wondering what they would get.

Santa came and left a big box and who should be in it but Tina Read, a real live Jack-in-the-Box.

Other skits were enjoyed, especially the driving instructor giving "his" wife a driving lesson.

It was nice for the young children to be taking part in the program as they enjoyed that as much as the older ones enjoyed being entertained.

Soon it was clean-up time and get everything back in place

Flagstaff Auxiliary enjoys music treat

"Thank you" to Dora Klinger and Cora Paulsen who have been coming here every other week to entertain both staff and patients. We really appreciate and enjoy their music.

Mrs. Ann Hill visited with her grandma, Mrs. Somers.

In to see Mrs. Barty was Vera Swainson and James and Florence Haliam.

Miss Vera Swainson enjoyed her visit with Mrs. Black. Also visiting her was Arthur Black of Lougheed, Mr. and Mrs. David Black of Sedgewick, Mr. John Black, and Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Walmsley of Edmonton.

Mrs. Irene Baska had as her visitors, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Baska of Provost.

Mary Sather of Daysland and Annie Zuk of Camrose visited their mother, Mrs. Karchut.

Mr. and Mrs. John Rath of Forestburg visited Fred Rath.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Billow of Sedgewick visited Dr. Murray.

Mr. Fred Sparrow had as his visitors, Marg and Ken Loesch of Daysland.

Edna Fallis of Alliance visited Mother Dahl.

Norma and Laura Kells from Cochrane, Alberta were in to see Lottie Kells. Also in were Ray and Betty Kells of Hardisty, and Cliff, Judy and Jim Kells of Hardisty, Garry and Karen Smith of Lougheed, and Bob Busse and family of Edmonton.

John Pitts had as his visitors, Flora and Howard Pitts of Forestburg and Scott Dolass of Edmonton.

John Horst enjoyed his visit with brother Carl of Vermilion.

Mrs. Mary Van Hecke of Alliance was in to see her dad, Mr. J. Mundle.

Challenge extended

On Sunday, December 3, the Daysland Badminton Club hosted a combined team from the clubs of Consort and Oyen in a match held in the school. Both teams were comprised of six men and four women, with each person playing in two events. Although many of the games were close, the visiting team seemed to prefer the lunch provided rather than the result, which was Daysland 25, Consort and Oyen 8. Special mention should be made of Grant Eshpeter, who was undefeated on the day.

The Daysland Club issues a challenge to any other local badminton club for a similar match or meeting. Format and other details can be arranged at the convenience of both sides. Interested takers should phone Tony Crossley, Daysland, at 374-3639.

Sedgewick and District News

Mr. and Mrs. Dwight Miles, Mrs. Dorothy Cook and Mr. Humphrey Cheekly of Sedgewick attended the wedding of Patricia and Albert in Edmonton.

Harlene, daughter of Harold Swanson from Calgary, was down visiting Gilbert Swanson this past weekend.

Glad to hear that Mr. Tom Sparrow returned home on Sunday after spending awhile in the University Hospital where he underwent surgery.

Met Mr. and Mrs. John Brunner having supper at a restaurant on Monday and heard it was in celebration of their 39th wedding anniversary. Congratulations and many more anniversaries, John and Bertha.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Paterson of Lougheed dropped in and had supper with Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh on Tuesday.

Susan Wilson, who is attending the University of Alberta, spent the weekend at her parents' home, the Tom Wilsons.

The Rev. Bob Chappell, the choir from the United Church and a group of ladies were at Flagstaff Lodge on Tuesday evening for a worship service. Following this, lunch and a time of fellowship was enjoyed.

Mr. and Mrs. Rasch, with Verna and Sheldon, all of Medicine Hat, visited with Mr. and Mrs. Ed Sarasin last Saturday.

On the weekend, Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman took Mr. Herb Freeman to Edmonton for medical attention on his eyes. They all stayed overnight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Duane Freeman and family at Sherwood Park.

There was a record number of eight tables of whist players at the Senior Citizens Wednesday afternoon card party at the Legion Hut. Mrs. Marguerite Gibb and Mr. David Davison won prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Lillian Craig and Mr. Charlie Lane received consolation awards. It was reported that the rug was being laid in the new Drop-In Centre and it was hoped that the next Card Party could be held there. A Christmas Party was decided upon, to be held after the card party on December 20. Ladies are to bring gifts for ladies, gents for gents, and they are not to cost more than around $1.50.

Old timers will remember Mr. Morley Stubbs, who worked in Beairsto's store. Word was received last week of his death in Vancouver at the age of 92. He was buried on November 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh were Sunday visitors at the home of the Grant Blassers at Heisler.

Very happy to be able to report that Mr. Fred Sparrow returned home last Tuesday after medical treatment at the W.W. Cross Hospital in Edmonton. Mr. Sparrow is now residing at Flagstaff Lodge.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Schmutz were weekend guests at the Dick Erickson home.

Word has been received that Mrs. Mami Goad, formerly Mrs. Tommy MacGregor of Sedgewick, passed away on October 26 at the age of 87.

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Stepanchuk of Camrose were visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Eric Hagen on Sunday evening.

Kerry Andersen is spending a few days with her grandparents, the Dick Ericksons, while here parents are at Vermilion, where Don is working.

Mrs. Mary Schmutz, Joan Semeniuk and Ronnie visited at the Wayne Schmutz home on Tuesday.

We were told Tuesday that a former resident of Sedgewick, Mrs. Leola Gosnell, had passed away in Camrose. The community expresses its sympathy to the relatives of Mrs. Gosnell, who was known and loved by many. She will be sadly missed.

SEDGEWICK JUNIOR HIGH

The basketball season is now over and we have had our share of wins and losses. The girls' team ended the season with a delicious supper at Liz Erickson's house. All the players extend their thanks to this year's hardworking coaches.

The Gong Show here on Friday went over very well with about 18 acts entered. The winners of the $13.13 prize was "Revolution." Now that this is over, everyone is busy planning for our Christmas concert.

The mump epidemic is going around and quite a few of the kids have fallen victim

Daysland News

A regular meeting of the Daysland and District Recreation Board was held November 22. Members present were Anne Brinker, Mary Carlson, Sheila Purves and Ray Broeming.

In Further Education, it was reported that a macrame course and a ceramics course are presently taking place. Further courses include a retirement seminar on November 29, a chocolate making course that was held November 24 and 25, and a curling clinic on December 9.

It was noted that the cross country ski trail is now ready for use. The Recreation Board shall sponsor a page in the 1979 Daysland yearbook.

The Recreation Board shall pay for materials and labour involved in repairing windows and doors on the Log Cabin.

The Recreation Board was approached for assistance in replacing the roof on the Spring Lake Hall. It was noted that the Rec Board could assist only if the hall was owned by the people as a community and not owned by the parish.

The next regular meeting of the Daysland and District Recreation Board shall take place December 20, 1978.

The Daysland Legion members held their Christmas party and social December 6 in the meeting room of the hall. Mrs. Alex Candlish played her electric organ and dancing was enjoyed. A lovely lunch was served at midnight and a good time was had.

The UCW meeting and Christmas party was held December 7 in the church social room with President Margaret Schmidt presiding. The devotion was read by Kay Reist on Christmas and Christmas gifts.

The roll call was answered by 20 members, 31 visits to the sick, and there were 17 visitors present. The secretary's minutes were read by Phyllis Gabruck and the treasurer's report given by Emily Hill and both approved. Betty Hill reported on the social functions. One get well card was sent by Ethel Graham. Laura Graham reported sending another parcel of used stamps to the Lepromy Mission. It was decided to have each of us give some article to the Bissel Home in Edmonton to be given out as Christmas gifts.

Margaret Schmidt then called Rev. Mina Pool forward and presented her with a Christmas gift from the UCW. She then called on our new president, Betty Koehli, to take over. Betty Koehli presented Margaret Schmidt with a gift as the out-going president. The meeting adjourned.

Zerah Candlish and Eleanor Davidson had a program of a telephone gossip line when each member was mentioned of what they have done during the year, which brought a lot of laughter. Then we all sang some Christmas songs for awhile until Santa appeared and presented each one there with a gift.

A delicious lunch was served by the hostess, Ethel Graham, and her helpers, Lil Kofoed, Phyllis Gabruck, and Dorothy Spiller. The next meeting of the UCW will be January 4, 1979

Forestburg/ Heisler emerge winners

Junior High basketball concluded on December 2 with the playoff tournament held in Galahad. The playoff opened with Alliance upsetting Galahad 16-15. Alliance scored 10 points. Daryn Geier led the losers with eight points.

The season game saw the girls from Forestburg drop Strome 16-6. Shauna Ponto led Forestburg with six points and Shanna Yarham scored all six Strome points.

In the second boys game, Heisler defeated Hardisty 28-23 in a hard-fought contest. Donald Fankhanel paced the winners with 13 points while Todd Moser replied with 12 points for Hardisty.

The girls' final saw Forestburg over Hardisty 25-8. Wendy Henderson led Forestburg with eight points and Sharry Felzien added six more. Jody Overman scored four points in the losing cause.

The boys' final featured a come-from-behind victory for Heisler over Alliance 31-18. Heisler outscored Alliance 16-2 in the fourth quarter for the victory. Donald Fankhanel dropped in 13 points and Duane Wolbeck added nine more for Heisler, while Alliance was led by Asin Ramcharan with eight points and Shaun Clough with six points.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

BATTLE RIVER

November 11 saw members of the Battle River 4-H Highlites bundled up in their toques and scarves as they set out to weigh 16 calves. It started out at Rosa Gibson's at 12 noon and ended at Harold Spady's with hot chocolate and cake to satisfy those hungry tummies.

"Sweet Sixteen and Never Been Kissed" was Sherri Spady on November 26. This was the evening of Battle River's pot luck supper and award night. Eighten members received plaques consisting of three PeeWees and 15 regular members. These plaque funds came from Alliance Lions and Legion and also the money from Highway Cleanup. Rick Suntjens of the Bank of Commerce from Hardisty presented a trophy to Sherri Spady for club champion calf.

After eating our delicious supper, we relaxed while watching Alvin Miller's slides on Europe. It was very interesting and exciting. After this delightful evening, we packed up and went home.

Our new president, Travis Spady, chaired a very successful meeting on December 5 at 7:30 p.m. They discussed a Christmas party and decided to combine it with the Alliance Horse Club. It will take place on December 17 at 2 p.m. at Harold Spady's for a toboggan party with a weiner roast following. They picked names and decided they could be either sensible or non-sensible gifts from a price range of $1.50 to $3. Impromptues were given by Lisette, Bruce, John, Debby, Lorraine, Rose and Dwayne for communications.

Debby and Lorraine talked about how to fill out a record book and Bill gave us a talk on the calf in general. The Battle River 4-H Club would like to thank Bob and Ann Sprecker for donating $100 to the 4-H Club for helping with their 25th anniversary on July 8.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

X-MAS OR CHRIST-MAS?

Snowflakes are falling silently
On December's wintry scene;
Crowds of people rush hastily
In an ever welling stream.

Weary feet and solemn faces
Downhearted and so forlorn;
For a calendar date to celebrate
The night when a Saviour was born.

But where are they all going?
What does this mad rush mean;
Is this what God intended
Of the quiet manger scene?

Commercialism entered the picture
Of that Wonderous Story of Old;
True worship of the Christ Child
Has turned to silver and gold.

In who can buy the biggest gifts
Decorations and largest tree;
Or fullest best laid table
For a time of frolic and glee.

These ceremonies of Christmas
Beautiful as they may seem;
Leave out the Holy Christ Child
Disregard what His birthday means.

Let's go back to the Bible
That Nativity scene to recall;
Back to the old, old story
Of a Baby, a Manger and Stall.

A Star so bright in the east sky
Followed afar by Wise Men;
A Saviour born into this world
To save mankind from sin.

"Peace on Earth, Goodwill to Men"
The same old message is ever new;
Tradition and time make no difference
For the Words of the Bible are true.

Let's put Christ back into Christmas
In this year's festivity;
A new joy and peace await you
In Christmas new meaning there'll be.

TAX PLANNING PART III

Did you know that your 15-year-old son or daughter, besides being your pride and joy, could also be a $1,940 tax deduction from income tax. That is, provided you do some planning before the end of the year.

Last week, we looked at deferring income tax by using your Livestock Inventory Provision. Now, we will note several non-business deductions that you can make which will reduce your taxable income.

Personal Exemptions

This is possibly the most straight forward part of the whole tax form. There are various situations which your specific case may apply to, so be sure that you take full advantage of them all. If you're supporting someone other than your wife and children, you could have additional exemptions. Remember, your wife can have an income tax deduction of $1,000 for earned interest just as you have. Also, if your wife or children have some income, you may still have an exemption for them.

Wages to Children

Children may be paid wages which becomes a deduction to your farm income. However, there are certain conditions to be considered:

- child must actually be paid. In other words, you should have a cancelled cheque for the payment;
- payments must be reasonable for work performed;
- work performed must be such that added to farm productivity and would otherwise have been performed by hired help;
- payments (in 1977) could have been $1,510 for child under 17 and $1,590 for child over 17, without reducing the BASIC exemption;
- amounts over these maximums will reduce the exemption.

It's a good policy to regularly pay the child a given amount monthly – speaking from a tax standpoint only. This allows a regular expense which leaves no doubt by Revenue Canada. However, a lump sum, end of year BONUS payment may also be made. Just make sure a cheque is issued and cancelled by a bank before the New Year.

Taxation and Retirement Plans

You will no doubt wish to keep your Canada Pension Plan (CPP) contribution to the maximum to allow yourself or your beneficiary the maximum benefit. To have adequate income to allow this, you may use the livestock inventory provision discussed last week. Your CPP contribution is fully tax deductible, and should be added into your exemption package for planning.

Personal pension plans like Registered Retirement Savings Plan (RRSP) also can provide you with an additional deduction. These are based on 20 per cent of the net income up to $5,500 maximum yearly pension contribution. The benefits of this savings plan in retirement planning are often overlooked. I'd suggest talking to your banker or a financial planner if you're in doubt about its usefulness.

Registered Home Ownership Savings Plans (RHOSP) also have tax advantages for a younger farmer starting out – check this one out!

EXAMPLE: Mr. Farmer with a wife and two children ages 15 and 17½, who has $20,000 net income, could have the following 1977 deductions (1978 is higher)

Basic	$2,270
Wife	$1,990
Son 17½	$490
	$ ($1,590 wages)
Daughter 15	$430
	$ ($1,510 wages)
RRSP	$4,000
TOTAL	$12,280

In this case, the farmer would have a minimum of $12,280 in exemptions. If additional factors existed, the figure could well be higher. Next week, we will note briefly other deductions which can exist and also note averaging of large incomes from special sales.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, MP

1979 - The Year of the Child

The year 1979 has been designated the International Year of the Child. The United Nations has proclaimed, in a Declaration of the Rights of the Child, that "a child ought to have a happy childhood and enjoy for his own good and for the good of society the rights and freedoms set forth by a specific statement of principles."

Some of the specific clauses include, "The child shall be entitled from its birth to a name and a nationality." Another principle states, "The child who is physically, mentally, or socially handicapped shall be given special treatment, education and care required by his particular condition." Principle 6 states, "The child, for the full and harmonious development of his personality, needs love and understanding. He shall, wherever possible, grow up in the care and under the responsibility of his parents, and in any case in an atmosphere of affection and of moral and material security; a child of tender years shall not, save in exceptional circumstances, be separated from his mother. Society and the public authorities shall have the duty to extend particular care to children without afamily and to those without adequate means of support."

In part, Principle 7 states, "the best interests of the child shall be the guiding principle of those responsible for his education and guidance; that responsibility lies in the first place with his parents." Principle 9 states, "The child shall in all circumstances be among the first to receive protection and relief." Principle 9 is one that should bring relief to Canadian parents who have a compassion for the needs of children. That principle states, in part, that "The child shall be protected against all forms of neglect, cruelty and exploitation. He shall not be the subject of traffic, in any form."

The final principle stated above is so vitally important in view of the increasing instances of using children in portraying pornographic literature and just as offensive and more frequent, the alarming number of cases of child abuse should concern us all. Every year, literally several thousand children are found to have been neglected or abused in Canada. While many of these cases occur in the larger metropolitan areas, the facts are that there are a significant number of cases of child abuse in rural communities. Unfortunately, many of these cases are known about by neighbours, but because there is a cultural belief that we ought not to get involved in the affairs of another family, most of these cases go unreported.

Recently, I spoke to an information officer with the Social Services Department who told me about some of the very severe instances of child abuse. His description was of bodies that had been beaten, lacerated, and bones broken by the parents who should have been extending guidance and care.

This new focus on the child ought to be viewed as an opportunity for all Canadians to join in a celebration of childhood and to do all in our power to make Canada and the world a better place for children. A society that truly cares for its children will flourish for we should strive to protect our most valuable national resource – our children.

In short, keeping in touch is to say; "a child yes, but a person too."

Storing grain safely

STORING GRAIN SAFELY

Prairie weather often necessitates speedy grain harvesting and is not always conducive to blowing grain in dry conditions. Grain dryers are one of the best ways farmers can prevent grain from spoiling in storage.

But drying grain is not the only method of eliminating the risk of spoiled grain. Sealing tough or damp grain in an air-tight container will also prevent deterioration. The respiration of grain would use up all the oxygen in the container, and the carbon dioxide produced would prevent spoilage. However, the grain is still high in moisture and is most suited as livestock feed. Since grain spoilage or heating is related to cool and microorganism respiration, low temperatures reduce their biological functions and permit longer term storage. In western Europe, chilled grain storage facilities are used to prevent grain deterioration. Treating high moisture grain with organic acids, similar to silage, is another way of overcoming spoilage.

To be safely stored in traditional or country elevator bins, grain must have a low moisture content. For up to one year's storage, the maximum moisture content for wheat is 14.5 per cent, for barley 14.8 per cent and for rapeseed 10.5 per cent. Longer storage periods require the grain to have about 2 per cent less moisture. Farm drying not only reduces the moisture in grain to acceptable levels, it also provides additional management benefits. Farm dryers permit earlier harvesting and better labour utilization by allowing combining to proceed when wheat and barley are at 20 per cent moisture content. A dryer extends the harvest season by permitting harvesting on more days and more hours per day. Weather related field losses can be reduced if drying is possible.

For each bushel of wheat that is dried from 18 per cent moisture down to 14 per cent, 2.9 pounds of water must be removed. This is equivalent to evaporating 280 gallons of water from 1000 bushels of wheat. Drying 1000 bushels of barley from 18 per cent down to 14 per cent requires the removal of 220 gallons of water.

Grain can be dried by a flow of cool air but the time involved is considerable. When hot air is used to dry grain, the evaporation process must be depended on to keep the grain cool and avoid kernel damage. However, this cooling effect decreases until the grain reaches 14 per cent, when the temperature of the grain begins to approach that of the hot air.

The principal danger associated with grain drying is getting the grain too hot. Seed germination can be reduced if the temperature rises high enough to kill the germ. Wheat intended for seed usage should not be heated above 60 degrees C., while barley and rapeseed cannot become hotter than 43 degrees C. Wheat and barley for commercial purposes should not be heated above 66 degrees and 60 degrees C., respectively. The maximum for rapeseed is 54 degrees C. Wheat and barley intended for feed can be dried at hotter temperatures, up to 82 degrees C.

If, in the drying process, the temperature of the wheat has risen above 65 degrees C., the protein is cooked resulting in poor baking qualities. Bread produced from the flour of such wheat is small of loaf volume.

Temperature changes in grain bins can cause spoilage problems, even in dry grains. As fall and winter begin to cool the stored grain, convection currents of air in the bin can cause moisture to condense near the top of the grain. This may become an ideal place for microorganism activity. In the spring, a bin of cold grain has convection currents which deposit moisture near the bottom of the grain. Again, this may be an ideal spot for heating and spoilage to begin.

Fortunately, cold, dry prairie winters are ideal for storing grain. Fungus growth is halted when the relative humidity is less than 70 per cent and the temperature is below 0 degrees C. Dry grain stored below 10 degrees C. is not conducive to insect activity.

Carol Arntzen elected president of 4-H council

November 29, club leaders and 4-H representatives met at the Sedgewick Rec Centre for the Flagstaff 4-H District Council meeting.

The Beef Committee met at 6 p.m. and started business with a supper. Plans were made for the show and sale of beef animals this spring.

At 8 p.m., the project representatives joined the meeting and elections were held. Officers for the coming year are: President - Carol Arntzen, Vice-President - Arnold Gamroth, Sec. Treasurer - Marie Jahns, Club Reporter - Jane Martz, Beef Representative - Herb Robinson, Dairy Representative - Lorraine Martz, Horse Representatives - Loreen Wall and Ken Alderdice, and Pheasant Representative - Jim Tindall.

A discussion was held on the 4-H Battle Lake Camp, northwest of Wetaskiwin, and giving money to the 4-H Foundation for developing the camp. After much controversy and discussion, it was decided to wait until more definite plans are made.

A committee was set up to make plans for Happy Face Camp, with the chairlady being Lorraine Martz. The order forms will be coming out with the other camp forms.

Everyone thought Highway Clean-up was successful, but more work has to be done to make it safer. Signs, flashing lights, more parental supervision and more public awareness were the major suggestions.

District Speak-Offs was the next order of business. February 25, 1979 was picked as the day and Merna Light Horse and Merna Beef clubs would be the hosts. Each club is to give a name of a judge to Ella Whitbeck, R.R. 1, Sedgwick, phone number 384-2103 by December 20, please.

The Heisler Clubs will host a public speaking workshop with Diane Latham as instructor sometime in the early part of January. This will be for both club members and judges.

Doug Norman informed the meeting of 4-H selections that are now to be held in April at Camrose Lutheran College.

The meeting was then adjourned. The next meeting is January 16, 1979.

FLAGSTAFF FURTHER EDUCATION ACTIVITIES

The FLAGSTAFF FURTHER EDUCATION COUNCIL has approved the following courses to serve the needs of adults in this area.

Students are encouraged to register at once. Courses are subject to cancellation seven days in advance unless eight people are registered.

The public is encouraged to take advantage of continuing education. Get in touch with your contact and express your interests. They are enthusiastic volunteers who appreciate hearing from the public.

JOIN THE ACHIEVERS - As we go to press with this brochure, I am happy to report a 'stress workshop' under Mrs. Barbara Stroh, will be announced shortly.

It now appears we can't make the 'Christopher Course in Public Speaking' a reality until next fall. However, this course is offered in Wainwright and possibly Castor in early February and some from our area are planning to attend. Call the Flagstaff Further Education office in Sedgewick on Tuesday or Thursday if interested. Phone: 384-3772 or Co-ordinator Jean Johnson at 384-3834.

Watch for announcements on the following courses:

Television Awareness
Alcohol & Drug Abuse
Stress Workshop
Secretarial Skills
Speedreading
Metrics for Mechanics
Homemaking Techniques

Your interest expressed on the above courses would assist Preventive Social Services and Flagstaff Further Education in their programming coming 1979.

Heisler 4-H Stampeders meet

On December 4, the Heisler 4-H Stampeders began the meeting by reading the minutes of the last meeting. And as we had not yet thought of a name for our club, each member at roll call also gave a name. There were many suggestions. We voted on each name and came up with the name, Heisler Stampeders. We also discussed what we made at the bake sale in Dayaland on November 24. We would also like to thank Cathy Meyers for donating three cakes, and also to the Dayaland Auction Mart.

From there, we went on to new discussions. It was decided to have a tobaggan party on December 27. We also had Doug Norman as our guest. He showed us a film on what was available to the 4-H members and gave a small speech. After that, our meeting was adjourned and we went on to our Christmas party. We played a few games. Then Santa Claus appeared while we were singing "Here Comes Santa Claus." He distributed gifts to everyone. One little three-year-old was so excited at the sight of Santa Claus. His eyes were as big as saucers. He shook his hand and said thank you. Then he proceeded to tell him everything he wanted. After Santa left we had lunch.

We would like to wish everyone a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. And we would like to wish all the other 4-H clubs a very successful New Year and hope their New Year will be as successful as this year has been.

Galahad District News

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Washburn and Michael of Red Deer were recent visitors with the Washburns, celebrating Michael's fourth birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. W. Washburn were overnight visitors in Camrose with Mrs. Florence Pooto. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Jackson and family were also supper guests with Mrs. Pooto.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Blomhagen and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wishart spent last week skiing at Banff. Marcella and Carrie Wishart visited the Pete Willoes while their parents were away.

The CWL ladies met at Katie Gamroth's home on Tuesday evening, December 6.

The usual business was transacted, followed by the evening's devotional lead by Rose Borgel. Eight ladies were present for the time of fellowship. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess at the close of the meeting.

The CWL ladies wish a speedy recovery to Aunty Martha Bodry and Anne Wise, still patients in the local hospital.

Rev. and Mrs. Ted Veenstra and two children, missionaries to Brazil, were guest speakers at the Missionary Church at the weekend.

After a pot luck supper on Saturday evening, the Veenstras showed slides of their work in Brazil.

They took part in the Sunday morning service, singing the 23rd Psalm in Portuguese, the language of their part of Brazil.

Mr. and Mrs. Veenstra told more of their life on the mission field, and how people respond to the gospel when hurry out to tell others the good news. Their faithfulness puts us to shame for we have had churches and every advantage, but still hide our light beneath a bushel.

The WMS ladies of the Missionary Church gathered in the lower auditorium on Wednesday afternoon, December 6, with 16 ladies and three children present. A quilt was tied in the work period.

Ethel Black and Carrie Bowsee were in charge of the devotions. A skit was acted out, which depicted some of the excuses ladies give when asked to take an office at the time of reorganization. It was entertaining, as well as sadly true.

The business meeting followed. The ladies voted a gift of cash be sent to the Trucks, missionaries returning from Brazil to make their home here, and also to the Canadian Bible Society.

Gene Whitehead had the remainder of the devotional in monologue form. It depicted the innkeeper of Bethlehem and his remorse as he realized that he had been the first to shut the promised messiah out of his inn and out of his life.

What are we doing with our time, talents and life. Are we like the innkeeper? Will remorse be our lot someday? Pastor Whitehead's Christmas message gave us much food for thought. He closed with prayer.

Reorganization followed with Pastor Whitehead in charge. The slate of officers for 1979 is: President - Anne Whitehead, Vice-President - Maggie Feizien, Treasurer - Marguerite Scott, Devotions - Ethel Black and Carol Jackson, Stamp Convenor - Dorothy Jackson, and Gift Convenor - Carrie Bowsee. Work and Distributing Committee - Vera Peaks, Clara Wegenast and Maggie Feizien, Catering Committee - Vera Peaks, Aileen Vincett and Clara Wegenast.

Lunch was served by Anna Whitehead and Alta Willis. The lower auditorium had a festive look with Christmas lights and a small tree. Mrs. Black had placed a gift of jars of red jelly for each person present. Thank you, Ethel.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Wetmore from eastern Canada have been visiting the Wetmores. Bob is Jim and Alley's cousin.

ENERGUIDE

What is it? What does it mean? This new label "Energuide" is what to look for - if you want to save energy and money. After September 30, 1978, the federal government's consumer packaging and labelling act requires an energy consumption label to be displayed on all refrigerators manufactured. This means that if you are in the market for a new refrigerator, check to be sure the label states the amount of energy consumed in kilowatt-hours per month. Compare it with other refrigerators. Refrigerators are the first appliance chosen to be labelled - because most families have one, and because they run continuously, which makes them the biggest energy user in the home. Soon freezers, ranges, dishwashers and other major electrical appliances will be labeled with Energuide, too.

FARM HOME STUDY COURSE

Would you like to remodel your old home, but you're just not sure if it is worth it? Are you considering building a new home or thinking about a modular home? If these are questions that you are asking, why not enroll in the Farm Home Study Course. The course is somewhat like correspondence lessons, but you can study in your own home, at your own time. You will receive four lessons in the mail - one every two weeks. Each lesson contains useful information, diagrams and sketches, as well as activities for you to complete. All the answers are included so you won't have to mail anything back. There are two course alternatives offered: 1. The New Home and 2. The Remodelled Home.

Each of these courses will cover information on siting, financing, space planning, construction, servicing the home and exterior and interior design.

The Home Study Program will be complemented by newscolumn articles, local seminars, and TV programs. The registration fee is $30, with applications available from my office. (Incidentally, this would make a great Christmas gift.)

The Community Press

A Weekly Newspaper Serving the Communities of Hardisty, Lougheed, Sedgewick, Killam and Strome.

Single Copies — 25¢ Sedgewick, Alberta WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 20, 1978 Volume 78—No. 17

Ladies of The Royal Purple, Killam Lodge make their annual visit to the Auxiliary Lodge, Killam last Sunday, December 17. The above photos shows (left) Royal Lady Olive Grant as she presents a plate of goodies to Nick Genstor. On the right Lady Jean Prichard presents Melvin Storbakken with his goodies.

After a short visit with many of the residents the five ladies journeyed to Flagstaff Lodge at Sedgewick to present boxes of goodies and oranges to the residents there.

Local teachers group accepts wage contract

Teachers in the Elk Island Regional School Authorities Association have accepted a contract for the calendar year of 1978. At a meeting of School Trustee and Alberta Teacher's Association negotiators held on Thursday, December 7, a memorandum of agreement was signed. At meetings of the teachers and trustees following this memorandum, the contract was accepted by both parties. Teachers in the Counties of Beaver, Minburn, Lamont, Leduc, Vermilion River and Flagstaff, and in the School Divisions of Wainwright, Devon and Provost are covered under the new contract.

Of the approximately 1050 teachers employed by the member education boards of the E.I.R.S.A.A., 584 voted for the offer while 84 voted against the offer. Approximately two-thirds of the teachers in the E.I.R.S.A.A. voted on the contract and of these, about 87 percent accepted the agreement.

The contract provided for an average increase of 7.75 percent overall. One of the major benefits included in this 7.75 percent overall increase is the payment of 50 percent of Alberta Health Care premiums by the member boards on either the single or family rate, depending upon the particular teacher's situation.

The contract for 1978 was ratified with a little over two weeks left in the contract year. Negotiations for the 1979 contract year are expected to begin early in the new year.

Premier's airline acceptance

Premier Peter Lougheed's acceptance of free air fares for his vacations while in office has cost him embarrassment, a promise not to take any more and about $9,000 plus interest.

But the premier's critics refused to let him off the hook after he took out a bank loan to pay for the holiday flights he had received from Air Canada and CP Air since winning office in 1971.

Lougheed maintained he had done no wrong. His mistake, he said, was believing free fares were routine for premiers. After a week of second thoughts, he reversed his initial position and paid.

"I don't blame anybody. It was an honest mistake. I should have doublechecked," said the premier.

"The only thing I can say is that I wish to heck the issue had come out earlier. It would have saved me a lot of money."

But that by no means cleansed all blemishes from the Conservative record, warned acting Social Credit Leader Walt Buck, NDP Chief Grant Notley and the Liberals' Nick Taylor.

Buck, Notley and Taylor sought enactment of a code of ethics for the premier, the cabinet and MLAs, and their political appointees, to match rules established for fulltime paid civil servants.

Alberta's public service conduct code limits acceptance of gifts and fund-raising. Its preamble promises "public service . . . with efficiency, impartiality and integrity."

Buck, Notley and Taylor hoped a new code would regulate methods of political fund-raising as well as politicians' acceptance of gifts.

They cited Tory practices, backed by Lougheed and unchanged, that showed up in a fund-raising letter that surfaced this fall.

The circular showed three of four members on the Tory finance committee executive are government-appointed directors of provincially-controlled firms.

The fund raisers include Rod McDaniel, chairman of the board of wholly-owned Pacific Western Airlines, PWA Vice Chairman Hoadley Mitchell and Peter Macdonnell, a director of the half owned Alberta Energy Company.

The opposition warns that the finance committee makeup makes the Tories at least seem to be enforcing donations from businessmen who hold or seek contracts with the government-owned firms.

Unlike Lougheed's free airline trips, the fund-raising methods did not spark an immediate public outcry. They are continuing.

Notley said absence of protest over the fund-raising might be traced to fear of the consequences of speaking out, and that the Tory practices "can be more dangerous" than Lougheed taking airplane rides.

Next Paper January 4

In order that the management, staff, and correspondents of this newspaper can enjoy the Christmas holidays with their families and friends, The Community Press will not be publishing an edition on Wednesday, December 27.

The next edition of this paper will be published on Thursday, January 4.

Our office will be closed from December 24 to January 2.

"Magic Bells" theme of Christmas presentation

There has to be at least 20 children in the Killam Nursery Kindergarten Church School Class. They were all very carefully scrubbed and appropriately attired by their mothers for the portrayal of the "Manger Scene."

The angels were angelic. The shepherds strong and stern. The wise men had a look of wisdom. But Mary and Joseph were not necessarily aware of all that surrounded them, for they had the baby Jesus and God's love encompassed them.

The Killam Church School presented its Christmas Concert in the Knox United Church on Friday, December 15. Rev. R. Conrad was master of ceremonies. Each item was announced by means of letters. And each item was offered in an effort to ring some hidden bells.

As we changed from one class' offering of talents to the next, a Christmas carol was sung by the audience.

The Grade 1 class offered a poem, an acrostic, some songs and a prayer.

The highlight of the items offered by the Grades 2 and 3 classes was the pantomime "Alice in Toyland." This was very well acted out and enjoyed by all.

A very interesting, thoughtful and provocative number of skits were given by the senior class. It gave everyone time to mentally reflect as to the type of Christians they were. Were they Christians who made an effort to work at their religion all year 'round? Or was the effort simply made at Christmas?

Every grade had songs to sing which made the program very enjoyable, but still the bells remained silent.

Then the children brought gifts that they presented to Christ for those children who were less fortunate than themselves. And the bells rang out wildly, clearly, merrily, bringing with them the happiness that only gift giving can bring.

When the program ended, the audience gathered in the basement of the church for a piece of Jesus' birthday cake, cookies, coffee and kool-aid.

Miracles - Cana Wedding

Miracles were not of first importance in the Master's life. He was not a professional wonder worker. Miracles served but as a background for the teaching of truth. In the thousands of years of biblical history, we find only a comparatively few number of miracles. Miracles are not breaks in nature's laws, but an instance of great understanding of these laws. Miracles attended the Master and were but flashes of his divinity and superhuman powers. The hand of Jesus was potent as lightning, yet it never harmed. His first miracle was in the home. He was ever interested in the home problems of his own.

According to John 2:1-11 and John 2:5, let us look at three effective methods suggested by the Master for actual service.

1. Fill Up - Wine servants made no objections to a seemingly foolish command. Filled to the brim. Had they been but partially filled, there would have been less wine created. God gives us in proportion to our willingness to prepare ourselves for his blessings. There must be a "filling up" before there can be a "pouring out." Information relative to the needs of the church and the call of her activities is a prime requisite for effective service. "Filling up" puts one in a position to render service, "Fill up" not as a miser hoards, but for others, hence the second method.

2. Draw Out - Wine was not served as a fetish but used at the feast. Wine was made in order that it might be used. Our lives have in them talents and capabilities that we should use. Much is being held back. Education is not merely storing knowledge, but the use of knowledge. Our creed and faith may be of a noble character but our deeds and life far superior. Our lives are filled only that we may make them of service to others. A talent is not only a blessing, but it is a responsibility, hence the third effective method.

3. Bear to Others - Water freely turned into wine. The wine lacking for the feast supplied without any expenses on the part of the host. Cost him nothing to bear to others. We have been given much that money will not buy; our heritage, physical, spiritual, mental. We have been richly blessed. Our responsibility is to "bear to others." Find the one that lacks and give to him of our supply.

Conclusion - The joy of possession is one thing, the joy of using what we have to bring comfort and cheer to others is another and far the more important thing.

Holiday Drinks That Warm Up The Crowd!

Holiday parties call for something a little more spectacular than ordinary cocktail party bar fixings. You'll find these recipes for hot and cold drinks the answer, whether you're having friends in for dinner, a festive midnight supper or a great big "invite everybody" open house. They're sure to add a spirited touch to that extra special occasion.

TRADITIONAL SYLLABUB

1 cup whipping cream
3 tablespoons sugar
1 tsp. lemon juice
½ cup brandy
2 egg whites, stiffly beaten

In large mixer bowl or electric blender, blend cream and sugar at low speed. Add brandy, lemon juice, and egg whites last. Continue mixing at low speed for 2 or 3 more minutes. Serve promptly, refrigerating any leftovers. Makes 3 cups.

WINE-TEA PUNCH

3½ cups chilled strong tea
2 - 6 oz. cans frozen limeade
1 - 4/5 bottle of chilled white dinner wine
½ to ½ cup sugar, according to taste
Mint sprigs
Ice Block or lots of Ice Cubes

Combine first four ingredients, stirring until sugar is completely dissolved and limeade is thawed. Pour into punch bowl over previously frozen block of ice. Serve over cubes in tall, slim glasses garnished with mint sprigs. Makes two quarts of liquid. If you're having a really big crowd double the recipe and reserve half in a pitcher to be used as needed.

RED FIZZER

4 cups vegetable juice
Dash of Tabasco or hot pepper sauce
Juice of 1 lemon
½ tsp. celery seed
¼ cup butter
2 cups dry sherry
Lemon slices

Combine first four ingredients in a saucepan. Bring to boiling point over medium heat, stirring all the while. Add butter and wine and pour into warmed punch bowl. Serve garnished with lemon slices in punch cups. Yield 1½ quarts.

Legends of the Christmas Tree

Christmas doesn't seem like Christmas until the tree is trimmed and the presents placed under it. But, how many of you know the story of the Christmas tree and the meaning behind the decorations we use?

The association of trees with Christmas began as early as the 10th century when an Arabian named Georg Jacob told of a beautiful legend. On the night that Christ was born, so the story goes, all the trees in all the forests, even those in frozen countries - blossomed for one night and bore fruit.

A 13th-century French legend tells of a gigantic tree lit with candles in the forest. Some of the candles were straight and some upside down, and at the top of the tree was an infant with a halo around his head. The tree represented humanity, the candles were people, good and bad, and the child was the Saviour, Jesus.

And still longer ago, there are stories that connect the tree with the season of Christmas. To pagan people, the evergreen trees were a sign that winter would end and warmth again return to the earth. During the feasts of the winter equinox, trees were hung with trinkets and masks. Some of our traditional Christmas tree ornaments, such as a sun, stars and moon, and animals, are thought to descend through the centuries from these ancient symbols of nature. The goodness of the creator as demonstrated in the return of spring may have been absorbed into the larger, greater celebration of the birth of his son, Jesus.

The tree that symbolizes Christmas today comes to us from Germany. Martin Luther is said to have cut a fir tree from his garden and placed it in the nursery of his home for his wife and children. He wanted to show them the great beauty of the night that Jesus was born.

The evergreen symbolizes eternal life, while the star on top is the star that guided the wise man to the baby Jesus. Since that time, other decorations have been added to the tree, such as coloured balls representing the many nations of people who inhabit the earth. Chains wrapped around the tree remind us that we are all bound together in God's love. The coloured lights symbolize the light that came into the world with the birth of Christ. Candy canes stand for the shepherd's crook; the red is for sacrifice and the white symbolizes purity. Your tree should have angels on it because it was the song of the angels which woke the shepherds to announce the birth of Jesus.

Share the story of the Christmas tree and the meaning behind the decorations with your children when you decorate your tree this year.

Thank you to Betty Birch and Diane Bourne for the information used in this article.

CHRISTMAS WISH

So often I hear people complain about how commercialized Christmas has become and what a hassle it is buying Christmas gifts. But to me, Christmas is a very special time of the year. People seem friendly, and happier - sharing their evenings with good friends and family. And, isn't it nice to receive those Christmas letters from far-away friends you haven't heard from all year.

Our homes, stores, and even towns take on a special look that says, "Rejoice - spread the word of peace and love and good fellowship among men."

Shopping for that special gift can be difficult, but isn't it worthwhile when you see those delighted faces on Christmas morning.

On behalf of Alberta Agriculture, we extend to you our best wishes for a merry Christmas!

A multi-coloured light display outlines the Alan Thomson home in Hardisty during this year's festive season. The Thomsons created a beautiful effect through well-placing and balancing their strings of lights which outline the house and trees on either side of the yard. The family's Christmas tree in the front window and their shining star complete the picturesque setting

Hardisty News Items

Sympathy is extended to Allen and Edwin Davidson on the passing away of their only sister after a lengthy illness. Also, to the parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dobby Davidson of Sedgewick.

The Ceramic Club was well pleased with their sale and tea and there were some very pretty things in both departments. A poinsettia was raffled off which was won by Josie Pedlar.

Mrs. Barbe Matthews had a note from Mrs. Mary Weeks of Edmonton, a one-time Hardisty resident. She too has joined the broken bones club, breaking a wrist in June and finding it a bit difficult to write letters yet.

The O.O.R.P. ladies held their Christmas party in the Elks Hall on Tuesday night, inviting Elks and guests, too.

Cards were played for awhile after which a sing-song of carols and then some funny skits were enjoyed by all.

A lovely supper was laid out for all with turkey, ham, baked potatoes and all. Also, before supper, Santa came and each received a gift. A very nice social evening indeed.

The new kitchen is such an improvement over the old one as there is lots of cupboard space, and several sinks from which both sides can be worked at make washing up much easier now.

It was nice to have Audrey Horn and Mary Reber's friend as far away guests, too.

The afghan made by the ladies of the Knit-a-Thon was won by Dean Possum. Congratulations, Dean.

The plants from Hastings Lake Greenhouse were lovely and, of course, many were poinsettias, which sold well.

Lots of prospective customers, but not too much in the line of baking. Everyone is just too busy. Every year gets worse, or are we just that much older?

Well, we are glad that the patients are home again. We see Barney Matthews on coffee now again. Steve Maurice is home but can't run too far yet as he is on crutches. Allen Nelson is home again and will be at the old stand in Tom-Boy on Tuesday.

Somehow or other, I overlooked sending sympathy to the Alfred Meland family. It was not intentional, but we all send our sympathy to the family.

Hardisty garden club meeting

The December meeting of the Hardisty Garden Club was held in the Drop-In Centre on Monday at 2 p.m.

Following the routine business, slides were shown on the care of different varieties of houseplants which proved both interesting and informative. These slides were obtained from the Alberta Horticultural Society. Lois Lomond very kindly showed the pictures on her projector. Slides will also be shown at the January meeting.

St. Mark's women meet

St. Mark's Women's Guild met on Monday evening at the home of Mrs. Nettie Johnston.

The business [illegible] al period.

A table is to be taken at the Farmers' Market, with novelties and baking.

The group will decorate the church and provide coffee and cookies for the December 24 Christmas service to be held at 11 a.m. All friends are cordially invited to this service.

The officers were returned to acclamation to serve another year. They are: President Mrs. Mary Gutmann, Vice-President Mrs. Lois Lomond, Secretary Mrs. Barb Davidson, and Treasurer Mrs. Nettie Johnston.

It was decided to change the meeting time to the first Thursday of the month at 8 p.m.

Following adjournment, the hostess served a delicious lunch.

Goose Creek Ladies meet

On Tuesday afternoon, December 5, the Goose Creek Ladies Club met at the home of Mrs. Jean Hepworth. There were 10 members, four adult visitors and one small visitor present.

Following a short business meeting, in place of a roll call and entertainment, the ladies had an exchange of gifts. The hostess then served a delicious lunch and a great time was had by all.

Hardisty Auxiliary combines functions

The Hardisty Hospital Auxiliary held its December meeting and Christmas party in the C.W.L. Hall Wednesday, December 13.

The treadmill, which was a substitute, was returned and parallel bars are to be ordered instead for which the auxiliary will pay.

Erma Matthews is the delegate to the convention in Calgary.

An interesting feature was announcing a discussion on aging by Dr. Ed Caldwell, who will speak to the students at the school in the afternoon and to all interested at the Drop-In Centre in the evening. This is on Tuesday, January 9.

Many memorial donations were received by the auxiliary in memory of our departed citizens, which seemed to be so many lately.

After business was over, the Christmas fun began with several games, one being similar to Front Page Challenge and very good. Then, there was action games as well. Following this, a delicious lunch of squares with tea and coffee was served.

We also wished to welcome Mrs. Myrtle Elmquist and Mrs. Clara Wilder, honourary members, with Mrs. Betty Vik a new guest.

Next meeting will be held after Dr. Caldwell's address instead of on January 10.

Hardisty senior citizen, Alfred Meland, passes

Alfred Meland was born at Etne, Norway on July 23, 1907 and passed away in Killam Hospital on November 26, 1978.

Mr. Meland came to Canada when he was 16 years old. He went to the Arnold School for awhile to learn the English language, which he learned very well.

He was a very handy man and did a lot of carpenter work, both locally and in the far north.

He spent a lot of his younger days in the Beehive area.

The last while, he had resided in the Parkland Manor, Hardisty. He had lived alone on the farm too for some years.

In 1933, he and Hasel Campbell were married and made their home in the Arnold district.

He leaves behind his wife Hazel, three daughters and one son: Eleanor Storbakken of Sedgewick, Hugo and Elaine Dewold of Camrose, and Sylvia Crone of Amisk. Also, two sisters, Gladys Goodrich and Sylvia Lundberg.

There are 10 grandchildren. He was predeceased by a daughter, Evelyn, in 1958 and a grandson. Also, his mother, Mrs. Hanson, brothers Walter and Art Hanson.

The service was presented by Rev. Jackson with Edwin Davidson, Roy Kells, Bob Sprecker, Gilbert Tillman, Paige Fisher and Dennis Fisher as pallbearers.

Interment was in Hardisty Cemetery on November 30.

Original ideas make a gift of cash special

If you're really up a tree (no pun intended) about what to give someone, a gift of money is really not crass when it's given with a little thought. What with prices skyrocketing every day it will probably be a better choice than you imagined.

Given in one of these ways it surely won't seem cold or impersonal:

- Enclose cash or check with a menu from an interesting and unusual restaurant.
- On a large sheet of colored paper trace the shape of a Christmas tree and cover it with dollar bills held on with invisible stick tape.
- Put a check or money into a box of cracker jacks or small "money bag". (Available in a local bank or easy to stitch up).
- Enclose your gift in a symbolic container—in a tiny sewing kit for someone who makes her own clothes—in a toy watering can from the 5¢ and 10¢ store for the gardening enthusiast—in an inexpensive money clip for anyone.
- A gift certificate will leave the choice to the happy recipient who can use it to advantage at after Christmas sales.
- For commuters or city workers try a book of tickets attached to a train schedule or a bag of tokens.
- A Savings Bond is a good choice because its value increases over the years, and your bank will put it in a colorful, seasonal gift envelope.

Christmas Greetings

Christmas Greetings and wishes for every happiness through the New Year to all our friends and neighbors.

Bessie Black & John

Christmas is the time to praise God

How will you celebrate Christmas this year? Loudly? Quietly? With some friends? Privately? Consciously?

Some are telling me that preparations aren't so hectic this year. They are enjoying the Advent season more. There is a new and different spirit of expectation in the air.

If this is true – and I believe it is for many people – wermight have expected it.

Tinsel and Santa Claus and toy trains can have only so much appeal. Sooner or later, someone was going to ask: What is it really about?

Now let's not denigrate all of what have become our traditional Christmas. It's not all bad. I have been thrilled many times about the gifts that I have received.

Christmas concerts are good, too. They used to be a strange mixture (I guess they still are) of secular and sacred, of silly three-act plays about nonessential characters that remind us remarkably of people we actually know and choirs singing about angels and shepherds and like things.

I personally think that this combining of sacred and secular may be a subconscious attempt to show that the incarnation isn't a theological abstraction but a practical reality.

And Christmas dinners, aren't they something? I don't mean the great amounts of turkey or goose and the trimmings so much as the happiness and contentment and feeling of rapport with the universe because one's family is together. Miles and miles have been traversed, and children are home. Can we count so many blessings?

Still and all, the mystery of Christmas won't let it rest there. From time the deeper meaning of it all comes to the surface as cream rises to the top. I suppose that is inevitable, given the origin of it all.

For the first time for me, Christmas has become a special time of prayer. I never realized before how much prayer was involved in the first Christmas. And with what results.

First, there was Zacharias. He prayed for a son. And what did he get? Only a son? No. He got a son and a prophet, the forerunner of the Son of God, John the Baptist.

When you pray, remember the first Christmas – you're likely to get more than you will pray for. God is generous.

Then there was Mary. She had been called to a special task. She was afraid at first. She didn't feel up to it. But she obeyed her Lord, and so came to rejoice and thank God for the opportunity he gave her to serve.

Christmas is a time to give thanks to God for all the times you were afraid but found the perfect love that casts our fear.

Finally there was Anna, the prophetess. She had been praying night and day for the redemption of her people. In Jesus, she saw the fulfilment of her prayer, and gave thanks.

Christmas is the time for recognizing God's sovereign love. Both the manger and the cross hold his son. Jesus came and he died to give us new lives through forgiveness freely furnished and redemption costly purchased. That's something to celebrate about.

That's worth praying for. Care to join me?

by Rev. Robert Chappell

The many lights of the Ralph Smith home in Lougheed can be seen for many miles. It is just one of many home and yards in Lougheed that are decorated for the Christmas season. As well as the lights a life size Santa Claus complete with sleigh and reindeer adorn the front.

Alma Robinson passes at 47

On December 12, 1978, Mrs. Alma Roberta Robinson of 15706 90 Avenue passed away at the age of 47 years.

She is survived by her loving husband, Ron; two daughters, Mrs. L. (Joanne) Hudon of Edmonton and Valerie Robinson at home; her parents, Mr. and Mrs. B.A. Davidson of Sedgewick, Alberta; two brothers, Alan Davidson of Hardisty, Alberta and Edward Davidson of Lougheed, Alberta.

A memorial service was held Friday, December 15 at the Misericordia Hospital Chapel in Edmonton.

Lougheed News

Mrs. Kilgrain of Lougheed won twice at the Christmas cash bingo at Dayaland on Tuesday, December 19.

In the Battle River Hockey League, Rosalind scored 3-1 against the Lougheed Road Runners on Saturday, December 9.

And on Monday, December 11, the Sedgewick Sabres defeated the Lougheed Road Runners 6-1.

In the Recreational Hockey League, the Lougheed Coyotes and Killam tied 4 all.

LOUGHEED W.I.

The combined annual meeting and Christmas party of the Lougheed W.I. was held at the lovely new home of Miss M. Fernebough on December 5. In the absence of the secretary, Mrs. E. Waite recorded the minutes of the meeting which was chaired by the president, Mrs. J. Johnson. The minutes of the November meeting and of the last annual meeting were read and adopted.

A letter from the Friesen Publishing Co. in reply to the enquiry regarding reprints of the history book was read by Mrs. Marlow. It was decided that nothing further will be done at the present time.

In response to the Salvation Army appeal letter, a donation of $15 will be sent.

Further correspondence concerning projects for the International Year of the Child was read, and this will be dealt with in the New Year.

The annual reports from the executive and committee members were received and adopted and showed a busy and fruitful year had been spent by the organization. The president voiced her sincere appreciation of the support and co-operation she had received from her executive and the members.

Twelve members were present and answerred the roll call by paying dues for 1979.

A partial slate of officers for 1979 was presented by the nominating committee. Mrs. H. Swainson was asked to take the chair for the nominations to fill the vacanes, which resulted in the following being elected: President - Mrs. J. Johnson, 1st Vice-President - Mrs. H. Probst, 2nd Vice-President - Mrs. V. Storbakken, Secretary - Mrs. E. Waite, and Treasurer - Mrs. D. McClements.

An executive and directors' meeting will be held early in the new year.

The meeting was adjourned, and during the tea hour, all enjoyed the samples of Christmas baking brought by each member. The tinkle of bells and rustling of paper announced that "Mrs. Santa" was on her way, and Molly, assisted by Jerry matching numbers, distributed homemade gifts to each member. The hostess also gave a gift which was won by Mrs. H. Probst, and so a happy afternoon drew to a close with a "Merry Christmas to all."

Merna 4-H holds trophy night

The big event was held Sunday, December 10 at 6:30 p.m. in the Galahad School. It was trophy night for the Merna 4-H Beef Club, one of the most exciting activities held for a club.

It got underway with a delicious pot luck supper. After everyone had pleased their appetites from the wide variety of delicious foods that were offered, the members of the club had a fast and tiring basketball game while the adults carried on conversations among themselves.

The following trophies were presented to: Colin Gamroth for the Champion Steer for the club, donated by Silverbuckle Angus, Norman Wegenast; Colin Gamroth for Senior Grooming, donated by Barth Pharmacy; Calvin Lewis for Senior Showmanship, donated by Welfare Club; Ron Buchholz for Best Set of Records, donated by Merna Beef Club; Ron Buchholz for Efficiency, donated by Alliance Lions; Ken Gamroth for Junior Grooming, donated by Frank Herle, Gulf Bulk Sales of Galahad; Ken Gamroth for Junior Showmanship, donated by Flagstaff Realty; and Judy Gamroth received the Citizenship Award donated by the Merna 4-H Beef Club in memory of Alvin Buchholz.

After the trophies had been presented, there were a few films shown of human interest and another basketball game played.

The Merna 4-H Beef Club thanks all the parents, and especially the trophy donators, for showing they care about the young citizens in the community and surrounding district.

MERNA 4-H BEEF CLUB

The organization meeting of the Merna 4-H Beef Club was held November 21 at the Clarence Buchholz residence. The meeting was brought to order with 14 members, also welcoming one new member, Lana Wegenast. The following members were elected to office. Ron Buchholz - President; Lee Wegenast - Vice-President; Lyle Buchholz - Secretary, Cathy Gamroth - Treasurer, and Judy Gamroth - Club Reporter.

It was decided to hold the regular meetings on the first Thursday of each month. A discussion was held on Trophy Night. The members felt it should be held earlier than usual. It was decided to hold Trophy Night on Sunday, December 10 at the Galahad School. A committee was set up for final plans for the night.

The regular meeting was held at the home of Delores Buchholz on Thursday, December 7.

Final plans were made for Trophy Night on Sunday. Dues were also discussed with the final decision being $1 per member again this year.

A discussion was held on the workshop held on December 3 in Galahad as many of the members were in attendance.

Eric Christenson was elected as Club Leader with Clarence Buchholz as assistant leader.

Cathy Gamroth led the juniors and peewee members in a study period on public speaking while the senior members planned a program for the following year. - Judy Gamroth

Strome birth noted

Congratulations are extended to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller on the arrival of their daughter, Carly Marie, born on December 14 and weighing 5 lbs. 13 oz.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Frances Allers, who is a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

Mrs. Mary Smith-Gander went by bus to Edmonton last Thursday morning for a check-up. Her son Basil and his wife brought her back home on Saturday and spent the weekend with her.

Mrs. Elsie Carruthers and her daughter visited with Ken and Iona McDougall last week and took in the Elks' Christmas party.

The C.W.L. held its annual Christmas pot luck dinner December 10 including their families.

The Elks' Christmas party was a huge success with a lovely beef supper, an evening of good entertainment and a dance followed with everybody having a good time.

George Curtis drove Santa Claus, his helper, and a group of young people carolling around town last Sunday afternoon. They finished off with a lunch at the school served by the Willing Workers.

Mrs. Georgina Erickson and her son Perry of Iron River spent a night at the Maynard Hill home with their yearly load of fish.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Somer of Calgary were recent visitors at Maynard and Ann Hill's home.

Do not forget the school's annual Christmas concert being held in the gym at 7 p.m. Thursday evening, December 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Mikkelson of Edmonton spent last weekend with his mother, Dot Mikkelson.

Christmas Love

If you had peeked in one of our windows of our home in Victoria on Christmas Eve twenty years ago, you would not have seen a lot of gifts under the tree. No, you would see no candy, oranges or the festive bowl of mixed nuts. Things were different then, but I still remember I loved the time of Christmas. We would gather around the small pot-bellied stove and Dad would take his old violin and we would sing the wonderful carols of the season. Not because we were forced to, but because there was a deep personal feeling of knowing this one about whom we sang. Yes, I did know him. He was more than just a baby with blue eyes, blond hair and the pride of his mother. He was and is the Christ. Jesus the son of God, who came to give us the gift of eternal life. It is a precious gift. A gift of Love.

Christmas Love

As I gaze out of my window, on the white fallen snow
My mind can't help but wonder . . .
Back
Many years ago.

I think of God the Father, who looked down from above
And saw the need of fallen man.
And so He gave . . .
Love

He gave his best, his very all
He had a Son,
Gave him a call to redeem the state of sinful man.

And here . . .
I am
Made rich in His Glory, redeemed by His Grace
I have now come . . .
Face to face
With CHRIST.

Lingering in the stillness, still looking out
I think of things that I could do
To repay the debt that I owe you.
But Lord . . .
You gave your very best
I cannot help but do the same.
I have no wealth
No fame
I give MYSELF
Again . . . to you . . . in Jesus' Name.

by Maria Fisher

Love, yes it is a personal thing and that is the best gift we can ever give. Not to receive: but to give: that is the essence of Love. So at this Christmas time, amidst all the fun and food, let's set aside the only lasting gift and give it to someone who needs it. Let us love one another even as Christ and the Father loved us and came on Christmas Eve to give life and life eternal.

May your Christmas be filled with love and gratefulness and your New Year see a greater enjoyment of Christ and His Love.

by Lorne Fisher

Hallelujah

May the peace and promise of the Blessed Birth fill your heart with Joy! To all... our thanks.

Hinz of Oneway; his wife's grandmother, Mrs. Lillie Harrison of Edmonton; and several nieces.

A prayer service was held on Saturday at 7:30 p.m. at the Foster and McGarvey Funeral Chapel. Reverend Rose officiated.

Prayer service was held on Sunday at 8 p.m. at St. Martin's Church, Heisler, where Mass of Christian Burial was celebrated on Monday at 11 a.m. Reverend A. Hickey was the Celebrant.

Interment followed at the Heisler Roman Catholic Cemetery. Pallbearers were Dennis Vos, Clifford Flasha, Don Campbell, Johnny Fankhanel, Allen Boarer and John Fairfield.

The Parish Christmas party was held on December 10 starting with a supper at 7 p.m. The evening was enjoyed playing Court Whist. Prizes went to Angie Hihn, Rosella Badry, Louise Blaeser and Florance Sommer.

Betty and Holly Walker took out their staff for a Christmas supper at the Norseman Inn in Camrose.

The Elks held their Christmas party on Friday evening starting with a ham supper at 7 p.m. It was nice to have the men cook the supper for this event. The rest of the evening was enjoyed with a social and dancing.

The boys' basketball team players of Heisler Junior High are: Duane Wolbeck, Donald Fankhanel, Jimmy Fankhanel, Shawn Badry, Dwayne Hihn, James Maris, Tom Lassu, Keith Bendfeld, Trent Sullivan, George Roth, Neil Maris, Arnie Rominuk and Brent Kuntz. The girls' team players are: Noreen Badry, Karen Heisler, Noreen Volk, Laura Smith, Lena Longdon, Roxanne Seifferman, Lyn Schulte, Joanne Loesch, Brenda Wolbeck, Kelly Smith, Carol Wolbeck and Cheryl Zimmer. Cheerleaders are: Nancy Weiler, Karen Zimmer, Roxanne Zimmer, Michelle Kroetsch, Donna Froehler, Rhonda Kruchten and Vicky Sommer.

Visitors with Lawrence and Thelma Strauss over the weekend were Sister Christine of Ft. St. John, B.C., and Roger and Marcella and Sister St. Charles, all of Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Roth's baby is a patient in the University Hospital in Edmonton, where she is undergoing tests.

Eddie Volk is a patient in the Daysland Hospital after an unfortunate accident pinning him between a loader and the barn. Report is he is doing fine.

We'd like to say thank you for your graciousness in all our dealings and for the opportunity to be of service.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Selzer of Marvin are spending a few days with Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan.

KILLAM REBEKAH LODGE

The Silver Link Rebekah Lodge met in the Killam Legion Hall.

The business of the meeting was dealt with and various reports given. The members decided to accept the invitation to the Killam Oddfellows card party on Tuesday evening, December 12.

Three new members, Margaret Manning, and Neil and Doris Charlton, were initiated.

The meeting closed with prayer and a Christmas party and exchange of gifts was enjoyed by the members.

Killam Senior Citizens attend concert

The Killam Senior Citizens organized a very successful trip to Edmonton Saturday, December 9, to see The Singing Christmas Tree at the Central Tabernacle.

The bus driver, Ross Danielson, had his problems picking up 36 passengers at different places but succeeded, although he himself just made it to the entrance doors as they began to lock them when they were getting overcrowded.

Everyone reported they were very glad they went, although they arrived home late and tired.

The monthly meeting was held December 4 with a good attendance. After the president welcomed all present, routine business was followed by correspondence and reports given. So far, five salvage paper vans have been shipped, making a total of 20 tons of paper.

The treasurer reported the power and gas bills paid. Visits to the sick and shut-ins were totalled and happy birthday sung for five members.

The entertainment will buy treats of oranges and cookies for hospital patients when they will put on a Christmas program for patients.

So as to have two card parties a month, it was decided whist be played every first Wednesday in the afternoon at 2 p.m. and "500" be played on the last Thursday.

The nominating committee presented the following slate of officers for 1979: President - Emma George, 1st Vice-President - Karen Engbel, Secretary - Marguerite Gibb, and Treasurer - Laura Cotton. This slate was unanimously accepted.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Lockey, who has been treasurer for the past 2½ years.

Next meeting will be held January 11 at 2 p.m. when annual reports will be given.

Lunch of doughnuts and coffee and tea provided by Mabel Pierson and Florence Quinton was enjoyed. A few stayed to play cards and pool.

Galahad and District News

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Wiseman in the loss of their son.

Clifford C. Guard, 60, of the Oregon Way Hotel, Longview, died November 12 at home. He was born November 12, 1918 in Elnora, Alberta and had worked as a security guard for King Security Co. He was a graduate of R.A. Long High School, a veteran of World War II, a member of Kalama American Legion, the Fishing Club of America, and was an umpire for the Little League Baseball Association.

Survivors include his mother, Edna Wiseman of Longview; a brother, Orville of Kelso; a sister, Viola Bradburn of Longview; an uncle and aunt, George and Cleta Vivian of Kalama; one nephew, Capt. Gary Driscoll of the Air Force in Idaho; one niece, Dianna Russell of Denver, Colorado; and a stepfather, Charles Wiseman of Longview.

Memorial services were in November at the Longview Memorial Park Mausoleum with Rev. John Steppert officiating. Private interment followed. The family suggested memorials be made to the Heart Fund or the Diabetes Association.

This clipping was received by Ruddy Reesner from the Wiseman. They wished to send seasons greetings to all their friends in Alberta.

Mrs. Rose Borgel had as guests last weekend, Mr. and Mrs. Kretz of Pierceland, Saskatchewan. Mrs. Kretz is Mrs. Borgel's niece and their home is in the Cold Lake area

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Willis were visitors at the Farnquist home in Camrose on Monday.

We noticed a few friends and neighbours on the Camrose streets: Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Blumhagen, Irene and Gordon Stewart, Dale and Marlene Smith, and Maggie Felzien.

While visiting at the hospital on Monday evening, we were happy to meet Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Fossen and children of Edmonton and Marius Fossen of Forestburg. They were visiting Ida Fossen, a patient in the hospital.

Get well wishes go to Aunty Martha Bodry, a patient in the Edmonton University Hospital.

Sincere sympathy to the Art Finnis and Gene Whitstaude in the death of Opal's sister at Caster and Anna's aunt at Vancouver, B.C.

The Senior Citizens held a pot luck supper in the centre on Thursday evening. Eighteen persons were present. After a bountiful meal, the evening was spent playing cards and other games.

Since there was no urgent business, that part of the meeting was dispensed with until the January meeting.

Our president, Anne Wise, and treasurer, Bill Wise, are patients in the local hospital. We wish both a speedy recovery. Also included in the get well message are Michael Meckler, Martha and Katie Gamroth.

We are pleased to report that some of the lost pages to the history book are starting to arrive in Galahad.

One came from far-distant California from the writer, Hazel Coppock (nee Nulph), who was born in a sod house on the Nulph homestead on March 16, 1909 in what was at that time the Loveland area.

One of Galahad's early store keepers, Dan Seramstad, in whose store the first telephone exchange was located, has added his Galahad story from his home in Edmonton.

Mrs. Chris Meyers, resident of the Painted Hearth district and now living in Richmond, B.C., has sent her contribution with numerous pictures. Others have responded also. We are delighted with the interest shown.

The St. Donatus C.W.L. held its Christmas party on Wednesday, December 13 at the home of Mrs. Proxy Gamroth. Card games provided entertainment

Concert features Rollands

Travelling the miles to spend Christmas with family this year are four people who, as soon as they arrive, will be put to work for a special Christmas concert in Sedgewick.

Rev. and Mrs. Bill Rolland and family are coming from Minneapolis, Minnesota to spend the holiday season with parents, Rev. and Mrs. Stewart Abel. Rev. Rolland is the associate pastor of a 350-member church in that American city while also earning his Doctorate of Ministry degree. He, wife Lois and their children Heather and Lisa, moved from Scotland to Minneapolis on a two-year leave-of-absence in order for Rev. Rolland to further his studies. Lois, the Abels' daughter, teaches voice lessons while also going to school. She's working toward her Masters in Music Education.

Lois' voice will be featured in the Rollands' Christmas concert on Thursday, December 21, at the Church of the Nazarene in Sedgewick. The program also includes the involvement of Mr. and Mrs. Alan Gibson and is to begin at 7:30 p.m.

Christmas Message

This Christmas season is a wonderful time of the year of caroling, singing, joyful faces, harmony and love between neighbours, feasts, and celebrations of all kinds -- all done to celebrate the birth of peace and joy in Christ, to celebrate the birth of our salvation, to celebrate that wonderful gift of grace.

God has indeed chosen a wonderful way of telling us that he loves us, coming as the Christ to restore peace and harmony to a broken world, coming to suffer and die upon a cross for the sake of the world.

By this gracious act upon the cross, he has cancelled our guilt, our sin, bringing us to a life of forgiveness, and the accusing conscience is set free. He brings us to live a life in which he intended under his guiding grace.

A great light indeed has come to the world.

With great joy and rejoicing we must celebrate this wonderful season -- the birth of grace, for God has indeed spoken to us in a living way.

May all of you find peace and joy in the Christmas message of salvation.

You are invited to attend our traditional Anglican Candlelite Service of Nativity at 11:30 p.m.
December 24

Anglican Church, Sedgewick
Service of Holy Communion
Featuring special music provided by the Anderson family and Mr. Frank Rott.
Everyone is very welcome.

Sedgewick M. Hockey

The Sedgewick midgets are having a relatively good season in the SM league. To date, they have played five league games for a record of three wins and two ties. The first game saw Wainwright visit Sedgewick with the teams playing to a 5-5 tie. Sedgewick then came up with three wins, beating Irma 11-9, Killam 4-2 and Amisk 11-7.

On Friday, December 15, unbeaten Viking visited Sedgewick and this proved to be a very good and entertaining game. In the first period, Sedgewick came out skating and scored two quick goals. Viking came back and led 4-3. In the second period, Viking scored two more and were ahead 6-3. In the third period, Sedgewick came from behind to get three unanswered goals and earn a tie.

Scoring for Sedgewick were K. McConnell for two and D. Granger, B. Ross, G. Trotter and H. Ness with one each. Assits were by K. McConnell with three; D. Granger, also with three; Dwight Geier for two; H. Ness, one; and J. Scharrman with one.

Viking goal getters were Ron Sutter, two; Richard Sutter, two; A. Evans, one; and R. Thengs, one. Amists went to Richard Sutter, two; W. Selzer, two; A. Evans, two; R. Thengs, two; and B. Graham with one.

There were 14 minor penalties handed out with Sedgewick receiving three and Viking eleven.

To our many friends, Margaret and I say thank you for your support and friendship throughout this past year. There is no time more appropriate than this to tell you how very much your kindness and friendship have been appreciated.

Christmas is a time for family and friends and a time to enjoy the many blessings that surround us. May your Christmas be bright, warm with love and friendship, festive with the traditional joys of the season, and, may you as well have a Happy New Year.

Group seeks better deal for farmers

The East Central Land Holders' Protective Association continues to show growth and vitality in its program, as was brought out by reports in its annual meeting held December 4 in the basement of the Bethania Lutheran Church, Sedgewick. With a renewal of activity in petroleum exploration in this area, the association continues to deal with an ever-increasing number of requests by farmers and landowners for advice and help.

In the annual report by Past-President Rolf Jacobsen, mention was made of the brief presented to the Hon. Marvin Moore in which the association's grievances with the Surface Rights Act were aired. The result of this brief was a meeting with Mr. Chris Nielson, chairman of the Surface Rights Board. A report of this meeting has been called for in expectation of some changes in the act that were mentioned in the brief. Further action on the case presented in the brief hinges on the contents of Mr. Neilson's report.

The election of officers saw Eber Waite become president and Frank Rott installed as secretary-treasurer. Board members elected to a three-year term were Rolf Jacobsen, John Baker and Don Davidson. Important topics of study with regard to right-of-way compensation were mentioned from the floor, and it is expected that these will be followed up at the next meeting. A motion was passed to revise the membership dues to a biennial levy of $10. This means that all members of the association who joined in 1977 will receive notices of association dues to cover 1979 and 1980. This can be paid at any time to Secretary-Treasurer Frank Rott.

The association will continue to offer its service of advice, support and an on-going program to anyone who asks for it, but would appreciate support through membership. Landowners are reminded that the secret of ensuring protection of their rights and means of livelihood is more or less than co-operation and participation.

Galahad holds hospital party

The Galahad General Hospital Christmas party was held on December 15 in the Galahad Lions Hall. The evening got underway with a delicious turkey supper catered to by the York Cafe and served by the Presbyterian W.A.

After supper, staff members, husbands, wives and guests gathered upstairs in the hall and had a singsong of Christmas carols followed by an exchange of gifts. Mr. West introduced his wife Joan and also the board members and their wives.

The evening was completed with a dine and dance which everyone seemed to enjoy.

Strome Senior Citizens hold early party

The Strome Senior Citizens Club held its Christmas Party on Thursday, December 14 at 6 o'clock. Fifty-five members and guests sat down to a delicious turkey supper with one of our oldest members, Mrs. Schoolar, saying Grace.

After the supper, we had a short business meeting to elect our officers for the coming year. Honey Curtis was elected by acclamation to be the president, George Curtis is 1st vice-president, Connie Hahn is secretary and Katie May is treasurer. Susie Auburn retained her position as press reporter.

A motion was made that we hold our business meeting on the afternoon of the second Thursday of each month and hold our pot luck supper on the fourth Thursday.

We decided to hold an open card party on the first and third Thursday of the month in the evening. The first one will be January 4.

A vote of thanks was given to Past President Det Johnson for her helpful duties for two years.

Happy birthday was sang for the members who had birthdays during December.

Following the meeting, we played a few games of bingo with Jim Cram doing the calling. Also, with Mildred Gordon at the piano, we sang carols.

The evening was brought to a close with all eating the leftovers from supper. Thanks to all for making it a successful evening.

Dayland District News

The Dayland Sunbeam Club met December 12 in the Community Hall meeting room where bingo was enjoyed by all. The blackout went to Mr. Matthiessen. After bingo was over, a singsong of Christmas carols were sung while the tables were being set for our Christmas supper that was enjoyed by 55 members. When supper was over, Miss Sheila Purves passed around two boxes of chocolates compliments of the Recreation Board. She also passed slips of paper around with only seven numbered. Each one with a number got to pick out one of the table decorations made by Mr. Lloyd Sather. Our next card game will be January 3 at 1:30 p.m.

The Dayland United Church Sunday School wishes to thank everyone who contributed in any way to the success of the Bake Sale. The winner of the door prize was Shauna Waldorf.

Several of the Friendship Club went up to the hospital to sing Christmas carols to the patients on Friday afternoon, December 15.

Born to Mr. and Mrs. Mervin Lansing of Dayzland, a girl, on December 13. To Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Mickis of Dayzland, a boy was born December 18, and to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Miller of Strome, a girl on December 14. All were born in the Dayzland Hospital.

Sorry to hear that Mrs. Eleanor Davidson had to go into the hospital Friday morning. Get well soon, Eleanor.

The Hospital Auxiliary meeting and Christmas party was held in the United Church Social room December 14. President Ellen Pederson opened the short meeting with a welcome to all the visitors and the Auxiliary Prayer was repeated. The roll call was read and also the secretary's minutes were read by Eleanor Davidson and treasurer's report given by Emily Hill. Both were approved. The meeting adjourned.

The Christmas party began with Orlean Mickis presenting a goog show with four ladies keeping score. Orlean then called on different ones to entertain in some way. Sister Rendela of Camrose won first prize with a solo and Ina Wendt won second for a story of her best Christmas gift of a doll and cradle when she was five years old in Germany. Each one present went forward and chose a gift, but they were passed from person to person until the music stopped. Then, we all opened what we had.

A very delicious lunch was served by Mrs. Kay Reist, Betty Stanners, Vera Gaudet and Lil Kluiz. Nuts and chocolates were passed around the tables also and a good time was enjoyed by all.

Killam kindergarten active

With the new-fallen snow out doors, the Killam Kindergarten children experimented with "snow"-soap painting indoors. They also have been introduced to the carpentry centre, which has been quite creative and entertaining.

In kindergarten, Christmas was just around the corner as we closed with a party December 18. So, Christmas handicrafts were done early. Making fat gingerbread men and decorating gingerbread cookies, making felt and paper tree ornaments, wreaths and gifts for mom kept little hands busy. For our program, Luke 2:7-14 "The Christmas Story" was memorized along with various songs.

It should be mentioned, the children did cake their teacher, Mrs. D. Pringe, during her illness but Mrs. Pauline Boyarchuk and Mrs. Carol Stang did a wonderful job of substituting.

Killam hosted a kindergarten workshop on December 7. Thank you to the parents for providing such a lovely meal.

Then, on December 8, the kindergarten went to Sedgewick to see the performance of Citadel on Wheels/Wings.

The Auxiliary Hospital was given its final visit of the year, where children presented a pageant of the first Christmas, gave out small gifts and wished everyone a merry Christmas.

In the New Year of 1979, kindergarten begins January 3 at 9 a.m. children will attend two full days per week - Wednesday and Friday.

From the kindergarten and staff, we wish you a very merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Consumer Column:

Humidity can damage

Excessive moisture in the air is a problem that bedevils many Canadian homes during the cold season when we have our houses buttoned up tight against the weather.

When the air in a house is too wet, it can cause problems. Moisture condensing on windows, in addition to being a nuisance because it reduces visibility, can decay window frames. On interior wall surfaces, condensed moisture can foster mold growths.

Excessive internal humidity combined with construction defects can cause much more serious problems. There are unfortunate examples of houses in Canada where poor installation of vapour barriers has resulted in the excessive humidity of the houses leaking into the attic to decay the roof framing. Entire roofs have had to be ripped away and replaced on houses only four years old.

What can we do about excessive humidity?

First, we have to realize that we cannot maintain high humidity levels in our houses in the winter. In cold weather, the relative humidity of a house should not exceed 40 per cent. The first step in humidity control is to stop the indiscriminate use of humidifiers. The public has been oversold on the idea that a high indoor humidity level makes you feel warmer and means thermostats can be set lower. Turn down or shut off completely your home humidifier. We can also ventilate our homes.

Ventilation is accomplished naturally in houses heated by fossil-fired furnaces. The air consumed by these furnaces in burning the fuel is replaced by drier outside air, thereby helping to keep humidity levels down. But with electrically-heated houses, it's a different story. Here, condensation problems tend to be more severe because the operation of the heating system does not automatically change the air.

Owners of electrically-heated houses can install exhaust fans or open windows a bit to let the humid air escape. In fact, the Central Mortgage and Housing Corporation (CMHC) insists that exhaust fans be installed in all electrically-heated houses built under the National Housing Act.

But experience has shown that, even when electrically-heated houses are equipped with ventilation fans, people are reluctant to use them because they are aware that the fans are blowing away expensive heat.

The best solution to this problem would seem to be some device that would blow out excessively humid air, yet recover the heat from the air before it escapes outdoors. If the heat loss associated with ventilation could be reduced significantly, people in electronically-heated homes would be more inclined to control humidity levels through ventilation.

Experimental work by different agencies in Canada indicates that up to about 80 per cent of the heat in exhaust air can be recovered by a mechanical system that would either be humidistat-controlled or be set to run continuously at a given air change rate. The heat recovered from outgoing air would be used to pre-heat incoming cold air.

A prerequisite for such a system would be a tightly-built house where the normal accidental air change which occurs due to air leakage could be replaced by controlled air change through the mechanical system.

Because condensation in electrically-heated homes is such a serious problem, researchers are now working toward the development of a heat recovery exhaust system. If some practical and economical equipment is designed, it may become mandatory that houses have a controlled ventilation system with a heat recovery device -- something to remember.

The Killam Brownies had an enrollment service for two new members, Sheila McCleary and Mary Ann Mitchell, to officially welcome the new members into the pack. Also in attendance was Sonja Frank, the district commissioner, and Olive Grant, who presented the new Brownies with their scarves on behalf of the Royal Purple.

They were led to the Magic Pool by Tawny Owl, Ellen Tiflen. From there, they were escorted to Brown Owl, Alberta McCleary, where they had to repeat the Brownie Law and Promise. Brown Owl then put on their scarves and pins. Next the Brownies welcomed the new members into the pack with the Grand Howl.

Missing from the ceremony were Jodi Gillespie and Sheila Toporowski, who were also becoming new members but were unable to attend due to being home with the mumps. These girls will be enrolled January 8, 1979.

The Busy Bee pack was invited to attend, and following the Brownie enrollment, the Busy Bees had a ceremony to enroll their new members into Busy Bees.

Mothers were in attendance, pictures were taken and lunch was served to end a very enjoyable afternoon.

Tax Planning Part IV

by Glen Werner and Dave Plett, DA

C.C.A.

The new combine you purchased this month might well be the poorest bit of tax planning you ever did, unless you first did some calculating. Capital Cost Allowance (CCA), or depreciation as most farmers know it, is an allowable expense against income, which is to represent the cost of owning and replacing machinery. Most often, machinery and buildings appear in various classes and with certain maximum rates.

CCA can greatly reduce the net farm income resulting in lower tax. As a result, some farmers purchase machinery in order to create a larger undepreciated book value. If the machines or buildings are purchased mainly to reduce tax, the added costs often are greater than the tax saved - a rule of thumb - you should not purchase a new machine for tax purposes unless you actually have NEED for such a machine in your farming.

On the other hand, if you do need a new combine, purchasing now may very well save tax dollars in two ways -- increased expense through CCA and a federal tax deduction under the investment tax credit.

Investment Tax Credit

The Federal Income Tax system provides for an investment tax credit on qualified purchases of NEW buildings, machinery and equipment. Most agricultural buildings and machinery qualify except cars and trucks. This investment tax credit results in a reduction of federal tax payable - you have to be paying tax to take the reduction from. However, these credits can be carried forward to next year if you cannot use them now.

Effective November 16, 1978, the investment tax credit rate for our area has been raised from five to seven per cent. The July 1, 1980 termination date has been eliminated and the program has been extended indefinitely.

Averaging

The general yearly average is an automatic thing which the computer will do if your taxable income this year is more than 110 per cent of last year's and 120 per cent more than the past four years. You don't have to do anything for this one.

The five-year block average is one which you decide to do. You cannot do it more often than every fifth year, however, you may wait more than five years to do one. Occasionally, it is to your advantage to wait a year or so and bring in a high income year.

Forward Averaging

A third form of averaging which can be used is forward averaging. The provisions of this averaging system allows individuals to spread certain types of income receipts over a number of years in the future. The purchase of an income averaging annuity contract is used to do this. Occasionally, an agreement for sale can accomplish the same purpose. Only certain types of incomes qualify for the purchase of an annuity. The most common affecting farmers are: taxable capital gains, recapture capital cost allowance on disposals, sale of inventory upon ceasing a disposing of business and refund of premiums under a registered retirement savings plan.

Space does not permit discussing the conditions which need to be met to establish the forward averaging annuity. However, the benefits can be sizable and it's worth checking out with your accountant if a sizeable sale was made.

In the past four weeks, I've attempted to cover some basic tax planning tips which you may wish to use to reduce your income tax. If you would like further detail, feel free to discuss these with me or your accountant. I also have available a booklet "Income Tax Reform and Farm Management Strategies" which you may pick up at our office.

Notes from Agriculture Canada

Today's Farmer

Farming practices in Alberta have changed significantly over the last quarter century according to Statistics Canada census figures.

In 1976 the farm population in the province numbered 190,000 or about 10 per cent of Albertans. In 1951 the farm populations was about 345,000 or almost 37 per cent.

As the number of people living on farms has declined, the size of farms has increased. From 1951 to 1976 the average number of acres occupied per farm rose from 327 to 317.

While census year figures are not entirely comparable due to the change in definition of a census farm, they do show a substantial drop in the number of smaller holdings.

Larger farm size has been accompanied by a sharp rise in mechanization. Over the past quarter century, the number of tractors per Alberta farm has doubled. In 1976 each farm had an average of two tractors.

Today's farmer also has much more capital tied up in machinery and equipment. The average farm in the province has almost $37,000 worth of equipment. The average total capital value of Alberta farms in 1976 was about $340,000.

Today's average farmer also has more formal education than his father.

In 1961, just over one per cent of Alberta farm operators had attended university, while a further seven per cent had completed high school. Ten years later, almost four per cent of farm operators had attended university while another 13 per cent attended at least grade 12.

There has also been a significant increase in the number of farmers with vocational training. More and more farmers are enrolling in courses such as mechanics and accounting that offer a direct benefit to farm operations.

Battle Bend News

The regular card party held at the Battle Bend School Saturday, December 2, saw six tables in play. Prizes were won by: Mrs. Helen Sutherland and Will Johnson - Firsts, Mrs. Mary Albrecht and Dave Livingston - Sweeps, Mrs. Ruth Brynlund and Darrell Matthews - Mystery, Mrs. Mary Wold and Arnold Mariow - Low, Mrs. Ruth Brynlund and Darrell Matthews - Travelling.

The next card party will be Saturday, December 30.

Mrs. Daisy Jensen accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Joe Cameron to Edmonton last Tuesday. They visited Daryl Livingston and are glad to report he is still making progress.

Mr. Eddie Sakaluk from Jasper is visiting his brother Doug and family.

Mrs. Daisy Jensen and Mrs. Ruth Brynlund were supper guests with the Doug Sakaluk family last Wednesday.

On December 16, the regular card party was held at the Battle Bend School with three tables and one man. Prizes were won by: Mrs. Florence Van Koughnett and Dave Livingston - First, Mrs. Chinnery and Leonard Wold - Sweep, Mrs. Daisy Jensen and Walter Chinnery - Mystery, Mrs. Vera Morris and Floyd Wadstein - Low, Mrs. Mary Wold and Darrell Matthews - Travelling.

Have a merry Christmas everyone!

Hobby Club's last meeting of year held

On the evening of November 15, the Amalgamated Hobbyists of Flagstaff met in the Sedgewick United Church Hall with 30 people in attendance. Vice-President Mrs. H. Simpson chaired the business meeting.

It was decided to cancel the meeting for December because this is the night scheduled for the performance of the annual Christmas Cantata by the local choral group under the leadership of Mrs. Kae Routledge.

Mr. Paul Vanderwoude introduced the guest speakers, Mr. and Mrs. A. Cole, from Brownfield. The Coles had a fascinating display of native crafts and articles from New Zealand, Samoa and the Fiji Islands. Mrs. Cole showed the slides of their trip and Mr. Cole narrated. The program was much enjoyed by all and we are looking forward to a return engagement. Lunch and social hour completed the [illegible].

HOLY MEANING OF CHRISTMAS

The English word for Christmas comes from Cristes Maesse, which means "the Mass of Christ." Most nations derive their term for Christmas from the lengthy Latin name Festum Nativitatis Domini Nostri Jesu Christi (The Feast of the Nativity of Our Lord Jesus Christ) or the shorter form Dies Natalis Domini (The Birthday of Our Lord). In Spain Christmas is called La Navidad, in Portugal, Natal, and in Italy, Il Natale. Christmas is called Rizhdestvo Khristo in Russia, and the German word for Christmas, Weinachten stands for Holy Night or Blessed Night, referring to the Nativity only by implication.

TO ALL RESIDENTS IN THE VILLAGE OF LOUGHEED

All persons who own or harbour dogs within the limits of the Village of Lougheed are hereby notified that:

1. Dog licenses are due on January 1st of each year. A person who becomes the owner of a dog during the year shall purchase a license within one month from the time he/she becomes the owner.

2. "OWNER" means the person who has legal title to a dog, and includes also any person who has possession or custody of a dog, or harbours a dog, or suffers or permits a dog to remain on his/her premises.

3. License Fees are as follows: Male dog or spayed female dog - $5.00 per year. Unspayed female dog - $50.00 per year. The above fees are doubled for a second dog in any one household.

4. The owner or harbourer of more than two dogs shall make application to the Council of the Village of Lougheed for a Kennel License.

5. Purchase of a license does not permit the running at large of the licensed dog.

6. Creer Kennels of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, and their employees, have been appointed as Animal Control Officers to enforce Dog Control By-Law No. 406, pertaining to licensing, restraining, impounding and destroying of dogs.

7. Any person may, at any time during office hours, inspect Dog Control By-Law No. 406, and the Agreement between the Village of Lougheed and Creer Kennels, at the office of the Secretary Treasurer of the Village of Lougheed.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, MP

GOOD TO BE CANADIAN

I have just returned from a fact-finding tour of our Peacekeeping Forces in Israel, Egypt, Syria, Jordan and Cyprus. The mission had an immense impact on me and made me feel both fortunate and proud to be a Canadian. Our great nation is a striking contrast to the cultural and economic diversity of these interesting and ancient lands.

It is difficult for Canadians to fully appreciate the haphazard lifestyle of people from an antique culture who have suddenly been thrust into the middle of the 20th-century technology. All members of the committee were awestruck in Cairo and Ismailia to observe that cars were driven at a high speed in the dark of night without any aid of headlights. The reason – a battery costs $240 U.S. and the predominant belief is that driving with your lights on is extravagant and an unnecessary expense.

In Damascus, a different, but equally indelible impression was made. The landing strips at the airport were observed to have an unusual characteristic. From the air, we saw that the space between the runways was a mosaic of many colours. The area was not sand, grass, or pavement, just a mysterious conglomeration of texture and colours. When our plane landed, we were appalled to find that this conglomerate landscape was in fact a huge garbage dump. As each plane lands they simply dispose of food trays, paper cups, bags and boxes in the simplest way possible – the refuse is just thrown out the door of the plane. Over the years, the garbage has amassed to a depth of several feet. When the plane taxis on the runway to and from the tarmac, the blast from the jets floats the garbage away from the airstrip like tumbleweed in a prairie wind.

In future articles I will write more about the impacting, educational experience of two weeks in the Middle East. In this first article of this series, I want to inform all readers that Canada can be very, very proud of the quality of soldiers we have in our Peacekeeping Forces. They are educated, articulate, ambitious people with a keen sense of responsibility and reason. Their quality has earned them an admirable level of respect.

The tensions between the Israelis and Syrians on the Golan Heights and between the Turks and the Greeks in Cyprus is such that the threat of a major conflict is always present. Apart from the highways, land mines are everywhere.

Throughout Syria, the landscape is peppered with domed concrete bunkers from which guns project, awaiting the moment of need. In Cyprus, the lines of separation between the Greeks and the Turks through the City of Nicosia is often as narrow as a one-lane street. On one side of the street are Turkish soldiers and on the other side are the Greeks, both armed with automatic rifles. In the middle is the Canadian contingent to the U.N. Peacekeeping Force with valour and wisdom maintaining a sense of peace that simply would not exist without their day-to-day, moment-by-moment commitment to diplomacy and justice.

In Cyprus, the lines of separation are so close that rock throwing can become an international incident. Yet, with a shortage of manpower, finances and equipment, our soldiers have earned the respect of the world, including the enemies which they keep at bay.

These hard-working men and women display an unusual level of energy. Eight-hour days are neither known nor desired. When their shift of military duty is completed, most soldiers volunteer many hours to "self-help" projects. They paint their mortar-riddled buildings that reflect the scene of recent wars. They construct sitting lounges, recreation courts, improve housing, plant grass and shrubbery and a host of other activities.

Because of their determination to make their battle-torn buildings a home away from home, most other battalions from other nations that serve in the Peacekeeping Force have the false impression that Canada is favoured with finances and aid. We are favoured, but only by the industry and ingenuity of our personnel.

They work hard, they are diplomats and they are a credit to Canada. All assignments are of a six-month duration. That is a long time to be in a strange land removed from your friends and loved ones. There are many persons serving on our behalf from east-central Alberta. If you know someone - anyone - serving abroad, take the time to write them a letter, especially at Christmas.

I watched with heartfelt emotion as the soldiers packed the mail room on that too infrequent occasion, "mail day." I saw the joy of those with letters from home and sadly I saw the dejection of those who were left unremembered on mail day.

A word from Canada is always appreciated . . . in the name of peace and service, where we can, let's keep in touch.

Ski Cross Country

Cross country skiing - one of the fastest-growing sports in Canada. Some even say it is a sport that provides the best all 'round exercise. But most people have taken up the poles because it is one of the most enjoyable winter activities to come along since building snowmen. Easily learned, cross country skiing is merely an extension of basic walking and running movements, only on snow with poles and skis.

As with any other sport, however, cross country skiing must be undertaken with proper equipment in good working condition, and with some personal conditioning as well.

The Canadian Association of Nordic Ski Instructors, formed in 1975 to teach the proper method of cross-country skiing, offers these tips for pre-season conditioning.

Develop your own program or join with friends two to three times a week in sessions of 20 minutes. Include a mixture of walking and jogging and warm-up and warm-down exercises such as leg stretching and arm and trunk rotations. Gradually increase length, distance and energy used. Avoid hard sprinting and running. Be sure to wear good running shoes, sufficiently cushioned to lessen the pounding of jogging. And even better yet, avoid running on cement, asphalt, or similarly-hard surfaces.

Once you've spent a week or two getting limbered up, try using a pair of poles during exercise sessions. This may best be done outdoors and will develop skiing muscles, accustom you to some of the techniques used while skiing and contribute to improved balance.

Adjust your pole straps to suit a bare hand or the wearing of a thin glove. (Adjustable straps always give you control of the poles.) Handles must rest between your thumb and forefinger when thrust backwards after poling into the ground.

Ski walking, striding and bounding with poles stimulates the on-snow diagonal stride. Kick off from one foot and simultaneously push into the ground with the pole opposite the kicking foot. Then, kick off with the other foot and push with the other pole. Continue in this manner, walking briskly up very gradual hills. Brisk walking with your poles develops muscles in the arms, lower back and abdomen. Important leg muscles are also strengthened. Best results are obtained through uphill use of poles. But start on easy grades and gradually increase the slope after a couple of weeks.

The best off-season cross country conditioning activities are movements that mimic actual on-snow skiing. However, any exercise is better than none at all!

In case you don't have any poles to carry out these exercises, or any other equipment, now is the time to consider what you'll need. The choice of equipment is dependent on a variety of factors. First, terrain: Will you be using flat fields, golf courses, hilly areas, or prepared tracks? Second, frequency: Will you be skiing daily, taking part in competitions, waiting for snow to fall before ever going out, or skiing regularly once a week or once a month? Third, physical conditioning: (Yes, that again) Will you be touring over short or long distances, entering major marathons of up to 160 km, skiing an hour at a time, training daily for elite competition, ski walking, or can you kick and glide at a high tempo? And last, budget: Have you little to spend or a great deal at your disposal? Are you interested in equipment as a long-term investment or gear that need only last a season?

Decide which factors most your personal situation before entering a ski shop. As with many other sports, cross country skiing has become very fashionable and could cost you much more than what you really need to spend.

Next: Choosing Your Equipment.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarke James and children of Elnora were dinner guests at the Einar Brandingen home on Sunday.

I know there'll be lots of folks coming and going over the holiday season so please remember to let me know at 384-3576, and seasons greetings to you all.

Mrs. Rose Cheney of Vancouver, B.C. is leaving on Wednesday after spending a few days at the home of her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Bierbaken.

Doug Culbert of Edmonton was at the home of his parents, the Red Culberts, for his usual weekend visit.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cook of Kamloops, B.C. were dinner guests on Monday at the Rod MacKinnon home. Then, in the evening, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Curtis and Mr. Alec Todd of Stroome dropped in to show some slides of Scotland they had taken when on holiday there.

Elaine Stevens of Edmonton was at her parents' home for the weekend.

Mr. H. L. Beairsto drove to Edmonton Airport on Monday to pick up granddaughter Laurie Lawson of B.C., who will stay with her grandparents and other relatives in the district over the holiday season.

The community expresses its sympathy to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamieson on the death in Senior of Henry's son's wife. The funeral will be in Metiskow on Wednesday.

Quite a large number of folk from here attended the funeral of Mrs. Leola Gosnell in Camrose on Friday afternoon.

Due to such a poor turnout at the organizational meeting for cross country skiing last week, another ski meeting is planned for after the busy festive season.

A record number of whist players enjoyed the very first Card Party held at the new Senior Citizens' Drop-In Centre on Sedgewick's Main Street. The highest scores of the nine tables of players were made by Mrs. Glendora Hope and Mr. Bob Watt, who received prizes. Consolation awards went to Mrs. Verna Schuls and Mr. Nels Djos.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. John Leslie on the birth of a 7 lb. 11 oz. daugher. Erin Lynn arrived at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton on Tuesday, December 12. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. W.T. Leslie and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rose. Welcome to the grandparents' club, Lorraine and Norman!

The Disciples' Prayer

For most people, Christmas conjurs up happy memories of the past 12 months – of the blessings received and of the gift of life enjoyed. At Christmas, more than any other time of year it seems, we look back – and give thanks. And even though this festive season is one of gaiety, gifts and get-togethers, it's also the only time of year when peace is truly respected and goodwill really shown.

Each year, each of us reserves some part of the holiday festivity for thankfulness in our own personal way. For some, it's at the quiet hour Christmas Eve when the family gathers in front of the fire. For some, it's the moment of reverence before Christmas dinner when grace is given. For some, it's the special Christmas concert where the choir really does sound sweeter than angels. For some, it's watching their children on Christmas morning, sharing with them the belief that there really is a Santa Claus – and being thankful for their good health and start in life. For some, it's remembering a prayer and a pledge for the upcoming year.

We remember a prayer and a pledge which are always timely – but especially at Christmas and the start of the New Year.

THE DISCIPLES' PRAYER

I cannot say OUR if I live in a watertight spiritual compartment. I cannot say FATHER if I do not demonstrate the relationship in my daily living. I cannot say WHICH ART IN HEAVEN if I am so tied up with this earth that I am laying no treasures there.

I cannot say HALLOWED BE THY NAME if I am not holy. I cannot say THY KINGDOM COME if I am not doing all in my power to hasten its coming. I cannot say THY WILL BE DONE if I am questioning, resentful of, or disobedient to His will for me. I cannot say ON EARTH, AS IT IS IN HEAVEN if I am not prepared to devote my life to His service.

I cannot say GIVE US THIS DAY OUR DAILY BREAD if I am living on past experiences when I need fresh manna. I cannot say FORGIVE US OUR TRESPASSES, AS WE FORGIVE THOSE WHO TRESPASS AGAINST US if I harbour a grudge against anyone. I cannot say LEAD US NOT INTO TEMPTATION if I deliberately place myself in a position to be tempted. I cannot say DELIVER US FROM EVIL if I am not prepared to fight evil!

I cannot say FOR THINE IS THE KINGDOM if I don't obey the King. I cannot say AND THE POWER if I am content to live a weak life. I cannot say AND THE GLORY if I am seeking glory for myself. I cannot say FOREVER AND EVER if my horizon is bounded by all things of time. And I cannot say AMEN unless I mean it.

This year, may your memories be especially joyous and your thankfulness be blessed with continued happiness and good health in the New Year.

What Others Say

The Right Direction

If Premier Lougheed stands behind his words, we could see a change in the lottery licence act, and it would be a welcome change.

He mentioned last week that the act would be coming up for review this spring and we think that any change would be good.

We agree that there should be some controls on lotteries, but really, when you have to put up with all the hassle and red tape that a small club has to go through just to sell a quilt for 25 cents a ticket, it is getting pretty ridiculous.

The problem stems from the large urban centres where lotteries run into the hundreds of thousands of dollars and in some cases, some of the money is skimmed off the top to line the pockets of a few.

Not so in the rural areas. We would not be afraid to say that about 99 per cent of the money received from lotteries within our area goes right back into the community from which it came. And to have regulations that hamstring the clubs that are working for their communities is a bit ridiculous.

When the premier said they had come under some criticism, it makes us wonder just how much. We know the hassle some of these clubs have gone through because we print the tickets. It's just as much hassle here as it is for the clubs.

A starting point would be to eliminate all licences up to $3,000 in prise value. It would give the small community clubs a freer rein and still control the larger ones.

It's nice to see the premier responding to the public – we only hope that he cleans up some of the bureaucracy that goes with it.

The Third Column

by Truncate

THE LIGHT OF CHRISTMAS. Light has always been prominent in connection with Christmas. In our homes we put lights upon our Christmas trees or set candles around the house. Suspended over our streets and business places there are often festoons of gaily coloured lights. In our Christmas worship services many candles shine out upon the worshippers with a mystic glow and glory to remind us that Christmas is a festival of light. Why is all this light associated with Christmas? It is not merely for decorative purposes, for then we would use more light in decorating for other festivals as well. Transcending all reasons which might be given for the use of so much light in connection with our observance of Christmas, there stands the all important truth that Christmas commemorates the coming of Light into the life of man. One cannot read the Christmas text in the Gospel of John without being impressed with the prominence of the word Light, for it occurs six times within the space of a few verses.

LONG BEFORE John wrote this account of the Incarnation and linked it so profoundly with Light, we find that in the Old Testament that Isaiah had prophecied the coming of the Messiah, and he too associated this coming with the thought of Light. He said, "The people who walked in darkness have seen a great Light; those who dwelt in the land of great darkness, on them has Light shined. God made this promise to Isaiah: "I will give as a Light to the nations, that my salvation may reach to the end of the earth." To solidify the fact, Christ confirmed these insights when he made the assertion, "I am the Light of the world; he who follows me will not walk in darkness but will have the Light of life."

AND EVER SINCE Christian people have found these words to be true. Perhaps instead of reading "The Light shineth in the darkness" it would be more forceful to translate it "The Light is still shining in the darkness" for even though it is night we do not sit in darkness.

THERE IS MUCH DARKNESS in the world but Christmas comes to remind us that there is still a Light shining. Man oft finds himself baffled and defeated, tempted to doubt that existence has meaning or goal. And then Christmas comes each year with a Light that dispels the darkness. All these lights which contribute to the beauty of the scenery of Christmas are in reality symbols of him who is the true Light. The Light of God.

NOT ONLY IS THE LIGHT OF CHRISTMAS the Light of God but it is the Light of Life. Light is healing, and we think naturally of our Christmas seals and the war on tuberculosis; and there are many who have been healed of various maladies by means of other kinds of light rays – infra-red, ultra violet, X-ray, and the Lordly Light to heal us of sin.

LIGHT IS STIMULATING. We awaken from sleep when the light shines upon us. Flowers open to the sun's rays, fruit comes to ripeness under the warmth of the sun's rays. So is the life of man stimulated to the higher levels of living under the influence of the Christ of Light. Vice and crime thrive in the darkness, but virtue is stimulated by the Light.

LIGHT GIVES SECURITY. We are apt to fear for our life at night; a hunter in the wilds keeps animals at bay with a blazing campfire. If the fire dies the beasts creep in. When THE LIGHT disappears from our lives we are in danger and life becomes a precarious thing. When the Light shines forth menacing forces retreat defeated before the LIGHT. The light of Christmas is not only the Light of God, and the Light of Life, but the Light of truth. "The true light that enlightens every man was coming into the world."

WE ARE ALSO TOLD that this Light is, "Full of Grace and Truth." Truth is not always pleasant. Sometimes it is like the words of a Doctor when he has to tell a patient that he is suffering from a serious ailment. Sometimes it is like a lighthouse warning of rocks that will wreck and ruin our lives. But truth is also pleasant. Light is the medium in which things take on meaning. In the darkness there is little difference between a diamond and a piece of glass. Light is necessary to enable us to get a proper sense of value. That is what the REAL LIGHT does, and even suffering and disappointment can take on meaning.

ANOTHER TRUTH about Light is that it cannot be put out, for "darkness has not overpowered it." We think this is the kind of message we need in these times. It puts courage in our hearts, it enables us to see the rainbow while the storm is still raging. To know that amid darkness, depravity and despair of this earth, THE LIGHT OF CHRISTMAS CAN NEVER BE EXTINGUISHED. That is something to be grateful for. All the eternal realities of life, love, truth, beauty and hope are embodied in THE LIGHT and can never be annihilated by dictators, wars, pessimistic philosophies or anything else.

Do We Deserve Christmas?

Since we do not know the day of Jesus' birth, because in early times there was no great interest in the date of Christmas. The only feast celebrated was that of Easter, which commemorates the whole mystery of Christ. But is the third century, Christians began to feel a wish to celebrate Christ's birth by itself.

The fact that Jesus' birthday was unknown left Christmas free to choose the most meaningful date. Spontaneously, the time of year when the days began to lengthen was chosen. Hence from time 'immemorial,' December 25 and January 6 have been taken as the dates of Jesus' first manifestation. This meant adopting pagans feast days, but this was incidental. The basic reason is much simpler and one which appeals to human nature in general. When a new brightness appeared in nature, Christians began to celebrate the coming of the new light that will never fail. It is a spiritual light, and hence, it is no great harm that in our modern cities which are always lighted, or in the southern part of the globe, the climb of the sun, the natural symbol, no question is hardly noticeable or indeed entirely absent. Christian faith does not hold aloof from nature; it gladly associates itself with its course, but it is not a nature religion attached to the cycle of the seasons. It is based on historical facts which remain eternally relevant.

The birth of Jesus is a fact in history. All history has been dated according to it. The year one is the year of the birth of Jesus.

There is a possibility that a few years' error may have occurred. Too little attention may have been paid to the word "about" in Luke's phrase, "About 30 years of age," speaking of the age of Jesus at the beginning of his ministry (Luke 3:23), but his is not very important. Even if Jesus was born some years earlier, the dating by Anno Domini (A.D.), "the year of our Lord," retains its profound significance: that a new age began with Jesus.

In the darkest night of the year, the church recalls the birth of Jesus. Where will you be this Christmas Eve? Has that new great light appeared to you? Do you want this year to end and the new year begin with Christ? Is Christmas still a pagan feast to you? Do you really deserve to celebrate Christmas? Do I?

May the joys of the "New Light" brighten you household and the star of Bethlehem always lead you and I to the truth about ourselves and these around us.

Lougheed Rebekah's hold Christmas party

The Lougheed Rebekah Lodge met on Wednesday, December 13 with 24 members present. V.G. Verona Cookson was in the chair.

Members reported having visited in the Flagstaff Lodge, The Killam General Hospital, The Auxiliary Hospital, Daysland, Camrose, as well as the W.W. Cross Hospital in Edmonton.

Money was received from the Benevolent Fund which will be presented to the therapy section of the Killam Hospital along with an extra sum from general funds to be used toward purchasing an ultra-sound machine. The members agreed to draw up a committee which will try to encourage other groups and societies within the entire Flagstaff area to give all the help they can in purchasing this needed machine.

It was moved and seconded that the Lougheed Lodge would accept the invitation to seat the officers at Assembly in March.

It was noted that magazines and books had been delivered to local hospitals. Many cigarette packages were collected to be sent to Calgary where they will be used in purchasing a wheelchair for a person in need of it.

Sis. Jerry Johnson read "Ten Little Rebekas." Sis. Wallins read a letter from Renfrew, Ontario, thanking the lodge for a copy of Sis. Myrtle Roggensack's Penny Drill March.

The highlight of the meeting was the presentation of dish towels to Acting-For-The-Time N.G. Sis. Myrtle Roggensack, which was in reality a "blind" to have Sis. Roggensack in the honoured position to receive a framed certificate honouring her for her contribution to lodge work in writing The Penney Drill March. The certificate was from The International Association of Rebekah Assemblies of the Independent Order of Oddfellows of the World. Congratulations, Sis. Myrtle.

Five charming sisters were honoured in song for having so successfully passed another initiation.

Lodge closed in harmony. From the sublime to the ridiculous: the sisters blew up balloons and then tore around the room keeping them in the air to the strains of beautiful music. Following this, they deliberately broke each other's balloons. The last to hold a whole balloon received a candy cane. After this breath-consuming exercise, the sisters joined in singing carols before eating a delicious lunch. Santa arrived and then all the sisters went and the evening with "We Wish You a Merry Christmas" and went home.

May you enjoy every minute of a Merry Christmas and share its good times with those dear to you. Thanks all.

Christmas Impetus

Does the title make you feel that you need some impetus to keep all the Christmas machinery in running order until the season is over and you can catch your breath and relax until you realize that Easter is just around the corner?

But maybe that is what Christmas is for – to give us some impetus to accomplish what we would never do otherwise. If Christmas didn't come, how much would we never even attempt? How much of our best would never be brought out?

We get involved in so many things and get rushed and tired with the planning and work. But what if we were "sensible" and ignored the whole season? How much we'd lose!

There are the hours and hours of planning and practice that precede the Christmas programs. But there is the pleasure of association and co-operation as people give of themselves to achieve something of value and beauty that goes beyond what is merely required. We approach an artistry and quality that often escapes us from day to day. Christmas gives us a reason for it and we warm to the glow of making others happy with our performance or we are warmed by the warmth of what others do for us.

There's all the work that goes into party occasions. But what if everybody just stayed home and had a sandwich? We'd miss the chance to slip out of our own ruts for a while so our lives and the lives of those beside us can touch for a moment.

Would it be simpler to forego a tree and leaved the house unadorned? But afterwards we'd know within ourselves that without the lights and music and company we'd lost more than we'd gained.

Is preparing Christmas dinner a lot of work? Should we have soup instead and get back to work? Perhaps our bodies would be nourished as usual but our spirits would wither from starvation.

Does the list of people to whom we write Christmas cards and letters seem long? What if we all threw the lists away and lost the contacts with our friends and the valuable memories that the Christmas mail revives?

Christmas is a time to give of ourselves and go beyond ourselves as God gave of himself and went beyond himself in the event that gave us Christmas. It is a time to look up and reach out, and in so doing, to somehow be satisfied.

So we could be very practical and save money and time and energy but we'd lose the human – and divine – touch of the magic – and miracle – of Christmas.

Surrounded by the warmth and love of an old fashioned holiday we send wishes for a simply wonderful Christmas to our loyal friends.

Christmas Message

When the Christmas lights begin to twinkle in the department stores, and Santa Claus is installed inside with his bells and boxes, we know that the event is here. Those who coined that phrase many centuries ago wanted the church to concentrate during those four weeks on the very center of our faith, that which marks Christianity off from the other religious beliefs of mankind, that which indeed brought the church into being – the revelation of God in Carist. As Paul said in II Corinthians 5:19, "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself." This continues to be the distinctive belief of the Christian that the invisible God is uniquely and persuasively to be seen in the person of Jesus Christ.

The wonder and the mystery of the incarnation lies precisely in the fact that those things were so. For in the birth of Jesus in Bethlehem, and in all that the life of Jesus was afterwards to reveal, there is a message that not only is there a God, but that God comes very near. To believe that God is above is one thing. To believe that God is sufficient for us is another and still more inspiring confidence. But to believe that God is with us, God is near, the understanding and the intimate – that is best of all. The eternal God coming down into human life at a particular point in time is a stupendous thought. God, who is the source and meaning of all life, reveals himself in the little child coming unnoticed in the stable of the lowly town of Bethlehem. It is as though the Divine Creator has said it is not in some privileged place that life will attain its infinite fulfilment, but here in a lowly place, here in a lowly stable is God with us.

Simply he came, simply he lived, but he brought a message that was to turn the world upside down.

He brought a message of hope to a sick and dying world. "God was in Christ reconciling the world to himself."

And so we should cry with the words of Tiny Tim, "God bless us every one." For God has blessed us hasn't he? Isn't that what Christmas means? By sending his son into the world to lighten its darkness to lift men and women's hearts, to fill their lives with love. He really and truly has blessed us.

I take this opportunity to wish all the readers of The Community Press, a warm and joyous Christmas and may the season bring a special blessing to each one of you.

The Footprint

My sister Jack saw it first. There it was, distinct and easy to see in the grey-white ashes in the fireplace – a large footprint. We three girls gathered around and examined it carefully. It showed up clearly in the cold, clear light of that December morning. We squatted on the floor and studied this mysterious imprint.

It was a Christmas morning in England half a century ago. With my two younger sisters, I had come into our parents bedroom to join them and our brand new baby sister in the annual ritual of finding out just what Father Christmas had left in our stockings. At eight years old I was big sister, followed by six-year-old Binkie and four-year-old Jackie. We usually scrambled right on the bed lugging our bulging treasures, and, after wriggling into the bottom of the bed, began to unload our haul. But this new development had taken our minds off this.

Jackie was the first to voice her opinion. "Ronnie said there isn't a Father Christmas, it's just your dad and mum. So how could it be his footprint?"

I was pretty certain it was dad and mum but I had been keeping my opinion to myself. Always willing to admit the possibility of something I didn't understand I chimed in, "You know Ronnie is nearly always wrong. If it's not HIS footprint, whose is it?"

Ever the cynic, even at her tender age, Binkie looked at our parents. "Did you step in the ashes, Dad?"

"Now what would I do that for," replied dad. "Would I want ashes all over my boots?"

"Then it was you, wasn't it Mum?"

"Certainly not, do you think I have nothing better to do than play around in the ashes? Besides, the fire was still burning when I went to bed."

Always ready for action, Jackie got up and stomped down the stairs, followed by Binkie. In a few moments they returned carrying an assortment of boots and shoes. One by one they solemnly fitted them into that big footprint.

But not one was anywhere near the right size. Leaving the boots and shoes in a heap on the hearth they trailed downstairs again. They were gone longer this time, obviously looking for any footwear they'd overlooked. Charging upstairs, they triumphantly brought in dad's big rubber boots. Surely they'd fit. But they didn't.

Sitting back on our heels we looked at each other.

"Maybe there really is a Father Christmas," voiced Jackie.

"I didn't think there was, but I suppose there could be," mused Binkie.

As big sister, I settled it. "Of course there is. I told you so."

And with that out of the way we climbed on the bed and began to unload our stockings.

Over the years I've often wondered about that footprint. Many times I'd meant to ask my parents. They are both gone now so I guess I'll never know. Did they borrow a neighbour's boot? Did they make a cardboard cutout and press it in? Or, and I think this is the best explanation, maybe in those days there really was a Father Christmas!

Gretna Goodwill Club

The Gretna Goodwill Club held its Christmas meeting on December 11 at Pat Krostsch's home. In attendance were seven members and two visitors. The visitors were Fay Davidson and Mary Cameron.

The meeting was opened by the reading of the previous minutes. Then, the correspondence was read. There was a letter from the Salvation Army, so it was decided that we send it $10, and also a letter of thanks from the Unitarian Service Committee thanking us for a $10 donation. Two members gave their thanks for receiving get well cards when in hospital. The sick convenor reported having sent some cards to more hospitalized patients. The treasurer gave her report and all bills were paid.

Our Christmas party was discussed and all final arrangements were made.

Helen O. brought a very amusing, humourous reading to do with all kinds of car accidents. Helen also brought a mystery parcel for us to guess, pertaining to Christmas. Chrissie made the right guess. We then had our Christmas exchange of gifts. There was a great variety of novelity gifts. Everyone enjoyed themselves and their gifts so very much.

The next meeting is to be at Meiba's on January 24. Marleen will act as co-hostess. The meeting adjourned.

Meiba was the lucky winner of the hostess prize and Chrissie won the Lucky Tea Cup. The hostess, assisted by Etta and Helen O. as co-hostesses, served the most wonderful Christmas lunch. Every Christmas dainty possible was served. We all left for home at dark very very over-stuffed and very merry.

Born From Above

Once, when confronted by the Pharisees, Jesus uttered a great truth which we often overlook. He said, "Ye are from beneath, I am from above." (John 8:23) All the ambitions and ways of the Pharisees savored of earthly things and earthly wisdom, but Jesus was guided and impelled by higher, by heavenly motives. It only takes a brief reading of the life of Christ to become convinced of his constant desire to always speak the words of his heavenly father, and to do his will.

But this is not too surprising when we consider that Jesus was born from above. The angel said to Mary, who was to become his earthly mother, "The Holy Ghost shall come upon thee and the power of the Highest shall overshadow thee, therefore also that Holy thing that shall be born of thee shall be called the Son of God." (Luke 1:35)

It is not stretching the truth to say that Jesus was born from above and it is not stretching an application of this truth to say that when we are genuinely christian, we are also born from above. This was one of the great "musts" in Jesus' commands. He said "Ye must be born again." (John 3:7) "Except a man be born of water and of the Spirit he cannot enter into the kingdom of God." (John 3:5)

Often, we forget the parallel between the conception of Jesus and the "conception", can we say, by the Holy Spirit of making us "new creatures" in Christ Jesus. Those were by no means idle words the master uttered when he said, "Ye must be born of the Spirit." He knew that to effect the kind of change necessary for us to be God's children, heavenly-minded children, spiritual children, a spiritual birth was absolutely necessary.

While we are pondering the great truth of the conception of Christ in the womb of the Virgin Mary this Christmas, may we ask ourselves if the Holy Ghost has conceived Jesus in our hearts and made us new creatures in him. Yes! As Jesus was born from above, it is necessary that we be born from above. Even though we may be good men, and even as religious as Nicodemus was, the truth is the same, "Ye must be born again."

Lougheed District News

Christmas holidays will be on us by the time some of us get the paper. I wish you all a very merry Christmas and a happy and prosperous New Year. Hope all families can be together without being upset by accidents.

Word has been received that Mrs. Marion McCoy passed away in an Edmonton hospital on December 13. Marion, Alex and their family, Jean, Allan and Freda, lived in Lougheed for a number of years before moving to Edmonton. When the queen visited St. Paul, Marion McCoy was on the platform to receive the flag at the official opening of St. Paul's Heritage Homes.

The dine and dance at Bellshill on December 9 was a big success. A good time was had by all.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston recently were Mr. and Mrs. Oswald Olson of Camrose and Mrs. Karen Dowker and Michael.

On Sunday, December 10, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Niehaus and some of the family from Camrose, and also Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst and Molly Fernyhough were dinner guests at Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus and Kreshka's. It was a lovely dinner.

Mrs. Susie Drager of Camrose is down staying with her sister, Essie Drager, for a couple of weeks. She will also be visiting other relatives and friends. If you all knew Susie like I do, she has to be on the go. Why not try roller skates?

Mrs. Marjorie Harris of Edmonton is staying with her sister, Miss Muriel Collier, while Doug, their brother, is in the Kilhem Hospital. Speedy recovery to you, Doug.

Mrs. Joe Cameron is progressing favourably and may be out of the hospital very soon, in fact, before this is printed.

The ladies of the Bellshill Social Society catered to a supper held in the centre for the Petro Canada staff's annual Christmas party on December 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Clouston returned home from Lethbridge to spend their holidays with their folks.

I had the privilege to attend the kindergarten Christmas program in the Lougheed Legion Hut on Thursday evening. They had a very nice program and each one did very well. Of course, the main attraction was Santa's visit to them. The mothers served coffee and a very nice lunch afterwards. Thank you.

Congratulations to Lougheed on their beautiful main street lights. I understand they were made by the mayor and the town councillors. Also, a few others helped all they could. They are very beautiful.

We offer sympathy of the community to Ed Davidson in the loss of his sister, Alma Robinson. The funeral was Friday evening, December 15, from the Chapel of the Misericordia Hospital in Edmonton.

Goose Creek held its first whist drive of the season with 10½ tables. Prize winners were: Firsts - Mrs. Art Armstrong and Walter Chinnery, Sweeps - Mrs. Lawrence Kneeland and Mr. Lawrence Kneeland, Mystery - Mrs. Clifford Simpson and Joe Baker, Travelling - Mrs. John Adamson and Dave Livingston, Consolation - Mrs. Rod MacKinnon and Floyd Wadstien. See you at Bellshill on December 22.

Hunter White saw a robin last week sitting in a tree. He said it looked like he was well fed. I'm sure spring isn't here yet. The dear robin just got left behind.

Winners of the last Lougheed Arena Maintenance Lottery Draw were: Edwin Albrecht - $300 and Mr. and Mrs. Tommy Barton - $200. Congratulations to you folks.

Harold Haugen and his mother have returned from a very enjoyable trip down in the states. They went to Disneyland and Knott's Berry Farm and many other places of interest.

Wishing you all the blessings of a joyous holiday season. Sincere thanks may also all.

Strome couple mark 50th

On Sunday, December 10, an open house was arranged by the Strome UCW in the church hall for Jack and Peggy Wheller on the occasion of their golden wedding anniversary.

A table laid with a gold lace cloth, centered with a beautiful wedding cake and flanked by gold candles and floral arrangement made a very pretty setting for the bride and groom of 50 years to greet their guests.

The cake had been made and decorated by Hossy Curtis.

Mark Wheller, great nephew of Jack's, was in charge of the guest book which was signed by 100 guests.

A most delicious lunch was served by the ladies. Seated at the table with the Whellers were Jack's nephew Stan, his wife Mabel and longtime friends, Mrs. Nessie Seward, Mrs. Margaret Richmond and Jack and Marie Butler.

The Whellers came to Alberta from England in 1929. They farmed for a number of years, and on retirement they moved into Strome and have resided there for the past 20 years.

Among the many congratulatory messages received were from Premier Peter Lougheed, Governor General Jules Leger, Lieutenant Governor Ralph Steinhauer, Member of Parliament Gordon Stromberg and Leader of the Opposition Joe Clark.

Out-of-town guests were from Edmonton, Sherwood Park, Drayton Valley, Viking and Killam.

THE STORY OF THE CHRISTMAS STOCKING

Legend has it that a casual blunder by St. Nicholas started the custom of hanging Christmas stockings. While making his yearly rooftop visits in Holland, this kindly gent dropped his purse down a chimney. Much to the good fortune of those below, the purse fell into a stocking left on the hearth to dry. As word spread of the family's good luck, the tradition of hanging Christmas stockings became popular and widespread.

A Beautiful Day

What a beautiful day Christmas is! Perhaps no other holiday of the entire year can rival the wonder and magnificence of Christmas. Ask any child, "What is your favourite day of the year?" Chances are he will answer "Christmas" first and "my birthday" second.

And yet, for all the wonder and beauty of this wonderful holiday, we should not let ourselves be fooled into celebrating Christmas on the wrong terms. Christmas -- like any other Christian holiday -- is to be celebrated on God's terms, not on the world's terms. The unbelieving world may be ready enough to celebrate Christmas as a general festival of goodwill, a shopping spree, a party, a brief respite from the problems and conflicts of life. And yet, Christians must never forget that Christmas is to celebrate the birth of our Lord and Savior, Jesus Christ.

By all means, let's rejoice together at Christmas time and bask in the goodwill that one can literally 'feel' all around us. For this is good and acceptable to God. But let us also remember that Jesus is not a babe in a manger, but the Lord of Life. This Christmas, why not dedicate yourself anew to Christ, to love him, serve him, follow him, every day of your life.

In closing, on behalf of the Strome/Killam Pastoral Charge of the United Church of Canada, of our Official Board and Congregations, and personally, may God bless you all this Christmas, and grant you every joy in the New Year.

Pool announces new elevator concept

Calgary, Alberta, December 13, 1978 - Alberta Wheat Pool directors have announced a new concept in elevator design that is predicted to revolutionize the storing and handling of grain in Canada and other countries. For more than two years, alternate elevator designs have been studied by the farmer-owned cooperative. Through a joint venture, a pre-cast elevator design of exciting dimensions has been developed.

Early in 1978, Alberta Wheat Pool signed a joint research and development contract with Buffalo Engineering Limited of Edmonton to study the use of pre-cast concrete in elevator construction.

The unique structure is modular in design and will undoubtedly be called Buffalo Sloping Bin Elevator. Each base structure has approximately 206,000 bushel storage capacity. One feature of this incomparable elevator facility is the ability to add additional modules either at the time of construction or later.

It is capable of very high throughput rates. The rate of bin loading and discharge is limited only by the capacity of the equipment used in the elevator. Loading of grain cars can be accomplished as fast as the railway cars can receive the grain.

The efficient design of the storage bins and charging (loading) systems results in maximum space utilization.

The pre-cast structure is very adaptable. By physical arrangement of the transferring equipment, entirely unrelated commodities such as grain and bulk fertilizer can be handled as they would be in separate structures.

Utilization of space is used to the utmost. In about the size of a conventional double composite 170,000 bushel capacity elevator, this distinctive structure will house office, warehouse, and retail space as well as cleaning and drying equipment if desired, storing 206,000 bushels.

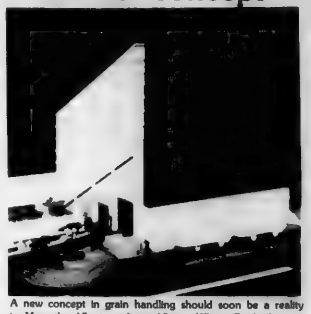
The facility is so designed that the elevator manager can carry out all of his business from one central location. This includes the weighing and receiving of grain, operating elevator controls, agro-product sales; in fact all business transactions can be carried out within a few steps of one another. Immediately outside the driveway wall, a farm or commercial vehicle may be loaded with comparative ease with a telescoping loading spout.

With the windowed wall between the driveway and the retail or warehouse area, a farmer can conduct his farm supply transactions without leaving the building. One hallmark of the new structure is the air pressure will be greater in the office and warehouse areas than in the driveway, maintaining an acceptable dust-free environment.

The structure has been designed to reduce to a minimum the danger of fires or explosion. It is built entirely of pre-cast concrete sections with galleries at each bin level covered with metal siding. An explosion in a bin would break the end bin wall free and if enough force were generated, blast it through the metal siding. The elevation legs are situated between concrete bin walls and the exterior metal siding. Should a fire or explosion occur in a leg, the damage would be restricted to that small area.

Another feature that makes the elevator design unequalled is five bins of 3,400 bushels each can be pre-weighed for direct loading into rail cars.

The Buffalo Sloping Bin design concept can be applied to structures as small as one farm storage bin on one end of the scale, to multi-million bushel port terminals on the other end of the scale.



A new concept in grain handling should soon be a reality in Magrath, Alberta, where Alberta Wheat Pool plans to construct its first Buffalo Sloping Bin elevator.

Alberta Wheat Pool will commence construction of the new grain handling facility early in 1979 at Magrath, Alberta. Commencement of additional elevators will await performance testing of the Magrath structure.

Workmen have been busy the past three weeks tearing down the former Killam Co-op store. The brick building dates back to 1906 and is being demolished brick by brick and loaded into a truck via this chute.

Province and railways equalize rates

Years of effort to make railway freight rates favour Alberta's economy instead of obstruct growth are beginning to pay off, Transport Minister Hugh Horner has reported.

Horner announced the government and Canadian Pacific and Canadian National Railways reached agreement on fairer rate-setting within the provinces after more than a year of negotiation.

As of January 1, 1979, rates will be established in geographical "groups." Uniform rates will be set for processed commodities shipped from centres within each of 21 areas.

The zones include the regions within an 80-kilometre radius of Calgary and Edmonton, and within 40-kilometre bands around 19 smaller communities. Horner said the system blanketis the province.

He predicted the rate groups will help foster equal opportunity among communities by ensuring that none obtain unfair advantages in attracting new industries due to uneven freight rates.

Horner further reported that the railways agree to negotiate reduced "developmental freight rates" with industries trying to tap new markets in Canada, the United States and abroad.

The government and Canadian Pacific are forming a "petrochemical team." It will look into ways of using the railways to help Alberta's fledgling petrochemical industry.

The province and Canadian Pacific have also agreed to press Ottawa to establish a new arbitration panel to resolve rate disputes between shippers and the railways reasonably quickly.

Horner said the government did not have to give up anything in return for the railways' co-operation. Alberta's "leverage" was a combination of its bright economic future, the railways' business sense and emerging competition from the trucking industry.

Meanwhile, the transport minister said the government is discussing possible investment in rolling stock and terminal equipment to speed up shipping and cut costs with the railways.

Horner said the government would make the investments only if the railways agreed to pass on the benefits to Alberta manufacturers, processors and other shippers by keeping freight rates down.

He described the potential government investment as under continuing negotiation. He did not present a detailed plan of additions to the rail system.

Editorially

Watching our attitude . . .

Towns, like people, have personalities. Some towns are friendly and strangers feel at home right away. Others are cliquish and it takes months and even years before you feel you are a part of the community.

We admit to being prejudiced but I have always felt that towns in our district are one of those friendly persons. A person that glowed with friendliness and full of bustle and activity.

Our towns haven't always been so busy and it is logical to expect that there is more activity in our area that will make us even busier looking. However, we are continually being looked over by prospective business and industry and a careless word by anyone in an official capacity or a position of apparent responsibility can queer the point of view of a stranger.

If we are to encourage the secondary industry and other business that will create employment we must remember to turn ourselves into one-man boosters, when discussing our favorite town.

One story we heard recently about a reverse booster was a citizen of an Alberta town who, when asked about any developments is his town, scratched his head and said: "Off hand I can't think of any. And then I don't think we need any." Then added "We're developing the cemetery." Retorted the visitor, "If all the rest of the town is like you perhaps you should go and lie in it."

This attitude of friendliness and boosters should first be extended to our immediate district. In this district there is a shopping population of over 3,000. Our good will should be shown to these persons, who will in turn pass the good word along.

Following the end of the World War merchandising was known as a sellers market, at present the trend changed to a buyers market. If we are to hold our own then we must offer service with a smile.

What Others Say

A thankful New Year

In looking back over the past year, the prevailing attitude has been one of gloom and doom. We worry over the devaluation of the dollar, complain over every hike in food prices, and the high price of clothing, but are strangely silent about the higher prices on luxury items such as liquor, cigarettes, cars and entertainment.

Letters from overseas, plus the daily news, are to me a constant reminder of how much we have to be thankful for here in Canada. In Indonesia for example the rupiah has been devaluated so much that anything costing 1000 rupiah before, now costs 1500. Food costs there are astounding. A small jar of peanut butter for instance, costs $3.00 and a 10 oz. jar of instant coffee had been $12.00! What it is now is hard to say.

The poverty level here in Canada would be considered luxury living in many countries where children beg in the streets and never have enough to eat. We have food in abundance and even after providing a well balanced diet for our families have money to spare.

Our winters are long and cold, but most of us have warm, centrally heated homes and abundant clothing. Millions have only minimal shelter from the elements and the crudest of conveniences. We have been spared earthquakes, severe droughts, floods and famines.

We have a health care program within the reach of everyone. Care is provided, that would cost those in the States an enormous sum.

New Years is the traditional time for resolutions. One we should make, is to do less complaining. A complaint properly presented in an attempt to remedy a situation is commendable, but griping just for the sake of griping is not. So, a happy and thankful New Year to all.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sirs:

Please renew my subscription to the paper for the year of 1979.

For all the Press doesn't reach me the same week it is published, due to some reason at the Postal D Station at 118 Avenue and 122 Street. I have had several disagreements with the postmaster regarding the matter of our newspapers delivered from out of town points. I also subscribe to the Lacombe Globe as I was born and brought up around Lacombe.

The postmaster up here can not give me a good reason for my not receiveing the papers on time but my old postman gave me the word - the newspapers are always held back to the last in the week which is Friday and last delivery of the week.

Thank you kindly and the family and myself really enjoy the Community Press.

Yours truly,

The Third Column

by Truncate

ANOTHER BRAND NEW YEAR has surreptitiously crept up on us and we are face to face with the 79th year of the present 20th Century. We have seen much, encountered much and learned much during the past 12 months; just how much we have absorbed and will put to use for some good purpose remains to be seen. The year just ended means that we have spent 12 months doing whatever it is we do, 52 weeks being divided between the necessary and the unnecessary, 365 days spent almost equally between work and the pursuit of whatever comes next, 8,760 hours each of which competed for our attention and time, 525,600 minutes making up the hours which dragged or sped depending on the intensity and satisfaction of what we were doing, 31,536,000 seconds, each one of which ticked off more quickly as the year advanced. Time! Time! Time! We know that it waits for no person. Tick! Tick! Tick! On she goes, allowing the same tick of time to the busy and the indolent. We should look carefully then how we walk and proceed, not as unwise but as wise, making the most of our time because the days will not last forever. Time marches on and we cannot obviate its intrusion in our lives.

OLD FATHER TIME, as we familiarly know him, has a kind of attractive and mellow name, but the picture he presents to us is quite unattractive. A thin, bony, bent-over old man with a straggly beard and the inevitable scythe slung over his shoulder; you know, that sharp instrument with the long curved blade and crooked handle, which the old boy uses to mow down the days and the years and with them much of which we value in life. This sinister old figure has been the subject of many comments by various writers over the years, such as: "I have long had a quarrel with time because he robbed me. Every day of life was wrestled from me after bitter strife." "Time you thief." "Time like an ever flowing stream, bears all our sons away." Well, I guess there is a sense in which the old boy with a scythe is a fearful figure.

BUT THERE ARE OTHERS who take a more kindly view of time. Almost every country seems to have some proverb about it. "Time is the comforter and Healer when the heart has bled." "Time cures more than the Doctor." So the words run. It tries and tests all things. New things, new friends, new ideas and truths -- are they good or bad? Time will tell. Old things are best, if they have stood the test of time. It is a rich possession if it is converted into good habits, deeds and character.

Time is a many-sided thing. If it is a destroyer and a thief in one sense, it is a preserver and safekeeper in another sense. We can never measure time by the clock or the calendar. It passes quickly for some and drags slowly on for others. If the year which has just closed its doors has been a happy one, and busy with its new adventures and pleasures, it has gone all too quickly on swift wings. If it has brought its unhappy experiences, and perhaps its sorrows, it has been interminably long. Time, you know, is a trickster. It's always doing strange things to us, as we ourselves indeed are doing strange things with time.

ARNOLD BENNETT, a writer, some years ago wrote a little book called, "How to live on twenty-four hours a day." We have not read the book, but came across some of its quotes. The writer unfolded his own philosophy of successful living and passed on some bits of wisdom to all of us who wake up in the morning, and lo, your purse is magically filled with these hours of unmanufactured stuff of your life. No one can take this treasure from you. It is unstealable. And no one receives neither more nor less than you receive. Out of it you have to spin health, pleasure, money, respect, and the growth of your immortal soul. Its right use is a matter of highest urgency. Your happiness, the illusive prize that you all are clutching for, depends on that. We have, and we have always had all the time there is." In answer to the question, "Where do you find the time for so many interests?", Bennett's reply was that he didn't find the time, he budgetted the daily hours as they came and spent them without waste. That is the secret of every wisely-used life.

NOW AS FAR AS WE ARE CONCERNED this is good practical council for the better life of today. Many privileges come for the enrichment of life, many chances for the display of Spirit, many places for speaking kindly and helpful words and doing generous acts. Life, after all, is a succession of opportunities which may either be bought up for our profit, or let slip by to our loss. The sorry thing is that, once they pass, they can never be recalled.

May peace and contentment be your lot during the year which we have now entered.

COME ALIVE . . .

HOW DO YOU SEE IT?

For some time, this column has been written by ministers of Flagstaff County with the hope it would be read and appreciated by its readers.

What impact the column was having, or if indeed any was and is, is a pertinent question.

With this in mind, instead of the usual column, I would like you who read it to do me a favour.

Write me a letter and let me know! As president of the County Ministerial Association, I am interested in knowing if the column is read and by how many. What impact has it on you? What changes, if any, would you like to see made in the column and what other information which may be helpful to us in order that we may relate to you the "Good News."

Send your letters to:
The Rev. Richard Conrad

I am looking forward to hearing from you before the next column goes to press.

A happy 1979 to all

NEW YEARS WISH

Alberta Agriculture extends to you special wishes for a Happy and Prosperous New Year.

1979 INTERNATIONAL YEAR OF THE CHILD

The year 1979 has special significance in that it marks the 20th anniversary of the United Nations Declaration of the Rights of the Child. These rights are: The right to affection, love and understanding. The right to adequate nutrition and medical care. The right to free education. The right to full opportunity for play and recreation. The right to special care, if handicapped. The right to be among the first to receive relief in times of disaster. The right to learn to be a useful member of society and to develop individual abilities. The right to be brought up in a spirit of peace and universal brotherhood. The right to enjoy these rights, regardless of race, colour, sex, religion, national or social origin.

In many countries, these aims have not been met. Therefore, the General Assembly of the United Nations proclaimed 1979 the International Year of the Child. Its purpose – to urge people and governments of the world to:

RENEW their concern for children – our world's most precious resource;

REVIEW their local and national programs for children;

REAFFIRM their determination to increase services benefitting the child on a permanent basis.

FOCUS on the special needs of the child, especially in education and health care;

STIMULATE national and local action programs for children in all countries, especially in the most seriously disadvantaged, including young girls where they receive unequal treatment, orphaned children, refugee children, children of unwed mothers, children in poor rural areas, children exposed to drugs and crime, delinquent children, victims of child abuse, physically and mentally handicapped children and the vast numbers of children who suffer from malnutrition; and ENCOURAGE research projects on the intellectual, psychological, social and spiritual development of children and to disseminate widely the results of these studies.

CANADA'S ROLE IN I.Y.C.

In Canada, a special committee was established "empowered to co-ordinate planning and action relating to the nongovernmental sector of IYC."

Some of the organizations represented on the committee include: Boys' and Girls' Clubs of Canada, Canadian Council on Child Abuse, Canadian Home and School, Parent-Teacher Federation, Canadian Red Cross Society, and UNICEF Canada.

The Canadian Committee for IYC agreed that its role must be to:

- endorse and adopt the UN "Declaration of the Rights of the Child";
- collect and disseminate information relating to IYC;
- act as a liason with governments;
- act as a resource centre for the exchange of materials and encouragement of action;
- co-ordinate activities on international level through UNICEF; and
- reach and motivate governments, organizations and individuals to understand the goals of IYC.

"The International Year of the Child is an occasion to reaffirm, not by words alone but by deeds, that the well-being of today's children is the concern of all people everywhere and that it is inseparably linked with the peace and prosperity of tomorrow's world."

*Information obtained from Larry McLeod, Edmonton Committee for IYC and Canadian Committee for 1979 IYC.

Daysland council hears many complaints

The December meeting of the Daysland Town Council was held Tuesday, December 12 at 7 p.m. in the Town Office. Present were Councillors Damberger, Lindseth, Dickau, Sather, Turney and Larson. Mayor Lisack presided.

Several complaints regarding snowmobilers had been received at the office, mainly regarding young children with no regard for private property or the regulations governing snowmobile routes in town. Especially of concern is the fact that even though the children are using permitted routes along alleys, they do not stop when crossing the road. Parents are asked to please remember that a child on a snowmobile will come out second best in an accident with a larger vehicle.

The Flagstaff Preventive Social Services (PSS) advised that the new director is Mr. Paul Bujold of St. Albert, who will took over January 1, 1979.

The R.C.M.P. advised they were now ready to implement the Neighbourhood Watch Program in Daysland. There will be a public meeting on Thursday, January 25, 1979 at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Hall for all interested and concerned citizens. Residents are urged to attend; Neighbourhood Watch is for everyone's protection.

The men seen drilling holes in the streets last week were from Alberta Transportation. They were testing to see exactly what lies beneath each street in order that we may plan the work to be done to improve the surface quality. It is felt to be a waste of money to lay black top which lasts for one year because the base of the street heaves and sinks.

The Public Utilities Board sent the results of the Public Hearing on the Natural Gas Rates. Effective December 1, 1978, the rates will be: Minimum monthly charge is $4 (up from $3), $1.40 per Mcf (up from $1.29¾) plus 20 cents per Mcf for six months to recover losses sustained during the period the rates were frozen. Copies of the Rules and Regulations regarding the Natural Gas System will be enclosed with the January 1, 1979 utility bills, which, as they are for the month of December, will reflect the rate increases.

Deputy Mayor for the months of February 1979 is councillor Laurits Lindseth.

Galahad concerts successful

Mrs. Vera Holben of Castor called on her aunt, Mrs. Carrie Jackson, recently.

Belated congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Michael Keiching-er Jr. Their son arrived on November 12, 1978.

Mrs. Carrie Jackson is all smiles. She has two new grandgrandchildren. A daughter was born to Mr. and Mrs. Jay Slemp on December 14 and a son to Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Ponto on December 18. Grandmothers are Mrs. Sylvia Ponto and Mrs. Doreen Bowersock, who paid a visit to the Daysland Hospital on Tuesday, December 19, to see Linda and the new grandson.

Since the Arizona flood hit the news, many Galahad folk have been wondering how those who go south each winter are doing.

Raymond phoned the Herschel Jacksons. They are still on the high and dry, or at least not in the situation that more than 8,000 in Phoenix are, where they have been forced out of their homes by the high water.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Lunty were callers at the Pete Willis home on Friday afternoon, December 15.

The Missionary Church held its annual Christmas program on Sunday evening, December 17. Once again, the children the junior and senior youth classes and the adult choir presented the Christmas story for all who were present to enjoy and remember that God gave the perfect gift of all when He allowed His Son to be born into the world to become our Saviour. "Oh what wondrous love and mercy Jesus laid his glory by, when for us He came from heaven as the lamb of God to die." - anonymous.

Treat bags were given to the children, and then all gathered in the lower auditorium for lunch and a time of fellowship.

Roger Jones, on behalf of the congregation, presented Pastor and Mrs. Whitehead with the many gifts that had been brought in. We are truly grateful to Gene and Anna that they chose to heed God's call and live among us as our church leaders rather than go out to live for themselves. It would be much more profitable if they were to consider only the physical wealth. Gene thanked the congregation for their gifts and wished God's blessing at Christmas time and for 1979.

Mr. Harvey Ramsay passed away on December 16, 1978 at Ponoka, Alberta in the Northcott Nursing Home. Harvey was a resident of the Galahad area for many years before moving to Ponoka to make his home there.

Mr. Fred Ramsay and his son and wife of High River, and Mr. Lorne Ramsay of Calgary spent a few days in Galahad, where they were in attendance at the funeral of their brother Harvey on Wednesday. Mr. Bud Grant of Calgary was in Galahad also on Wednesday to attend Harvey Ramsay's funeral.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Perreault and Phillip of Three Hills spent a few days in Galahad visiting relatives and friends.

Fred and Lorne Ramsay were guests at the Jim Wetmore home on Wednesday evening. Fred is no stranger to Galahad folk as he once worked in this district for quite some time.

The S.D.A. Church was filled to capacity on Friday evening, December 22, for their Christmas program.

The program, made up of musical numbers, special singing and the nativity scene, reminded all of the reason we celebrate Christmas.

"I came a light into the world that whosoever believeth in me should not abide in darkness." (John 12:46)

The birth of Jesus Christ brought the lustre of hope to this dark world. At this Christmas season, let us rejoice that Jesus, the true light, visited this sin-smitten planet to cast the joyous rays of his salvation upon our pathway. The surrounding community and folk from many towns were represented in the large congregation and received a friendly welcome from the pastor and people of the S.D.A. Church.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

Merna 4-H Light Horse Club

Knots, rope, wrapping paper, and more knots. The Merna Light Horse Club had quite an interesting meeting on Monday night, December 18.

We all gathered at the Whitbeck home at 7:30 p.m. for our regular meeting. Topics such as tack boxes, a skating party and a scrapbook were discussed. We made plans to make tack boxes (a box to keep all your horse equipment, etc., in) at our next meeting. Each family would make one and there was a choice of three sizes to choose from. Some parents are going to get the wood and have them pre-cut for our next meeting.

A skating party was planned for December 27 at 4 p.m. at Anderson's if it's okay. It was decided each person could bring two friends and a weiner roast would take place after.

We also decided it would be a good idea to make a club scrapbook. In it would be clippings from papers, pictures of members and their horses, pictures of activities, and anything else pertaining to the club.

Then the real fun began. Everyone had exchanged names for Christmas and we opened our presents that night. Gifts ranged from socks, to books, to toys to a can of coal.

If you didn't have a headache when you got to the meeting, you had one when you went home as 600 feet of tangled rope was brought in and we all went about to learn how to make hay nets. After the rope was untangled, cut, and everyone was half organized, members found that hay nets weren't so difficult to make afterall.

Everyone seemed to have enjoyed the meeting, and especially the lunch which was served after. - Deb Elley

RITERS RAMBLINGS

FORTUNES & SHORTAGES

Hey, your attention please. I want to tell you a story about a man named Albert Hoffle-snitch.

Albert was born in Mossytown, British Columbia, as the son of a rich maintenance engineer (janitor for you conservatives). As the years passed, Albert grew restless and wanted to be rich. He also wanted to be important but he couldn't figure out how to get that way.

His chance came. The year, 1942. The place, Valturner, Alberta. There was an oil rig drilling a hole in the ground. All of a sudden, black gold shot into the sky. The word spread like any other oil strike, and a year later our hero was on the scene.

This is marvelous. Now I know how to get rich and important," Albert proclaimed to a nearby heifer.

So, like any other well-meaning young man, he lied about where he came from and who his ancestors were, and got a job.

After he had gained control of the company, Alberta jumped into a barrel of oil to take the plunge, officially, into the business. The photo of the now priceless barrel of oil is now very valuable.

After a time, Albert became rich and important like he always dreamed. He had formed his own company called "HOIL" (Hoffiesnitch Oil Inc. Ltd. or Hoffies oil, depending upon your job there.) He built his own town in Alberta, called Hoilly. The town consisted of one gigantic oil refinery, 100,000 homes for the employees, and the 1,000-acre estate of one A. Hoffiesnitch. Albert had acquired enough money to live in luxury for 172 years.

Albert was chauffeured around in his 25-foot customized limousine, and flew around in his SS-ZY-90 Jet plane. The plane got .9725 miles to the gallon, but that was alright, there was enough fuel for it anyway.

All good things must come to an end and the same held true for what Albert was producing. Millions and millions of dollars a year. Albert suddenly found himself getting short of cash. He had been far too extravagant. After all, buying Toronto for his nephew for Christmas was a little much.

Anyway, Albert couldn't spend so much anymore unless . . . of course, a shortage. He just wouldn't say what kind of shortage.

"I just turn off valves 97 through 8764 and I have it made. It will appear that there is a shortage and I can drastically raise the price of oil," Albert told the people of Hoilly.

The people of the poor, unsuspecting country were then paying a queen's ransom for oil. In fact, it wasn't even safe for the Queen to come visiting anymore. All this time, Alberta was living it up in his 102-room house on Hoffiesnitch Hill in Hoilly, Alberta.

But, Albert began to wonder if the people of the country believed him. So, he got in his plane and flew to Ottawa. There, he rented a customized limousine that used a gallon of gas just starting, and City Hall was his temporary home. He made up a big story about the present "shortage" and went on national television. After delivering his speech, he hoped the people believed him so he got in the car and went to the airport. From there, he flew off into the sunset, leaving the people of the country to wonder if he would run out of fuel over Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan. He didn't of course.

4-H CLUB Activities

HAPPY RIDERS 4-H CLUB

President Angela Doody called the December 11, 1978 meeting to order. Dean Ness led the 4-H Pledge. Roll call was given. The secretary's report was read and approved as read.

In correspondence, we talked about horse films that were sent for. In old business, anyone who hasn't paid their membership was asked to please pay. In new business, we talked about the Queen contest at the Camrose Winchester Rodeo in April. Theresa Parsons moved we have a queen in the rodeo and Patti Wallace seconded it. Shelley Ness was chosen to run.

Norma Doody talked about riding lessons that are going to be at Doody's place. Terry Framan was hired to instruct for $5 a lesson at 1½ hours a week. The lessons are open to the Happy Riders first, then to the Merna 4-H Club and then to anyone. Applications will be ready for the January meeting.

Club members talked about the hobbies Jack and Ruth Potter are making. Dean moved the meeting be adjourned. Films were then shown on fouling and the Quarter horse. Lunch was served.

Galahad District News

Guests at the Roger Jones home on Sunday, December 24, 1978 were Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beebe and Mr. and Mrs. Pete Willis.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Wishart, Marcella and Karrie spent the Christmas holidays at St. Walburg, Saskatchewan with Glen and Sandra's parents.

Congratulations to Glen Wishart, the winner of the digital clock radio which was raffled by the Senior Citizens' Friendship Club on Saturday, December 23, 1978. The radio was donated to the Seniors by the members of the Hospital Auxiliary. Thank you for your generous gift, ladies.

We are sorry to report that Auntie Martha Bridry is still a patient of the Edmonton University Hospital. However, relatives and friends in the city, and the following from Galahad, called on her during the holiday season: Arnold and Arlene Gamroth, Doreen Herle, Angie and Al Dietz and Penny Gamroth on December 23. On December 27, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Herle, Carolyn and Ellen called on her.

Christmas holiday guests at the Dominic Gamroth and Allen Dietz' homes were Mr. and Mrs. David Gamroth, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Gamroth, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Gamroth, all of Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. Peter Pudlowski and family of Daysland and Mr. and Mrs. Glen Rogoski and family of Calmar.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Whitehead spent the Christmas holidays with Gene's parents and other members of the Whitehead family in Yakima, Washington.

Mrs. Proxy Gamroth spent the Christmas holidays at the home of her son Donald and family in Devon. Later, she visited Eddie, Lennice, Mark and Donna at Fort Saskatchewan. Proxy called on Al and Annie Strachan while at the Fort, and returned home on Tuesday with the Eddie Gamroths.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lunty of Morrin visited Mrs. Amy Stewart, Mrs. Donna Polege and Mrs. Mabel Haberle at the General Hospital in Galahad on Thursday evening. They called at the Pete Willis home also.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Fetzien spent Christmas at Kinsella with the John Armitage family.

While searching for the relatives of the late Thomas Watson, first storekeeper of the Village of Galahad, we had occasion to contact Mrs. Mary Symington of Provost. She had helped compile their history, "Early Furrows," and she gave this message to folk who have decided not to bother writing their story.

Their committee found that when the book was published, some persons were sorry that they had not taken the time to record their memoirs.

Belated Merry Christmas to all our readers and the best year yet in 1979 from Anne Wise and Alta Willis.

Daysland News

The Daysland Cash Bonspiel was held Sunday, December 17, which was a success. The winners in the first and second event were: 1st Event - Pat Miller, Stromе, first; and Jim Avery, Camrose, second. 2nd Event - Terry Adams, Forestburg, first; Dennis Denham, Acme, second.

Mrs. Eleanor Davidson went to Edmonton to spend Christmas with her daughter Joan and family.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parsons of Vegreville, formerly of Daysland, on the sudden passing of their baby boy. The funeral was held in the Daysland Community Hall on Saturday, December 30, 1978.

The new hours at the library in the New Year will be Monday and Wednesday, 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., and Saturday, 1:30 to 4:30 p.m. We would like to thank all who donated books to the library during the past year.

Mr. Ray Brown and family went by plane to California for the holidays to visit his sister Myrtle and Jim Gillespie and family.

A new restaurant opened December 12, 1978 on the Main Street in Daysland called Jamie's Restaurant, under the management of Mary Robertson. All morning of December 12, the restaurant was filled for free coffee and lunch, which was delicious. The bouquets of flowers she received were lovely with a bouquet put on each table.

This week seems short but cold. I hope to have more news next week when everyone gets home from holidays. Hope everyone had a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year. How about giving me a little more news. From your correspondent, Emily Hill.

TO ALL RESIDENTS IN THE VILLAGE OF LOUGHEED

All persons who own or harbour dogs within the limits of the Village of Lougheed are hereby notified that:

1. Dog licenses are due on January 1st of each year. A person who becomes the owner of a dog during the year shall purchase a license within one month from the time he/she becomes the owner.

2. "OWNER" means the person who has legal title to a dog, and includes also any person who has possession or custody of a dog, or harbours a dog, or suffers or permits a dog to remain on his/her premises.

3. License Fees are as follows: Male dog or spayed female dog - $5.00 per year. Unspayed female dog - $50.00 per year. The above fees are doubled for a second dog in any one household.

4. The owner or harbourer of more than two dogs shall make application to the Council of the Village of Lougheed for a Kennel License.

5. Purchase of a license does not permit the running at large of the licensed dog.

6. Cmor Kennels of Wetaskiwin, Alberta, and their employees, have been appointed as Animal Control Officers to enforce Dog Control By-Law No. 408, pertaining to licensing, restraining, impounding and destroying of dogs.

7. Any person may, at any time during office hours, inspect Dog Control By Law No. 408, and the Agreement between the Village of Lougheed and Cmor Kennels, at the office of the Secretary-Treasurer of the Village of Lougheed.

Help create student jobs. And we'll help you.

Young Canada Works is a federal government job creation program designed to fund projects which improve the skills and future job prospects of students.

Get your group or organization to think of an idea. If it will create at least 3 student jobs lasting from 6 to 18 weeks each between the months of May and September, then Young Canada Works may be able to help you turn your idea into reality.

Your project should benefit the community and must meet all the program requirements.

Apply today. Application forms and guides are ready now at your nearest Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre or Job Creation Branch office.

Application Deadline February 2, 1979.

Lougheed light winners

The winners for the decorated homes were: Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith, first prize; Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Grove, second prize; and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Grussinger, third prize. Mr. T. Keasey and Kathy McNalley are to be complimented on the well-decorated trees. Honourable mention in the house decorating went to Mr. and Mrs. John Larson and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Smith. Congratulations to you all.

Many thanks to the judges and to all the ones who decorated their homes. The village certainly looked beautiful; keep up the good work.

A coffee party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George Riddock, hosted by the village councillors for the judges and spouses and staff. Judges were Vesta Cookson, Eileen Paterson and Jim Butcher. Turkeys were presented to Jean Watts and Ron Harris in appreciation for their good work. Thanks to everyone who made it an enjoyable evening.

Also, the Town Council and its helpers are to be complimented on the beautifully-handmade decorations which enhance Main Street. Lougheed area extends congratulations and thanks to these people for the hours of hard work which this entailed.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Ian Whitehead (nee Coates) on the birth of a baby girl. Congratulations also go to the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Coates.

We are happy to report that Mrs. Joe Cameron is home again and doing fine after open heart surgery in the University Hospital in Edmonton. She was only in the hospital a week after surgery. Keep up the good work, Hetty.

Visiting with Mr. and Mrs. T. Clouston through Christmas holidays were Mrs. Ella Clouston, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hagen and family, also Mrs. Margerie Small and Sunny from Czar. Mr. and Mrs. Bill Riester and family from Calgary.

Mr. and Mrs. Keith Davis and Darcy spent Christmas Day with Mr. and Mrs. Randy Davis and Dani at Viking.

Mrs. Dorothy Wright spent Christmas holidays with her son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wright and family in Qualicum, B.C.

Sympathy is extended to the family of Mr. Bill Culshaw, who passed away just two or three days before Christmas. The funeral was in Lougheed on December 27.

There were only 12 people at the Unifarm meeting at Bellshill on December 20. Hopefully, there will be a better turnout for the January meeting when there will be convention reports given and also a guest speaker in attendance.

Rev. and Mrs. Richard Yamabe and David of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. John Scott and Bonnie of Alberta Beach were Christmas guests at Mr. and Mrs. Warren Waitse and Mr. and Mrs. Eber Waitse. Mr. and Mrs. Norman Rancier (nee Shirven Waite) of Killam was home, too.

There were 10½ tables at the Bellshill whist drive on Friday, December 22. Prize winners were: Mrs. L. Kneeland and David Livingston, firsts; Mrs. Len Wold and Wm. Baker, second; Mrs. Hazel Wold and Leonard Wold, mystery; Mrs. Ed. Davidson and John Brunner, travelling; and Mr. and Mrs. W.A. Wetmore, consolation.

A delicious turkey supper was held for the school staff at the home of Mrs. Agnes Wright one evening the week before Christmas. The evening was spent by decorating her tree. Then, we all sang Christmas carols with Mrs. Jean Burden as pianist with Harry Kosso was on the violin. There were 17 guests and all had a wonderful evening.

We are going to miss two couples in our district. Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roggensack moved to Sedgewick and Mr. and Mrs. George Collier went to Hardisty.

Ann Cook and family and Bill and Donna Stack of Edmonton were visiting at Pete Groves'. Ann is Pete Groves' daughter. Donna a granddaughter.

Bruce and Holly Bovencamp of Sherwood Park visited Bovencamps and Ray Horricks. Also at Ray's were Donna of Edmonton, Debbie and Jerrod Kjelland and family of Camrose.

Gary and Delores Acres and family from Edmonton spent their Christmas at the parents', Mr. and Mrs. George Riddock. They had Christmas dinners at Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Smith's home.

Mrs. Betty Bakkan and Anna of Prince George, B.C. are visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Henry Lien. Sorry to say Anna had the misfortune to fall and break a bone in her foot or ankle Christmas Eve. She has it in a cast now.

At the Harold Probst home for Christmas were: Gary and Sharon Jeffery of Whitecourt, Margaret Ann and Derek also Valda and friend Bob, all of Edmonton, and also Molly, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus and Evelina.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Horricks had their family home for Christmas. Evelyn and Ken Leslie, Tommy of Edmonton, also Karen and Jeffery, also Tommy Keasy.

Mr. Tom Keasy spent Christmas in Edmonton with his daughter.

The Bellshill Community Centre has been really busy lately. It had the regular whist drive on December 8 with a dine and dance the following night, where everyone reports having a really good time.

Friday, December 15 found the Petro Canada crew and friends enjoying their annual Christmas party. The Bellshill ladies catered to the buffet style supper for this one to about 60 people.

Saturday, December 16, the Gretna Goodwill Club held its Christmas party at Bellshill. It was in the form of a social evening this year. There was a good attendance and everyone enjoyed the various contests, games and military whist, organized by Mrs. Art Armstrong. A buffet lunch was enjoyed by all, especially the pie and ice cream.

Joan and Jim Wright of Edmonton spent Christmas with their mother, Mrs. Agnes Wright, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White had Christmas dinner with their daughter, Jean Wallace and family in Sedgewick.

Mr. Bill Small passed away during the Christmas holidays in the Wainwright Hospital after a lengthy illness. His dad was one of the first owners of the Lougheed Hotel and lived east of town. The funeral was held in Czar. Mrs. Bill Small was a daughter of Mr. Ken Clouston Sr., a cousin to Mr. Thomas Clouston. Deepest sympathy goes out to the families.

Sedgewick News Items

Mr. and Mrs. Gary Culbert spent the Christmas holidays in San Francisco.

Congratulations to Deloranda and Tom Walton of Aylmer, Quebec on the birth of a 9-pound 9-ounce son. Jason Conrad was born at the Ottawa Civic Hospital on December 25. So now Mr. and Mrs. Bob Munro have joined the grandparents club.

Mr. and Mrs. Gerry Miller and family of Calgary left on Tuesday after spending the holiday season at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rod MacKinnon.

When I asked Cathy McBride about Christmas visitors she said that all the kids, nine grandchildren, great grandma Mrs. Ruby McBride and Uncle Norm were all around at some time or other. Quite a houseful.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Brad Truss, who were married on December 2, 1978.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Dwayne Simpson of Sherwood Park on the birth of a 7-pound 8 ounce daughter. Sandra Lynn arrived on Saturday, December 16.

The Senior Citizens Christmas Card Party at the Drop-In Centre on Wednesday afternoon was a huge success with 11 tables of whist players, while a few more folk dropped in after the cards for lunch and exchange of gifts. The highest scores in the cards were made by Mrs. Amy Robinson and Mr. Frank Mayne, who received prizes. Mrs. Hazel MacKinnon and Mrs. Tena Blakeney tied for the ladies' consolation award with Mrs. MacKinnon winning the cut, while Mr. Gunnar Hope won the men's consolation prize.

Happy to see that Mr. Alec Farquharson made it home just before Christmas after a long stay in hospitals in Edmonton. Hope you'll be able to stay home awhile, Alec.

Miss Gail Munro of Ponoka was at her parents' home, the Bob Munros, for the holiday season.

Get well wishes go to Mr. Werner Howeihe, who entered the Daysland Hospital on January 1, 1979.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh spent Christmas Eve and Day in Heisler at the home of their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Grant Bisseer and children.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Chappell had all of their family with them for the Christmas-New Year holidays. Coming from furthest away were daughter Gerry and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Brian Mehlenbacher of Chatham, Ontario. Son Dana and his wife and children were there from Two Hills, and of course, daughter Robyn and daughter Cindi and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Glen Poyser.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Andersen and Kerry spent Christmas at Drumheller with Don's mother.

Mr. Robin Patterson spent the holiday season in England.

Mr. and Mrs. John Brandingen and children and Mrs. Tiny Medisky and Ted flew to Florida and boarded a ship on Christmas Eve for a 10-day cruise.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Ferrier of Yellowknife were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ferrier during the Christmas holidays.

Killam District News

Mr. Dwayne Fossen, Mr. Murray Jacobs, Mr. Dale Palmer and two Jack boys of Sedgewick are off to the Barbados for the next two weeks. Have fun boys.

The Killam Legion's New Year's Dance was, as usual, well attended and all enjoyed dancing to Joyce George and Vern Erickson's music. A most delicious Chinese and chicken supper ended the evening. Mr. Herb Jaster was the lucky winner of the glass trophy.

Constable Debbie George of Big River, Saskatchewan and Miss Rhonda George of Edmonton spent the holidays with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd George and family.

I noticed Miss Julie Dammann's left hand a little heavy. Well, congratulations are in order for Mr. Melvin Jacobs and Julie, who recently became engaged. Congratulations.

I hope you all had a Merry Christmas with family and friends. The weatherman really co-operated this year, making it so much nicer for those travelling.

Visiting their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan, for Christmas were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Swoboda and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Weisgerber and family, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family of Edmonton, and Mr. Ted Morgan and friend Marion.

Mr. and Mrs. Brian Kozicki and Steven of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Doug Bonar and Billy of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kuefler of Galahad, Mr. David Bonar and fiancee, Miss Kathy Spiller of Fort St. John, B.C. were Christmas visitors with mother, Mrs. Jean Bonar.

Sedgewick and District News

The sympathy of the community is expressed to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Parsons (nee Julie Bergum) of Vegreville and other relatives on the death shortly after Christmas of their infant son. The Parsons were at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Irving Bergum, for the holiday season when the baby became sick and passed away in the Dayaland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Scott Truss and daughter Megan, and Mr. Derek Truss of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Brad Truss of Long View and Mrs. Boyd of Edam, Saskatchewan were all guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Larry Truss for the festive season. Mrs. Boyd is spending awhile at the Truss home.

Donna Muirhead spent a few days at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Muirhead and children in Camrose last week.

Mr. and Mrs. N.C. Wilkie of Smithfield, Ontario are staying at the home of their daughter and family, the Jack Sparrows, for a few weeks.

Sherry Mayne was a patient in Killam Hospital for a few days last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Mayne and Sherry were Edmonton visitors last Friday.

A good crowd enjoyed the beautiful Cantata 'Night of Miracles" performed by a choir under the direction of Mrs. Kay Routledge on Wednesday, December 20.

I understand the New Year's Eve Dance and Dine was well attended and was a great success.

Folk from several local towns were at the Seventh Day Adventist Church to see and hear their splendid Christmas Programme on Friday, December 22, 1978.

Visitors at the Dick Erickson home over the holidays included Mr. and Mrs. Royce Schmuts and family and Irene, Clover and Vaughn Schmuts, all of Edmonton; Mr. and Mrs. Ken Cole and Annette of Calgary and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Jacobsen and son.

Deanne Mary, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Del Bergum was christened by the Rev. R. Chappell at the morning service at the United Church on Sunday, December 24, 1978.

At the parents' home, Mr. and Mrs. N. Bergum, for Christmas were Miss Carol Ann Bergum of Edmonton and Mrs. Sandra Schneider of Calgary.

Mrs. Weltha Mikkleson had a birthday party on Thursday, December 28, 1978 in honour of Rhonda and Connie's 12th birthdays. Many happy returns, girls.

Mrs. Beth Blaeser and children of Heisler were Tuesday visitors at her parents' home, the Jim Walsh's.

Five tables of whist players enjoyed the Wednesday afternoon Card Party at the Senior Citizens' Drop-In Centre. Prizes for the highest scores were won by Mrs. Jessie Clark and Mr. Gudmunn Eriksson, who tied with Mr. Ernie Koehli but won the cut. Mrs. Helga Willumsen and Mr. Bob Leedheim received consolation awards.

Visitors at the homes of Mrs. E. Muirhead, Mrs. J. Muirhead and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke James over the holidays included Mr. and Mrs. Eric Bratland of New Brunswick, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Bratland of Alder Flats, Mr. and Mrs. Garry Bratland of Calgary, Mr. and Mrs. Brent Bratland of Edmonton, Mr and Mrs. John Bratland of Camrose, Mr. and Mrs. David Muirhead and Kelly Ann of Yellowknife, Mr. and Mrs. Robert James of Edmonton and Mr. and Mrs. Clarke James and children of Elnora.

Mr. and Mrs. H.L. Beairsto spent four days at Christmas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Keith Hansen (nee Janet Beairsto) and children. Their other daughter, Phyls (Mrs. Dale Westhora) and girls of B.C. were at the Hansen's and came home with her parents to spend a few days here. They left by plane from Edmonton on New Year's Day to return to B.C.

They sympathy of the community is expressed to Mr. Ed Sarasin and other relatives of Mrs. Ed (Doris) Sarasin, who passed away on December 29, 1978. The funeral took place at the Lutheran Church on Tuesday, January 2, 1979.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Andersen and Kerry left on Tuesday for Vegreville where he is now employed.

RCMP Community Relations Officer from Red Deer Corporal Matthews met recently with members of the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce in regard to a Neighbourhood Watch Program. A meeting is planned for early February to make further plans.

The Keith family motored to Islay, Alberta for Christmas dinner with Donna and Ken Muhlbeier. On Boxing Day, the Keiths, accompanied by Stephen Booth, were to Bentley to visit Elaine's family, and then left for a holiday in Banff. The weather was too cold for good skiing, so the holiday was cut short.

Mr. and Mrs. Tim Dixon (nee Joan Armitage) and children spent Christmas at her parent's home, the George Jenveys. On Boxing Day, Mr. and Mrs. Jenvey drove to Calgary to spend a couple of days with daughter Eileen and family. Mr. and Mrs. George Muench and daughter.

Proud parents of the New Year's baby born in Galahad Hospital are Deb and Larry Prehn of Forestburg. The baby girl, Amber Dawn, was born New Year's Day at 5:53 a.m. and weighed 7 pounds, 4 ounces. She is the couple's first child, as well as the first grandchild for Mr. and Mrs. Joe Prehn of Forestburg. The baby's other happy grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Wayne McMahon of Forestburg. Amber Dawn is the first New Year's baby to born in the Galahad Hospital, according to Hospital Administrator Will West, who presented gifts to the family on behalf of the hospital and hospital district.

Lodge residents enjoy bridge

Mrs. Burgey, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Weber and Mrs. Pocock were playing bridge one night and this was really funny. L. Valda Storbakken, was watching them. Mrs. Burgey dealt so it was her bid and she bid one spade. Amelia R. passed. Gwen W. bid two spades. Minerva P. passed, so it was two spades. Emma Burgey bid one spade. She only had the 2 and 4 of spades, of course. She looked at it was her wrong suit and when Gwen W. put her's down, she had the ace, king and four small spades. Amelia had the queen and Minerva had the jack so they went down one trick. We sure had a good laugh over it.

The guests of the Lodge thank everybody for all the Christmas goodies, oranges and flowers they gave to us. It was much appreciated.

Wes and Louise Colshaw of Devon and Stanley Rigby of Millet were down for Bill Colshaw's funeral and to visit Mrs. Storbakken and other friends in the Lodge.

There were a lot of guests who went out for Christmas and had a lovely time.

Shirley, Kath and Kevin Winter of Ontario were down to visit Grandma Palmer.

Alice Hansen and Mary and Reeny Griebel of Caster were in to see their many friends in the Lodge.

Lavina and Oswald Olsen of Camrose were in to visit Mother Danielson.

Calvin and Lorna Rose of Forestburg were in to visit Mrs. Fink.

Ian and Joyce Bradley and family of Lougheed were in to visit Fred Sparrow.

Brian and Gail Johnson of Bashaw were in visiting Jack Alexander.

Mollie Hooper of Qualicum Beach, B.C. was in to visit her many friends in the Lodge.

Horace and Eva and their son Robin of Hardisty were in to visit Mother and Dad Cookson.

Francis and Vi Moore of Edmonton were down to visit Mrs. Danielson.

Margery Storbakken and Brenda Lee of Grimshaw, and her cousin of Edmonton, were in to visit Mrs. Storbakken.

Bill and Joanne Riester of Calgary were down to visit Grandma Clouston.

Wes and Olive Barber of Camrose were down to visit Mother McClements.

Art and Betty Peacock of Alliance were in to visit with Mother Peacock.

Melvin Jacobs and Julie Dammann of Killam were in to visit Grandma Knutson.

Rose Sima of Amisk and Barbara Seeger of Hughenden were in to visit Bill Hayes.

Lindsey, Susan, Gail and Bruce Jacobs were in to visit great grandma Knutson. They came from Pine Point, NWT.

Lloyd and Serena Olsen of Edmonton were down to visit Lillie Danielson and Tillie Knutson.

Megan, Carol and Scott Truss of Calgary were down to visit Grandma Fegelburg and Jack Seaman.

Walter and Karen Genesis of Fort McLeod were down to visit Mrs. McClements.

Walter, Doreen, Leslie and Myron Dietz of Vermilion were down to visit Mr. McMahon.

Joe and Kay Hart of Vermilion were down to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skoberg and daughter Vicki were down to visit Mrs. Skoberg. They are from Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Dennis and LeeAnne Wilse of Atmore, Alberta were down to visit Grandma Billow.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Beatrice were up to visit Gwen Weber and Mrs. Clouston, and took them for a drive around the country. That was very nice of you, Calvin.

Sorry I forgot to write the news last week. With New Year's being on Monday, I got all turned around.

Christmas light winners

Congratulations to winners for Christmas decorations in Killam, who were: 1st - Toby Schweitzer, 2nd - Lavern Keindorfer, 3rd - Carolyn Keindorfer. There were many beautiful decorated homes and, of course, as more lights came on each night, it seemed more like Christmas.

Winners of the Christmas Lighting Contest in Sedgewick were: 1st - Geo. Anderson, 2nd - Fritz Heweike and 3rd - Doug Hagen.

Sedgewick News Items

Hobby Club goes to pot(ery)

The Amalgamated Hobbyists of Flagstaff are pleased to be having the Sedgewick Pottery Group as guest speakers at the Hobby Club meeting on Wednesday, January 17 at 8 p.m. in the Sedgewick United Church Hall.

The Sedgewick Pottery group began in September, 1973 as an Adult Education class under the guidance of Mr. Rod Doody. The first meetings were held at the school. Later, the group began meeting at the Legion Hut and have continued to meet there to the present day.

In 1974, the club received a course of instruction from Mary Borgstrom of Provost. This course opened up whole new horizons for those involved and inspired latent creative instincts none of them were aware existed.

The Pottery Club is now affiliated with the larger ceramics organization. The club has its own kiln and potter's wheel and the members do their own glazes. Although the Pottery Club has a small membership, some superb samples of artistry have been turned out by its members, Ray and Bev Niebergall, Mae Hampshire and Doris Lee.

Looking out for our best interests

With the start of a new year, we look toward the future with bright expectations. In our case we had best look toward the economic future of the area in which we live before looking in our own direction.

We have had the good fortune of living in a province – and in an area of this province – that has provided economic stability. Our towns don't rely on only one industry. We live comfortably. And we are all conscious of maintaining the economic stability we enjoy.

But while we have become experts at maintenance, we're not too knowledgeable about growth. We have neglected to pursue new economic developments – mostly because the manpower and resources needed are too prohibitive for one county to assume by itself.

Perhaps we should take a lesson from the Battle River Tourist Association (B.R.T.A.), which was created less than 10 years ago. A lot of small areas recognized the importance of promoting tourism, but none could alone afford the cost of administering such a task. The B.R.T.A. was formed when all these areas pooled their energies. Today, the association has been awarded provincially – and federally – as a leader in tourist promotion.

There is every indication the same approach would work to promote economic development. Why not co-ordinate the efforts of communities from, say, Viking south to Castor, and from Camrose east to the Saskatchewan border? Together, we could establish a Rural Development Project – a provincial government program which allows rural communities to analyze their own development potentials and pursue the course of action they prefer.

It's a method that has worked in at least six other regions of Alberta. In the northwest, the project has resulted in the increase of agricultural productivity, the development of meat packing and dairy facilities, the start of a pulp mill operation and the upgrading of roads – all in less than two years. This translates into an economically healthy rural area with a thriving industrial and business community. Premier Lougheed calls it decentralization. We call it looking out for our own best interests.

What Others Say

Creating a problem

Snowmobiles are a definite winter craze, no doubt here to stay. While we hate to deprive anyone of honest enjoyment, we do not think it is asking too much if we ask that they not create unsafe conditions for other people.

The town has set out designated areas within the town so snowmobile users have a way of gaining entrance to town or getting out of town (which was published in last week's paper.) Complaints have filtered in on people speeding down back alleys and of course, T.V. interference. Although the T.V. problem is a difficult one to resolve, the speeding is a definite hazard to the public, particularly in the areas where small children are playing.

Snowmobiles are warned to take heed of the speed limits and if you don't know what they are you had better check with the RCMP or it could cost a lot of bucks to find out.

A more disturbing fact are the reports by the R.C.M.P. that some snowmobilers have actually cut their way through a barb wire fence to get into a field.

It's a complete disregard for the other persons property and if such actions continue, we won't be surprised to see some "No Snowmobiles Allowed" signs going up.

It's only a few people that have this kind of disregard for other people's property but it is these few that are making it tough on all the others.

It's an excellent winter sport and as a whole, most people are careful. Insurance and license plates are some low cost protection. Following the rules are your biggest asset. Run your machines on your own land, on the designated routes, or on private property you have gained permission to be on.

Following the rules means worry-free fun for everyone concerned.

The Third Column

by Truncate

OF COURSE WE ARE NOT telling you anything, really, when we say that sometime during the passing of each 12 months, each one of us becomes a year older. The whole business of becoming "a year older" is a relative thing actually and may be associated quite closely with the Einstein Theory that all motion is relative, and that space and time are mutually inseparable. All humans move through the span and space of time given to each, and the expectancy of another year added to life depends on the age of the individual. A young person may wait with impatience the passing of the years until he has reached that sublime age of full maturity in the eyes of the law; the time when no one can tell him what to do – he is free to do as he pleases. He has slowly, it seems to him, sped up the hill of life and now stands on the summit, the monarch of all he surveys. But whither from the summit? There is only one way to go and that is down the other side, and then as each year passes his real maturity advances even more slowly. Clinging tenaciously to pre-conceived ideas, he finds them gradually being eroded by the hard facts of life, and as these are slowly swept aside, his real maturity begins.

ON THE OTHER HAND, those who have been to the summit and are working their way down find that "a year older" has an entirely different connotation. You've been there. What you did on the way down is a matter of conjecture, but one thing is certain. You formed some basic ideas and ideals which became more firmly and stubbornly entrenched with each passing year. You cling to them in spite of passing time and change, and you become vulnerable.

SO IT COMES with a bit of a shock to be dubbed as "Old Fashioned." There is nothing more desirable, it seems, or sought after, than to be known rather as "Up-to-date." Of course, this is not an evil thing by any means, for to most of us the real Golden Age is in the future. Yet, and to say, there are obviously woeful and mistaken ideas about what is old-fashioned and what is up-to-date. These things have been so mixed up with our own personal wishes that often enough they have no relevance. The tradesman who put up a sign outside his shop, "Be Up-to-date and buy your antiques here," was not such a fool as lots of people think. What, then, does it mean to be really up-to-date? Certainly, it is the ability to see NOW and TODAY the ideas and causes to which the future belongs, and seeing them, to give ourselves unreservedly to them. So we ask, what is the really up-to-date attitude toward life as a whole?

DURING A LIFE of dealing with life itself, with people and attitudes, we have come to the conclusion that most people hold attitudes which vary greatly. First is Humanism, second is Fatalism, and third, Faith in Something Higher. Or to put it another way: Belief in Man, Belief in Blind Chance and Faith in God. Belief in man is one of the great superstitions of modern time and the most disasterous in the history of mankind. Conquest of time and space has made man forget his limitations. The world is no longer a pilgrimage but an end to itself. We no longer want heaven hereafter but demand it now and here. No pie in the sky but social security on earth. Utopia now is the great illusion of our day, for our mastery over the material has been completely spoiled by our growing moral failure. Such illusions are out-of-date.

MORE PEOPLE THAN EVER are succumbing to the attitude that neither God nor man are in control. Fatalism. That what it must be, irrational forces have the human race in its grip. The chief exponent is astrology. To suppose that we are just pawns in a game, or cogs in a machine. How in the name of sanity can our lives be affected by certain numbers, certain days, or the way the tea leaves lie in a cup? This may be excusable in the savage but inexcusable in an educated person. Trust in fate or blind chance leads to disaster and is an absolute negation of Christian beliefs.

FAITH IN SOMETHING HIGHER, or if you will, Faith in God. A faith that hope, renewal and goodwill are stronger than these of reaction and decay. That at the heart of this universe there is a Will to beauty, truth, love and brotherhood. Not just wishful thinking but a will to bring them about. This kind of confidence, this sense of the irresistible power within and about us is what can turn this world upside down and along with it all of its petty plans. It is the most up-to-date attitude in life because it is true. This is what will sustain us in a world that we see quickly becoming godless.

Central High curling team take B event

Four boys from Central High School decided to spend part of their Christmas vacation curling in the Edmonton High School Christmas Bonspiel at the Sportex. They travelled up there with high hopes on Boxing Day.

Their first game was at noon and they lost that with just a very small margin. From there on, there was no looking back and they went on to win five more games, capturing the B event which offered each a nice trophy and crest. These boys were Jeff Bury, lead; Don Jack, second; Rudy Ramcharan, third; and Garnet Eckstrand, skip.

Congratulations, boys. Maybe next year you'll get the big one!

Strome and District News

The Senior Citizens Club held its first card party of the winter last Thursday evening. Four tables of trump whist were played, with the gents' high score going to Julian Scheelar and low score to Martin Kroetch. Ladies' high score was won by Katie May and low score by Peggy Wheller.

Lunch was served by Frances Allers, Ruth and Susie Auburn. The next card party of "500" will be held on January 18 at 8 p.m. Everybody welcome.

Dennis Rawe spent some of his holidays with his dad at Grand Prairie, where Philip is working on an oil rig. He returned home last Friday night.

Mrs. Peggy Richmond returned from a few weeks of holidays with her daughter, Sheila and family, at Trail, B.C.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Bernice Morgan, who has been a patient in the hospital and is now recuperating at home.

Get well wishes are also extended to Mrs. Theresa Scheelar, who is a patient in the Killam Hospital.

Mr. Jack Angus has been staying with his sister, Mrs. Mabel Robson, while his wife has been visiting relatives in Edmonton for a week.

Pete Curtis and Rusty Robbins spent two days fishing at Buck Lake and returned with a pretty good catch.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Chelsen of Camrose spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Allan Auburn.

Mr. and Mrs. Lee Christenson and Lucinda were coffee guests at the home of Cliff and Joan Hill last Saturday evening.

Get well wishes go to little Kelly Hill, who is a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stevenson spent last weekend with Barb's mother, Mrs. Mabel Ellsworth.

Is everyone aware that the Strome History Book Committee holds a meeting every Wednesday night at 7:30 in the town hall? It would be appreciated if everyone would start on their own family history as there is much work to be done and not all that much time. Feel free to drop by anytime to see what is going on or to pick up brochures pertaining to the history book to send to relatives and friends who used to live in this area. Remember, this is a community effort.

Mrs. Ann Hill has gone to Edmonton for a few days to have some surgery done on her right hand at the University Hospital.

Mr. Elmer McDougall was home for the weekend but returned back to the hospital on Sunday for tests.

Mrs. Irene Mathers and Mr. and Mrs. Carl Ahlstrom of Edmonton were recent visitors at the Earl and Ken McDougall and Alvin Gordon homes.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Sig Johnson, who is a patient in the University Hospital due to a fall and had to have surgery on her hip.

COME ALIVE . . .

by Richard L. Conrad

The Master's Friendliness
Introduction:
Jesus was a friend to everyone that would permit Him so to be. Friendship must have a common ground; the ground of the Master's friendship is of His own choosing. We must meet Him on His own level if we are to bask in the sunshine of His friendship. A study of the Master's friendship leads us away from the world-wide aspect of His mission. But after all, He dealt with individuals and not with masses. Theology emphasizes His world Redeemers work, but to see Him as a friend we look for individual contact.
1. Its Individual Character:
Step into the Gospels and find Him a friend to little children. He took them upon His lap, into His arms. Certainly, they were individual children, not "the children of the world." He disregarded His message, at one time, to a group to minister to an unworthy woman. He enjoyed the hospitality of a man and two sisters in their home. He sat at the well side and made a friend of an outcast. Even in His little group of 12, there were three who understood Him better than the others. These were His particular friends. We find not an abstract, diffused, impersonal friendship, but a concrete, particular, personal friendship that seeks out the individual needy one. If you would make your friendship real, link it up with individuals. Friendship as an ideal is but a beautiful ideal. In practice, it realizes that ideal.
2. It Began In His Home Life:
We do not think often of the Master's home life. His ministry was but three years in length. He had a home life. We know nothing of it after His visit to the temple at the age of 12, except that "He grew in favour with God and man." But that is enough. His foster father's death, no doubt, was early in the Master's childhood. As eldest son, He became the head of the family at an early age. Marks of His early family life evidenced in His metaphors, "foundations of a house," "estimating the cost," "knows the cost of a sparrow is cheap," had seen His mother sew patches on a garment, marks the "widow and her gift." When one considers the tenderness of the Master in His ministry, one cannot but know that it began in His home. Where does our friendliness most often lose itself in something else - at home.
3. The Strength And Quality Of That Friendship:
Staunch – would not give up Judas before the utmost effort had been made to reclaim him. Honest – His friendship for Peter would not withhold the rebuke when needed. Sacrificial – "That a man lay down his life for his friend."
Conclusion:
Are you His friend? "If ye do whatsoever I command you."

4-H CLUB Activities

KILLAM 4-H HORSE CLUB

Bridles were everywhere when the Killam 4-H Horse Club met on Friday, January 5.

Every member brought their bridle and Mr. Wheller showed us how to clean them using saddle soap and mink oil. The saddle soap was to clean them and the mink oil was to soften the leather and help make the bridle waterproof. A bridle is used to control the horse. It consists of straps, a bit, and reins that fit on the horse's head and in his mouth. There are many kinds.

We gave impromptu speeches by using the last noun of the previous person. We had fun listening to our speeches on tape. Business was carried out and the next meeting will be on the second Friday in February because the vet is unable to come on our regular time.

Mr. Jack Hampshire offered to give us a hayride at his farm.

Lunch was served. Have a Happy New Year, everyone.

- Anna Christenson

MERNA 4-H CLUB

Despite the fact that is was a little cold outside, on Wednesday evening, December 27, it didn't stop Merna 4-Hers and their friends from gathering at Andersons' Hill for a fun-filled evening.

Everyone met at the hill around 4:30 p.m. and you could either skate or go tubing. The snow wasn't so great but the tubing was still fun and almost everyone took part in the hockey game, even if they couldn't skate so well.

After, everyone enjoyed a weiner roast and hot chocolate. We would like to thank the Andersons for the use of their hill.

- Deb Eldey

KILLAM NIMBLE THIMBLE CLOTHING CLUB

Two consecutive Mondays saw the Killam Nimble Thimble Clothing Club members making a good start on their projects for the year. New members were initiated into the mysteries of hemming while senior members pored knowledgeably over pattern books.

This year, the club members will combine their knowledge of sewing with practice in how to wear the garments they make to their best advantage.

Mrs. Knieval provided a special lunch with which to celebrate the coming of Christmas. The Christmas meeting was enhanced by a crib with figures brought from the Holy Land and carved from Olive wood.

The next meeting will take place on January 8.

Class to be held in Killam

"Marital break-up at an all-time high" was a headline recently in a daily newspaper. With many marriages in trouble, it seems timely to announce a series of classes dealing with marriage and the home.

Beginning Sunday, January 14, Killam Baptist Church will be sponsoring a weekly course, "Communication - Key to Your Marriage." Too many young couples enter marriage with unrealistic expectations. What they expected and what they experience are often shockingly different. Communication between husband and wife is often very superficial, or even nonexistent. The course deals with subjects like: "Who is in Charge?", "How Can You Make it Work?", "How Can Couples Learn to Really Communicate?", "Dealing With Anger," and "Dealing With Conflict."

The course will be taught by Ken Quiring of Leduc. Sessions begin at 10 a.m. each Sunday. There is no charge or obligation. For class participants who so desire, a paperback to accompany the course is available at cost. It is hoped that many folks from the community will avail themselves of the opportunity offered by this class.

Born and raised in Saskatchewan, Mr. Quiring has had wide experience dealing with the public. After graduating from Bible College in Karonport, he pioneered a church in Swift Current. Later, he ministered at Grace Church, Abbotsford for six years. During this time, the church doubled in size to 450. As well, the congregation built a new building with Christian Education facilities.

Speaking at young couples' retreats has been a feature of Mr. Quring's ministry. He has a special interest in the home and related areas. This has resulted in his participating in seminars around the country. It has also resulted in a busy counselling schedule. His background qualifies Mr. Quiring as a class leader as he teaches "Communication - Key to Your Marriage."

Mr. Quiring, who is married and has two children, will be the supply pastor at Killam Baptist Church for the months January, February and March. He is presently employed with All State Distributors in the field of marketing.

Many visitors to Lougheed

During the Christmas season, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White were supper guests at Mr. and Mrs. Porter O'Rielly's on the Sunday after Christmas. Then, they took in the candlelight service at Morna, which was very pretty.

Mr. and Mrs. John Skoberg and daughter of Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan, spent Christmas with Mrs. Lillian Skoberg, also, Mervin, Hazel and family.

Rev. and Mrs. Les Smith and family of Gwynne, also Pauline and daughters of Edmonton, spent Christmas with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Wylie and families.

Mr. and Mrs. Eric Toppe and children of Red Deer were home at the Melvin Larson's and other members of their families.

Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Potter and Lianne of Edmonton were home for an early Christmas at the George Potters. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Potter and Mr. Gravert of Hardisty were also present.

Mr. and Mrs. Andy Knapp and son Neil of Wetaskiwin were down and took in the New Year's dance and also visited friends in the district.

Mr. and Mr. Lloyd Schmidt and family have returned after spending Christmas at Vauxhall with Louise's parents and other relatives. Then, they motored to Weyburn, Saskatchewan, and spent a few days with Lloyd's parents and family.

Derek Probst returned to his home in Edmonton after spending the Christmas and New Year weeks with Grandpa and Grandma Probst. Derek also visited with his Uncle Doug and Auntie Janet, Kreshka and Molly.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ramsden visited with their son and wife, Jack and Elsie, during the holiday season.

Mr. and Mrs. George Potter and Blake flew to Clearbrook, B.C. for Christmas. They went with Mr. and Mrs. Lorne Potter and Leanne to Mrs. Lorne Potter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Hoffort. It was great to have a green Christmas.

Sorry to report Walter Markwart is back in the hospital after being home for a few days at Christmas time.

A whist drive was held at Bells Hill on Friday, January 5 with nine tables. Prize winners were: Mrs. Leonard Wold and David Livingston - Firsts; Mrs. Harvey Simpson and Clifford Simpson - Sweep; Mrs. Ralph Sisil and Darrell Mathews - Mystery; Mrs. B.A. Davidson and Vernon Simpson - Travelling; Mrs. Art Armstroug and John Baker - Consolation. See you at Goose Creek on Friday, January 12.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. A. Whitbeck on the death of Barb's sister in Sedgewick recently.

Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Lohr and daughters spent December 31 and New Year's Day visiting Lloyd's relatives in Camrose.

Looks like the Lougheed Arena and curling rink is very busy with hockey games, skating and curling.

There are a number of people who have colds and the flu. We wish you all a speedy recovery whether you are in hospitals or at home. Better stay in the warm than to go out and catch more cold with all our cold weather we are having just now.

Battle Bend News

The Cubs at Brownfield held their Christmas party December 21, when several boys were invested into the club. Among them were: Kevin Sakaluk and Steven Van Hecke of Battle Bend.

Mrs. Daisy Jensen spent Christmas at Dawson Creek with her son Robert and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Johnson were Christmas Day visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Harman Burpee of Hardisty. Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Burpee and boys from Sherwood Park, Mr. and Mrs. David Burpee and girls from Spruce Grove and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Swanson were all home for Christmas.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCracken and family were visiting Mrs. Ethel McCracken of Alliance on Christmas Day.

Mrs. Donna Polege and family were also there. Donna came out of the hospital just for the day. Sorry to report that Donna is still hospitalized. We wish her a speedy recovery.

Visitors at the William Whitelock home for Christmas Day were Lynn and Gail, Jim and Buelah, Steve and Leona.

Mr. David Livingston spent several days at Christmas time with his family, Mr and Mrs. Kozak and family, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Dorash and family, Mr. and Mrs. Barry Sydor and son Daryl. Charles went up for Christmas Day with the family.

Mrs. Martha Nokieby spent Christmas in Edmonton with her family.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Buchanan and Karen from Leduc were Christmas visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Danny Lawson. Karen stayed down for the holidays.

Mr. and Mrs. Stan Van Koughnett spent Christmas Eve in Hughenden with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Powell.

Mr. Randy Van Koughnett from Edmonton was down to spend Christmas with the family at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Van Koughnett in Sedgewick.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Harris, who were married December 23 and live on a farm site just out of Sedgewick. Frank works for the Town of Sedgewick.

Mr. Stan Van Koughnett is in Edmonton for a few days for a medical check-up.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCracken and family spent one evening during the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Cameron.

Mr. and Mrs. Hrabic from St. Paul stopped overnight with Mr. and Mrs. Doug Sakaluk and family on their way to spend New Year's in Medicine Hat.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross McCracken and family spent New Year's Day at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Reg Black of Brownfield.

Mrs. Adrie Cibart was an afternoon caller last Thursday at the Jensen home.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

THE EYE GAME

"Don't cry!" I begged my young brother. "That freezing air in your lungs will give you pneumonia again." Our parents had warned that crying could only make us colder.

We were riding double on our old school pony Duke, who couldn't run fast enough through the deep snow to keep us from nearly freezing in the 20 below zero weather.

Duke waded and puffed and blew steam until it froze and hung down in an icicle from his nose.

Our breath, too, froze on our woolen scarves wound about our necks and heads until only our eyes peeped out. We were bundled in winter clothes, toques, long coats, and large leather mitts lined with a couple pair of woolen mitts. But still my hands holding the reins were cold and I often slipped my thumbs under my fingers to warm them.

I didn't wear slacks - girls didn't. I wore bloomers, navy blue serge pleated bloomers, into which my dress was stuffed. No matter how nice it looked when I left home, it came out of those bloomers wrinkled-looking. My long coat sort of doubled up under my seat and wouldn't come around my thighs so they got icy cold next to the saddle. On my legs I wore long underwear and heavy-ribbed stockings. My feet were encased in several pairs of woolen socks rolled over the top of a pair of beaded moccasins. My feet in the stirrups felt like lumps of ice and I let them hang loose and kicked the horse's sides to make the feeling come back and urge him to hurry.

But eventually it was so cold it was hard not to cry and my little brother's complaints were getting louder. "I'm freezing to death," he cried.

"Let's learn the alphabet backwards. Perhaps if we don't think about the cold it won't be so bad. Let's see. xyz - xyz. What goes next?"

"I don't know. I'm too cold," he wailed. I persisted.

"Zyx . . . uv."

My brother sniffed loudly. "Ya dummy, it's rstuvwxyz," as he entered into the game.

"Zyxwv-u-tsr."

"Now let's see if we can say it. zyx-w-v-uo-"

"Tsr," he added.

"Now what letter?-lmnopqr-"

"Qpo-" and so it continued by trial and error as the horse lopped where he could or plunged through drifts.

"There, we've said it all! And thank goodness we've reached the livery stable."

Seeing how cold we were, the kindly livery stable attendant offered to look after our horse while we ran to school. Our feet felt like blocks of ice and hurt as we tried to hurry, and the increasing frost on our scarves made our noses colder.

At last we were in the school and the tears spilled over as we went to our classrooms. My girlfriends helped me unpin the scarf and undo my outer clothes. As I fumbled with the buttons, I wished the boys wouldn't watch me take off those hated bloomers. I turned my back on them, smoothed my rumpled dress, wiped my reddened eyes and blew my watery nose. I rubbed my hands through my hair to warm them a little as school was about to begin.

Later in the day, when my feet were really too warm, the chilblains began to hurt and itch. I tried to scratch, but it's not easy to scratch a foot through moccasins and several pairs of socks. The more I tried to scratch the more my feet itched. I was almost frantic and wished my feet would get cold again to stop the itching. Maybe it I could get my mind off them . . . perhaps I should play the game again.

JANUARY BLUES

All the hustle, bustle and excitement of Christmas is over. The weather is miserable, the days too short, and you're wondering what to do with yourself.

If this describes you, you are probably suffering from a case of January Blues.

Well, cheer up! Why not enrol in Adult Learning Classes. It's a great way to get out, meet new people, plus learn a skill or participate in a new activity. Flagstaff Further Education can boast of a vast array of activities from yoga, cooking, and mechanics to animal nutrition. These courses are offered in most towns in the county. Contact Jean Johnson, co-ordinator, at 384-3772 for further information.

ALBERTA AGRICULTURE WINTER COURSES

Alberta Agriculture is also offering a variety of courses this winter. For further information, contact the Agriculture office at 384-3737.

HOME STUDY PROGRAM

The Alberta Rapeseed Course is a home-study course consisting of eight lessons, supplemented by radio and television programs, local study lessons, newspaper columns, and local seminars. It will provide indepth information on varieties; how to seed, fertilize, harvest and store rapeseed; plus insect and weed control; and marketing procedures. The course begins January 15, so get your registration forms in now. Course cost is $20.

The Farm Home Planning Course is designed to emphasize the importance of planning in undertaking any housing project, whether it be building a new home or remodelling your present one. There are two alternatives you can choose from - a unit on the New Home and one on the Remodelled Home. Each unit consists of four lessons, covering topics such as siting, planning, construction, design and decoration.

Radio, newspaper and television programs will complement the course, plus local seminars. The course registration is January 29, with the fee $20. You can pick up registration forms at our office. Watch this column for local seminar topics, times and places.

4H CLUB Activities

HEISLER SOUTH 4-H DAIRY CLUB

On Sunday, December 17, the Heisler South 4-H Dairy Club had its meeting and Christmas party.

We voted on who was going to go to the Dairymen's Convention in Calgary. Jane Martz was picked and Karen Lunty was the alternative.

We decided to go skiing during the Christmas holidays. We closed the meeting and started the party. We played some games and opened gifts. Then, we had lunch served by Circle 3.

Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Link and family are off to Hawaii for the next two weeks.

Home for Christmas with the Toby Schweitzers were Mr. and Mrs. Richard Billard and family of Shaunavon, Saskatchewan and Mr. and Mrs. John McEachnie of Edmonton. Then, for dinner on Christmas were Grandpa McMahon, Nick Schweitzer, Kenneth McMahon and Aunt Olive.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Roberts (nee Myrna Schweitzer) of Watson Lake, Yukon, recently won a $5,000 pot on an Elks draw. It was an exciting birthday gift for Myrna. Congratulations.

Mr. Shasker Amin of Edmonton spent the Christmas holidays with parents, Dr. and Mrs. Amin and family.

Mrs. Annie Kisner spent the Christmas holidays with Mrs. Catheryn James and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kisner and family at Sherwood Park.

Mr. and Mrs. George Bonnett and Mrs. Margaret Gillespie spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. Norman Bonnett and family in Camrose. Mr. and Mrs. Morris Bonnett and family of Surrey, B.C. also visited their parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Bonnett.

Mrs. Ina Busse spent the holidays in Edmonton with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Busse and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Al Wallace and family spent Cristmas with relations at Pine Lake.

Sympathy goes out to Miss Olive Kelley and Mr. Bill McMahon and family in their loss of Mr. Frank Kelley from Clarkston, Washington. Frank was a brother of Olive's, and an oldtimer of the Killam district.

The flu, bad colds and mumps are still going full force. I always heard you can only get mumps once but it seems not. Joann can tell you that you can get them twice, in fact, has heard of one who has had them three times.

Sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Marion Bevington and family and Mr. Bill McMahon and family in their loss of Mr. Duncan Wellington McMahon, who passed away in B.C. at the age of 83. Duncan was well-known in our area as he was born here.

Deepest sympathy goes out to all Murray relations in the loss of Mr. George Murray, who passed away in Calgary. George was an old-timer of the Killam district and will be remembered by many friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross York and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Callas and family of Grande Centre spent the holidays with Mr. and Mrs. Gary Weys and family at Fort Langley, B.C.

Congratulations to Mr. Steve Mazure of Hardisty and Miss Wendy Fossen who recently became engaged.

Misses Pat and Gail Kueber of Edmonton were holiday visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ernie Kueber and family.

Home for a month with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Les Palmer, were Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Winter and family from Petawawa, Ontario. Jeff was on leave after his six months duty in Cyprus. From here they went to visit Jeff's mother and family at Penticton, B.C.

Mr. Joe Kueber and Miss Mary-Lyn Kueber of Edmonton were holiday visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Kueber and family.

Nice to hear Sister Marilyn is back after five months in the east and now will be in Edmonton.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Davison motored to B.C. and Oregon for the holidays.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Bricker who are the proud parents of the New Year's baby in the Killam General Hospital. The baby boy was born January 2 and weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces. His name will be Paul William Ralph. Proud great grandparents for the first time are Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bricker.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruno Bagdan and family spent New Year's at Swan Hills with Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Thomas and family and Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Thomas and family.

Deepest sympathy goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Evold Larsen and Mr. and Mrs. Terry Pederson and family in their loss of Anna's father, Mr. John Hansen, who passed away on January 6, 1979 at the age of 85 years in Jylland, Denmark.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob James and family, Mr. and Mrs. Wade Bonnett and family, Mr. and Mrs. Ron Bendfeld and family of Heisler, Mr. and Mrs. Bill James and family of Calgary, Miss Debbie James of Edmonton and Mr. Bud James all went by plane to Phoenix, Arizona to spend the holidays with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sid James.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Brian Morgan and Billy on the weekend were Miss Corinna McLeod and friend Barry of Edmonton.

Miss Dianne Erickson and Mr. and Mrs. Al Dibbons and family of Rimbey and Mr. and Mrs. Brian Woodward of The Pas, Manitoba were Christmas visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Erickson. Herman and Betty spent New Year's in Rimbey.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Beairsto and family were recent visitors with their mother, Mrs. Evelyn Grant.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Grant and family, Mrs. Eva Grant and Mrs. Lara Erickson spent Christmas in Edmonton with Mr. and Mrs. Doug Grant and family. Mrs. Erickson is in Edmonton visiting Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Barker for a few weeks.

Mrs. Florence Quinton, Mrs. Rene Busse of Edmonton, and a sister and brother-in-law of Vancouver are off to Hawaii for the next couple of weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan spent an evening with Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roggensack in their new home at Sedgewick before Myrt and Glen left for Hawaii for the next few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Marius Fossen of Forestburg were visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Ted Erickson, who were both in hospital. They are both at home from hospital now.

Couple exchange their vows

Knox United Church in Killam, Alberta, was the scene of a pretty wedding on Saturday, October 28, 1978, when Paula Jean, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Schweitzer, became the bride of John Alexander, only son of Mr. and Mrs. Alexander McEachnie of Dundalk, Ontario.

Pastor Thomas McLaughlin officiated at the impressive double-ring ceremony. Mrs. Sheila Child presided at the organ.

As friends and relatives sang the hymn "Praise the Lord," the bridesmaid, Miss Barbara Makus, proceeded to the altar followed by the bride and her father.

Given in marriage by her parents, the bride looked radiant in a simple gown of crystal-pleated polyester. Special features of her gown were the empire waistline and a yoke of lace with a high-buttoned neckline edged in lace. She wore a shoulder-length, four-tier illusion net headpiece. Her bouquet was dried autumn flowers in shades of burgundy, orange and yellow.

The bride's only attendant was Miss Barbara Makus of Edmonton, a friend from school days at Alberta College. Her gown was of sea de pois in a delicate coral shade. She carried a nosegay of dried autumn flowers matching those of the bride.

Mr. James Ginther of Edmonton was the groom's attendant. He and the groom were attired in identical business suits and ties. Their boutonnieres were in autumn shades, complementing those of the bride's bouquet.

Guests were ushered to their places by Mr. Bill Schweitzer, brother of the bride, and Mr. Dave Wiltshire of Edmonton, friend of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a figured polyester gown in shades of beige and orange, featuring a front-tied jacket. For her son's wedding, Mrs. McEachnie chose a floor-length jacket and gown ensemble in a peach colour. Both mothers were corsages of dried autumn flowers.

A reception for approximately 70 guests was held in the lower church hall, which was suitably decorated with white and orange bells and streamers.

The head table featured a three-tier cake flanked by white candles in a crystal candelabra. The cake, baked and decorated by Mrs. Lis Brodie, was adorned on the top tier with a bouquet of tiny orange roses.

Mr. Bernard McMahon, uncle of the bride, capably and humorously acted as Master of Ceremonies. A toast to the bride was proposed by Mr. A.J. Holloway of Edmonton, to this, the groom suitably responded.

Mrs. Myrna Roberts of Watson Lake, Yukon was in charge of the guest book.

An open house and dance held at the Elks Hall was well attended by guests and other friends in the community. A buffet lunch was served at midnight.

Paula and John were greatly honoured by the presence of three very special people at their wedding celebration. These were a great aunt, Miss Olive Kelley of Killam, and grandfathers, Mr. Wellington McMahon of Flagstaff Lodge at Sedgewick and Mr. Earl Ludlow of Dundalk, Ontario.

Many friends and relatives attended from out of the province and from out of town, including Dundalk, Paisley and Deseronto, Ontario; Shaunavon, Saskatchewan; Watson Lake, Yukon; Edmonton, Ponoka, St. Paul, Therien and Camrose.

After a brief honeymoon to the Banff-Jasper regions, the young couple returned to their Edmonton residence, #308, 11480 - 40 Avenue. The bride is employed as a secretary at the Justik Clinic. The groom is apprenticing as a sheet metal worker with the Brytex Company.

PUBLIC NOTICE
VILLAGE OF LOUGHEED
TAKE NOTICE THAT the Council of the Village of Lougheed, in the Province of Alberta, has given first reading to money By-Law No. 430 which will, on final approval and ratification, authorize Council to borrow monies by way of debenture, for the purpose of acquiring land in Section 23-43-11-W4, lying within and without its municipal limits, being 648 acres (more or less).
The estimated total cost of the aforesaid land amounts to $178,400.00. The net amount to be borrowed on the credit and security of the municipality at large by the issue of debentures is $178,400.00. The debentures are to be repayable to the bearer in twenty-five (25) equal consecutive annual instalments of combined principal and interest, the interest not to exceed a rate of more than twelve per cent (12%) per annum.
NOTICE THEREFORE is hereby given by the Council of the Village of Lougheed that, unless a poll of the proprietary electors for and against the said debenture borrowing is demanded, as provided for by the terms of the Municipal Act, the said Council may pass the said By-Law and submit it to the Local Authorities Board for final ratification and certification that a vote of the proprietary electors thereon is not required. OF WHICH ALL PERSONS interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.
NOTICE TO PROPRIETARY ELECTORS
A proprietary elector is:
(i) an elector whose name appears on the assessment roll in respect of land liable to assessment and taxation for general municipal purposes, and is resident in the municipality; and
(ii) an elector who is liable for the payment of a mobile unit license, and is resident in the municipality.
Fifteen per cent (15%) of the proprietary electors may by petition request a vote on a money By-Law under the provisions of Sections 311 and 7 of the Municipal Government Act.
1. The petition must be received by the municipal secretary within fifteen (15) days of the last publication of this notice and shall contain on each page an accurate and identical statement of the purpose and objectives of the petition.
2. Each signature to the petition shall be witnessed by an adult person who shall take an affidavit that to the best of his belief the persons whose signatures he has witnesses are qualified to vote at a general election.
3. There shall be set out opposite each signature on the petition:
(a) the legal description of the property or other qualifications entitling that person to be a proprietary elector.
(b) the postal address of the petitioner.
(c) the occupation of the petitioner.
4. A corporation or a church or other religious organization or an estate, the name of which appears on the last revised assessment roll as the owner, conditional owner or purchaser of land that is not exempt from taxation, may in writing authorize a resident representative to sign a petition on behalf of the corporation or a church or other religious organization or an estate.
5. The petition shall be filed with the municipal secretary who shall, in accordance with the Act, compute the number of petitioners that have signed the petition and determine the sufficiency thereof.
6. Every petition shall have attached to it a signed statement of a person whose name appears upon the petition, stating that he represents the petitioners and that he is the person to whom the municipality may direct any enquiries with regard to the petition.
7. No name shall be removed from the petition after it has been received by the municipal secretary.
8. The date of the last publication of this Notice is January 18, 1979.

IN MEMORIUM

COLEMAN — In loving memory of a dear husband and father, Jack Coleman who passed away January 18, 1978.
What we would give if we could say,
Hello Dad, in the same old way,
To hear your voice, to see your smile,
To sit and chat, with you awhile.
We hold our tears, when we speak your name,
But the ache in our hearts, remain the same.
Always remembered and sadly missed by his wife Anna, daughters, sons-in-law and grandchildren.

Daysland business moves

Shirley Block, owner of Shirley's Fashions in Daysland (formerly Daysland Fashions), has moved into new premises and held an opening on Friday, January 5, 1979. The new building has four times the space of the previous store, and allows a larger and better display of ladies' fashions.

Shirley and her helpers took time on opening day to pose for a photo. Shown are: (left to right) Shirley Block, Elsie Block, Theresa Campbell and Norma Hanrahan.

Hardisty and District News

(This intended for last week.)

Allen Nelson, accompanied by his mother, spent awhile in Camrose, and who should Isabel meet but Gertie Gibson. It was so nice to see her again.

Mary Griebel dropped in on Sunday to say "hello" and "good bye" as she had tried to call on us many as possible. We are surely glad to learn that her husband has improved tremendously after the blood clot was found and removed.

Myrtle Andrews, down in Illinois, says her oldest son would like to retire in the Hardisty area and she would love to be back here, too.

Daisy Chomyshen went to Blackfalds last Wednesday to visit her son Jim and his wife, Gail, and to see her new granddaughter, Judy Lyn, who was born December 18 and weighing 7 pounds, 7 ounces.

Edna Wells spent Christmas with her seven children in Wainwright, the first time all have been together for Christmas for some time.

Congratulations to the winners at the TomBoy store. The first draw for a turkey was won by Kathleen Manning, second, a ham won by Mona Schlosser and third, a Venice dinner set was won by Anna Sarugs.

Sympathy is extended to Stan Jamieson and family of Senlac, Madeline Brown and family, and also, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Jamieson of Sedgewick on the passing away of Mrs. Stan Jamieson, who was Madeline's sister-in-law.

The funeral was held in Metiskow, where Mildred Jamieson (nee Erickson) lived most of her life.

Isable Nelson attended the funeral and spent the rest of the time with her brother Ronnie, as with that blizzard the weather was impossible for her niece, Wanda Todd, to bring her home.

Olaf Nelson and Isabel Nelson spent the Christmas holidays in Camrose Christmas Eve with Mrs. Eldey Broen and family.

Christmas and Boxing Day were spent with daughter Mary Broen and family. Around 8 a.m. Boxing Day, grandson Kevin, with his dad Lorne, boarded a Greyhound bus with Kevin's hockey team and headed for a hockey tournament at Fort St. John, B.C.

Congratulations to Lloyd Colbert of Hughenden on winning the beautiful comforter at the Dar-Lyn Clothing store.

Sympathy goes to Allen Jamieson on the passing of his cousin Bill Small of Czar but more recently of Wainwright.

Bill Small was an old-timer in the Czar area, and in spite of a long illness, was determined to enjoy his life as much as possible, even attending a cattle sale not too long before his passing. A great example to many of us who at times feel sorry for ourselves.

Sympathy goes to Louis Miller and his sisters Edith and Verda on the passing away of their mother, who lived in the Forsyth area for many years. Mrs. Miller, had she lived until January 7, would have been 101 years old, a wonderful age for a wonderful lady.

As we know that the wonderful diabetic specialist, Dr. Brown in Edmonton, is a brother of Rosalie Woods, who lived here with her husband Bob and family. So Carl Anderson kindly filled me in about the children now grown-up. Melody is a dentist in Winnipeg working with other dentists in a clinic, I believe, and Murray is a computer technologist in Vancouver.

Thompson's Drugs had a draw for Christmas, too, and congratulations are in order to Mrs. Lillian Sherlock for winning the lovely clock and to Mrs. Olive Foster for winning the turkey.

Stan Jamieson and family spent Christmas with the Jake Brown family at Rosie's home.

John and Lillian Sherlock had their daughter and her family from Calgary home for Christmas.

Faith Quast of Creston, B.C., spent a few days with her grandparents, the Bob Quasts. It was sure nice to see Faith again. Also visiting at the Bob Quast's was daughter Linda, who is having holidays now, and the Chris Bechtold family of Calgary, who came up for Christmas.

Nice to see Peter Gossard in town. They must have missed a white Christmas in these southern parts.

Rod Todd of Hughenden stopped in to say "hello" to his aunt, Isabel Nelson, last Thursday.

An item from a Calgary paper stating that Wade Mattson, born in Hardisty, educated in Edmonton, was appointed to the position of Manager, Project Development Division of Engineered Homes Ltd. He will be responsible for the development of multiple housing projects for the total Calgary area.

A nice addition to the town decorations was that lovely star on the Wheat Pool elevator.

Guests at the Joe Sarugs home for Christmas Eve were Henry, Teresa Opgenorth and family of Edmonton along with Teresa's parents from Poland, who are visiting their daughter during their first time in Canada.

The judges who were members of the Lougheed Lions Club made a tour of Hardisty to judge the nicest decorated homes and this is what they came up with. 1st - Paul Dion, 2nd - Perry Powell, and 3rd - Pat Madden. Honourable Mention went to Walter Korol, Lorne Alderdice, Laurel Bitser and Norman Moser.

The voucher at Annie Whitehead's shop was won by Doris Powell.

Myrtle Baron stopped in Hardisty between buses to visit with the Perry Powells.

Mrs. A. Parsons managed to have two Christmasses this year. On December 23, her son Zane came for her and she spent a Christmas with her daughter Sadie and James McClements. Also there were Sadie and James' children and grandchildren.

Then, for Christmas Day, she visited Zane and Marjorie and they had a big time at the home of Mrs. Rawliuk. Zane saw his mother safely home again after all this joyous celebrating.

We wish to welcome Lorne and Gloria Cook and family to Hardisty. They are here from Ft. McMurray and Lorne is the manager of the liquor store.

Phoned Ida Timmins in Provost while at Metiskow and she spent Christmas with Gerry and her husband in Calgary and also visited Corporal and Mrs. Jim Timmins of Lethbridge.

Also phoned Vivian Israelson (nee Gooch), who was widowed last July. She hoped to spend Christmas with her daughter Elaine.

While coming home on the bus from Camrose, this young girl spoke to me and it was Linda Holmes of Red Deer. She and her dad, Keith Hobson, had lost touch with each other until a few months ago and she was met at the bus depot by Keith. She and her brother were pretty young when they left Hardisty.

Just got the results of the hockey tournament at Fort St. John, B.C., where grandson Kevin Broen played in the "B" Division. Prince George was first, Dawson Creek second and Elmtree third.

Camrose won three games and lost two. Pretty good as it was a long way up there.

Evidently, one of the basketball players in the 1925 picture printed a few weeks ago was misidentified. Instead of Flora Nadeau, she took the picture, Leila Graham was one of the players. She identified herself when her sister Phyllis sent her the picture and names and she was very, very pleased to get the picture.

Sympathy from the district to Bernice and Hume Pertoven and family on the passing of Bernice's mother in Cupar, Saskatchewan. Bernice has been in Saskatchewan caring for her father in his home.

Hardisty and District News

Allen Lawson and Isabel Nelson spent a very lovely evening at the Ben Cibart home. Allen will be spending a few weeks at the Cibart home.

Tuesday morning, I saw Reg Barnes bringing in his nearly-grown-up sons to catch the bus. The Quasts brought Linda in, too, to go back to Calgary. And Ken Williams had a very pretty young lady with him, who was going on the bus. The bus was quite full, everyone going back after the holidays.

Your reporter was pleasantly surprised Friday night when a friend of long-time from Czar, Mrs. Dorothy Axley, called as she had brought some young hockey players for the game.

Christmas was a real family reunion for the Pete Gussard family. It was the first Christmas in their own home for six years.

Annette and her husband came from Vancouver, Marianne and family from Beehaw, Leon and his wife from Williams Lake, Noel and family from Edmonton with his wife coming down a few days ahead of Christmas to help Jean get ready for the big event, Paul was home from the far north and 11 grandchildren were also there.

Paul is now a full-fledged teacher and, at present, is working 500 miles from the North Pole for Pan Arctic. Paul is a very versatile fellow and is just as capable of running different Arctic machines as he is teaching school. Anyway, congratulations to this well-known family for having such a lovely time.

Margaret Cheram has returned home from a family Christmas reunion in New Westminster. She was welcomed by a nice blanket of snow which the children thought great for making snowmen. The Fraser River was frozen over, which does not happen very often.

Margaret's sister, Charlotte Gustafson from Stockton, California, her brother, Dave Malloy and family of Campbell River, and they their cousin, Ross St. John of Montreal, as well as plenty of nieces and nephews attended this great time and it must have kept Margaret's sister, Mrs. Harry Trice, busy cooking all the time.

There were five tables of cards at the Drop-In Centre last Saturday. Gents' high went to Bertha Chapman while low went to Eleanor Moody. Ladies' high was Gladys Abbott and low was Rita Hays.

Curling is in full swing now, too, so many activities and not enough people to attend everything.

Cyril and Marguerite Drever spent Christmas with Doug and Linda and family in town.

Sorry that we did not learn of Marguerite's lengthy stay in hospital, coming home just before Christmas. We wish her a long stay away from the hospital in 1979.

The Stroog Ladies held their annual meeting in the Drop-In Centre on January 3 with Isabel Nelson as hostess and co-hostesses Gladys Goodrich, Ruth Moor and Bernice Tillmar bringing a lovely loaf for lunch. The new president is Mary Korth, replacing Erma Matthews. Vice-President Winnie Goodrich is replacing Marg Korth and Secretary-Treasurer Ruth Moor is replacing Mary Goodrich. The lunch committee is Isabel Nelson and Virginnia Johnson and the entertainment committee is Vera Hinkey and Laurie Goodrich.

It was brought to the attention of the members that a gentleman pool player was horrified to see so many ceramics sitting on the table. This had been verified by a Christmas party guest, too, as it messes up the felt covering. So, we non-pool players learned something, too.

An audit of the books was called for before the new secretary-treasurer took over, as in the usual procedure.

It was also moved that the president and secretary-treasurer should not hold office longer than two years.

Although the date was not set, we are hoping to have a January meeting as soon as our new president completes the move to her new home.

The meeting closed with lunch being served and wishing Virginnia and Gus a good trip to Hawaii.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fuller of Three Hills visited with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Barney Matthews, during the holiday week. Also visiting with Barbe and Barney were Mrs. Linda Torpe and baby Jehanna of Killam and Mr. and Mrs. Dick Matthews and David of Sedgewick.

Frank Matthews phoned before Christmas from Cairo and they spent Christmas in Kenya.

Conservation plans continue

The top photo shows an ice hole being cut out in order to lower a straw bale into it. The bale makes for a nice resting place for both crew and geese

Iron Creek Fish and Game members were again busy this past year with their ongoing conservation programs. One hundred pheasant chicks were raised and released this fall at 12 weeks of age. Very good success was had in raising these pheasants. The pheasant pens were enlarged this past spring to accommodate 200 birds, but due to problems at the Brooks' hatchery, we only received 100 chicks. Next year, we hope to raise 200 pheasants.

The association has again been active in improving habitat for the Canada Geese. To do this, large round flax straw bales are put in sheltered areas of bodies of water that geese use. The bale makes a predator-proof nesting site. It was reported this summer that some of these sites were used. One of the geese that was released on Bellshill Lake two years ago nested and raised a brood in the area this past summer, so our efforts are starting to show results.

Owen's Pond was stocked with 2,000 Rainbow Trout in May, 1972 and many hours of recreation resulted. However, due to the weather conditions, we had a problem with a fall die-off in September. It will be stocked again in the spring.

The annual meeting of the Iron Creek Fish and Game Association will be held January 9, 1979 in the Lougheed Legion Hut. A new executive will be chosen, as well as regular business looked after.

The Trophy Night and Banquet will be held March 3 in Lougheed.

Something new was done this summer in the form of a camp-out. This campout was held west of Rocky Mountain House along one of the streams. An enjoyable time and good fishing for trout was reported. Plans are being discussed for another campout next year. If you are interested, see Ab Martin.

Reg Fee (centre), new president of Fee and Sons (1978) Ltd., stands with Edward Fee (left) and Gordon Fee (right). The change was effective January 1, 1979.

Business sees third generation

On a June morning in Killam 69 years ago, it snowed. But weather didn't deter Albert Edward Fee from opening his store to business for the first time. Today, the store continues to be opened by a third generation of that family: Reg Fee.

Mr. Fee became president this year of the family hardware business and funeral service which was previously operated by his father and uncle, Gordon and Edward Fee. They will continue to assist in the operation until they retire.

The new president first started working the family business in 1961 after completing high school In 1966, after receiving his embalmer's license, he moved to Edmonton and began working at Park Memorial Ltd.

In 1967, Mr. Fee spent a short time with Shermans (Link) Hardware in Fort Saskatchewan before returning to the funeral profession in July of that year with the Howard and McBride Funeral Home in Edmonton.

He remained with that firm until June, 1978, when he and his family returned to his native Killam and Fee and Sons Ltd.

In assuming the position of president, Reg Fee said he would maintain the quality of product and service that has been synonymous with the name Fee since 1910.

One area that definitely will remain unchanged is the store's paint department. Fee and Sons was one of the first distributors of Bapco Paints in Alberta and has the distinction of being that company's oldest distributor. In fact, said Reg, when Fee and Sons became a member of the Link Hardware chain 14 years ago, it was agreed that the store would continue to carry Bapco paint even though it was not in the Link line of products.

In addition to its hardware and furniture departments, Fee and Sons was also one of the first licensed funeral services established in Alberta. It began in 1913 and remains as a charter member of the Alberta Funeral Directors and Embalmers Association.

The only immediate change in the family business will be the name. Effective January 1, 1979, it became Fee and Sons (1978) Ltd.

New bakery opens

The new year brought a new business to Killam residents as well as to those in Hardisty, Irma, Viking, Lougheed and Sedgewick. Brodie's Bakery will be carrying a full line of baking products at least once a week to those centres.

The bakery, situated in Killam on Highway 13, opened Tuesday, January 9 after almost a full year of planning and building. Owners and operators of the new business are Lis and Stan Brodie. Lis brings a lifetime of baking knowledge into the business. She's from Copenhagen, Denmark – home of world-famous Danish pastry – and her parents used to own the bakery in Viking where she worked as a girl.

Even though she grew up in the trade, Lis attended NAIT in what was the first baking apprenticeship course in Canada. In fact, as of 1966, she was the first woman in the country to obtain her journeyman baker's

Legislative Report:

Salary up for MLAs

MLAs can probably count on salary increases in 1979. But plans to overhaul the rates do not include making new levels known before the election due in the first half of the new year.

Premier Peter Lougheed expected, he said in an interview, to have the salaries reviewed after the next voting by a committee of public representatives and an Alberta Supreme Court judge.

The premier said that plan would continue a tradition of seeking independent recommendations on pay, "we'll be prepared to accept them whether we like it or not."

He could be persuaded handsome bikes would be fair. Catch-up raises ranging from $478 a year to $4,602 – 2.5 to 8.9 per cent – are already available without a study or legislation after April 1.

The present scale, enacted in 1975 after the last election following a committee review, scheduled four April 1 raises. The full amount has not yet been taken.

The legislature fell behind in 1978 when all MLAs, following the Conservatives' lead, tried to set an example for the public service and voluntarily held their raise down to six per cent.

Back-benchers now receive $18,225, which is 2.6 per cent or $478 less than the $18,703 the 1975 rules permit. At $46,211, ministers and the opposition leader are $2,975 or 6.4 per cent behind the scale's $49,186. The premier, at $51,511, is $4,602 under the allowed rate and could receive $56,113 or 8.9 per cent more.

House salaries all include a tax-free expense allowance which is traditionally a third of the total MLA rate. The allowances, now $6,075, could be $6,254, according to the present rules.

Lougheed is expected to call the election any time after the next conference on the constitution between the provincial premiers and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau, February 5 and 6.

Whether to take catch-up raises under the 1975 pay scale and make them the starting point for the next round of raises could be one of the first decisions the new house will face.

Lougheed called legislature pay raises "a difficult problem" and at least a minor factor behind the withdrawal of a third of his cabinet ministers from the running for re-election.

"It used to be traditional that they (ministers) would be people who were well on in their career time. Now, because of the stresses, strains and demands of government, we're asking people to serve at this high management level in the high-earning years."

While he would accept an independent committee's recommendations, he was reluctant to use the same yardstick for ministers as public employees, who face a six to 7.5 per cent ceiling on raises in 1979.

County Social Services names new director

The Flagstaff Preventive Social Services Board is pleased to announce its appointment of Paul Bujold, former of St. Albert, as its new director.

Paul, his wife Cynthia and infant daughter Mattea, have taken up temporary residence in Lougheed and are seeking a two- or three-bedroom home in Killam where the PSS offices are located.

This personable young man holds a B.Sc. degree in Humanistic Psychology, is completing his Masters in Community Development and has had considerable experience in related fields. His wife is a gymnastics coach.

The PSS board has set as priorities, the development of Home Care, Family Life Education and Community Development. Paul has already designed his approach to all of these programs.

Watch for an announcement soon of "Open House" in the PSS building at Killam, where you may have the opportunity of meeting Paul and his family, the staff, the board, and familiarise yourself with the planning and resources of PSS available to you.

Recognizing the 'have to' syndrome

Sitting over coffee last week, I couln't help but overhear a conversation in the next booth between two gentlemen. As the topic of their discussion is one in which I have strong feelings, I must admit I didn't try too hard not to listen.

The considerably younger man was laying out his job-hunting plans, which included the age-old trek to the north where conditions may be hard, but by gum, the money's good and the benefits are incredible.

It was when the young man outlined the "benefits" that I really straightened in my chair. The beneifts weren't incredible, they were INCREDIBLE. Why, his wages paied in comparison. Reminded me of the cartoon where a robber is demanding of the bank teller: "Never mind the payroll, just hand over the deductions." Get the idea. That land of incredible.

But it was this young man's attitude toward the benefits this particular oil company was offering that bothered me. No gratitude. No appreciation. And when his coffeeing partner questioned him on this, the young man's eyes held a look of horror, "Why, they have to give us those things."

Now, and as many employers will back me up, they don't have to do anything. I'm sure that given the chance, up-north employers would-n't serve steak to their employees everyday. That's no exaggeration. I know of one camp where the men refused to eat good old stew or roast chicken. It had to be prime beef – rib or steak. And the big boys comply because they can't afford to say no. There's other camps, and this back-against-the-wall manoeuver by individuals and certain unions have made sure the men will get what they want somewhere else. But this isn't a debate on unions, or a call for understanding of those "poor little rich boys who have to run the big oil companies." No, the concern here is about the attitude of "They have to give us those things."

What happened to the old work ethic? What happened to doing a job to the best of a person's capabilities – and being proud of it.? It's been replaced, I'm afraid, with the nonchalant attitude that the employer is lucky - nay, blessed - to have a particular person working for him. I always thought the employee was the one to feel fortunate on landing a job. But today there are many other individuals like this young man who really believe they're doing a boss a favour by considering their job.

An interesting study on the topic of "have to" would be to take a survey of coffee breaks. Yes, those 15-minute rituals when a silent alarm seems to go off. An alarm, by the way, that can only be heard by employees. Those 15-minute hotbeds of gossip and slander have ruined many an office atmosphere by pitting one against another for the bosses' favour. Whether we believe in the ethics of coffee breaks or not is certainly an interesting point to ponder, but I find interest in asking how many believe in coffee breaks themselves. I've posed the question before on an individual basis and more often than not, the answer was: "Oh, but we have to take coffee breaks. It's in the law." Bad news, friends. There is no law in Canada that reads "employers must give employees a coffee break." The only thing an employer has to give his employees (besides basic human rights) is a lunch break – and he picks how long. Many of the decent conditions in which we work are by an employer's good graces – not because he "has to." (Nowadays, mind you, it's becoming the unions that are deciding how much that grace is going to include.)

In Canada, we are plagued by a severe unemployment situation that is adding considerably to our economic crisis. I for one don't believe 95 per cent of those people can't find jobs. The jobs are there. That's a fact, and any intelligent person wouldn't use it as an excuse. He just doesn't have the statistics in his favour. No, a lot of people can't find jobs because of the "have to" syndrome.

by Truncate

BEING A MEMBER of the Hospital Board, which looks after the hospital situation locally, I was concerned with a remark made at one of the board meetings some time ago. It was to the effect that some of the patients in Auxiliary Hospitals and Nursing Homes are extremely lonesome. We think this is an understandable situation and a natural one. But what concerned me mostly was the fact that they are lonesome because their families and friends have forgotten them, at least to some degree. They feel alone. In this connection, I recall an old saying which has remained with me over the years: "You may leave me alone, and yet I am not alone."

THERE IS A BIG DIFFERENCE between being alone and being lonely. "You never walk alone" is the title of a recently popular song that is a pleasant contrast with the many other songs which holler and scream the theme of loneliness and estrangement. Loneliness is inevitable. We were made special beings, but we were also made as individuals. We are linked to other lives by innumerable ties, and yet in our most serious experiences, we are profoundly alone. In all our greatest joys and sorrows there is an incommunicable element, something that no one else can share with us.

SOMETIMES LONELINESS is desirable. Consider the loneliness, not only of individuality, but the loneliness of the thinker, etc. Life may just possibly move on a higher level after a period of loneliness. It is not always possible to run one's life with the hurly-burly of activity and energy. Sometimes we meet crisis best in loneliness. A certain amount of solitude is essential for health. There are times when we must get away from ourselves to get the glare out of our eyes and take a new hold on things that belong to our peace of mind. Even a ship, you know, has to put into some quiet place to refit and have her compass adjusted so that she may keep her course and not lose her way in the mist, or perish on the rocks.

OUT OF THESE restorative periods can come wisdom, understanding and compassion. But, you know, loneliness is expendable, so we should invest it in doing something for somebody else. We may live by ourselves, but we do not need to live by ourselves. The problem is not to live in loneliness and like it; the problem is to think about other people, or even one person, and invest something of yourself in others. If we solve this problem we may discover than loneliness has been banished. Lewis Mumford tells us that, "to make ourselves capable of loving is the paramount problem of interation."

BEING ALONE AND BEING LONELY are two entirely different things. How often in times of trouble and sorrow or misfortune we hear people say, "I didn't know I had so many friends." All mankind is with you. I believe that is a universal experience. You do not live alone. Deep in your fellow man is an awareness of you, a responsiveness to you. It is one of the very nice mysterious facts of life, that when you feel deeply alone, at that time you can feel closest to your fellow men. There are moments of loneliness for all of us; moments when nothing and no one can fill the empty space but God. But through this knowledge, we are brought into the community which has no frontiers in time and space.

YES, THESE PEOPLE in Auxiliary Hospitals and Nursing Homes are going to have their periods of being lonely. We can't help them there. But we can lessen the impact and shorten the frequency of their occurence with a visit, a few kind words and a cheerful attitude. Hospital staffs do this every day, beyond the mere call of duty, and to them we extend our thanks and our appreciation, along with our wish for a satisfying and contented year.

What Others Say

MLAs and ethics

It seems passing strange that there is suggestion preparing a code of ethics or some similar document as a guideline for our provincial MLAs. Mr. Lougheed doesn't think it necessary but that recent experience with airline passes still must be a source of minor embarrassment.

If a code of ethics is prepared we trust the guidelines go further than outlining behavior and conduct in public. There also should be no indication that the government is leaning on people in sensitive positions – those whose jobs had depended on governmental recommendation or appointment. There is the appearance that some men in such positions are campaigning for funds for the PC government. This is not politically proper nor socially desirable.

As for private lives, it is difficult for guidelines to be laid down in that direction. Such would tend to interfere with basic freedoms and rights.

No, we don't think a code of ethics is a serious need for Alberta MLAs. On the whole their conduct appears to be proper and acceptable although there are one or two members who, if we shook hands with them, we would be strongly inclined to count our fingers.

Vows taken at Strome

The marriage of Barbara Jean Robson and Lloyd Walter Stevenson took place on December 9, 1978 at 2 p.m. in St. Pauls United Church at Strome. The bride, daughter of Mrs. Mabel Robson and the late Frank Robson of Strome, entered the church on the arm of her brother, Bill Robson of Stettler. The groom is son of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Stevenson of Bittern Lake.

Officiating the double ring ceremony was Pastor Thomas McLaughlin and organist was Mrs. Mildred Gordon.

Given in marriage by her brother, the bride wore a lovely white gown with lace bodice and a long, white-lace trimmed train. The triple tiered, waist-length veil was held in place by a lace headpiece trimmed with bows and pearls. A single tear drop pearl necklace borrowed from a good friend, Honey Curtis, was the only jewellery worn by the bride. She carried a bouquet of cascading roses.

Jeanette Robson of Edmonton, sister to the bride, and Sadie Stevenson of Camrose, sister to the groom, were bridesmaids. They were identical, long-sleeved blue gowns with mandrin collar, lace insert neckline and lace-trimmed blue ruffle which came to the waistline. They wore yellow roses in their hair and carried bouquets of white carnations, yellow rose buds and blue straw flowers.

Wayne Stevenson, brother of the groom, and Jim Walds of Armena, friend of the groom, were best men. They wore suits of blue, complimenting that of the groom. The usher was Vernon Miller of Strome.

A small reception was held at the home of the bride's mother. She welcomed the guests wearing a black and rose-coloured flowered gown complimented by a yellow rose corsage. The bridegroom's mother wore a green-flowered gown accented by a peach-coloured corsage.

Master of ceremonies was friend of the bride and groom, Vera Miller. Grace was said by Pastor McLaughlin and the toast to the bride was given by Wayne Stevenson. Jim Walds toasted the bridesmaids.

The wedding cake that graced the table was baked and decorated by Honey Curtis. It was trimmed with red roses to match the bride's bouquet.

Open house and dance at the Elks Memorial Hall was very well attended by relatives and friends. The guest book was attended by Miss Janet Sprague of Strome.

For gift opening the following day, the bride wore a three-piece, blue and white vested pant suit complimented by a yellow rose corsage.

The newly weds are residing at Camrose, where the groom is employed.

Guests at the wedding were from Strome, Killam, Viking, Camrose, Bittern Lake, Armena, Stettler Red Deer and Edmonton.

Beef club honours leader

What? Five years a 4-H leader. Yes. This was Vorleen Spady accepting her achievement award from Club Leader Bill Barnes on Tuesday, January 9 at Battle Bend School.

She achieved this award by working with three clubs, consisting of clothing, and now beef, and a horse club of her own.

We discussed at the meeting when our Public Speaking would be and came to a decision of having it Sunday, February 11 at 2:30 p.m. in the Alliance School. Everyone is welcome.

We also discussed our family night and will have it on Sunday, January 7 at 5 p.m. starting with a pot luck supper and ending with the adults putting on entertainment.

Later, we had a guest speaker, Laura Towers, who gave us a tremendous talk on public speaking. We then had communications, giving impromptus using Laura's helpful hints.

Sherri, Lynn, Travis, David and Craig all gave us one. Then, they broke into a group and learned how to make halters. Each member made a halter.

Whoops, I forgot to tell you last time that our club is straight beef now. It is not multi.

After an exciting, but rather late meeting, we ate lunch, bundled up and rushed home. -Lorraine Barnes

Bethania group starts theme

"Stewards of God's Gifts" is the theme for the Bible Studies for the Bethania Lutheran Ladies this year. At their meeting Tuesday, January 9, Thordis Taylor introduced the first study, entitled "God's Call to Blessing."

Referring to Abraham and Sarah, as they were "blessed to be a blessing" in their time, culture and situation, so are we in the 20th Century; not for a personal glorification but to enable us to be good stewards of His gifts in reaching out to others. Inga Jacobsen led in a devotional on stewardship, "What can be accomplished in 15 minutes a day."

Thordis, Inga and Edith were elected as a committee regarding the World Day of Prayer, which will be held at Bethania this year.

Discussion about a Valentine party for the Lodge took place. It is not for February 14 at 7 p.m., but is subject to change. Bethania's Silent Sister party is to take place also, scheduled for January 21 at 2 p.m.

The ladies voted to donate $2,500 to Bethania's Pew Fund.

Prayer time followed. The worship offering was read by Christine Myrehaug.

Inga Jacobsen served a delicious lunch. The next meeting is to be February 13 at 7:30 p.m.

HOW WONDERFUL TO LIVE

I feel wonderful to be alive, to be able to look outside my window and see freshly fallen snow and then go out and have fun in it. And I'm so glad another day has arrived. I'm alive!

When the sun comes peeking out from behind clouds and shines enough to let one know it's still hangin' in there, I'm filled with special feelings. I'm here and the sunshine makes everything alright and my world seems to be perfect. Isn't that something to celebrate? You bet it is! Just living is reason enough to break open a bottle of champagne!

When the first spring tulip blooms and blades of green grass poke their heads up from underneath the melting snow, my whole body gets ready to explode. I've waited all the cold winter for this day and all my pent-up energies are dying to be released. I strip off my jacket and socks, roll up my pant legs and splash through a March mud puddle that I haven't waded in since childhood . . . I live!

Isn't life invigorating? Magnificently delightful? If one can stop worrying about the world's problems for a time and indulge in something delicious and fattening, life can be very joyful. Isn't life something to hold on to and make the best of? Life is only temporary so we must pack in enough love and joy before it's over for it passes quickly. Just yesterday, we were playing with dolls and today we discover a grey hair. And, though sadness comes our way sometimes, it teaches us more about life, that it is valuable but also vulnerable. One fatal shot could end it as easily as snapping one's fingers so we must also be careful with our lives.

When leaves fall to the ground and the world seems as lonely as the naked trees, it is comforting to know I'm still young, or feeling young, and I can go roller skating or hang gliding or something I've never done before.

Isn't that what life is all about -- the security of things around us that make us happy, the experiences of falling in love, and enriching our lives with new things each day. And should people who grow old and think they will never be able to do anything but reminisce anymore, find a wheelchair and wait for the end? Shouldn't those people jump out of those chairs if they are able, forget their minor aches and pains, and take the dancing lessons they've put off for all those years? Isn't that the zest of life?

When a death or loss makes our life miserable, it's pleasant to realize we still have a life and lots of time left to take that ship cruise or ride another ferris wheel . . .

Life awaits anyone who wants to take risks but also have thousands of beautiful feelings, too. Every person is awarded life at birth but the secret to it is to keep healthy and not waste any of it. A life can turn sour easily so we must prevent ourselves from making too many mistakes and we've got to find happiness somewhere beyond that rainbow.

Love is very much a part of life. Without it, we find no purpose to life. So isn't it satisfying to know, while we have more living to do, we can search for this love? And when we find it, it'll be nice to realize that we now have a more fulfilling life.

If living to you is a good book by a crackling fireplace, read it. If it's visiting an elderly person who is too disabled to get out as much as he or she would like to, do it. It will add some happiness to both your lives. But don't waste your time lying around. Every year, every day, every moment of life is just too precious to waste.

So before you put this article away and return to the ol' daily routine, do something fun and impulsive. Try to feel the essence of life! And if you can, you will never be the same again.

Daysland holidayers return

Mr. and Mrs. Allen Pryor have returned from holidaying in Mesa, Arizona.

Mrs. Julia Josephinon has also returned from visiting her sister and brother-in-law, the Nick Josephinons in Mesa, Arizona.

Mrs. Ethel Graham has returned from spending the holidays with her son and family in Moose Jaw, Saskatchewan.

Mrs. Velma McLean from Hamilton, Ontario is here visiting her sisters and brother, Eleanor Davidson, Laura Graham and Frank Graham. Velma came to spend Christmas with her sister, Muriel Brodie of Killam. Muriel is a patient in the Daysland Hospital now.

The Hospital Auxiliary meeting was held January 11, 1979. President Ellen Pederson opened the meeting with the Auxiliary Prayer.

Eleanor Davidson read the minutes of the last meeting and her annual report. Then, our new secretary, Helen Hrdlicka, took over and gave the roll call. There were 15 members present.

Emily Hill gave the treasurer's report and her annual report showing the nice work the Auxiliary had done. A motion was made that Emily continue as treasurer for another year.

Dorothy McDevitt and Eleanor Davidson gave their reports on the 1978 Auxiliary Convention they attended in Calgary.

A discussion went on then about the entertainment for the hospital patients. Ellen Pederson showed her calendar of the dates that are open and the ones she has filled. The meeting adjourned and a lovely lunch was enjoyed compliments of the hospital.

The Welcome Wagon has welcomed the following newcomers to Daysland: Mrs. Mary Robertson, son Jamie and daughter Jane.

Congratulations go to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gaudet on the birth of a daughter in the Daysland Hospital this week.

Jeffery and Karla Sommer are staying at the grandparents', Vic and Phyllis Gabruck, while their parents, Monty and Sharon Sommer, are on holidays in Las Vegas.

Mrs. Kamilie Knudsen entertained about 12 neighbours and friends at supper January 12.

Leland and Agnes Twitchell celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on January 7, 1979 at the Killam Auxiliary Hospital. Their family of one daughter and three sons were all present, and also, all but two of their grandchildren were also present. The afternoon was spent taking pictures and visiting, after which lunch and a beautifully-decorated cake were served.

Leland and Agnes Twitchell were married in St. Boniface Church in Spring Lake January 7, 1919. They farmed in the Daysland district until 1960 when they moved into the Town of Daysland. Leland has been in the Killam Auxiliary Hospital the past three years and Agnes still resides in her own home in Daysland.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank our children and grandchildren for helping us celebrate our 60th wedding anniversary. A special thanks to the Killam Auxiliary Sisters and staff for helping us. Also, a special thanks to the Daysland Royal Purple Ladies, Daysland Elks, Daysland CWL and our relatives, neighbours and friends for the lovely flowers, gifts and cards.

Daysland kindergarten enjoys festive occasion

The pre-Christmas excitement was brought to its highlight on Wednesday afternoon, December 20, 1978, when the Daysland Kindergarten presented its program to many parents, younger sisters and brothers and invited guests in the United Church basement. Even Santa made his appearance with a gift for each girl and boy, and everyone enjoyed the delicious lunch. A sincere thank you goes to all those who made the afternoon a success.

The kindergarten was also awarded a box of Turtle chocolates in a special award given by the Daysland High School for the best decorated classroom door of Frosty the Snowman decked out in cotton balls. It was the children's own work and the kindergarten thanks Val Waldorf on behalf of the high school for this honourable mention.

Kindergarten days are now full days on Tuesdays and Fridays. The classroom looks clean and tidy for the start of the year, and a sincere thank you goes to the janitors for their work, as well as to the teachers and parents who have helped to get it looking this way.

Daysland 4-H Club elects officers for year

On September 20, 1978, the first meeting of the Daysland Clothing Club was called to order by Val Waldorf. Meriel Lorenz was acting as secretary. Election of officers took place. President - Lana Lorenson, Vice-President - Leslie Lorenz, Secretary - Connie Koehli, Treasurer - Lyann Klutz, Club Reporter - Meredith Lupino, Club Leader - Mrs. Dorothy Spiller, Assistant Leaders - Mary May, Carol Waldorf, Jeannette Grimes, Elaine Kroetsch, Mrs. Rau, and Junior Leaders - Meriel Lorenz and Val Waldorf.

We have a membership of 23 girls between the ages of 10 and 14. In October, we had our initiation and Halloween party together. We received our project books and started to plan our year's activities.

In November, we had reports from Meriel Lorenz on the Quebec exchange and the welcome home luncheon, from Val Waldorf on her national award to the Western Provinces Seminar, and plans were made for the Christmas party.

January 10 was the first meeting of the New Year. Lana Lorenson called the meeting to order. Pledge was said by Holly Rau and Laurie Eshpeter. Nineteen members answered roll call with "Manners for a confident you."

Connie Koehli read the minutes of the last meeting and Lyann Klutz gave the treasurer's report. Under new business, a club reporter was re-elected. Annette Waldorf will be club reporter for the remainder of this year.

Impromptus were given by all the girls in preparation for public speaking on February 11 and 12. Everyone worked on their projects for the remainder of the meeting. Lunch was then served by Leslie Kroetsch.

KEEPING IN TOUCH

by Arnold Malone, MP

1979

I hope this column arrives in your home in the midst of health and happiness. May I extend to all constituents my wishes for a year of peace with the opportunity and will to seek out and extend peaceful attitudes.

Toward the end of 1978, I was witness to the tortures of war. This unparalleled human torment not only physically kills and maims human beings, but also rips families apart, destroys homes and cultures, and lacerates the landscape for an ongoing time.

Everywhere throughout the nation of Syria, the land was deeply trenched with tank traps. The landscape was poked with small igloo-shaped concrete bunkers that housed anti-aircraft weapons. On our excursion to the Golan Heights from the Syrian side, we were greeted at each Check Point by a ring of soldiers with automatic rifles who encircled our vehicle while our papers were produces to authorities.

War, by its very objectives, brings out the worst in mankind. In fact, it mocks the word "mankind".

To travel to Jerusalem from Ismailia, Egypt, we could not fly direct route, a distance as short as 300 kilometres. Instead, it was necessary to fly north past the Port of Said at the mouth of the Nile, across the Mediterranean to the shores of Cyprus and then, virtually reverse our direction and return to Jerusalem. A distance of 300 kilometres required 800 kilometres of travel.

All of this was not without reason. Our Canadian Buffalo freighter plane could easily fly such as distance. However, a modern fighter aircraft could not fly that long route and return because of fuel limitations. Also, the much longer flight route allowed the Israelis to carefully scrutinize any approaching plane on radar. Our Canadian soldiers have good reason to be diligent in observing their flight plans: a couple of years ago we lost a half dozen men and a Buffalo plane when it was shot down by being marginally off across from the Sinai filed plan of flight.

As for the Arab countries, a different, unbelieving forewarning awaited us. We must never carry any Israeli money on our person and we must never utter the words "Israel" or "Israeli". An Israeli coin brandished in an Arab nation like Syria could result in a two- or three-year jail sentence. That message was abundantly clear. When clearing through customs in an Arab nation, we always responded to the question as to what countries we would be travelling in by listing Egypt, Syria, Jordan, Cyprus and then stating "and also to the other place". The officials knew that "the other place" referred to Israel, yet you dared not utter the forbidden word. To do so may well leave you alone and troubled on a strange and foreign land for hours on end in the office of a customs official while all of your baggage, medical papers and passports were checked again and again by different authorities.

We could not speak the word Israel in an Arab land nor could it be written in our notes. Moreover, it could not appear in our passbooks. A special passbook for "Israel only" was issued by External Affairs prior to our departure and carefully brought through customs for us by an officer of the United Nations Peacekeeping Forces.

A trip through a Palestine Refugee Camp near Amman, Jordan, bolsters one's commitment to work for world peace and opportunity. Television is an inadequate medium for showing the depths to which human life can dwell. A day in a camp of 57,000 people barricaded in an area one-quarter mile square, wall to wall people, with my boots plodding through their mud, my nostrils drawing their pungent and putrid air, and my eyes gazing upon the slight of their ill-fed children and young mothers, who on the average bear seven or more children, are all personal messages that impinges upon the observers' mind in a way which television can only point.

The year 1979, for me, will be tempered by the indelible experience of late 1978. The words "peace on earth, goodwill toward men" has a poetic ring. The poetry, however, must give way to commitment. Keeping in touch is an action process.

Sorenson to carry SC banner

Approximately 200 enthusiastic placard and hat-waving Social Credit Supporters braved the cold evening of Jan. 10 to nominate Ralph Sorenson of Killam as the Social Credit candidate in the Camrose constituency.

The nomination, held at the Crystal Springs Hotel in Camrose, was eventually won by acclamation as a Malmo bachelor, Casey Graumanns, withdrew from the race and indicated his support for Sorenson.

Nominator Doug Munro, Party President Ray Reicksteiler, Constituency President Irvan Hildebrant, and Party Leader Bob Clark all noted that Sorenson's experience and proven calibre would make him a strong candidate and an effective MLA. Several local government officials in attendance also indicated their enthusiasm for the Sorenson nomination.

Following entertainment by a barbershop quartet, "The Unbalanced Four," both Sorenson and Party Leader Clark addressed the audience. Mr. Sorenson indicated several reasons for seeking the nomination. Current agricultural policies, the need for nursing homes, the present centralization of power in the inner cabinet, the lack of legislativ control over the Heritage Trust, and advesary approach to Ottawa were concerns which he raised.

Party Leader Bob Clark presented several key Social Credit election platforms, such as: eliminating provincial income tax on the first $16,000 of taxable income, restoring priorities in health and education through a responsible social conscience, and revenue-sharing with local governments to restore a measure of freedom and trust for local officials. Mr. Clark also said one area that a Social Credit government would use the Heritage Trust Fund would be for low interest loans for agriculture and small business.

In Profile: 17 who went back to school

A man was once quoted as saying: "To reveal myself openly and honestly takes the rawest kind of courage." There are 17 people who stand behind that statement – the people of the Life Skills class presently underway in Sedgewick.

The "students," ranging in age from 16 to 49, travel every weekday from Viking, Lougheed, Hardisty and Killam. Basically, Life Skills is teaching them the skills by which they gain self-respect, self-acceptance and self-confidence to deal with everyday living and working.

"Coach," as her students call her, Sophie Abel leads the class five days a week, six hours a day over the course's four-month duration. Mrs. Abel acquired her training to instruct a Life Skills course last spring in Edmonton from the Life Skills Training Centre under Madeleine Dunkley, who is a qualified trainer and who piloted this program in Alberta. It is now recognized throughout Canada.

Life Skills is directed toward people who have little faith in themselves or abilities. But, Mrs. Abel explains, because Life Skills deals so intensely with basic communication skills, it is being taken more often by people of all ages, social and economic backgrounds.

Communication, says Mrs. Abel, is a main thrust of Life Skills: how to better communicate with, and accept, other people, their feelings and with ourselves – all on a day-to-day basis.

For example, as one student explains, if a person makes a degrading remark he's being aggressive and defensive. He's trying to protect his feelings by exposing someone else's. The way not to react, he continues, is by displaying the same hostile manner, either verbally or physically. Nine times out of 10, class members explain, the aggressor didn't intend to hurt or insult you but was just looking out for his feelings.

"People," says Mrs. Abel, "seem to think it's weak to express any kind of feeling. But it's our emotions that make us tick. We have to learn to identify what feelings we're experiencing and accept rather than try to bury them."

Many students admit that before taking Life Skills they would have handled a defensive situation in one of two ways: silently taking it and believing less of their self-worth, or, by expressing that anger to make the aggressor feel just as bad. Neither method, they add, are constructive ways for people to deal with a situation. One of the most important things to remember is, there's always an alternate way.

All Mrs. Abel's students refer to the confidence gained since course enrolment last November. Confidence-building, Coach Abel explains, is one very important facet of her work with the Life Skills group. Many students come from unsatisfactory situations, believers, Mrs. Abel adds, have just had bad breaks in life, such as with health problems.

As it is, Mrs. Abel leads her students through experience-learning exercises everyday. Each person has a turn on the "hot seat," as she terms it. "We're not always nice to each other, but sometimes we have to tear down barriers if we're ever going to build something constructive." Not everyone, she adds, is always going to be nice to us. We have to learn how to deal with that. "But," she says, "if they can handle this, they can handle anything."

All Life Skills instructors have gone through a similar course, Mrs. Abel explains, one, however, which is more emotionally demanding. "That way, I can relate to the feelings my students are experiencing because I've gone through the same thing myself."

One way in which Mrs. Abel endeavours to build each person's confidence and ability to communicate with others is through introductions. Whenever a guest attends a Life Skills session, each student must introduce him or herself, talk a bit about themself and like means.

There is no order at which people take turns; each speaks up when they feel confident enough. Many people may think it a frivolous exercise, says Mrs. Abel, but for some of the 17 people in her class, it's the first time they've been able to open a conversation and talk about themselves.

Extremely apparent in the circle of chairs is the friendship of the participants. As one explained it, "we've learned to trust each other. We care and share concerns for each other." And another, "we're learning to risk our feelings here, in the security of people we trust, so we can deal with situations when we're with others."

Life Skills is not conducted indoors in the security of the classroom only, Mrs. Abel notes. Six weeks into the course, participants were required to visit businesses in their communities, including the Flagstaff Lodge, Viking Hospital and Swanson's Museum. For some, it was the first time in establishments they've grown up knowning about. The excursions meant they were on their own, having to meet people, introduce themselves and carry on a conversation with people they'd never met before. One teenaged girl in the course, who has acquired a speech difficulty over the years, expressed her pride in being able to carry out the task. Since her involvement in Life Skills, the young woman has been gairing control of the problem which is caused by nervousness, adds Mrs. Abel.

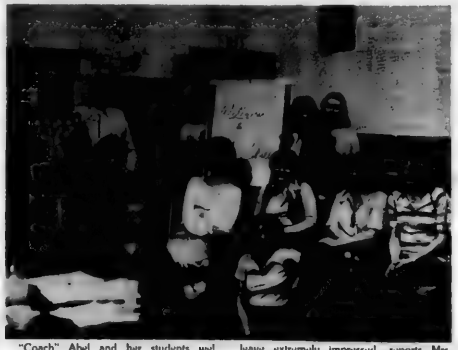
A similarly-happy result of the course was recounted by another young woman who explained that, since taking Life Skills, was able to have a conversation with her father for the first time. Before, she says, there was just anger, hurt feelings . . . no communication. Now, they sit by the hour talking, and listening. "And you know," she adds, "he's a really nice guy." She's carrying her new-found communication skills home to her own child, too.

Most of Mrs. Abel's class is sponsored by the federal government department of Manpower and the provincial Department of Social Services. Upon graduating in March, these 17 people will have a better chance than many others in the line-up for jobs. The certificate they receive is one which is respected by any employers familar with the course. In fact, Mrs. Abel adds, it's becoming uncommon when an employer doesn't know about Life Skills. And Mrs. Abel is pleased to report positive feedback from people in the immediate vicinity as well. To date, the class has welcomed guests to their sessions who include a school principal, members of the school board, representatives from Manpower and Social Services, the mayor of Viking, and even members of Mrs. Abel's family from the United States.

As a matter of fact, she adds, overall response to this, the first Life Skills course conducted in the area, has been gratifying. People are wanting to enrol for the next course already. Mrs. Abel says she feels this is because Life Skills deals with such fundamentals.

The same positive response has been realized in larger centres where professionals, such as doctors, lawyers and social workers, have been enrolling in Life Skills courses or mini-courses in order to better relate with their patients and clients.

But what has Life Skills done for people in this area? Answers from this class included: "I see life in different ways. I try to think positively rather than be negative all the time" . . . "Now, I take the time to really listen to others and follow through on what they say." . . . "I've learned to work with people, and I've learned the technique of brainstorming, solving problems together." . . . "I've learned to feel good about myself!"



"Coach" Abel and her students welcome guests regularly to Life Skills. All leave extremely impressed, reports Mrs. Abel, who poses here with 15 of the 17

Strome book seeing results

The weekly meeting of the Strome History Book Committee was held Wednesday evening, January 10, at the Town Office. We also meet on Monday afternoons.

We have had 1,000 brochures and 900 guide line letters printed. There have been about 300 of these sent out to local people and former residents. People are asked to submit lists of names and addresses so the committee can send out more. If anyone was missed in this area, they are able to pick one up by dropping in at the office.

We have contacted various departments of government for research and information, also newspapers, CPR, RCMP, and the grain elevator companies.

The war section of the book is almost completed except for pictures and more information on awards and medals received by our war heroes.

Equipment and supplies have been purchased. Ads have been sent to various newspapers.

Thanks go to everyone who has already paid for their history book as this will help with printing expenses.

We have received a few family histories. Are you working on yours? Please try to get them in soon. Also, we need lots of help!

4-H Multi Club meets

The Sedgewick 4-H Multi Club was reorganized on October 26, 1978 at the Rec Centre. Weigh-in was held on November 15, 1978. The new executive is: President - Shannon Mackey, Vice-President - Mark Shaw, Secretary - Pat Hogg, Treasurer - Melva Hogg, Club Reporter - Sina Mackey, and Junior Leaders - Melva Hogg, Pat Hogg and Sheldon Tindall.

The family and awards night was held at the Bethania Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. on November 28. After the supper, trophies were presented to last year's members. There was a really good turnout at the supper.

After the presentations were given, Carol Arntzen called the 4-Hers together for a general meeting. We discussed our Christmas party. The party will be held at the home of Phil Hogg on Thursday, December 28 at 2 p.m. and each person is to bring a friend. We planned to have a hayride if the weather conditions were favourable. Names were drawn for the exchange of gifts.

Our Christmas party and supper, held at Phil Hogg's home, was followed by our regular meeting for January. Some of the items discussed at the meeting were prices of the feed, District 8, oak-Offs on February 26 at Galahad, the Highway Clean-Up on May 5, Tour Day on April 29 and the Fun Day at Sedgewick on January 30 at 10 a.m.

The next meeting will be held on February 6 at the Lutheran Church at 7 p.m. This meeting will include public speaking.

RECORDS FOR 1979

The two most difficult parts of record keeping are getting starting and keeping up to date. Getting started can be made easier by having your record book available when you need it, and keeping up to date seems to be easier when you understand the record keeping system you are using. We may be able to help in both cases.

First of all, the record keeping systems which are available; as in past years, we have a supply of Alberta Farm Account Books and the Prairie Farm Account Books available in various forms. These books have been available for a number of years and continue to be popular. They provide pre-ruled and headed pages for income, expense, inventory and various other entries which you may wish to include in your recording. It is strictly a manual system, with a place for everything. However, you do have to flip through pages to find the place. The price is right! FREE at our office.

Another style of record book available is based on a simple double entry system. It too is a manual system but allows you to design a system for yourself. You begin with a columnar book (a large, ruled scribbler) and determine both the income and expense items you wish to keep track of. You also include space for balances and cheque numbers. This will then make reconciliation to your bank statement a simple matter. This is a custom-made system - the price is about $7 if you purchase the columnar book from us.

Another similar system just made available is the new Farm Account Book produced by the Farm Management Branch. It is very similar to the double entry system noted above, but at a better price - FREE. We will have a supply of these on hand if you wish to look at it or use one.

The use of computors to keep records has recently become very popular. Along with private computer programs, Unifarm, along with other provincial organizations across Canada, has taken up the Canfarm Recording System. It offers a computerised method of keeping records, and provides information for analysis of the farm enterprises as well. The cost - $135 plus per year.

Secondly, help with the system you are using or select. Some of the systems, like the Prairie Provinces' Farm Account Book, are straight forward -- you find the appropriate column and fill it in.

The double entry systems -- you design to meet your recording needs. Here we may be able to help you. Once the system is set-up and you can follow it, it's simply a matter of entering the transaction.

Canfarm -- well, at present, we do not know what will happen after March 31. Until that time, we will continue to provide the service. After then, it will depend on arrangements between Unifarm and our department. One thing is for sure, the system will stay.

If we can be of help in providing either a record system or setting one up for your farm - drop in to see us. We can't do the records for you, but we may be able to help make the job easier for you.

EXTENSION VELOUR

Velour is a French term meaning velvet. The term is loosely applied to a fabric with short, thick, soft, cut pile. It can be woven or knit from natural or synthetic fibers and has become a popular fabric for T-shirts, loungewear and evening wear. To sew and care for your velour garments, follow these tips from Doreen Alder, assistant clothing and textile specialist with Alberta Agriculture.

Sewing Tips

• Preshrink fabric before cutting by washing separately, especially if you intend to use a trim of different colour -- be sure the velour will not lose colour in future washing.

• Velour has a nap -- pay attention when laying out pattern pieces.

• Use sharp shears and pins in cutting.

• Use a sharp machine needle -- a fine needle or ballpoint needle may be required for some fabrics.

• Use a slightly longer machine stitch, stretching the fabric as you sew -- or sew seams with a fine machine zigzag.

• For fabrics that ravel -- finish seams with a machine zigzag or hand overcast stitch. For lightweight fabrics, an alternate seam finish is to stitch the seam allowances together close to the seam line and trim off excess fabric.

• Items can be done by hand using a tailor's hem or topstitched by machine. A double row of machine topstitching adds detail and provides durability.

Velour is surprisingly easy to sew and garments can be made at a fraction the cost of ready-to-wear.

Caring For Velour

• Colour may run or bleed. It is impossible to check for this at the time of purchase -- therefore, be wary of deep, dark shades in their first washing. Wash velour separately for the first two or three washings to prevent any colour transfer to other fabrics.

• In laundering, turn garments inside out.

• Tumble drying will restore softness and body to the fabric. Remove from dryer immediately to prevent wrinkling.

REDA WORKSHOPS

The Rural Education and Development Association will once again be holding a presidents' and secretaries' Leadership Workshop in Banff. The workshop is designed for people in executive positions of rural organizations. It covers instruction in organizing ideas, training in public speaking, and knowledge of leadership and group interactions. The workshop will be held January 24 to 28 at the Banff Centre. More information is available from my office.

MANAGING AGRICULTURE TECHNOLOGY FOR PROFIT

This seminar for farm families will be held March 4 to 7 at Banff. Top speakers in North America will present information on the latest practical and innovative management techniques for use on your farm. You'll also have a chance to discuss with the speakers any particular point in relation to your own farm operation. Topics include: New Techniques in Beef Production, Innovations in Crops Management, The Farm Family, Farm Law, Management of Labour, Stress, and many more. Reports from previous attendants say this is an excellent workshop! Application forms are now available from this office.

4-H ACTIVITIES

Public Speaking competitions are coming up soon. The District Speak-Offs will be held in Galahad School on February 25. The winners will advance to the Regional Public Speaking in Czar on March 4. Provincial competitions are March 16, 1979.

Be sure to attend 4-H Fun Days at the Sedgewick Recreation Center on Saturday, January 20, starting at 9:30 a.m.

GEORGE BURNS' 100TH BIRTHDAY PARTY

George Burns (pictured) has always been a man ahead of his time and he keeps his record intact by celebrating his centennial a few years early in 'George Burns 100th Birthday Party' a variety special to be broadcast Tuesday Jan 23 on CBS-TV with party guests Milton Berle Debby Boone Pat Boone Johnny Carson Bob Hope George Jessel Dean Martin Steve Martin Gregory Peck Helen Reddy Don Rickles and Mr and Mrs Jimmy Stewart and with guest stars Goldie Hawn and Andy Gibb.

Burns who will actually be a mere 83 on Jan 20 explains that he is celebrating his birthday in advance because when he is 100 years old (in 1996) he'll be out of town playing the Palladium in London.

While the revelers assemble and party festivities swing off-stage Burns greets his guests and regales the studio audience with songs and stories of his career adventures.

Galahad greets new residents

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin Kuefler and family moved into their new home, situated back of the Missionary Church. They arrived there in time to celebrate Christmas in the beautiful new home.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kuefler. Their son, Chad Lawrence, arrived at St. Mary's Hospital in Camrose on January 8, 1979.

Mr. and Mrs. Vancel Misner of Leslieville spent some time last weekend in Galahad with relatives and friends. They were helping dig up history. Bill Goetz and such like, and some more serious topics.

The family of Mr. and Mrs. Alley Wetmore, James, daughter-in-law Bonnie, Peter and Shirley, planned a lovely evening in honour of their parents' 25th wedding anniversary for Saturday evening, January 6.

Eighteen relatives and neighbours gathered to wish Alley and Gertie many happy returns of the occasion. Shirley and Bonnie served a delicious lunch, with punch and other refreshments. James gave the toast to their parents. Bonnie and Shirley presented them with many lovely gifts.

Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. Lawen Clark of Edmonton, and Alley's sister Ruth. A very enjoyable evening was spent recalling former years and visiting.

Guests at the Gene Whitehead home for the weekend were Rev. and Mrs. Ormand Sherick and five children of Didsbury.

A pot luck supper was planned for them on Saturday evening with a very good attendance. All enjoyed the slides shown of the Shericks' family life in Nigeria.

On Sunday morning, the Shericks were in charge of the service with a story for the children, a special number in song by Mr. and Mrs. Sherick and Lynzel.

We were happy to meet Denita, as our Sunday School has helped with her support in Nigeria for a number of years.

Mr. Sherick explained the takeover of the churches, hospital, college and schools by National Christians, making it possible for many of the missionaries to return home with only a skeleton staff of missionaries left in an advisory position. He asked for prayers for the African churches as they do their own administration of the work and seek to evangelise their own people.

The W.A. of the Presbyterian Church met at Martha Foote's home on Thursday evening, January 4. The usual business was carried on, with the yearly reports given. The hostess served a delicious lunch at the close of the meeting.

The senior citizens held their January meeting in the Centre on Thursday evening, January 11, with 15 members present. We were delighted to have Anne Wise back in the president's chair. A pass was granted her for the evening from the hospital.

The Serenity Prayer opened the meeting, repeated by the president.

The minutes of the November and December meetings were read. Bill Wise gave the treasurer's report.

The annual election of officers followed. All returned by acclamation. The executive for 1979 is: President - Anne Wise, Vice-President - Scott Crenshaw, Second Vice-President - Reuben Felzien, Treasurer - Bill Wise, and Secretary - Alta Willis.

A pot luck supper will be held at the March meeting.

The president asked that a plaque be ordered and placed on the plaque board in memory of Harvey Ramsay.

The History Committee was assigned to the size required by the New Horizons to apply for the grant which it allows for such a project.

The seniors are delighted with the response we are receiving from the brochures that were mailed out, especially from persons who no longer reside here. All are waiting with anticipation for the area history to be published. Come on folks! Let's not keep them waiting too long.

Mrs. Annis Oberg and Carrie Bowness will be hostesses for the February meeting.

Kay Peacod and Alta Willis served lunch.

The Library Board has planned a public skating party and weiner roast for Sunday, January 21 at 2 p.m. All are welcome.

On December 23, Mrs. Edith Johnston went to Edmonton by bus to spend Christmas with her daughter, Doreen and John Patton. Other members of her family were also there. Mrs. Johnston helped Doreen look after Leona and Wayne Tuff's children at Doreen's home while they went by plane to Toronto to bring home a new truck. They left on December 26 and had real bad weather coming home through North Dakota. A snow storm left three feet of snow in places and trucks were out in case anyone had trouble. But they made it home fine on December 31. Doreen had New Year's Eve for relatives and friends and Mrs. June Christenson had been there for Christmas. She returned home by bus on January 7, 1979.

Galahad W.M.S. meets president

The ladies of the Galahad W.M.S. held their January meeting in the Missionary Church on Wednesday, January 10 with 11 members present and two visitors. Mrs. E. Erion of Calgary, the W.M.S. district president, came for her annual fellowship meeting and was accompanied by Mrs. Edna Neufeld, who is a sister of Maggie Felzien.

In the work period, a quilt was set up and some large aprons were cut out and sewed.

President Anna Whitehead introduced the guests and welcomed them.

Mrs. Erion gave a very interesting and inspiring account of some of her experiences as a young pastor's wife in the early days in some of the small churches. God's faithfulness was shown in many ways, during difficult times and good times.

She also described the visit to Thailand that she and her husband made last summer to see their son, Robert Erion, who is a missionary in that faraway country, and who had been quite ill with Malaria fever.

The people there were very friendly and the climate is quite warm. However, the communist invaders are getting nearer and have now proceeded into Cambodia.

A letter from Robert had just been received and was read by Mrs. Scott. He will soon return home on furlough.

In the business meeting which followed, the new budget for 1979 was discussed and amounts decided on. Financial reports were given by Treasurer M. Scott and were accepted. Membership dues were paid and reports were given of the used clothing which was sent to the Children's Home at Gwynne, and some to Rosehaven. Letters of thanks had been received.

The minutes were written by our new secretary, Mrs. Pat Wetmore. Appreciation was expressed to retiring secretary, Mrs. Aileen Vincett, for her efficient work.

Everyone enjoyed the lunch provided by Mrs. Vera Peake and Carrie Bowness. Mrs. Whitehead thanked the ladies for coming and the meeting was adjourned.

Killam District News

Get well wishes to Mrs. Bill Gibb who is in Daysland Hospital. We hope you are home soon. Verna.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Morgan and family were weekend visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan.

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mrs. Fred Swoboda and family: sisters Lilly, Molly and Alice, and brothers Joe and Frank in their loss of Mr. Fred Swoboda, who passed away suddenly in the hospital on Sunday, January 14, 1979 at the age of 65.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kuefler of Galahad (nee Sharon Bonar), who are the proud parents of a baby boy born in the Camrose hospital January 8, and weighing 8 pounds, 11 ounces. His name will be Chad Laurence. Proud grandmother is Mrs. Jean Bonar and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Kuefler of Galahad. Great grandmother is Mrs. Eva Bouchard and great grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Matt Niehaus of Heisler. Grandparents were all in Camrose to admire the new grandson.

Get well wishes to Mrs. Norman Wegenast, who is in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton. We hope you are home soon, Ilene.

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Hager and Mr. and Mrs. Sabastion Komperdo left by plane for a week in Las Vegas.

Mr. and Mrs. Herb Steil and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Popp are off to California for a holiday.

Constable and Mrs. Ken Chamberlain and Chris were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Jay Pritchard and family, and Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson and family and other friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lay and family of Fort McMurray were weekend visitors with Mr. and Mrs. Vern Erickson and family and friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Young and family of Valley View, Mr. and Mrs. Eddy Young and Lloyd of Hinton, and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Dabbs and family of Forestburg recently spent a week with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Young.

Mrs. Adelpha Young and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Armitage and family spent a couple of weeks in Disneyland.

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. and Mrs. Reuben Link and family in their loss of Reuben's mother, Mrs. Link of Camrose, who passed away at the age of 85.

Participate in Canada's Employment Tax Credit Program.

The Employment Tax Credit Program was introduced by the Government of Canada to stimulate employment in the private sector.

In essence, we're encouraging you to expand your work force by providing a tax break for your business.

The potential annual tax credit for each new employee is over $3,000. And there is no limit to the number of new employees you can hire.

Now, by using the experience we've gained so far, we've changed the program to make it even more attractive.

Up to 33⅓% more tax credit.

The maximum term for the tax credit has been increased from nine to 12 months for each new employee. That means up to 33⅓% more tax credit.

Greater eligibility.

We have expanded the number and types of businesses eligible to benefit. Now almost every business that's been operating in Canada for a year or more can join in.

Wider choice of new employees.

Now, almost anyone who's unemployed and registered at a Canada Employment Centre for a minimum of two weeks is eligible.

A minimum of red tape.

We've simplified the procedure, so you can do the whole thing, from beginning to end, with just two single-page forms.

For full details on the program, contact any Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre.

papers. Attending such programs has become standard practice, as well as good practice, explains Mr. Brodie. It's the public's guarantee their baking is being produced by a professional and in proper conditions.

Mr. Brodie was born and raised in Killam and will be managing the new business as well as delivering its products throughout the area. Trips will include Hardisty three times a week, he says, while deliveries to the other towns will be at least once a week. The frequency will depend on the demand in each community, Mr. Brodie explains. Their line of products may also change, he adds, as they discover what types of baking people prefer.

At present, the bakery has a staff of seven, including the Brodies, but plans are to hire at least one more baker. Until then, Lis Brodie will be doing most of the baking and training.

The new facility, which stands at close to 3,000 square feet, is stocked with the most up-to-date equipment, Mr. Brodie says proudly. This not only speeds up production, in most cases it eliminates two and three handling of dough.

When production is in full swing, the couple expects to be baking an average of 1,000 to 1,200 loaves of bread each day. As well, Lis plans to carry an extensive line of pastry, all types of doughnuts, specialty breads, buns, cakes, and "almost anything you want" in cake decorating. Many of her recipes are her own, she adds, and hopes people will like the difference.

The new bakery also includes a coffee shop, which features Brodie's line of pastry. It will open the same hours as the bakery.

Harvey Ramsay passes

Harvey Ramsay was born February 3, 1891 and passed away Saturday, December 16, 1978 in the Northcott Nursing Home, Ponoka, Alberta, at the age of 87 years.

Mr. Ramsay was born in Edgely, Ontario to parents, Michael and Mary Ramsay. He served in the First World War and was wounded at Vimy Ridge in 1917.

He came to Alberta in 1919 and took up a farm northeast of Galahad through the Soldier Settlement Board. In 1952, he sold his farm and moved to Galahad, where he resided until 1960 when he moved to Ponoka and helped at the Royal Hotel whenever needed.

Mr. Ramsay was an ardent curler and was very interested in all sports. He had his life membership with the Galahad Senior Citizens and also a 50-year Jewel in the Forestburg Masonic Lodge #138 A.F. and A.M.

He is survived by three brothers: Lindsay of Plant City, Florida; Lorne of Calgary, Alberta; and Fred of High River, Alberta. Also, one sister, Marion (Mrs. Tom McCauley) of Kearsey, Ontario.

He was predeceased by four brothers: Homer, Frank, Leslie and Gordon; and three sisters: Myrtle (Mrs. Ross Fairburn), Olga (Mrs. Levi Weddel) and Dorothy (Mrs. Cyril Stephens).

Funeral services were held from St. Paul's Presbyterian Church in Galahad on Wednesday, December 20, 1978 at 2 p.m. The officiating minister was Rev. Donald Carson. The organist was Mrs. Gladys McMahon. Pallbearers were Robert Bownes, James Wetmore, George Etty, Pete Willis, Allison Wetmore and Gerald Jackson.

The committal in church was followed by a Masonic Service. Arrangements were by Holben's Funeral Chapel, Galahad, Alberta.

Mr. Ramsay will always be remembered by his many friends for his humour and his generosity to the community.

Lougheed Rebekahs hold meeting

Sixteen members of the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge #65 met for their regular meeting on Wednesday, January 10. N.G. Verona Cookson was in the chair.

Sisters Marlow and Butcher were reported unwell. Visits had been made to the Flagstaff Lodge and to local hospitals. Sympathy, get well and birthday cards had been sent. Sis. Beston will be sending cards during the time Sis. Kampen is away.

Rebekah Assembly will gather at the Hotel MacDonald in Edmonton on March 7 and 8.

Sis. Bratland presented the financial statement for 1978.

Under Good of the Order, Sis. Denham read "A Little Town," Sis. Cookson read "On This Day," and Sis. H. Skoberg read an article concerning the collection of cigarette packages.

The birthday ladies, namely Sisters Derraugh, A. McClements and Freeman, were serenaded.

PUBLIC NOTICE

VILLAGE OF LOUGHEED

TAKE NOTICE THAT the Council of the Village of Lougheed, in the Province of Alberta, has given first reading to money By-Law No. 420 which will, on final approval and ratification, authorize Council to borrow monies by way of debentures, for the purpose of acquiring land in Section 33-43-11-W4, lying within and without its municipal limits, being 446 acres (more or less).

The estimated total cost of the aforesaid land amounts to $178,400.00. The net amount to be borrowed on the credit and security of the municipality at large by the issue of debentures is $178,400.00. The debentures are to be repayable to the bearer in twenty-five (25) equal consecutive annual instalments of combined principal and interest, the interest not to exceed a rate of more than twelve per cent (12%) per annum.

NOTICE THEREFORE is hereby given by the Council of the Village of Lougheed that, unless a poll of the proprietary electors for and against the said debenture borrowing is demanded, as provided for by the terms of the Municipal Act, the said Council may pass the said By-Law and submit it to the Local Authorities Board for final ratification and certification that a vote of the proprietary electors thereon is not required. OF WHICH ALL PERSONS interested are hereby notified, and they are required to govern themselves accordingly.

NOTICE TO PROPRIETARY ELECTORS

A proprietary elector is:

(i) an elector whose name appears on the assessment roll in respect of land liable to assessment and taxation for general municipal purposes, and is resident in the municipality; and

(ii) an elector who is liable for the payment of a mobile unit license, and is resident in the municipality.

Fifteen per cent (15%) of the proprietary electors may by petition request a vote on a money By-Law under the provisions of Sections 311 and 7 of the Municipal Government Act.

1. The petition must be received by the Village secretary within fifteen (15) days of the last publication of this notice and shall contain on each page an accurate and identical statement of the purpose and objectives of the petition.

2. Each signature to the petition shall be witnessed by an adult person who shall take an affidavit that to the best of his belief the persons whose signatures he has witnesses are qualified to vote at a general election.

3. There shall be set out opposite each signature on the petition:

(a) the legal description of the property or other qualifications entitling that person to be a proprietary elector.

(b) the postal address of the petitioner.

(c) the occupation of the petitioner.

4. A corporation or a church or other religious organization or an estate, the name of which appears on the last revised assessment roll as the owner, conditional owner or purchaser of land that is not exempt from taxation, may in writing authorize a resident representative to sign a petition on behalf of the corporation or a church or other religious organization or an estate.

5. The petition shall be filed with the municipal secretary who shall, in accordance with the Act, compute the number of petitioners that have signed the petition and determine the sufficiency thereof.

6. Every petition shall have attached to it a signed statement of a person whose name appears upon the petition, stating that he represents the petitioners and that he is the person to whom the municipality may direct any enquiries with regard to the petition.

7. No name shall be removed from the petition after it has been received by the municipal secretary.

8. The date of the last publication of this Notice is January 18, 1979.

IN MEMORIAM

DAMMANN Treasured memories of our dear Mother, who passed away January 19, 1966.

As time unfolds another year,
Our memories keep you ever near.

Always remembered and so sadly missed by loving family. 20-1p

In loving memory of my dear husband Ben who passed away January 24, 1978.

I lost my soul's companion
A life linked with my own
And day by day I miss him more
As I walk through life alone
The rolling stream of life rolls on
But still the vacant chair
Recalls the love, the voice, the smile
Of the loved one who once sat there.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by loving wife Ann. 20-1p

LESLIE – In loving memory of my husband, A. R. Leslie who passed away January 17, 1976.

The years may wipe out many things
But this they'll wipe out never
The memory of those happy days
When we were both together.
Ever remembered by wife, Lillian. 20-1p

JENSEN – In loving memory of my beloved husband Nels, who passed away January 17, 1978.

One year has come and gone
Since the day our sorrow fell
And we knew we'd lost someone
We love more than words can tell.
Our thoughts are always with you
The silent tears still flow
The pain we feel without you
No one will ever know
The parting was so sudden
We often wonder why
The hardest part of all was
We never said good-bye.
Ever loved and deeply missed by your wife and family. 20-1p

Merna 4-H club listens to vet

Another Merna 4-H Beef Club meeting was held Thursday, January 4. The meeting was boring but we had an interesting speaker.

The meeting took place at the home of Eric Christensen. The meeting began with Allen Gamroth leading the pledge. Discussion was held on different minor items. Eric Christensen handed out the record books to members that did not have them.

Bob Marciniuski, the veterinarian from Forestburg, was introduced as our guest speaker. He spoke on different things like breeding cattle, weaning calves, things to do after calving like deworming and other things. He also gave some very valuable information on the career of a veterinarian. After the talk, leaders and members asked questions.

After the meeting, lunch was served and the parents visited.

William Culshaw passes at 88

William Culshaw passed away at the Grande Prairie Hospital on Wednesday, December 20, 1978 at the age of 88 years and six months. He was born in Bolton, England on June 20, 1890 to parents Thurston and Alice.

He came to Canada in 1904 with his father to Lac Du Bonnet, near Winnipeg. They were later joined by the rest of the family in early 1905. Later that fall, they came to Alberta and took up homesteads in the district about seven miles south of Lougheed.

The family worked together to create a home and farm on this land. Later, the farm was known as Holmeswood Stock Farm and, in 1912, one of their Belgian Stallions won the Grand Champion of Canada award at Calgary.

William loved his horses as much as he loved the farm and the life that went with it. He stayed on the farm with his mother and father as the rest of the family grew up and left to make their own way.

He married Ethel May Reinke on December 24, 1941. From this union were seven children, who feel most fortunate to have had this remarkable man for their father. He will be greatly missed by all of us, but he will be forever remembered in our hearts as our guiding light, who helped us through our troubles and times of need and who celebrated with us our joys and accomplishments.

William Culshaw had lived in the Lougheed district for the past 73 years. Then, because of illness, he moved to Wembley in July of 1978 to live with his daughter Alice, who cared for him until his passing.

William was predeceased by his father, Thurston, in 1941; his mother, Alice, in 1943; his wife, Ethel, in 1965; sister Annie and brothers Ralph and John in 1964; his sister Mary in 1967 and brother Chris in 1977.

He leaves to mourn his loss his four daughters and three sons: Mrs. Alice (Don) Hansen, Wembley; Mrs. Carol (Dan) Geary, Edmonton; George, Lacombe; Chris, Lougheed; Ralph, Edmonton; Mrs. Elizabeth (Ken) Neyrinck, Edmonton; and Mrs. Shirley (Allen) Ness, Lougheed; one brother, Norman, of Calgary; 14 grandchildren and numerous nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday, December 27, 1978 from All Saints Anglican Church in Lougheed with the Reverend Richard L. Conrad officiating and Mrs. Kae Routledge as organist.

Pallbearers were: David Black, John Black, Elvin Oliver, J.H. White, Art Black and Ernie Cookson.

Honourary pallbearers were: Bill Cookson, Ned Butcher, Cyril Hepworth and George Hotz.

Oliver Funeral Chapel, Grande Prairie, and Howard and McBride Ltd. of Edmonton were in charge of the funeral arrangements. Interment was in the Lougheed Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to all of our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness and expressions of sympathy shown us during the recent loss of our beloved Father and Grandfather. Special thanks to Dr. C.S. Paterson and the staff of the Grande Prairie Hospital. A very special thanks to The Reverend Richard Conrad. Also, to the pallbearers, honourary pallbearers, Mrs. Kae Routledge and the Trinity LCW for serving lunch. Also, to the many people who donated to charities in remembrance of our Beloved Father, which showed us the esteem that the community had for him. Thank you.

Bells Hill Society has annual meeting with 26

The Bells Hill Social Society held its annual meeting on Monday, January 8 at 1:30 p.m. There were 26 members in attendance. The financial statement showed a very busy and successful year.

After all old business was attended to, the president opened the meeting for election of officers. They are: President - Don Frazier, re-elected for another term; Vice-President - Joe Cameron, re-elected; Secretary-Treasurer - Mary Albrecht, re-elected. Directors are: Edward Davidson, Leo Markwart and Duncan Cameron. The Whist Drive Committee is Helen Sutherland, Chrisie Armstrong, Mary Albrecht, Fay Davidson, Porter and Helen O'Reilly, John and Bertha Brunner, and Duncan and Esther Cameron. The Dance Committee is Leo and Connie Markwart, Fay and Edward Davidson, Patricia Kroetsch, Ralph and Verna Steil, Clifford and Chris Harris and Edwin Albrecht. The Building Committee is Leo Markwart, Joe Cameron, Edward Davidson, Arnold Marlow, Edwin Albrecht and Elvin Oliver.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to all who have donated help in any way toward the remodelling of the hall.

The second whist drive of the season was held at Goose Creek with 94 tables playing. Prize winners were: Firsts - Mrs. Carol Larson and David Livingston, Sweeps - Mrs. Mary Albrecht and Lawrence Koeneland, Mysteries - Mrs. Helen Sutherland and Porter O'Reilly. Travelling - Helen Sutherland and Darrell Matthews, and Consolations - Mrs. Vernon Simpson and Floyd Wadstein. The next whist drive will be Friday, January 19 at Bells Hill.

Latest reports are that Walter Markwart is feeling a little better. He and Mabel are visiting at their daughter's home in Calmar for awhile.

Big plans for Merna 4-H

Everybody wants a Hay Ride and anybody can build a tack box, as the Merna 4-H Light Horse members found out at their last meeting on Monday, January 8.

Everybody met at the Beairsto home at 7:30 p.m. for their meeting. Roll call was answered by giving the name, sex, height, breed and colour of your horse.

First, we discussed a hay ride and everybody was for it. We plan to have it on February 14 at 2 p.m. at Kenny Alderdice's.

Next, we set a date for our achievement day and June 30 seemed quite appropriate. No set time, or classes discussed seeing as it is so far ahead in the future.

Also, it was brought up that instead of going to the Ponoka Youth Horse Show, we go to a horse show which might be held in Camrose, but nothing was set for certain.

For something different we had Deb Pelletier in to tell us something about public speaking. The demonstration she gave was quite interesting and members are now working on speeches for the next meeting. The topics should be of interest to the speaker and audience and he should know what he is talking about.

After the meeting, everybody went out to the garage and started to build tack boxes. Seeing as we were lucky enough to have them pre-cut for us, all we had to do was nail them together. It was quite easy if you could pound nails straight.

Next, we set a date for our achievement day and June 30 seemed quite appropriate. No set time, or classes discussed seeing as it is so far ahead in the future.

Lougheed News

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Storbakken and Ivan were up at Fort St. John, B.C. during the Christmas and New Year's week visiting their son Jim and his wife and family.

The Women's Institute Library at Lougheed is missing quite a number of books. So, if you would check your bookshelves at home maybe you will come across a book from there. There are children's books out, too. We would like to have them back on the library shelves, please. We know it is easy to forget as we do it, too.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hooper of Qualicum, B.C. were visiting the Pat Frosts and family last week.

On January 26, at Family Night, will be the next draw for the Lougheed Arena Maintenance Lottery Draw.

A number of Lougheed friends attended the funeral in the Nazarene Church in Sedgewick for Mrs. Lamar Graff. She passed away in W.W. Cross Hospital in Edmonton on Tuesday, January 9, 1979. Mrs. Graff is Dwayne Leedholm's aunt. Sympathy is extended to the family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitbeck, who celebrated their 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, January 13.

Get well wishes go to Marylin Wylie, who is in the Hardisty Hospital. There are quite a few people in hospital and also sick at home with colds, flu and what not. Get well wishes to each and every one.

Lougheed sees busy season with sports

The Pee Wees, 12 and under, recently won games against Forestburg and Sedgewick, scoring 9-6 and 6-5. A Pee Wee hockey tournament is planned for February.

A large crowd attended and enjoyed a game of the Mighty Mites. The eight-and-under game was won by Daysland.

The Lougheed Coyotes of recreational hockey won over Viking 4-3, but lost to Daysland 6-3. They also won their first game at the Killam Tournament, but lost the second.

The Road Runners won their game against Killam 4-3. Their next home game is on Monday, January 22 against Viking.

On Sunday, January 14, many participated and contributed to a very successful skate-a-thon. The results will be published soon.

A two-day midget hockey tournament of 16-year-olds and under is scheduled for Saturday and Sunday, January 20 and 21

SEDGEWICK SEES LADIES BRIER PLAYOFFS

Ladies Zone Brier playdowns were held in Sedgewick on Saturday and Sunday, January 6 and 7. Three ladies' rinks competed with Frankson of Camrose taking the honours. The other two rinks were Gould and Watkins of Sedgewick.

The Mary Simons rink made up of curlers from Killam and Sedgewick were unopposed and will compete in the Seniors playdowns in Grande Centre.

There were only three entries in the school girls' playdowns with the Coates rink of Lougheed coming back from the B side to win. The Jacobson rink of Bawlf placed second and in bottom spot was the Martin rink with players from Sedgewick and Lougheed.

Busy meeting for women

The January meeting of the Lougheed W.I. was held at the home of Mrs. H. Probst on January 9 with 11 members and Mrs. D. MacKinnon and baby son present. Mrs. J. Johnson, president, was in the chair, and with words of welcome opened the meeting.

The minutes of the December meeting were read and adopted, and the financial statement and several committee reports given. Two "get well" cards had been sent; five more "Verdant Valley" books had been sold since the last meeting; 15 free children's books had been received at the library from the Northern Alberta Library Division Services. The donation of a book to the Library as a memorial to Mr. S. Kampen had been gratefully received. It was announced that the 1979 library membership are now due.

Discussion took place regarding a project for "The Year of the Child"; also an "outing" for the members during the coming months, both of which were tabled to a later date. The appointing of new members to the cemetery committee was tabled to the next meeting.

The minutes of the director's meeting held earlier in the month were read naming the committee convenors and outlining the programs for the year. The members were reminded to turn in redeemable coupons for the retarded, and nylons for cancer patients.

The correspondence read consisted of (1) a letter from the Kindergarten Society thanking the W.I. for the many kindnesses given to the pre-schooler during the fall and at Christmas; (2) a request from the Sedgewick High School for support for the Scholarship Fund; (3) a request by the F.W.I.C. for 25 cents per member to help in the purchase of a Land Rover for use in Lesotho; (4) a receipt and letter of thanks from the Salvation Army for the donation of $10; (5) a letter of information from a travel agency regarding a bus pack..ge tour to the A.W.I. Convention in Saskatoon in June.

Motions were approved to send $10 to the High School Scholarship Fund;$10.; to the provincial office of the W.I.; $10 to the local Senior Citizen's Welcome Centre; $20 to St. Andrew's United Church; and $60 to the Lougheed Curling Club.

The next meeting will be held on February 13 when Mrs. V. Storbakken will convene the program on the United Nations. Members are requested to bring an item or post card from another country for roll call. Each month the hostess is to provide a gift and present it in a different manner.

The business meeting was adjourned and Miss M. Fernyehough, handicraft convenor, and several members showed various interesting items they had brought.

Mrs. W. Paterson, convenor of Health and Home Economics, read an article on some of the products in the home that endanger children's lives, such as corrosives, lemon oil, toilet bowl cleaners, aspirin, chewable vitamins, as well as other products made and advertised as especially for children. She was pleased to announce that in some of the schools nutritious snacks, instead of "junk food" are being made available for the children.

The hostesses served a dainty lunch, and Miss M. Fernyehough's cup held the lucky number for the hostess prize.

Two Lougheed ladies fight frozen conditions

Only in Lougheed would you find ingenuity coupled with tenacity of the calibre exemplified by two fair ladies on a cold day in mid-January. One of these ladies took her husband to the hospital and, after being certain he was physically well but incapacitated, she set about caring for the estate of an absent neighbour

Upon entering his house and finding to her dismay that the water pipes were frozen, she set about righting the situation. She didn't want to keep all the joys of being a helper to herself so she searched out another lonely lady, and then warmed herself thoroughly as she raced up and down the streets, stopping only long enough to announce the distressful news to each likely looking gent whom she met. From the street, she proceeded to the house where she and her accomplice took turns holding their well-warmed hands to the trouble spot.

Finally, a gentleman arrived to assist the ladies in distress, but he felt the situation did not require immediate, intense action.

He told the ladies to turn up the thermostat and open the door. He would return later, and if the pipe had not thawed he would apply the necessary heat. Undaunted, the ladies continued to apply the warm hands and a light bulb. Just as they decided they would have to resort to a hot water bottle, the water flowed through the pipe and their troubles were over.

The two ladies are about to set up a plumbing repair agency named the Mutual Liquifying Corporation. In the meantime, they are searching for an office assistant to telephone each of the accosted gentlemen to inform them that the water is again flowing on the corner of Main and East. -Contributed

Rosyth pioneer passes in Edmonton

Estelle Emmiline Miller, aged 100 years and 11½ months, passed away at the Jasper Place Central Park Lodge, Edmonton, where she had resided for three years.

She was born in Orangeville, Ontario, later moving to the Whitewater district in Manitoba. In 1910, she married Leslie D. Miller and, in 1918 with a family of four small children, they moved to the Rosyth district. Here, another son was born. Later they moved to the farm where now the Interprovincial Pumping Station is situated. She resided there until she was 97 years of age. After spending a year with her daughter, she moved to the Lodge, where she passed away on December 22, 1978.

She was predeceased by her husband Les on December 22, 1948; two sons, Morly in 1920 and Maurice in 1969; five sisters and three brothers.

She leaves to mourn her loss a son, Louis Miller, Hardisty; daughters Vera, and her husband Oakley Clark, Edmonton and Edith, and her husband Marler, Sherwood Park; a daughter-in-law, Elsie Miller, Calgary; 16 grandchildren, their wives and husbands; 19 great grandchildren; one sister-in-law; 10 step-grandchildren and their families; and many loving nieces, nephews and friends.

A very touching service was conducted by Rev. Jackson on Thursday, December 28, 1978 at Hardisty United Church with the United Church Women's choir and organist. Two of her favourite hymns, "The Old Rugged Cross," and "In the Sweet Bye and Bye," were sang, and as a special request by the late Mrs. Miller, Doris, Doreen and Ollie sang a hymn of their choice, "Face to Face with Christ, Our Saviour."

Pallbearers were six of her 10 grandsons: Lorne Miller, David and Richard Marler, Wayne Clark and Jeffrey and Leslie Miller.

Fee & Sons Funeral Home was in charge of funeral arrangements. Committal service was in the church and interment in the Hardisty Cemetery.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our sincere thanks to our relatives and friends for their many acts of kindness during the loss of our loving mother and grannie, Estelle Miller, and to those who travelled from afar to be with us.

Special thanks for the memorials and cards of sympathy. To Rev. Jackson for his fine message and tribute to mother, to the choir and organist. Also, to Doris, Doreen and Ollie. Thanks to the UCW and Rosyth FWUA ladies for the lovely lunch.

A special thank you to the matron, nurses and all the staff of the Jasper Place Central Park Lodge for their kindness and special care they gave our mother, and to Dr. MacGill, who was always so kind and thoughtful.

Many thanks to Fee & Sons of Killam for their kindness and understanding.

Louis, Verda, Elsie, Edith and families

Battle Bend News

Mrs. Daisy Jensen accompanied Mrs. Dianne Dammann to Camrose last Tuesday to attend an Avon meeting.

Mr Leonard Korth dropped in last Thursday at the Jensen [illegible]

Kevin Sakaluk is a patient in the Hardisty Hospital. Get well soon, Kevin.

William Whitelock and Doris were in Edmonton last Wednesday on business.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Nick Kozak of Wasyple on the birth of a 7-pound, 10-ounce baby boy January 5, a brother for Darcy, Trevor and Greg.

The regular Battle Bend card party was held at the home of Mrs. Jensen last Saturday with four tables and one in play.

Prizes were won by: Mrs. Chrissie Armstrong and David Livingston - Firsts, Mrs. Ethel Woody and Will Johnson - Sweeps, Mrs. Florence Van Koughnett and Russel Morris - Mysteries, Mrs. Vera Morris and Adolph Doering - Lows, and Mrs. Florence Van Koughnet and Darrell Matthews - Travelling. The next card party will be Saturday, January 27. Everyone welcome.

Mrs. Florence Van Koughnett called in to see Mrs. Daisy Jensen last Sunday afternoon.

Sorry to hear that Stan Van Koughnett is a patient in the hospital.

Hardisty News

The Christmas voucher at the Drop-Inn Centre was won by Gail Bourque.

Your reporter attended the funeral of John Penman at Czar on Saturing, going down with Rev. Jackson.

I saw several old school friends, one is the cousin of the Hughes', who used to live in Sedgewick. Your reporter hadn't seen her for about 25 years. It's too bad so many old friens meet just at funerals.

Karen McKenzie spent Christmas with her parents in Hardisty, the first time in three years.

It was nice to see Barry Elliot again. He was transferred to Unity and finds it a bit lonesome as he is the only operator there. He works a day-shift now which is a nice change.

It is great to see a bakery next door to me which is looked after by Mrs. Glen Oldfield. The bread is brought down from Killam daily as well as other goodies and pop. We surely wish them well. Something like this has been needed for a long time.

There was lots of activity up at the arena on Sunday. Hardisty Pipers played Amisk at 10 a.m. with Amisk winning.

Then, at 1 p.m., Hardisty Long Horns played Czar and won. After than, Czar and the Hardisty Pipers played with Czar winning the B Division.

At 7 p.m., Hardisty Long Horns played Amisk with Hardisty winning.

Sorry to hear that Sister Elizabeth Veitch is not too well. Her good leg is bothering her now and the whole community sends her get well wishes.

Advent and Christmas services at St. Paul's United Church in Hardisty were well attended and felt to be inspiring and enjoyable by all.

Special organ, piano and vocal numbers were presented by local and out-of-town people. We were particularly privileged to have the musical talents of Mr. Robert Pounder, former organist at Knox-Metropolitan United Church in Edmonton, who is now living in Hardisty, and the duets with his sister, Mrs. Jean Moore, also from Edmonton. The very delightful vocal numbers by Beverly and Patricia Ritthaler from Calgary, granddaughters of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Drager, were most appreciated. Weekly candle services led by members of the United Church Women added much to the meaning of the season.

Killam's New Year baby is Paul William Ralph Bricker, son of Larry and Dorothy Bricker. The baby was born Tuesday, January 2 and weighed 6 pounds, 10 ounces.

Mrs. Bricker was presented with a complete line of baby products from Greg Barnes and Reg Fee on behalf of the Killam Chamber of Commerce, as well as gift certificates from almost 40 members of the chamber.

Therapy object of campaign

The Lougheed Rebekah Lodge is sponsoring a fund-raising campaign in order to purchase therapy equipment for the Therapy Room at the Killam Hospital. So often, many people who are in need of therapy have to travel to Camrose or Edmonton for a lengthy stay in order to receive necessary treatment.

The therapist, David R. Handley, M.C.S.P., and Therapy Room are open and available for use, not only by the doctors and patients of the Killam Hospital and Auxiliary, but also by the doctors and patients of all surrounding communities whether in the County of Flagstaff or not.

The equipment needed is: (1) An Ultra Sound Machine. Ultrasound is the form by which high frequency sound waves are applied to the body in order to increase blood supply to the area being treated, increase absorption of tissue fluid, prevent fibrous tissue, and mobilize existing tissue. The cost of this machine is $1,400; (2) A Lumbar Traction Machine, which will enable pinched nerves to be released; and (3) An Hydraulic Manipulation Couch.

To date, funds have been received from the Killam Lions Club, the Benevolent Fund in Calgary, and the Lougheed Rebekah Lodge, totalling $800. It is hoped that all organizations in the county will pull together so that $5,000 can be raised to pay for the above-mentioned equipment. With the co-operation of Mrs. Kay Reist of Daysland, Mrs. Marie Butler of Strome, Mrs. Genna Broder of Galahad (Forestburg), Sharon Kuprowsky of Killam, The Kinette Club of Sedgewick, Mrs. Mary Goodrich of Hardisty, and Buchanan Mercantile of Alliance, all organizations in the county have been written and financial assistance requested.

If any individuals or businesses wish to donate, would you please make your cheque payable to "Flagstaff Auxiliary - Therapy" and mail it to Mrs. Jerry Johnson, secretary, Lougheed Rebekah Lodge, Lougheed, Alberta.

Addition aids grain exports

The Alberta Wheat Pool has opened a major project which is aimed at improving Canada's grain exporting, said local Board Director Parke Dobson at a press conference in Camrose on Monday, January 22. The announcement was made in conjunction with the official opening of a 2.8 million bushel annex in Vancouver.

The new structure will provide storage and enable the port terminal to fill ships for 10 days if the flow of grain by rail is hampered by weather or other conditions. It is also hoped to lead the way for others, such as railroads and labour unions, to the port in increasing our grain exports.

Neighbourhood Watch meet set for Sedgewick

One of the main topics discussed at the January meeting of the Sedgewick Chamber of Commerce was the organizing of a Neighbourhood Watch. Tentative date for a community meeting, which includes county as well as town, was set for Wednesday, February 7 at 8 p.m. at the school. In setting up this meeting, the Chamber is confident there will be good participation from both town and county.

Efforts are still being made to obtain an emergency railway crossing in the eastern part of town. Town council has moved into the new office on Main Street, and an opening day is proposed for the near future. An enlarged committee of three, consisting of Mr. R. Hansen, Mr. C. Cumberland and Mr. M. Kupicki, will continue to work toward having a large lighted sign near the highway bearing the name of the town. Lights for the road leading from the highway into town is another important concern for this group.

The Santa Claus Day and Turkey Draw were reported to be successful again last year, and with some change and improvements, hopefully will be carried on next year.

Congratulations to the winners of the house decorating contest for Christmas: Mr. Gregiv Anderson, Mr. Frita Howeihe and Mr. Douglas Hagen. Thanks were extended to the judges of the contest: Mrs. Janet James, Mrs. Betty Galletly and Mr. Dave Black, who are to be invited to the next dinner meeting.

Deanna Wilson of the Killam 4-H Beef Club was presented with her reporter's award at the 4-H Fun Day on Saturday January 21 at the Sedgewick Rec Centre. Deanna was chosen as the best reporter of the 19 4-H clubs, which report to the Community Press and The Enterprise on their activities

Elks curlers from Strome to play in Alberta finals

On their way again . . . the Strome Elks curling team, winners of last year's Corby Cup competition for Canada, won the right to represent their district in this year's playdowns. The district playdowns were hosted by the Killam Elks Lodge over the weekend, with 13 rinks taking part.

The Strome team, this year comprised of Pat Miller, skip; Don Hayes at third; Jim Miller, second; and Ron Borgel, lead; played their way through the double knock-out event by winning over Rosalind twice in the final games.

The Seniors Division was won by the Heisler foursome of Marvin Kuntz, skip; Bill Loesch, third; Lorne Sommer, second; and Del Kroetsch, lead. They won over the Bashaw foursome of Morris Manz, Bernie Spelrem, Mac Raemer and Charles Riske in the final game.

Lodges competing in the regular section were Strome, Rosalind, Round Hill, Edberg, Bashaw, Camrose, Heisler and Killam. The Killam foursome was made up of Sharol Klebanosky, Mike Kueber, Frank McGowan and Reinhold Wegenaast.

Competing in the Seniors were five lodges: Heisler, Bashaw, Killam, Round Hill and Edberg. The Killam team was comprised of Skip Doug Forster, with Bill Morgan, Jens Lindseth and Bob McGowan.

The winners in both divisions will advance to further playdowns at Drayton Valley in February. Good luck to you!

Saturday evening, the curlers, their wives and the host lodge enjoyed a beef dinner catered by the Royal Purple at the Elks Hall. A good time was had by all.

Freedom requires responsibility

Conservative Leader Joe Clark arrived back in Canada last week after a disastrous 12 day tour around the world – "disastrous" by newspaper accounts, this is. Joe "Who" should be interested to read how his tour was interpreted by the entourage of reporters he had tag along behind him.

They certainly didn't relay favourable reports on Mr. Clark's trip – or behavior. But they weren't objective reports either. In fact, the writing of these well-known political "analysts" was blatantly biased. And that's sad to see. There are too many journalists using their positions to promote personal opinion rather than report fact. A jounalist's No. 1 rule is to report objectively. Too many have forgotten that rule – or feel it doesn't apply to them. And they've forgotten that people like to know both sides of a story (there's always more than one) and come to their own conclusion.

As for the Conservative Leader, Joe, perhaps his tour went as badly as we've been told. But how can we be sure? The man must have some idea about protocol – about behavior. Yet, in their reports, the press made him look like a buffoon. By doing so, they've made up a lot of people's minds on how to vote in the next federal election.

"Freedom of the Press" didn't give them that right. Freedom of the press should be a promise to the public that it can trust what it's reading in the papers to be fair and accurate. It's a fact that, during elections, most people cast their vote in the direction of the most-familiar name or toward the name for which they have the most positive reaction. Well, who's deciding what that reaction should be? Clearly, our media is playing a significant role in this decision-making process. For example, the people of Canada had no other way to judge the opposition's tour than by the reports they read in the papers. The Conservatives were holding a significant lead in the polls over any other party until the tour – or should we say, the reports of the tour.

How many of us are voting on the basis of our candidates' election platforms or, come election time, how many of us will give our votes to the candidate whose name we are most familiar with? That isn't a vote of confidence. That's called voting by proxy.

What Others Say

TO BE OR NOT TO BE - THAT IS THE QUESTION

The wearing of seat belts in vehicles in this province will likely become an issue this year. Hailing from a province already enforcing this legislation, we know the cry that will come when seat belt wearing becomes manditory. It will not likely be brought into effect until after an election because it is not the kind of issue that makes good election material. A number of people feel the wearing of seat belts should be an individual's decision and we are inclined to agree with them. Having worked on one of Canada's largest freeways, the 401 in Toronto, we can attest to the value of wearing seat belts. Many people survived serious injury because of the seat belt that was keeping them in one place. We cannot ever remember any time where the wearing of a seat belt caused the wearer to be trapped in a vehicle. We know of reported cases of injured people being trapped in burning vehicles held by seat belts, but who knows if they could have got out, seat belt or not.

If an individual chooses not to wear a belt, the insurance liability of his policy should be good for no more than $10,000.00, thus making the wearing advantageous to those who take the trouble to wear them. Of all the accidents we have seen, most injuries were caused by the victims going through the wind shield or hitting the dash. In fact, we witnessed an accident where the vehicles were not travelling any more than thirty miles an hour but two children were killed from hitting the wind shield and dash. Most injuries are to the head and chest. If a seat belt with shoulder harness is worn, most of these injuries can be prevented. We can sympathize with those who do not wear belts because it infringes their freedom, but we do not think that people who wear them should have to subsidize those who do not.

We support the wearing of seat belts because it is simply the smart thing to do. When you have seen the bodies of children on the highway because they had nothing to hold them in their seat, you quickly become a believer in the need for seat belts.

The Third Column

by Truncate

LAST WEEK, we commented on the fact that many of the patients in Auxiliary Hospitals and Nursing Homes were lonely mostly because they are being neglected by relatives and friends and are left to shift for themselves. The only friendliness they receive comes from the staff and members of the clergy, who visit periodically.

THIS LEADS, NATURALLY, to another train of thought, different perhaps, but probably relevant. We have been observing the mushrooming growth of Sects and Cults throughout the world. They seem to be springing up faster than natural gas wells on Alberta's prairies. Along comes some smooth-tongued, glib orator with all sorts of enticing promises to put an end to whatever it is that is bothering you. This, of course, is the least of the evils that usually follow, for those who have the ability to see things through to a logical conclusion do not follow such leaders as a general rule.

FROM WHAT WE HAVE been able to learn, and to see, leads us to the conviction that these professed prophets appeal, for the most part, to shall we say, the mentally immature, but probably moreso to those who have not enjoyed happy home lives in earlier years, those from broken homes and those who have been rejected or at least not accepted by the society in which they exist. They are lonely for friendship, for companionship and for acceptance. When they do not receive this they become very vulnerable to any sort of persuasion which promises to provide for them the things which they have missed out on and for which they longed.

THE VERY CONDITIONS which existed in Germany away back in the dirty thirties conditioned the people for the acceptance of an Adolph Hitler, an ex-corporal in the German Army. There is little doubt that originally this man did much for the economy of his country, but the idolization with which he was held destroyed any good and original intentions with which he started his public career. Power overcame his reasoning ability and this led to disaster for him and for his people.

WE SEE THE SAME THING happening today with Cults and Sects. The imagination of a goodly number of people (and we might add, hope) is captured to the point where they follow blindly. We are all acquainted with the age-old saying, "Sell what you have, give to the poor and come and follow me." These modern-day prophets have a somewhat similar slogan: "Sell what you have, give it to me and then do as I say." The recent, sad details of the "Jones" affair in Guyana via San Francisco is an ideal example of following false prophets blindly. Of course, those who sold their homes and property and turned the proceeds over to this man Jones, have no further use for it simply because they are dead; all by either murder or suicide. Society is probably to blame somewhat for allowing these people to become so desperately lonesome. Are we failing to reach out to such unfortunates? Could most of this have been prevented if society had held out the hand of friendship?

AND THEN THERE COMES TO MIND SUCH other Cults as the "Moonies," the "Children of God" and others who appeal to the same class of people. Here we see a re-enactment of present-day communism where the members and subjects are held under force, and we are forced to conclude that when force is used to control people and keep them in line, there is a false premise in the entire system. Most, or at least some, start out perhaps with a sincere idea of helping, but the gradual build-up of power corrupts the mind and destroys anything decent such Cults may have ever had.

WE OFTEN THINK about the time some years ago, a self-styled prophet convinced his followers that the end of the world was at hand. They all sold their property and belongings, adorned themselves in long white gowns and journeyed to the summit of a high hill to await the end which was to take place that night before daylight again appeared. When that same daylight did appear, as it always does, they found themselves in the desperate situation of having nothing but a white gown.

A YEAR-END NOTE: A man went into a store where he saw a sign saying, "95 Per Cent Reduction." He said, "Anything that has a 95 per cent reduction in price has to be a real bargain. I'll take a dozen." He found himself in possession of twelve 1978 calendars.

Letters to the Editor

WHAT YEAR IS THIS?

Have you taken time to think of what year this is? It is the Year of the Child. Now you know, what are you doing about it?

Could you take time from your meetings and curling to walk in the snow with a child?

Could you spare a moment from polishing the furniture to inspect a new invention that your son is sure is going to change the whole world?

Have you a home and lots of love to spare that could be shared with an unwanted child?

I'm sure you have time to hear the cry of a child who wants someone to listen to his side of the story!

Please find the time to put your hand into the hand of a handicapped child and lead him into his hometown school where it is his right to have an education.

Find time to stop in the noise and confusion to hear a child say, "Do you love me?"

Do you have time to care in this Year of the Child?

-E.F.H.

Strome Kindergarten

Substitutes keep kids busy

The Strome Kindergarten class has had a busy January. Although Mrs. Polege has been sick and in the hospital, Mrs. Stang has been substituting. The children made and sent get well cards to Mrs. Polege and have been doing several other cut and paste activities.

We plan to go skating each Tuesday afternoon for the next couple of months and hope the weather co-operates. Best wishes for a speedy recovery go out to Mrs. Polege.

Leo and Sandra Carignan and boys of Winfield spent last weekend with Mrs. Alice Pooler.

Mr. and Mrs. George Borgel have returned from a holiday to Hawaii.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Mary Smith-Gander, who is a patient in the Daysland Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Basil Smith-Gander were down last week and visited his mother in the hospital.

George Curtis and Errie Auburn attended the funeral of Mrs. Henry Kruse in Wetaskiwin last Saturday.

The Senior Citizens held a "500" card party last Thursday evening. The men's high score was won by Alex Robbins and low score by Bernie Morgan. The ladies' high score was won by Peggy Wheller and low to Karen Morgan. A lovely lunch was served by Marie Butler, Honey and Mina Curtis.

Senior Citizens, do not forget the pot luck supper Thursday, January 25. The next card party will be held on Thursday, February 1 at 8 p.m.

Mr. Almer Graham of St. Thomas, Ontario was a coffee guest at the Drop-In Centre last Friday.

Reports on Mrs. Dot Johnson are that she has been transferred to the Gleanoe Hospital for two weeks of therapy, and then will be transferred to the back to University Hospital and will have knee surgery. Good luck, Dot.

Mr. and Mrs. Elnar Johnson of Bashaw visited with Mel and Ann Johnson last Thursday.

Mrs. Rod May, Susan and Laurie of Dayland, and Patricia and Danny of Camrose were coffee guests with their grandmother, Katie May, last Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Johnson were dinner guests with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnson last Sunday. Mel and Bill also visited Jack Alexander in the Flagstaff Lodge.

Gary and Gloria Jorgenson of New Brigden were visitors at the Terry Veld home last Sunday.

Get well cards still go out to Grandma Scheelar, who has been transferred to an Edmonton hospital.

Mel and Ann Johnson and Louis Burkhart took in the Overture Concert in Camrose last Saturday.

Get well wishes are extended to Mrs. Bernice Borgel, who is a patient in the Dayland Hospital.

Pete and Mina Curtis' granddaughters, Melanie and Alisha, stayed with them, and Allison stayed with Judy Hawkins last Saturday while their parents, David and Charlotte Curtis, went to the Calgary Power Hockey Tournament at Vegreville.

Slow Cookers

Betty Birch, district home economist from Stettler, recently presented this information on slow cookers.

-It's not necessary to brown meats before cooking unless there is a considerable amount of fat. Fatty cuts should be browned or trimmed before slow cooking.

-Liquid speeds up the cooking process so recipes containing liquids cook faster than those without.

-Starchy vegetables, like potatoes, sometimes tend to remain crisp after they're cooked. If you prefer your vegetables well done, parboil them for about 10 minutes before adding them to the slow cooker.

-Preparatory steps, such as sauteeing onions and celery, can be eliminated.

-Dairy products may separate or curdle during the long cooking period. Add these shortly before serving, or substitute undiluted condensed cream soups if you can.

-Rice and pasta are best if pre-cooked and added just before serving.

-To change a regular recipe for a slow cooker, allow 1½ to 2½ hours on low in the slow cooker every 15 to 30 minutes regular cooking time and reduce the amount of liquid to about half.

Decorating With Fabric is a new book I have just received in my office.

It explains how to make cornices and canopies, how to apply fabric to walls. It even has money-saving decorating ideas on how to cover lampshades, frame fabric for pictures, and how to make matching tablecloths and napkins. If you would like some different decorating ideas, why not drop in?

COME ALIVE

by Richard Conrad

THE CHURCH

In Matthew 16:18 we read: "You are Peter, a stone, and upon this rock I will build My church; and all the powers of Hell shall not prevail against thee."

Is the church a failure? Not a church with the faith and insight referred to in the above text. It is healthy to see the church in action, rather than to make our deductions from a church in action. If we could stand in some neutral corner and see the millions of dollars that are spent annually for benevolence -- if we could catch a panoramic picture of the stabilizing influence upon the moral life of the world -- if we could see the missionary ambassadors who extend this influence to the ends of the earth, we would see at least a partial fulfilment of Christ's great commission: "Go ye therefore and teach all nations." It was, and is, and ever shall be, a universal gospel for the entire universe.

1. Is the church a narrow, bigoted institution, as her critics would have us believe? The church is the broadest institution on earth. We find in her communion the rich and the poor -- the black and the white -- the red and the brown -- the ignorant and the educated. Is it true in any other institution to which you lend your allegiance? Is it true to your lodge? Is it true in your club? You know the answer. Be bold when you affirm that the church is the most democratic institution in the world.

2. Is the church a failure? It is the only institution that has moved forward when all other institutions are bankrupt. It is the treasure house of the centuries. Business moves from one block to another, from one town to another, and finally evaporates, while the history of the church is the record of one unbroken success. Mussolini says in his autobiography, "The British Empire seeks lands everywhere throughout the world; the Russian Empire seeks land everywhere through out the world; but there is the Christian Empire, having no lands and seeking none, but possessing an idea that glows like fire, in which more than five hundred million, scattered over all the world, are agreed. Of these three, the little ship of the Divine Hebrew, Jesus, floats better than any other on the stormy waves of history."

3. What is wrong with the church? I ask, what is wrong with the church members? What is wrong with you? What is wrong with me? Suppose we used the same advertising policy in our business that we use in the church. For example, writing a large display ad using the following copy: "Very few people come to our business places these days, and the few who do are not satisfied. We no longer believe in the products we sell. If you care to drop in, it will be appreciated by the stockholders of the firm."

That is not the way to win business, and our half-hearted apologetic attitude toward the church is not the way to win men and women to Christ through the church.

When will the prophets of God become vocal again? When will we get back the radiance of a lost religious enthusiasm? When will we scale the summits of a high adventure with God? How long will we brood in unbroken silence while the Church of God is being criticised, maligned and belittled by those who have not "walked with Him in the way."

Lay hold upon your noblest and boldest thoughts of God and build your life on this braver and simpler plan. Upon such a foundation, He can build His church.

Bits & Pieces

Post-Christmas Adult Education Courses in many areas of the county are underway. Some cancellations due to lack of registrations have been necessary. Cross County Skiing at Sedgewick had one registration. This course is now scheduled for Strome on February 10 and 11 with Instructor Berney Busik.

Ceramic courses are going well in Hardisty, Killam, Strome and Forestburg, catering to the Adult Education needs very well in those areas.

Many Macrame and Craft courses are underway.

To fill the needs of the men in the area, we are offering Welding at Sedgewick and Forestburg, Motor Tune-Up and Maintenance at Daysland and Strome, and Basic Farm and Home Wiring at Forestburg.

Sedgewick is offering a Window Treatment Workshop with the preliminary meeting scheduled for February 14.

I will be on holidays for the next two weeks. Hopefully, you can phone 384-3737 and get the required information.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

FLIGHT FROM PERIL

The sound had begun far back in the jungle, a muted roar, as distance mashed the voices of the tree-top dwellers who were expressing their agitation at the presence of an interloper.

Wisps of vapour rose from the damp soil of the clearing, as the pitiless tropical sun sought to dispel every trace of an overnight rain. The tall jungle grass waved gracefully in the breeze, or moved more violently as the hunter and hunted, hidden in its green depths, fought their daily joust with destiny.

As the first wave of the noise reached the clearing, nervous movement began to disturb the green wall of vegetation. Squawking their distress, brilliantly-coloured tropical birds, like flying jewels, burst from the leafy dimness to flap across the open space and plunge, still shrieking, into the safety of the trees on the other side. Small creatures hopped, scurried, or slithered swiftly across the beaten game trail as they fled from the approaching disturbance, and trails of turbulence in the grass showed where larger things were retreating. Somewhere, one of the big cats voiced his displeasure at being disturbed.

Then the clamour reached the edge of the clearing and died to an uneasy murmur. After a moment or two, the cause of it all stumbled into view.

It was a man, terrified, in the last stages of exhaustion, ragged clothes and skin grimed with mud and fouled with the slime of a jungle pool. Swarming with insects, angry scratches, beaded with blood, attested to the desperation of his headlong flight through the thorn thickets.

Face turned back in terror, desperate eyes searching his back trail where the sound had begun again, he staggered forward on the path. His foot struck an exposed root, and he fell heavily onto his hands and knees.

Pushing wearily up on one knee, he cradled the other in both hands, sobbing with pain. After a moment, he became aware of the blood running through his fingers. With a strangled cry, he held his trembling scarlet hands before his eyes. From somewhere in his foul rags, he plucked forth an immaculate, snow-white, freshly-ironed handkerchief, and began to dab helplessly at the injured knee.

"Cut!" screamed an angry voice. "Everyone break for lunch." The breeze died, the sound died, the sunlight faded away, the kneeling man looked up in surprise. The unseen beings spoke again; his voice heavy with bitter resignation.

"You blithering idiot! Where in Hades did you get that damned handkerchief?"

SEED TREATMENT

Seed treatment provides economical insurance against many diseases and some insect pests of seeds and seedlings. The cost makes it cheap insurance when you consider that some barley fields suffer up to 20 per cent reduction in stand because of wireworms, root rot and other seedling diseases.

Both cereals and oilseed crops should be treated. Oilseeds like flax and rapeseed should always be treated with a fungicide to prevent seedling diseases. Cereals should be treated, especially when smut was observed in the grain being used for seeds. In fact, any cereals which are susceptible to smuts should be routinely treated. Resistant varieties need not be treated with a fungicide.

There are two basic types of seed treatment available in various forms and brand names. They are the fungal and insecticide types. Some companies have combined these to give a dual protection product, which contains both fungicides and insecticides.

All of the seed treatments registered for use today are much safer than the old mercury formulations, and often more effective. However, caution must be exercised, especially when using the products that contain the insecticide.

In spite of some manufacturers' promotional claims, all products are generally of similar effectiveness. It is of interest to note that Lindane is the ONLY seed dressing insecticide registered for use in cereals and oilseeds. Therefore, it really doesn't matter which company's product you're using. The effect of the chemical will be much the same.

Fungicides are more numerous, but generally, five major ones make up the largest portion of the commonly-used seed dressings. It's important to remember that Benomyl is the active ingredient, which gives protection against Blackleg in rapeseed.

In summing up: all rapeseed and flax should be treated. Rapeseed should be treated for both flea beetles and seedling diseases. In treating for flea beetles, remember Lindane only gives four to five days of protection to the new seedling. After that, some other form (for example, Furadan or Foliar spray) must be used. Cereals should be treated for diseases unless they are resistant. Wireworms - a routine treatment of every two to three years is advisable, and a definite treatment if seeding on newly broken grass land. More specific information is available in a publication, Seed Treatment of Cereal and Oilseeds, which is available from our office.

New weapon act in effect

A new firearms act (Bill C-51) will mean a change in habits for any persons possessing weapons, according to Sergeant Black of the Killam RCMP detachment.

Effective January 1, 1979, before anyone can purchase, borrow or lend a weapon, a firearm acquisition certificate must be obtained. These are applied for through a weapons' retailer or the police.

There's usually a three-day waiting period for the application to be processed, explained the sergeant. Records are checked locally, provincially and federally to determine the applicant has not been associated with violent behaviour or prohibited from purchasing firearms in the past.

"Basically," said Sergeant Black, "it will prevent any person with violent tendencies from being able to purchase firearms." It was not implemented, he stressed, to hamper the honest person.

When issued, the acquisition certificate is valid for five years and costs $10, Sergeant Black added. No fee is charged if a person hunts to sustain himself or family, but he still must hold an acquisition certificate in his possession.

The new law will affect gun outlets also, said the sergeant, as a weapons' retailer can no longer sell any firearm without the buyer's acquisition form. In fact, retailers now have to keep up-to-date records of customers, proof of acquisition certificates, and an inventory of weapons. And, unless they are already doing so, retailers by law must keep restricted weapons, such as pistols and hand guns, in locked cases with an alarm system in the store. A retailer who sells rifles only, not classed as restricted weapons, isn't required to install the alarm system, but the trigger of each weapon must be rendered inoperable for display purposes.

Not only is the new law designed to keep people with violent tendencies from purchasing weapons, it is hoped to reduce the number of firearm thefts as well, said Sergeant Black. Rifles, for example, can still be transported in a person's vehicle but must not be left unattended unless the vehicle is locked. It would be wise, he added, if the weapon was not displayed openly.

Any person who does not comply can be fined, jailed, have his firearm revoked, or be restricted from ever purchasing other weapons. This applies to borrowers and lenders of firearms as well.

The new law provides more stringent regulations concerning restricted weapons, however. Any such weapon only can be used at, and transported to and from, an authorised gun club in Alberta. A person can apply for an extension so he may carry his weapon into another province, added the sergeant, but only if it's to a recognized gun club.

The area served by the Killam RCMP detachment, approximately 18,000 square miles, attracts a large number of hunters each year - 96 per cent of all migratory birds fly over it. This influx of hunters as yet hasn't caused any problems with gun thefts, according to Sergeant Black; the detachment has received only two or three reports of theft each year.

Although the sergeant is sure there have been robberies not reported, he added, "it's been fortunate two and three is all we've had." Other areas haven't been as lucky. Two shotguns and a high-powered rifle were stolen recently from vehicles in Leduc.

60th anniversary in Daysland

Mr. and Mrs. Fritz Carlson celebrated their 60th wedding anniversary on Sunday, January 14. All their children gathered at their home for a family dinner and relive memories of by-gone years.

Mrs. Carlson, formerly Anna Tranberg, was born in Gjovik, Norway in 1890. She came to Chicago in 1910 as a maid when her employer emigrated from Norway, and moved on to Dayland in 1918.

Mr. Carlson was born in Vinloden, Sweden in 1890 and came to Calgary in 1911. He came to the Sawil district in 1912. They were married there on January 17, 1919. They farmed in that district until 1927 when they moved to town. They still live in their own home.

The couple has two daughters, Borgny Koehli of Daysland and Lil McIntyre of Edmonton, and three sons, Gunnar of Regina, Saskatchewan, Roy of Dayland and Eric of Edmonton. They have 16 grandchildren and 12 great grandchildren. The day was remembered by friends and relatives with cards, flowers and greetings from Lieutenant Governor Steinhauer and Premier Lougheed.

The Sunbeam Club met in the Dayaland Community Hall Wednesday afternoon, January 17, with 28 members present. There were two high scores, Mrs. Dietrich and Mr. Fossen. Low went to Mrs. Bromseling. The club is invited to Mr. and Mrs. Bromseling's home on Wednesday afternoon, January 24.

A correction from previous news: Mrs. Ethel Graham visited her son, Eugene Graham, and family at Bashell Park, Saskatchewan and Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Oerre in Calgary over the Christmas holidays.

Mr. Frank Moore reports a very successful Bible Society canvas this past fall. Thanks go to his helpers: Mrs. Violet Johnson, Laura Graham, Helen Paulgaard, Chris Cockburn, Agnes Schatz and Emily Hill, and to the community for its co-operation in realizing $1,134.50. Every little bit is always appreciated.

The Friendship Club met January 16 in the United Church Social Room at 2 p.m. For entertainment, the kindergarten teachers brought their class to put on their Christmas program for us. Mrs. Mel Dietrich played the piano for the singing. There were 19 children and three teachers.

They went through the whole program very well and the ladies enjoyed it very much. After, they all sat around in a circle and enjoyed kool-aide, cookies and a box of candy while the teachers enjoyed coffee and lunch. After the kindergarten class left, we had our meeting.

President Anna Boggs brought the meeting to order. Lydia Wendt read the devotion, "The Need of a Friend," and the hymn sung was Leaning on the Everlasting Arms. The roll call was answered by 20 members and there were two visitors present. The minutes and treasurer's report were given by Swea Midbo. For the next meeting, Alma Kostke has devotion and lunch is Ethel and Laura Graham and Anna Dolans. There were four members mentioned that never missed a meeting last year: Rose Kishkewich, Bertha Olson, Margaret Schmidt and Kamille Knudson.

The program was a skit by four ladies in honour of the new president, Anna Bogg's, birthday. A lovely lunch was then served.

The Daysland Agriculture Society Committee meeting was held on January 10. This meeting was to prepare the fair booked for August 11 and 12.

The Agriculture Society's regular meeting was held January 15. Lil Klutz read the minutes of the previous meeting, and Patrick Gertner gave the treasurer's report.

The society received the fair grant of $1,907, and $300 donations were given to the arena.

It is hoped that any one having cheques for 1978 fair prizes will cash those now as the society is to stop payment on them. It was decided to have a rodeo this year. Dates for the rodeo were discussed and Tom Blake was to report back as to when the facilities were open.

The Agriculture Society annual supper and dance will be held on March 17.

The wages for the secretary and treasurer were set at this meeting. It was also decided the Agriculture Society would apply for a "C" class fair this year.

The president of the society, Norman Nickerson, Secretary Lil Klutz and Treasurer Patrick Gartner attended the executive seminar held in Vegreville.

January is a good month for birthdays here in Dayaland: Elmer Eshpeter, 3rd; Eleanor Davidson, 20th; Anna Boggs, 21st; and Evelyn Hussey, 27th. A happy birthday to you all.

Sorry to hear that Jim Brown is a patient in the Dayaland Hospital.

Galahad bonspiel held

The winners of the Junior Bonspiel held last weekend in Galahad were:

First Event - Ron Gamroth, 1st; Ed Chibri, 2nd; Doug Buchholz, 3rd; and Sheldo. Jackson, 4th.

Second Event - Darrell Herle, 1st; Lee Wegenast, 2nd; Doug Buchholz, 3rd; and Paul Kerias, 4th.

Third Event - Jerry Candlish, 1st; Kevin Meyer, 2nd; the Snethun rink, 3rd; and Kevin Kroetch, 4th.

Gene Whitehead and Pete Willis were Calgary visitors on Wednesday. They went down to bring Kay Pesood home from the Foothills Hospital, where she spent a few days.

Lois Brausen and Mrs. Ernie Gamroth spent the weekend in Edmonton. Denise visited a friend, Mrs. Joan Slager. Lois was the guest of her daughters', Pat and husband, and Donna. She also took in the Ice Capades.

We are pleased to see Carrie Bownes home after her stay in the hospital. She is mobile again on a pair of crutches.

Anne Wise is still a patient at the hospital, however, she is improving and very cheerful.

Aunty Martha is doing very well at the Glenrose in Edmonton. She is looking forward to a visit from her son Gerald of Winnipeg in a few days.

Doreen Herle has taken up residence in the local hospital. Hope your stay will be of short duration, Doreen.

Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Winter are home after a very enjoyable holiday in Hawaii. Mr. and Mrs. Sim Hall and family accompanied them on their trip. Alfred and Gen spent awhile in Edmonton before returning home the first part of the week.

Dennis Herle, Caroline and Ellen were Edmonton visitors on Saturday, January 20. Their destination, the Glenrose Hospital to visit Martha Bedry.

4-H Club Activities

HEISLER 4-H HEMMERS HEAR GUEST SPEAKER

The guest speaker for the Heisler Hemmers 4-H Club meeting was Cathy Zimmer. A question period followed. Her talk was on public speaking.

We decided to have a bake sale on Saturday, January 27 at 1 p.m. and ending at 4 p.m. at John's General Store. Each family in 4-H will bring two baked articles.

On Saturday, February 10 at 1 p.m., is our public speaking. There will be lunch after. A skate-a-thon was discussed with the date left for the next meeting.

We plan to go to regional days Saturday, February 17. Our workshop was Wednesday, January 17.

Killam and District News

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Lewis and family spent the weekend with relatives in Vermilion.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan and family of Sherwood Park were weekend visitors with parents, the Dick Kinsers and Bill Morgan, visiting Dick in the hospital. Nice to hear Dick is home again.

Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Hart motored to Edmonton on Saturday to meet the plane on which Mrs. Bruce Le Messurier and Steven of Greenwood, Nova Scotia were travelling. Home for the weekend with parents and family were Mr. and Mrs. Terry Bletcher and boys. Mr. and Mrs. Reg Oulett and Tessa of Edmonton and Mr. Reg Hart of Calgary. The big attraction was to get acquainted with grandson Steven.

Mr. and Mrs. Laurie George and family spent the weekend in Provost with Mr. and Mrs. Larry Clark and family.

Deepest sympathy of the community goes out to Mr. Lamar Graff, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Rotl and family and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Graff and family in their loss of Mrs. Graff, who passed away in the W.W. Cross Hospital on January 9. Funeral services were held on January 12 in the Sedgewick Church of the Nazarene.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Seiferman returned home after spending Christmas and the holidays with Leo Manning and family at Prince George, B.C.

Mr. and Mrs. Allan Bouchard and Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Shultz left for a week in Las Vegas. Mr. and Mrs. Doug Thorpe of Camrose are babysitting Randy and Susan while parents are away.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Gibb and family spent the weekend in Edmonton with Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Streberg and family.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Bob Clark, who are the proud parents of a baby boy born January 15, weighing 7 pounds, 15 ounces. His name will be Brent Robert. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Clark and Mr. and Mrs. Tony Schnettler. Great grandmother is Mrs. Clara Schnettler.

Mrs. Brian Morgan and Billy and Miss Coreena McLennan of Edmonton spent the weekend with parents in Morrin.

Nice to hear Mrs. Levern Keindorfer is home from an Edmonton hospital after undergoing surgery.

On Tuesday, January 16, around 25 relatives and friends enjoyed birthday cake and coffee at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan. The occasion was dad's, Mr. Ted Erickson's, 89th birthday and grandson Brian's, whose fall on the same day. Happy birthday to both.

Mr. Walter Erickson left by plane to Ottawa to visit his Barb Fox, her hubby and family. A very nice Christmas gift from his family.

Happy birthday to Mrs. Fred Hall, who will be 91 years young on January 25.

Mr. and Mrs. John Forster have left for a holiday to Arizona and other parts of the States.

Mrs. Lloyd Ball of Sherwood Park has been visiting her mother, Mrs. Annie Kinser, and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Greg Hart, and Miss Lana Pederson and fiance Mr. Lyn Storbakken of Edmonton were weekend visitors with parents, Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Pederson and family.

Killam's kindergarten sends get well wish

After a very happy holiday, the Killam kindergarten began with the children drawing thier favourite Christmas gifts, then mailing the pictures to Mrs. Donna Polege, who is still ill.

Crafts have been exciting. Each substitute teacher, Mrs. Carole Stang, Mrs. Pauline Boyarchuk and Mrs. Karen Knievel, has brought a wealth of new ideas. A story about "Pickles" the fire cat inspired the making of yellow and black dotted cats. Murals called "winter fun" now deck the walls, and so do snowmen made from scraps of paper and paint. Sizing art was something different and the ingredients consisted of paper, paint, string and a good imagination.

The science corner is particularly interesting. Corn was studied. The way it was planted, taken care of, harvested, and its uses were discussed. For a treat, popcorn was made and seeds planted. Also, potted tulips are up, and when spring is here, flowers will be blooming.

The next project is learning about the monarch butterfly and its different stages.

To encourage "story book" time, felt book markers were made. Children also learned to dramatize the stories they liked, and fun to all - Plasticine turned into alphabet letters.

Skating has started and will continue every Wednesday up to February 7 from 2:15 to 3:15 p.m. Mothers are encouraged to come.

Highlights of the months was the celebration of two birthdays, Tracy Pederson's and Dale Rott's.

Next month, on February 14 at 2 p.m., there will be the Valentine Party.

St. George ACW meets

St. George's ACW meeting was at the home of Dorothy Feigate's for the annual meeting. After all annual reports were made, the election of officers was held. Rev. Conrad took the chair for the election of officers: President - Maureen Collins, Vice-President - Dorothy Bricker, Treasurer - Dorothy Feigate, and Secretary - Elaine Fujczak.

The next ACW meeting will be held February 14 at 2 p.m. at the home of Elaine Fujczak.

4-H FUN DAY

This year's 4-H Fun Day for the district was held at the Sedgewick Rec Centre on Saturday, January 21 with everyone reporting a good time.

"The Press" was on hand to record the curling and bowling winners. In the top photo are first place winners: 4kip Ralph Davidson of Alliance, and Lylia Kroetsch, Lee Badry and Kristy Sullivan, all of Heisler.

Second place winners (middle photo) are: Skip Karen Lunty of Forestburg, Winston Smith and Karen Zimmer, both of Heisler, and Anna Christenson of Killam.

Winners of the bowling high scores were presented with trophies by Carol Arntzen (right), district president. On the left is Bev Bagdan, and next is Clint Widdowson, who had high scores of 192 and 207 respectively for the girls and boys.

4H CLUB Activities

4-H FUN DAY ENJOYED

Fun curling, bowling and skating was what we had on Fun Day at the Sedgewick Rec Centre on Saturday, January 20. Fun Day is a day when all Flagstaff 4-Hers get together to bowl, curl and skate. Eight of us were there from Killam Horse Club. We met new people who came from other clubs. There were people there who had not curled before, like myself, and so the older members were very good in showing us how. That's what 4-H is all about. Thank you to the Sedgewick 4-H Club for hosting the Fun Day. -Anna Christenson

Flagstaff Lodge

The ladies of the Merna Welfare Club were at the Flagstaff Lodge January 18 to entertain the guests with a film so dear to my heart, a Walt Disney Production. It was about a little boy and his pet lamb. It was very enjoyable. They brought a nice lunch as well. Thank you, ladies.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. Bronson in the Killam Hospital and Mrs. McClemments in the Hardisty Hospital.

The Senior Choir of Hope of Forestburg were here on Sunday afternoon.

Arnold Marlow of Lougheed was in to visit the Klinger brothers.

T. Otto of Viking and Eileen Ness and children of Sedgewick were in to visit Mrs. Fogelburg.

Art, Helen and Elsie Black of Lougheed, and Horace, Eva and Robin Cookson of Hardisty were in to visit Mr. and Mrs. Cookson.

Isabel Nelson and Her son Alex of Hardisty were in to visit Olaf Nelson.

Leif and Edith Osback of Sedgewick were in to visit their many friends in the Lodge.

Donna Lee Busse and Sonja Frank of Forestburg were in visiting Rose Kirschman. Jean Fink of Forestburg was in to visit Mrs. Fink.

Cec Peacock of Alliance was in to visit his mother, Mrs. Peacock.

Charlene and Brandi Heffel of Alliance were in to visit Mr. Costall.

Bertha and Leslie Palmer of Killam were in to visit Mother Palmer.

Doug and Nancy Costall and family of Sedgewick were in to visit Grandpa Costall.

Charles and Dorothy Lane of Sedgewick were in to visit Mrs. White and other friends.

Olive Barber and Susie Dragor of Camrose were visiting George Hotz and their many friends.

Thomas and Mildred Clouston of Lougheed took Mother Clouston to supper in Killam.

Trinity LCW gathers

Trinity LCW held its first meeting of the New Year in the Lougheed Welcome Center January 18. Eight members were present.

President Mrs. N. Tweedy welcomed those present and led in repeating the Preamble.

Devotion was given by Mrs. Tweedy. All took part in the Bible Study and this will be done at all the meetings. There will be no set leader, but everyone will have to have their Bible lessons done. Minutes were read and adopted. The treasurer gave her financial report.

Under correspondence, two thank you cards were received, a letter of thanks and a receipt from the Bible of the Month Club and a letter from the Leprosy Mission of Canada.

A donation will be sent to the Student Aid Fund regarding the Lutheran Theological Seminary. A donation was also made to the Flagstaff Auxiliary Therapy.

The annual Valentine Tea and Bake Sale was planned and will be held on Saturday, February 10 at the Lougheed Community Hall from 2 to 5 p.m.

The Program Books were revised and will be used again this year.

The education secretary read "Love Offering Boxes," and the meeting was adjourned.

The Lord's Prayer and the Benediction closed the meeting. Coffee and cookies were enjoyed.

Officer for 1979 are: President - Mrs. N. Tweedy, Vice-President - Mrs. A. Ness, Secretary - Mrs. J. Johnson, Treasurer - Mrs. G. Potter, Education Secretary - Mrs. A. Southun, Stewardship - Mrs. J. Southun, and Card Convenor - Mrs. M. Larson.

Discussion on aging enjoyed in Hardisty

More than 20 people attended the meeting at the Drop-In Centre the evening of January 9 with Dr. Caldwell of Viking as the guest speaker. This was sponsored by the Hospital Auxiliary.

Dr. Caldwell had been at the school in the afternoon to talk to the pupils and to show films. The first film shown was of a family coming to visit grandma in a nursing home at Christmas time. There were three grandsons but, sad to say, only the oldest one knew how to visit with grandma. That film was so true to life.

The next film was about a 99-year-old lady who was never lonesome, even though she lived alone. She was very active for her years and knew how to entertain herself.

The next day, after this program, the Edmonton Journal showed a 99-year-old lady who had read the Journal for 70 years.

Dr. Caldwell said that it was very important to plan retirement as you went along in life, which, in other words means, "All work and no play makes Jack a dull boy."

Another thing that he felt we should do was to be interested in people, things around us, politics, etc. if that is in our interest. But don't vegetate. Keep your mind busy.

Dr. Caldwell is on a number of committees that are interested in the aging process and he informed us that there are 29 health care units in Alberta, nine of which are in Calgary and Edmonton. That leaves 20 in various parts of the province.

Alberta is away ahead of other provinces in the number of institutions for the elderly, but is lacking in home care.

Six per cent of Alberta's population is in institutions. In our East-Central Health Unit, 11 per cent are over 65.

Forty per cent of the elderly in institutions and elsewhere are more than 85 years of age.

Then Dr. Caldwell said that there are the young old and the old old, which some of us have noticed. Some 85-year-old people are younger in mind that some 60-year-old ones.

Dr. Caldwell's talk was very interesting and showed us all that if we live long enough, we too will be in those groups. Some of us are already there.

Argyle Institute has first meet of New Year

The Argyle Women's Institute held the first meeting of the year on January 19 in the W.I. Library in Alliance. Marguerite Scott presided.

Plans for future activities included a Friendship Night, to which all ladies of the district will be invited. Watch for further announcements, girls!

There was some discussion on the operation of the library. Many new books have been added recently, and a film projector and screen have been supplied by the Northern Alberta Library Development Association for use in the community.

Appointments to the library board were: Pat Cameron, Ciara Johnson, Verlene Spady, Edna Towers, Annie Schofield, and Muriel Fankhanel.

Donations will be sent to the Federated Women's Institute project "Landrover for Lesotu" and to the Central High School Scholarship Fund.

There was some discussion as to the future of local hospitals and it was decided to invite Mr. Alfred Rands, a member of the Flagstaff-Hughenden Hospital Board, to speak to us on February 15 at 8 p.m. Members of the public are invited to join us at that time.

Bertha Rands entertained with a word association game which was quite a brain teaser but was enjoyed by all.

Ski Cross Country!

(Compiled from SKI CROSS COUNTRY, by Canadian Association of Nordic Ski Instructors, CANSI)

We've realized the snow is here to stay, the crisp temperatures will keep us bundled up for a few more months, and we've decided to give this 'cross country skiing' a try. We'll stick close to the house. If we don't like it, or it doesn't keep us as warm as it's supposed to, we'll home inside.

Last month, we discussed the benefits and, more importantly, the fun of cross country skiing. Maybe you've been toying with the idea of giving it a try. Maybe you already have and are now a fan. Whatever — choosing your equipment is the next step. These few pointers might just help you buy what's best for you without any big outlay of cash.

First: your skis. In selecting the proper length, remember that the tip should touch the palm of your upward extended hand. The longest ski a man will choose is 210 centimetres (cm), unless he is taller than 6'1". The maximum length is 220 cm. In contrast to downhill skiing, the taller and heavier you are means you should buy a stiffer, not longer, cross country ski. A woman of the same height as a man will choose skis five to 10 cm shorter since a man can usually put more force into his kicks and can handle a longer ski.

In selecting the proper stiffness of ski to guarantee that wax or non-waxable patterns make contact with the snow, stand evenly over the harness section of your selected skis. A piece of paper placed under the bases should meet some resistance when pulled out from under the foot area. The skis will be too stiff if the paper easily slides from tip to tail, and too soft if the paper cannot be removed. Skis too stiff offer no grip and skis too soft wear wax off easily.

Poles. They should fit snugly into your armpits when you are standing.

Boots. They should allow for two pairs of socks - a thin and a heavy pair. Make sure all outer clothing will prevent snow from getting into your inner layers. And wear gloves, mitts, scarves, toques, earbands or earmuffs to keep heat from dissipating from your hands, neck and head.

Fashion should be your last consideration in choosing cross country clothing, or clothing for any outdoor sport for that matter. But with constant improvements in material and design, it is possible to combine fashion with function.

Proper clothing doesn't only mean you'll enjoy an outdoor sport more because you're warm, but could be the deciding factor in a life and death situation. Already there's been a fatal incident this year when two people froze at Banff. Reports indicated that with clothing suited to the temperatures in which they were skiing, the young couple could have made it to safety.

Compact clothing is lightweight, durable, versatile and allow for complete freedom of movement. Do not refer to downhill skiing when choosing clothes for cross country skiing. They differ substantially. Also, snowmobile suits and heavy down parkas are not suited for cross country skiing. Dress in layers – it allows you to add or subtract clothing as conditions change and helps guarantee proper maintenance of body temperature.

Be conscious of the material of the clothes you are selecting. Wool insulates well, even if wet, but dries slowly. Cotton absorbs water and loses its insulating quality when wet. Cotton, however, is often combined with other materials to form very functional apparel. Nylon, because of its lightweight, durability, wind resistance and water repellent characteristics, is generally used for outer garments.

As mentioned earlier, always wear two pairs of socks – a thin and a heavy pair. Make sure all outer clothing will prevent snow from getting into your inner layers. And wear gloves, mitts, scarves, toques, earbands or earmuffs to keep heat from dissipating from your hands, neck and head.

Fashion should be your last consideration in choosing cross country clothing, or clothing for any outdoor sport for that matter. But with constant improvements in material and design, it is possible to combine fashion with function.

Proper clothing doesn't only mean you'll enjoy an outdoor sport more because you're warm, but could be the deciding factor in a life and death situation. Already there's been a fatal incident this year when two people froze at Banff. Reports indicated that with clothing suited to the temperatures in which they were skiing, the young couple could have made it to safety.

Notley recalls past promise

NDP Leader Grant Notley has salvaged a Conservative election promise of 1971 to create an "economic council of Alberta" that would offer the provincial government independent advice.

Notley said the Tories' failure to enact the pledge confirms they have lost the reforming drive which helped them replace the aged Social Credit administration eight years ago.

Premier Peter Lougheed, in a recent interview, said the economic council promise was set aside. In 1971, his party wanted the agency to help with planning, and spotting opportunities for growth.

Lougheed said his administration decided to hear economic advice in private and did not want to put the interests involved on the spot by making them go public with their ideas.

But the province's growing economic power as a result of energy revenue surpluses shows signs of making the council proposal even more attractive today.

In a poll commissioned by The Calgary Herald, 54 per cent of the survey group felt an independent, non-governmental body should be involved in planning uses for the Heritage Fund.

Notley wants a representative council with participation by the Alberta Chamber of Commerce, Unifarm, the National Farmers' Union, the Indian and Metis associations, the Alberta Federation of Labour, environmentalists, consumers, educators, the handicapped and the public.

The New Democrats have served notice that their economic thinking is not confined to government takeovers of major provincial concerns such as automobile insurance and Calgary Power.

The party denies abandoning "social democratic" principles. But its 1979 election platform puts heavy emphasis on policies aimed at the farming and business communities.

Notley says the NDP is committed to a "healthy private sector" and giving "Alberta-based entrepreneurs" the chance to "develop their own ideas and opportunities for diversifying the economy."

"We seek diversification of economic control in order to protect the province from over-dependence on world resource markets and multi-national corporations."

Notley says the Heritage Fund should take over the Alberta Opportunity Company and the Agricultural Development Corporation. He wants their capital expanded to $500 million apiece and suggests creation of new low-interest loan programs for businessmen, farmers, Indians and Metis.

An Investment By Farmers
Alberta Pool has opened a 2.8 million bushel addition to the Vancouver terminal. It increases the capacity of this farmer owned facility by 36 percent or to 10.1 million bushels.
The Alberta Pool terminal now has the capacity to unload 220 to 230 cars per day. Ships can be loaded at the rate of 455,000 bushels per 7½ hours.
The terminal can now load ships for up to 10 days if rail service is discontinued.
It's a demonstration of leadership by farmers.

IN MEMORIUM

BRODIE — In loving memory of Gordon Brodie, husband, father and grandfather who passed away January 22, 1971.

To some you may be forgotten,
To others a part of the past.
But to us who loved and lost you
Your memory will always last.
Remembered by his wife and family. 21-1p

IN MEMORIUM

BORGEL — In loving memory of August Borgel who passed away January 23, 1975.

His smiling way and pleasant face
Are a pleasure to recall
He had a kindly word for each
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him
Some day we know not when
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again.
Ever remembered by his wife Rose and daughter, sons and daughters-in-law, son-in-law and grandchildren. 21-1c

CULSHAW — In loving memory of our mother, Ethel May Culshaw who passed away on January 26, 1965.

She is gone but not forgotten
And, as dawns another year,
In our lonely hours of thinking
Thoughts of her are always near.
Days of sadness will come o'er us
Many think the wound is healed
But they little know the sorrow
That lies in the heart concealed.
Ever remembered and sadly missed by Alice, Don, Darren and Ronald. 21-1p

RUSSELL — In loving memory of our dear mother and grandmother, Mary E. Russell, who passed away January 27, 1975.

Today recalls the sad memories
Of our dear mother, gone to rest.
And the ones who think of her today
Are the ones who loved her best.
Lovingly remembered, Adolph and Lil, George and Eleanor, Art and Dianna and Tom. 21-1c

Fish and game sees small turnout

The Iron Creek Fish and Game Association held its annual meeting on Tuesday, January 9 with a rather disappointing turnout for an annual meeting.

Ed Davidson took over as president of the club for the next two years. He took over from Francis Bovencamp, who had served the club in this capacity for the past two years. Leo Markwart is the new vice-president and Irene Yelle will continue as secretary-treasurer.

Considerable discussion took place regarding the club's upcoming trophy night. This year, the format will be changed somewhat by having a dance to follow our banquet. It will take place in the Lougheed Community Hall on Saturday, March 3.

The Lougheed Arena Ladies will cater to the banquet and Lyle Metz and his Men will supply the music for the dance.

The Trophy Committee reported some very good trophy entries in the Club Trophy competition this past year and they felt some had a very good chance of winning in the provincial competition.

On the weekend of June 2 and 3, the Iron Creek Fish and Game Association will host the Zone 3 spring executive meeting. A tour of the local clubs conservation projects and a social evening are being planned for visiting club representatives. This will be another first for the Iron Creek Fish and Game Club as this will be the first time the Zone 3 meeting is being held in a centre east of Highway 2.

Our next meeting will be held in the Lougheed Legion Hut on Tuesday, February 13 at 8 p.m. with Mr. Williams of Ducks Unlimited as the club's guest. Anyone in the area with an interest in previous Ducks Unlimited projects carried out in the area, or anyone wishing to have new projects started are welcome to attend and discuss with Mr. Williams. A Ducks Unlimited film will be shown, followed by lunch

Anglican church women attend annual meeting

The annual meeting of the All Saints Anglican ACW of Lougheed held their January meeting at the home of Mrs. Doreen Conrad.

The meeting opened with the Members' Prayer. The president then welcomed four members and four visiting ladies and four small people. Minutes of the last meeting were read by Secretary-Treasurer Rosemary Kampen, and also the treasury report. Business arising from minutes was discussed and memberships were paid. We received our new calendars for 1979.

Rev. Conrad then took the chair for election of officers and the same ones were voted back in office for the next year. Plans were made for a coffee hour after church at St. John as we said good bye to Neil and July Haines, who are leaving for their new home in Leahburn, Saskatchewan.

We also bid bon voyage to our secretary-treasurer, Rosemary, and to Jean Hepworth, who are leaving on a five-week vacation to Japan, Singapore and many other interesting places. We do hope they and Cyril and Elaine Lindell have a fine time.

Sandra Rosiechuk won the hostess prize and the meeting was closed by prayer and a blessing rendered by Rev. Conrad.

Our next meeting will be held in March. Doreen served a lovely lunch and we enjoyed the fellowship hour. We do thank Doreen again for having us.

Annual meet of Strong Unfarm held

The Strong Unifarm Local held its annual meeting at Bells Hill on January 17 at 8 p.m. with 15 in attendance. They have had a very good year and ended up with a healthy bank account. Having two bingos in one year and catering to a grain seminar last February contributed much to this achievement.

The officers re-elected were: President - Mrs. Fay Dvidson, Vice-President - Donald Frasier; Secretary-Treasurer - Miss Anita Davidson. On a motion by Andrew Cameron, it was decided that we have only six directors this year. They are: Albert Jones, Andrew Cameron, Lloyd O'Reilly, Joe Cameron and Kenneth Cameron.

The lunch committee is the same: Mrs. Ben Cibert, Mrs. Paul Van Hecke and Mrs. Andy Cameron. Melba is also publicity director again.

The next meeting will be on February 21, and hopefully, there will be a speaker there to inform us on land lease rights. Hope to see a good turnout at that meeting.

Lougheed Sports
News, Views & Reviews

A senior men's team curled in the zones at Wainwright, a junior rink curled at Provost and a men's rink at Edgerton.

Lougheed's Rec hockey team defeated Strome 9-3, but lost to Arnett and Burgess of Sedgewick 10-7.

On Saturday, some of our high school students played in the final girls' basketball game at the Provost tournament.

Sixteen teams competed in the county's junior high school curling bonspiel at Forestburg. Finals and trophies were won by two rinks from the Lougheed Junior High. Rinks were skipped by Kevin Martin (winning 1st) with Tina Gruninger playing 3rd, Scott Cookson 2nd and Billy Probst lead. Glen Snethun (2nd finalist) skipped, with Marilyn Wylie playing 3rd, Mark Firkus second and Ed Cameron throwing lead. Congratulations to both rinks!

A very successful Midget Hockey Tournament concluded on Sunday evening with Coronation placing first, Killam in second, Rimbey winning third, Sedgewick (the home team) fourth, and then Oyen and Bashaw as fifth and sixth. It is hoped the tournament will become an annual event.

Events planned for the arena in the future include a pancake and sausage supper, an ice carnival, called "Children around the World," several hockey tournaments, and the grand opening of the arena. Invitations are extended to all to attend these events. Watch for final dates to be announced.

Hardisty woman hears of sister's award

Mrs. Doodie Cahill had some really good news recently. Her sister, who is a nun and principal of a school in England, was on the Queen's New Year's honour list and received the Member of the British Empire Award (MBE) for her services to Education. I'm sure that we all rejoice with Doodie on her sister's recognition by the Queen.

Several hockey games in the Battle River Hockey League were played Monday with Hardisty winning over Sedgewick 9-6.

It was nice to see Kay Rittenhouse and Sharon Matthews of Alliance at the bingo on Wednesday night.

It's always nice to hear of people who have left their home and gone to other parts only to return to home base again. Such is the case of Buck Davis who left Hughenden for Grand Centre about 20 years ago.

Now, his sons are starting up a Ford parts shop, known as R and L Ranchland Auto and Farm Supply, and will be opening it soon.

Lee Davis received his high school in Sedgewick in the good old "Dorm" days, and no doubt will run into some of his former school mates after the shop gets going in Hughenden. We are glad to learn of Buck and Alice back again.

The Jim Huddlestones received a nice Christmas present a bit early in the form of a brand new son weighing 9 pounds, ¼ ounce and called Daniel Leonard James. Mother and son arrived home for Christmas, the baby being born December 19, and is a grandson for Darlene Smith (nee Bennifeld).

The annual meeting of St. Paul's United Church was held in the C.E. Building Tuesday night with Rev. Jackson chairing the meeting. The majority of board members were returned to office and various repairs to the manse and church steps etc., were discussed.

In Wednesday evening's hockey game with Hardisty against Daysland, Hardisty emerged the winner with a score of 9-3.

Saw Laurie and Sylvia Crone in town the other day and Sylvia said that her mother, Hazel Meland, had gone to Calgary to visit her mother, Mrs. Brown. Sylvia says they enjoy getting the paper as it keeps them in touch with things around here. They do not come to Hardisty too often.

Six tables of whist at the Drop-In Centre Saturday night. Gents' high was won by Val Johnston while low was Mrs. Fearns. Ladies' high was won by Grandma Mazure and low was Alvina Parsons.

Your reporter called on Margaret McKinnell the other day and she is still recuperating from her hip operation. Hopes to be able to discard her crutch before too long. With good friends like Elsie and Jessie to keep close touch of her and do her washing, etc., she gets by. That is the worst of a utility room in the basement and when something happens that you can't go down the stairs and if you live alone, it is not very good.

This is late news, but Gilbert and Ruth Tillmar and family spent Christmas in Cape Breton with Ruth's family.

It was nice to see Max Leedholm in town for the weekend. Max is getting things lined up on an acreage outside of Innisfail. He is busy working on the nest as a little bird has said, "Yes."

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Tim Prost on the birth of a baby girl.

Hardisty Legion Auxiliary meets

The January meeting of the Hardisty Legion Auxiliary was held in the Hut on January 8.

The meeting opened in regular form. Following roll call, the District Commander Madame Alison Barton was introduced and welcomed.

The minutes and financial report were read and approved.

The kitchen committee reported cupboards under the counter almost finished and ready for painting.

The charter looks very smart in its new frame.

Mme Thomson reported that the district curling playdowns would be held in Hardisty February 3, at which time the ladies are asked to cater for a banquet.

Mme Margaret McClements has donated a number of lovely cups and saucers for our 10 tables.

The group plans to visit Flagstaff Lodge in March.

A joint social with the Legion is to be held near the end of the month.

Mme Barton then took the chair. She announced a leadership seminar to be held in Vegreville on January 28.

The district rally will be held in St. Paul on April 28.

The incoming officers were then installed as follows: President - Mme Thomson, Secretary - Mme Van Koughnett, Treasurer - Mme Kroszer, Executive Committee - Mme F. McGhie, Mme. J.Mitchell. Absent and to be installed later were: 1st Vice - Mme Grainger, 2nd Vice - Mme J. McClements, and Executive Member - Mme B. McGhie.

The closing ceremony was followed by a delicious lunch.

4-H CLUB ACTIVITIES

BATTLE RIVER BEEF CLUB

Temperatures of minus 30 degrees Celsius did not hinder the Battle River Beef Club's Family Night on Sunday, January 14 at Battle Bend School with almost everyone present.

After a scrumptious pot luck supper made by the 4-H members, the group sat and watched a humourous fashion show put on by the parents. They were dressed in a variety of fashions from Hawaiian styles to the practical Farmer Brown. Sheila Miller did an excellent job of commentating with soft background music.

A skit called "The Railroad," including all the parents, was then performed.

Bill's puzzling game entertained them for some time, followed by Debby winning the mystery box.

The grand finale of the night was a hockey relay, where Travis and Bruce were captains and chose sides. Each member had to dress in all the equipment that was in the hockey bag, run around their group, take it off and give it to the next person. Then, he did the same and so on. This left the school looking like a cyclone had hit, but all was fun.

With aching stomachs from laughing, we all climbed into our cold cars and went home.

The 4-H members thank the parents for a terrific evening of entertainment.

-Lorraine Barnes

Hardisty rink wins bonspiel

Taking top honours in the recent Hardisty Mixed Bonspiel was the Louis Miller rink with Pauline Galetely, third; Shirley Campbell, second; and Mike Golka, lead. Congratulations!

Lougheed and District News

Recent supper guests at Mr. and Mrs. Hunter White's home were Jean Wallace, David and Mr. and Mrs. Bill Wallace and Jillian, all of Sedgewick.

There are still quite a number with the flu, including myself this weekend. Also, the bad colds are going around. Wish everyone a speedy recovery.

Valda Probst of Edmonton was home for a few days visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Probst, and also visiting her sister Janet, Doug and Kreshka.

There were a number of relatives and friends attended Mr. and Mrs. Albert Whitbeck's 50th wedding anniversary on Saturday, January 13. All their sons and daughters were home with their wives and husbands and families. Mr. and Mrs. Dave Jones of Edmonton, Mr. and Mrs. Alan Harding and family from Camrose. There were people from Sedgewick and Irma, and many other places. A lovely supper was served. Also, the program was great. A lovely social evening was had by all. Thanks to the family for a lovely evening. Many more years of married life to you both.

From my living room window it looks like the 16 years and under hockey tournament is well underway by the looks of the cars and trucks up there.

Sympathy is extended to Mr. and Mrs. Doug Niehaus and family on the death of Doug's great uncle, Bill Poepping of Sirome. He passed away on January 12. The funeral was on Monday, January 15.

Get well wishes go to Mrs. Eber Waite in Dayaland Hospital and Mr. Tom Kenny in the Killam Hospital. Hope to see you both home soon, folks.

Mrs. Dorothy Wright arrived home on January 19 after spending the holidays with her children and grandchildren in Qualicum, B.C.

Jack and Elsie Ramsden visited the Eric Toppe family in Red Deer last weekend.

Mrs. Kilgrain was lucky twice at the bingo in Dayaland, winning $15 on the "H" and $5 when she tied with others on the blackout.

4-H Club Activities

KILLAM 4-H BEEF CLUB

The Killam 4-H Beef Club's first meeting of the new year was held at the home of Glen Freadrich on Saturday, January 13.

We decided to have our public speak-offs on Saturday, February 10 at the home of Lawrence Dammann. We also decided to challenge the Killam Horse Club for the Tip Henderson Challenge Cup.

After the meeting ended, we practiced impromptus and had lunch. -Stuart Wilson

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Roger Ferrier (nee Judy Patten) on the birth of a 7-pound, 8-ounce son, Brendan Quent arrived at the Camrose Hospital on Monday, January 15.

On Wednesday, eight tables of card players enjoyed the Senior Citizens' card party at their Drop-In Centre. Mrs. Ida Black and Mr. Ed Saranin won prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Jessie Clark and Mr. Bill Russell received consolation awards.

At Grand Centre curling last Friday and Saturday were Mrs. Mary Simons, Dorothy Stubbs, Meta Lindseth and Eileen Ness.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Reggensack are home after a trip to Hawaii.

Mrs. Eleanor Twesby visited her mother in Provost over the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lusk were in Edmonton on Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Stoyko and Brock of St. Albert were weekend guests of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Ferrier.

Mr. and Mrs. Red Culbert left last week for a vacation in the States.

There were four tables of crib players and two tables of Norwegian Whist players at the card party held by the Senior Citizens at the Drop-In Centre on Friday evening. Mrs. Hazel MacKinnon and Mr. Jim Walsh received prizes for the highest scores while Mrs. Lillian Craig and Mr. Eldon Ferrier were awarded consolation prizes. Mr. Ludvig and Mrs. Myrtle Arntzen won the high score prizes in Norwegian Whist and Mr. Nels and Mrs. Minnie Djos received the consolation awards. A Norwegian Whist party was arranged for Friday, February 2.

Mr. and Mrs. E. Freeman and Mrs. Agnes Carlson were weekend guests at the Sherwood Park home of their children, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Freeman and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Tom Sparrow, Mr. Fred Sparrow and Mrs. Denny Bergum were in Edmonton one day last week.

Mr. Doug Tweedy is at the west coast on a visit with his brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Walsh visited at the Grant Blasser home at Heisler on Sunday.

Ron and Helen Tanton took Alex and Ruby Farquharson up to Edmonton for Alex' check-up at the W.W. Cross Hospital on Friday. Ruby's sister Joyce was there to be with them. The Tantons then went to visit Merlin McBride, who is still on the 3rd floor. Merlin isn't feeling too well, so best of luck to you, Merlin.

A number of out-of-town friends were among the folk who gathered at the Club Room at the Recreation Centre last Saturday evening for a farewell party for Mr. and Mrs. Vern Booth. Vern and Marie have lived in Sedgewick for 10 years and they and their family will be missed by many of us. Vern is already on the job at their new home in Innisfail while Marie and the rest of the family, Stephen, Brenda and Maureen, will be joining him at the end of January.

Mrs. Molly Magee was in Edmonton on Tuesday.

Mrs. Carma Scott returned to her home in Hinton on Monday after spending a week at the home of her sister, Mrs. Lorraine Beairsto. Also at the H.L. Beairsto's on the last two Sundays were Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bowen of Edmonton. They were all here to visit their mother, Mrs. P. Lindbalie, who is very ill in the hospital at Killam.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Kjelland of Drayton Valley on the birth of a 4-pound, 11-ounce daughter. Brandi Denibe arrived at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton on January 17. Proud grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. K. Carruth and Mr. and Mrs. Roger Cantin. Great grandma is Mrs. Don Good and great great grandma is Mrs. Fogelberg of Flagstaff Lodge. That's a five-generation family!

Mr. and Mrs. Porter O'Reilly attended the 40th wedding anniversary celebration of Mr. and Mrs. George Leslie at their home Saturday night.

A pleasant surprise for Mr. and Mrs. Leslie was the unexpected arrival of their daughter, Mrs. Sherry Judge from Cheltenham, Ontario. Many more happy anniversaries, Mr. and Mrs. Leslie.

To be held in March

Crusade to come

Thirty-five people representing a large number of the churches in the Flagstaff Ministerial district met Monday, January 22 to discuss and update plans for an evangelical crusade, coming to Sedgewick in March. Mr. Herb Bock and Mr. Stan Hitchman, representatives of Crusade Evangelism International, were on hand to introduce their organization to those unfamiliar with it and to help with the planning.

Crusade Evangelism International, of which well-known Canadian evangelist Barry Moore is president, has conducted more than 500 crusades in North America, as well as in the Caribbean, India, South East Asia, Sri Lanka, Japan, Europe, the British Isles and south Africa during the past 18½ years.

The Flagstaff Crusade will begin Sunday, March 4 and continue until the following Sunday, March 11. Reverend Alfred Rees, who is currently the vice-president of Ministries for Crusade Evangelism International, will conduct the crusade.

For 12 years, Mr. Rees was a missionary in Calcutta, India. He taught in the Calcutta Bible College and was responsible for establishing one of the largest Bible correspondence schools in Asia. From 1967 to 1978, he was the pastor of Bonfield Memorial Church in Toronto, Ontario. With his wife and five children, he now makes his home in London, Ontario.

The crusade team will also include musicians Art Perry and Doug Bell.

At the January 22 meeting, it was decided that a Kick-Off Rally would take place Sunday, February 11 at 7:30 p.m. in the Sedgewick Community Hall. Mr. Hitchman will bring an inspirational message, and a musical program will be presented by local people.

Rev. Alfred Rees

East Central 'spiel planned

February 23, 24 and 25 have been named as the dates of the 3rd Annual East Central Alberta Oilmen's Bonspiel, which will be held at the Amisk, Hardisty, Lougheed and Sedgewick Curling Clubs.

The bonspiel will be limited to 64 rinks this year at a cost of $65 per rink. To be eligible, each rink must include three or four qualified oilmen. If the rink has the one non-oilman, then he must play lead.

The bonspiel will be made up of four events with 10 end games and 2½-hour draws. Each rink, the Oilmen's Association points out, is guaranteed four games.

A banquet will be held on the Saturday night, February 24 for all entered and prizes, added the association, will be "better than ever."

Entries can be obtained by writing the East Central Alberta Oilmen's Bonspiel Association, Box 244, Hardisty.

Jim Tindall re-elected to Sedgewick Ag Society

The annual meeting of the Sedgewick and District Agriculture Society was held Tuesday, January 23, 1979. Chairman Jim Tindall called the meeting to order with 15 members present.

Annual reports were given and approved by the members. There was some discussion on the financial statements of the Ag Society, Agri-Days and Agriculture Recreation Board.

The membership was informed of a grant for the operation of recreation facilities. The grant can be applied for from January 1, 1980 to February 15, 1980 on the last year's expenses for gas, power and insurance. The membership discussed this to some length and was very happy at the prospects of such a grant.

The election of officers was held with these results: President - Jim Tindall, 1st Vice-President - Rod Doody, and 2nd Vice-President - Maurice Hampshire. Carol Arntzen was appointed secretary-treasurer.

Directors elected for a three-year term are: Dale Johnson, Garry Culbert, Karen Cookson and George Christenson. Elected for a two-year term are: Colin Cumberland, Roy Wilson, Doug Bury and Karen Schaupmeyer. Elected for a one-year term are: Rolf Jacobsen, Terry Leslie and John Sarasin.

In new business, Rod Doody reported that the Flagstaff Community Band is doing very well. He also thanked the Ag Society for its financial boost. The band is planning a concert sometime in March.

The chairman informed the group about an Alberta Agriculture Association's annual meeting to be held February 28 and March 1. The first day will be a workshop, which will include the Lottery Department, Liquor Control Board and fairs.

It was suggested that the Ag Society look into the possibility of purchasing fibreglass boards for the arena.

The meeting closed with coffee and doughnuts.

Premiers meet on constitution

Advance scouting failed to convince the Lougheed government that Canada would gain a new constitution in the next attempt, the first ministers' meeting in Ottawa February 5 and 6.

No date was set for the next legislature session in advance of the constitutional conference. A provincial election could follow the talks before MLAs assemble again.

The stakes in constitutional reform are "absolutely crucial and fundamental to the future of the province," Intergovernmental Affairs Minister Lou Hyndman said in an interview.

He did not expect far-reaching alliances ending Alberta's isolation to develop at preliminary meetings of attorneys-general and intergovernmental affairs ministers. He was not optimistic the premiers and Prime Minister Pierre Trudeau could agree on a major reform package in February.

Hyndman compared the preliminary talks, ordered by the first ministers' constitutional conference last fall, to "examinations for discover" in court cases. Differences were only being clarified.

The administration has promised some flexibility. But its 29-point position paper, "Harmony in Diversity," covers enough remote bases, such as federal spending powers that home could be given up without hurting the case.

The Alberta constitutional amending formula, which split premiers' talks of 1976 in Edmonton, Banff and Toronto, but was later ratified by a house resolution, still stands.

The formula says provinces must consent to changes affecting assets and jurisdiction over major public affairs, such as education, local government, health care and property and civil rights.

Hyndman indicated requests for clearer provincial natural resource rights still stand. New provisions, on top of the protection in the amending formula, would toughen ownership and control over development, revenue and pricing.

Premier Peter Lougheed served notice last fall that the constitution will figure in the Conservatives' re-election platform. He told the legislature "the constitution is a crucial document."

"There's no way it won't be an issue in this forthcoming decision of our citizens.

"The best way for Canada to strengthen and unite . . . is also the best way for Alberta, and that is a way in which we have strong provinces not beholden to or dependent upon a federal government.

"We are the ones presenting to Canadians the true third option (between the status quo and Quebec secession) for Canada which will help unify this country. And history will record it to be so."

Hyndman conceded there are similarities between Alberta and Quebec demands for a new constitutional court and limits on federal power. But he insisted that the province opposes the Parti Quebecois goal of "sovereignty association" and does not consider separatists to be allies.

Making the logical decision

It's good to see approval has been given for the Sheerness power plant to be built near Hanna. For awhile, it was uncertain which plant would get the go-ahead: Sheerness or Genesee, the plan proposed for 50 kilometres west of Edmonton. The logical choice has always been Sheerness, but many were expecting the city to get the nod, even though the Genesee plant would have been located on prime agricultural land.

On the other hand, south-east Alberta, where Hanna is situated, is not a productive area. It's dry, has poor soil, is used mostly for grazing, and, economically, it needs Sheerness. In making the decision, the Energy Resources Conservation Board (ERCB) said there was minimal difference between Sheerness and Genesee in terms of technicalities, conservation or cost to consumers. And it would displace fewer people. In fact, the board said, Alberta will have a more reliable power generating system by diversifying the location of its plants.

Logically thinking, everything pointed to building Sheerness near Hanna rather than building Genesee near Edmonton. We hope a similarily-logical decision is made concerning future petrochemical developments in our area as opposed to in urban centres. Again, it comes back to logics.

The Alberta government owns an area of land called the "energy corridor". It starts in Fort McMurray, extends south near Fort Saskatchewan and continues south-east to Hardisty. And, in Alberta, Hardisty is the major terminal for the TransCanada pipeline. The government also owns a substantial chunk of land just east of Hardisty, a land bank for future petro-chemical projects. Since Hardisty is the major terminal for the pipeline travelling east, it made sense, said the government, to have related industries located near it. We agree. It is logical. But lately, we're hearing more and more about this development occuring in other areas of the province – Fort Saskatchewan, for example, the site of one petrochemical project already. And the provincial government has received a request to approve the building of four more petro-chemical plants in that area.

Just like the proposed Genesee plant, the Fort Saskatchewan area is prime agricultural land. The area set aside near Hardisty is not. As well, a new pipeline would have to be built to accommodate an increase in Fort Saskatchewan's oil industry. Hardisty already has it. Fort Saskatchewan doesn't need the economic boost such projects bring with them. And Fort Saskatchewan, Edmonton and other nearby residents don't want more such projects in their midst. We in the rural areas need them.

We remember Premier Lougheed calling for the decentralization of industry in Alberta – particularly oil-related industry. We just hope he's able to convince the companies in that industry to go along with his policy and use the land his government has set aside. And we just hope the logical decisions are made.

What Others Say

Family allowances

After more years than some of us would like to own up to, family allowances are going to be a thing of the past for many Canadians. No doubt those living on low incomes have benefitted through the years, and for some seasonally employed individuals, perhaps family allowances made up their entire cash income for some months.

The Family Allowance payments were initially started to ease the strain on the family budget of raising a family. The more children, the greater amount of money paid, but there were very few, if any, families who could survive on it alone. In the early years, the amount was only $5 per month. More recently of course, the sum increased, and so did the cost of living, and in the final analysis, it wasn't always a paying proposition.

Income taxes levelled out the direct benefits, and at the same time, taxes from the high wage earner went to support the program. They contributed more than they received. The average wage earner perhaps broke even – receiving about as much as was paid out in taxes. They fared equally as well receiving the payment as they would have if the government could have seen fit to reduce their taxes.

The people who fared the best in terms of giving and receiving were the low wage earners. Here was something they received along with everyone else in the country, in the same amount, and they weren't branded with the stigma we sometimes reserve for those who get social assistance.

Under the new system, in order to receive the maximum benefits, people who never before have filed income tax returns will be required to do so. This in itself may bring out some interesting information. One can only wonder how many were beating the system?

Behind family allowances is the thought that they should lend assistance to those who are truly in need – perhaps now we will come closer to this ideal, and no longer will allowance payments and timely increases be treated as vote getters for the politician.

The Third Column

By Tomcats

IT SEEMS AS THOUGH it is inevitable that every once in a while some yahoo, or group of yahoos, comes up with a new idea of putting some situation right. The latest, or at least one of the latest, to surface on a suspicious public is a dramatic change in the use of the English language. Before going any further, it might be stated that a great number of these crackpots are playing a money game. They come up with a radical idea, and immediately publish a book or several books to further their idea. From this, they usually end up as new rich people at the expense of a gullible public.

BUT TO GET BACK to this latest advocation. It is to abolish the rules of grammar, sentence construction and all the rest of the rules that govern intelligent writing and even speaking, including the elimination of punctuation (especially the apostrophe). This theory, being advanced by a couple of English teachers in a university, is based, first of all on a negative idea. They advocate that students be taught to write without rules and no sentence structure, and even no punctuation. Why? Well, they say that Johnny can't read. Why? Because Johnny won't read. Why? Because the English language is too difficult for him. So the answer, they advocate, is to abolish all the guiding rules for proper writing as being outmoded. But what about the Johnnies who can read and will read? Their answer is to bring the level of gramma., etc. down to the level of the lowest. What do we want in the future? A generation of literary morons more closely related to the grunting aborigines? Just because a Johnny somewhere can't and won't read is no reason to lay a penalty on those who can and will, and have an earnest desire to advance in the literary arts.

AND TO SAY THAT there is no difference between "its" and "it's" is a deliberate falsehood. While the two are identical in pronunciation, their meaning is entirely different. One is a pronoun belonging to the word "it" while the other is a contraction of "it is". But the saddest portion of the entire theory is the absolute elimination of punctuation itself. Can you imagine the future Johnnies of the world writing an entire thesis or book entirely devoid of any kind of punctuation? How do like this for a sample: If them words aint grammar it dont matter? Or: I dont wanna but I hafta? Understandable, of course, but a mighty risky road to literary achievement.

THE PROFESSORS SAY: "Who needs grammar? It is elitism, and we wish to destroy what is dead, lifeless and snobbish. Grammar is the property of a once privileged minority class imposing its order on a willing majority anxious to rise out of its own supposed ignorance and vulgarity." They go on to say that "the arbitrary rules of grammar are the cause of a decline in interest of English." But here is the real sticker, when they go on to say, "It has already caused a decline in literacy that is alarming, and it's grammar that is to blame."

OUR ANSWER TO ALL THIS IS: These professors do not go far enough and say that the decline in literacy applies only to those who cannot, or will not, strive to improve. So the theory is to bring everyone down to the lowest common denominator. That seems to be a trend today. Lower the level to accommodate everyone. No more striving to exceed or excel. All this does not mean that everyone should reach the high level of top-notch poets, writers and scribes, but it does mean that there is still room for striving to use the English language as it should be used. What these professors want to accomplish is to destroy it completely.

THEY GO ON AGAIN TO CONCLUDE by asking: "Who needs grammar? Did God give grammar to Moses on the mountain?" What God gave to Moses on the mountain was the very essence of grammar. So we say to these professors (to descend to the lower level): "Ahh! Even them words is a sentence. If y'know what we mean."

Letters to the Editor

Dear Sir:

I would like you to know how much I enjoy getting The Press every week and am glad that my friend, Mrs. Matthews, suggested to me when I was there in September to subscribe to it. It is like getting a bit of back home for that is what Hardisty will always be to me. I came there as a bride with my husband in 1917 and lived there for 36 years. We moved to Victoria to live in 1953 and my daughter and I had a very enjoyable visit back last September for a few days with old friends.

With every good wish to yourself and all my good friends for 1979.

Yours sincerely,
Mabel Perkin

New health officer makes plans

The new Medical Officer of Health for the Alberta East Central Health Unit is Dr. Jeanette MacQuarrie.

Since her arrival in Stettler in September, 1978, Dr. MacQuarrie has found the responsibilities of her position extremely challenging and satisfying. She eagerly anticipates the introduction of new programs into the East Central Health Unit and one of these programs is expected to admit patients by February of this year.

Home Care, a program which provides treatment for patients who do not require the constant attention given within the hospital, will be the next program included with the services of the East Central Health Unit.

The program will have an emphasis on patients over 65 and on the handicapped. Its benefits are two-fold as there will no longer be the burden on patients of having to remain in the hospital unless it is absolutely necessary, and this will consequently free the hospital staff of having to provide care and facilities to patients who could be attended to within their own homes.

Dr. MacQuarrie is most enthusiastic about the inclusion of this program. The additional personnel required to begin this program will increase the health unit's staff from 40 to more than 50. In Stettler, the unit's head office, there will be an addition of four people to the staff, one of whom will be Co-ordinator Donna Atkinson.

Other programs which Dr. MacQuarrie anticipates within the near future are those which deal with scoliosis (children with crooked spines), occupational health programs, family planning and lifestyle programs.

At present, Dr. MacQuarrie is most pleased with the results of the unit's immunization program. The records of the East Central unit show that approximately 80 per cent of the population within its jurisdiction are adequately immunized. After the recent polio scare in Lethbridge, Dr. MacQuarrie feels that immunization is a most-important program and encourages all citizens to take advantage of the protection which it provides.

DR. J. MACQUARRIE

With more than 20 years of medical experience, Dr. MacQuarrie brings to the health unit insights and knowledge about public health which will assist our health unit in maintaining the excellent standard it established under the direction of Dr. MacKay.

In 1954, Dr. MacQuarrie graduated from the University of Alberta with a Bachelor of Science and Medical Doctor Degree. After two years' internship, she spent the next two years in pediatric residency. From there, she became a general practitioner in Killam until 1965.

All of Dr. MacQuarrie's children are attending university. Her oldest daughter Barbara, age 21, is in her second year of medicine at the University of Alberta; her son Kenneth, age 20, is in his second year of science at the University of Calgary; and her younger daughter Janet, age 18, is in her first year of arts at the University of Edmonton.

From January of 1966 to 1975, Dr. MacQuarrie devoted her time to the raising of her three children. Once her children left home, she decided to renew her registration with the College of Physicians and Surgeons. She returned to Edmonton to fulfill an externship at the University Hospital, and, in April of 1976, she became the part-time medical officer of health for the Wetaka Health Unit.

With a desire to increase her knowledge, she then went to Toronto in September of 1977, and in May of 1978, she received her Diploma of Public Health from the Faculty of Medicine at the University of Toronto.

Dr. MacQuarrie is married to Dr. Kenneth MacQuarrie of Camrose and every weekend she returns to Camrose to be with her husband and family.

COME ALIVE

This week, I would like to share a couple short stories I heard some years ago which made me stop and think. I hope they will be of some help to the readers of this column.

Walking across a golf course on holidays, I met an old gentleman giving a lesson to a youngster of 10 or 11 who, I suppose, was his grandson.

The youngster had hit a good shot but the ball had landed up in a weedy hollow, leaving him a very bad lie.

"That's not fair," the youngster complained. "I hit a good shot and it should not have finished up like that!"

"Maybe it shouldn't," said his grandfather, "but it did," he went on. "It's just the rub of the green. And if you're not going to accept it you should find some other game."

That's life, isn't it? We have to try and overcome our bits of bad luck. Keep complaining and we'll be miserable. Try to rise above them and we often surprise ourselves at how well we do.

A second story for thought goes like this:

What happens to you isn't so important as how you take it.

When someone or something hits you so hard it threatens to sink you, you can either lie down and go under, or stand up, do your level best to keep your head above water, and make the best of it with a smile. That's the hard thing to do, but it's always the best way in the end.

I'm reminded of an old saying, by whom I can't recall. "The best medicine I know for rheumatism is thanking the Lord it ain't gout!"

In conclusion, a piece of poetry:

"When the lamp is lit and darkness,
At a touch is put to flight,
Spare a thought for all the folk
Who never knew the light,
And make a vow you'll try to shed
Some brightness on the path they tread."

God Bless! -Richard Conrad

Merna Welfare Club

Fredella Anderson hosted the annual meeting of the Merna Welfare Club, with a good attendance of members present. The president opened the meeting with the reading of two poems pertaining to the New Year. We then repeated the creed and the Lord's Prayer.

Alene Baker read "A Recipe From God" for the devotional, and then we sang the hymn "Higher Ground." The secretary read the minutes of the previous meeting, and on a motion of approval, seconded by Alene Baker.

The election of officers took place. New president is Marilyn Anderson., vice-president is Roth Leslie, and all other officers retained their positions.

It was moved by Betty Lewis and seconded by Alene Baker that meetings be moved to the second Tuesday of each month. A discussion was held on having a supply of artificial roses and vases on hand to take to those sick in hospital.

Ella Whitbeck had approached the club about donating a trophy for the winner of the 4-H public speaking competitions. This was approved, but we would like to know when this competition is to be so someone from the club can be there to present the trophy.

A discussion was held on a shower for Shirley Freadrich, but left for later when we know when Shirley is home. Ruth Leslie offered her home for the next meeting on Tuesday, February 13, with hostess Bernie Ice Leslie and Fredella Anderson.

A telephone call was made to the Rec Centre in Sedgewick about renting curling ice for an evening, but the ice is not available until the first weekend in March, so this was tabled until the next meeting.

Mrs. Baker then adjourned the meeting, after which a delicious lunch was served by hostesses Daisy Toppe and Betty Lewis, and a friendly time of fellowship followed.

Doug Livingstone seeks Social Credit nomination

Doug Livingstone, well-known young farmer of the Mannville-Vermilion district, is seeking the Social Credit nomination for the Vermilion-Viking constituency. The nomination convention will be held Wednesday, February 7 at 7:30 p.m. in the I.O.O.F. Hall at Innisfree. Dr. Walter Buck, MLA, will be the guest speaker. The nomination will be conducted by Eric Lingnau, administrative-secretary of the Social Credit Party.

Doug's interest in people and public affairs became evident at an early age. Educated in Mannville schools in his teen years, he was a member of 4-H clubs, became a club president and then a 4-H club leader.

As an adult, he served as local president and as a district director of the National Farm Union, becoming a student of various problems affecting agriculture.

As a result of his intense interest and study of the agricultural industry, he was elected the Alberta Wheat Pool delegate for the area, an important office which he still fills.

Three years ago, in recognition of his efforts in the field of farming, stock-raising and agriculture, Doug was offered a three-year scholarship with the Rural Education and Development Association, called Agri-Leader. His research and studies with Agri-Leader have taken him to many parts of this continent and overseas.

On the personal side of life, Doug farms with his father, Ernie Livingstone, south of Claysmore, raising purebred horned Herefords. Doug is married to Cheryl Jackson, daughter of Melva and Sidney Jackson, well-known pioneers of the Mannville district. Doug and Cheryl have two children, daughter Stacy Lee, aged six, and Robert Douglas, aged four. In addition to 4-H activities, his hobbies include flying – he has his private pilot's licence.

Busy times in Strome

Have you heard all the buzzing going on at the skating rink lately? Thanks to the volunteer help of some of our local carpenters, the kitchen area is starting to shape up well. This is being done on the advice of a newly-formed arena board whose members include: Dianne Blasser, president and skating club representative; Jim Pettem, vice-president and minor hockey rep; Loretta Edgington, secretary-treasurer and willing workers rep; Don Hayes, rec board rep; and Gordie Robbins, rec hockey rep.

There is a new minor hockey team (12 years and under) formed here, and of course, our mens' rec hockey team.

Something new is the skating club, which includes power skating taught by Bill Smolski of Killam and learning to skate and figure skating taught by Shelly Kueber of Killam. The Strome Skating Club will be having a Skate-A-Thon on February 4, weather permitting.

The Strome History Book Committee held its regular meeting Wednesday, January 24 with seven people present. Several letters were written to various departments and brochures were sent out for more family histories. Members were delighted to do research on various aspects of pioneer life. Thirty-four history books have been sold, bringing the total to $680, plus a $10 memorial donation. This pre-sale of books will help contribute to the publishing costs. If you would like to buy a book now, please contact Mr. Pete Staszko, sales representative.

The Strome History Book Committee is holding a contest for the title of the history book. Submit your ideas to: The Treasury Branch Agency, Box 94, Strome, Alberta. The deadline is February 29, 1979.

Mrs. Judy Hora and son Robert of Edmonton visited her parents, Ike and Bernice Morgan, last Monday.

Mrs. Henry Curtis, Mrs. Thelma Rawe, Mrs. Katie May and Mrs. Gennie Froehler visited Mrs. Barb Blasser, Mrs. Dumont, Mrs. Pryor and Charlie Auburn at Viking last Tuesday afternoon.

Mrs. Annie Heisler has returned from a lovely, six-week holiday, visiting her daughter Helen and family in California.

Sympathy is extended to relatives of Mr. Ralph Bricker, who passed away last Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Don Pfeffer motored to Camrose last Saturday afternoon to attend the District Free Throw Basketball competition sponsored by the N. C. Accompanying them were Shirlee Pettem and Darren Hill, who both took first in their age group. The kids will be going on to Red Deer on February 24 to participate in the regionals. Good luck, kids.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Chromik and Christopher were recent visitors with Greg and Virginia Bennett and family of Innisfail.

The Mel Froehler rink, made up of Cliff Robbins, Eddie Blasser and Gordon Loesch, were the senior curling finalists for the zone and competed in the Northern Alberta Playdowns held at the Ottewell Curling Club in Edmonton recently. While in the city, the curlers and their wives visited with family members and friends.

Several members of the Knights of Columbus and their wives enjoyed the annual oyster and sausage supper in Daysland January 23.

Lloyd and Barb Stevenson spent last weekend with their mother, Mabel Robson, and also visited Mrs. Richmond.

Ken and Therese Mazure and children moved into their new home last weekend and are busy getting settled.

Miss Bonnie Hauck of Edmonton visited with her parents, Johnny and Hat Hauck, last weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Ken McDougall returned home from visiting relatives at Fort McMurray.

The United Church had a lovely pot luck dinner last Sunday with the annual meeting following the dinner.

Reports are that Grandma Scheelar is feeling much better. Her daughters, Florence and Gladys of Vancouver and Margaret of Calgary, were coffee guests with Katie May and also visited Julian last Saturday morning.

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Terry Vold were her sister, Mary-Ann and Vern Otto of Spruce Grove and her mother, Mrs. Bernice Gieron of Acadia Valley.

Mr. Terry Vold received a head injury and broken shoulder while working in his elevator.

Strome pioneer, William Poepping passes at 83

William Francis Poepping of Strome, Alberta was born June 11, 1895 in Regal, Minnesota and died January 12, 1979 in St. Mary's Hospital, Camrose, Alberta at 83 years of age.

In 1903, when Bill was eight years old, his parents and three brothers and six sisters were among the first pioneers to settle in the south Strome district. They came from Minnesota to Wetaskiwin by train, which at that time was the end of the railway line. From there, they travelled by horse and wagon to their homestead.

In 1905, the Stearns School was built and from there, Bill received his education.

Mr. Poepping filed a homestead in the St. Lina area in 1915, and from there, served in the Canadian Army during World War I. Returning from overseas in 1919, he farmed in the Strome district until his retirement to the Town of Strome in 1974.

A staunch Catholic, Bill lent a helping hand where ever needed, which included much volunteer labour in the building of St. Peters Church.

He enjoyed all sports and was an active curler until the past year.

Predeceased by his mother in 1906, his father in 1907, as well as three brothers: George, Matthew and Valentine, and three sisters: Elizabeth, Mrs. George (Anna) Hauser and Catherine, he leaves to mourn his passing three sisters: Susan of Pacific Grove, California; Mrs. Albert (Margaret) Behnke of Streamstown and Mrs. John (Marie) Niehaus of Strome; a sister-in-law, Mrs. Valentine (Alma) Poepping of Camrose and numerous nieces and nephews.

Prayers for the deceased were held at St. Peters Church January 14 with Sister Anna Moran of Camrose presiding.

Mass of Christian Burial was held at St. Peters Church January 15 with Father Morasse of Camrose officiating.

Pallbearers were six grandnephews: Mickey Poepping, David Zimmer, Doug Niehaus, Paul Froehler, Bryon Niehaus and Grant Zimmel.

After a graveside tribute by members of B.P.O.E. Lodge, Strome, of which Mr. Poepping was a longtime member, interment followed in the Church Cemetery.

Help create student jobs. And we'll help you.

Young Canada Works is a federal government job creation program designed to fund projects which improve the skills and future job prospects of students.

Get your group or organization to think of an idea. If it will create at least 3 student jobs lasting from 6 to 18 weeks each between the months of May and September, then Young Canada Works may be able to help you turn your idea into reality.

Your project should benefit the community and must meet all the program requirements.

Apply today. Application forms and guides are ready now at your nearest Canada Employment Centre/Canada Manpower Centre or Job Creation Branch office.

Home economist reports on exchange

Life in New Zealand is going very well. On the whole, the weather has been very warm, about 25 to 30 degrees Celsius, although it has been raining the last three days. Looks like it is going to clear up.

I don't know what to tell you about New Zealand -- so much has happened.

After I left L.A., it took 15 hours to fly to Auckland. We flew via Hawaii -- had an hour layover. We arrived at Auckland at 7 in the morning. Our plane for Christchurch didn't leave 'til 10 a.m. We were met at Christchurch Airport by an International Agricultural Exchange Association representative, hustled onto a bus and taken directly to Lincoln College. We began our orientation session at 1:30 p.m.

Orientation included many different topics, such as discussion of farming, tours to various farms, road rules, expectations, lecture on how they expect the trainees should behave.

There were about 180 trainees. About 80 were from Canada, 40 from Denmark, the rest were from Swedes, Germany, Norway, Switzerland, Holland, England, Scotland and Ireland. The European fellows are VERY TALL.

We joined our host families on the Wednesday.

For a few details about my family. Mr. and Mrs. Mee are in their mid-50s. They have six children - four married and two at home. Their three oldest daughters are married and live off the farm. Their oldest son is married to a Canadian girl. He met her when he was an I.A.E.A. trainee in Drumheller. In fact, his wife Jackie is Ken Pellow's niece. Jackie's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Alf Pellow, were here visiting when I arrived. Their other son, Tom, lives at home. He just got back from 2½ years in Canada. He worked the oil rigs most of the time, but he worked for John Feddema for six months -- April 7 '76 to September '76. It sure is a small world.

The house is about 50 years old and very large. It has seven bedrooms -- although only five are used. The lawns and the gardens are very large. Takes hours to mow it all. The Mees raise 5,000 sheep, some cattle, pigs, chickens, geese and ducks.

The nearest town with any decent shopping is Alexandra, which is 30 miles away. Becks is the nearest village. It has a pub and two to three houses. No stores. The pubs here are very different from our bars. There is one or two tables (very small) and everyone else stands. Therefore, people move around and talk to various people. So, you have a chance to meet many people. The pub eight miles down the road has a disco about once a month. That's the main form of entertainment, with the nearest movie theatre in Alexandra, but they don't have very good movies or recent movies.

I have a difficult time to pick up the slang and the accent. A New Zealander can carry on a conversation which I can't understand. Here are a few common New Zealand terms: Joker or Bloke - fellow, Bird - gal, Tea - supper, Dishmaster - dishwasher, to lux - to vacuum, chatting up - talking to a girl or guy, mustering - bringing in the sheep, drafting - separating the lambs from the ewes.

There are eight trainees in my immediate area and about 25 in Central Otago. Four are Danish (three fellows, one gal), two are Canadian (one fellow and me!), a Norwegian gal and a German fellow. The Europeans speak fairly good English, but slangs confuse them.

A typical day starts at 7 a.m. when I make breakfast for the men. After dishes, I do housework or garden work 'til morning tea at 10:30 a.m. Back to work after tea, start lunch about 11:30. Lunch is at 12:30 and then dishes. Back to whatever, afternoon tea is at 3:30. Tea (which is known to us as supper) is usually at 6:30 to 7:30 and dishes. Finished for the day. I have Saturday afternoon and Sunday off.

The people around Becks have been very good to the trainees. They had a barbeque a couple weeks ago. Also, the Young Farmers Club held a rabbit hunt for the trainees. The Young Farmers Club has invited the trainees to their Christmas dinner tomorrow night. The Rotary Club of Alexander invited the trainees to their supper meeting. The theme of their evening was "International Night."

The countryside around here is very hilly and quite dry. In the background are the Alps Mountains. The farmers here do extensive irrigation as they only get about 15 inches of rain a year.

When I arrived at Prospect Farm, they were shearing. Most people around here hire shearing crews to do their sheep. A good shearer can do 200-250 ewes in a day. A shearer is paid by the number of sheep he shears. One job I've had that involves sheep is feeding three orphan lambs.

RITERS RAMBLINGS

THE AGE OF CHIVALRY

We are apt to say that the age of chivalry is gone -- that the modern young man is rude and self-centered. I beg to differ. My experiences lately prove the opposite. A few weeks ago, I stopped on the highway to let my daughter drive. As I stopped out of the car to walk around a young man, a total stranger, rolled down the window of his half ton and said, "Are you having trouble, ma'am?"

When I said, "We are just changing drivers, thank you," he gave a cheerful wave and drove away.

I wasn't quite that lucky the day I was hurrying to pick up my curler son in Sedgewick and found myself facing the opposite direction in a deep ditch. I walked for several miles toward the twinkling lights of the nearest house before anyone came along. In the first vehicle to traverse the road were three young men. They stopped and took me back to the car and went to work in an effort to replace it on the road. They even took out a chain saw and cleared the brush adjacent to the car in the ditch. With a chain fastening the car to their half ton, they could move the car, but poor traction prevented them from getting it out. Before I could become concerned about it, a number of other helpful young men had stopped and one of those had a winch truck. The gentlemen were not only helpful, but also well-organized. Soon they had a half ton at the top of the next hill to stop oncoming traffic and were lining up the winch truck. A huge trailer truck anchored the winch truck, and, in minutes, the car was on the road again.

With flashlight in hand, my rescuers checked the car over thoroughly before bidding me a cheerful good-bye. I learned the names of only a few of the many who stopped to help. Everyone who spoke to me was polite and reassuring. No one even mentioned women drivers. One consoled me by saying he had landed in the ditch recently. Although I do not know who some of my rescuers were, and it was so dark that I may not recognize them if we meet again, I shall long remember the kindness of these young men. It proves to me that the Age of Chivalry is now. by Lila J. Davidson

by Arnold Malone, M.P.

PRAIRIE DISRESPECT

On numerous occasions, I have requested in the House of Commons that Professor Fred Anderson, chairman of the Prairie Rail Action Committee, be fired for his insensitive and crass approach toward the prairie community systems. For months I knew that recommendations were being developed without consultations with the communities to be affected. The recommendations of the Prairie Rail Action Committee (PRAC) are, in the short term, totally unacceptable.

It is true that the railway lines were thrown onto the prairies in a helter-skelter fashion. It is also true that some of those lines have, by the modernization of roads and motor vehicles, become obsolete. Nevertheless, Fred Anderson and the Prairie Rail Action Committee have been viewed by the government as an agent to legitimatize the act of abandonment without consultation with communities or provisions for alternative systems. An act of undue disrespect.

Prairie citizens will easily recall that following the 1972 federal election, the Government of Canada held the Western Economic Opportunities Conference in Calgary to ascertain the needs of western Canadians. In that study, there were many important and favourable recommendations relating to the prairie rail system. The government, however, chose not to act upon the requested need for an improved transport system and, after considerable pressure, decided to implement another study under the guidance of Chief Justic Emmett Hall.

Essentially, Hall established a basic prairie rail network guaranteed to the year 2000. He also recommended for abandonment of those rail lines that virtually were not used or were inefficient in the extreme. All other railway lines were guaranteed to remain intact until the year 1981 and not one mile of the remaining network was to be removed from service until there were further public hearings in the communities that would be affected. The government, however, was in a hurry to abandon railway lines. Throughout much of this summer, I was aware of the fact that service on those lines that had been left in limbo was abnormally poor.

Now the obvious had become a fact. In his insensitive and demoralizing report, Chairman Fred Anderson has recommended that approximately three-quarters of the rail lines that Emmett Hall said required further studies should now be abandoned. That position was taken without any community hearings and without proper consideration as to whether or not there is an adequate road structure to service the communities if the railways are removed immediately.

The recommendations of the Prairie Rail Action Committee, if implemented, would literally tear up prairie communities and shake the dirt off their roots and leave them to wither in open air. I have no quarrel with the fact that some railway lines are now uneconomical and long-term consideration needs to be given regarding their ultimate status. However, the nation as a whole has an obligation to these communities. It simply isn't justice to close down a railway without having an alternative system in place. Moreover, it isn't just to remove a system without an opportunity for a community to express its opinion on the impact and to make local recommendations as to alternative methods for meeting their needs.

The crass, insensitive, heavy-handed approach of the Prairie Rail Action Committee can do nothing but torment prairie rail constituents. That committee, working as an agent of the government, is an excusable method of keeping in touch.

Galahad District News

Mrs. Madeline Blumhagen and her daughter, Cheryl, were recent visitors to the Lappage home in Killam.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Holben and Mae Phillips spent Sunday visiting at the Shirley Holben home.

The Roger Jones family of Forestburg, Ken and Mary Warriner of Wainwright, Gene and Anna Whitehead, the Glen Winhart family and Kay Pescod were guests of Pete and Alta Willis at a Chinese food dinner on Sunday, January 21. Somehow, it turned into a birthday celebration, complete with a beautiful cake. Could Wayne, Dena and Michael have been the "magicians" who pulled it out of the "proverbial hat?" There was even a musical jewellery box shaped like a grand piano, which was delivered by Marcella and Carrie Winhart. To make the afternoon more memorable, Mae Phillips arrived in time to have birthday cake and tea with us. Thank you, my borrowed family. May God bless each and everyone for your friendship and love.

Pete Willis spent a few days at the Ken Warriner ranch at Wainwright, helping with the livestock. The ranch has few acres on it, but from the stories Pete comes home with, it's just as colourful as the old west. No wonder he takes off quite often to visit the Warriners.

Last Sunday, four of Galahad's 10-and-under boys joined others in their age group in a Forestburg hockey team to compete with the ladies' team there. The boys won 9-1.

Our school may not have many children left in the classes, but the ladies seem to have taken over. They have just finished a class in furniture refinishing and are presently at slack sewing and how to make them fit. A class is planned from March 6 to April 10 in cake decorating. How about that? Old furniture made new, slacks that fit, and cakes that have eye appeal as well as taste.

We were happy to hear that Annie Strachan arrived in Galahad on Friday, January 26th's evening bus. She is at Proxy's home. The reason for the history crew's jubilation is we need her brain to help us reconstruct Galahad's main street as it was in the days of lumber yards, livery barns, a bank and much, much more. "Yes, we did have those things!"

It's a small world. Dennis Herle was surprised to learn that his new landlady in Camrose was once a resident of the Galahad area. She is the daughter of Fred Hirsch. Thank you, Mrs. Kelly, for the Fred Hirsch history. How about our present day citizens getting busy on their stories. Do you feel it is less colourful than the old days?

Bank of Montreal offers new customer service

CALGARY – A unique new service for personal customers is being offered by the Bank of Montreal. Called Multi Branch Banking (MBB), it allows customers to gain access to their personal accounts at more than 900 branches across Canada rather than being limited to their own branch. Bank of Montreal branches in the Flagstaff area offering the new service are Killam, Daysland and Forestburg.

With the new MBB service, customers can make deposits, withdrawals from their account of up to $500 a day, transfer funds and update their passbooks at any of the 900 plus branches.

Branches offering MBB service will display a decal prominently on their door to identify it as an MBB branch. Additional branches are being added to the MBB network on a regular basis; Bank of Montreal has a total of 1,239 branches across the country.

To take advantage of MBB, all customers require is a special MBB card or a Bank of Montreal Master Charge card. There is no additional charge for the service.

To obtain an MBB card, customers only have to ask for one at their own branch. The cards are issued immediately. The service will begin February 7.

Daysland News

The Daysland Kindergarten group is off to a good start in the new year with a variety of activities. Tuesday, January 16, was visiting day and the children walked to the United Church basement to pay a visit to the Friendship Club. Here they put on a short program for the ladies, then were treated to lunch and a treat. Another exciting event was a special party planned by a Grade 11 home economics class. This was a learning experience for them and a special honour to the kindergarten to be the special age group they chose. Miss McGirrs special education class was also invited. The party was complete with hats, balloons, games, prizes and lunch, and was special for the two birthdays which were celebrated simultaneously. A big thank you to the Friendship Club and the Grade 11 girls' class for making two more highlights in the kindergarten year.

The kindergarten children have had many learning experiences in their own classroom. At present, they are becoming familiar with their address, telephone numbers and birthdays, as well as working on shapes and letter recognitions. The parents are now responsible for noonhour supervision and it is providing an excellent opportunity to see some of their varied activities.

Mrs. Irene Cwihun of Leduc spent Sunday and Monday with her mother, Anna Boggs. Arthur Boggs of Vermilion spent Sunday night with his mother.

Daysland Lions burn mortgage

It was a happy time in Daysland on Saturday, January 20 as evidenced by the photo to the left showing Dr. Reist as he burns the mortgage on the Daysland Community Hall. The top photo shows Lars Lindseth, deputy mayor (left) as he receives the final payment of $16,678.72 from Lions club president Tom Blake. In the background can be seen the Daysland Lions Club charter president Elmer Pederson. Also present was a number of charter and past Lions Club members.

PUBLIC UTILITIES BOARD FOR THE PROVINCE OF ALBERTA

IN THE MATTER OF "The Public Utilities Board Act", being Chapter 302 of the Revised Statutes of Alberta, 1970, as amended;

AND IN THE MATTER OF an application by Calgary Power Ltd. to the Public Utilities Board for an order or orders approving changes in the existing rates, tolls or charges for electric light, power, or energy and related services rendered to its customers within Alberta.

NOTICE

TAKE NOTICE that Calgary Power Ltd. (hereinafter referred to as "CP") will apply to the Public Utilities Board (hereinafter referred to as "The Board") at the Court House in the City of Calgary, in the Province of Alberta on Wednesday, the 14th day of February, 1979 at 9:30 o'clock in the forenoon or as soon thereafter as Counsel may be heard for an Order of the Board.

(a) determining a rate base for the property of CP that is used or required to be used in CP's service to the public and fixing a fair return thereon,

(b) fixing and approving just and reasonable rates, charges or schedules thereof for electric light, power or energy and related services to be supplied by CP, whether present rates and charges have been established by agreement or otherwise,

(c) giving effect to such part of any excess revenues received or losses incurred by CP as may be due to any undue delay in the hearing and determining of the application;

(d) fixing and approving such interim rates and charges pending the fixing of final rates as the Board may determine, and establishing a date for the commencement of such interim rates and charges.

AND TAKE NOTICE that at the said place and time the Board will hear the Application for fixing interim rates and will hold a pre-hearing conference to give direction as to the manner in which and the date and times at which the hearing of the Application may continue and for such other directions as may seem proper to the Board.

AND FURTHER TAKE NOTICE that CP has filed with the Board materials, including the Evidence-in-Chief intended to be called in support of its Application. Those parties who wish to take part in the hearing may apply to examine or to obtain the material filed by contacting CP in care of its solicitors at the address given below

Sports Probe

Her Apparent?

The happenstart that is the New York Islanders has found a defenseman in the NHL and perhaps all of pro hockey in Denis Potvin. The 6-foot-2, 205-pound rearguard has been compared in the past by the press for his father candid observations about his son.

Potvin also irked his Islander mates a while back when he lived in a swank penthouse in the suburban confines of Long Island. Denis has also suffered a bit from the jealousy that has simply because of the geographic location.

Denis Potvin

Slowly but surely however, Mr. Potvin is being touted as Bobby Orr's successor as the game's top defenseman. Standing at 6-foot-3, Larry Robinson of Montreal can also lay claim to the throne. His rink-long dashes are unparalleled and his hard-shot from the point is awesome. Potvin, however, clears the opposition out in front of the net and then deftly lugs the puck out of his own end with ease.

CROP CARE '79

Did you know that there is a new weed control sprayer pump on the market that is completely different in design to conventional pumps? Did you know there is a new sprayer nozzle on the market that is capable of producing an excellent spray pattern with only 20 psi? Do you know which herbicides are registered for aerial application?

These are only a few of the topics that will be covered by Crop Care '79, the largest exhibition of weed and pest control technology ever held in Alberta. It is scheduled to take place in Hangar #1 at the Red Deer Airport on February 10 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Sponsored by the Alberta Aerial Applicators Association in co-operation with Alberta Agriculture, the main objective of Crop Care '79 is to inform progressive farmers in Alberta about the changes that are taking place in farming practices and to help them adapt and/or incorporate these changes into their operations.

A series of classroom-type seminars have been set up to run continuously throughout the day. Each seminar will be 20 minutes long and will deal with such things as new herbicides on the market, sprayer calibration and aerial spraying and seeding. Participants will also learn about aerial photography and its interpretation from the point of view of farm management, disease and weed diagnosis, field inspection and weather modification.

With the price of grain going down and the price of machinery going up, what do you do to make a dollar? Do you stop using herbicides, increase the size of your summerfallow or just keep doing what you have been doing? Crop Care '79 has the answers. Representatives of more than 50 different companies and agencies will be on hand to answer your questions on most aspects of crop production, and literally every piece of equipment and every product connected with weed control will be on display. Information on the availability of products and equipment, prices, credit services and professional advice - they will all be found under one roof. And to top it all off, admission to Crop Care '79 is free!

If you're planning on going, why not give Brian at the Agricultural Fieldman's Office, 384-3602, or our office, 384-3737, a call. We'll co-ordinate travelling so not everyone has to drive alone. This will be the best indoor fair on chemicals, sprayers and aerial photography that you'll be able to go to this winter.

UNICEF

About five million young children in the developing countries die each year from common infectious diseases preventable by immunization. The proceeds from a single box of UNICEF greeting cards enables the United Nations Children's Fund to provide enough vaccine to immunize 20 children against the triple threat of diphtheria, whooping cough and tetanus. UNICEF also provides vaccines against tuberculosis, polio, typhoid and measles.

Killam Senior Citizens meet

Thursday, January 11 was a busy afternoon for 40 senior citizens when slides and a demonstration of smoke and gas detectors was given by Fred Kueber, which proved how very necessary these detectors are in saving lives.

This was followed by the monthly meeting, called to order by President E. George. After the minutes of the December meeting were read and adopted, the treasurer gave her report. A motion was made to pay the bills in connection with Christmas, etc. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Ruth Granger, who had donated the Christmas tree, lights and wall decorations. They were very beautiful and much appreciated.

Tina Blumhagen reported on the Christmas program put on by the entertainment committee for Auxiliary Hospital patients. The patients really enjoyed it and were so happy when Mrs. Santa gave each patient an orange and cookies. Thank you, ladies. Also, thanks to Mr. Weller and Mr. Butler for their donations toward treats.

Happy birthday was sung for three members. Sixty-seven visits were recorded to the sick and shut-ins. A motion was carried to give $100 to the Agriplex. Two dozen knives were purchased for the kitchen and members were informed that two quilt tops were on hand to be quilted.

A change in card party dates was made. Whist will be on the first Thursday of each month and "500" on the last Thursday. The next "500" game is on January 25 and the next meeting day is February 1 at 2 p.m.

A representative from the Nagel Tours Ltd. was introduced, who showed slides and told about tours planned for 1979 specifically for senior citizens. A draw for the lucky winner of a one-day tour was won by Harry O'Brien.

After this meeting adjourned, the president called on annual reports for the last 18 months. Secretary M. Gibb gave a detailed report of activities with 119 members. Eighteen meetings and 17 card parties were held. More than 1,600 visits to sick and shut-ins were made. Get well and sympathy cards were sent. Fifty chairs were purchased and carpet bought and installed. A donation of $1,000 to the Elks was made to be applied to washroom fixtures, and $200 was given toward fire insurance on the building.

Senior citizens planted and took care of town parks and bedding plants boxes, took shifts in the booth for the Lions Ball Tournament and manned a booth at the Arrivalex for Pancake supper, sponsored a swimmer and took an active part in the Disaster Day held at the Hospital. We had several guest speakers and The Don Messers Farewell and Musical Ride films. We took three bus tours and two trips to Edmonton for sightseeing. We enjoyed five pot luck suppers. Lunch was provided for all social affairs.

We received a government grant for the purchase of a paper salvage van, which is located on the lot north of the post office. To date, five vans full have been shipped since November, 1977, with 70 tons of salvage paper. Keep bringing the papers as this is a worthwhile effort. For information, contact Amy Robinson or Mr. and Mrs. Chris Enghoj, G. Brodie or L. Cotton.

Committees appointed for the year are: Phoning: Mrs. McCabe, Wuttke, Enghoj, Brodie, Erickson and Schnettler. Lunch: Mrs. Wilson, Hoyland and Burns. Card Parties: Mr. and Mrs. Osback and Mr. and Mrs. Kirchinger. Membership: Mr. Barth, Mr. Rancier, Chris and Karen Enghoj and Dorothy Anderson. Trips and Salvage: Amy Robinson.

The president thanked everyone, especially the executive and committees, for their co-operation and assistance. Lunch followed adjournment.

Merna pioneer passes

Andrew Anselm Anderson was born August 29, 1908, in Stromsund, Sweden. In 1912, he emigrated with his parents and one brother to Canada, settling at Iddesleigh in southern Alberta.

In 1922, Andy, John and their father drove two wagons and a democrat to the Merna district south of Sedgewick. His mother and younger brothers and sisters followed later. They rented land from Carl Colvin, farming in this way for 25 years.

Andy attended school at Iddesleigh and at Merna, and graduated from the Canadian Union College at Lacombe.

In 1941, he married Marilyn Taylor and brought his bride to the farm. Here were born three sons and five daughters -- a close and loving family.

Andy was a charter member of the Sedgwick Seventh-Day Adventist Church when it was officially organized in 1962, and served as the church treasurer to the past 15 years. He also kept the books for the Anderson Brothers' farming operation. He loved to farm the land and it was hard for him to adjust to his failing health.

In December, 1977, he underwent open-heart surgury which was unsuccessful. He passed away in the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton in the early hours of Friday, January 5, 1979.

Mourning his passing are his wife, Marilyn, and six children: Clarence, his only surviving son, of Sedgewick; Judy Peters of Kelowna, B.C.; Joan Fortney and Joyce Grabo, both of Lacombe; Janey Bowness of Sedgewick; and Jacky, who is attending the Canadian Union College; 11 grandchildren; four brothers and two sisters; the church family; and his neighbours and many friends.

Funeral services were held from the Seventh-Day Adventist Church at Merna on Tuesday, January 9, 1979 at 2 p.m. Pastor Curtis Johnson officiated, assisted by Pastor Elmer Littman of Calgary and Alex Befus of Killam. Special music was rendered by Dr. Regehr and by a quartet including Jean Sorenson, Betty Lewis, Ralph Sorenson and Dr. Regehr.

Pallbearers were Dale Jones, David Grovet, Eldon Dietz, Bruce Booth Tim Grovet and Douglas Grovet. Interment was in the Sedgewick S.D.A. Cemetery. Arrangements were made by Holben's Funeral Chapel.

CARD OF THANKS

We would like to thank, in a special way, our relatives and friends for their many kindnesses during the illness and following loss of our loved one, Andy Anderson. We appreciated so much all the lovely flowers sent to the house, and also the food that was brought during that time.

Thanks, too, to Dr. Kumar and the staff of the Galahad Hospital and the Royal Alexandra Hospital for their care during his illness.

Thanks to Pastor Johnson for a comforting service, to Alex Befus for assisting, to Dr. Regehr, Betty Lewis, Jean and Ralph Sorenson, and Liz Werner for special music, to the pallbearers and those who assisted at the grave, to Shirley and Russel Holben for their kindnesses, and to the ladies who served lunch after the funeral. Thanks to all people who donated to the memorial funds. We appreciated everything so much. -Marilyn, Jacky, Judy and Vance, Joan and Jake, Janey and Ron, Joyce and Bryon, Clarence and Judy.
